Mr. Jobe manufactures nothing but candy, his specialty being the favourite home-made candy, which has had a large sale in Peterborough and vicinity.

Everybody is invited to Jobe's candy exhibition any day of the week. Come yourself and bring the children with you—you won't find any "No admission" card on the door. All are welcome free, and if you have the price of a few pounds, so much the better. Ten cents buys a pound of any of the dozen different kinds.

TIGER AND MAJOR.

A Thrilling Experience in the Jungles of India—Rare Presence of Mind of the Officer.

Major Ridan of the 12th Native Cavalry, India, was hunting in Bengal with a small party, and one afternoon he wandered away from camp a short distance and stretched out under a tree for a nap. He had not slept over a quarter of an hour when he was aroused by what seemed to be the purring of a cat, only the sound was much louder. He had never heard the purr of a tiger or a panther, but realized in an instant that one or the other had come creeping upon him as he slept.

The tiger, as was afterwards ascertained, had his lair within a few hundred feet of where the soldier was lying. After a minute or two, a paw was placed on the officer's shoulder, and he was turned over on the broad of his back. Through his eye winkers he caught sight of the paw, and then realized that he was in the clutch of a full-grown tiger. For the moment he was rejoiced. A panther hasn't the good nature of a tiger, and is also more treacherous. A tiger will starve before he will feed on anything that he has not killed with his own paws, while the panther will grab anything that comes in his way.

When the man had been turned on his back, the tiger sat up like a dog, and purred like the great cat he was. The soldier's hat was lying on the grass near his head. The tiger reached for it and began to play with it, as you have seen a puppy with a glove or rag. He struck it to the right and then to the left, and then jumped after it and seized it in his teeth, and gave it a toss in the air. He played with the hat for at least ten minutes, and then sat up and yawned and returned to his victim. He lay down and chewed at the strap as if he liked the taste, but after a time flung it aside and rolled over on his back, and worked his body about on the grass as if bothered with fleas.

The beast was rolling and purring when one of the horses in camp uttered a neigh. The major was watching through half-closed lids, and the move the tiger made astonished him. He turned like a flash, and bounded six feet into the air, to whirl again and stand head to camp. As the neigh was not repeated, the tiger finally wheeled around and lay down with his head on his paws and fastened his eyes on the soldier's face.

There was a long ten minutes, during which the major lived a month for every minute. Then the beast slowly rose up, and with a touch of his right paw turned the man over on his face. After sniffing at the head, he ran his nose down the leg clear to the ankle. One leg of the soldier's trousers had been pulled up, leaving the ankle bare, and the beast gave the flesh a couple of licks with his tongue, that felt like a file. The taste didn't seem to tickle his palate for some reason, and he returned to his playful mood. Once, as he pawed at the jacket, a claw caught and ripped it down as a sharp knife would have done. Once, too, he stood with his paw on the man's hand, but as his claws were sheathed, the paw felt like a ball of velvet.

The major was rolled over at least a dozen times by the tiger, and the beast leaped over him back and forth like a dog at play, and he seemed to get a good deal of amusement out of it and to preserve his good nature. He finally fastened his teeth in the man's belt and lifted him clear off the ground as easily as a man might lift a kitten. If the soldier had not been told over and over again that a tiger eats only what he kills, he would have made sure that he was to be carried off. He had a revolver in his belt, and as his right hand fell down it encountered the butt of the weapon. He might have drawn it and killed the beast, or a shot might have frightened him away, but it was hardly a chance in a hundred.

It may be that the tiger was holding the man up to see if there was life in him, and was hoping to feel him make a movement. If there had been the stir of a hand, death would have been swift and merciless.

After swinging the man pendulum fashion for a full minute, the beast laid him down as carefully as you please, gnawed the belt in two and pulled it off, and carrying one end in his mouth, he frollicked away, and was hidden by the jungle.

An hour later the major's party had formed a cordon round the tiger's lair, and sent in the beaters. At the first uproar the beast charged out with a fierce growl and killed a native with one blow of the paw which had treated the soldier so gently. Three minutes later he wheeled and charged in the other direction, and, though he received bullets from two different rifles, he sprang upon Captain West of the Artillery and carried him 300 feet before falling dead. The officer, who had been seized by the neck, was dead long before the tiger gave up the ghost.—Boston Globe.

The Gloria of a Regiment.

The following appeared in The Irish Times: "The practice of abbreviating the names of the American States sometimes gives rise to a little trouble. The compositor of a New England newspaper surprised the chief reader the other day by the way he set up an article describing a performance of Mozart's 'Twelfth Mass.' Thinking that the word 'Mass' was an abbreviation of 'Massachusetts,' and that the whole piece was of a military character, describing the doings of a regiment which ought to have been called the 12th Massachusetts, he set up the criticism accordingly. One passage read as follows: 'The attack was excellent throughout, and never has the 12th Massachusetts been so brilliantly rendered in our midst. The finale was a triumph, and many of our citizens will have the 'Gloria' of the 12th Massachusetts running through their minds for many a long day.' One would dearly like to examine that compositor and ask him what he thought was the 'Gloria' of a regiment which might possibly run through the minds of citizens."

Christian Principles.

Quin, the old time English actor, complained to Beau Nash of the exorbitant charges made at Bath. Nash said they were acting on truly Christian principals. "How so?" asked Quin. "Why," answered Nash, "you were a stranger, and they took you in." "Aye," replied Quin, "but they fleeced me instead of clothing me."

WIFE FOR SALE—CHEAP.

A young man of Belfast is anxious to sell his wife cheap, and has advertised the fact in a local paper.

He says: "My wages average about 30s. a week, of which the wife seeks 26s., leaving me the remaining 2s. to spend as lavishly as I like. Four years have passed since I grasped her hand at the altar—it seems to me a life-time. I have failed in weight about 28 pounds since then.

"My wife—I have nicknamed her 'Evergreen'—is a stoutly built young woman of a very fascinating appearance, but that is all. She can't wash a tub of clothes, sew on a button, or darn a pair of socks. She says she didn't marry me to repair my clothes, and that I should have looked out for a tailoress.

"When I leave home in the morning I feel happy to get a breath of fresh air free from the clatter of her tongue. I don't trouble coming home for my dinner in case I might find a locked door, and before I could hunt her up lying browsing in some of the parks it would be time to resume business. Therefore I speculate on a cup of coffee and a bun out of my allowance. No wonder I'm failing.

"When I get home from 'biz,' and get my quantity of cold tea and the remains of her day's feeding, it takes me from then till bedtime pacifying the neighbors she has been quarreling with all day, which seems to be her daily work.

"The neighbors tell me—as if I don't know—that she is the most terrible-tongued specimen of the petticoat tribe they ever encountered.

"Now for the selling point. Would any one like to but her? A signature, clearing her from me, is all I want. My sole desire for recording my married life is to remind reckless young men to refrain from allowing dressy gowns and pleasing looks to fascinate them into a speedy marriage and a subsequent life of awful misery.

"Perhaps it will help those in quest of a partner in life to know that I picked up this lazy, expensive terror of humanity at a dance four years ago in an historical little town in Ulster."

A REMARKABLE RECORD.

Baby's Own Tablets have a remarkable record. All over the land you will find mothers who will tell you this medicine has saved the lives of their little ones. When you give Baby's Own Tablets to your children you have a guarantee that you are not stupifying them, with poisonbus soothing stuffs. No other medicine for children gives this guarantee and no other medicine cures all such ills as colic, indigestion, constipation, diarrhoea and teething troubles. The Tablets not only cure these troubles, but an occasional dose given to a well child prevents them. Mrs. G. A. Sawyer, Clarenceville, Que., says, "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for my little girl and I find that they are the very best medicine I can give her." Try the Tablets for your children—they will not disappoint you. Sold by medicine dealers or sent by mail at 25 cents a box by writing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Hard Seats.

It is not well for sedentary workers to sit on cushions. In man, owing chiefly to his erect carriage, there is a strong development of the muscles of the pelvis and the thighs, which almost completely clothe the strong bones of that region. In the seated position, to obviate undue pressure, nature has provided a proper cushion over these bones. Hyrtl's saying is well known, "We sit on the fat of the seat as on a mattress."

In sitting on a smooth and hard surface the body rests upon three main points, but in sitting on a soft cushion pressure is imparted to the muscles and interferes with the circulation in all their parts.

Great attention has been paid to this matter in the construction of bicycle saddles and, speaking generally, with very beneficial results. Nothing can be said against a certain amount of covering, if not too yielding, but the office stool, properly shaped, is an excellent seat.

Parcels Post in England.

According to the London Daily Mail, an important and useful concession to the rural population of England is announced by the British postoffice. It will now be possible for those who live in places quite remote from postoffices to hand parcels to the postmen for transmission through the mails. A rural postman, whether on foot or mounted on a bicycle or tricycle, is to accept parcels tendered to him provided that he is not already fully loaded and that the weight of the parcels handed by any one person does not exceed eleven pounds. If the sender's consignment is likely to exceed this limit arrangements will be made for its collection if a day's notice is given. If the postman uses a horse and cart he will be allowed to accept any number of parcels provided he can conveniently carry them in his vehicle. When these conditions do not apply the sender has yet another opportunity, for he has only to proceed to the nearest country letter box at the time appointed for emptying it, and the parcels may then be handed over to the driver of the mail cart, who, however, is not required to weigh the parcels or to check the postage.

In most of the European countries the parcels post seems to have come to stay. That it is proving a great convenience and saving to the people is the universal testimony.

Canadian Apples Abroad

London, Oct. 8.—(C. A. P.)—The Liverpool Daily Post on Liverpool as a fruit distributive centre says this season's first arrivals of Nova Scotia apples have brought phenomenal prices, realizing 24 shillings the barrel for best grades. The first steamer brought 54,000 bushels, the second 51,000 and in the height of the season weekly imports may range from 200,000 to 250,000 bushels. The increased popularity of these apples proves they are taking the precedence of English, Canadian and American apples must be sold cheaply, if they are to compete with English fruit this season.

Rounds out the Form.

Persons who have become pale, weak and thin by overwork, worry or disease find that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is wonderfully effective in forming new blood, restoring a healthful glow to the complexion and rounding out the form. You will soon feel the benefit of this restorative treatment and can prove it by noting your increase in weight.

HE STUDIED OYSTERS.

Prof. Ramsay Wright Gives Some Information About the Luscious Malpeque—Observed in His Native Lair.

Malpeque, on Prince Edward Island, is the home of that luscious edible, the Malpeque oyster, and Prof. Ramsay Wright, of the University Biological Department, who has been studying the bivalve at close range during the past summer, recently gave some interesting details concerning his observations.

The home of the Malpeque oyster, the Professor said, was Richmond Bay, a large sheet of water, perhaps twelve miles long and nearly as broad. The beds were distributed widely, some being in shallow water, and some in comparatively deep water, the latter being the more valuable. The best oysters were found in 20 feet of water about Curtain Island. Last season the catch amounted to 15,000 barrels, all collected by oyster tongs, as dredging was not allowed. The price last year was about $6.50 a barrel, and it was likely that there would be an advance on this figure for this season's catch. The season opened on the 21st instant, and would continue well into November.

Members of the Marine Biological Station spent the summer at Richmond Bay studying the oyster, and making experiments with a view of settling upon a plan for oyster culture when the supply began to give out. So far there was no diminution in the supply, but the fishing was so extensive that in the near future some plan of preservation would have to be inaugurated.

Dr. Stafford, of McGill University, was engaged in tracing and identifying the oyster while in its swimming condition, so that there would be no difficulty in recognising the "spat," and differentiating it from the larvae of other bivalves. The French system of oyster culture was to catch the "spat" and start its growth on cement covered tiles sunk in a suitable place where there was a good current. This system, however, was an expensive one, although there was no doubt that it was a good one. When the oysters had attained a growth of about an inch in diameter, they were removed and placed in boxes, and fed until they attained full growth.

The more usual method of culture was to take the small oysters of one inch diameter and put them in the water at suitable points, allowing them to grow by natural means. Professor Wright continued some investigations as to the rate of growth, finding that during the first year the oysters attained a diameter of one inch. From then on the rate varied from one inch to one and a half, according to the food in the water.

One reason why the Malpeque oysters were better than others was that Richmond Bay seemingly had the best food. Hundreds of small boats were engaged in the fishing.

Profit in Sheep.

Fat lambs always find ready sale at good prices, and choice lambs are generally scarce at high prices. If lambs are kept till they grow a fleece, the price of the wool is generally the profit of the sheep over the fat cow or the fat steer. Of course sheep will not fatten on weeds or brush or thrive in cold, wet lots upon neglect. But they will show up in the sales pens favorably with steers or cows if they are given the same feed and the same care, or even less.

Women who Are Weak

AND SUFFER THE DERANGEMENTS PECULIAR TO THEIR SEX FIND THAT

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

CURES SUCH ILLS PERMANENTLY BY STRENGTHENING THE NERVES AND MUSCLES.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food stands high in women's favour because it is especially successful in overcoming ills peculiar to their sex.

When, on account of a run down condition of the system, the muscles and nerves fail to control the action of the feminine organism, there is bound to come much suffering.

Headaches, pains in the back and limbs, indigestion, feelings of discouragement and despondency, weakness and irregularity rob life of the joys which would otherwise be possible.

Stimulating medicines cannot possibly be of more than slight temporary relief. To be of lasting benefit the nerves and muscles must be fully restored by such treatment as is afforded by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Not only is the action and vigour of the bodily organs fully restored, but new, firm flesh is added, the form is rounded out, the weight is increased, and pallor gives gave to healthful glow of complexion which tells of the full enjoyment of health.

MRS. SYMONS, 42 St. Clair street, Belleville, Ont., states: "Some years ago I began a course of treatment with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and have found it a very satisfactory medicine. I was formerly troubled with nervous exhaustion and a weak fluttering heart. Whenever my heart troubled me I would have spells of weakness and dizziness which were very distressing. By means of this treatment my nerves have become strong and healthy, and the action of my heart appears to be regular. I can recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as an excellent medicine."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box. 1

Do you know why they use yeast in white flour bread?

When white flour is wet it forms a compact mass, and if cooked thus, as in some kinds of pastry, and eaten, the digestive juices would only act on the outside of each morsel and the process of digestion is greatly prolonged. So yeast is used to make it porous. Yeast, however, consumes a portion of the gluten in the flour, which is already greatly deficient, being lost in the bolting.

MENNONITE HARDSHIPS

THEIR FUEL AND HABITS IN WINTER ARE NOT LOVABLE.

Hotels Are Poor and Traveling Is Expensive—A Hob-Nailed Expert With the Cue—Use the Best of Implements—Rich People Who Hibernate in the Cold Weather—A Letter From Manitoba.

Writing from Winkler, Man., J. P. McConnel, says in The Toronto Star:

The Mennonite reserve, of which I have now made a complete tour, as a market possibility is interesting. The Mennonite's standard of living differs greatly from that of Ontario farmers generally. The Mennonite is a great eater and smoker. Apparently he eats everything eatable on the market. One finds on sale on the reserve all the very latest breakfast foods, pickles, canned goods of every description, California fruits, etc., and everything of the very best quality sold in little buckeye stores out on the prairie. The corresponding class of store in Ontario is one where the storekeeper is the postmaster and hangs long boots and hay rakes outside—where the store reeks of coal oil, smoked ham, and molasses. Now just fancy selling a big bill of the latest breakfast fad to that kind of store in Ontario. Yet in every store I visited in the Mennonite districts I found them all stocked largely with these goods.

Stagnate in Winter.

The Mennonite hibernates almost, in winter. He feeds no cattle, has no fire-wood to cut. His grain is hauled to market mostly as fast as it is threshed. He sits around his "peat" fire absorbing smoke, reek, and victuals. He never ventilates his house, summer or winter. Not ten per cent. of them have sound stomachs. They absorb great quantities of patent medicines. Once a medicine helps a case the whole community proceeds to liquidate on that particular brand for every ailment. When they find it won't cure everything they all cease to use it at all. Thus a druggist told me he handled fifteen gross of a well known patent medicine in six months. The last month he sold five gross. Since then he hasn't sold five bottles, and the last one was over a month previous to my conversation with him. The same druggist tells me when they do catch on they can't get enough, but once they quit they quit. This is a point that may be useful to those who have curative designs upon the simple-minded Mennonite.

Cheap, Strong Clothes.

The Mennonite wears the cheapest and strongest boots, clothes and caps he can get. I found little or no fine goods in most of these lines. Men, women and children all wear the same grade of stuff so far as quality is concerned. Each man and woman has a "best" suit or dress to wear to "meeting," but the man's everyday clothes are of the cheap class entirely, consisting of overalls, cheap coats, and long boots, with coarse, heavy underwear.

The Mennonite is a great smoker, but he seldom uses either pipe or cigars. He smokes cigarettes exclusively, which he rolls himself. He buys his tobacco in tins, and the same grade of goods sold in the best shops of Toronto and Montreal finds a big sale in this district. Where in an Ontario country store is there a big sale of expensive tinned tobacco?

The Mennonite is temperate in drinking. He drinks very little, if any, alcoholic liquors. The hotels in the reserve observe the law very strictly, closing the bars sharp on the hour and remaining so. The bars of most of these hotels appear to be well stocked with all the better known brands of liquors, both Scotch and Canadian, but they are evidently used more by the traveling public than by the local people. I have not yet found a good cigar in them. I am told that most of the cigars retailing for ten cents here cost no more than $45 per thousand. I don't know whether this is true or not, but the cigars smell as though it were.

The accommodations of these hotels are crude. The beds are hard and cheap. The furniture is cheap. The hotels are innocent of any sanitary arrangements.

Poor Hotels.

Their cooking is abominable. The first steak I ever tackled, (and the last) in one of these hotels was a revelation in the art of converting beefsteak into material suitable for lining brakes on freight trains. The steak was cut thin as a lead pencil, then it was fried, or rather stewed, in dripping till it curled at the edges and bulged in the middle. I defy any man not equipped with a set of cast-iron jaws to render it fit for a human stomach. I have since seen steaks in different hotels in this district, and they are all alike. However, I will say that outside of his poor beds, his lack of sanitary arrangements, his awful cooking and poor cigars, the Mennonite reserve boniface is not a bad sort, and he makes you feel at home.

Every hotel has its two or more pool tables, and the rustics congregate every night to play the game. They play a sort of English pool on an American table, and I have seen some wonderful playing among them. I saw a thresher-man, a big burly chap with bushy whiskers, hands like hams, wearing long boots that left hob-nail marks in the floor, put down thirteen out of fifteen balls after making the break in straight pool. That kind of playing is scarce, even among our most accomplished city sports.

Traveling Is Expensive.

The traveler carrying sample trunks through this or any other part of the West will find it expensive, as compared with Ontario rates. Transferring trunks costs not less than 50 cents, sample room 50 cents, hotel $1.50 to $2 per day. Driving costs from $2.50 to $3.50 per ten miles, according to the state of the roads and the weight of the trunks. The horses are good and the rigs are comfortable. There are about a dozen towns in the Mennonite reserve, and each town consists of a row of elevators on one side of the road and a row of houses and stores on the other. You would not think, to look at the places, there was business enough in them to last an hour. There are from two to six stores, and every store carries stocks of $5,000, $10,000, and up to $30,000 worth of goods. In groceries you will find all the best lines. In clothing the cheapest. In hardware and furniture, also cheap stuff. The Mennonite uses good cook-stoves. I found only the best makes in the stores. He does his cooking with a sort of manufactured home-made peat. The basis of this peat is found in the cow stable, and it is mixed with straw to a certain consistency, dried out, and piled up convenient for use. A pile of this partly animal matter fuel stands near the door of each Mennonite farm house. If you happen to pass to leeward of a Mennonite house just after the fire has been started to cook supper I guarantee you won't have much appetite for yours. This peat is their chief fuel, very little wood being available.

Of course the farm implement trade is good among the Mennonites. They use the best implements and wagons, have first-class horses, are good farmers, and are all well-to-do. They raise grain exclusively; they sell no meat or other produce than grain that amounts to anything, and the bulk of it is wheat.

The crops this year, so far as I have observed, are below the average. The season has been very backward.

Going for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Don't put yourself in this man's place, but keep a bottle of this remedy in your home. There is nothing so good for Colic, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery and Diarrhoea. It is equally valuable for Summer Complaint and Cholera Infantum and has saved the lives of more children than any other medicine in use.

When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take.

You, or some one of your family, are sure to need this remedy sooner or later and when that time comes you will need it badly; you will need it quickly. Why not buy it now and be prepared for such an emergency? Price, 35 cents.

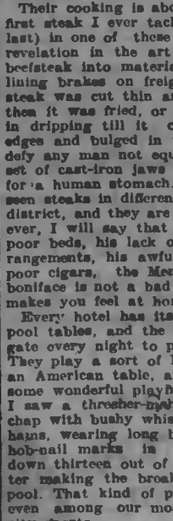
"I've Lost Ten Pounds"

A man says. "Look at this." And he over-laps his coat to show how loose it is. There are some people who can lose fat to advantage, but the loss of flesh is one of the accepted evidences of failing health. As flesh-making processes begin in the stomach, so naturally when there is loss of flesh we look first to the stomach for the cause. And the cause is generally found to be disease of the stomach and digestive and nutritive tracts, resulting in loss of nutrition and consequent physical weakness.



Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery restores the lost flesh by curing diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition and enabling the perfect digestion and assimilation of food from which flesh and strength are made.

"My wife was for five years troubled with inflamation of stomach and bowels, bloating and severe pain at times during the entire five years," writes Mr. J. Milton Unger, of McConnellsburg, Pa. "Her heart was affected, and she took a purgative every few days but [illegible] this remedy

There is nothing like Sunlight Soap for Household Utensils.

When you have to use hard water it is not an easy matter to wash household utensils. To do good washing you should have good soap and soft water (rain water). If you use hard water you must have good soap, and the best soap you can get is Sunlight Soap because it softens the hard water and makes a copious creamy lather. Use Sunlight Soap for all household purposes and the results will surprise you.

A Zuni Baby.

The Zuni child spends his early days in a cradle. But a cradle in Zunilland does not mean down pillows, silken coverlets and fluffy laces; it is only a flat board, just the length of the baby, with a hood like a doll's buggy top over the head. Upon this hard bed the baby is bound like a mummy, the coverings wound round and round him until the little fellow cannot move except to open his mouth and eyes. Sometimes he is unrolled and looks out into the bare whitewashed room, blinks at the fire burning on the hearth and fixes his eyes earnestly on the wolf and cougar skins that serve as chairs and beds and carpets in the Zuni home. By the time he is two or three years old he has grown into a plump little bronze creature, with the straightest of coarse black hair and the biggest and roundest of black eyes. He is now out of the cradle and trots about the house and the village. When the weather is bad he wears a small coarse shirt and always a necklace of beads or turquoise.—St. Nicholas.

A Thousand Ways of Lying.

There are a thousand ways of lying, but all lead to the same end. It does not matter whether you wear lies, tell lies, act lies or live lies, your character is ruined all the same.

There is no more demoralising influence in modern life than the unnatural straining to seem other than we are. Nothing else so quickly lowers self respect, takes the fine edge off honor and blunts the conscience as the sense of being a sham, a gilded fraud or an unreality. It cheapens standards, lowers ideals, saps ambition and takes the spring and joy out of living. No man can make the most and the best of himself until he is absolutely honest with his own soul and unfalteringly true to his highest ideals, and this is impossible while he is living a life of Success.

The Moorish Woman at Home.

When not fixed up for visitors the Moorish woman is always en dishabille, lounging about all day in a loose cotton or muslin nightgown, rose or yellow being her favorite shade, her bare feet thrust into slippers very much down at the heel and a flower stuck in her wisp of uncombed hair, which, from a continual use of henna dye, is apt to break out in patches of yellow, green or gray. Hairbrushes are unknown, a very coarse comb alone being used, which may account for the fact that the hair is never glossy or well kept. She has a devouring passion for paints, powders and perfumes, attar of roses and sandalwood being in special demand.—Pilgrim.

A Tree Distillery.

A MAN OF THE DAY.

Sir W. H. Wright, K.C.B., D.Sc., F.R.S., Who Recently Visited Toronto.

Sir William Henry White, K.C.B., D.Sc., LL.D., F.R.S., president of the Institution of Civil Engineers of Great Britain, a number of whom recently visited Toronto, is the late Director of Naval Construction and Assistant Controller of the Navy. He was born at Devonport, February 2, 1845, and educated at the Royal School of Naval Architecture, South Kensington, when the school was under the direction of the Lords of the Council, the Admiralty supporting it. He graduated at the head of the list of students in 1867, and received the highest diploma as naval architect (Fellow of the Royal School of Naval Architecture); was at once appointed to the constructive department of the Admiralty, where he remained until 1873, rising through the various grades to the rank of chief constructor. He was appointed professor of naval architecture at the Royal School in 1870, and held that position there, and at the Royal Naval College concurrently with his Admiralty appointment until 1881. He resigned his position in the Admiralty in March, 1883, receiving a special letter of thanks from the Lords Commissioners for past services. From March, 1883, to October, 1885, he was engaged in the organization and direction of the shipbuilding department of the Elswick works of Sir William Armstrong & Company. During that period he designed and built a number of warships for foreign navies with speeds exceeding any previously attained. He was invited by the Admiralty in 1893 to assume the office of Director of Naval Construction in conjunction with that of Assistant Controller of the Navy. During the period he occupied this position there was unprecedented activity in shipbuilding for the Royal Navy. His services in connection with the Naval Defence Act were recognised by his appointment as C.B. in 1891; in January, 1896, he was created K.C.B. He holds many honors conferred by foreign rulers and Governments. He is the author of a "Manual of Naval Architecture," which has become a standard work, has been translated into Russian, German and Italian, and officially approved as the text book for the British, German and Italian and other navies; also of a "Treatise on Shipbuilding," and of numerous memoirs and papers on science and practice of shipbuilding, either published separately or appearing in the proceedings of societies of which he is a member.

Waiting His Turn.

"Well, Jack," said his chum after Jack had proposed to the most popular girl in the town, "is it all right?"

"Well," said Jack ruefully, "I can hope—that's all."

"What did she say?"

"She said she'd file my proposal with all the others and consider it when she got down to it."

His Lack of Tact.

Barnes—Howes is a pretty good sort of fellow. Shedd—Yes, but he hasn't got any tact. At the restaurant the other day he asked me if I was fond of cats, and I was eating rabbit stew at the time! The idea of asking such a question at such a time as that!

TRAINING FOR MOTHERS.

Dr. Paul de Vuyst on Teaching of Children in the Home.

Dr. Paul de Vuyst, Inspector of Agricultural Education in Belgium, called on Mr. C. C. James, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, at Toronto recently. Dr. Vuyst is on his way home from St. Louis, where he was one of the judges at the Exhibition, and his visit in Toronto was for the purpose of endeavoring to persuade the Ontario Government to send a representative to the First International Congress on Child Study, Home Education and Protection of Children, to be held at the Universal Exposition of Liege, Belgium, in September, 1905. All persons interested in the education of children are invited to be present at the Congress, the secretary of which is M. Picn of Brussels.

Dr. Vuyst states that the agricultural colleges in Canada and the United States are in advance of the European colleges, but we have a great deal to learn yet on this continent in regard to the primary and secondary education of boys and girls along agricultural lines—that is to say, preparatory agricultural education in the public and high schools.

There is one feature of educational work that is regarded of the greatest importance in Belgium, for which he could find no counterpart at all on this side of the Atlantic—the training of girls, with a view to preparing them for the responsibilities of motherhood. Dr. Vuyst strongly argues that the education of children should not all be left to the school, they must receive a good deal of instruction in the home if they are to be properly fitted for the battle of life. He does not find included in the American educational scheme any provision for helping the mother of a family to give her children the necessary home training. "There are a great many more mothers than there are teachers," remarked Dr. Vuyst, "and a great deal in the way of teaching can be and should be done in the home. In Belgium we give instruction to the girls in the public and high schools that will be of assistance to them as the mothers of the future. We point out to them how they may direct the child's studies at home. We consider this of very great importance. We have been carrying it on for a good many years, and the results have been very satisfactory."

Dr. Vuyst also had an interview with Deputy Minister of Education Millar.

Utilize Stable Manure.

Manure is often sold at auction in our country and brings $2 or more per load, depending on the shape it is in, says Rural New Yorker. A farmer who would give it away or sell it for 25 cents a load to get rid of it would not farm very long. Yet many farmers throw away the best part of the manure by letting the rain leach through it. We have known farmers to do this and then buy fertilizers to make their crops.

SCHOOL SPORTS WELL CONTESTED.

Collegiate Institute Field Day was Great Success.

Large Number of Entries and Close Finishes—Events Not all Decided.

The annual field day of sports in connection with the Peterborough Collegiate Institute, was held yesterday afternoon at the Nicholls Oval. It is several years since an event of this nature has been held and the affair was such a great success that it is safe to predict that there will be a continuance of it for many years to come. The day was a delightful one, the number of spectators was large and the events were all well contested. The entry list in each event was large and the competition throughout was keen. In the running races, the finishes were very close and exciting especially in the senior 100 yard race which had to be run in three heats. Some of the events were decided before yesterday and there are still a few to be decided before the championship cups are rewarded to the winners.

The students turned out in large numbers and gave the contestants every encouragement. There was considerable rivalry between the different forms and each form gave their entries every support from a vocal stand point. The relay race was of special interest and the winning form owe their victory especially to the likeness of Kennedy, who had a big handicap to overcome on the last relay. At present Kennedy has a good lead for the senior cup while Bellegham and Mann are tied for the Junior Cup.

SENIOR EVENTS.

Standing Jump—1, Lang, Bert, 3 feet, 3-4 in.; 2 Kennedy, Joe; 3, Hall, Harry. Twelve entries.

Running Jump—1, Laing, Bert, 13 feet, 11 in.; 2, Kennedy, Joe; 3, Hall, Harry. Ten competitors.

REGARDING CARE OF GRANOLITHIC WALKS

People have noticed the great extent of damage that has been done to the granolithic walks by the chopping of ice last winter. While there is a command from the authorities to clean off the sidewalks and a by-law of the town making its penalty to injure the walk, it is a nice question which is to be obeyed, the Mayor's order or the town bylaw. In Toronto and other places the authorities have arrived at the conclusion that a little snow or ice on the walks is better than the bare stone, and during the coming winter it is hoped that there will be no more chopping, leaving wounds so visible to pedestrians next year.

It is noticed that the children are gathering the fallen leaves together and making bonfires. This is frequently done near the edge of the granolithic walk. This should be prevented as the walks cost too much money to be carlessly destroyed.

BEFORE THE MAGISTRATE.

Two Drunks Fined—Two Dollars and Costs for Driving on Sidewalk.

Before the Magistrate at the Police Court this morning, Frank Mehan was fined $2.00 for being drunk and disorderly on the street last night.

David Geogan, who Hails from Hastings come to town yesterday and got drunk. As a consequence he spent the night in a cell at the police station. This morning he pleaded guilty to being intoxicated and was fined the customary $2.00.

Thos. Goacher was charged with driving a load of coal on the sidewalk on Scott street on or about Oct. 1. He acknowledged his misdeeds. The Magistrate said that the bylaw in this respect must be regarded and he will fine all those who transgressed. Goacher had to pay $2 and $2.75 costs for his trouble.

HIS FRIENDS FOUND THEM GOOD

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablet Also Drove Away M. Mongeot's Nervousness and Misery.

Has the hot weather made you nervous and irritable? Is your work a trouble? Are you too weary to find pleasure in your usual pursuits? If you are it is time to take heed to your stomach.

The heat hits the stomach first and by that means it hits the whole body. If you would guard against it strengthen the weak points—help the stomach. This can be done surely and easily with Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. They digest the food and the stomach rests and recovers strength. Listen to what M. Mongeot, of Masson, Que., says:

"I suffered with Dyspepsia. I was very nervous and for eighteen months I was miserable. Then I commenced to use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. The first box helped me and I was soon entirely cured.

"I have recommended Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets to all my friends and they have found them good."

GIVE WOOD TO CHARITY BOARD.

Statement that 15 or 20 Cords of Wood Have Been Destroyed.

One of the men who has been engaged in the work of trimming the trees along the streets is authority for the statement that from 15 to 20 cords of wood might have been had from the limbs cut off had they been saved instead of destroyed. If this estimate is a correct one it would seem a pity that so much good hard wood should have been destroyed, when by a little expense it might have been preserved and prepared for firewood. It would have been a nice act, and one which would have been appreciated to have given this wood to the Charity Board, and it would have them been disposed of in such a way that it would have brought comfort to those who will this winter likely find it difficult to procure the necessary fuel.

SUCCESS OF A PETERBOROUGH BOY

Mr. Orville Shortly Made Representative of The Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. at Ottawa.

Mr. Orville Shortly, son of Mr. B. Shortly, of town, has been appointed superintendent of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, for the city of Ottawa and seven adjoining towns. He was recently acting in a similar capacity in Belleville, and just before his marriage, which took place a week or two ago, the company promoted him to the larger field at Ottawa. The fact of Mr. Shortly having been engaged with the Metropolitan Company for a comparatively short time, speaks well for his ability that he has been considered capable of assuming the responsibilities of this larger office. He assumes his new duties in Ottawa next week.

Nothing About That $40,000.

Toronto, Oct. 8.—Mr. J. H. Burritt of Pembroke, solicitor for Mr. Lorne Hale, was in the city yesterday attending a Masonic meeting. Mr. Burritt, who, by the way, is a Conservative, emphatically denied that Mr. Hale in his examination for discovery had said anything about the expenses of the Liberals in the North Renfrew bye-election amounting to $40,000.

Four Burn to Death.

St. Joseph, Mo., Oct. 8.—Four persons perished yesterday in a fire which destroyed the Tracey Hotel in South St. Joseph. They were Lafayette Frew and Joseph Dillingham, live stock buyers; C. F. Norton, a stock yard employe, and Mrs. Anna Weston.

KICK AND SCREAM

Baby's Awful Suffering from Eczema.

Could Not Hold Her. She Tore Her Face and Arms.

Cuticura Saved Her Life, So Mother Says.

"When my little girl was six months old, she had eczema. We had used cold creams and all kinds of remedies, but nothing did her any good, in fact, she kept getting worse. I used to wrap her hands up, and when I would dress her, I had to put her on the table for I could not hold her. She would kick and scream, and when she could, she would tear her face and arms almost to pieces. I used four boxes of Cuticura Ointment, two cakes of Cuticura Soap, and gave her the Cuticura Resolvent, and she was cured, and I see no traces of the humour left. I can truthfully say that they have saved her life, and any one suffering as she did, I should advise them to give Cuticura a fair trial." MRS. G. A. CONRAD, Lisbon, N. H., Feb. 7, 1903.

Five years later, viz., Feb. 23, 1908, Mrs. Conrad writes:

"It is with pleasure that I can inform you that the cure has been permanent as it is now six years since she was cured, and there has been no return of the disease since, and I have advised a lot of friends to use the Cuticura Remedies in all diseases of the skin."

Instant relief and refreshing sleep for skin-tortured babies, and rest for tired, fretted mothers, in warm baths with Cuticura Soap and gentle anointings with Cuticura Ointment, the great skin cure and purest of emollients, to be followed in severe cases by mild doses of Cuticura Resolvent. This is the purest, sweetest, most speedy, permanent and economical treatment for torturing, disfiguring, itching, burning, bleeding, scaly, crusted and pimply skin and scalp humours, eczemas, rashes and irritations.

Cuticura Resolvent, Ointment and Soap are sold throughout the world. Depots: London, 27 Charterhouse Sq.; Paris, 5 Rue de la Paix; Australia, R. Towns & Co., Sydney; Boston, 137 Columbus Ave. Potter Drug & Chemical Corp., Sole Proprietors.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

No one who is acquainted with its good qualities can be surprised at the great popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only cures colds and grip effectually and permanently, but prevents these diseases from resulting in pneumonia. It is also a certain cure for croup. Whooping cough is not dangerous when this remedy is given. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. It is also pleasant to take. When all of these facts are taken into consideration it is not surprising that people in foreign lands, as well as at home, esteem this remedy very highly and very few are willing to take any other after having once used it. For sale by all druggists.

TWENTY KILLED IN RAILWAY WRECK.

Head-on Collision of Passenger and Freight Trains.

(Special to the Examiner.)

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 10th. — A special from Warrensburg, Mo., says that as the result of a head on collision to-day between an east-bound Missouri Pacific passenger train and a west-bound freight train near here, twenty one dead have been taken from the wreck and many are injured. The wrecked train was the second section of the passenger train en route from Wichita to St. Louis. This train takes up cars from points along the line. It had picked up coaches at Pleasant Hill and other places and was filled with passengers.

SOCIAL SIDE OF LEADER'S VISIT.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Borden, during their stay in Peterborough Saturday were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kendry. Upon the arrival of the 5.10 train from the east the Conservative leader and his wife were met by a number of the party leaders here, some of the local Conservatives having, however, gone to Havelock to meet Mr. Borden in the afternoon.

After their arrival here the visitors were driven to the beautiful rooms of the Albany Club, where a reception was held. A large number of ladies and gentlemen taking advantage of the opportunity of meeting Mr. and Mrs. Borden. The old war horses of the party in town, many of whom had never met Mr. Borden were presented to their new leader.

The visitors, with a number of local ladies and gentlemen were entertained at dinner by Mrs. Kendry, and after the meeting Saturday night, another pleasant hour was spent at "Barnet Byrn" the beautiful residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. McAllister. Among those present were:—

Mr. R. L. Borden, Mr. Jas. Kendry, Mr. John Carnegie, Mr. Sexsmith, East Peterborough; Mr. T. E. Bradburn, Mr. Garvin, Mr. Layfield, Mr. H. Burnham, Mr. G. W. Hatton, Mr. L. Hayes, Mr. D. Hughes-Charles, Mr. Hardley-Whmot, Mr. John Crane, Mr. Miles Hamilton, Rev. Dr. Torrance, Mr. L. G. Paterson, Mr. T. F. Matthews, Rev. Mr. Jolliffe, Mr. Norman Jolliffe, Mrs. Borden, Mrs. Kendry, Mrs. Carnegie, Mrs. (Hon.) Hamilton, Mr. A. E. Peck, Mr. Max Denistoun, Rev. Dr. Crothers, Rev. Father McColl, Mr. R. F. McWilliams, Mr. J. C. Shook, Mr. H. LeHrun, Rev. Dr. O'Brien, Major Miller, Mr. Dobbin, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, Rev. J. C. Davidson, Rev. Mr. Major, Mr. W. H. Hill, Mr. Wm. Hamilton, Mr. R. Nell.

A delightful evening was spent in this hospitable home. The toast to Mr. and Mrs. Borden was honoured and in responding Mr. Borden expressed his pleasure at visiting Peterborough on this, the first occasion. He had been agreeably surprised at the size and importance of the town, and paid a warm tribute to the good qualities of Mrs. Borden.

The leader and Mrs. Borden left on the 12.25 train for Ottawa.

ITALIAN STABBED IN DRUNKEN ROW

Injured Man Will Recover—Trouble on Bethune Street Yesterday Afternoon.

As the result of a drunken quarrel esterday afternoon, Dominico Memme was stabbed in the neck and on the wrist, and now lies in a critical condition. Indulging too freely in spirituous liquors was the cause of the trouble.

Yesterday afternoon Nicholas Rensetti invited several of his Italian friends to his new house on Bethune street, near Hunter street. In the house were several kegs of lagar beer and the guests were treated freely to the drink. About 3 o'clock Pompeo Mediorie with another Italian entered the house. Mediorie had apparently been drinking and was given a glass of beer along with the others present. Mediorie was in an excited state as the result of his heavy drinking and began using abusive language to those present. One of the company got up and reproved Mediorie for his words saying that it was not becoming of him to speak thus when he had been treated in the same manner as the others. The two men clinched and several, including Memme, went to separate them. As soon as they were parted Mediorie drew his knife and snashed at Memme, cutting his neck and wrist. Dr. McNulty was called and attended the injuries.

Memme's condition to-day was reported to be favourable to recovery, but his escape from death was a very narrow one and it was through no fault of Mediorie that he was not instantly killed. The cut was a deep one, about two inches long and one and one-half inches deep and missed the jugular vein by about one-quarter of an inch. The cut on the left wrist was a painful but not a serious one. Memme was taken to the St. Joseph's Hospital.

Upon going to press Mediorie had not been captured by the police who are in hot search of him.

SUCCESS OF ANOTHER PETERBOROUGH BOY,

Mr. Charles H. Mann Wins World's Fair Insurance Prize.

The many friends in Peterborough of Mr. Charles H. Mann will learn with pleasure that he has been awarded the World's Fair Competition Prize offered by the Great West Life Assurance Company, for having written the most accepted and paid-up business during the months of June, July and August. Mr. Mann is one of Peterborough's successful boys, having associated himself with the Life Insurance business under Mr. R. G. Williamson, local manager of the above company. After two years experience he accepted the position of special agent of Hamilton under the management of Mr. W. A. Spratt. This success of a well-known, highly-respected Peterborough boy will be welcome news to his many friends.

REV. WM. MAJOR'S SERMON AT ALL SAINTS'

Spoke Concerning Resolution Passed by Ministerial Association

Parties Guilty of Immorality in Politics—How was it to be Remedied?

Rev. Wm. Major preached to a large congregation at All Saint's Church last evening on the resolution recently passed by the Ministerial Association. He took for his text Luke 3:10 "And the people asked him saying, 'What shall we do then?'"

Mr. Major read the resolution passed by the Ministerial Association saying that the action in presenting the resolution to the public had been given the most deliberate consideration for a long time and it was hoped that the people would realize the significance of the clause in it. Some might think that it was not for the clergy to deal with matters of politics, and that it was somewhat premature for a stranger, ignorant of local conditions to speak on the subject. As to the latter objection, he said human nature was the same in West Peterborough as in any other part of the country and he would speak generally; and as to the first objection he considered it a prime duty of the church to guide the morals of the young and lead them in paths of rectitude. This duty could not be left to the newspapers, because the press showed such intense partyism that acts of immorality were covered over and corruption overlooked. It was a matter of regret that the newspapers did not discuss principles in political matters, but it was all partyism which was the bane of the country. He was not addressing his hearers from a party standpoint, but on the standpoint of public good. And the time was opportune, as the country was on the eve of a general election. The morals of the young men were in danger because of the existence of vice and corruption in the political world; anyone who could read was aware of the cess pool of immorality which existed. Both parties were guilty and neither had a monopoly of virtue or vice. We were too prone to condone the political immorality and if the present condition of affairs were allowed to exist, the result would be a generation of immoral degenerates. If there is corruption in politics it could not be prevented from getting into the commercial world and eventually the whole of society would become permeated with trickery, vice, rascality and criminality. We were meeting a crisis in our national history and the question was, how is it to be met? One remedy suggested was to be most careful in selecting the right men as candidates. Another suggestion is to pass more stringent laws, but the speaker did not think this a solution of the problem for if the present laws were honestly and thoroughly obeyed there would be a better condition of affairs. There were two classes who are greatly responsible for the present immoral condition of affairs and its continuance; those who are personally so corrupt that they really sell themselves and their vote, and those who are so anxious about their party that they have not the moral backbone to vote against their party to vote for integrity and truth. Many will vote for party even though they know that the party is acting dishonestly and corruptly to win the election. The people must get aroused in the matter for they alone can solve the problem. If a member offends after being elected to parliament, turn him out at the next election and if a government offends do the same with it. The present conditions were sapping the very constitution from beneath our feet. Every verge of immorality must be purged and we must assert our manhood and citizenship. Let us use our franchise with all sincerity and honesty, for the power and glory of God.

DEATH OF HIGHLY RESPECTED LADY

Mrs. Mary Ambrose, Died Unexpectedly on Sunday.

The death occurred on Sunday quite unexpectedly of Mrs. Mary Ambrose, mother of Mrs. John Moloney, at the home of her son-in-law, Mr. Moloney, Brock street.

The deceased lady had attained to the age of 80 years, and although she had been an invalid for the last ten or eleven years following a paralytic stroke, she was not immediately prior to her death apparently much worse than usual, and the end came quite suddenly.

The late Mrs. Ambrose was born in the county of Limerick, Ireland, in 1825, and came to America in 1840, settling in Youngstown, N.Y., where she married her late husband, John Ambrose, who predeceased her about 50 years ago. Leaving the United States the family came to Canada, settling on a farm near Lindsay, where Mrs. Ambrose lived until about eleven years ago, when she came to live with her only daughter, Mrs. John Moloney, 172 Brock street.

The funeral will take place tomorrow morning at nine o'clock from the residence of Mr. John Moloney, to St. Peter's cathedral, and thence to the Roman Catholic cemetery.

The Commencement Exercises of the Graduating Class of Nicholls' Hospital Training School for Nurses, will be held in the Y. M. C. A. Hall this evening at 8 o'clock. Miss Helen Davies will sing.

Something Extra.

We are receiving some extra fine "Ashland" brand Crawford peaches in boxes. These are the choicest of the crop, and each one is wrapped in paper. The price is very low for such fruit. S. A. OKE, 376 George street. Telephone 18.

RUSSIANS BROKE JAPANESE LINE.

THREATEN COMMUNICATIONS

An Anomalous Position By Which Each Army Moves Against the Other's Lines—First Success to the Russians At Bentziaputze—Fatal Omission By the Japanese—Did Not Fortify Key Hill.

St. Ptersburg, Oct. 10.—General Kuropatkin's order of the day, announcing his determination to take the offensive, was supplemented last night by the news that an offensive movement has already been begun and that the Japanese line has been broken at Bentziaputze, about 20 miles east and south of Mukden. The Japanese occupied a front of about 52 miles east, through Yentai and across the railway to the banks of the Hun River, on the west. The Russian force had been moving south in close touch with the Japanese advance since Oct. 4. The Japanese outposts were driven back in a series of skirmishes, and on Oct. 6 the Russians re-occupied the station of Shakhe, 15 miles south of Mukden, the railway battalion restoring the bridge across the Shakhe River the next day in order to facilitate the advance.

A Fatal Omission.

Meanwhile General Mistchenko's Cossacks pushed southwestward as far as the Yentai mines, defeating the Japanese in a series of warm skirmishes. The most important action, however, occurred on the Japanese right at Bentziaputze. Here the Japanese held a strong and important position, but it seems they made the inexplicable omission to fortify a commanding hill which was the key to the whole situation. A portion of General Kuropatkin's force made a strong attack on Bentziaputze, and taking a leaf out of the Japanese book, occupied the hill from the east and flanked the Japanese out of town, causing a serious loss in a rear-guard fight.

Japs Retaliating

While these operations are progressing south of Mukden, it is reported that two Japanese divisions under Gen. Fushimi are marching west up the Liao River and are now 22 miles south of Sinwintin. General Kuroki is expected to make a similar move eastward. This statement, if accurate, leaves the two armies in the anomalous position of threatening each others lines of communication, the Japanese by a wide turning movement, while the Russians pushing south, have already inflicted a blow upon the Japanese right and are crowding back their centre along the railway.

What May Result.

While it is understood that Mukden is not heavily fortified, Gen. Kuropatkin has a powerful force behind him, strongly posted at Tie Pass, and, if, as he asserts, the Russians are now powerful enough to assume the offensive, it is possible his advance movement will force the Japanese flanking column to withdraw in order to protect their own base. On the other hand, there seems to be a possibility of one or both the Japanese columns threatening the railway behind the Russians and forcing a suspension of their aggressive movement.

Kuropatkin Boasting.

London, Oct. 10.—In his address to his army, Gen. Kuropatkin asserts that the Russians have a force numerically superior to that of the Japanese, and he predicts a telling victory for his soldiers. The retirement of the Japanese on their position at Liaoyang is construed as evidencing the desire of Field Marshal Oyama to draw the Russians into an attack upon a strong defensive position. The dry weather is favorable to military operations.

The fleet blockading Port Arthur is reported to be more than usually alert, watching for British ships that are supposed to be planning to take supplies into the harbor.

British Steamer Stopped.

Che Foo, Oct. 10.—The increased activity of the Japanese fleet blockading Port Arthur in the stopping of merchantmen, is due to a lookout which is kept for three British ships, which, it is suspected, intend to attempt to enter Port Arthur with tinned meats and vegetables. The British steamer Victoria was stopped near Wei-Hai-Wei last evening and the foregoing explanation was made to her by the Japanese boarding officer.

Brings News of Safety.

Dundee, Scotland, Oct. 10.—A whaler, which returned from Davis Strait, brings news of the safety of Capt. Amundsen's Arctic expedition, which left Christiania, Dec. 17, 1903. The expedition has been described as having for its purpose a task of the highest importance in the domain of terrestrial magnetism.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 10.—A strike of coal drivers here threatens to affect the State Insane Asylum, the hospitals and all county and city institutions, to stop the street cars and interurban lines and to seriously affect business.

THE PROOF OF THE PUDDING.

Mr. Foster's admirers welcome his very problematical return to parliament as a boon. It would certainly be a boon to Mr. Borden whose lumber room is so short of Cabinet material; not that that matters for Mr. Borden is not likely to need cabinet material till what he has on hand is pretty thoroughly seasoned. Mr. Foster is welcomed as a financial critic—that need not terrify Mr. Fielding for his financial record in its remarkable success invites even such hair splitting criticism as Mr. Foster is qualified to make. But even his hair splitting can't coax out of the Dominion strong box the sixteen millions of surplus lying there, or eating big chunks out of the vitals of the national debt. Under Mr. Foster's financial regime yawning deficits were the rule. Under Mr. Fielding's administration, under a lowered tariff schedule, the prosperity that comes to the country under Liberal rule has made bulging surpluses, totalling in the eight years the Liberal Government has been in power, the magnificent sum of $57,-680,091 or an average yearly surplus of over 7 million dollars. This teal is arrived at after deducting the deficit of 1896-7 the parting legacy of the fine financial hand of Mr. Foster, the financial Colossus, who during the last three years of his reign piled up—or rather dug out—deficits to the amount of $5,694,759, as against nearly sixty million dollars in the eight years of Liberal rule.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

If you are not on the voters list register—watch the dates of court sittings.

It's Hon. Geo. Eulas Foster now; it will be Hon. Geo. Alas Foster after Nov. 3rd downs on North Toronto.

"Wouldn't that jar you?" Hon. Mr. Foster has come out as a labour candidate. He will have to labour to get elected in North Toronto.

Uncle Sam is going, or, rather, coming, to ask reciprocity of Canada. Sir Wilfrid can now lean back complacently in his easy chair and listen to Uncle Sam knocking humbly at Canada's door, and defer opening to see what's wanted till he has finished trimming his nails.

KEENE CHRONICLE'S WEEKLY INSTALMENT

Mr. William Nelson of the Toronto police force was visiting friends in this vicinity this week.

Miss Lillian Bell returned on Friday from a pleasant two months' visit with her sister, Mrs. T. J. Walsh, at Strathcona, N.W.T.

Mr. A. Shaw left on Friday last to resume his duties as train despatcher at Swift Current.

Mr. T. J. Wallace of Peterborough, was in the village on Saturday.

Mr. Philip Elmhirst of Lindsay, is visiting his parents.

Miss Mary Bryce was the guest of Peterborough friends for a few days last week.

Mr. W. Andrews is the guest of his friend, Mr. R. Campbell.

Mr. Fred English, who has been Mr. Fred English, who has been visiting his brother, returned to his home in Ottawa.

The death occurred on Monday evening last of Miss Nellie Wilson, at the home of her sister, Mrs. (Rev.) Seccombe, after an illness of nearly a year. The deceased young lady was 25 years of age, and was a general favourite among her friends. She was a daughter of the late Alex. Wilson of Hastings, and surviving her are her sister, Mrs. Seccombe, and a brother, Mr. H. Wilson of Hastings. The funeral took place on Saturday morning to the Hastings cemetery after a short service in the Methodist church conducted by Rev. Mr. Seccombe.

On Friday last another of Otonabee's oldest and most respected residents passed away in the person of Mr. William Foley, at the advanced age of 81 years. His death was the result of a fall down the cellar stair on Sunday, September 25th. He has been a resident of Otonabee for over 75 years, and during a large part of that time has resided on the homestead, east of Keene. His wife predeceased him about six months ago. He is survived by three sons and six daughters. The funeral took place on Monday from the family residence to the Roman Catholic church where a requiem mass was celebrated by Rev., Father O'Brien, and then to the Roman Catholic cemetery in Peterborough. The remains were followed by a large concourse of sorrowing friends. The pall bearers were Messrs. John O'Keefe, T. Walsh, F. Redpath, F. Redpath, D. Kylie, J. Kylie and J. Ryan.

ONEMEE.

The weather has been fine for taking up the root crops, which are very good, excepting the potatoes, which are affected with rot to a certain extent.

Omemee sent large crowds to the Peterborough Fair. They came home well pleased, and considered the Fair a great improvement on former years.

There will arrive here from England about the 22nd, a celebrated organist and choir master who will reside in either Lindsay or Peterborough.

The Presbyterian anniversary services were to be held on the 23rd, but there has been a postponement on account of inability to obtain speakers.

SOURCE OF SUPPLY POISONED.

An Alarming Condition Present in Many Places in Canada. How Best to Correct it.

Many people all over the Dominion are being poisoned slowly but surely, and that by their own carelessness.

The food may be pure, but digestion is not complete, and all that is not digested rots and ferments, giving off the most violent poisons. What was intended to sustain life really turns into that which destroys life.

The temperature of the body is a little over 98 degrees. Every particle of undigested food lies in the Stomach and Bowels, subject to this temperature, which is as high as in the sun on a hot summer day. It is not necessary to explain how quickly such heat will decompose dead matter, either animal or vegetable.

The Stomach and Bowels must be set right—Anti-Pill will do it. Dr. Leonhardt made his Anti-Pill specifically to correct these conditions, and it has never failed when given a fair chance.

Steamer Goes Aground.

Quebec, Oct. 10.—The steamer St. Lawrence, inwards, with 100 passengers and mails, went aground Saturday night on English Point, Pentecost River. Mr. Lester, the manager of the North Shore Steamship Line, says that all the passengers are safe. The steamer Aberdeen left about midnight for the theatre of the wreck, with Mr. Lester on board, to take the passengers and mails and bring them to Quebec. Nothing is known yet about the condition of the steamer.

Suprise to Doctors.

Most doctors are astonished at the results obtained by Dr. Chase-s Ointment as a cure for eczema, salt rheum and itching skin diseases which are often considered well nigh insurable. By word of mouth from friend to friend the exceptional merits of Dr. Chase's Ointment have gradually become known until it is now standard the world over and has a record of cures unparalleled in the history of medicine.

A Comparison and a Contrast

Some idea of the progress Canada has made since the Liberal Government took office in 1896 may be gathered from the record of our foreign trade. Here are figures which tell of good management, good policy and a growing country:

THE CONSERVATIVE REGIME

Foreign trade in 1883	$230,339,826
Foreign trade in 1896	239,025,360
Increase in thirteen years under Conservative rule..	$ 8,685,534

THE LIBERAL REGIME

Foreign trade 1896	$239,025,360
Foreign trade in 1903	467,064,685
Increase in SEVEN YEARS	$228,039,325

CONSERVATIVE PERIOD	LIBERAL PERIOD
Average Annual Increase	Average Annual Increase
$668,118	$32,577,046

Do you think, reader, that a good tariff policy, a good financial policy, a good immigration policy and a good transportation policy well administered, had nothing to do in bringing about such a striking result?

Rally to the support of Laurier!

Keep both hands on the growing time.

THE PREMIER'S TOUR

Begins His Two Weeks' Ontario Campaign in Hamilton.

NOMINATIONS ON SATURDAY

Hon. James Sutherland Again in the Field—Mr. G. B. Hoyd in Brantford—Hon. Peter White to Try Again in North Renfrew—Hon H. F. Clarke For Conservatives in Centre Toronto.

Ottawa, Oct. 10.—It will be nine years on the 17th of this month since Sir Wilfrid Laurier began his famous tour of Ontario in 1896. The opening meeting was in Morrisburg, and it was held in the open air. Bitterly cold was the weather, but a large crowd stood entranced, heedless of the cold, as they listened to the coming Premier's oratory. Sir Wilfrid had been challenged to make known his policy on the school question, and at Morrisburg he used the striking expression that he stood within the lines of Torres Vedras. The policy expanded by the then Opposition leader sent him triumphantly into office less than twelve months afterwards. Last night Sir Wilfrid started upon another tour of Ontario, and there is little doubt that his campaign will be as successful as the one waged nine years ago. He is the beloved head of a powerful Administration, under whose rule prosperity has come to Canada and the country has flourished. Wherever he goes throughout the Province Sir Wilfrid will have the same story to tell of peace, prosperity and plenty. Lady Laurier accompanies her beloved husband, and will remain with him throughout the journey. She shares in his triumphs as well as his trials, and is a real comfort and source of strength to him. Mr. Rodolphe Boudreau, the Premier's private secretary, and Mr. Alex. Smith are also in the party.

The Premier At Hamilton.

Hamilton, Oct. 10.—Arrangements for the big Laurier meeting in the drill hall to-night have been completed. So great is the desire to hear the Premier of the Dominion it is thought the large hall will not be nearly large enough to accommodate the crowd. It is expected that Sir Wilfrid will begin his speech about 8.30. He will be followed by Hon. William Paterson, and Hon. A. B. Aylesworth will be the last speaker. President James Chisholm will open the meeting, and the Liberal candidates for Hamilton, Messrs. Adam Zimmerman and J. M. Eastwood will say a few words to the electors.

POLITICS IN A NUTSHELL.

The Conservatives nominated on Saturday Bruno Nantel in Terrebone.

Saturday Hon. James Sutherland was again nominated in North Oxford.

Andrew Broder was again selected as the Conservative candidate for Dundas County on Saturday.

Wm. Ross of Port Perry has received and accepted the unanimous nomination of the Liberals of South Ontario.

Hon. Peter White will be the candidate of the Conservatives in North Renfrew. The convention was held on Saturday.

At the Liberal convention for the constituency of Brantford, Saturday, C. B. Heyd was selected to champion the Liberal cause.

Hon. William Paterson will be tendered a reception at Sarnia Tuesday evening, Oct. 11, when he goes to speak for Dr. Johnston.

L. De L. B. Tache, the Conservative who opposed the late Mr. Blanchet, is again in the field in the County of St. Hyacinthe.

Hon. T. Hackett, ex-M.P.P., received the unanimous nomination of the Conservative party in the County of Stanstead on Saturday.

Quebec Liberals have nominated George Parent, son of Premier Parent, as the opponent of Hon. Thomas Chase Casgrain in Montmorency.

The Conservative convention of East Simcoe was held at Midland Saturday and resulted in the nomination of W. H. Bennett for re-election.

E. F. Clarke was on Saturday night unanimously chosen by the Conservatives of the riding of Centre Toronto as their candidate in the coming election.

At the Conservative convention for the east riding of Lambton, held at Watford Saturday, J. E. Armstrong, ex-M. P., of Petrolea, was nominated for the Commons, and Hugh Montgomery, reeve of Plympton, for the Legislature.

A. J. Ludlow was nominated at Paris on Saturday as the Conservative candidate for the riding of Brant. Mr. Ludlow opposes Hon. William Paterson.

North Essex Conservatives met in convention in Windsor Saturday afternoon and nominated John Wesley Hanna, well known criminal lawyer, for the Federal Parliament.

Terrific Price Cuts

Two Weeks' Sale—from Wednesday, October 5th

A GREAT SALE FROM EVERY VIEW-POINT

A sale that involves desirable selling lines We realize the amount of work in preparing for the Xmas trade. Therefore reductions have been made on all Crockery (including Dinner and Tea Sets), Wall Papers, Trunks and Valises. We must clear our second flat—which is now a show room in the above lines—into one where Santa Claus has visited for years. Don't overlook this saving opportunity, as it means dollars saved to you. We were so busy last week we could not get the handbills distributed through the town. They will surprise every one who reads them. Some of our fellow-merchants claim that we must steal the goods, or that they are old stock, in order to make such sweeping underpriced clearances. Pay no attention to any of these stories. Come and see for yourselves.

Dropped Dead At Fire.

Cannington, Oct. 10.—About 2.45 yesterday morning fire was discovered in the driving shed belonging to D. S. Brown, and in less than one hour everything was consumed. Mr. Brown, hearing the alarm, got up and went to the door. The shock was too much for him, for on seeing the fire he dropped dead. The buildings were insured.

Barge Goes Ashore.

Port Colborne, Oct. 10.—The steamer F. H. Prince of the Ogdensburg-Rutland Line of steamers, bound from Chicago to Ogdensburg, with 50,000 bushels of corn and 30 cars of package freight, went ashore during a very heavy fog about eight o'clock yesterday morning, ten miles west of here, on what is known as Rock Island, small sunken island off Burnaby, Ont. The steamer Prince is not leaking, and the harbor tugs have gone to her assistance. The weather is calm.

In Our Grandfather's Youth.

Paralysis was almost unheard of in the youth of our grandparents, and now nearly every newspaper contains a record of someone being stricken with this dreadful form of helplessness. Paralysis is in reality a starving of the nerves, and can always be prevented by the timely use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, a preparation which has no rival as a creator of nerve force.

NOT JUST AS GOOD

Did you ever inquire at a store for certain articles and get for a reply "We have something just as good"? Did it ever occur to you that "Something just as good" is something the dealer has been able to buy much cheaper than the articles you inquire for? This is true in drugs, fabrics, groceries, hardware, and in fact every line, including silver-plated ware. If you inquire for 1847 Rogers Bros.' Knives, Forks or Spoons, don't accept any bogus Rogers' stamp because your dealer tells you it's just as good.

1847 TRADE MARK ROGERS BROS.

The above trade mark has been stamped on every article of the original and genuine Rogers Bros.' goods for over 50 years. Get this and you get the best that is made.

IN SARNIA TUNNEL

Six Grand Trunk Railway Employes Suffocated.

FREIGHT TRAIN BROKE IN TWO

Crew Sent in After It Nearly All Perish—Brave Rescue Parties and Their Dangerous Work—Switchman Blake Brings Out An Engine and Several Men—Tunnel Filled With Gas.

Sarnia, Oct. 10.—One of the most terrible calamities in the history of Sarnia took place at an early hour yesterday morning when six Grand Trunk employes were sacrificed in the St. Clair Tunnel. It was the result of a minor accident exposing the men to the fumes of carbonic acid gas, which at times pervades the tunnel.

A coupling having parted on a freight train, ten cars were allowed to remain in the tunnel, while the engine went out to side-track those still attached. The conductor, J. B. Simpson, remained with the cars. The engine returned, but was only able to take out three of the cars, as the coupling had to be made with a chain and was not considered strong enough to bear the weight of the whole train of ten cars remaining. Simpson was still in the van when this trip was made.

After the engine came out some of the men engaged refused to return into the tunnel on account of the foul air. Others were, however, secured, and the engine went down the grade. Two of the train crew, Conductor Richard Tinsley of Sarnia, and Alfred Short, brakeman of Port Huron, then started to the rear to look for Conductor Simpson. Short succeeded in making his way through to the Port Huron side, but Tinsley in trying to rescue Simpson was himself overcome. Both were found dead side by side in the van four hours later.

The details of what happened during the hour that the engine was in the tunnel will never be known, but it is assumed that the steam went low, and the remainder of the cars could not be moved. Meantime the gas grew worse, and the engineer, John Coleman, of Port Huron, died at his post. His fireman, Forster, of Port Huron, became unconscious and fell, evidently while trying to start the engine, while Dan Gillies of Sarnia, brakesman, fell beside the engine and died from the gas.

Brave Rescue Volunteers.

When Short reached the American portal an alarm was sent out, and Yardmaster McKee of Sarnia called for volunteers to go with himself down the tunnel to rescue the missing men, whose fate was more than guessed from Short's condition. A number immediately volunteered, and the following men were picked: Conductor Fisher of Sarnia, Thomas McGrath of Sarnia, J. Hamilton of Sarnia, John Blake, switchman, and W. Cameron.

These men with several others who could not be restrained, went into the tunnel, and a short distance within found the pumpman, Alex. Forbes, overcome by gas. Some of the party returned with him, and the rest proceeding, found the engine about a quarter of a mile within, and the fireman unconscious, Engineer Coleman dead, and Tinsley, Short and Conductor Simpson missing.

While trying to uncouple the engine Walter Hawn, one of the rescue party, was overcome and fainted. Thos. McGrath, another of the rescuers, fell by the engine and died almost immediately, and Yardmaster McKee became ill and had to be assisted toward the portal. Switchman Blake carried Hawn to the engine, and though too weak to pick up McGrath or Gillies, who were evidently dead, yet he succeeded in starting the engine, and taking on McKee and the others made the portal successfully. He was the only conscious member of the crowd when the open air was reached. Medical aid was summoned, and after some hours the men recovered consciousness.

Superintendent Begg Dead.

Meanwhile at the American end A. S. Begg, superintendent of terminals, was trying unsuccessfully to get volunteers to work, and finally started in alone. George Morden, a Canadian, from Wyoming, came up and followed Begg, taking with him the pumpman at the American portal, George Mellon. When only a short distance in they were affected by gas, but heard Begg's voice and kept on. They found him dying on the track, and after carrying him a few feet had to drop him. Both the men fainted a short distance farther on. Begg, Morden and Mellon were taken out later by a party from the Port Huron tunnel station, but the superintendent was found to be dead.

The town is in a state of great excitement, and the outcome of the coroner's inquest this morning is looked for with deep interest, as it is felt that in view of several cases of suffocation in the tunnel the company should have taken steps long ago to remove the risk. In the past six years three men have died, half a dozen have been made unconscious, and many have had to cease employment on account of the gas.

Still Unconscious.

Those still unconscious are: Alexander Forbes, Sarnia, pumpman; Charles Fisher, Sarnia, conductor; Walter Hawn, Sarnia, brakeman; Fred. Forster, Port Huron, brakeman.

Boiler Explosion Kills Two.

Galt, Oct. 10.—A horrible accident took place near here Saturday by which Elgin Fisher, a boy of 16 years, and Jas. VanEvery loss their lives. They were working at the saw mill on Adam Davidson's farm in Beverly and 9.30, an hour after work had begun, for the day, the boiler exploded. Fisher, who was fireman, was instantly killed, the top of his head being blown off. VanEvery was measuring lumber close by, and was knocked below the saw and died from his injuries two hours later. George Bothwell, the sawyer, was standing only three feet from VanEvery at the time of the accident, and he escaped without a scratch. G. H. Raynard was knocked over a lumber pile, but was not seriously hurt.

The dome of the boiler, weighing 650 pounds, was carried 150 yards, and the mill was pretty much wrecked. The cause of the explosion is unknown.

Killed By a Train.

Ingersoll, Oct. 10.—William Boughen, aged 30, of Port Hope, a member of a Grand Trunk fence gang, was struck by passenger train No. 6 going west, opposite the rural cemetery Saturday morning, receiving injuries from which he died an hour later.

SHORT-CIRCUITED.

Three Killed and Eight Hurt in Prussian Ammunition Factory.

Sieburg, Prussia, Oct. 10.—Explosions occurred in an ammunition factory here Saturday, in which three persons were killed and eight others injured.

It is supposed the explosions were due to a short circuit in a wire in an electric loader.

In the room where the explosions occurred were 60,000 loaded shells and 100 men were at work in the apartment.

The detonations continued three hours.

Drowns At Virginia Beach.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 10.—Miss Bessie Wilson of Clarksburg, W. Va., niece of the late Postmaster-General, W. L. Wilson, was drowned while bathing at Virginia Beach yesterday afternoon. Her body was recovered.

C.P.R. Brakeman Injured.

Woodstock, Oct. 10.—Roy Dempsey of London, a brakeman, was seriously injured while coupling cars at the C.P.R. depot here at 7 o'clock yesterday morning. In some unaccountable manner his foot was caught and severely crushed. In addition, he received bruises.

Broke His Collar Bone.

Wallacetown, Oct. 10.—Messrs. Douglass and McGill, employes in the oil territory, were working on scaffold 18 feet high the other day, when the structure fell, precipitating them to the ground. Douglass sustained a compound fracture of the collar bone, and serious injury to his back. McGill escaped with a bruised arm and bad shaking up.

Athlete's Jump to Death.

Collingwood, Oct. 10.—Yesterday afternoon some young men who were going through the town park on coming to the southeast corner of the park started to jump the fence between them and the railway track. One of their number, named Oscar Thomas, a stone cutter, cleared the fence, and on landing on the other side, stumbled and fell on his face. As he did not move one of his companions turned him over and found he had ceased to breathe. A doctor was sent for as soon as possible, but could do nothing, as Thomas had died instantly. The young man was only 20 years of age and unmarried.

INTERESTING FACTS.

For Nearly Every Man, Woman or Child

A short time ago we published an article recommending to our readers the new discovery for the cure of Dyspepsia, called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and the claims then made regarding the wonderful curative properties of the remedy have been abundantly sustained by the facts. People who were cautious about trying new remedies advertised in the newspapers and were finally induced to give Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets a trial were surprised and delighted at the results. In many cases a single package costing but 50 cents at any drug store made a complete cure and in every instance the most beneficial results were reported. From a hundred or more received we have space to publish only a few of the latest, but assure our readers we receive so many commendatory letters that we shall publish each week a fresh list of genuine, unsolicited testimonials and never publish the same one twice.

From James Yemmeisler, La Crosse, Wis.: Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are doing me more good than anything I ever tried and I was so pleased at results that I gave away several boxes to my friends who have also had the same benefits.

From Jacob Anthony, Portmorray, New Jersey: I have taken Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets with the best results. I had Dyspepsia for six years and had taken a great deal of medicine, but the Tablets seem to take right a hold and I feel good. I am a farmer and lime burner and I heartily recommend to everyone who has any trouble with his stomach to use these Tablets.

From Mrs. M. K. West, Preston, Minn.: I have received surprisingly good effects from using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I gave one-half of my last box to a friend who also suffered from indigestion and she had the same good results.

From Mrs. Agnes K. Ralston, Cadillac, Mich.: I have been taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and I am very much better, and feel very grateful for the great benefit I have received in so short a time.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a certain cure for all forms of Indigestion. They are not claimed to be a cure-all, but are prepared for stomach troubles only, and physicians and druggists everywhere recommend them to all persons suffering from Nervous Dyspepsia, sour or acid stomach, heartburn, bloating or wind on stomach and similar disorders.

Rhodes Scholars Arrive.

London, Oct. 10.—The holders of Rhodes scholarships are now arriving at Oxford from the colonies and the United States, and settling down for work. Thirty-five students came by the Ivernia from Boston.

THE DEPUTY SUSPENDED.

Bartlett and a Special Auditor Going Over the Books.

Winnipeg, Oct. 10.—Melvin Bartlett, the self-confessed pilferer of Government funds, has acceded to the Attorney-General's proposal to furnish evidence to corroborate his charges against Mr. McKellar, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, and was taken to the Legislative Buildings, where he was closeted for several hours with a special auditor, going over the books in which the accounts relative to the sale of marriage licenses were kept. It is understood Bartlett has produced two missing books, and which were supposed to have been destroyed. The Minister of Agriculture has suspended Mr. McKellar, pending inquiry into Bartlett's charges.

Arrested in Brockville.

Brockville, Oct. 10.—Albert McNab was placed behind the bars, charged with committing thefts in Montreal. McNab's home is in Brockville, but he has been dodging back and forth between here and Montreal for some time past. A secondhand store in the latter place missed a number of watches, rings, etc., on Monday, the 3rd inst. He turned out to be the right man, for a portion of the missing goods was found on him. He told where the remainder had been pawned. In Cornwall and Montreal other charges will be placed against him.

Warns Australians.

London, Oct. 10.—(C. A. P.)—The Sydney Daily Telegraph, the Ministerial organ, warns Australians against Premier Balfour's conference. Even if it is the limited question of closer union the pooling of colonial policies with British is objectionable from every point of view. Australia cannot allow any entanglement with the Imperial Foreign Office. It concludes that it is extremely doubtful if any of the colonies desire a closer union.

Clarksburg Bank Burglarized.

Clarksburg, Oct. 10.—A daring burglary took place here at two o'clock yesterday morning. The vault and safe in C. W. Hartman's Bank and office was blown open by professionals who obtained less than $100 in money. A box containing some notes and drafts were taken, but as they are of no value to the burglars, and the firm have a complete list they will not be seriously inconvenienced. Nearly all are stamped and numbered.

Against a Conference.

London, Oct. 10.—(C. A. P.)—The Right Hon. H. Asquith, M. P., addressing his constituents on Saturday, said, regarding the proposed conference, that the summoning of such "seems to me to possess no advantage, but to be perfectly futile for its own immediate purpose and to be fraught with danger to our Imperial unity."

Big Fire At Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 10.—A large bakery building, owned by W. J. Boyd, was burned yesterday afternoon. The building was most complete and up-to-date, and the loss will be over $30,000; partially insured.

Lady Besant Dead.

London, Oct. 10.—Lady Besant, widow of Sir Walter Besant, the novelist, died Saturday at Manaton, Devonshire, from heart disease.

Killed By Insane Man.

Hamilton, Oct. 10.—At the asylum for the insane Saturday, George Lingwood, a patient who belongs to Guelph, killed James Martin, the head baker, by striking him on the head with an axe. The insane man had been helping in the bakery for a year past and was looked upon as being harmless. Martin has been in the asylum employ for the past 25 years.

EXIGENCY.

A VERY PRETTY SATURDAY WEDDING.

Miss E. Kelly Married to Mr. George Russell.

A pretty wedding took place on Saturday afternoon, at the residence of Mr. Charles Gunsolus, 20 Queen street, when Miss E. Kelly was married to Mr. George Russell, both bride and groom being residents of town. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. H. Hunt, of Trinity University, Toronto, in the unavoidable absence of Rev. J. C. Davidson.

The bride and groom are both popular young people, and their many friends will join in wishing them continued happiness. Only the immediate friends of the contracting parties were present at the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Russell will reside in town.

Drawing and Water Color Classes. Will be interested to know that the "Framery" now carries a good line of crayons, water colours, brushes and supplies. BORDEN AND KENDRY OPEN THE CAMPAIGN

SATURDAY NIGHT'S MASS MEETING.

Brock Street Rink Scene of Opening Meeting of Conservative Campaign—Mr. Borden Explains His Transcontinental Railway Scheme.

Borden versus Kendry---Flatly Contradictory Views on the Preference---Mr. Borden Approves, Mr. Kendry Denounces.

The Toronto News of August 29, 1904, publishes an interview with Mr. Jas. Kendry, M. P., in which this paragraph appeared:

"Mr. Kendry wished it distinctly understood that he was opposed to the preferential policy advanced by Mr. Chamberlain in every particular and said that as he understood it, the policy was briefly that the manufacturing should be done in England and that Canada should grow the wheat." . . . . Mr. Kendry said: "I am opposed to the preferential idea in every form."

Mr. R. L. Borden, the Conservative leader, in his address in the Brock Street Rink Saturday night said that the Conservatives "are in favour of the policy of obtaining a trade preference in England" and expressed his belief that "the consummation of such a policy would mean much for Canada in the upbuilding of its industrial life: The Conservative party stands for this policy," and he had offered to support a resolution to this effect if the Premier would introduce one in the House."

The Conservative mass meeting, addressed by Mr. Borden, the leader of His Majesty's Loyal Opposition, in the rink on Saturday evening, was held under inauspicious conditions. No doubt the dreary drizzle of rain that fell during the afternoon, and the dreary dullness of the leaden sky, not to speak of evident popular indifference, had a material, as well as moral effect, in regard to the attendance. At eight o'clock the incoming citizen saw the seating capacity of the rink about half occupied, and the Fifty-Seventh band seated under the canopy that covered the front part of the platform, and performing with their usual skill and finish, "Reminiscences of Scotland," quite in sympathy with the reminiscences of Scotland represented by the Scotch mist that outside oozed through the dull, heavy air. The rink was adorned with mottoes supposed to represent Conservative campaign cries, but many of them so much appropriate to the Liberal platform, that some might with propriety, be left in place for the gathering which will pack the rink on the occasion of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's visit, on October 20th. These mottoes were: "Home Market for our Farmers," "Canada for Canadians," "Protect Labour and Industry," "What we want, we'll Make," "Dont Let Ross Deliver the Goods," "Welcome to our Leader," "A Government owned Railway, not a Railway owned Government."

Mr. Borden on entering the rink, was given a cordial greeting, which was renewed when he took his place on the platform. Mr. T. E. Bradburn, president of the Conservative Association, occupied the chair, and upon the platform, besides Mr. Jas. Kendry, the unnominated Conservative candidate, Messrs. R. Fair, H. Waddell, T. F. Matthews, G. W. Bennett, Dr. Morrison, T. H. G. Denne, L. M. Hayes, Lieut.-Colonel Miller, Dr. Greer, R. E. Layfield, W. S. Robinson, Harry Phelan, A. P. Pousette, Dr. Shaw, Keene, and J. G. Sherry, Norwood, officials of the East Riding Conservative Association; J. A. Sexsmith, East Riding Conservative candidate; John Bell, and James Stevenson.

The chairman introduced Mr. Kendry, "who is to represent us for another term, who has accepted the nomination very reluctantly, and who is out to win."

Mr. Kendry was received with hearty applause. After a tribute to Mr. Borden Mr. Kendry said he was before them again. He had represented the riding for eight years, and he hoped to represent it again. His appeal to the ladies to do their share in putting him at the head of the poll, was received with cheers. In speaking of the Liberal fiscal policy, in spite of Laurier's claim that factories and industries were busy, there were, Mr. Kendry said, millions of capital going to waste from lack of protection. Nobody knew what the Liberal policy was; we were thriving to-day under the policy of the "grand old man." We had the woollen, cotton and iron industries suffering for want of a policy. We found Mr. Hall saying that he is in favour of protection, but he is not the Government. He could not do anything at Ottawa. "When Mr. Hall goes to Ottawa—he never will get there, for I am going."—(cheers) he would have to vote as he was told by the party. The Liberals had different policies; "we have one grand policy, the National Policy." Speaking of the prosperous industries of Peterborough, Mr. Kendry said that as Mayor of the town for several years, he and Mr. Stevenson had moulded the policy of the town of Peterborough. Peterborough was increasing, but not as fast as if we had a good policy. We had the best market, because we were a good manufacturing town. Mr Kendry expected the farmers to support him because the Conservatives had made a home market. He boldly defied anyone to say what the Liberals had done to build up the country. He had gone to Sir Wilfrid at Ottawa regarding the woollen trade —"they say I don't do anything at Ottawa, but Mr. Hall is not at Ottawa, nor the Examiner, either" — and Mr. Laurier told him that he didn't believe in high protection. Mr. Kendry gave a list of woollen mills employing, as he said, several hundred hands, that had closed down, yet they tell us that the country was never more prosperous. Mr. Kendry asserted that if the Liberals controlled our policy we would not have prosperity long. The cotton industry was paralyzed, and employees were going to the Eastern States. Mr. Kendry condemned the immigration policy of the government, which was spending between $60,000 and $700,000 bringing in all sorts of people, and "driving out people who had lived here all their life time," and employment was already pretty scarce. Laurier didn't know all about this, for "the Ministers do the work, and Laurier is the ornament." "Was it progress," Mr. Kendry asked, "to drive out our citizens? We are bringing too many people into this country."

MR. R. L. BORDEN

A voice—"Dagos!"

Mr. Kendry asserted that Mr. O'Connell had marched 144 Italians up to the court house to vote against him, but he would not be defeated by Italians and pluggers. He had always been elected squarely, and would be so again. Mr. Kendry returned to his charge against the Government in regard to immigration—"they bring people into the country. I want to say to the labourers of this town that the Government is spending $600,000 to bring people into this country." He would never vote for such a policy. He believed in having Canadian people only. With an appeal to the young men for support, since he was not able to run as fast as he used to, Mr. Kendry closed his speech with cheers.

Mr. Borden's Address.

Mr. Borden, as he rose to speak was greeted with applause from the audience lead by those on the platform, and was made the recipient of a bouquet of American Beauty Roses, the presentation being made by little Miss Pauline Hayes, daughter of Mr. L.M. Hayes, and he rewarded the little lady with the customary kiss.

Mr. Borden's voice was somewhat husky from the strain that it had been put to recently, and at the rear of the rink he was not heard as well as he would otherwise have been. The Conservative Leader did not arouse in his address of about ninety minutes' duration any particular enthusiasm, the only real burst of enthusiasm coming when he referred to Mr. Chamberlain, who, he said, had laid down the robes of office for a principle which he believed to be right. The mention of the English Statesman's name was greeted with cheers and applause, which showed that while Mr. Kendry may be "opposed to the preference idea in any form," the people of Peterborough do not entertain the same opposition to the apostle of Imperial preference and his policy.

BORDEN IS HOPEFUL.

The speaker, referring to the statement of Mr. Kendry that he would cover the ground, remarked that during the last three or four weeks he had been covering the ground pretty well, and that he would continue to do so until November 3rd, and on the evening of that day he hoped to receive a number of glad messages from all parts of the Dominion, and he also hoped that among those messages would be the glad tidings that Mr. James Kendry had been elected in West Peterborough for another term in Parliament. The speaker had known Mr. Kendry for eight years, and had sat in Parliament with him for nine sessions. They had both entered that blissful place in the elections of 1896, and since that time he had known the representative for West Peterborough intimately. It is true his voice had not been heard in Parliamentary debate as often as had his own, but whenever he did speak he was listened to with respect and attention, and he could recall one occasion when Mr. Kendry had delivered a speech on the trade of the country when his address had been heartily cheered by the members of the House.

West Peterborough, in the opinion of Mr. Borden, would make no mistake by returning Mr. Kendry to present the riding another term, and he hoped that when Parliament again assembled Mr. Kendry with himself and the other Conservative members would sit at the right, instead of at the left of the Speaker.

GOVERNMENT CRITICIZED.

Mr. Borden thought that he, and other Conservative speakers had a right to speak of the record of the Liberal party during the eight years that they had been in control of the affairs of the country, and criticise the things in which they, in his estimation, had failed to live up to their opportunities. He referred to the alleged broken pledges of the Government, but said that it would prove tiresome to quote them. They had promised economical government and purity in elections, but had given neither. In the year before the Liberals went into power the expenditure of the country was about $38,000,000, and the Liberals said this was too great, but in 1903 the expenditure was in the neighbourhood of $66,000,000, and for this year the estimates were about $78,000,000, and of this $15,000,000 was rushed through Parliament in the closing hours. This is a specimen of their economy.

APPOINTMENTS TO OFFICE.

He said that they promised us free trade as it was in England, and prohibition as it was in Maine, but instead of that they had given us free trade as it is in Maine, and prohibition as it is in England. Speaking of the Senate, Mr. Borden said that the Liberals had promised to reform it, or abolish it altogether, but instead of ending the Senate, they were more anxious to end in the Senate. They had condemned the Conservatives for appointing Members of Parliament to office, but in the eight years of their rule there had been twice as many appointments to office as there had been during the eighteen years of Conservative rule. He thought that while a number of the Liberal promises had not been carried out, it was really a good thing for the country, because some of them would not have been beneficial.

LIBERALS ANXIOUS TO PLEASE PEOPLE.

The Liberal party had not given free trade because they knew that public opinion was opposed to that policy, and because they did not want to do anything which would prevent them remaining in power.

The speaker thought that we were not likely to create high standards of morals in public life by overlooking the breach of promises made by political parties. He thought that the rank and file of the Liberal party was ashamed of the actions of some of its leaders. In the last eight years many startling revealations of fraud have been made, on behalf of the Liberals, but the perpetrators of these frauds have defied the leaders to prosecute them. The efforts of the machine have by no means been confined to Ontario, said Mr. Borden, but in St. James' Division, in Montreal the election was stolen from the Conservatives. The country is face to face with this issue at the present time. Mr. Ross says that his aid will be lent to Laurier in this contest. The Conservatives must, he said, look to it that by organization and vigilant work the votes are counted as they are cast.

ONLY GOOD MEN SHOULD GET OFFICE.

Referring to appointments Mr. Borden said that men must be appointed, and there must be some fair basis upon which such appointments can be made. Judges should be selected from the very best men, in the land, for the best men that were obtainable were but human, and as such were liable to render unjust

THE STORE THAT NEVER DISAPPOINTS

Most Important Hit We Ever Made.

Never before have we been so fortunate in securing the very latest styles in Women's and Children's Coats at this season. The problem of securing Coats is probably one of the most difficult of any of the American and Canadian merchant. Retailers in Canada have three ways before them—

1. Buy of Canadian Manufacturers.
2. Buy of Agents from Berlin who come for orders in May.
3. Go direct to Berlin and buy when latest styles originate.

The first is a good way if you could leave it till October to do your buying. The second plan is bad as agents in May show last year's styles. The third plan is the correct way.

This season, for instance, all early buyers are showing LAST YEAR'S SLEEVE AND CAPE EFFECTS which are DOWN AND OUT. There are two leading styles this season.

1. The Tourist, a three-quarter loose back model, with or without belt.
2. The 24 inch tight fitting tan and black Coats with leg-o'-mutton sleeves.

having a natty fullness at the top and tapering off gradually at the cuff.

SPLENDID RALLY AT LIBERAL ROOMS.

Most Enthusiastic Meeting at Mr. Hall's Committee Rooms on Saturday Evening.

Spacious Hall Well Filled—Stirring Addresses by Hon. J. R. Stratton, Mr. R. R. Hall, and Mr. F. D. Kerr.

The supporters of Mr. R. R. Hall were present in large numbers on Saturday evening at the Liberal Committee Rooms when a most enthusiastic meeting was held. As one speaker said "We have not quite as large a crowd as Borden has, but we have the consciousness that we are going to win, which is more than they have." Addresses in the interests of the Liberal Government and of Mr. Hall were delivered by Hon. J. R. Stratton and Mr. F. D. Kerr, while Mr. Hall also gave a stirring speech.

WOULD DO HIS LEVEL BEST.

Mr. J. J. Hartley, chairman made a few opening remarks. He had been made chairman of the campaign and was going to do his level best to have Mr. Hall elected. There were many reasons why he should be elected. In the first place, said Mr. Hartley, we have a leader and statesman in Sir Wilfrid Laurier, such as never lived in the Dominion of Canada before; a man to whom no one can point a finger of scorn or say that he ever committed an act unworthy of a gentleman. His colleagues were men of honour and ability. In the second place we have a good Government. There was a popular saying to "Keep both hands on the full dinner pail." The dinner pail was full for every man, for never in the history of the Dominion had such prosperity been enjoyed as at the present time and the people were wise when they were contented with good times. We have a Government which knows the needs of the people and knows how to promote prosperity. Besides a good leader and a good Government, we have a good candidate in Mr. Hall who was a live, energetic, active, hustling man and if sent to parliament would be sure to exert his influence and bring something to Peterborough which we have not had in the past 20 years. The town had got practically nothing so far and a change as far as the member was concerned was needed. Mr. Kendry as a man was all right but he had failed to accomplish anything. This would not be said of Mr. Hall when he would be elected, for, as was remarked recently concerning him, "They'll have to give him what he wants for he'll never cease until he gets it." We are in the fight to win and if the work continues as it has done in the past week, we will bear on the evening of No. 3rd, that Hall is the member, concluded the speaker.

CONSCIOUSNESS OF VICTORY.

Mr. F. D. Kerr was the next speaker. We are here to-night, he said, as supporters of the Laurier Government and of Mr. Hall and to advocate as our representative at Ottawa a man who will not only say but will do something. I have nothing to say against Mr. Kendry personally, he is a gentleman and one whom anyone might be pleased to meet, but as a representative of West Peterborough he has not been a success. A man said to me recently that Mr. Hall had done more for Peterborough in two months without being a member than Mr. Kendry has done in the eight years he has been a member. Mr. Kerr referred to the quantity of mud-slinging which had been going on, not only in Peterborough, but all through the province. The Conservatives had made up their minds that if by slinging mud and slurs they could steal into power, they would do so. We had a right to enthuse at the name of Laurier for of all Canada's great men he was the greatest; he held first place not only in Canada but across the ocean. Without disparaging Mr. Borden one iota, because it was not necessary to defame one leader to advocate another, he thought the people and the Liberal party would be failing in duty not to return Mr. Laurier to power. The general prosperity, trade returns, large immigration, were all very marked in the past eight years. All the Cabinet Ministers whether it be Hon. Mr. Fielding, as Financer; Hon. Mr. Mulock, as Postmaster General; Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick, Minister of Justice, or any other members of the Cabinet, had done their duty more than satisfactorily. When Mr. Mulock took charge of the post office department he found a deficit of $700,000, and last year's returns showed that this debt had been entirely wiped out and a surplus of $296,000 existed. In 1890 Canada wrote 116 million letters and to-day this amount was doubled as a result of the penny postage and the increased business activity.

Thanks to Mr. Hall, Mr. Mulock's attention has been drawn to the needs for improvements at the Peterborough post office with the result that in a short time we will have an up-to-date building in every way with greatly increased facilities. If we have not the crowd here that is attending the Borden meeting we have got the consciousness that we're going to win and that we are going to carry the Dominion as a whole and they have not got this consciousness at the other meeting. West Peterborough must assert her rights on Nov. 3rd.

THE PROVINCIAL SECRETARY'S ADDRESS.

Hon. J. R. Stratton spoke at some length, dealing with the advantages that would accrue to Peterborough by the election of a representative supporting the Government of the day, which nearly all, even those politically opposed to it, admitted would be in power for the next Parliamentary term. He was glad that Mr. Borden was speaking in Peterborough. No doubt many of the electors would avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing him. They would also also have an opportunity of hearing on October 20th, in the same place, the Premier of Canada, Rt. Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Mr. Borden was perhaps that moment dealing with his policy and that of his party. Sir Wilfrid would be here, not only to espouse his own cause, but also to give an account of his stewardship for the past eight years. He had this advantage of Mr. Borden, he could look back and point to a record of splendid achievement in the interests of Canada, to a period of eight years crowded and crowned with the greatest prosperity that had ever come to Canada in an unbroken period, and also point to a similar future by the application of his forward policy. Wherever Sir Wilfrid may go, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, the same scenes of prosperity, the same evidences of progress would meet his eye and cheer his heart. And in no place, perhaps, in the broad Dominion would be greater advancement in every direction than in Peterborough, where the most gratifying industrial activity prevailed, and where solid progress was going forward on all sides. The policy and administration that had helped to create these conditions, would be applied to continue them. It was therefore in the interests of Peterborough to see that the Liberal Government was returned to power, and the first practical step in this direction was the election of the Liberal candidate. He therefore urged the young men, the largest part of whose lives were before them, to take a broad outlook. The future of Canada meant much more to them personally, than to those more advanced in years, because they would be a part of it, and it very largely depended upon them and the governments they created what that future would be. He advised those who were not on the voters' list, to take advantage of the opportunity of registering their names, which would qualify them as electors. He hoped there would be no bitter personalities introduced by the Liberals into the present campaign. There were larger questions before the country, which would form sufficient subjects of discussion. He urged the young Liberals to study these questions, so that they could speak intelligently on them, and thus exercise an influence upon those who needed to be steered into the right political path.

THE CANDIDATE SPEAKS.

The announcement of the name of Mr. R. R. Hall, the Liberal candidate, was the signal for much applause. Mr Hall, who is already showing great development as a platform speaker, was in good fighting form, and made a splendid campaign speech. He began by stating that he thought his record as a citizen of West Peterborough was fairly well before them. He had resided in Peterborough for the past sixteen years, and during that time he had attended strictly to his own business, and had, he thought, been a persistent worker. He had not had time to interfere with other people's business by slandering them, or speaking unkindly of them, even if he were so inclined. He utterly displised this sort of thing, and he had always made it a special point not to say anything ill of anyone, no matter who it might be.

Turning to the matter of his connection with various industrial enterprises in Peterborough, Mr. Hall referred to the establishment of the Canadian Cordage Company, which he had organized with a paid up capital of over half a million dollars, and which gave employment to over 200 hands. The building material for the construction of the factory was purchased from Peterborough dealers, the machinery and equipment of the factory, was, so far as was possible, obtained in Peterborough, and the workmen who built the factory were the workmen of the town of Peterborough. The Otonabee Power Company, which saved the people of Peterborough $15,000 a year in the price of lighting, was organized by him, and the generators were purchased from the Canadian General Electric Company, and the water wheels from the William Hamilton Company. In fact in the outlay of all the industrial enterprises with which he had been identified, he had always made it a special point to see that the materials, machinery, etc., were purchased from Peterborough people were at all possible, and that the workmen were workmen of the town of Peterboroguh. In every way he had endeavoured to stand by the best interests of the town. Continuing further on this line, he referred to the establishment of the Colonial weaving Company in the north end of the town, and the fact that they were about to erect a substantial new factory.

Mr. Hall then turned to the matter of freight rates, which were an important factor in endeavoring to secure new industries for Peterborough. This was the greatest handicap that the town had to contend with, and the only remedy for the evil was the completion of the Trent Valley Canal. "It is true that the completion of the Trent Valley Canal has been talked of for the past forty years, but it is my intention," said the Liberal candidate amid much applause, "to have it opened at both ends, and completed, within the next five years, if it is at all within the range of possibilities." Referring to the prosecution of public works, etc., which might be expected through the efforts of an energetic supporter from West Riding of Peterborough, and which is now lacking through the want of proper and persistent representations being made at Ottawa—he pointed out that there should be, and he had no doubt would be, every effort made to properly conserve the waters of the lakes in the northern portion of Peterborough county by the building of dams at various points on the different streams. This would be of immense assistance towards the development of power and would, the speaker incidently pointed out, mean the expenditure of many thousands of dollars amongst the working men of the riding. But if our representative at Ottawa, no matter whether he is on the Government or Opposition side of the House is not in attendance, how is the Government to know of the wants and requirements of our riding.

MR. KENDRY'S RECORD.

Mr. Hall then took up Mr. Kendry's record and in doing so he referred his hearers to the pages of Hansard to show how active Mr. Kendry had been in the interests of his constituents in the House at Ottawa. How often did he speak in the House during the past eight years? Only a few times, indeed, and on what did he speak? The woollen industry. Mr. Kendry was quite within his rights when he spoke in regard to the woollen industry or in what manner the tariff might effect that industry, but did he show the same fervent zeal in behalf of the farming interests? Did he show the same fervent zeal in behalf of the tariff as it might effect the manufature of agricultural implements, the manufacture of sawmill and mining machinery or as it might effect the various other industries that are represented in Peterborough? Or did he raise his voice to assist in the early completion of the Trent Valley Canal, or even the improvement of facilities for steamboat traffic? Not one word. Mr. Kendry was as dumb as an oyster. How can he blame the Government if they overlook us when our wants are not made known to them? (Applause.) Mr. Hall assured his supporters that if he is elected to be their representative that if the Government did not give us all we wanted they would hear about it in no unmistakable manner. But since he had received the nomination of the Liberal party and had had occasion to go to Ottawa to press the claims of Peterborough for various matters upon the Government he must say that he had found them reasonable. When he pointed out to the Ministers that Peterborough was the centre of an important military district and that the young men of the town were possessed of an ardent martial spirit and made other similar arguments in favour of the erection of a new armouries, the Ministers said: "We think you have made out a good case, we think you have asked what is reasonable and you can have it." Mr. Hall declared that it was the same way in regard to the Trent Valley Canal. Some people look on it as a ditch, some of the members of parliament do not appreciate its importance as a means of transportation, and unless we have some one from Peterborough to advocate on the floor of the House the completion of the Trent Valley Canal, it will remain for some time in its comparative incomplete state. Mr. Hall when speaking on the same subject reminded the electors of the fact that Mr. Robert Stuart of the American Cereal Company, was anxious to see him elected as the member for West Peterborough in order that the commercial importance of the Trent Valley Canal might be more firmly pressed before the Government and result in its early completion. Then Mr. Hall turned his attention to the party aspect of the situation and pointed out that the people of Peterborough should not be blinded by partyism but they should vote for the man whom they thought could best serve them. The Liberal candidate closed with a stirring reference to the record of the Laurier Administration.

THE BORDEN-KENDRY MEETING

The opening meeting of the campaign addressed by Mr. Borden in the Rink on Saturday night, had many distinctive features, which differentiated it from similar gatherings in the good old days. The attendance, enthusiasm, and swing, that characterized all the circumstances of the reception of the leader of to-day, were but as a rushlight to sunlight, compared to other days and occasions. When Sir John or Sir Charles Tupper came to town we all remember how the boys whooped her up, how they made the rafters ring, and the very streets howl with enthusiasm. In those days the platform would be crowded with stalwarts, so there wouldn't be room left to accommodate a brass band of forty players. Times have changed since, and the leader whom Colonel Miller conjured "up from the sea," did not get the reception that the leaders did in the old days. Mr. Borden is a good speaker. He has a pleasant platform presence, but he hasn't the magnetic enthusiasm, compelling charm of manner, and oratory, possessed by Sir John in his palmy days, or by Sir Wilfrid to-day. Being a lawyer, he is more lawyer than leader. In his speeches he does a vast deal of special pleading, and has the "jury droop" in his ad captandum appeals. He does not sometimes permit facts to stand in the way of his making a telling appeal to the popular jury. One can't say that Mr. Borden is tecnically untruthful, but he is a great story-teller. Last Saturday night he told ten stories to illustrate his points. He told good stories and he told them well. Sir Wilfrid may indulge in some stories when he comes here but they will be of a different sort. Mr. Borden's stories with one or two exceptions had an Irishman as the butt of the joke. One joke was on the lawyers and Mr. Borden apologized to the profession. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's stories will consist of stories added to factories under his regime. He will tell some tall stories—of tall chimneys that were silent in 1896, now belching forth the smoke of industry, of thousands of new tall chimneys that have arisen in the new Canada since he was the ruler of its destinies. He will tell the story of a thriving past, of a hustling present and a hopeful future.

Mr. Borden's speech will deserve more ample consideration than it is practicable to devote to it to-day. It will furnish topics for discussion in the interval between now and Sir Wilfrid Laurier's great speech in the Brock street rink on Oct. 20th.

THE BLACK CALF BORN

OLD LEGEND AFFECTING FERRERS FAMILY IS FULFILLED.

Noted White Castle of Chartley—In 1272 Disaster Followed the Appearance of Black Offspring and Will Now Be Repeated—The Estate Is for Sale and Will Probably Pass From the Ferrers Family Forever.

The name of Ferrers is among the very oldest in English records, and this, if for no other reason, gives exceptional interest to the approaching sale of the Staffordshire estate of Chartley, which has now for centuries descended with the blood of the Ferrers family.

At the Conquest William helped himself bountifully to the acres of Staffordshire, as of the other counties, but divided the considerable residue among five of his prime lords of whom Henry de Ferrers was one. Moors and fertile valleys, hills and deer forests were included in the Ferrers estates, which reached at one time from Tatbury on the Dove to Newcastle in the Potteries. Chartley, in the first allotment, went to the Earl of Chester, who, with that potent and brave viceroy Roger de Montgomery, pretty well shared between them all the northern half of the Welsh borders, but early in Plantegenet times it was joined to the lands of the Ferrers, then ennobled as Earls of Derby. Chartley Castle was already built, and its new lords began to make history. They did this seriously to their cost by supporting Simon de Montfort in his rebellion, which led to the imposition by Henry III. of the stupendous fine of £50,000 on the then head of the family. The fine was a gift to the King's son Edmund, and in spite of supplication for mercy and the patriotic donation from the Earl to the King of "a gold vase set with precious stones," payment was enforced. The most Prince Edmund did was to release the Earl from "the higher tower of Wallingford," where he was imprisoned, and set him on a black palfrey to carry him back to the poor brace of manors which alone remained to him after the liquidation of his enormous penalty.

By and by male heirs failed the family, and a Devereux possessed Chartley through his wife. The Devereux were made Earls of Essex which brings us to that fascinating madcap Robert, who so fatally abused his power with Queen Elizabeth. In his time Mary Queen of Scots suffered at Chartley one of her many spells of imprisonment in English houses, and, as report tells us, "made a bed" there; that is to say, embroidered a bed-cover. She was not confined in the castle, which was then as now a mere ruin on a mound, but in the mansion house near to it; and a depressing sojourn it must have been for her, if one may assume that the present thicket of sombre yews, firs, and hollies about the building is an inheritance in kind from the sixteenth century. Save for its memories, the house is not interesting. Just a solid, sober, mellowed old English home such as our fox-hunting ancestors were content to sleep and drink in after their outside pleasuring. But behind it stretch the hundreds of acres of rolling moor which still stands for the "mighty large parks" of Leland's day—the burrow of many a rabbit and the haunt of the decayed remnant of that herd of white cattle which have for centuries made Chartley as famous as Chillingham in the north. Little need be said about the later fortunes and misfortunes of the family. By marriage Chartley passed to the Shirleys, who were oppressed by Cromwell as Royalists, and later rewarded by Charles II. with the revival of the Ferrers barony. The Earl Ferrers of Queen Anne's time had fifteen sons and twelve daughters, which tended to impoverishment. His grandson, the notorious Laurence Earl Ferrers, of the Newgate Calendar, left a sad blot on the name in that murder of his steward (at Stanton, in Leicestershire) which brought him to Tyburn in 1760, attired in white satin and silver, and riding in a landau drawn by six horses. Horace Walpole's description of the execution is one of the best things in his "Letters:" and it is worth remembering that here for the first time in England a sinking platform was used, devised by the family that their kinsman might not swing off from a cart like a plebeian culprit." The drop of eight-seen inches given by this device was not enough, however, and four minutes elapsed before the death.

Of the wild cattle of Chartley scarcely more than a dozen survive, and these, to be seen, must be approached (especially for photographic purposes) somewhat carefully under guidance of the Chartley gamekeeper. Inbreeding seems to have played havoc with them, and it is to combat the effects of their sterility that the bold step has been taken of introducing a black bull into the pure white herd. Later, of course, the color will be fined back to the original white, but that will be a work of time. Meanwhile one wonders what the mediaeval lords of Chartley would say if they could see the black calves now encouraged on the estate, for such a birth in the herd was considered an omen of the darkest kind, importing immediate death or disaster in the family. The legend began to be respected in 1322, after the battle of Burton Bridge between Edward II. and his revolted barons with a Ferrers among them. A black calf being born that year at Chartley and the second downfall of the house ensuing this was imputed to the black quadruped (which was instantly killed) rather than to the Earl's impolitic patriotism. The few superstitious souls who remain in Chartley's thinly-peopled neighborhood may be trusted to make the most of the present Earl's Ferrers' contempt for the legend. Black calves have been deliberately bred from the white cattle and the Chartley estates are to pass, probably forever, from the Ferrers family at public auction.

INSURING THEIR CHILDREN.

How London's Poor Hope to Profit by Their Loss.

"I believe 95 per cent. of the children here are insured," said the headmaster of a school in one of the poorest East End districts in London.

"But how can the parents of those children afford insurance premiums?" he was asked—several ill-fed, half-clothed and bare-footed little ones being indicated.

Calling one of the children to him, the master asked, "Tommy, when does the 'insurance man' call?"

"Every Saturday, sir," said the boy, "and mother pays him 1s. 5d. a week. Billy was ill a little while ago, and mother paid up 10s. 7d. as soon as the doctor went."

"There is great ignorance among these people as to the amount they will receive in case the child dies," continued the schoolmaster. "'Oh! we leave that to the insurance man,' they say when asked about the amount.

"In every case that I have had to bring to the notice of the National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children the children were insured. It is always passive cruelty with these £5 and £10 children—the cruelty of neglect.

"Nearly all my 'hoppers' are insured. Hundreds of infants under six months are at present with their mothers in Kent. Several women with babies in their arms have called here with reference to their other children doing 'hopping.'

"In many cases the only protection these babies will get against wet weather will be a condemned army tent. But then, they are insured.

"Thrift? Oh, dear no!" he continued, when asked to account for the popularity of child insurance among the very poorest. "The only thrift these people know is the saving-up in the school penny bank for a 'beano.' This insurance is not thrift. It is effected in the hope of getting a big return for a small outlay. This hope is often realized."

Reciprocity With Canada.

Boston, Oct. 8.—The Massachusetts Republicans yesterday adopted this platform: "We believe that still further measures should be taken toward negotiating reciprocity treaties with foreign countries, and especially with Canada and Newfoundland upon such terms and conditions as will secure an enlargement of our foreign trade for the common benefit of our people, wherever reciprocal arrangements can be effected consistently with the principles of protection, and without injury to American industries, or when, as President Roosevelt said in his message of 1902, "the minimum damage done may be disregarded for the sake of the maximum of good accomplished." In the language of the President's letter of acceptance, "we are on record as favoring arrangements for reciprocal trade relations with other countries, these arrangements to be on an equitable basis of benefit to both of the contracting parties."

Keeper of King's Conscience.

The Earl of Halsbury has recently entered on his 80th year. Of his 79 years, 15 years and 10 months have been spent as the keeper of his sovereign's conscience. During these 15 years and 10 months he has drawn as salary £158,000. When he was in the shades of opposition for 2 years 10½ months, he drew as pension £14,000. From 1875-80 he was solicitor-general, and drew in salary and fees (at what is a moderate estimate) £40,000 more. His Lordship has thus received for service to the state something like £212,000. When on the South Wales circuit he used to be described as a Welshman by extraction, on account of the huge fees he used to draw.

ABOUT THAT COAT

You wear a coat. Why? To keep the cold out? No; to keep the warmth in. What of the body that has no warmth—the thin, poor body that lacks the healthy flesh and fat it needs?

For such we say that Scott's Emulsion provides the right kind of a coat. Why? Because Scott's Emulsion builds firm, solid flesh and supplies just enough fat to fill nature's requirements—no more. That means bodily warmth.

THE ELECTRIC WIRES.

Acted As Lightning Conductor When Bolt Struck Factory.

Listowel, Oct. 10.—During a heavy electrical storm which passed over here Saturday afternoon, the factory of the Morris Piano Company was struck by lightning, a hole about 8 feet square being torn in the roof.

The electric wires are said to have been a great help in saving the building from destruction. The lightning, however, running along the wires, burned the dynamo badly. A flame which made its appearance was quickly extinguished by the men. Mr. Robert Wakeford, an employe, was thrown a distance of about 10 feet. No one was badly injured.

A Dominion Investigation.

Victoria, B.C., Oct. 10.—An investigation is to be held by the Dominion Government into the reason for the loss of two anchors and chain cable, valued at $5,000, from the Dominion Government steamer Quadra, through, it is alleged, sheer carelessness, also the reasons for the summary dismissal of Chief Officer Barnes of the same steamer, after 17 years' service, on the ground that he had ventured to protest against the unseamanlike conduct of the Quadra's commander recently, when the ship was taking President Hays and party of the Grand Trunk Railway from Vancouver to Port Simpson. The second officer, Mr. Pope, who was promoted to Barnes' place, was hooted and hissed off the ship when he came aboard in the capacity of chief officer, and had to hurry ashore to escape the attack of the Quadra's crew.

Dowager Empress III.

IF I CAN LIVE.

If I can live
To make some pale face brighter, and to give
A second luster to some tear-dimmed eye,
Or o'er impart
One throb of comfort to an aching heart,
Or cheer some wayworn soul in passing by;

If I can lend
A strong hand to the fallen, or defend
The right against a single envious strain,
My life, though bare,
Perhaps of much that seemeth dear and fair
To me on earth, will not have been in vain.

The purest joy,
Most near to heaven, far from earth's alloy,
Is bidding clouds give way to sun and shine,
And 'twill be well
If on that day of days the angels tell
Of me: "She did her best for one of thine."

—Helen Hunt Jackson.

England's Underfed Children.

In every big town the children of the slums habitually go to school improperly fed. Many of them are not only improperly fed, but the food they do get is far too little in quantity. In the hard winter season, when the building trades are idle, many again go to school either with no food at all or having only stayed their hunger in the morning with a crust of dry bread. In sharp, frosty weather it is a common experience for teachers in the elementary schools of the poorer parts of our great towns—I have often seen it—to find children suddenly seized with vomiting. This is not so much caused by the fact that the stomach is upset as that it has revolted against the effect of the cold upon its empty condition. And not only is this state of things true of the poorer parts of the big towns. It is also true of many of the agricultural villages. Let a visitor to a village elementary school look closely at the children. They are in many cases flabby and pale. They need more nourishing food. A breakfast of "teakettle broth," a bit of bread and treacle and some abominably poor tea—these form the three meals daily.—Dr. T. J. McNamara, M. P., in Nineteenth Century.

Athletes and Consumption.

There must be no exercise as exercise for the consumptive patient. If you are able and feel like it, amuse yourself, but don't take exercise to build your system up. I know. I, too, have heard those stories about men given up to die who began work in a gymnasium and by violent exercise entirely recovered their health. When the lung tissue is attacked by tuberculosis it heals, if it heals at all, by fibrous scar material filling in the cavity. No new lung tissue is formed to replace what has been lost, and this scar material is useless for breathing. Suppose you had a deep cut in your hand and you kept working that hand violently, how long do you think it would take the cut to heal? When exercise is taken or you "expand the lungs" you have to work the lung tissue just as you work your hand, and if it is wounded there will be a much larger proportion of scar material useless for breathing when it does get well.—Everybody's Magazine.

To Enliven the Liver

AID DIGESTION AND REGULATE THE ACTIION OF THE BOWELS YOU MUST USE

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills

THE GREAT SPECIFIC FOR LIVER AND KIDNEY DISEASES.

It is the liver that is largely responsible for indigestion and constipation — derangements that are a constant source of trouble.

The bile, which, when left in the blood, is a poison to the system, causing billiousness, head ache and muddy complexion, becomes of priceless value when passed into the intestines to aid digestion and ensure regular action of the bowels.

The healthy liver separates bile from the blood and sends it into the intestines.

IF YOU FIND YOUR LIVER SLUGGISH AND TORPID IN ACTION, DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS WILL BRING RELIEF AND CURE MORE PROMPTLY THAN ANY TREATMENT YOU COULD FIND.

By enlivening the action of the liver they remove the cause of billiousness, headache, indigestion, constipation and other accompanying symptoms.

This specific action of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills on the liver is what makes them of so great worth as a family medicine and ensures them a lasting place in the home.

MR. ROGERS CLANCY, farmer, Chepstowe, Bruce County, Ont., writes: "I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and would say there is no medicine that equals them as a cure for stomach troubles, billiousness, torpid liver and headache. I was troubled a great deal with these ailments before using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and they have proved wonderfully successful in my case."

One pill a dose at bedtime and Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will ensure healthful, regular action of the kidneys, liver and bowels; 25 cents a box at all druggists, or Edmanson, EBates, & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box. 2

FARTHING CAR FARES.

Children in Douglas, in the Isle of Man, to Be Sold Twelve Tickets for Six Cents.

From the little, but up-to-date capital of the Isle of Man, Douglas, comes the announcement, says The Daily Telegraph, that the town council, following the example set by Blackpool, have made arrangements whereby children attending elementary schools within the boro will be allowed to travel by the corporation tramways at reduced rates. The idea, in short, is that coupons shall be issued at threepence per dozen, or a farthing each, for the benefit of youngsters who reside at a distance from their school, the coupons being available between the hours of eight and nine in the morning, twelve and two in the afternoon and four and five in the evening. Dwellers in the metropolis, who like to feel that the capital of the Empire is well abreast of the times, will naturally inquire whether the London County Council has ever considered the practicability of such a scheme. The answer is in the affirmative. Quite recently the highways committee, who are entrusted with the control of our tramways by the authorities at Spring Gardens, took the matter up, but came to the conclusion that the advantages to be derived would not be commensurate with the cost entailed. As this was done without any reference from the council itself, it was not made the subject of a formal report. School children, however, have not been lost sight of in connection with tramways belonging to the London County Council, for on the occasion of picnics and treats in the summer the managers have authority to convey parties of not less than 50 at cheap rates. This is the only arrangement which bears any resemblance to the experiment now about to be tried at Douglas.

What is a matter of perfect simplicity at the Manx capital becomes, of course, a really vast and complex problem in the metropolis. As the normal population of Douglas is 20,000, the children attending elementary schools presumably do not exceed three thousand, and only a small proportion of these live at a distance. London, on the other hand, contains over six millions of inhabitants, including, according to the latest returns, 894,885 youngsters of school age. Again, the tramways within the confines of Douglas are limited in extent, the corporation having lately acquired them at an outlay of £52,000. In regard to municipal tramways, the metropolis is not yet up to the level of the more prominent cities in the provinces, for it possesses only one mile to every 30,000 people, whereas Manchester has one to every 5,000, Sheffield one to 7,300, Liverpool one to 8,400, Leeds one to 9,500 and Birmingham and Glasgow one to 11,900. Of the 115 miles of tramways now constructed in London, the county council owns 88 miles. The 48 miles north of the Thames have been leased to a body controlled by the British Electric Traction Co., but the 40 miles south of the river are worked by the council themselves, about 22 miles having been reconstructed to electrical traction. Several extensions have received the sanction of Parliament, and practically the council will have acquired all the lines in the County of London by the end of the present year, the only exceptions being four miles belonging to the London-United Tramways Co. and the Harrow road and Paddington lines, two miles in length, the lease of which expires in 1907. Altogether the London County Council have made a capital expenditure of £2,382,910 upon their tramway undertakings, the debt still outstanding being £2,173,890. Last year the cars ran 10,110,040 miles, and conveyed 109,616,496 passengers.

LADY PREACHER.

The first woman to become a fully qualified minister of an English church held her first services at Leicester on the 23rd September with a success which may lead other congregations to follow this interesting example.

Miss Gerud von Petzold, who has undertaken the duties of the ministry of the Unitarian Free Christian Church at Narborough road, Leicester, officiated at the morning and evening services as the appointed preacher. She had previously given three trial sermons, and the congregation were unanimous in inviting her to take the place of the Rev. W. Whitaker, who recently resigned.

Pale, but composed, the young lady faced the large congregations, and conducted the services in an earnest, impressive and graceful manner.

She possesses a pleasing and well modulated voice. The sermons were read, but the delivery was good.

Leaning with clasped hands on the desk on which her manuscript was placed, she kept her eyes mainly fixed on the congregation. She has a German accent, not strongly marked, and the quaint articulation of some of the words was rather attractive than otherwise.

Her language was simple enough to be understood even by the children. At the morning service she preached from the text: "But if thou shalt seek the Lord thy God thou shalt find him, if thou search after him with all thy heart and thy soul."

"Look at the world around you," she said. "Look at the men and women selling their souls for pleasure, for money, ever ready to take advantage of one another, to make the best of a worldly bargain, in their spare moments giving themselves up to their passions, degrading themselves body and soul."

The lessons of the Bible learned in childhood should, she urged, be carried into the lives of men and women.

Her addresses were followed with close attention, and leading members of the congregation afterwards expressed approval of the manner in which the services had been conducted.

Miss Petzold was born twenty-eight years ago in West Prussia, and has been in England about six years. She soon obtained a complete mastery of the language, and graduated M.A. at Edinburgh University in 1900.

Afterwards she underwent a three years' course of ministerial studies at Manchester College, Oxford, which is connected with the Unitarian body.

A Friend to Woman.

The late Nellie Farren, when she visited America with the London Gaiety Company, danced before a well known New York club.

At the end of the dance, during an informal supper, some one began to talk about the new woman, a burning topic at that time.

"Do the English believe in woman's emancipation?" a lawyer said to Miss Farren. "Do they believe in opening the same fields to women as to men and in paying them at the same rate?"

"Oh, yes," said the little actress, "Even the English tramps believe all that. A tramp asked a countrywoman of mine one day for assistance, and she said to the man sternly:

"'Why don't you go to work?'

"'Madam,' said the tramp, 'twenty years ago I made a vow not to do another stroke of work till women were paid the same wages as men.'"
—New York Tribune.

Offered King Edward Her Pipe.

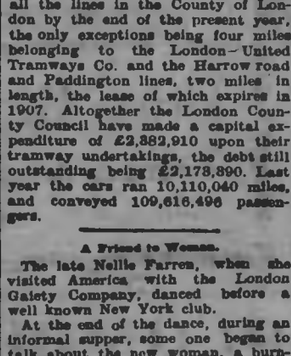
It is said that King Edward tells with great glee that when in the west of Ireland last year he one day went into a cabin whose occupant was an old woman who sat by the turf fire smoking an old clay pipe. The old lady welcomed the King and, asking him to sit down, wiped a three legged stool with her apron. The King did so and said:

"Do you know who I am, ma'am?"

"Begorra, I don't," was the reply.

"Well, I am the King of England."

"D'ye tell me so!" said the old lady in a tone of surprise, and then, remembering the rights of hospitality, she took the pipe out of her mouth, wiped the shank with her hand and, passing it to the King, said, "Will yer honor shmoke?"



When the life of Mrs. Ruff was hanging in the balance she used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and was restored to health. Her experience made her the firm friend of the medicine that cured her.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has no equal in its cure of womanly diseases. It establishes regularity, dries the drains that weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"Five years ago when my life was hanging in the balance, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was brought to my house," writes Miss Caroline Ruff, Director of German Orphan's Home, residing at 48 Kaiser Strasse, Buffalo, N. Y. "I took all that [illegible] Favorite Prescription [illegible] Pierce's Pellets [illegible] Golden Medical Discovery decisions. He spoke of the late Sir John MacDonald and said that when making upon it mists he did not hesitate to go outside of his party for a man, if there was no one among the Conservatives who could fill the position to his satisfaction.

Mr. Borden then went into the transportation question, to which he devoted the greater part of the time occupied by his speech.

TRANSPORTATION QUESTION.

He said that no one recognized more than he, the great importance to a country, of the transportation problem, and the Conservatives were ready to fight the battles of transportation. The Grand Trunk Railway problem was one of a complex nature, but instead of consulting with the Minister of Railways and Canals, the Premier had himself entered into negotiations with the promoters of the railway, men who are thoroughly familiar with the question, and therefore are able to drive a good bargain for themselves.

Going into details respecting the railway contract, the line was to run in part through an area of which little was known, and would be operated by a corporation having one terminal in Chicago and another at Portland, both in the United States. He had not one word to say against the Grand Trunk Railway Company, as they were bound to make the best bargain they could. So were the Government trustees for the people of Canada—and he was bound to say that $150,000,000 cash and credit supplied by this country should not be applied in a way to develop American commerce and upbuild American ports.

COST OF G. T. P. RAILWAY.

As Mr. Blair had last year estimated the country's direct and indirect liabilities at $139,000,000, and as $11,000,000, had been added by the additional guarantee through the west, he claimed that his figures and those of Mr. Blair agreed. Mr. Borden reiterated his view, quoting from Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson, that the Grand Trunk was liable for only $14,500,000, and that the country was supplying nine-tenths of the cash and credit, and the G.T.R. one-tenth, while the latter got $25,000,000 of the common stock, controlled the line and got all profits. "It has been said," he added, "that I have not taken into consideration the liability of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company. I say that the bonds of this country can be floated in the British market without the attached liability of the G.T.P. at as low a rate and on as advantageous terms as if the liability of that company were attached to those bonds." By treating a subsidiary company, Mr. Borden went on, the G. T. R. evaded the the responsibilities of the contract.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP.

Mr. Borden speaking of public ownership of the railway said:—

"I will ask any Liberal in this hall to answer this question now: it it is good policy for us, the people of Canada, to build that part of the road which runs through the unknown and undeveloped country, which is regarded as a property that will not be payable in the immediate future, why, is it not good for us to build the line through that splendid empire of ours in the northwest of Canada?" Sir Wilfrid had declared that he was not in favour of Government operation, yet his Government had extended the Intercolonial from Quebec to Montreal at an expense in the end of between fifteen and twenty millions, and had attached the Canada Eastern, with a mileage of 136 miles. Why, if these railways could be acquired and absorbed into the Government system of railways, could they not have in Ontario a line of Government railway extending from Montreal to Georgian Bay?

COUNTRY SHOULD CONTROL ROAD.

"What were they going to do with the Intercolonial, in which the Government of this country had invested $70,000,000? Another $80,000,000 had been spent in developing the great system of inland waterways. Both had been absolutely ignored by the Government in the proposal they now placed before the people. The Intercolonial was unprofitable and badly managed, but why could it not be freed from political interference and party politics? The Conservative party if returned to power, would at least make the experiment. In Australia and New Zealand Government railways had been made a success. The policy of the Conservative party was, that as the people were contributing to this enterprise in cash and in credit $150,000,000, as they were providing nine-tenths of the capital for the building of the road, and not participating in the profits or controlling the rates, and as the railway would be under the control of a great corporation, having its interests in the United States, it would be better for the people of Canada to go one step further and provide ten-tenths. They had proposed to the Government that before this deal, entailing such an enormous expenditure, was put through it should be submitted to the vote of the electorate, and when that proposal had been voted down they had intimated their intention, if returned to power, as would show that the people of this country were not less than any corporation, in this country, however great. This was the issue before the electorate.

TRAFFIC ARRANGEMENTS.

Mr. Borden said that the present traffic arrangements made between the G.T.R. and the Intercolonial, were not being carried out by the former, and the latter road could not get the western traffic at Montreal, as the other roads had their own outlets to the seaboard. He contended that the Government had ignored the Intercolonial in its agreement with the Grand Trunk Pacific.

THE TRENT CANAL'S COMPLETION.

The speaker then went on to speak of a matter which interests the people of this district vitally, namely, that of the Trent Waterway. He said that Canada had the most magnificent system of inland waterways of any country on earth, and these should be developed. Let us not forget that the State of New York was ready to spend $100,000,000 on the improvement of the Erie Canal, and by this expenditure they hope to compete not only with the railways of that country, but they also hope to successfully compete with the Canadian transportation facilities.

He thought, in view of this fact, the Trent Valley Canal should be pushed to an early completion. He admitted that he did not understand the situation as fully as those who had made a study of it, but he said that he was impressed with its importance by the arguments urged upon him by Mr. Kendry and the other gentlemen since he came to Peterborough. In the great North West there are immense quantities of wheat, and this quantity is ever increasing, and he thought that the milling business throughout Canada, and in Peterborough, should be developed. This is the Conservative policy: that the raw material should be manufactured at home in order that Canadian labour may be given employment.

BOTH PARTIES COMMITTED.

Both parties, he said, were committed to the Trent Canal, but in years gone by, when the Liberals were in opposition, and the Conservatives were working at the canal, they said it was only a ditch, but evidently they had changed their minds, for there was now some expenditure being made, and he personally saw no reason why the work should not be proceeded with.

THE FISCAL POLICY.

The Conservative orator then proceeded to deal with the fiscal policy of the Government, and said that Sir Wilfrid Laurier had declared that he was neither a free trader nor a protectionist, but a practical man. The policy of the Liberal Government he said, since 1897, had never been disclosed, except in ambiguous terms. He defied any Liberal present to define the Liberal fiscal policy, for no matter what he might say that it was he would undertake to contradict him from the words of his leaders. These gentlemen were to-day coqueting with the manufacturers, as they had been coquetting for several years, and their very last cry had been the promise of a revision of the tariff. But what was their attitude in the Northwest? He held in his hand a specimen of the Liberal campaign literature that was being circulated in the North-west. This leaflet read: "The Liberal policy is directly opposed to the policy of protection. The Conservative papers and politicians recognize this and vilify Messrs. Sifton, Fielding and Fisher, and other Ministers who have prominently championed the consumers. No matter what individuals may say, the two parties stand distinctly divided on the tariff." If that were the issue the Conservatives were content to accept it, for in the east and in the west, in farming and in manufacturing constituencies, they proclaimed but one policy — a policy of such adequate protection as will give the Canadian market to the Canadian people. The Liberal organs were now saying that the term "adequate protection" was not definite enough. That used to be said in the House of Commons until they discovered in Government documents, in the speech from the throne, the use of the word "adequate" exactly as they were using it, and he had further called Mr. Fielding's attention to one case in which that gentleman years ago had said that the duties upon coal in the province of Nova Scotia, "did not afford any adequate protection." The Conservative policy was that "such adequate protection shall be given as will give our home markets to our people in this country." Canada now paid $100,000,000 yearly to the United States for manufactured goods that should be made in this country. The Liberal party was trying to retain its relationship to the free trade party and the protectionist party, but there was such a thing as coming to the ground between two stools.

COMMENDS TRADE PREFERENCE.

Mr. Borden, continuing, said that the Conservatives were in favour of the policy of obtaining a trade preference in England, and expressed his belief that Mr. Chamberlain, who, he said, had been willing to give up office to fight for a principle, would yet be successful, and as an evidence of the belief held in the States that an Imperial preference would yet be put in force within the British Empire, he cited the fact that the head of one of the great United States industrial concerns, which is now looking over Canada for a location for the establishment of a Canadian branch of their works, had said that his concern was coming to Canada because they had been watching the trend of events and believed that the time would soon come when the Canadians would be given a preference in the English markets, and they were preparing for it.

Why should we not have a system of mutual preference, asked Mr. Borden; if we are to strengthen the ties that bind us to the empire, we must have reciprocal trade arrangements.

TREATY WITH OUR OWN KITH AND KIN.

"I support the position that it is better to have a treaty with men of our own kith and kin than with those of other countries," declared Mr. Borden. The consummation of this policy would mean much for Canada in the building up of its industrial life. The Conservative party stands for this policy, and Mr. Borden said he offered to support a resolution to this effect if Laurier would bring it before the House, before the Colonial conference held in England in 1902. For two sessions Parliament had been silent on this question, the Conservatives feeling it would be a detriment to the cause were they to introduce resolutions favouring the policy, and have them voted down, as they would be by the House.

He referred briefly to the Dundonald incident, and condemned partisanship in the militia.

THE LEADER IS SANGUINE.

In concluding his address Mr. Borden said the Liberal leaders had departed from the traditions of the Liberals of the old days, and appealed to right-thinking men of all parties to support the Conservative candidates, and said that unless he read the signs of the times wrong, on the third of November the Conservatives would again be returned to power.

At the conclusion of the speech, Lt.-Colonel Miller introduced a short resolution expressing confidence in Mr. Borden, which was supported in the usual way, and after the customary cheers for the King, the leader, the candidate and the chairman, the meeting closed.

PETERBORO II 17 T.S.C. OF PORT HOPE 17

Saturday's Rugby Match Resulted in a Tie.

A Very Interesting Contest—Locals Ahead at Half-time—Teams Well Matched.

Trinity College School, of Port Hope, were strong finishers in Saturday's game with the Peterborough II. team at the Driving Park and managed to tie the score a few minutes before time elapsed. It looked like a victory for Peterborough during most of the game but the visitors showed the better form in the second half and nullified the lead which the locals secured in the initial period. The score was 17-17. The first half was played under the new and certainly the better style of rules, and the homesters got a lead of 11-5. The second half was played under the old scrimmage rules, now in force in the Intercollegiate and Quebec Unions, and as the visitors were more at home in this style of play they outscored the Peterboros. The advantage of the new rules was clearly demonstrated in the game, the first half being much more open and interesting to witness.

The teams were very evenly matched, though the locals had a slight advantage in weight. The play was very interesting, there being frequent spectacular runs and some good punting, while the tackling at times was superb. Some of the local men, however, had a tendency to tackle too high, grabbing their opponent where the collar rests and invariably the attempt to down him was a failure. "Tackle low" is the motto which every man should follow. Gilbert and McDonald did some especially good tackling for the locals.

The back division of the Peterboros did creditable work. Walkey at centre half was the star, his work throughout being brilliant. He punted well and dodged splendidly, his run from centre through the whole visitors' defence for a touchdown was the prettiest of the day. Muthern and Craig also did good work, frequently making effective runs for good gains. Kelly at full back is a coming player and worked well. Gillespie at quarter frequently bucked the line for good gains and handled the leather accurately. The wings tackled well and fully held their own at all stages.

The teams were:—

T. C. S.		Peterboros.
Stone	Back	Kelly
Campbell	Left Half	Muthern
Hilliard	Centre Half	Walkey
Robinson	Right Half	Craig
Spencer	Quarter Back	Gillespie
Copeland	Scrimmage.	Hall
Fortier		Green
Drummond		Hook
College	Snap	O'Brien
Pearce	Wings.	Fitzpatrick
VanAllen		Gilbert
Carey		Walker
Rathbone		Thornton
Reid		McDonald

Referee, R. F. McWilliams, Umpire, C. G. Graham.

Of the T. C. S. Drummond and Copeland did not play in the first half and Hall and McDonald were off the locals as the new style of game needs only 13 men.

The locals started the scoring by a rouge shortly after the game opened. A little later Walkey kicked over the line and Thornton fell on the pigskin for a touchdown which was not converted. Score, 6-0.

A good run by Craig brought the ball near the visitors' line and Walkey punted to Stone, who fumbled and Green got a touchdown. He failed to leave the ball in place and the chance to convert was lost. Score, 11-0.

The visitors forced the ball to the locals' line. In a scrimmage Gillespie got the ball and dodging three opponents went the whole length of the field for a try, but an offside spoiled the score. Finally Robinson made a great run of fifty yards for a try which was not converted. Score, 11-5. Robinson and Muthern each made spectacular runs and nearly scored. Hilliard punted over the dead line for a point. Score, 11-5. Half time was then called.

The visitors began to press matters with the scrimmage and mass plays resulting. College was shoved over for a touchdown, tying the score. Walkey then made the run of the day for a touchdown which he neatly converted, making the score, 17-11.

Just before time expired Hilliard kicked over the line to Kelly whose return was blocked by College, who got a touch which was converted, tying the score. Walkey nearly got a try by a fine run of 70 yards, but time was called.

Considering the fact that the local scrimmage had never worked together before, they showed up splendidly.

The return game will come off this week.

A FATAL ACCIDENT AT TWEED STATION.

Was Going Home to Norwood to Spend Sunday—His Umbrella Caused His Death.

An accident, which brought instant death to a young man occurred at Tweed yesterday morning about 10 o'clock. George Freeman, a young man about 22 years of age, who had been working at his trade, that of a tailor, in Tweed for some time, was going to his home in Norwood to spend the day, and was jumping on a slowly moving train at the Tweed station, when the umbrella that he was carrying caught in the axle box of the truck, and pulled him off the step, and he afterwards fell under the wheels, which passed over his body, mangling him badly and killing him instantly.

The remains were taken to his home in Norwood by the same train upon which he had intended going home to spend a pleasant Sunday, and from there the funeral will take place.

Curious Calendars.

Ancient time-keeping has received new light from two remarkable stones lately unearthed by the German explorers on the site of the old Ionic port of Miletus. These stones are the remains of calendars, of which one is shown to date from 109 A.D. The year was divided into twelve zodiacal signs, and against each month the motion of the remaining signs was given, with a note predicting the weather. On the left side were thirty holes, a wooden peg being moved forward one hole each day, thus giving the astronomical date. This new find has made clear the meaning of parapegma, or peg-calendar, a name by which other stones have been rather mysteriously known.

THE RUSSIANS ARE ADVANCING

Gen. Kuropatkin Seems Resolved to Do or to Die.

MARCHING AGAINST ENEMY

Japanese Outposts Are Being Driven in All Along the Line—Foreshadowing of An Exact Reversal of Battle of Liaoyang — Japanese Abandon Many Positions—Watch Wily Jap.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 11.—A battle, upon which the fate of this year's campaign in Manchuria depends, seems only a few days ahead. Advices from the front are meagre. All that is positively known officially is that Gen. Kuropatkin has cast the die at last, about faced his army and is marching resolutely against the enemy as if he resolved to do or die. According to unofficial reports, Field Marshal Oyama, at the first sign of Gen. Kuropatkin taking the offensive, began drawing in his line and concentrating upon fortified positions north of Liaoyang.

According to the latest reports, which are contained in a despatch to the Associated Press from Mukden, dated at 6 o'clock last night, the Japanese outposts are being driven in all along the line.

Reverse Battle of Liaoyang.

The strategy of the forward movement will be concealed, as were the preparations for the advance, so that all surmises as to where Gen. Kuropatkin intends to strike are mere guess-work. It is not clear whether General Kuropatkin contemplates a blow on the left, centre or right of the Japanese army, but the fact that stress is laid upon the capture of Bentsiaputze, which opens the road and fords to Bensihu, 20 miles east of Liaoyang, where Gen. Kuroki crosses, and that Cossacks are already reported in the neighborhood of the stream, might foreshadow an exact reversal of the battle of Liaoyang, this time the Russian commander flanking and turning Liaoyang with his left as Field Marshal Oyama did with his right.

Japs Abandon Positions.

It is reported that the Japanese have abandoned Siandian, Siamatsze and Meichoulin, positions east of Liaoyang. In political circles considerable stress is laid upon the moral aid of the Chinese that may be expected from Gen. Kuropatkin's advancing without being compelled to abandon the sacred city of Mukden, it being remembered that the Japanese failed to reach the city of Imperial Tombs during the China-Japanese war.

Watch the Wily Jap.

London, Oct. 11.—Within the last few days a change has come over the scene of the far eastern war, Kuropatkin, either because he is assured of his own strength, or in pursuance of orders from St. Petersburg, has suddenly taken the offensive. As a first result, the Japanese have abandoned their advanced positions at Bentsiaputze—one story going that they had unaccountably neglected to fortify a hill which commanded their lines. This, however, is scarcely credible, and the more reasonable inference is that they had no intention of seriously contesting the Russian movement.

The situation, therefore, is now reversed, and the advantage which Kuropatkin formerly possessed of operating on interior lines belongs to the Japanese. If the contending armies are approximately equal, and serious attempt on the part of the Russians to outflank their foes might easily lead to irreparable disaster. Under any circumstances, it is scarcely possible the Japanese will abandon Yentai Mines. They have now altered the railway gauge, and must rely very largely on the line from Newchwang for reinforcements and supplies. Yentai Mines are the main source of supply for Southern Manchuria, and their abandonment would be at once a direct loss to Oyama and a corresponding gain to Kuropatkin.

It would be a strange irony of fate if the famous policy of "luring" on the enemy were now adopted by the Japanese, and turned to more effective use in their hands than it was in the various stages of the Russian retreat. The position, as it now presents itself, bears striking testimony to the careful consideration the Japanese have given to the conduct of the war. They have not allowed their past successes to blind them to the magnitude of the task they have undertaken, and it will not be in the least surprising if this withdrawal of theirs be not the herald of further victories.

Three Russian Warships Sunk.

Tokio, Oct. 11.—It is reported here that the Japanese recently centred a fire from the land positions and from the fleet blockading Port Arthur on the west harbor, with the object of destroying the Russian fleet, and succeeded in sinking three vessels, the names and character of which are unknown.

The failure of the Port Arthur fleet to make a sortie is creating the impression that the Russians intend to destroy their ships just before the fall of the fortress, in preference to taking the risk of a sortie.

Russ Scouts Ambushed.

Mukden, Oct. 11.—On the western front Sunday a party of Caucasian scouts, while reconnoitring, fell into an ambush of two companies of Japanese infantry, who fired a volley at the scouts. Before the latter could withdraw they lost ten wounded, including a Lieutenant (Kousoff) and one man killed.

The Mikado's Message.

London, Oct. 11.—A despatch to a news agency from Tokio yesterday, says:

"At an audience this morning the Emperor of Japan handed the Premier a message to the nation, as follows:

"'Since the commencement of hostilities our army and navy have displayed conspicuous loyalty and bravery, and with the officials and people with united minds complying with our instructions, they have hitherto steadily advanced by progressive steps. Nevertheless our prospects of final success are still distant. Fearfully hope that the sincerity of the national spirit will enable us to realize our final object.'"

To Surrender in December.

London, Oct. 11.—The Morning Post's Shanghai correspondent says it is stated Lieut.-Gen. Stoessel has reported that unless relieved before December, he must surrender.

A Boy's Ambition.

Forty years ago a lad only thirteen years of age wrote to Bayard Taylor, outlining his life plans. The boy received an autograph reply from the great man, telling him to go ahead, for there was a field in the world for just the work he was planning to do. That lad was John L. Stoddard. From that time to this Mr. Stoddard has devoted all his powers to the doing of one thing and doing it well. He has travelled over a quarter of a million miles and has lived for ten years amid the scenes and among the people he describes, so that his lectures are personal testimony to things that he has seen, the facts which he has verified. Such personal testimony makes them reliable and also makes them interesting.

FOR LAURIER AND THE LARGER CANADA.

Rally of Workers at the Committee Rooms To-night.

Every Liberal will be Welcomed—Get Into Line for Victory.

The different Ward Committees of the local Liberal Association are making good progress with the registration work, and each night sees an earnest, busy crowd of men at the Committee Rooms.

This is a work in which the assistance of every Liberal is needed and the attendance of all such is requested at the rooms to-night.

The impetus given to the workers last night by the stirring address of Mr. Cherrier, was inspiring, and as the days go by the prospects for the success of the Liberal party and the Liberal candidate are growing brighter.

CANADA'S PREMIER
Who will address a mass meeting in the Brock street Rink on Oct. 20.

"Laurier and the Larger Canada," is a motto which spells victory, and the conviction is deepening that on the night of November 3rd victory will perch on the Liberal banners.

There is still considerable work to be done, however, and all Liberals are urged to turn out to-night and get into line for the winning candidate.

FIRST REGULAR MEETING OF SOCIETY

Young Peoples' Society of St. John's Church Opens the Series.

The first regular meeting of the St. John's Young People's Society since the organization of the Society, was held last night, and was most successful. The vice-president, Miss Dawson, presided, in the absence of the president, Mr. Pattie, and there was a good attendance of the members of the society, as well as other young people of the church. It was decided at last night's meeting that an introductory social would be held on October 31st, when a good programme will be given and the aim will be to acquaint the young people of the church with the society and its objects.

Committees were appointed to complete arrangements for the social, and a delightful hour, devoted to business and pleasure was enjoyed.

THE GREAT BLACK AND WHITE ARTIST BEGINS ON "POLITICAL CORRUPTION"

Miss Nellie Holmes, treasurer of the Young Woman's Temperance Association of Buffalo, N.Y., strongly advises all suffering women to rely, as she did, upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:— Your medicine is indeed an ideal woman's medicine, and by far the best I know to restore lost health and strength. I suffered misery for several years, being troubled with menorrhagia. My back ached, I had bearing-down pains and frequent headaches. I would often wake from restful sleep, and in such pain that I suffered for hours before I could go to sleep again. I dreaded the long nights as much as the weary days. I consulted two different physicians, hoping to get relief, but, finding that their medicine did not seem to cure me, I tried your Vegetable Compound on the recommendation of a friend from the East who was visiting me.

"I am glad that I followed her advice, for every ache and pain is gone, and not only this, but my general health is much improved. I have a fine appetite and have gained in flesh. My earnest advice to suffering women is to put aside all other medicines and to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."— Miss NELLIE HOLMES, 540 No. Division St., Buffalo, N.Y.— $5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

THE PARISH VS. THE IMPERIAL IDEA.

The Railway Commission instituted by the Laurier Government is doing good work. Now a Midland District fruit grower can send a carload of apples to Manitoba for $30 less than formerly. With improved rates and increased population, the West will become a splendid home market for fruit, horses and horned stock of Eastern Canada. With the building of the transcontinental railway, the Government control of rates would make still cheaper shipping possible and the great increase of population which will result from putting new areas within reach of settlement and a continuation of the vigorous and successful immigration policy will help to enlarge the home market for our farmers and producers of fruit, horses and horned stock, and also for the manufacturers of Eastern Canada, who will receive additional orders and be able to employ more hands and give better wages thus increasing the home market for the farmers. North-west farmers will not compete with Ontario farmers for their staple as wheat which finds its way to the Old Country, but they do want and will want horses and cattle and fruit which the Ontario farmer can supply. Mr. Kendry who professes to want a home market for the farmers opposes increase of population by immigration. Is he going to travel in a circle, is he going to have the farmers of Ontario sell their produce one to another? He must do this if he means as he declared at the Borden meeting on Saturday night, that he wants only Canadians in Canada. This is decidedly narrow-guage. What we want is population. Authorities on economics say that every new citizen is worth $1,000, in the wealth his labour will give the state and in the purchasing power he can exercise. At that rate, the 130,000 new citizens which the Government's immigration policy poured into the North-west last year, would represent added wealth amounting to one hundred and thirty millions of dollars. We have in Canada 200 millions of acres of land available for settlement and development. People these and our home market would be increased by tens of millions, wanting everything from a blanket to a binder which the factories of older Canada would be rushed to supply.

Mr. Kendry wants only Canadians in Canada. How long at the rate of increase by natural reproduction would it take the population of Canada to double itself. Perhaps a hundred years, while by judicious immigration and settlement of our vacant lands it will double in a very few years.

Mr. Kendry is "off his nut"; he is talking like a demagogue, appealing to working men to join him in opposing increasing the population of our country. Any working man knows that the more people we can plant in the unoccupied acres of the North-west the more work he will have for more factories and busier factories will be needed to supply their wants. Mr. Kendry's idea is the parish idea; the imperial idea is to build up the country increase its population—to plant British and American immigrants upon our now waste lands and convert them into purchasing and producing Canadians by the same process by which five-sixths of our present Canadian population have been made.

HOW IS THIS?

At the Borden meeting Mr. Kendry asserted that the woollen, cotton and iron industries were going to the dogs from lack of protection. He however did not tell how the iron industry was being "ruined." We shall help him. Here is how the iron industry is being ruined: In the seven years under Liberal rule, the output of the Dominion Bridge Company increased from 9,300 tons in 1896, to 26,500 tons in 1903, a growth of nearly three times. The output of all Canadian shops in 1896 was 13,100 tons. The output of all Canadian shops in 1903 was 40,700 tons, more than four times greater. The total consumption of structural steel in Canada in 1896 was 13,300 tons, while in 1904 it was 46,900 tons, an increase of more than four times. This is a very pleasant sort of ruin.

It would be almost as absurd to claim the magnificent increase in the Canadian consumption of bridge-work from 13,300 tons to 28,600 tons in a single year, was the result merely of the election of a Liberal Government, as it was for Mr. Kendry to claim, as he did on Saturday night, that the depression he made in the Mayor's chair, was the foundation of the rampant prosperity Peterborough is enjoying to-day. Directly, this increased consumption of iron, in the form of steel, was the result of the accession of Mr. Hays to the control of the Grand Trunk, and the immediate execution of his vast plans of road-bed improvement, beginning with the re-building of the Victoria bridge. But it is equally impossible to suppose that that daring policy of improvement would have been maintained, as it was on the Grand Trunk, and adopted later by every other road in Canada, but for the marvellous prosperity that came upon the country at that time, and the enlightened governmental policy towards commerce that contributed so much to it. To have shown how the iron trade is being ruined by the Liberal Government, Mr. Kendry, in addition to the above feats, might have pointed out that since the great foster father of infant industries went out of power, the first manufacture of steel rails has begun in Canada—in Ontario, and that a few days ago the Canadian Pacific Railway Company closed a contract with these mills for 40,000 tons of steel rails. These very rails will help to build up and settle the west, and create an enlarged home market, which Mr. Kendry would create by keeping the population of Canada stationary.

POINTERS OF PROSPERITY.

There is every certainty that the Laurier Government will be returned because new industries projected show public confidence in the stability and safety of this policy. An American Company has purchased 192 acres of land at Fort William for the erection of a large factory. Under the Laurier Government Canada is getting thousands of thrifty American farmers, many of the former Canadians, who went to the "States" under the exodus policy of the late Conservative Government, as well as many millions of American capital which is "standing from under" in the hard times that are settling like a gloomy cloud over the United States languishing under the left-handed prosperity which a high protection tariff brings.

In Cornwall one of the towns quoted by Mr. Kendry on Saturday night, as the place where a woollen mill had been closed for lack of a net protection greater than about 30 per cent., the directors of a furniture factory company established under the Laurier Government about a year since, met a few days ago and declared a dividend of 7 per cent. The business has been so prosperous and the demand is so much greater than the supply that the management is arranging for enlarging the factory so as to double the output. That doesn't look as if that industry wanted more "protection." Apparently all the protection it needs is, a well equipped factory, modern machinery and energetic management, and the manufacture of goods wanted. If the woollen mill Mr. Kendry quotes as collapsed had been equipped with modern machinery and made goods the people wanted, it would, in all probability, have still been running day and night like the woollen mills at Cobourg, which Mr. Kendry did not think worth including in the combine, but which under energetic management, proper machinery and a proper line of manufacture, are booming beyond the capacity of the mills to supply the demand so much so that merchants sending orders that can't be filled close their appeal by saying "send us one piece of goods anyway." No business will run itself, it must meet the demand and be run on business principles. No tariff, even of 100 per cent., will keep a mill prosperous under slip-shod management.

PREMIER ROSS AT MOUNT BRYDGES

He Deals with the Conservative Charges of Corruption.

Shows That the Conservatives are Not the Lambs They Claim to Be.

The enthusiastic applause which greeted Mr. Ross was maintained for several minutes. He was glad, he said, to get home again, for the riding which first honoured him thirty-two years ago was like home to him. Their associations with each other had left no traces of hard feelings among political friends or foes. Everybody had been friendly, in a personal sense, and he thought as many Conservatives would attend his funeral as Liberals. (Laughter and a voice, "More.")

Mr. Ross—Well, no; not as many. (Renewed laughter.)

He recalled some interesting meetings held in the hall in which they were now gathered, and spoke in terms of praise of the services rendered in Parliament by Messrs. Calvert and McGugan. Continuing, Mr. Ross devoted some time to Provincial politics.

WHAT THE COURT RECORDS SHOW.

It was said that the alleged corruption of the Government was the result of its long tenure of office. But what did the records of the courts show? Sandfield Macdonald was only four years in office—no cause that—and in the general election of 1871 five of his supporters were unseated for corrupt practices, and only one member of the Opposition; whereas in the general election of 1902, after the Liberals were 32 years in office, only one supporter of the Government was unseated by the courts. If four years of office meant the vacation of five seats by the Conservative party, what would have been the number of seats vacated had they been in office over thirty years? He read the following comparison of the members unseated after the general election of 1902, with the previous elections since confederation:—

	Lib.	Con.
1871	1	5
1875	10	10
1879	1	4
1886	1	1
1890	2	3
1896	6	3
Total	26	37

In the election of 1902 the Hon. Mr. Davis resigned his seat, but even if this were treated as an election voided by the courts, the last general election, after 32 years of office, was better than the Sandfield Macdonald election after four years of office, and better than the election of 1875 when ten members of Parliament on each side were unseated. (Applause.)

DANGER OF BYE-ELECTIONS.

Again, it is well known that bye-elections, whether a Government's majority was large or small, expose the political morality o the constituencies concerned to greater danger than a general election. A Government with a large majority was anxious to carry the seat lest it should appear that its popularity was on the wane, and a Government with a small majority felt the necessity of maintaining its numerical standing in the House, while the Opposition was most anxious to embarrass the Government. And so in both cases the full influence of both parties was concentrated on the vacant constituencies. The keenness of the strife engendered a certain degree of recklessness. The fault was inherent in human nature, and it was the merest hypocrisy in the Conservative Press to denounce the Liberal corruption of the bye-elections, on the assumption, no matter what the courts had disclosed, that the Conservative party in the recent contest had abandoned its traditional methods of carrying elections.

WHAT THE GOVERNMENT HAS DONE

Political corruption of every form was bad, and he would not say a word in extenuation of it wherever it occurred. But what he particularly wanted to emphasize—and this was most important—was that in no case, neither in the general nor in the bye-election trials, was any agent of the Government connected with the wrongdoing so much deplored. (Applause.) No connection of that kind was shown in North Perth, North Norfolk, North York or the Soo. Every case of corrupt practice was the work of men for whom the Government was in no sense responsible. They may have been outsiders, but they were not appointed by the Liberal organization of the Province or the Liberal party of the Province. The Government had made the election law more rigid than Mr. Whitney had proposed when the act was amended two years ago, in fact doubling the penalties which he had provided. If any man could suggest any improvement in the election law that had not been thought of, let him do so, and it would be taken; if it would be better to prevent outsiders going into constituencies let it be done, and if the central organizations of the parties ought to be abolished, let that be done too. Neither Mr. Whitney, nor anybody else, could make a proposition so strong for the moral reformation of this country—and he did not think it was below the standard of any other country in the world—that he would not accept it. (Applause.) He would not stand by or for any methods or means whereby a man could be deprived of his seat contrary to law, or any irregularity by which men violated the decencies of life. (Renewed applause.)

The cry against the Government was not worse at the present moment than it was twenty years ago. On the platform on which he was speaking Sir William Meredith had in 1883 declared he would impeach the late Mr. Pardee as soon as the House met for improper conduct in the previous election, and would drive him from public life. But when the House met there was no impeachment. The cry against the Government was an old one, with a little more bitterness and disappointment in it, perhaps. "For," said Mr. Ross, "they are waiting, knocking, waiting, knocking, and there is no response. (Laughter.) 'Absence makes the heart grow fonder.' (Laughter.) 'Sadness makes the heart grow sorrier.' (Renewed laughter.) 'Hope deferred maketh the heart sick.' (Continued laughter and applause.) They reminded him of the answer the boy gave on being asked by his teacher what Peter did when he was accused of denying his Master: 'He went out and crowed three times.' (Laughter.) And the Conservatives were always crowing.

THE PRESENT SITUATION.

It was said that it was the duty of the Government to resign, because its majority is small. Neither the theory or the practice of the constitution imposed such an obligation upon the Government. A small majority might be inconvenient and sometimes embarrassing, but if the government of the country was carried on with efficiency, a majority of one, or two, or three, was as good as a majority of thirty. In fact a government with a large majority was, if anything, more dangerous than a government with a small majority. Under the party system one of the chief restraints on a Government was the strength of the Opposition. In this case the Opposition was certainly strong enough, numerically, to prevent the Government from going far astray. The legislation of the last two sessions was the best proof that could be given of the right of the Government to hold office, even if its majority was small. They had amended the assessment act, re-established the Soo industries — a matter of national importance, and one that would lead to the development of the iron industries of Canada, as well as passing important legislation regarding railways and transportation. (Applause.)

BELIEVES COUNTRY IS WITH HIM.

If they were unable to carry on the government with a majority of three how was the Opposition to succeed with a minority of three? Resign! Whoever heard of a government resigning till it was defeated, either in the House or at the polls? "We hold office as the trustees of the people of the province," said Mr. Ross, "and I am satisfied we still have the confidence of the country, and in any appeal we make to the country at the bye-elections, this confidence will be shown. (Applause.) This country knows a good government when it sees it." (Renewed applause and laughter.) Some people, he said, thought his cares were so great that for his own comfort he should retire. He hoped they would not shed any tears on his account. (Laughter.) He did not propose to resign until the people of Ontario said so, and then he would, and because he believed in constitutional government a policeman would not have to drive him out of the Parliament buildings, if the country went against the Government. Later on, when the little picnic in which Sir Wilfrid Laurier was engaged was over, he would be able to deal at greater length with these provincial questions.

HAPPIEST MAN IN UNCLE SAM'S NAVY.

"I am the happiest man in Uncle Sam's Navy. I must have got the piles from always sitting on the guns, for I have to get on them to clean them, as I am first-class gunner's mate in the after turret.

"I could not do any work when I had the piles, my shipmates did it for me. I certainly was in a bad condition; to-day there is no man aboard the ship in better condition than I am, and I can certainly thank Pyramid Pile Cure for the world of good it has done me. I used so many different medicines and spent lots of money until I used this remedy; it is the only one of the whole lot that did me any good.

"The first box nearly cured me, and I don't think I ever felt happier in my life, that I thought I got the real stuff at last. To make sure of a cure I used a number of boxes, also two boxes of Pyramid Pills and one and one-half boxes of Pyramid Ointment, and I still have four boxes of Pyramid Pile Cure left, that I keep in case I meet anyone that is a sufferer of piles. I thank Pyramid Pile Cure a million times." Julius A. Koester, U. S. Flagship Kearsarge.

The wonderful cures effected by this remedy are subject for remark among members of the medical profession everywhere. A little book describing the causes and cure of piles is published by the Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., and we advise every sufferer to write for it. It is a singular fact that one out of every four suffers from this distressing complaint, and another peculiar feature is that it is no respecter of persons, attacking both those of high and of low degree, the labourer and the millionaire, the scrubwoman and the lady of fashion. We have pleasure in recommending Pyramid Pile Cure to all such, as it possesses merit, and since it is sold by all druggists generally for the low price of fifty cents a package a prompt and speedy cure is easily within the reach of everyone.

CASE WAS SETTLED BY AN APOLOGY.

Difficulty Between Mr. W. H. Moore and Mr. G. J. Sherry Before the Judge.

Mr. Sherry Apologized for His Hasty Action in Striking Mr. Moore—Other Charges Dropped.

Before Judge Edmison Monday morning at the County Court a satisfactory settlement was made in the case of Moore vs. Sherry at the outset and the case was not proceeded with. It will be remembered that some weeks ago at Norwood after a session of the Division Court, Mr. W. H. Moore, of Peterborough, and Mr. G. J. Sherry, of Norwood, had some warm words and the latter so forgot himself as to strike Mr. Moore which action lead to legal proceedings on behalf of the latter. Before the court yesterday Mr. Sherry apologized for his action, the apology was accepted by Mr. Moore and the matter was consequently dropped. Mr. Sherry said that before progressing with the case he wished to express his regret at the incident which had occurred. When he addressed Mr. Moore nothing was further from his mind than that a quarrel of any description whatever should occur and while the words he used were not uttered ill-naturedly they were understood differently and provoked such a sharp retort that in the heat of the moment he struck the blow complained of. He frankly admitted that in so doing he was entirely in the wrong and was exceedingly sorry to have caused Mr. Moore pain. He wished to take the opportunity of publicly acknowledging his fault and of apologizing for his conduct. He agreed to pay all costs of the prosecution if the charge were withdrawn.

Mr. Moore accepted the apology and the matter was dropped.

Judge Edmison thought that it was a right, proper and manly thing for Mr. Sherry to apologize in this manner, and it was also manly and commendable on the other side for Mr. Moore to accept the apology instead of showing a spirit of revenge. He was glad on account of the profession that the matter had been settled in this manner.

The other parties who were connected with the matter were honourably acquitted by the Judge, who he considered were merely acting as peacemakers.

A charge had also been laid against William Knox and Andrew Knox for taking part in the melee. It was shown, however, that several others had interfered at the time of the trouble and were as much to blame as either of these parties in question. The Judge did not think it proper to press the case against them when there were others who were in the same position and who had not been summoned to Court. They were brought into the trouble through Mr. Sherry's action. The latter said he was perfectly willing to pay the costs of both these men were the case against them dropped and this was done.

The costs amounted to $37.45. Mr. R. E. Wood appeared for the plaintiff and Mr. A. P. Poussette for Mr. Sherry and Mr. R. M. Dennistoun for Messrs. Knox.

A man named John O'Connor was arrested at Bridgenorth on a charge of vagrancy and appeared before the Judge this week. It was reported about Bridgenorth that he had been lurking about Mann's woods threatening to shoot the first person he clapped his eyes on. The only weapon found on him, however, was a pair of opera glasses. He was remanded for one week.

A SERMON ON A PRACTICAL QUESTION

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt Preached a Sermon on Gambling.

Thought the Practice was Growing—A Warning to Young Men.

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt continued his series of sermons on practical questions Sunday night, the subject being "Gambling from the text Proverbs XXVIII. 20, "He that maketh haste to be rich shall not be innocent."

He said there were other means besides gambling in which people make haste to be rich, such as fraud and dishonesty, sharp practice, tricks of commerce, and secrets of trade and many other questionable transactions, out of which men come richer than they went in, but not with clean hands and untarnished honour. But with these he was not now concerned. He wanted to speak on successful gambling. Every gambler looks for success, therefore the terrible fascination which this particular vice has for certain people. There are men and women on the gambler's road to ruin to-day, and it is the duty of Christian people to caution them and to help them from their fall.

The speaker could not say positively whether men and women gamble more than they did years ago; he believed they do, and he thought that this curse was spreading more and more among the young people. He said as a note of warning to the guilty that there was a place on George street in Peterborough that is a regular gambling den and which some of these days would be found out. He asserted that a good deal of gambling was going on in our town.

Thousands are being ruined by this vice, body and soul. Gambling in itself is utterly bad, nothing good could be said of it or the gambler. No one would dare to defend gambling, though they may try to excuse it in a dozen different ways. No one will say that it is a good thing, that a man will be a better, worthier man because he gambles.

What constitutes gambling? It is the risking of a certain sum on the chance of winning another sum. It is speculating on chance, in the hope and expectation of winning something as the result of such speculation. The essence of gambling lies in the staking of our sum on chance. The amount of the stake does not touch the matter at all.

Mr. Langfeldt mentioned then a few of the excuses that gamblers make.

The moment money is risked, lost or won on mere chance, without any question of equivalent value given or taken, and when one person's gain is another's loss, at that moment gambling begins.

Where does the sin come in? All money and property is given us by God in trust. Our ability to earn money etc., is traced back to God as the first cause. A man who has a wife, or children, or others dependent upon him has no right whatever to risk his money.

No honest man can do with his money as he likes because he is an administrator, a steward, appointed by his God. Even the law of the land would forbid, if the spendings of money would be prejudicial to the interests of the community, the wild and reckless use of money. No gambler can become, morally, a better man.

In closing Mr. Langfeldt said he would continue the subject next Sunday evening. In the meantime he exorted the people not to make haste to be rich by any means whatever, upon which they would not dare to ask the blessing of Almighty God.—Com.

RESIGNATION OF COMING GOVERNOR.

From the Directorate of the British South Africa Company.

London, Oct. 11.—After a very stormy meeting yesterday, the shareholders of the British South Africa Company authorized the issue of $5,000,000 new capital. Previous to the close of the meeting, which broke up in confusion, the chairman, the Duke of Abercorn, was unable to secure a hearing, and left the hall.

The directors, with the exception of Earl Grey, were re-elected. The Earl sent a letter, resigning his position because of his appointment as Governor-General of Canada. He warned the shareholders that the greatest peril in South Africa was the "drifting policy" toward the natives. For a solution of the native question, he said, a conference should be held of the best and most humane scientists of Great Britain and America to advise on the policy which should be adopted with the object of civilising the Kaffirs.

FINALLY HAD TO TAKE TO HIS BED.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets Rested up H. A. Coles' Stomach and now He's all Right.

Those who have bad stomachs don't care to be told the cause. All they want to know is the cure. Mr. H. A. Coles of St. Mary's River, Guysboro Co., N. S., tells them that. He writes:

"I had stomach trouble for about five years more or less. I finally got so bad that I had to take to my bed. The doctor was called in, but all his efforts failed to help me. My wife said to me, 'Let's try Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets,' and at length I decided to do so. I took seven boxes in all and I have not felt any of the trouble since. I can heartily recommend Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets to any sufferer from stomach trouble. Everyone in this neighbourhood who has used them speaks just as highly of the results as I do."

With Captain Bernier.

Ottawa, Oct. 11.—A telegram from A. P. Low of the Hudson Bay expedition, was received by the Marine Department on Saturday announcing that the steamer Arctic, with Major Moodie's party on board, had reached Port Burnwell, Oct. 1. At that point, which is near the entrance to Hudson Strait, the Arctic rendezvoused with the steamer Neptune, which has been in Hudson Bay since 1903.

When Your Child Suffers.

For lack of knowledge of the value of Dr. Chase's Ointment as a cure for eczema, many a mother has been worn out in the effort to relieve her child of suffering. Eczema, scald head and other forms of itching skin disease are common to children, especially during the teething period. Though readily cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment, eczema, if neglected, becomes chronic and may last for years.

Is This Bernier?

St. John's, Nfld., Oct. 11.—Fishing vessels returning from Labrador report having sighted a strange steamer, which resembled a sealer, off Davis Inlet on Tuesday last. The steamer was apparently disabled. It is believed that she is the Canadian cruiser Arctic (formerly the Gauss), bound for Hudson Bay, and that her engines are out of order.

Head About to Burst From Severe Bilious Attack.

"I had a severe bilious attack and felt like my head was about to burst when I got hold of a free sample of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. For biliousness, stomach troubles and constipation these Tablets have no equal. Price 25 cents. For sale by all druggists.

A NOTE OF TRIUMPH

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Ontario Tour Begins at Hamilton.

A VERY GREAT GATHERING

The New Order of Things Plainly Set Forth—"Adequate Protection" Too Evasive For the Premier—He Declares That the British Preference Was No Mistake—Transportation Problem.

Hamilton, Oct. 11.—"Bravo, Sir Wilfrid!" Thousands of voices took up the acclaim, and the great Drill Hall reechoed with ringing cheers. Seldom, if ever, was there such a significant political demonstration as that in Hamilton last night. The Prime Minister spoke with perfect command of his marvellous powers, and the massed ranks of Hamilton electors resounded not only with abounding enthusiasm but with unmistakable intelligence.

New Order of Things.

It was the opening of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Ontario campaign, and by it the great questions at issue were lifted and set in clear and steady light. The Hamilton Liberal candidates, Mr. Adam Zimmerman and Mr. John M. Eastwood, were given a most cordial reception, and the signs are multiplying that on Nov. 3rd they will redeem the Hamilton constituencies to the support of a Liberal Administration. Mr. James Chisholm, the President of the Liberal Association, who presided, spoke for the quickened and rapidly-expanding industrial life of Hamilton. The Liberal candidates gave Liberal rule the credit for this new order of things.

Sir Wilfrid's First Point.

The tariff was the first point Sir Wilfrid presented, and the indefiniteness and evasiveness of Mr. Borden's phrase, "adequate protection," was again subjected to examination and exposure. The British preference was endorsed as the first step in the direction of improved and satisfactory trade between Britain and Canada. The ultra loyalty of Ontario Conservatives was set against the pronouncement of Mr. Borden's Quebec lieutenant, Mr. Casgrain, at Quebec the other night, that the great mistake of the Liberal party was the adoption of the British preference. For himself, Sir Wilfrid asserted his steady appreciation of British connection in Ontario in the same terms as among the French-Canadians in Quebec.

The Transportation Problem.

When Sir Wilfrid came to deal with the transportation problem he readily and effectively riddled Mr. Borden's misstatements and fallacies. The terms of the contract, the route of the road, the cost of the enterprise, the control of rates, the routing of the traffic, were discussed with not one inaccurate statement, but with fine expositional power.

The magnificent voice of the Hon. Wm. Paterson rang out over the great audience, and his vigorous presentation of the Liberal position held more than a thousand men standing in the aisles and responsive to his appeal. It was nearly 11 o'clock before the cheers that opened the demonstration were answered by cheers more enthusiastic, more convincing, more inspiring, with which the meeting closed. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Ontario campaign has opened with the note of triumph.

Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier were accompanied from Toronto by Rev. J. A. Macdonald.

Mr. Sifton At Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Oct. 11.—Winnipegers have seldom witnessed a more enthusiastic political meeting than that held last evening in Selkirk Hall, when Hon. Clifford Sifton, Minister of Interior; D. W. Bole, Liberal candidate for Winnipeg, and ex-Premier Greenway addressed the electors. Three halls could have been filled, so great was the crowd demanding admittance, and by 7.30 the large auditorium was packed to the doors. Mr. Sifton was accorded a rousing reception lasting several minutes.

POLITICS IN A NUTSHELL.

The Conservatives of the riding of Brantford Monday night selected W. F. Cockshutt of that city to contest the riding in their interest.

E. B. Osler was again nominated as the Conservative candidate for West Toronto at the convention held in the west end Y.M.C.A. Hall Monday night.

At the Liberal Convention for Lisgar, held at Winnipeg Monday and largely attended. Hon. Thomas Greenway was given the unanimous nomination.

A telegram from Montreal says: As the campaign progresses the weakness of the Conservative party in the Province of Quebec becomes more and more apparent.

By a standing vote A. B. Aylesworth's nomination for the County of Durham was unanimously carried at the Liberal convention held at Newcastle on Monday. Mr. Aylesworth accepted in a short speech.

At Paris an enthusiastic Liberal convention was held Monday afternoon. The Hon. William Paterson, Minister of Customs, received the unanimous nomination of the delegates and accepted in a rousing speech. The campaign in this constituency (South Brant) opens at Curford next Monday evening.

FIVE HOSPITAL NURSES GRADUATE

Diplomas and Medals Presented to Nicholls Hospital Graduating Class Last Evening.

Annual Commencement Exercises Well Attended—Rev. J. A. Wilson's Splendid Address—Other Interesting Features.

At the Y.M.C.A. last evening the following ladies were presented with graduating diplomas and medals at the Commencement Exercises of the Nicholls Hospital for 1904:—

MISS ANNIE C. SHARKEY
MISS MARY E. GORDON
MISS GRACE A. DAINTY
MISS ABBIE L. JENKINS
MRS. HELEN RICHARDSON.

The Y.M.C.A. Assembly Hall was last evening the scene of a most interesting and unique event, the occasion being the commencement Exercises of the Graduating Class in connection with the Nicholls Hospital. There were five ladies who have undergone a course of three years' training and who hae successfully passed the graduating examinations. Those who received their diplomas and medals were,—Misses Annie E. Sharkey, Mary E. Gordon, Grace A. Dainty, Abbie L. Jenkins and Mrs. Helen Richardson. The exercises were most pleasing from start to finish and were greatly enjoyed by the audience which, considering the inclemency of the weather was large, the hall being well filled.

The platform was very tastefully decorated with a profusion of plants and flowers while the pleasing appearance of the walls was enhanced by a drapery of flags and bunting.

On the platform were seated the chairman of the Board of the Examiners, Mr. Richard Hall, the five graduating nurses and eight under graduates, all clad in their appropriate and becoming nurses' costumes and caps, presenting a very impressive sight.

CHAIRMAN'S ADDRESS.

The programme opened with an address by the chairman, Mr. Hall, whose remarks were as follows:—

Ladies and gentlemen,—I am sure I am only expressing the feeling of the Board of Trustees and the Hospital staff when I thank you most heartily for your presence here to-night, which tends to show the interest taken by you in the hospital, and your sympathy with its work.

This hospital has been steadily growing in importance for some years and we do not hesitate to say that to-day, in point of general efficiency, it stands among the first of its size in the province.

There are many discouragements, as you are all aware, in the treatment of the sick, the patients themselves seldom realising the excellent service they are receiving, but the aim of the Trustee Board, as well as the Medical and Nursing staff, has been to supply everything in reason and to give their utmost care to the patients under the roof of the hospital.

The number of patients treated during the past year was 467, against 412 a year ago; some 188 operations were performed, many of them of a serious nature, calling for skill of a high order on the part of our Medical staff.

We had hoped a year ago that we should have been enabled to close our Infectious Ward—feeling as we do that its proximity to the Main Hospital is dangerous to the welfare of the patients in the general wards—the town, however, has not yet seen its way clear to establish a separate Infectious Hospital, and we are doing our best to treat the scarlet fever patients entrusted to us while the diphtheria patients are treated by the St. Joseph Hospital.

The occasion which has brought us together to-night is one of which we have had a number in past years. Five of our graduate nurses receive their diplomas and medals, after having served in the hospital three years, and passed successfully the examinations set for them by their medical examiners.

The Nicholls Hospital has reason to be proud of its graduates, many of them filling important positions on this side and in the United States and doing work to the credit of their Alma Mater.

It is worthy of notice that after years of work in New York we find in our present Assistant Superintendent one of our graduates.

I am sure we will all unite in congratulating the Graduating Class of 1904, and wishing them God speed in their chosen sphere.

A vocal solo, "The Stars of Normandy," was sung by Miss Helen Davies, following which Rev. J. A. Wilson, assistant pastor of St. Paul's church, gave the address to the nurses.

ADDRESS TO NURSES.

Mr. Wilson congratulated the Board of Trustees on the excellent work accomplished during the past year and as one of the clergy he had had the opportunity of visiting the hospital on frequent occasions and had seen much of the work done there by Miss Coleman and her excellent staff. He wished also to thank the Board for the honour in being asked to address the nurses in general and the graduates in particular on this occasion of the Commencement Exercises. This latter term was properly used because they were about to embark on their life work and an unknown future was before them, a path not all roses, a road no all sunshine but a way of arduous toil. The commencement in any department of life was always an important period. With the child in commencing school, the youth in commencing college, the young man commencing business, much depends upon how the foundation is laid and with you, the foundation has been well and truly laid. You have all passed creditable examinations but you must keep on learning, for new things are continually arising and must keep abreast of the times. Experience as well as books must be your teacher; be observant and let nothing escape you and by experience pick up and go on from one form of perfection to another until you become thoroughly proficient in your art.

The foundation is important but the superstructure is also of great importance. The former is often below the ground, but the latter is in sight of all. There may be great demonstration with the blare of trumpets at the completion of the foundation but in after years the people will not think of that, but as they pass by will look at the superstructure and think of its beauty and usefulness. And so it is with you graduating nurses. You have laid the foundation and to-night amid the blaze of light and sound of music the corner stone is laid. To-morrow the superstructure begins. See to it that the structure you build is one of beauty and usefulness. Your profession though comparatively a new one is a noble one and takes a front rank in the professions. The mission of Christ on earth was to preach, heal and save, and you as nurses, stand side by side with the clergymen and physicians. You and we have a Christ-like work to perform. He came not to be ministered unto but to minister, and in the same way sad hearts look to you to be comforted, pain-racked bodies look to you to be eased, drooping spirits look to you to be revived, darkened lives look back to you to be brightened.

Sixty years ago trained nurses were almost unknown, but now in all Christian lands we have well-trained and educated women, who are looked upon as the most helpful assistants to physicians, and are angels of mercy to thousands. The great impulse to the nursing movement was given about the time of the Crimean war, when Florence Nightingale gave her life to relieve the sick and distressed. She was a young lady of refinement and culture, deeply interested in the welfare of the sick, and who fitted herself for nursing by careful study and by practical experience. Since that time fifty years have gone, and hospitals are now found the world over.

A woman is admirably adapted for such work. In sickness there is no hand and heart like hers, no ear so quick to detect the faintest cry, so step so soft, no voice so low, and full of sweet sympathy, comfort and devotion. We hear of the age of the martyrs, and the toils and perils of the missionary, but though without the blazon of trumpets or the beat of drums, we have here in the life of the nurse a true roll call of heroines, womanhood at its noblest and best, with no weapons but those of love, no bannerets but those of mercy, a host of ministering angels.

The extent of your influence is great, and though your reward may not come here it will come there. Cultivate all the graces of womanhood, patience, gentleness, tenderness, self control, unselfishness and sympathy. Treat the poor and rich alike, for the poor have hearts as well as the rich. Put your whole heart into your work, for half heartedness means failure. Nursing is your life work, and will be what you make it. Do not forget in devotion to your profession, devotion to your Heavenly Father. Sit much at His feet; drink much at His fountain; feed much at His table, and imbibe much of His spirit. Remember what Christ has done for your sex and for the race at large. Be witnesses of that Christianity, never lend countenance to the scoffer, and speak a word for Christ, when it is opportune. The time will come when you will pass beyond the sighs of this life to enter that higher land where there is no more sickness nor sorrow.

CHARGE TO NURSES.

After a solo, "The Brave Sentinel," by Mr. R. N. Jolliffe, Dr. M. McClelland read the following charge to the nurses:

"Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen,—

"To address this class of graduate nurses is an honour and an operation the delicacy of which I am keenly conscious. I congratulate you, ladies, upon your graduation, which is a guarantee that you are master of the situation, from an earnest desire to excel in the great profession in which you are enlisted. I also congratulate you upon your choice of a profession, and it is base calumny to say that anyone, much less a nurse, is raised to heroic action by ease, hope of pleasure, or recompense.

"When Florence Nightingale, or Grace Darling, or Ida Lewis, unselfish and unheralded, peril all to succor and to save, the profoundest and holiest emotion of our nature, render them tribute and homage. The ship foundering at sea depends for safety upon the skill of the pilot, and the fortitude, obedience and vigilance of the captain and crew. Here you have an example of the reciprocal dependence and trust of patient, physician and nurse.

"The patient's safety is always paramount, and that can only be guarded by your unqualified obedience and loyalty to the physician. From the nature of things you are destined to many defeats that by your strong personality and clean and wholesome character you can turn to conquests. When the last faltering accents of your patient tremblingly implore you: "What are the wild waves saying" or "Cordelia, Cordelia stay a little," you have earth's greatest privilege, always doing the will of Him who said, "For as much as ye have done it unto one of the least of these My brethren, ye have done it unto Me."

DIPLOMAS AND MEDALS.

The presentation of diplomas to the five graduates was then made by the chairman, amid the applause of the audience, and Miss S. M. Coleman, superintendent, presented each with a medal.

Mr. J. Laurence sang "The Girl of My Heart," after which Master Wilfrid Hall, son of Mr. Richard Hall, presented each of the graduates with a beautiful bouquet of flowers.

Miss Alma F. McCollum recited two selections, "Forgetting," and 'Birds."

The presentation of the bandaging prize was made by Dr. Morgan to Miss Jenkins. The work done by all the nurses had been excellent, and much credit was due Miss Jenkins on being awarded the first prize.

VALEDICTORY.

Miss Davies sang "Dear Heart," after which Mrs. Helen Richardson read the following valedictory:

Mr. Chairman, Lady Superintendent and Friends, — The time has come for the graduating nurses of 1904 to say good-bye to their Alma Mater, and I take this opportunity of saying that I feel highly honoured in being chosen Valedictorian for the year.

Our three years' sojourn in the Nicholls Hospital has impressed us with the nobility of our chosen profession for we have had many opportunities of extending sympathy to those in trouble, of cheering those who are downcast and of relieving those whose bodies were racked with pain.

Looking back over those years of under-graduate life gives us much pleasure, also brings to our minds the fact that we owe a great deal o the Hospital and should hold very dear the revered memory of its munificent founder, the late Charlotte Jane Nicholls.

We feel that we have had such a training as will enable us not only to gain a respectable livelihood, but also to become useful members of society, and so do our share in making the rough places in the pathways of the afflicted a little smoother.

It has been our great fortune to be in training under two very efficient Lady Superintendents, Miss Bolster and Miss Coleman, who both, by their words of cheer and sympathy in times of discouragement and difficulty, by their patience and consideration in correcting our mistakes, and their insistance on the systematic performance of every detail of duty have won our gratitude, respect and admiration.

We appreciated particularly the kindly interest shown by the present Superintendent in what we might term the little affairs of every day life. If we had any private grief to bear, her sympathy was not wanting. If anything particularly interested us, it was not too trivial to be of interest to her. This feature in her character does a great deal to make the social life of the institution very pleasant and helpful. When we leave the Hospital we shall miss her wise counsel in matters professional and the quiet unobtrusive influence of a devoted life upon our characters.

In this review of association with the Nicholls Hospital we would be very ungrateful indeed, should we forget the physicians of the town, who have done so much to make our years of student life so profitable and pleasant. We admire the skill they have displayed in their professional duties and appreciate very highly their ability and tact in instructing us in all they considered important to success in our life work. We hope that the present occasion may not terminate our associations with them, but that they may have many opportunities of perfecting the training of which they have already so ably laid the foundation. Dr. Greer in addressing a former graduating class quoted these lines of Sir Walter Scott:

"Oh, woman! In our houses of ease
Uncertain, coy, and hard to please,
And variableness the shade
By the light, quivering aspen made
When pain and anguish wry the brow
A ministering angel thou."

If the closing lines were true of our sisters in the poet's time, surely it is true to these, trained in the light of modern scientific investigation.

In conclusion we bid our Alma Mater and all connected with her, an affectionate farewell, and earnestly wish for her very many successful years in the good work which she now carries on.

The accompanists were Miss Davies, Prof. Davies and Mr. J. Crane.

The hospital examiners are T. N. H. Young, M.D., F. Bradd, M.D., M. McClelland, M.D., J. A. Morgan, M.D.

The local board of trustees is as follows: Richard Hall, Esq., chairman, W. H. Hill, Esq., Hon. Secretary, Chas. McGill, Esq., Rev. J. G. Potter, Wm. Madill, Esq., A. P. Ponsonby, Esq., John McClelland, Esq., T. H. Adams, Esq., John Crane, Esq., treasurer, Jas. Stevenson, Esq., Wm. Aldridge, Esq., John Green, Esq., J. J. McBain, Esq., G. M. Roger, Esq., Mayor (ex-officio), Rev. J. G. Lewis.

The superintendent is Miss S. Margaret Coleman; and the assistant Miss Helen A. Coleman.

THE STORE THAT NEVER DISAPPOINTS

Most Important Hit We Ever Made.

Never before have we been so fortunate in securing the very latest styles in Women's and Children's Coats at this season. The problem of securing Coats is probably one of the most difficult of any of the American and Canadian merchant. Retailers in Canada have three ways before them—

1. Buy of Canadian Manufacturers.
2. Buy of Agents from Berlin who come for orders in May.
3. Go direct to Berlin and buy when latest styles originate.

The first is a good way if you could leave it till October to do your buying. The second plan is bad as agents in May show last year's styles. The third plan is the correct way.

This season, for instance, all early buyers are showing LAST YEAR'S SLEEVE AND CAPE EFFECTS which are DOWN AND OUT. There are two leading styles this season.

1. The Tourist, a three-quarter loose back model, with or without belt.
2. The 24 inch tight fitting tan and black Coats with leg-o'-mutton sleeves.

having a natty fullness at the top and tapering off gradually at the cuff.

OUTLOOK BRIGHT IN QUEBEC PROVINCE

Laurier Administration Will be Overwhelmingly Supported in the East.

Mr. Cherrier, a Quebec M.P.P., a Visitor in Town, Addresses Liberal Workers.

Last night at the Liberal Committee Rooms on Simcoe street, a good crowd of workers gathered, and some splendid work was done on the registration vote. The committee are all working enthusiastically, and with a vigour and vim which augurs well for the success of the Liberal candidate, Mr. R. R. Hall.

The ranks of the workers are being added to nearly every night by men who appreciate the value of good government, and who are anxious to see the Liberal Administration returned, and the local supporter of that progressive administration elected. A large number of business men were present last night and worked as energetically as the others.

A pleasant feature of last night's meeting was the presence of Mr. Cherrier, M.PP., of Laprairie, Que., who was in town for a few days visiting his son. Mr. Cherrier is a member of the Quebec Legislature, and an enthusiastic Liberal, and upon his arrival in town naturally looked up the Liberal Committee Rooms, where he received a warm welcome, and as soon as his presence became known an address was demanded from him.

The Quebec Liberal was introduced by Mr. F. D. Kerr in a few words, and the speaker received a very warm welcome.

Mr. Cherrier expressed his pleasure at being present, and was also gratified to see such enthusiasm displayed by the workers, and such confidence in the Liberal party. Speaking of the record of the Laurier Government, Mr. Cherrier said that it had been one in the direct interests of the people, and characterized the Post Office Department's administration of that important branch, as being in itself sufficient reason for a return of the party to power.

Concerning the outlook in Quebec, Mr. Cherrier said that he expected from present appearances that the province would do even better for Laurier than during the last parliament. He urged the Liberals of this Riding to put in good hard work between now and the date of the election, and hoped that West Peterborough would be found in the Liberal column.

Mr. Cherrier's words were heartily applauded, and upon the conclusion of his speech he was given three hearty cheers.

INCREASING USE OF CONCRETE CEMENT.

Large Contracts in Which This Material is Used.

Platform Completely Around G. T. R. Station—St. Peter's Cathedral's New Walks—Also Used by Machine Telephone Co.

The use of cement concrete has during the past season in Peterborough been more largely used than ever before, and its many advantages are bringing it into popular favour.

The Grand Trunk Railway Company is laying down a platform of concrete completely around its station, and connecting with the walk on Charlotte street. This will probably be the largest body of concrete ever laid in Peterborough, and is a tribute to the worth of that article.

Another large piece of work is that which is just about completed at St. Peter's cathedral. A concrete platform has been laid across the entire front of the church, between the fence and the building, and steps of the same material have been constructed at all the entrances of the cathedral.

The Canadian Machine Telephone Company, too, is an extensive user of concrete. The conduits of wood fibre, in which the cables are contained, are being laid in a bed of cement, and also covered with a layer of it. This method will be pursued in all the Telephone Company's underground work from Charlotte to Dublin streets on George street, and will make a splendid job Another thing about the work of the company which commends itself, is the manner in which the road is left after the excavations have been filled in again. The work is filled in level with the noticeable in most of the excavation streets, and the raised "graves" so work made in sewer and waterworks excavations, is conspicuous by its absence, on looking at the work done by this company. It might be mentioned also in this connection that the Machine Telephone Company has erected scores of poles in the northern and western portions of the town, and after each pole has been erected, the workmen have removed all surplus soil from the excavation from the post hole, and placed sod around the pole, where there was sod previously. While a citizen may not consider that his premises are beautified by having a graceful telephone pole in front of them, yet they are not disfigured by having an unshapely pile of earth as well.

BOAT BURNED TO WATER'S EDGE.

Steamer "North Star" Destroyed at Gore's Landing.

Loss About $2,000, Half of Which is Covered by Insurance—The Origin of Fire a Mystery.

Captain Harris of the steamer North Star has apparently been running in hard luck this season and the climax came last Sunday when his steamer was burned to the water's edge while laying at the Gore's Landing wharf and practically totally destroyed. The steamer had just made a trip down from Peterborough Saturday evening with a cargo of merchandise, which was still on the boat when the craft fell a prey to the devouring flames.

The origin of the fire is a complete mystery. Mr. Jas. Snyder, owner of the Sovereign who was at Harwood on Sunday, was an eye witness of the conflagration. Mr. Snyder said that about twenty minutes after twelve, Sunday noon, he was on deck and happened to look across the lake towards Gore's landing, saw smoke in the vicinity of the North Star. He got his marine glass and by its aid he saw that the steamer was in flames. At once steam was generated in the boilers of the Sovereign and the boat put out to assist the North Star if possible. When Gore's landing was reached, however, it was seen that it was too far gone to save from destruction, and although everything possible was done to prevent her total destruction, the effort was unavailing.

There was no one on the steamer just at the time that the fire occurred, but the engineers had left it just a few minutes before fire was discovered, and when he left there was no sign of fire.

After the fire once started it burned with remarkable rapidity and within half an hour from the time that it was first noticed the boat was a wreck.

The loss to Mr. Harris will be a severe one, as it is understood that there was very little insurance on the steamer, not more than sufficient to pay for the engine with which it was equipped.

The North Star was built for Mr. H. Calcutt about 10 years ago by Hickey and Sons, the boat builders, and was run for some years in connection with the Calcutt line of steamers. She was later sold to the Nicholls estate, and eventually became the property of Mr. Harris, of Gore's Landing, and has run between Rice Lake ports and Peterborough ever since she was built.

The steamer, according to an independent valuation, was worth about $2,000, a new compound engine having been placed in her some few years ago, shortly after the boat became the property of Capt. Harris.

The North Star was one of the most popular boats on the Otonabee waters, and was used largely for excursion purposes, while before the excursion season and after its close an extensive freight hauling business was done.

The insurance was about $1,000, which will about half cover the loss.

It is not known yet whether Mr. Harris will rebuild the steamer or not.

THE KENDRY-BORDEN MEETING

It may be interesting, and instructive, to deal briefly with the meeting in the rink on Saturday night, from the standpoint of Mr. Kendry, the unnominated Conservative candidate, he being the central figure from a local view point.

Mr. Kendry's address was characteristic in matter and manner. The very first sentence of his speech, referring to himself, was a false declaration — "I have represented the riding for eight years." Mr. Kendry may, from his point of view, think that he has done so, but the facts are that during the past eight years West Peterborough has not had the attention paid to its affairs, and local interests, such as is expected from a live, and alert, representative. As a matter of fact, in local circles, his discharge of his "representative" duties has been a standing joke, in reference to which more detailed reference can be tellingly made.

The only sphere in which Mr. Kendry has shown any zeal as a member is in speaking out, for his own interests, as involved in the interests of the industry he is mainly interested in. He said at the meeting that, in spite of Liberal claims of prosperity, millions of capital were going to waste in the woollen industry from lack of protection. What protection does he demand? That industry has had a tariff of 23 per cent. under the preference, and last session it was advanced to 30 per cent., net. It seems that an industry which, after years of protection at a high tariff, with a present tariff of 30 per cent., and exemption from municipal taxation, cannot stand competition, is not adapted to this country, and Mr. Kendry himself says as much. The Auburn Mills have been, and are, running steadily, as Mr. Kendry admits, and he also explains why these mills have not been ruined from lack of protection. In an interview in the Toronto News, on August 29th, Mr. Kendry says the Auburn Woollen Mills are "running steadily, because they make only high grade goods, for which there is a better market than for the cheaper lines."

And Mr. Kendry wants to destroy the preference which admits the cheaper grades of woollen goods, which the great mass of the people can afford to buy. He demands a stiff enough tariff to exclude these goods, so that Canadian mills will be able to put up the price high enough to make the manufacture of "shoddy" profitable, and force the Canadian consumer to buy them at an advanced price, fixed by the manufacturer, which he will be enabled to do, if British goods are shut out.

It is well known that woollen mills well equipped with the latest machinery can run well, and at a profit, and the present tariff affords ample protection for all woollen mills that are properly managed and have sufficient capital. There is in Cobourg a woollen mill which the organizer of the woollen combination said wasn't worth buying. It was later equipped with modern and sufficient machinery, special lines adopted, and it is now said to be running steadily and profitably, day and night.

Mr. Kendry expects the farmers to support him because the Conservatives had made a home market, yet a minute afterwards he contradicted himself, saying he was utterly opposed to immigration. He said, "we are bringing too many people into this country." He condemned the Government for its immigration policy. He would "never vote for such a policy." "He believed in having Canadian people only." How much of a home market would he have if he had Canadian people only? Where would he get his home market for the farmers if we only had "Canadian people" — people born in Canada. At that rate he would drive out millions of our people who have been "brought into Canada," — not born here. Under the Liberal Government over half a million, chiefly British and Americans, have come into the Northwest to swell our home market. We have in Canada about two hundred million acres of land fit for settlement. How in the name of heaven is this to be settled if we exclude immigration? And Mr. Kendry talked this rot, with the motto "Home market for our Farmers," staring him in the face, and laughing at him. Why—but his position and argument are too absurd to deserve serious criticism — a child working in a woollen factory all night, at 75 cents a night, would know better.

Mr. Kendry, as well as his leader, made an appeal to the electors to restore the National Policy. Mr. Kendry admitted that Peterborough was "increasing," but not so fast as if we had the Conservative policy. Why didn't Peterborough "increase" under eighteen years of Conservative policy. As a matter of fact, Peterborough has forged ahead much more rapidly under the last eight years of Liberal than under the full eighteen years of Conservative rule. If the National Policy could not, or did not, make Peterborough hum as it is humming now, and has hummed for the past eight years of Liberal rule, would Mr. Kendry's "policy" do any better now than it did in the dull old days? No one will honestly say so, but all agree that it's better to keep what we have. Keep our prosperity under a rational tariff, which helps manufacturers by cheapening raw material, and sends activity and growth through every avenue of industry and commerce.

Mr. Kendry's repeated references to Laurier's "physical" policy, had a larger significance than a mere slip of the tongue. He blundered into a great truth. Laurier's policy is a "physical" policy, for under its application the national body has been solidly built up. Material progress has been rampant, and Laurier's "physical" policy has brought the greatest era of solid growth, and imperial advancement the Dominion has known since it was a Dominion. What we have we'll hold. Keep both hands on the full dinner pail.

Space forbids any further polishing to-day of the uncut gems of Mr. Kendry's opening campaign speech.

The Liberals of East Durham held a convention yesterday to nominate a candidate. Some may think that it was a useless trouble. Hon. Mr. Aylesworth was to be the candidate any way. But he was too humble a man, too modest to pitchfork himself upon a constituency without the formality of a nomination.

A Big Meeting.

A big meeting and an intensely interesting and forcible address were the features of the popular Men's meeting at the Y.M.C.A. on Sunday. Mr. P. K. Holmes, physical director, was the speaker. The Song Service, led by the male choir, under the able leadership of Mr. Herd, and the solo by Mr. Freund, added much to the meeting. Rev. Dr. Crothers will give his second address next Sunday. Subject, "A Strong Man."

Gymnasium Men's Club.

The Gymnasium Men's Bible Study Club started last Tuesday evening. A good beginning was made which indicates a large and successful club. It meets at 6.20 p. m., and takes tea, then the lesson topic is taken up and informally discussed until 7.45. This club meets every Tuesday evening and is for the gymnasium men exclusively. It will be lead by the Physical Director.

7 Sutherland Sisters' HAIR GROWER

Miss Ina Roadhouse, Peterboro' Ontario Seven Sutherland Sisters' Hair Grower and Scalp Cleaner shown results from the very first. Here is more proof that we have the greatest hair grower ashamed ever purchased.

Seven Sutherland Sisters' Hair Grower, [illegible] Dear Ladies,—Having been benefited by the use of your Hair Grower, I thought you would be interested in my case. I had a bad case of dandruff, which caused my hair to fall out very much. I used one bottle of your Hair Grower and Scalp Cleaner, and the dandruff disappeared entirely, and my hair stopped coming out. I would say it is the best hair grower I ever used, and I have used one of your large sized bottles. I have also used your Scalp Cleaner, and find it a splendid preparation for the hair. I would not be without it for the price. I am recommending it to my friends, as I think it is the best hair grower on the market. Yours truly, Ina Roadhouse. Peterboro' Ont., Mar 8th.

Two sizes, Hair Grower 50c and $1.00; Scalp Cleaner 25c. The only dandruff cure. For shampooing it has no equal. At all druggists.

NOT JUST AS GOOD

Did you ever inquire at a store for certain articles and get for a reply "We have something just as good"? Did it ever occur to you that "Something just as good" is something the dealer has been able to buy much cheaper than the articles you inquire for? This is true in drugs, fabrics, groceries, hardware, and in fact every line, including silver-plated ware. If you inquire for 1847 Rogers Bros.' Knives, Forks or Spoons, don't accept any bogus Rogers' stamp because your dealer tells you it's just as good.

HEAD-ON COLLISION

Fatal World's Fair Excursion Train Wreck.

28 PERSONS WERE KILLED

Sixty People Were Injured in the Telescoped Cars On the Missouri Pacific Railway Near Warrensburg, Mo., On Monday—Disaster Due to Mistake of the Freight's Conductor.

Warrensburg, Mo., Oct. 11.—Twenty-eight persons were killed and 60 injured by a head-on collision of Missouri Pacific trains, three miles east of Warrensburg, yesterday. The trains were the second section of a passenger train from Wichita for St. Louis, and an extra freight train.

Most of the dead were residents of Missouri and Kansas, as are the injured.

The passenger train, consisting of two day coaches, a Pullman and a caboose, was loaded with World's Fair excursionists from Southeastern Kansas and Southwestern Missouri. The Wichita passenger train had been cut in two at Pleasant Hill on account of the heavy load and a locomotive attached to the front car, without a baggage car as a buffer.

The extra freight had been sidetracked at Montserrat for the first section of the Wichita train, which carried signals that a second section was following. A local passenger train passed and the freight crew took the local for the second section of the Wichita train and pulled out of the side-track. Three miles west the freight met the second section.

The impact telescoped the tender of the passenger locomotive and the front car, which was full of passengers, and it was here that the sacrifice of life took place. The passenger conductor, E. L. Barns, ran all the way to Warrensburg to report the wreck. Every physician in Warrensburg and hundreds of citizens hastened to the wreck to assist the wounded. Twenty persons were killed outright and seven died within a few hours. The dead were placed on flat cars and brought to Warrensburg.

A coroner's jury is now seeking to fix the responsibility for the wreck.

The conductor of the freight train says he was dozing while his train was at Montserrat, and when the local train passed Engineer Horton believed it was the second section of the Wichita train, and thinking the track clear, pulled out on the main line.

FEELING HIGH AT SARNIA.

Electricity Advocated As a Preventative of Further Tunnel Accidents.

Sarnia, Oct. 11.—Feeling here is at a high pitch as it is felt that some measures must be taken immediately to change the condition of operation at the tunnel, so as to eliminate the terrible danger to employes from coal gas. The tunnel was in full operation yesterday, and there is nothing to prevent a recurrence of Sunday's horror at any moment. The tunnel is a mile in length, and is entirely without ventilation according to the railway men.

At one time it is stated that a system of forced draughts was tried, but it was found that the results were unsatisfactory, and for several years past the suction caused by the moving trains has been relied upon to clear the air of the big tube. When a train goes through the tunnel the current of air follows it, and in ten minutes the air is comparatively pure. When a train is stalled or breaks a coupling as is frequently the case the situation of the crew becomes precarious, as the air is blocked and the coal gas has no outlet. In such cases it is common

Electricity a Complete Remedy.

Four deaths have occurred in this way in the past six years, and from time to time announcements have been made that the tunnel would be operated by electricity, which would be a complete remedy for the present condition. In 1893 Conductor George Hawthorne was overcome by the gas and was taken out dead. In November, 1897, a freight in charge of Conductor Ed. Dunn of Sarnia, Engineer Pat Courtney of Port Huron, Brakeman Joe Daltoff and William Potter and Fireman William Duncan was stalled in the tunnel, and the men were overcome by gas. Potter was demented for some time as a result, Duncan was also incapacitated. Dunn, Dalton and Courtney were corpses before they were carried to the portal. Suits were commenced against the railway at that time on the ground of negligence in not ventilating the tunnel, but were settled out of court by the company.

Other Tragedies.

In December of last year a track walker named Joseph Boyd became violently insane, murdered his wife and committed suicide. At the coroner's inquest medical evidence showed that before his death his health had failed, and that he was subject to periods of eccentricity, which he had attributed to the length of time he was compelled to spend in the tunnel. The coroner's jury found that the double tragedy was due to the indirect effect of the noxious gases.

In addition to this record there have been other cases of men rescued in an unconscious condition. Recently three section men were carried out stupified, but ultimately recovered.

Bib Pierced His Heart.

Toronto, Oct. 11.—Murdock Cameron, an employe of the Consumers' Gas Co., was instantly killed yesterday afternoon. He was digging a drain at the foot of Berkeley street when the earth caved in on top of him breaking a rib, which pierced his heart. He had worked for the Gas Company for 20 years was 50 years of age and leaves a grown up family.

Killed By a Train.

Tweed, Oct. 11.—George Freeman, a young man about 22 years of age, in the employ of John Comer, harnessmaker here, was killed while trying to board a C.P.R. freight yesterday morning. He tried to catch a car while in motion, but the train was going too fast and swung him back against the car, breaking his back. He was killed instantly. His parents reside near Norwood.

Killed By a Horse.

Lariviere, Man., Oct. 11.—Raymond Jubinville, a 5-year-old boy, was kicked on the head by a horse shortly before noon yesterday, and is not expected to live. The boy was leading the horse from his father's stable when it became frisky and bolted away, hurled the boy to the ground, kicking him as he fell.

Killed Near Huntsville.

Huntsville, Oct. 11.—On Saturday, on Malcolm McMillan's farm, in the Township of Brunel, a Barnardo boy named Joseph Hazel was killed. He was moving a stumping machine, when one of the links slipped. The boy ran, but one of the braces hit him on the neck and killed him instantly. He was 14 years of age.

Woman's Narrow Escape.

Lucan, Oct. 11.—The brick dwelling and two barns belonging to Henry C. Hodgins, on the fourth concession of Biddulph, two miles from this place, were completely demolished by a wind storm at 6 o'clock last evening. Mrs. Hodgins, who was in the front part of the house, was buried under four feet of debris, but escaped with slight injuries.

100 Buried Under Wall.

Santiago, Chile, Oct. 11.—One hundred workmen were buried by the fall yesterday of walls in course of erection for an extension of the Casa Pra stores in this city. Up to the present 15 corpses and 40 wounded have been removed from the ruins. The fire brigade has been called out to assist in the removal of the dead and wounded. The walls, which were constructed of iron and cement, had reached a height of four stories. There is much indignation against the architect who planned and had charge of the work.

Missed a Few.

"Yes," said the clerk at the Skinnem house, "we have 1,800 servants."

"Well," said the departing guest, "I must have overlooked four or five. I'm quite sure I haven't tipped that many."

SPECKS BEFORE THE EYES.

Seeing Things In The Day Time.

There are Thousands of Persons Afflicted This Way. Ninety-Nine Times Out of One Hundred it is Caused by Either the Liver, Stomach, Bowels or Digestive Organs.

In no part of the body are the effects of constipation more quickly noticed than in the condition of the eyes. They quickly respond to the poisonous elements which are absorbed into the blood in chronic cases of liver torpidity and sluggish bowel action. When you see a yellowish tinge in the whites of the eyes it shows quickly the biliousness which pervades the whole system; but it is the specks and flitting objects in the vision itself that are even more quickly apparent. Thousands of people see things in the daytime; their vision is blurred, spots come between them and other objects which seem quite intangible, almost imaginary, and as they turn their heads they vanish as with a flash. Such conditions can always be traced to a torpid liver and a congested condition of the bowels, yet can always be cured by the well-advised use of Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills, which cure constipation as if by magic. They regulate the functions of the liver, cleanse the poisons from the blood, remove the bilious elements from the circulation and strengthen the nerves. If your eyes are clouded without an appreciable cause, if you have specks and floating objects before your vision, use Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills and get the poisonous elements out of your blood. Remember they always cure sick headache, constipation and biliousness in one night. 25 cents, all dealers.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Unchanged—Little Change in Prices on Montreal Market.

London, Oct. 10.—Cattle are steady at 5¼c to 12¾c per lb.; refrigerator beef, 9¾c per lb. Sheep, 10¼c to 11¾c, dressed weight.

TORONTO JUNCTION LIVE STOCK.

Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock yards, Toronto Junction, were large, 100 cars, composed of 2124 cattle, 98 sheep and 12 calves.

With the exception of two or three loads the quality of butchers' cattle was not what it generally is on this market. The bulk of the loads were composed of little heifers, mixed with a few lean steers and some old cows. More good to choice quality cattle were wanted.

Prices for the good butchers ranged from $4.25 to $4.40, but there were only two loads of these. The balance of the mixed loads sold at $3.05 to $4 per cwt., rough inferior lots sold at $2.75 to $3.25 per cwt.

There were several loads of feeding steers as well as bulls. Several loads of short-keep feeders, 1200 to 1225 lbs. each, were sold by McDonald & Maybee at $4 per cwt., and 1 load at $4.10 per cwt. The steers averaging 900 to 1000 lbs. each, sold at $3.40 to $3.70 per cwt. Distillery bulls, of which there was a large number, sold at $2.25 to $3, the bulk going at $2.50 to $2.75 per cwt.

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

Montreal, Oct. 10.—About 1000 head of cattle, 70 calves, 700 sheep and lambs, and 200 fat hogs were offered for sale at the East End Abattoir to-day. The butchers were out strong and trade was fair for good cattle, but prices were easier all round. Prime beeves sold at 4¼c to 4¾c, but some of them were extra quality; good medium sold at 3¾c to a little over 4c; ordinary mediums, 3c to 3½c; the common stock, 2c to 2½c, and the small bulls, 1½c to 2c per lb. Some of the calves were very lean graziers, which sold at about 2c per lb.; the others sold at 3c to 4½c per lb. Shipping sheep are 3½c and the others 2¾c to 3 c per lb. Lambs are from 4c to 4½c per lb. Fat hogs sold at 4½c to 5¼c per lb.

FOR EMPIRE POLICY.

Great Britain Must Decide What She She Will Give.

London, Oct. 11.—(C.A.P.)—The Glasgow Herald says it is time that the issue be put directly to the people of this country. Great Britain must make up her mind what she is prepared to give in the way of preference before calling a conference. Any other course would be unfair to the colonies, whether it involved one general election or two.

Rosebery Misquoted.

The Chronicle says Mr. Chamberlain is forever misquoting the speech in Leeds, in which Lord Rosebery spoke of "some sacrifice" as necessary in order to obtain the boon of a strong and united Empire. It was as the context shows of sacrifices of British monopoly in the political administrative sphere of which he was thinking. There are many problems awaiting discussion in this sphere, problems of which more than one incident in recent policy, Alaska, for instance, and Newfoundland, has shown the importance. It is then a complete misapprehension to suppose that the opposition to the Balfour-Chamberlain conference involves the Liberal party in a policy of mere negation in inter-Imperial affairs.

Oppose Preference to Canada.

Sir Charles Dilke, M.P., speaking at Newport, said that the interests of the United Kingdom and of India and of the overwhelming bulk of the population and trade and shipping of the Empire were against a preference in the interest of Canada, but, on the other hand, favor a preference in favor of the greatest trade. Australia could not be benefited by it, although some interests in certain parts could.

Morley Sails On Friday.

London, Oct. 11.—(C. A. P.)—Rt. Hon. John Morley, M.P., sails for New York per the SS. Celtic on Friday, and is expected to proceed at once to Canada.

Only the Actual Cost.

Ottawa, Oct. 11.—The Railway Commission's judgment in the case of the Ontario fruit growers approves of the agreement between the applicants and railways, and orders that only the actual cost of icing be charged. The board upheld the increased rate of the G.T.R. on the complaint of the united factories.

Gets $600 From Railway.

London, Oct. 11.—At the Assize Court yesterday morning, in the case Barris v. Pere Marquette Railway, the plaintiff was awarded $600 damages. Plaintiff suffered injuries early in the summer while riding on the steps of an over-crowded coach on a Port Stanley excursion.

To Enliven the Liver

AID DIGESTION AND REGULATE THE ACTION OF THE BOWELS YOU MUST USE

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills

It is the liver that is largely responsible for indigestion and constipation — derangements that are a constant source of trouble.

The bile, which, when left in the blood, is a poison to the system, causing biliousness, head ache and muddy complexion, becomes of priceless value when passed into the intestines to aid digestion and ensure regular action of the bowels.

The healthy liver separates bile from the blood and sends it into the intestines.

IF YOU FIND YOUR LIVER SLUGGISH AND TORPID IN ACTION, DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS WILL BRING RELIEF AND CURE MORE PROMPTLY THAN ANY TREATMENT YOU COULD FIND.

By enlivening the action of the liver they remove the cause of biliousness, headache, indigestion, constipation and other accompanying symptoms.

This specific action of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills on the liver is what makes them of so great worth as a family medicine and ensures them a lasting place in the home.

MR. ROGERS CLANCY, farmer, Chepstowe, Bruce County, Ont., writes: "I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and would say there is no medicine that equals them as a cure for stomach troubles, biliousness, torpid liver and headache. I was troubled a great deal with these ailments before using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and they have proved wonderfully successful in my case."

One pill a dose at bedtime and Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will ensure healthful, regular action of the kidneys, liver and bowels; 25 cents a box at all druggists, or Edmanson, EBates, & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box. 2

TALKATIVE WOMEN.

A Word in Favor of the Much Abused Chatterboxes.

The virtue of silence has often been overrated, for there are times when the most reckless of talkers cannot do so much harm or wound so cruelly as the person who holds peace. The old proverb hath it that "speech is silver and silence is golden," but nevertheless silence is not always golden. It sometimes partakes of a leaden quality and descends with crushing force upon an assembly. Theoretically it is a quality that commands the highest admiration, but practically it is a virtue that is sometimes better honored in the breach than in the observance, says the Providence Journal.

There is certainly much to be said for the woman who chatters as blithely as a canary, and there are many times when she is to be preferred to the one who wraps herself in an awful silence, under whose baneful influence all cheerfulness dies.

Behind the power and knowledge which make any one capable of enriching social life with reviving conversation must lie, as a foundation, the earnest desire to give pleasure independent of what one may receive in return and a sense of duty regarding those whom we meet in the world.

The young woman who goes into the world of society to which circumstances give her the open door with the capability of interesting and rousing a cheerful flow of pleasant conversation has an assurance of enjoyment wherever she appears.

Going for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Don't put yourself in this man's place but keep a bottle of this remedy in your home. There is nothing so good for Colic, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery and Diarrhoea. It is equally valuable for Summer Complaint and Cholera Infantum and has saved the lives of more children than any other medicine in use. When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take.

You, or some one of your family, are sure to need this remedy sooner or later and when that time comes you will need it badly; you will need it quickly. Why not buy it now and be prepared for such an emergency? Price, 35 cents.

WOMAN'S WORLD

JULIA WARD HOWE.

A Poet, a Philanthropist and the Nestor of Reformers.

Julia Ward Howe, poet, philanthropist and Nestor of reformers, was born in New York city May 27, 1819, the daughter of a prosperous merchant. She was given every advantage in education that money could furnish. In 1843 she became the wife of Dr. Samuel G. Howe, famous for his work for the blind. She became deeply and actively interested in the antislavery movement in 1851, and ten years later, at the outbreak of the great civil war, she gave to the world her immortal "Battle Hymn of the Republic." At the close of the war, when the movement for equal rights for women loomed up so largely, she became identified with it. In 1869 she made her first speech before a Massachusetts legislative committee in behalf of woman suffrage, and few years have passed since that her voice has not been heard in the statehouse in the same cause. Prison reform, peace and religion have also received much attention from her. Recently Tufts college conferred upon her the degree of LL. D.—Boston Globe.

Common Sense in House Furnishing.

In furnishing a house the processes of imitation and of assimilation both come into play. There seems to be no such thing as absolute originality, but by absorbing one idea here and another there one finally produces a composite which is in a way one's own.

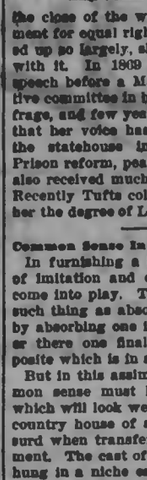
But in this assimilative process common sense must hold sway. Things which will look well in the great roomy country house of a friend may be absurd when transferred to a city apartment. The cast of the "Singing Boys" hung in a niche especially built for it may be a dominant note of beauty in a room, but in a small house, hung on a figured wall paper, it may become the one discordant thing in an otherwise pleasant little living room. This indiscriminate use of plaster casts is distressing, for a note of pure white in a room where the color is of a low rich tone is seldom pleasant. The white hits the eyes, as it were, so unless the cast is so beautiful that you dare let it challenge the attention do not buy it, or, if it is a gift, relegate it to some obscure corner.

It takes a little courage to dismiss from a room an article absolutely good and worthy, simply because it is inappropriate, but it is the thing to do. So also in buying. Unless where you consider buying an article you can picture it in your mind's eye as occupying the very position for which you design it, pass it by. It will not do. When this lesson is learned the most important step toward economy and fitness also has been taken.—Anne Higginson Spicer in House Beautiful.

AT HALF MAST.

Sometimes we are greeted in the morning by flags at half-mast for some prominent official who yesterday was apparently in perfect health. When we inquire the ailment by which he was stricken it is not uncommon to be told "acute indigestion" or "stomach trouble."

It is time people learned that indigestion or any form of "stomach trouble" is not a thing to trifle with. The result may not be fatal, but there can be no condition of diseased stomach which does not carry with it physical loss and weakness.



Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures indigestion and other forms of disease affecting the stomach and its allied organs of digestion and nutrition. It enables the perfect digestion and assimilation of food.

"Thanks to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes Mr. Charles B. Gernant, of Lehighton, Pa. "It is the only medicine that has done me any good. I tried everything I could think of to cure indigestion, and found I was only throwing away money. Then I heard of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and tried a bottle of it and to my joy found it was doing me good. I used six bottles of it, and am now cured. It is the best medicine on earth."

This grand remedy does its work in a thorough manner; it gives the health that is all health; the strength that is solid, substantial and lasting; not flabby fat, not false stimulus, but genuine, complete, renewed vitality and life force.

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach, blood and lungs.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation and its consequences.

Ebony Furniture.

Ebony furniture is very fashionable, and the demand for it has caused the manufacture of many imitations. Ebony is a very hard wood, and the genuine article is very expensive. Ebonized furniture is made of cheaper woods, which are stained to look like ebony. Ebonized furniture is not durable, as the stain soon wears off.

Tea Table Linen.

Tea table linen should be of the finest quality. Fine damask is the best, and the cloth should be large enough to hang well over the sides of the table. Tea napkins should be of the same material as the cloth, and should be large enough to be useful. Small napkins are a delusion and a snare.

Rag Rugs.

Rag rugs are more and more liked for bedrooms. They are made in most artistic combinations of color by the craftsmen and may be woven to order in tones to match any room. Rugs made of old ingrain carpet, especially if the carpet be all wool, are very satisfactory for simple rooms and upstairs halls. The carpet is cut into long strips about an inch wide, the longer the better, and rolled into balls for the loom. When pieces are sewed the joinings must be very neatly made. The warp has to be very heavy to hold the carpet well, and care should be taken that the weaver is a good one. The red warp is good with nearly all figured carpets.

Spanish Omelet.

The omelet espanol is constructed as follows: Make a sauce of a tablespoon of butter and the same of browned flour in a deep frying pan. When piping hot stir in a cup of canned tomato, half a cup of mushrooms sliced fine and the same quantity of minced ham. Season with red pepper, onion juice and salt. Let it simmer about eight minutes, then stir in four beaten eggs. Stir carefully as it thickens, and, when the eggs are set, serve on buttered toast.—Kyrie Bellew in Good Housekeeping.

Turned In Feet.

It takes long practice and patient endeavor to overcome the pigeontoed defect, for the fault is partly in the bones. Usually the pigeontoed person is knock kneed. Dancing is one of the best methods of correcting the habit of walking pigeontoed, but dancing alone will not suffice. A resolute, persistent effort to keep the feet straight and to walk correctly is the surest way of reaching the perfect.

The Breakfast Smile.

Be as bright and cheerful as possible at meal times, especially at breakfast. Begin the day with a smiling face, even if it does require an effort, and try to hold on to that smile as much as possible during the day. Surely there will be little gleams of sunshine now and then, no matter how cloudy the outlook, and even if the day is stormy and hard there is always a bright tomorrow to be hoped for.

Back Comb Scheme.

A woman whose handsome back comb was forever slipping out of her hair had a little gold chain attached to it by means of a tiny hole bored through the upper right hand corner. To the other end of the chain was attached a shell hairpin. This simple device saved her many anxious moments, and she still has her comb.

The Bran Bag.

The bran bag for the bath is best made of cheesecloth. It must necessarily be made fresh every time the bath is taken, as a bag once wet soon sours. To make the bag take equal parts of bran, oatmeal and starch and powdered castile soap.

If you would stay young associate a great deal with young people. Take a lively interest in their hopes and ambitions and enter into their sports with enthusiasm.

Alcohol will remove wax stains from cotton and linen. The frequent use of wax candles nowadays makes this worth remembering.

Fuel economy is an important feature in a range. Almost as important as good cooking facilities. Every housewife wants to do good cooking but she doesn't want it to cost her too much in fuel. The good cooking qualities of the are enhanced by its great fuel economy. The big scuttle of coal of other style ranges is replaced in Imperial Oxford homes by a smaller scuttle less often used.

The fire-box is evenly proportioned to the size of the oven, so there is no more fire needed than the size of range demands—no waste heat. The arrangement of flues and drafts concentrate the heat in the stove—it doesn't lose itself up the chimney.

PRISONER'S BOX WAS WELL FILLED

At To-day's Police Court—Suspended Sentence for Hobbins—Six Months for a Vag.

Archibald McDonald was arrested yesterday morning on a charge of vagrancy. He said that on August 20 h he had been released from serving a long term in the Central Prison. He appeared before Magistrate Dumble this morning and pleaded guilty to the charge of vagrancy.

"Six months in Central Prison" said His Worship, and Archie will go back to renew his old acquaintances with his former Central friends.

Joseph Hobbins who pleaded guilty last week on two charges of stealing appeared this morning to receive his judgment of the court. The Magistrate said that both charges against him were very serious ones, sufficient to send him to penitentiary for a lengthy term. As there was no criminal record against him and as a term in prison at his early age might be the means of causing him to follow the line of a criminal, the Magistrate had decided to give him a chance to make a change in his life for the better. He discharged Hobbins on suspended sentence.

James Hayes and Robert Baker were charged with cruelly abusing a horse. They were remanded until Tuesday.

Peter Hefe was charged with creating a disturbance on October 9th. Peter was not present to answer to the charge and after two witnesses were heard, it was concluded that he was guilty. He was fined 15 and costs or $11.65 altogether to be paid in ten days.

RUGBY.

• • • •

The locals will have a hard game at Toronto on Saturday. The decisive victory of the Torontos over the Argos on Saturday shows that the former team is a very strong one and the Petcroros will have to play their very best to beat them. A win for the locals will go a long way towards determining the district championship.

• • • •

The Victorias have lost two games and are practically out of the running.

• • • •

The locals' back division for Saturday's game will likely be the same as against the Argos here.

• • • •

Varsity lost to McGill by 9-8 on Saturday. A. W. McPherson captained the Toronto team.

• • • •

The game between Hamilton and London will practically settle the championship of the western division of the senior O. R. F. U. series.

• • • •

The locals will practice every night this week. The boys will have to be in the very best of shape to defeat the Torontos on Saturday.

• • • •

The Torontos beat the Argos on Saturday 28-7 and it looks as if the locals and that team are pretty even. Practices will be held on the exhibition grounds Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings at 7.15 by electric light, and every player should get into the best possible shape and get on to the new signals. The following as requested to be on hand:—Ford, Shaw, Morgan, Crowley, Gillespie, Burnham, Hurtubise, Craig, Noble, Meagher, Cameron, Gilbert, Rickey, Dillon, Greene, Mulhern, Walkey, Fitzpatrick, Thornton, McDonald, two O'Briens, Kelly, Scrifer, Caniff, Hooks, and any others wishing to play are welcome.

BASEBALL

Boston won the championship of the American League yesterday by defeating New York in the first game of a double header by 5-2. New York won second game by 1-0. Had New York won the first game they would have had the pennant. The race between these teams for first place has been a see-saw one all season.

SPRINTING

The half mile foot race between Dave Belland and A. J. Burns has been arranged and will take place on October 20th, one week after the Burns-Belland race. Burns left for Ottawa last night and will remain there until a few days of the first race, and in the meantime Belland will get into condition for the race.

CENTRAL MILLING COMPANY'S ANNUAL MEETING.

Very Satisfactory Reports Presented—Old Board of Directors Re-appointed.

The annual general meeting of the shareholders of the Central Milling Company was held this afternoon, at 1.30 in the Foresters' Hall, Simcoe street.

The President, Mr. D. Carlow, occupied the chair.

The financial reports were presented, showing that the company had enjoyed a very successful year, had paid a dividend of eight per cent., and in addition had a good balance to the credit of the profit and loss account.

The Manager, Mr. H. A. Mulhern, presented his report, which was received and adopted.

A resolution of sympathy was tendered Mr. Mulhern on account of his illness and the hope expressed that he would soon be quite well again. Mr. Mulhern replied suitably.

The President referred to the very satisfactory manner in which the office work is being done, and to the interest which all the employees take in the work of the Company.

The auditors, Messrs. Geo. K. Martin and F. E. Bell, were re-appointed.

The following directors were elected:—D. Carlow, J. Strothart, W. Reid, W. Carter, Geo. Taylor, J. W Hall, Peter Dawson.

ANNIVERSARY AT MARK STREET.

Successful Services Held Sunday at Methodist Church.

Mark Street Methodist Church anniversary services held on Sunday were largely attended and most interesting throughout. The decorations of grain, vegetables, fruit and flowers were very pleasing.

The pastor, Rev. J. G. Lewis preached in the morning, all speaking highly of the appropriate and helpful discourse. Rev. Mr. Mounteer of Caravville, gave a strong and profitable sermon in the evening. The services of the choir were especially good. Its work was most praiseworthy. The skill and diligence of Mr. Miller, leader, have made it the largest and best the church has had. The singing Sunday was exceptionally impressive and very greatly added to the success of the occasion.

ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS PAID

By The Canadian Casualty and Boiler Insurance Company, to the Widow of the Late George F. Cowling, who met with an Accident Resulting in Death on the 22nd of September.

Accidents are continually occurring, and not without fatal results. It cannot be brought to the minds of our readers too forcibly to protect themselves and their families.

The late Mr. Cowling paid a premium of $6 to the Canadian Casualty and Boiler Insurance Co., and received $1,000 indemnity. Whilst we regret the very sad bereavement which befell the family, it is reassuring to learn that an accident policy was in force, and that The Canadian Casualty and Boiler Insurance Company paid to the widow with their usual promptness, a cheque in full of the amount, for $1,000, immediately on receipt of the notice. The accident policies issued by this Company are regarded amongst the best in Canada.

Strangers' Fellowship Club.

The monthly meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Strangers' Fellowship Club was held on Saturday evening, there being a good attendance of members. A resolution of regret was passed in connection with the removal of Mr. B. J. Turner, Mr. Geo. Templeman and Mr. J. W. Hilborne. All were enthusiastic Club fellows.

Drawing Class.

The mechanical drawing class at the Y.M.C.A. will begin actual work on Wednesday evening. The enrolment is large and promises to increase. All students should be in at the start.

St. Lukes Church Notes.

A very important meeting will be held to which all the ladies of St. Luke's Church and others are invited, on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Miss Tilley, Diocesan President of the Woman's Auxiliary, will be here and give an address. It is intended to organize a Girls' Auxiliary. The meeting will be held in the Sunday School room.

Ancient Order United Workmen.

All members are particularly requested to attend our regular meeting to be held Tuesday night, Oct. 11th, Foresters' Hall, Simcoe street, at 8 p.m., when our Grand Master Workman Brother Perrigrene, of Hamilton, and our Grand Recorder, Brother Carder, of Toronto, will be present to address the meeting.

THE YOUNG MAN'S PLACE IN POLITICS.

Sermon Preached to Young Men by Rev. J. G. Potter.

Declared That Party Politics Should be Abolished—The Call to Young Men.

Sunday night in St. Andrew's Church, the pastor, Rev. J. G. Potter, preached a sermon on "The Young Man in Politics," taking for his text Proverbs 14:34 "Righteousness exalted a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people." Every citizen, said Rev. Mr. Potter, is to a certain extent responsible for the national life. The prophets of Israel were true patriots, and were ready to condemn faithlessness in the nation no matter in whom it was found.

Jesus Christ, also was a patriot, and took a deep interest in the nation and denounced its wickedness.

The speaker was not prepared to accept the ordinary notion of politics as we think of it. The condition now is such that clean men are often advised to keep out of politics.

If by politics we mean squabbling and a fight for office, then its discussion does not become the house of God or God's day.

But we should aim to advocate for the highest destiny of Canada. Speaking about elections, the reverend gentleman asked if it a time to have a good time. When we see how the politicians sometimes act when in power, one is almost inclined to think it is a day of fun, for they apparently do as they please.

But it is a serious matter, and is becoming more and more serious. It engenders hate, scorn, contempt, blasphemy and sometimes crates a very hell on earth.

Christian men are commanded by God to rise and stand for the "Righteousness that exalteth a nation."

The speaker here paid a high tribute to the late Principal Grant, and said that we should not continue to tolerate such methods in political life as had been for years common in both parties.

He quoted the words of the Premier of Ontario, a respected elder in the Presbyterian Church with respect to political corruption. This thing will goes on and it seems impossible to stop it. He would like to see the representatives of the people join hands for the suppression of wrong. He referred to Chancellor Boyd's words favouring compulsory voting, but thought that this should be the last resort. He would like to see the electors regard the privilege of the franchise as a sacred trust.

Party politics, were, in the opinion of the speaker, responsible to a great extent for the present condition and said that as long as party politics were in force the mouths of men who would be heard on behalf of good measures would be closed. The call to-day is to the young men and to them we must look for the amelioration of the evil.

The music Sunday was of an especially pleasing nature. The choir sang "One Sweetly Solemn Thought." Miss Florence Miller taking the soprano solo. Miss Miller also sang with good effect, "Dream of Paradise."

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

No one who is acquainted with its good qualities can be surprised at the great popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only cures colds and grip effectually and permanently, but prevents these diseases from resulting in pneumonia. It is also a certain cure for croup. Whooping cough is not dangerous when this remedy is given. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. It is also pleasant to take. When all of these facts are taken into consideration it is not surprising that people in foreign lands, as well as at home, esteem this remedy very highly and very few are willing to take any other after having once used it. For sale by all druggists.

We Know Our Furs and Guarantee Them

WHERE so much has to be taken for granted, as is the case when you buy Furs, one naturally believes in purchasing where they can have implicit confidence in the knowledge and the truthfulness of the people who sell them.

In the making of Furs, (taking Fur Jackets as an instance) we use only whole skins, not only in the building of the body, but in the unseen parts as well, the undercollars and the underslceves—these are the parts where unscrupulous furriers resort to piecing. The Taping and Joining is all done by Expert Furriers, the Linings are made of Linen Back and Silk Back Satins specially imported by us in the extra heavy weights.

A Garment made in this manner will last a lifetime if given fair treatment. Then there is the extreme Stylishness our Furriers infuse into these Fur Garments. It is generally conceded our Designs are always ahead of most dealers in their newness, and the Trimmings and Finish are magnificent.

HAVE THE JAPS BEGUN TO DOUBT

Report That Mikado Will Recall Oyama and His Staff.

NODZU TO TAKE COMMAND

Bennett Burleigh Questions Japanese Belief in Their Ascendant Star, and Says Better Classes of Japanese Knew That It Was Nodzu Who Saved the Japanese Situation At Liaoyang.

London, Oct. 12.—The English papers this morning are still discussing what they regard as Gen. Kuropatkin's inexplicable change of plan of campaign and with the increasing conviction that it is due to pressure from St. Petersburg.

The situation will be still more complicated if the extraordinary statement sent by Bennett Burleigh from Shanghai to The Daily Telegraph to-day should turn out to be correct.

Mr. Burleigh says it is believed that Field Marshal Oyama and his staff will return or be recalled to Japan, ostensibly because the army is going into winter quarters, and that Gen. Nodzu will take over the command.

Nodzu Saved Liaoyang.

"It is now well known amongst the better classes of Japanese," Mr. Burleigh adds, "that it was Nodzu who saved the situation at the battle of Liaoyang. Oyama and the headquarters had actually ordered retreat when Nodzu vigorously protested against such a step and begged them to make another effort, he more directly co-operating with Oku's right. To Nodzu, therefore, is due the sole credit of averting a disastrous retreat, which he warded off by sending in and almost sacrificing the entire 20th Regiment of the 10th division."

According to Mr. Burleigh the Japanese still have no intention of proceeding much farther north than Mukden, and they will only under exceptional circumstances attack Tie Pass this season. Mr. Burleigh concludes: "Gen. Nishi, commander of the Japanese second division, will become Governor of Manchuria."

Almost Inconceivable.

Commenting editorially on the statements in Mr. Burleigh's correspondence The Daily Telegraph says: "The recall of Oyama is almost inconceivable. It is Oyama's war, planned and carried out by him, and his recall would be a sign that Japan, her Emperor and Ministers were suffering from an acute attack of nerves and had begun to doubt themselves."

Bloody Battle Raging.

Mukden, Oct. 12.—A bloody battle is now raging about six miles north of Yentai railroad station. The Japanese, on Sunday, fell back along the whole front, and the Russian advance guards crossed the Schili River (about half way between Mukden and Liaoyang) and came within three miles of Yentai, but Monday the Japanese received strong reinforcements of infantry and artillery and not only held their positions, but even assumed the offensive.

The fighting lasted the entire day and night. The Japanese directed their artillery fire with great skill, and searched the Russian positions so fiercely that the Russians fell back north of Schili River, which crosses the railroad seven miles from Yentai.

The Russians yesterday morning resumed their advance, once more crossed the Schili River and engaged the Japanese two miles south of it. A terrific artillery engagement is proceeding along the entire front. The result of the battle is still undecided.

300 Lost With Jap Gunboat.

Tokio, Oct. 12.—The loss of the armored gunboat Heiyen was announced yesterday. It struck a mine off Pigeon Bay on the night of Sept. 18 and foundered. Nearly 300 persons, her entire complement were drowned. Two petty officers and two sailors managed to reach Chiaopai Island, from which they were rescued.

The Heiyen, which was engaged on guard duty off Pigeon Bay, was missed by the fleet and a search for the vessel was immediately begun. The petty officers and sailors found on Chiaopai Island reported that at dusk on Sept. 18 a storm came up, accompanied by high seas. The Heiyen endeavored to return to her base, when she suddenly struck a floating mine, which exploded under her starboard side amidships.

Fought in a Dust Storm.

Mukden, Oct. 12.—A Russian correspondent of the Associated Press, describing incidents of the Russian advance, tells of a frightful dust storm, peculiar to this season in Manchuria, which raged on Saturday. It was at its height while a battalion of the Pekoff regiment, with guns, attacked a Japanese force posted in a village east of the railroad and south of the Shakhe River, and drove out the Japanese after a stubborn resistance. Clouds of dust blinded the combatants and made it impossible to aim. The fingers of the soldiers were numb with cold, and a strong wind carried the shells beyond the mark. The Japanese got away in good order, carrying off their killed and wounded. The Russians lost 79 men.

Mighty Struggle of Armies.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 12.—Severe fighting north of Yentai, resulting in a temporary check of Gen. Kuropatkin's advance guard, is not regarded at the War Office as indicating a general engagement. The latest official despatches, indicating the disposition of the various corps, show that the whole army is not yet in line of battle. The present engagement may, therefore, be regarded as the result of a counter attack, which an enterprising foe like the Japanese might be expected to make, but without any calculation to prevent the Russian advance.

Gen. Kuropatkin's preponderating superiority in numbers, it is held here, is bound sooner or later to compel the Japanese to fall back upon their strong positions within the triangle formed by Yentai, Liaoyang and Sykwantun.

The Decisive Struggle.

Everything points to that district as being the prospective scene of the decisive struggle of this year's campaign. Strategic reasons of the most weighty character render it imperative for the Russians as well as for the Japanese, to bestow their chief attention upon the country east of the railway.

Field Marshal Oyama must hold the Yentai triangle at all costs.

CHINESE ARE RISING.

Ten Thousand Adhere to Cause of Boxer Fiends.

Shanghai, Oct. 12.—The British Minister, Sir Ernest Satow, has notified the Chinese Minister of Foreign Affairs of an uprising in Tsmingsu and Chantefu, on the border of Shantung, Chili, and Kenon Provinces. The uprising has 10,000 adherents. The foreign missionaries are seeking refuge.

Yuan Shai Kai, Viceroy of the Province of Chili, has given orders for the suppression of the uprising. Danger is apprehended in the Province of Honan, where the officials are presumed to be ultra-conservative.

General Ma, military governor of the Province of Chili, reports that the Mohammedans are showing symptoms of rebellion, and that the Russians are attempting to complicate the situation by despatching troops for the protection of Russian subjects. The Ministry of Foreign Affairs has entered a protest, and has requested that the Russian troops be recalled.

RESIGNATION OF LORD MILNER.

High Commissioner Is in Ill-Health and Worn Out By Labors.

London, Oct. 12.—Lord Milner has resigned the High Commissionership of South Africa on account of ill-health, brought about by the prolonged strain in grappling with the situation which is daily becoming more difficult, owing to the financial and racial troubles of the country.

Lord Milner had twice previously resigned, but was induced to reconsider his decision, which is now irrevocable. Lord Milner comes home at Christmas, and after consultation with him, his successor will be appointed.

Colonel Sir Edward Ward, permanent Under Secretary of State for the War Office and formerly director of supplies of the South African field force, is considered likely to get the appointment. Sir Edward has great administrative ability and is wholly disconnected with the past political or financial history of South Africa.

MRS. DEE ARRESTED.

Telford Man Believed to Have Died From Poison.

Ingersoll, Oct. 12.—As the result of the enquiry into the death of William Dee, who died under suspicious circumstances Monday, his wife, Mrs. Dee, has been arrested, though no charge has been laid against her.

Death was evidently caused by strychnine. Dee had his breakfast at 9 o'clock and immediately after had an attack of convulsions.

The evidence at the inquest showed that the married life of the couple had not been happy. Mrs. Dee complained of ill-treatment and a neighbor declared she had threatened to shoot the man. The same neighbor was present when Dee died and asked his wife if she had given him poison, to which she replied that she had given him nothing except a cup of tea with milk and sugar.

A post-mortem has been ordered and the inquest will be resumed at Telford on Monday night.

Battleship Launched.

Bath, Me., Oct. 12.—The United States battleship Georgia was yesterday launched from the Bath Iron Works. She is a sister ship of the Virginia, Rhode Island, New Jersey, and Nebraska.

JAPS HOLD THEIR OWN, RUSSIANS REPULSED.

Reports of Both Sides Agree Upon This Point.

(Special to the Examiner.)

Tokio, October 12. — Field Marshall Oyama reports to-day that the Japanese are gaining ground in the battle to the south of Mukden. The Russian attack, he says, has been repulsed.

Tokio, October 12. — 3.30 p.m. — A general Japanese advance along a broad front towards Mukden, is progressing. A brigade of Russian infantry, with two thousand cavalry, and two guns, having the object of striking General Kuroki's flank, crossed the Taitse River on October 9th. The Japanese cut off the retreat of this force, and possibly they may capture it. The Russians are attacking Tienchuang, thirty miles north of Pengwagcheng, evidently, with the object of cutting off Japanese communications with the Yalu River.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 12.—The battle below Mukden continues to rage along the entire front and according to Gen. Kuropatkin's latest advices sent last night, after the fighting of the day had ended the Japanese were stubbornly holding their own, offering a desperate resistance and had even advanced their positions. After an all day fight above Yentai, where the Russians sustained their first shock the Japanese still hold that position. The infantry practically was not engaged, the artillery bearing the brunt of the fighting. The Japanese stuck to their guns and the Russian batteries were unable to dislodge them.

MAY VOTE NOV. 3 AND SHOOT TILL 19TH

Deer Hunting Season Extended in Interests of Voters.

Electors May Vote on the 3rd. Take to the Woods on the 4th, and Shoot Till 19th.

(Special to the Examiner.)

Toronto, October 12th. — An order-in-Council was passed to-day by the Ontario Government extending the deer hunting season to the 19th day of November, under certain conditions, which will permit a man to cast his vote in the elections on Nov. 3rd, and afterwards put in his two weeks and one day on the runs.

That is, any person entering upon the work of hunting deer on Nov. 4th—the day after the elections—will be allowed to shoot until the 19th inclusive, without incurring any penalty. But any person who enters the woods on Nov. 1st, can only lawfully shoot till the 15th inclusive. If he shoots after the 15th he is liable to the usual penalty for breach of the law.

PRACTICAL POINTERS OF PETERBORO'S PROGRESS.

NUMBER ONE.

The above illustration is that of the Peterborough works of the American Cereal Company, established in Peterborough directly through the existence of conditions brought about by the Laurier Administration.

There are at present employed by this concern here 500 hands, and it is stated on the best of authority, that the present works are but a beginning of what, in the near future, the Peterborough works of the American Cereal Company, will be.

The plans of the company include the erection and operation of a flour mill, with an immense capacity, and as soon as the Trent Valley Canal is completed south to Lake Ontario, by the Liberal Government, as it will be in a short time, this expansion and others, will take place in the business of the company.

In 1896, at the close of eighteen years of Conservative rule, the present site of the Cereal Works was practically a wilderness; now it is the scene of a rapidly expanding business, not only giving employment to hundreds of Peterborough citizens, but creating a good market for Peterborough county farmers' grains, and bringing them to this town to spend their money with the Peterborough merchants.

THE DIFFERENCE.

In 1896 the Conservative managers were busy piling up romantic statistics to show that the country was prosperous.

Now they are piling up tottering rows of staggering statistics to show that the country is not prosperous.

Both attempts were, and are, dismal failures, the "sum" won't come out right and the breath of prosperity blows the flimsy figures away.

In the palmy days when the late lamented Sir John Thompson was premier, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, speaking at a banquet in the City of Toronto, assumed the role of a prophet. He said that when the Liberal party came to power it would not be necessary to quote a long array of figures to prove that the people were prosperous, as one of the Conservative speakers had done that evening. Said Sir Wilfrid, "you will feel the jingle of prosperity in your pockets." Whether or not he spoke in jest or earnest his prophecy has been abundantly fulfilled.

There is evidences in the public records of the country aside from what every elector knows from his own personal experience, to show that the country has made greater progress, enjoyed greater prosperity during the past seven or eight years under Liberal rule, than during and under the whole eighteen years of Conservative rule, with the ums-called National Policy in operation.

We see this all over the country and Sir Wilfrid Laurier sees it in every town he visits or passes through, and Mr. Borden runs against it at every turn of his tour.

Sir Wilfrid opened his Ontario tour in Hamilton, which has prospered tremendously under Liberal rule. A list of the new and enlarged factories in Hamilton is a long one.

Mr. Kendry on Saturday night mentioned the iron industry as one that was going to ruin from lack of the Conservative policy. Let him look at Hamilton. There the factories of the Gurney-Tilden Company, manufacturers of stoves and heating appliances, have tremendously expanded. Under the ruinous influences of the Liberal policy from Mr. Kendry's view-point, the business of this Company has increased two hundred per cent. in six years, and the demands for its goods in the West is rapidly growing, growing in proportion to the advance of settlement under the immigration policy of the Liberal Government. But Mr. Kendry has no use for the West, he will vote against this immigration policy, he would have nobody but Canadians in the country — whatever he means by that. Yet this same immigration policy is putting money every day into the pockets of the employees of the Gurney-Tilden Company and all other manufacturers who make goods suitable for the West.

These facts do not show the iron industry to be in a very bad way under Liberal rule. In connection with the big boom in the structural steel trade mentioned in these columns yesterday, there is the announcement of the investment of two and a half million dollars in the enlargement of an industry in Montreal, making railway supplies into which iron and steel chiefly enter.

Entirely satisfied with the conditions afforded by the Laurier Government, the Simplex Railway Appliance Company which, on coming to Canada a few years ago, employed 550 men and supplied one railway, has now decided to spend two and a half million dollars in the erection of a gigantic plant that will comprise fifteen different kinds of shops and mills, and will give employment to fifteen hundred men.

"What more striking proof can we give of our entire satisfaction with the conditions afforded us by the Liberal Government," said Mr. Wilson H. Butler, of New York, vice-president of the company, "than that we consider the outlook so promising that we are willing to spend two and a half million dollars in the erection of a large plant."

"Besides giving employment to men at our plant here, our orders are large factors in keeping the Pratt Latchworth Casting Co., of Brantford, and the Smith Falls Malleable Iron Co. running to their full capacity. Our motto everywhere is Canadian men and Canadian supplies."

"The plant that we will erect will include the following. A bolster and brake beam shop, which will be 410 feet long and alone will cost $80,000; a steel car shop that will be over 700 feet in length; a machine and blacksmith shop, a truck shop, a paint shop, an erecting shop, a saw and planing mill, an engine and power house, a foundry, a stores department.."

It is now in order for Mr. Kendry to drop a few extra tears over the "ruin" of the iron trade in view of these and other evidences of its booming prosperity.

Isn't prosperity worth keeping?

Isn't it worth while to
Keep both hands on the full dinner pail?

AN EARNEST ENDORSATION.

The Toronto News, Conservative, has this appreciative reference to the new member of the Laurier Government, who is a candidate for the representation of West Durham:

"Mr. A. B. Aylesworth, K.C., is to be welcomed to the Federal arena, and it is to be hoped that Durham will make him its member. The constituency which was represented by Edward Blake, now has the chance of sending to Ottawa a lawyer of exceptionally high attainments and standing, and a man who in public affairs has shown power and coolness of judgment. Mr. Aylesworth's legal qualifications are of the highest, and rest upon that excellent basis, great powers of industry and application. A sound and brilliant lawyer of high character is a good man to send to Parliament. In addition there is the fact that Mr. Aylesworth already has figured in public life in a manner which aroused the enthusiastic support of the great majority of his fellow-Canadians. The Toronto dinner in his honour was a distinctly electric affair, and a rasher man in his place would have given affairs a very ugly turn. Mr. Aylesworth, however, restrained, instead of encouraging, popular feeling. The precedent is good, and he should go to Parliament as the most notable recruit to its ranks who has been seen in many a long day.

POINTERS OF PROSPERITY.

There is every certainty that the Laurier Government will be returned, because new industries projected show public confidence in the stability and safety of his policy. An American company has purchased 192 acres of land at Fort William, for the erection of a large factory. Under the Laurier Government Canada is getting thousands of thrifty American farmers, many of them former Canadians who went to the "States" under the exodus policy of the late Conservative Government, as well as many millions of American capital, which is "standing from under," in the hard times that are settling like a gloomy cloud over the United States, languishing under the left-handed prosperity which a high protective tariff brings

WHAT GOOD MANAGEMENT CAN DO.

In Cornwall, one of the towns quoted by Mr. Kendry on Saturday night as the place where a woollen mill had been closed for lack of a net protection greater than about 30 per cent., a furniture factory established under the Laurier Government, about a year since, met a few days ago, and declared a dividend of seven per cent. The business has been so prosperous, and the demand is so much greater than the supply, that the management is arranging for enlarging the factory, so as to double the output. That doesn't look as if that industry wanted more "protection." Apparently all the protection it needs are, in addition to a duty of 30 per cent, a well-equipped factory, modern machinery, and energetic management, and the manufacture of goods wanted. If the woollen mills Mr. Kendry quotes as collapsed, had been equipped with modern machinery, and made goods the people wanted, they would in all probability, have still been running day and night, like the woollen mill at Cobourg, which Mr. Kendry did not think worth including in the combine, but which, under energetic management, proper machinery, and a proper line of manufacture are booming beyond the capacity of the mills to supply the demand, so much so that merchants sending orders, that can't be filled, close their appeal by saying, "Send us one piece of goods, anyway." No business will run itself; it must meet the demand, and be run on business principles. No tariff, even of 100 per cent., will keep a mill prosperous under slipshod management, and with scrap-iron machinery.

EDITORIAL NOTE.

Keep both hands on the full dinner pail.

Mr. Kendry's home market for the farmers, by excluding immigration, is as promising as seeking the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow.

Hon. Geo. E. Foster describes himself as a volcano — a volcano is a hole in the ground, throwing up smoke, mud and debes. In respect of mud slinging Mr. Foster, who has begun his campaign by vicious abuse of Sir Wilfrid, is well described as a volcano. After November 3rd, he will be an extinct volcano.

Mr. Borden is going to speak in Montreal. He will find that in the past six years there has been, under what he would call the blighting influence of the Liberal policy, an increase in the taxable property of that city of nearly twenty million dollars —$19,769,573. Would you call that prosperity, or the disastrous fruits of in-"adequate" protection? By the time he "drops," Mr. Borden will be black and blue from running up against such monuments of Liberal prosperity as these. He had better provide "adequate" protection for his shins.

More of the growing time. Another province will be added to the Confederation, in the Northwest. The prorogation speech from the throne announced that at the next session of Parliament an Act would be passed erecting the "Northwest Territories" into a separate province. If Mr. Kendry had his statesmanlike way of excluding immigrants from the country, how long would it take to build up a new province out of the now unoccupied acres of the Northwest. Mr. Kendry's plan of building up Canada is like growing an orchard by planting one tree, and letting it spread by "suckers," till it fills a ten acre lot, which it might do in a century or two. No, Mr. Kendry, your plan is too slow.

Our local contemporary has its super-sensitive ideas of virtue shocked because Mr. Hall in his address to the electors claimed that a Government supporter would make the most useful member for West Peterborough. Yet it prints in capital letters Mr. Borden's buncombe hint —not promise—that he was inclined to favour the completion of the Trent Valley Canal. The true Conservative policy in this regard is to help those who support the Government. When a Strathroy deputation waited upon the late Sandfield Macdonald for some Government favour, because that town did not send him a supporter, he very eloquently voiced the Conservative policy by asking the deputation, "What the h—l has Strathroy done for me?"

THE LATEST NEWS FROM NORWOOD.

Personal Mention and Other Items of Interest from the Eastern Town.

The annual meeting of the local branch of the British and Foreign Bible Society was held on Tuesday evening in the Methodist church. The executive met half an hour before the public meeting, when the following officers were chosen for the ensuing year:

President—Rev. E. W. Pickford.
Secretary—Mr. J. E. Roxburgh.
Treasurer—Mr. J. L. Squire.
Directors — Messrs. W. E. Roxburgh, R. Nicholl, Wm. Cuthberton, Wm. Spence, Dr. Ford, R. H. Leighton, E. P. Cuffe, J. G. Sherry, Isaac Peffer and Jas. Raddon.
Collectors — Misses Pettigrew, Sherry, Powell, Wasson, Fraser, Nicholl, Bert, Squires, Thistlewaite, Mrs. Scott, Misses Scott, Burgess and McConnell.
Depository — Messrs. R. H. Leighton and Wm. Spence.

The report of the treasurer was presented showing a balance on hand of $58.75, which, on motion of Dr. Ford and Mr. Cuthbertson, he was instructed to forward to the treasurer at Toronto. At the public meeting which opened at eight o'clock in the auditorium of the church, the reports as printed above were read and adopted. The Rev. Mr. Pickford, president-elect, gave a brief and earnest address.

The Rev. Jos. Locke of Omemee, was then introduced and delivered a very interesting and instructive lecture on the work of the Bible Society.

At the close of the meeting, the usual votes of thanks to the collectors and to the speaker of the evening, were passed.

Mr. C. Ackerman of Peterborough, was the guest of his aunt, Mrs. A. R. Anderson, over Sunday.

Mrs. Ralph Carton, of Peterborough, is staying with Mrs. E. P. Cuffe, Queen street.

Miss Brown of Roseneath, is the guest of her cousin, Miss M. Johnston.

Mr. D. A. Fraser spent Sunday in Peterborough, at the home of Mr. Bertram.

Mr. C. W. Waters, and Mr. J. Cumming attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Fred Miles at Stony Lake on Saturday.

Mr. George Freeman, one of Norwood's young men, met with an accident at Tweed on Sunday morning, which caused almost instant death. The accident occurred when the deceased was attempting to board a freight train, and it is supposed that he missed his footing and fell. Mr. William Fry and his mother, Mrs. T. Fry, left on the midnight train for Tweed. The body was taken to Yarker for interment. The family have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement.

The death of Thomas Cuthbertson, sr., occurred at the Nicholls Hospital Peterborough, on Saturday, October 8th, at the age of 69 years. The funeral took place on Monday from the residence of his son, Wm. H. Cuthbertson, Dummer Road. The place of interment was the Norwood cemetery. Rev. Geo. A. McLennan, the Presbyterian Minister, conducted the funeral service.

Rev. G. Barrett, of Warkworth, occupied the pulpit in the Methodist church on Sunday in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Mr. Parker, who was conducting anniversary services at Warkworth.

INTERESTING FACTS.

For Nearly Every Man, Woman or Child

A short time ago we published an article recommending to our readers the new discovery for the cure of Dyspepsia, called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and the claims then made regarding the wonderful curative properties of the remedy have been abundantly sustained by the facts. People who were cautious about trying new remedies advertised in the newspapers and were finally induced to give Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets a trial were surprised and delighted at the results. In many cases a single package costing but 50 cents at any drug store made a complete cure and in every instance the most beneficial results were reported. From a hundred or more received we have space to publish only a few of the latest, but assure our readers we receive so many commendatory letters that we shall publish each week a fresh list of genuine, unsolicited testimonials and never publish the same one twice.

From James Yemmeisler, La Crosse, Wis.: Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are doing me more good than anything I ever tried and I was so pleased at results that I gave away several boxes to my friends who have also had the same benefits.

From Jacob Anthony, Portmurray, New Jersey: I have taken Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets with the best results. I had Dyspepsia for six years and had taken a great deal of medicine, but the Tablets seem to take right a hold and I feel good. I am a farmer and lime burner and I heartily recommend to everyone who has any trouble with his stomach to use them Tablets.

From Mrs. M. K. West, Preston, Minn.: I have received surprisingly good effects from using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I gave one-half of my last box to a friend who also suffered from indigestion and she had the same good results.

From Mrs. Agnes K. Ralston, Cadillac, Mich.: I have been taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and I am very much better, and feel very grateful for the great benefit I have received in so short a time.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a certain cure for all forms of Indigestion. They are not claimed to be a cure-all, but are prepared for stomach troubles only, and physicians and druggists everywhere recommend them to all persons suffering from Nervous Dyspepsia, sour or acid stomach, heartburn, bloating or wind on stomach and similar disorders.

PREMIER AT LONDON

Dinner Party in His Honor Given on Tuesday Evening.

ACTIVE WORKERS' LUNCHEON

Sir Wilfrid Improving in Health As the Campaign Progresses—Entertainment For Lady Laurier—Good News From the Territories—Hon. Wm. Paterson Kindles Enthusiasm of West Lambton Liberals.

London, Oct. 12.—Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier arrived here yesterday morning about 1 o'clock and were received at the station by Mrs. James Kerrigan and Mr. Geo. L. Reid and driven to Idlewylde, the residence of Hon. C. S. Hyman, in South London, where they will be entertained during their stay in the city. Hon. Mr. Hyman was not on hand to welcome the Premier, owing to his engagement to be present at the Liberal Convention for South Bruce at Hensall during the afternoon. In accordance with the desire of the Premier, there was no formal reception at the railway station.

Sir Wilfrid did not exhibit any traces of fatigue as a result of his great effort at Hamilton Monday night, but walked with erect carriage and springing step from the car to the carriage. Like the veteran that he is, he seems rather to have improved in health since the campaign started, the cheers of his acclaiming fellow-countrymen and the magnificent meetings he addressed at Quebec last week and Hamilton Monday night have apparently acted as a stimulant, and exercised an invigorating influence, which is reflected in his buoyant spirits and physical vigor.

At Idlewylde, Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier met at luncheon a number of friends, and last evening a dinner party was given in their honor. Today the Premier will meet at luncheon half a hundred of the leading active workers in the Liberal ranks, and Lady Laurier will be entertained by Mrs. George C. Gibbons. Sir Wilfrid spent the day quietly at the residence of his host.

Good News From the Territories.

Winnipeg, Oct. 12.—Mr. G. H. V. Bulyea, Commissioner of Public Works for the Territories, who was in the city yesterday, spoke in glowing terms of the political outlook for the Territories from a Liberal viewpoint. "It is practically admitted by the Opposition," he said, "that we shall win eight out of ten seats, and that Opposition candidates have now very little chance in even Qu'Appelle and Calgary, which were first claimed by them as safe. They now admit defeat even there."

Hon. Mr. Sifton left yesterday for Brandon, where he attends the Liberal Convention to-day.

Premier Greenway's acceptance of the Liberal nomination for Lisgar is received with pleasure all through Manitoba. W. C. Donald, his Conservative opponent, has retired from the contest, and another convention will be held.

Hon. Wm. Paterson At Sarnia.

Sarnia, Oct. 12.—Hon. Wm. Paterson supplied the spark last night which ignited the enthusiasm of the West Lambton Liberals, and in spite of a heavy rain there was a demonstration for their candidate, Dr. T. G. Johnston, which would have gladdened the heart of the oldest campaigner. Dr. Johnston has no bed of roses in this contest, but his followers and friends have rallied to his support with a vim which should place this riding without doubt in the Liberal column on November 3. Hon. Mr. Paterson's speech, though brief, was a splendid and powerful explanation of the railway question, which was received with great enthusiasm by the audience. During the afternoon Mr. Paterson, on his arrival from Hamilton, drove to Brigden, twelve miles southeast, where, in company with Dr. Johnston, he addressed a splendid meeting of the electors of Moore Township.

POLITICS IN A NUTSHELL.

David A. Lafortune was nominated Tuesday to oppose F. D. Monk in Jacques Cartier.

Carleton County Liberals Tuesday nominated J. E. Caldwell of City View, a wealthy dairyman.

The Liberals of Glengarry held their convention Tuesday at Alexandria and J. T. Schell, the former member, was chosen as candidate.

R. J. McLaughlin, K.C., was nominated by the Liberal Convention at Lindsay Tuesday to oppose Col. Sam Hughes in the next Federal election.

The convention held at New Carlisle, P.Q., Tuesday, nominated Thomas Crockett of River du Loup, P.Q., as Conservative candidate for Bonaventure County.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier will have a magnificent reception at Guelph to-night (Wednesday). The speakers will be Hon. Wm. Paterson, Mr. Guthrie and Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

At the Conservative Convention at Montmagny, Que., Tuesday, Harry Price, of the firm of Price Bros., was chosen as the candidate for the County of Montmagny, opposing Armand Lavergne.

The South Huron Liberal Convention was held at Hensall Tuesday. Hon. C. S. Hyman was present and delivered a short address. The candidates on the first ballot were: E. Fraser, Brucefield, 60; George McEwan, Hensall, 53; M. Y. McLean, Seaforth, 47. On the last ballot: E. Fraser, 84; McEwan, 73. Fraser was declared the unanimous choice of the convention.

Following the resignation of Dr. Barr, M.P.P., for Dufferin, in which he has the Dominion nomination, James Conmee, M.P.P., for Port Arthur, has forwarded his resignation to Speaker Charlton. This makes seven vacancies in the Legislature, namely North Perth, North Norfolk, Sault Ste. Marie, North York, Port Arthur, Liberals; North Renfrew, Dufferin, Conservatives.

The Conservatives of West Middlesex, held a convention at Mount Brydges Tuesday afternoon. Robert Lucas of Caradoc who was nominated in January last, but had not formally accepted, expressed inability, owing to existing circumstances, to accept. Nominations resulted, but all withdrew with the exception of George Stewart, who was unanimously nominated. Mr. Stewart was once mayor of Strathroy.

"We will freely pay $3,250.00 to know how the Dominion Elections will go."

CANADIAN RAILWAYS.

It Is Reported That They May Adopt Uniform Rules.

Ottawa, Oct. 12.—At the meeting in Montreal last week of representatives of different Canadian railways a circular from the Railway Commission suggesting uniform rules for train operation on all Canadian roads, was considered and approved in principle. Draft regulations in detail after being considered by the different roads will be submitted by another meeting of the railways interested and afterwards forwarded to the Commission for approval.

The uniform regulations suggested include the block systems of signals, automatic switches and other devices calculated to greatly minimize the liability of accidents.

Among other things suggested is that train hands shall not work more than a specific number of hours whether or not they are willing to.

When Your Child Suffers.

For lack of knowledge of the value of Dr. Chase's Ointment as a cure for eczema, many a mother has been worn out in the effort to relieve her child of suffering. Eczema, tetter, salt rheum and other forms of itching skin disease are common to children, especially during the teething period. Though readily cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment, eczema, if neglected, becomes chronic and may last for years.

Trolley Gets Another Victim.

Toronto, Oct. 12.—Little George Clark, aged 7 years, was almost instantly killed last evening at 6.45 at the corner of Elm and Yonge streets, his life being crushed under the truck of Avenue road car, No. 776, in charge of Conductor Albert Houghton. The lad was passing up Yonge street on the west side, and when almost up to Elm suddenly dashed across the street. He failed to notice the approach of the car, which was going at a good rate. The boy was struck by the fender when he was about half way across the track. His body went underneath and was crushed by the trucks.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Found Dead At Milverton.

Milverton, Oct. 12.—The dead body of a man in an advanced stage of decomposition was discovered yesterday in M. Whitney's woods, near Brunner. It is supposed to be that of a man named Gamble, about 50 years of age. A double-barreled gun was lying beside him, one of the barrels being empty. From arrangements attached to the trigger of the gun it is evident that he committed suicide. An envelope found in his pocket was addressed to J. H. Honden, Nerpa[illegible], Man.

MANY TREES BLOWN DOWN.

Lucan, Oct. 12.—The wind storm that passed in an easterly direction through this section at 6 o'clock on Monday evening was much more destructive than was at first reported.

Besides two dwellings and barns belonging to Henry C. Hodgins, which were completely destroyed, those of Thomas Abbott, on the Chappel line, together with six acres of bush, met a similar fate.

Five hundred trees were leveled to the ground, some of them being carried 20 rods. William Toohey's sheds and Dennis Heenan's orchard were also destroyed. Miles of fence were torn up and carried across lots.

The path of the storm cut through the Cedarvale swamp on concession five, Biddulph, and on to Granton Village, five miles east, unroofing several buildings.

PRESIDENT COMMERCIAL CLUB

OF LOUISIANA, SAYS:

"THERE IS NO FINER MEDICINE THAN PE-RU-NA."

Suffered With Kidney and Liver Trouble for Twelve Years—Pe-ru-na Cured Him—Feels Better Than for Twenty Years.

Hon. William Watson Washburn, President of the Louisiana Commercial Club, and a very well known man in New Orleans, La., writes from 607 Canal Street:

"I am satisfied that there is not a finer medicine placed before the public to-day than Peruna. I have been troubled for nearly twelve years with kidney and liver trouble, and at times I have been a pretty sick man, unable to attend to my duties. I had about made up my mind that no medicine could help me, when one of your testimonials was brought to my notice which I read in a leisure hour. I am decided to give Peruna a trial and could then I had at last secured the right medicine for me. For two months I used it faithfully and then felt so well I was like a young man once more. This was over a year ago and I have not had any trouble since. Although I am in the seventies I feel better and more active than I did thirty years ago."—W. W. Washburn.

Most derangements of the kidneys are due to catarrh of the kidneys. Peruna is a catarrh remedy. This explains why it is that Peruna cures a great number of kidney diseases in which the usual remedies fail.

If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

HORSE BROKE ITS LEG AND HAD TO BE SHOT.

A Local Teamster Suffers a Loss Through an Accident.

A regrettable accident occurred this morning near the corner of Bethune and Simcoe streets. The team of horses belonging to Mr. J. Charlibeau, 128 Chamberlin street, became frightened at a passing freight train and became unmanageable, with the result that one of the animals had its leg broken. Nothing could be done for the unfortunate beast which had to be shot. The horse was a valuable one and Mr. Charlibeau's loss is to be deeply regretted.

THE SOCIAL WORLD

Interesting Personal Items Gathered by Reporters.

Mrs. J. R. Stratton of "Strathormond," will receive this Thursday and Friday from 4 to 6.

Mr. Chas. Parks, has returned from Saginaw, Bay City and Detroit, Mich., where he has been visiting friends and relations for the past two weeks.

Mrs. George Russell (nee Miss Kelly) was the recipient last night of a beautiful marble mantle clock from Mr. W. B. Meredith and the employees of the store.

Mr. W. Bunton returned last night from a three weeks' trip to the Pacific Coast, where he visited many of the important centres. He left last evening for Montreal.

Mrs. M. Devine, Mrs. H. N Darling and Miss Rose Devine, are guests of Mr. and Mrs D. J. Devine until Saturday, when they will leave for Seattle, Wash., where they will reside in future.

Mrs. R. W. Sharpe, accompanied by her mother Mrs. J. L. Hughes, has gone to Toronto to spend a few days with her sister, Mrs. J. Colin Grant, 65 Sorauren avenue, en route for her home in St. Peter's reserve, where her husband is a Baptist missionary to the Indians. Mrs. Hughes will also remain a few days in the city with her daughter.

The Roland, (Man.,) "News," contains the following item of local interest: "Miss Pearl Morgan, of Peterborough, Ont., who has been the guest of her aunt, Mrs. George Swain, for a few weeks, delighted the Methodist church congregation on Sunday evening, by singing a solo entitled, "Mother, know me in Heaven." Miss Morgan has a very sweet voice and her singing was indeed a treat to a Roland audience." Miss Morgan is a daughter of Mr. W. J. Morgan.

STAGE NOTES.

The World, Toronto.—Miss Anna Gordon, the Canadian actress, who is well known in local theatrical circles, has been very ill during the summer at the Western Hospital She has now recovered, but, on the advice of her physician, will not go on the road this season Instead, Miss Gordon proposes to put on several sketches with T. E. Kyle at concerts throughout Ontario, which should prove a decided attraction, as such features are a rarity in the smaller centres Miss Gordon played here with the Go-Won-Go-Mohawk, with the Aubrey & Boyle stock company, and was leading woman with Robert Mantell in "The Dagger and the Cross." She also took the poubret roles with Florence Stone and Ralph Stuart during their vaudeville engagement some years ago.

Miss Gordon made her first hit in Chicago in 1897 at the Lincoln Theatre, when she created the part of Blanche Darrel, the lead, in "In the Name of the Czar," when it was first first produced. She also created the part of the gypsy with Lord Strathmore, but after five months was obliged to give it up. This was her last engagement, she having been too ill to return to the profession. Her present address is at the Grand Opera House, Toronto.

Miss Gordon will be at the Opera House, Tuesday, Oct. 18, and will put on several sketches, assisted by the best Canadian talent which forms the Gordon Stock Co.

A. O. U. W. RECOMMEND THAT RATES BE HIGHER.

Important Meeting of the Workmen Held Last Evening.

An important meeting of the Ancient Order of United Workmen was held in the Lodge room on Simcoe street last evening. The purpose of the meeting was to find out the opinion of the local lodge regarding the question of raising the rates. The Grand Lodge considered it advisable to raise the rates provided the individual lodges favoured it, in order to do away with the extra assessments which it was found necessary to make during the past year. Consequently circulars were sent to the different lodges asking them to consider the question and presenting the reasons why a raise to the Government standard was deemed advisable and necessary.

Last evening there were present Bro. J. M. Perigine, Grand Master Workman, of Hamilton; Bro. M. D. Carder, Grand Recorder, of Toronto, and Bro. Wilkinson, organizer, of London. Each of these made speeches, presenting the facts of the case. Speeches were also made by the local members present and the matter was given a thorough discussion. A resolution was unanimously adopted that the local lodge recommend to the Grand Lodge that the rates be raised to the standard proposed. If the Grand Lodge see fit to make the change, it will come in force next year.

There was a large turnout of members at the meeting. Bro. J. J. Turner, Master Workman was in the chair. After the meeting a supper was served at Bro. H. Long's restaurant.

WEDDING BELLS.

ENTHUSIASM OF LIBERAL WORKERS

Splendid Turn-out Last Night—Saturday Nigh't Rally.

Last night the most largely attended meeting of the Liberal Committees since the opening of the present campaign, was held, and the work of arranging for the registration was completed. The men have worked hard on this registration vote, and the enthusiasm which has characterised their efforts speaks well for the success of Mr. Hall on Nov. 3rd.

On Saturday night a grand weekly rally will be held, when addresses will be given on live topics, and every Liberal is invited to attend. These Saturday night meetings are growing in numbers and enthusiasm, and give evidence to an increasing sentiment in favour of the Liberal Government and the Liberal candidate.

Keep both hands on the full dinner pail, and hear Laurier in the Brock street rink on Oct. 20th.

ANNUAL MEETING OF FORTNIGHTLY CLUB

Will be Held in the Y. M. C. A. on Friday Afternoon.

On Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock, in the Y.M.C.A. parlours, the annual meeting of the Fortnightly Club will be held, when the election of officers and other general business of the Club will be transacted.

This Club had last season about 200 members, and during the winter season provided a series of the very best lectures, all of which were given absolutely free to the citizens of the town.

This Club is the only one in town which performed this service, and is deserving of the warmest commendation.

It is hoped that a large number of the members will attend the meeting on Friday, in order that the programme for the season may be approved of by a majority of the members.

DRUNKS GALORE AT POLICE COURT

Prisoners Box was Filled Again This Morning.

The prominent feature at the police court of late has been the man with the weary look and watery eyes significant of the fact that on the previous evening he had imbibed too strenuously of that which intoxicates.

Three of these cheerful inebriates appeared before Magistrate Dumble at this morning's police court to answer for their deeds.

The first was a man from North Smith. The Magistrate thought it would have been more convenient for him to have gone to Young's Point instead of to town to get drunk and with less danger of being arrested. The prisoner admitted this and said it was his first offence and it would not occur again. He was discharged with a warning.

Frank Meehan was again in the prisoners' box with a charge of drunkenness to face. He was in the same predicament last week, and was fined $2.00 which, up to this morning, had not been paid. An additional $2.00 was added to be paid forthwith or a term in jail would result. He promised to go to work at once and thought his foreman would advance the money for the fine.

Alfred Cooney came down from Toronto yesterday. He did not just know why he came, but the reason most apparent was that he visited our town for the express purpose of getting drunk. At any rate he got drunk. It was his intention to return to the city this evening, and was fined $2.00 to be paid in 10 days.

Alexander Ross was charged with cruelty to animals. He was remanded until to-morrow when two others appear on the same charge.

VERY INTERESTING ILLUSTRATED LECTURE.

Mr. R. M. Roy Lectures Before T. A. S. Literary Section.

The meeting of the Literary Section of St. Peter's T.A.S., which was held on Monday night, was a most enjoyable one, and in spite of the disagreeable weather, there was a splendid attendance, showing that these meetings are increasing in interest.

The chairman of the meeting was Mr. J. T. Hanrahan, who introduced those taking part in the programme, and gave a short opening address.

An instrumental duet, rendered most acceptably by Miss Doherty and Miss McCabe, was the first number on the programme, and was well received. A solo, "When the blue sky turns to Gold," was rendered as a vocal solo by Mr. James Browne, and also was received with appreciation.

An interesting lecture was then given by Mr. R. M. Roy, on "China and its People." Mr. Roy illustrated his lecture by a large number of fine views of China, and depicting scenes in the national life of the people of that country. This lecture was thoroughly enjoyed by the large number present, and in addition to the views of China Mr. Roy showed a number of local pictures recently made, which added to the interest of the evening.

Following the lecture, Mr. Joyce rendered an instrumental solo, and Rev. Dr. O'Brien, after giving a short address, moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Roy for his lecture, which was seconded by Mr. W. McCormack, and unanimously passed.

These meetings are becoming increasingly interesting, and are being well attended.

INTERESTING MIMICO WEDDING TUESDAY.

Daughter of Dr. Beemer, the Superintendent Wedded.

The Toronto Star said yesterday: "A very pretty wedding took place at 2 o'clock to-day at the residence of Dr. Beemer, superintendent of the Mimico Asylum, when Helen Gartshore, the only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Beemer, was married to Mr. Edward Day Knap, of New York.

"The ceremony was performed by Rev. Alexander McMillan in the drawing room. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a robe of white duchesse satin, with a berthe of Brussels lace, a tulle veil, and wreath of orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley, which, with a pearl and amethyst necklace, was the gift of the groom. She had four bridesmaids—Miss May Muirhead, Miss Knap, New ork, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Ina Burke, of London ,and Miss Knap ,of Ogdensburg, cousin of the bridegroom. They wore white lace dresses, with court veils, and feathers, and carried sheaves of American Beauties. Mr. J. Knap, brother of the groom, was best man, and Mr. Arthur Beemer, brother of the bride, Mr. J. T. Conover of New York, and Dr. Walter Wright, of Toronto, the ushers. They and the bridesmaids each received a souvenir pin of pearls and amethysts from the bridegroom.

"Mrs. Beemer held a reception afterwards, at which a large number of people were present, including many of the bridegroom's relatives from a distance. Among these were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Knap ,of Catskill, N.Y., Admiral and Mrs. Schouler, of Annapolis, Miss Rush, of Washington; Mr. George William McLanahan, and Mr. George K. McLanahan of Catskill, N.Y., and Miss Laing of Wyoming.

"Mrs. Beemer was richly attired in ivory brocade, with a bouquet of violets. Mrs. J. M. Knap, mother of the groom, wore black lace over white silk, with black plumes. Mrs. Schouler was in white embroidered crepe de chine and had on a black hat with plumes.

OFFICERS ELECTED IN GIRL'S GUILD

Annual Meeting of the George Street Girl's Guild.

Last night the first meeting for the season of the Girl's Guild, of George street Methodist church was held in the Sunday School room of the church. There was a good attendance of the young ladies of the church, and the Guild starts out on its course for the season with excellent prospects.

The officers for the year were elected as follows:—

Hon. President — Mrs. (Rev. Dr.) Crothers.

President—Miss B. Griffith.

1st Vice-President—Miss F. Morrow.

2nd Vice-President—Miss L. Bellegham.

Secretary—Miss J. Eyres.

Treasurer—Miss Crothers.

The next meeting will be held next Tuesday night, when a social evening will form the programme for the night. All young ladies of the church are invited to be present, when a good programme of music will be given followed by refreshments.

ADJOURNED MEETING OF CHEESE BOARD.

Last Week's Cheesse Sold at 9c This Morning.

Bidding was Brisk Throughout—Thirty Factories Boarded.

The adjourned meeting of the Peterborough cheese board was held this morning in the Ontario Bank board room. The buyers present were Messrs. Cook, Fitzgerald, Kerr, Whitton, Rollins, Wrighton, Grant and Gillespie.

Keene	200
Warminster	150
Central Smith	220
North Smith	180
Villiers	120
Westwood	250
Oakdale	150
Missing Link	125
Daisy D.	80
Lakefield	150
Pine Grove	128
Peterborough	95
Otonabee Union	65
Maple Leaf	165
Myrtle	170
Young's Point	100
Lang	140
Indian River	160
North Dummer	75
Trewern	140
Ballyduff	66
Benafort	162
Cedardale	75
Stony Lake	54
Cavanville	230
Mount Pleasant	75
Fleetwood	215
Oakleaf	33
Percy	230
Buckhorn	135
South Burleigh	30
Killarney	150

The bidding opened briskly, and remained so throughout the meeting. Mr. Brentenal opened at 8 3-4; Mr. Fitzgerald raised to 8 7-8, Mr. Whitton to 8 15-16, and Mr. Fitzgerald to 9 cents. At this price Mr. Fitzgerald called Keene, Westwood, Buckhorn and Fleetwood, all accepting.

Mr. Fitzgerald offered 8 15-16 cts. for further selections, and Mr. Whitton offered 9 cents, at which price he took Benafort, Percy, North Smith.

Mr. Cook at 9c took Missing Link, Otonabee Union, Lakefield, Peterborough, Lang.

Mr. Kerr and Mr. Whitton both called 9c at the moment that Mr. Cook had concluded. It was a straight case of a tie call, and it was agreed that the two buyers should call alternately. Each secured factories as follows: Mr. Kerr, Cavananville, Warminster, Pine Grove, Young's Point, Trewern. Mr. Whitton took Indian River and Maple Leaf —two other factories refused.

Mr. Rollins at 9c took Oakleaf, Daisy D., North Dummer, Stony Lake and South Burleigh.

The Board then adjourned for two weeks.

The remaining meeting to be held this year will take place at the Ontario Bank room, where this morning's meeting was held.

THE LAURIER GOVERNMENT AND THE FARMERS.

The claims of the Laurier Government upon the support of the farming community are large. It is admitted that no government can make the sun shine, the showers fall, or crops grow and yield. These things rest with Providence and the intelligence and industry of the farmer.

But a government can assist the farmer in many ways, and the Liberal Government has done so with no stinted hand — in imparting knowledge as to improved and economical methods, and providing better prices, by improving means for farm products reaching the best markets, in the best condition.

The chief items of improvement under the Liberal rule may be briefly summarized as follows:

The establishment of a complete chain of cold storage transportation, from the farm, in Canada, to the consumer, in Great Britain. The system of cold storage provides refrigerator chambers at the creameries, refrigerator car service to carry perishable products to the seaboard, the establishment of cold storage warehouses at the chief points of export, and the equipment of ocean-going vessels, with efficient mechanical cold storage chambers. The result is that butter and other perishable products can be laid down in the British markets in good condition, giving advanced prices for this product, improving the reputation of Canadian goods, until now Canadian butter runs close in quality and popularity to Danish butter.

The Government provided officers to supervise cold storage shipments, both at the point of embarkation, in Canada, and landing in Great Britain.

The removal of the cattle quarantine restrictions between the United States and Canada. This, one of Hon. Sidney Fisher's first official acts, has been of immense benefit to the trade in stockers — for the four years that quarantine was in force the value of the stock exports totalled only $52,606; in the four years after its removal the value of stockers exported to the United States rose to $5,329,516.

The appointment of a Live Stock Commissioner to deal with the varied interests of live stock production.

An elaborate system of experiments has been made to determine the causes of soft pork and the valuable results have been published and distributed for the benefit of the farmers of the country.

The Minister of Agriculture, having ascertained that there was a good market for Canadian poultry—in proper condition—in Great Britain, caused experiments to be made in methods of fattening and preparing for market, the results of which were spread broad-cast among the farmers, and experts were appointed to instruct farmers in the business.

More effective measures were taken to stamp out and prevent the spread of hog cholera and tuberculosis.

A new laboratory was installed at the Experimental Farm, Ottawa, and staff of the chemical branch added to.

As a result of these and various other measures employed to assist farmers since the Liberals came into office the exports of the farm have expanded in a wonderful degree. For instance during the seven years from 1890 to 1896 under Conservative rule the farm products to the value of 331 millions were shipped out of the country, while for the seven years under Liberal rule the export shipment of farm produce amounted to 578 million. While it would be absurd to claim that the credit for this happy state of affairs is entirely due to the Liberal Government it is not disputed that the efforts and actions of the Government in promoting the farming interests all around, have been a very important factor in stimulating and developing trade.

It can be seen that the Liberal Government has done much to aid the operations of the farmer from the seed bed to the market as they have done much by their policy and administration to promote the general prosperity, augmented the purchasing power of the people, and thus created a better home market as they have created the conditions for a more profitable market in the Mother Country.

Get the Most for Your Money.

The Stoddard lectures are undoubtedly the best bargain for the average purchaser ever offered. You may, without thinking, say that the Encyclopedia Brittanica is more important than the Stoddard lectures, but you will scarcely use one-thousandth part of that work, or any other encyclopedia or dictionary, while there is not one of the five thousand art reproductions of the world's famous scenes and objects in the Stoddard lectures that will not be a delight to you, and not one of the five thousand pages of reading that will not prove at once interesting, instructive and inspiring.

MONTH'S VACATION AFTER A LONG JOURNEY

Mr. Geo. Boucher is Home From Hudson's Bay.

The many friends of Mr. George Boucher, son of Dr. and Mrs. Boucher, Brock street, are pleased to welcome him back to town again. Mr. Boucher, who is an officer in the Hudson's Bay Company, is enjoying a month's furlough, after a journey of over 2,000 miles from York Factory, where he is stationed. For the past twelve years he has been in the service of the Company. Selkirk on the C.P.R. is the nearest railway point to York Factory, and the distance of 700 miles between these two points has to be travelled largely by canoe. It required 21 days for Mr. Boucher to make this trip on the way home. Mr. Boucher when seen yesterday did not desire to be interviewed in reference to the Hudson Bay Company and its operations. He said that York Factory expected a visit shortly from the Dominion exploration party which recently left Quebec.

HALL'S GLEN.

Mr. Thompson, of Toronto, is visiting at the home of Mr. Robt. Hunter.

Miss R. Coppleston is anticipating a pleasant trip home this fall to Lindsay.

Mr. Alex. Darling will be unable to attend the fall fair as he has a great deal of ploughing to do.

Miss M. Harrow, of Toronto, was visiting her friends here last week.

The kind and generous reception tendered Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Darling accounts for their prolonged stay amongst us.

Mr. Rose, of Warsaw, in making a recent trip through this vicinity called on a friend here, where he was hospitably received and entertained.

We regret to state that the valuable animal mentioned in a recent issue of this paper has not yet turned up. So that the reward previously offered still holds good.

The N. D. D. Co., which has given good satisfaction to its patrons this season will close the last of this month, or thereabouts.

Messrs. D. and W. Crowe have been making preparations all fall for the erection of a new house on Maple avenue. The carpenters are expected to commence at once.

The farmers of this neighbourhood have been very busy for the past few weeks cutting their corn.

PERSONALITY SUITING.

You know exactly what you want in a suit?

At the same time you may find it hard to explain to a custom tailor from a piece of cloth just the precise expression you desire.

You may tell a custom tailor the principal features; he makes you a suit that is not what you want—but a modified version of what he thinks you want.

You try on a Semi-ready suit—you can recognize the expression when you see it in the made-up coat on your own form.

You know in advance just what each style and cloth and color effect looks like on your own figure.

You can tell how the suit's expression fits your personality before you are committed to a purchase.

Even then we refund your money for the least dissatisfaction.

REDUCED TO ASHES

Two of Largest Blocks in Winnipeg Burned Down.

LOSS IS A MILLION DOLLARS

The Bullman Block and the Ashdown Hardware Company's Building Completely Wiped Out—List of Those Who Lost Most Heavily—No One Injured—Fire Now Under Control.

Winnipeg, Oct. 12.—Last night the greatest fire in the history of modern Winnipeg has done damage to the extent of over a million dollars, and is still raging, though the efforts of the fire department concentrated on the block immediately north of Ashdown's hardware store appears to be succeeding in restricting the area of the conflagration, which otherwise threatens to destroy the new Union Bank skyscraper, the Leland Hotel, and the City Hall.

Commencing in the new Bullman Bros'. lithographing block, filled with acids, it swept, aided by strong southeast winds, across Albert street, igniting Ashdown's hardware place and destroying every building in its path, including Steele's photographic supplies, the chemicals of which added to the general spectacular effect.

Bullman's was totally destroyed, entailing a loss of hundreds of thousands of dollars, as was also Ashdown's, which carries the largest hardware stock in the west.

No One Injured.

Immense crowds assembled in the streets, but the police had perfect control, and so far no loss of life or injury is reported.

Tremendous explosions of acids and stored ammunition in Ashdown's added to the effect of the impressive scene, flames shooting 50 feet into the air over doomed buildings.

Newspaper row was for a time threatened, but the wind moderating a little the newspaper offices were saved, though power is cut off and morning papers will be hand-set in broad sheets.

Now Under Control.

Later.—The fire now appears to be under control, saving the bulk af the block between Albert and William streets, fronting on Main street.

It is impossible to estimate the total damage, but it will probably pass the million dollar mark.

The fire department worked heroically in the face of the great difficulties, in view of the miserable water pressure.

The water pressure has proved utterly inadequate to the needs of a big city, and the matter will be taken up by the City Council at once.

Bullman's had especial bad luck, as they had borrowed $65,000 from a bank to complete the new building, and had installed machinery equal to any in Canada.

Amongst the other heavy losers will be Kyle, Cheesbrough & Co., dry goods, Montreal; W. B. Dixon, cigars; George E. Ellis, manufacturing jeweler; Duffin, photographic supplies; Steele Co., Limited, and Albert street restaurant.

$40,000 Fire in Hamilton.

Hamilton, Oct. 12.—Fire broke out on the lower floor of the Hamilton Biscuit Co.'s factory, 83 West Cannon street last evening about 8.40. Before the blaze was put out nearly the whole of the first floor, with the contents, had been destroyed. The loss will be about $40,000. The building belongs to T. Z. Pattison estate.

Will Accompany Kruger's Body.

Brussels, Oct. 12.—Ex-President Steyn, who is now in Brussels, states that he is leaving to-day for Fribourg, in Switzerland. He will spend his last three weeks in Europe in Paris, and will then return to South Africa, taking with him the body of Mr. Kruger, and accompanied by General Botha, who arrived here in September.

Magazine Blew Up.

New York, Oct. 12.—The powder magazine at the fort on Cochen's Island, near Pointe a Pitre, Guadeloupe, blew up Monday. One man was killed.

REMOVE CATTLE EMBARGO.

Suggestion For Improvement of British Relations With Canada.

London, Oct. 12.—(C.A.P.)—The Daily News says it is Mr. Chamberlain and not the colonist who assures us that the colonies will break away unless we tax our food. Such an assertion is both insulting and absurd. It is insulting because the colonists have only quite recently shown us their affection as superior to any cash bargain. The only true friends of the Empire are those who make it quite clear to the colonies that the taxation of food in this country is outside the realm of practical politics.

The Morning Leader says a far more practical suggestion for the improvement of our relations with Canada is that the existing embargo on the free importation of Canadian cattle should be repealed. The law as it stands is an ingeniously devised piece of protection. The repeal would remove a genuine Canadian grievance but at the same time afford relief to the heavily burdened consumers of the Mother Country.

Seven Years For Arson.

Brockville, Ont., Oct. 12.—John Hickey, a tramp and physical wreck, charged with burning the haystacks of a Maitland farmer one week ago in revenge for not being given something to eat, was placed on trial before Judge Reynolds. Hickey pleaded guilty, and was forthwith sentenced to seven years hard labor in the Kingston Penitentiary.

Author and Journalist Dead.

London, Oct. 11.—John Hollingshead, author and journalist, is dead. He was born in 1827. Mr. Hollingshead was the son of H. R. Hollingshead, of the Irish Chamber, and was educated for business, but soon abandoned it for journalism. He was a constant contributor for years to Household Words, All the Year Round, Cornhill Magazine, Good Words and Once a Week. Before 1864 he had published a volume of essays and stories dealing, chiefly with life in London. Later he became dramatic critic and since 1868 was prominent in London as a theatrical manager.

Perhaps He's Insane.

St. Catharines, Oct. 11.—At the fall assizes, which opened here yesterday afternoon before Mr. Justice MacMahon, the case of Isaac Ziebler was traversed to the general sessions. Ziebler is the tramp accused of setting fire to the barn of James H. Walker, near Beamsville, because he was refused his breakfast. His mental responsibility is to be enquired into. Ziebler was the one criminal case on the docket.

NEW YORK DAIRY MARKET.

Cheese—Steady, unchanged; receipts, 11,515.

CATTLE MARKETS.

London, Oct. 11.—Cattle are steady at 8½c to 12¼c per lb.; refrigerator beef 9¾c per lb. Sheep, 10½c to 11¾c, dressed weight.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

Receipts of live stock at the city market were large—87 carloads, composed of 1300 cattle, 851 hogs, 1485 sheep and lambs and 75 calves.

There was not a single load of export cattle offered, and none were wanted, seemingly.

Trade in butchers' cattle was slow, with prices easier, especially for the common grades. Too many light, half-fat heifers and steers are being offered. Few sales were quoted over $4 per cwt. A few picked cattle sold at $4.25 per cwt, the bulk going at $3.25 to $3.75; rough to inferior at $2 to $2.50 per cwt. Canners sold all the way from $1.30 to $1.75 per cwt.

Altho there was a fair demand for feeders of good quality, prices were easier all round. Feeders of good quality, weighing from 900 to 1000 lbs each, ranged from $3.40 to $3.70 per cwt, and commoner grades of the same weight sold from $3 to $3.50 per cwt.

The bulk of stockers offered were of the eastern class. Drovers and dealers reported very little demand for them. Those weighing from 500 to 750 lbs each sold all the way from $2 to $2.75 per cwt.

Distillery bulls, of which there was a large number, sold at lower prices. Several of the dealers, it is reported, are getting their supplies from Chicago and Winnipeg. Prices ranged from $2.25 to $2.75 per cwt. for the best of them. One load of rough bulls sold at $2 per cwt. Canner bulls sold from $1.30, to $1.75 per cwt.

There were about 15 or 20 milch cows and springers offered. The quality was fair to good, and the demand for them was better than for several markets. Prices ranged from $30 to $55 each.

Prices for veal calves were unchanged at $2 to $10 each, or $3.50 to $5.25 per cwt.

Deliveries of sheep and lambs were moderate, 1500, with prices unchanged. Sheep sold at $3.50 to $3.75 for ewes, and bucks at $2.75 to $3 per cwt. Lambs sold at $3.75 to $4.30 per cwt.

The run of hogs was light, less than 1000. Prices were firmer at $5.25 for selects; lights and fats at $5.10; sows, $3.50, and stags at $2 to $2.50 per cwt, fed and watered.

EAST BUFFALO CATTLE MARKET.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—Cattle—Receipts, 14,000, including 3000 western; market 10c lower; good to prime steers, $5.25 to $6.60; poor to medium, $3.90 to $5; stockers and feeders, $2 to $4; cows, $2.50 to $4.50; heifers, $2.25 to $5.25; canners, $1.50 to $2; bulls, $1.75 to $4.15; calves, $3 to $7.85; Texas-fed steers, $4.50 to $5.50; western steers, $3.25 to $4.65.

Hogs—Receipts, 16,000; market 10c to 20c low er; mixed and butchers', $5.50 to $5.90; good to choice heavy, $5.70 to $5.85; rough heavy, $5.25 to $5.60; light, $5.40 to $5.90; bulk of sales, $5.50 to $5.80.

Sheep—Receipts, 5000; market steady; good to choice wethers, $3.50 to $4.25; fair to choice mixed, $3 to $3.50; native lambs, $4 to $6.

CHEESE MARKETS.

Ingersoll, Ont., Oct. 11.—At the cheese market, held here to-day, 430 colored and 160 white, last half September, sweets boarded; 8⅜c bid; no sales on board.

Campbellford, Ont., Oct. 11.—At cheese board meeting, 1335 cheese boarded. Magrath bought 670 at 8⅞c; Brenton 145, Cook 90, at 8 13-16c. Balance refused at that price.

Rolling Mill Closed.

Belleville, Oct. 12.—The rolling mills have closed down, the result being brought about, it is said, by a seizure for taxes owed to the city. The company running the mills claim they are not liable. The city claim they are. The matter may be settled.

Archbishop's Farewell.

Boston, Oct. 11.—The Archbishop of Canterbury and bishops representing various parts of the world, addressed a great missionary mass meeting in Tremont Temple last night. The address of the Archbishop was probably the last that he will make in public during his stay in America.

Fire At Napanee.

Napanee, Oct. 11.—Between 10 and 11 o'clock Sunday night the Paisley House Hotel barns were discovered to be in flames, and before the fire could be checked they were a total loss. The fire also consumed the adjoining barns of H. Douglas, W. H. Boyle, Dr. Ward and Mr. Stovel.

Died in Montreal.

Montreal, Oct. 11.—Chevalier Drolet, ex-Pontifical Zouave, died yesterday, after three months' illness.

As Grey's Secretary.

London, Oct. 11.—Colonel Hanbury Williams goes to Canada with Earl Grey, as military secretary.

Be Ready For Croup

And Protect Your Children by Keeping in the House

DR. CHASE,S SYRUP of LINSEED AND TURPENTINE

The Thoroughly Tested and Reliable Family Medicine.

To overcome croup you must act quickly.

There is usually no time allowed for sending for doctors or medicines.

The hollow, croupy cough at midnight may be your first warning, and this will strike terror to your heart if you are not prepared to fight this disease.

It may be of little use to know that Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is a positive cure for croup if it is not to be obtained at the critical time.

Most persons who have tested this treatment for croup keep a bottle at hand, so that by prompt action they can prevent the disease from reaching a serious stage.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is composed of simple ingredients of unquestioned curative power, is pleasant to the taste, well liked by children, and can be used with perfect safety by old and young, so long as directions are followed.

MRS. GEORGE BROWN, 71 Harbord street, Toronto, writes:

"Our children have been very subject to croup, and we have found that Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has always brought quick relief. By using it at the first sign of trouble the disease is checked at once. We always keep this remedy in the house, and, in fact, feel that we could not do without it. We also use it for coughs and colds with excellent results, and recommend it to our friends."

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, 25 cents a bottle; family size, three times as much, 60 cents, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. To protect you against imitations, the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box. 3

The Desertion of Daffodil Maid

By RUTH SANTELLE

Copyright, 1904, by T. C. McClure

On the subject of how he had been inveigled into his present position Harrington was more inclined to beg enlightenment than to furnish it. Had it not been for the aggressive solemnity of the vestry walls and the engrossing task of getting successfully into his white gloves, an undertaking which habit had taught him was not to be regarded with levity or indifference, he might have fancied it all a hideous dream.

But here were Bob at his elbow, looking as self conscious as only bridegroom can, and the rector in ceremonial vestments fluttering his service book leaves. Realest of the real!

Confound it all! After thirty years of sanity how had he been drawn into this worst of transgressions? But when a fellow is the best friend you have in the world and is so beastly happy and so dead in earnest over the thing and comes at you with that tears in his eyes voice—in short, when he's Robert Montgomery Blake, what's to be done?

At any rate, it was done, and he who had carried himself unscathed through the campaigns of one season after another was the victimized best man at last. Harrington felt suddenly as ill at ease in his dress clothes as a college boy at his first "prom."

Even now the organ was pealing its preliminary riot of music. A moment more and the march would summon them forth to the altar rail to await the rest of the party. They had rehearsed the "business" last night with half a dozen candles and supply music. The bride would have her wedding march played by no other than a western school friend, who was to arrive late. Down the two aisles would come the lines of ushers and bridesmaids, the toddling ring bearers, the maid of honor in yellow, with hat of palest green and an armful of daffodils (Madeleine had confided to him all the sickening details), then the stately bride on her father's arm. If one must marry, Madeleine was the right sort, and Bob was getting about the best there was.

This daffodil maid of honor was another of his miseries, a second cut of town friend of Madeleine's, a pale creature who would match her daffodils, bearing the impossible name of Clarissa. If Madeleine hadn't betrayed her overinterest in the pairing off and elaborated so upon his official duties to Miss Daffodil it—

"Heavens, Bob! There's our cue! Take a brace, old man. I'll stand by you!" Then internally, "Yes, with the heart in me like a fistful of liquefied air!"

Custom and good breeding save many a day. Everything moved delightfully, and the breath holding moment of the ceremony arrived. That was as far as Harrington ever got in his memory of the occasion. As they faced the altar his eyes were arrested by a vision. It was seated before the organ in a bower of palms, and the soft lights fell on a glorious crown of shining auburn hair. The side of the face was toward him, and there was a faint impression of a filmy green gown.

It was the violent beginning of a tempestuous end. The sight went through him like a physical shock. He saw only the lovely picture, heard only the soft music that fell from the slender fingers. The first usher prodded him into consciousness when the ring was demanded, the daffodil maid had to clutch an unproffered arm for the recessional.

Once outside Harrington came again into his self sufficiency. As the second carriage came up the yellow confection was hustled into it, the door slammed upon the astonished girl, a peremptory "drive on" issued, and a hatless young man dashed breathlessly around the corner to the organ entrance. Just in time! In another vehicle the auburn head was being extinguished.

"Why, Joe Harrington! What's wrong?" The bride's brother was a clear headed master of ceremonies. "You belong with Clarissa, you know."

"Yes, I know. Some mistake. Everybody excited, of course. Say, Dickie, I can go in here just as well. Don't worry, old man. I don't mind in the least."

"All serene! Here, Ethel, you can shelter this carriageless Joe." And Dickie flew off to see that such "carelessness as the best man's being stranded" was not repeated.

"Ethel," mused Harrington as the rubber wheels started, leaning forward and devouring her with his eyes, "Ethel, it suits so admirably I might almost have known. Madeleine only told me Miss Harman."

The red-brown eyes met his squarely. "Joe," she said meditatively. "Yes, I like it. She only told me Mr. Harrington."

"You came"—

"Only this afternoon."

"Why have you never come before?"

"I didn't know there was anything to come for."

As she spoke they flashed under an arc lamp, and, bending eagerly toward her, he caught the shine of her eyes. It was enough. His hands groped an instant, then gathered in her two warm, yielding ones.

"Oh, girl, girl," he whispered exultingly, "I knew the moment I saw you that you had come for my sake! But how, how have I lived all this while and never found you?"

"I cannot tell, dear, only that now is the right time," was the low response.

Holding both her hands in one of his own, he slipped to her side and tipped her head back against his shoulder. His eyes sought hers in the gloom of the carriage, glorying in the revelations brought by the passing lights.

"The right time of all the world, girl, of all the years that have been for you and for me—the right time for the seal of the promise for those that are to come for us," he said with quiet intensity, his lips closing on her unresisting ones.

"I think we must be nearly there."

"Yes. Wretchedly short drive. Oh, girlie, girlie, I am so proud of you, so glad! What will they think of us, to be sure? I wasn't having a bit of a good time, and now I'm ever so grateful that Bob insisted on making me best man."

"Why, but, dear!" It was a veritable gurgle of astonishment. "You're not dreaming of telling now? It would never, never do. We've not even been introduced! I'm to be here several weeks, you know, and it must come to pass very gradually."

"I suppose so, bless your proper little heart! But isn't it a wee bit more unconventional to have it happen thus than that it should merely be known of? Anyway I promise to be the most persistently lovelorn of any swain who ever aspired to fair lady's hand. Ah, here we are!"

Fortunately the avenue was well shaded just before the blaze of light at the steps was reached.

Dickie greeted them—how he had managed to pass them a certain team might have borne breathless testimony—in an agony of contrition, his very first blunder. He supposed, of course, they'd met. Clarissa had come alone. Madeleine had been investigating and wrenched from him the whole sad tale. Clarissa wouldn't say a word. They sweetly forgave him and were smilingly introduced.

During the ensuing hours of the reception Harrington, ingenuous to the point of bluntness, found use for all his skill as a dissembler. The auburn head was an irresistible magnet, and his telltale eyes followed where his feet were forbidden to tread. Again and again he dragged himself back to the daffodil maid and his proper duty, to find her always mysteriously smiling at him out of a quizzical face. It was hard that the first madly happy hours of one's life should be made to speed so slowly, but at last the bride and groom were off in a shower of rice, kisses and merry cries.

Then quoth the maid of the daffodils to Dickie, "Do look at Joe and Ethel!"

There they stood on the top step, hand in hand, placidly and absently waving after the disappearing carriage with their disengaged hands. The other two members were clasped.

* * * * * * *

It was three interminable months before Harrington was permitted to announce a farewell dinner to his bachelor friends. When he reached the club on the memorable night a letter awaited him bearing the familiar foreign postmark of Mr. and Mrs. Blake's honeymooning nest. Over the signature of Madeleine Blake he read the following:

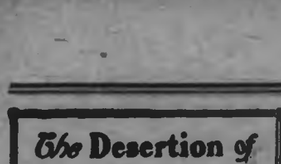
"Bless you, my children! Nothing could delight me more, especially when it's my own particular little pie. Joe the woman hater! Joe the celibate! Clarissa was already engaged, you know, so made a willing martyr on the altar of my schemes. And my Ethel had to play instead of standing by my side, where she belonged. If she had not—if you'd thought you belonged to her by custom, Joe, Joe—my beautiful girlie, instead of becoming the happy Mrs. Harrington shortly, would have shared the sad, sad fate of the daffodil maid."

"And thus," observed Harrington, with a charitable grin, "do some people flatter themselves."

All Up With Him.

"You had a high old time in Europe?"

"Yes," replied the returned tourist; "I had. I was done up at Monte Carlo, held up in the Apennines and laid up in Rome."



Going for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Don't put yourself in this man's place, but keep a bottle of this remedy in your home. There is nothing so good for Colic, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery and Diarrhoea. It is equally valuable for Summer Complaint and Cholera Infantum and has saved the lives of more children than any other medicine in use.

When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take.

You, or some one of your family, are sure to need this remedy sooner or later and when that time comes you will need it badly; you will need it quickly. Why not buy it now and be prepared for such an emergency? Price, 35 cents.

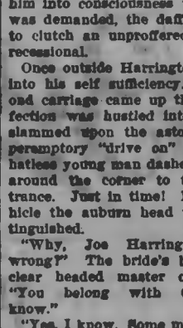
Sleeplessness

Is akin to insanity. Many a woman realises this as she lies awake hour by hour, peopling the darkness with phantoms, starting at the creaking of the bed or the rustle of the bedclothes.



Such symptoms in general point to disease of the delicate womanly organs, and a constant drain of the vital and nervous forces. This condition cannot be overcome by sleeping powders. The diseased condition must be cured before the consequences of disease are removed.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the womanly diseases which cause nervousness and sleeplessness. It is the best of tonics and invigorants, nourishing the nerves, encouraging the appetite and inducing refreshing sleep.

$500 Reward for Women Who Cannot be Cured.

Proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb, which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

"My wife was sick for over eight years," writes Albert H. Pike, Esq., of Altamont, Grundy Co., Tenn. "She had various diseases and was treated by two physicians and got no relief. At last I read about Dr. Pierce's medicines and we decided to try his 'Favorite Prescription.' I went to the drug store and got one bottle and the first dose gave me rest and sleep. She had not slept any for three nights. Being sure that it would cure her I sent for five more bottles and when she had taken the sixth bottle she was sound and well."

SUNLIGHT SOAP

If you wash linoleums and oilcloths with ordinary soap you will find the colors will fade. You can preserve their colors and make them last a long time if you wash them with Sunlight Soap. When dirty, wash with warm water and Sunlight Soap, rinse with clean water and wipe completely dry with a soft cloth. Use Sunlight Soap throughout the house. It makes homes bright and hearts light. It contains no impurities or free alkalis to injure the most delicate fabric.

ASK FOR THE OCTAGON BAR.

Sunlight Soap washes the clothes white and won't injure the hands.

FRUITFUL OLD AGE.

Past Masters in Their Spheres Who Were Past Seventy.

The tall, handsome, myriad minded Goethe wrought at his tasks till he was nearly eighty-three years old. He produced the first part of his masterpiece, "Faust," at fifty-seven, the second part when eighty years old, and wrote some of his most beautiful poems at seventy-five. Six of our foremost American poets, and all but one in quantity as well as in quality of verse—Bryant, Whittier, Longfellow, Lowell, Holmes and Emerson—lived to ages varying from seventy-five to eighty-five and were productive to the last. Dr. Holmes wrote in his eighty-fifth year that "time does not threaten the old man so often with the scythe as with the sandbag," yet he wrote brilliant verse for special occasions almost to the end.

Theodor Mommsen, the historian, a man of almost insignificant stature and emaciated frame, manifested in his eighty-sixth and last year the energy of a man in middle life. The Earl of Dundonald, though he was always in hot water and his whole life was a series of quarrels—though he performed some of the most daredevil feats recorded in the history of naval warfare, winning many brilliant victories against enormous odds—lived to eighty-five and wrote his history of the liberation of Peru, Chile and Brazil and "The Autobiography of a Seaman," two most vigorous, lucid and dashing works, under the stress of intense physical pain in the last three years of his life.

Sir Charles James Napier, the hero of Scinde, was sixty before he held any great command. He fought and won great battles, governed successfully great provinces and achieved a great name long after that period of life had passed when, according to an antique morality not quite exploded, it behooves a man to lay aside the things of the present life and to prepare his soul for the next.

The Polite Porter.

There is a large town on the Northern Counties railway which, it is said, boasts itself as possessing the most polite porters on the system. Everything is relative. Recently a lady having secured a porter at this station told him after her small luggage had been removed from the carriage to get the rest of it from the van.

He returned presently empty handed, with the observation: "Beg pardon, ma'am, but ye're a liar. There's nane o't in the van."

In the south a similar official would have said, "If it's in the world I'll get it for ye."—London Spectator.

LOVE IN JAPAN.

It Is Very Different From That Which Warms the Western Heart.

The boys and girls, the young men and young women of Japan do love each other, I suppose, but one never sees the slightest shadow of evidence to prove it. The spirit of love does not dominate the national life as it does in America and the countries of Europe. Japan's poets do not sing of love; her story writers tell no tales of love that can thrill an Anglo-Saxon heart, and her artists paint no pictures of love that can reach the Anglo-Saxon understanding. Now, considering all this, how can there be such a thing as "a good old summer time" in this land of sunrise? And yet there is, and it is especially delightful in its way, too, because the Japanese are a nation of feasters and picnickers, of nature lovers and world beautifiers, and if one can only lose sight of the fact that everywhere one goes the poor little women toddle meekly along behind the men, who stalk pompously ahead as if they owned the earth, one may almost enjoy oneself.

One never sees a woman caressed in Japan, not even with a glance; one seldom sees a baby fondled—in fact, all human tenderness or expression of human tenderness is conspicuous by its absence, and I believe that is the one impassable great gulf that is fixed between us and this people. And yet the people are happy, with a simple, sweet happiness that is charming. That is it. It is an atmosphere that mildly charms, but never thrills, the western heart. All the nation's love is concentrated upon the emperor, and the highest note of the national life is sounded in yamato damashi, Japan spirit, patriotism, and even this is beyond our comprehension, because it is empty of romance and unsatisfactory to us, who cannot separate the interests of "fair women and brave men" even upon the battlefield.—Eleanor Franklin in Leslie's Weekly.

Brains Not Needed.

Sir Conan Doyle once told a story of an English officer who was badly wounded in South Africa, and the military surgeon had to shave off that portion of his brain which protruded from his skull. The officer got well, and later on in London the surgeon asked whether he knew that a portion of his brain was in a glass bottle in a laboratory. "Oh, that does not matter now," replied the soldier; "I've got a permanent position in the war office."

He Knew the Game.

Deacon Heavyweight—And so you are going to leave us, parson? Rev. Mr. Thankful—Yes. I have had a call to another parish, where, by the way, the salary is considerably larger. I am sorry to leave my flock, but I must obey the call. Deacon Heavyweight (dryly)—Waal, it may be what you call a call, but it seems to me a good deal more like a raise.

Worth Keeping.

"He asked the firm for a raise in his salary."

"Did he get it?"

"Yes. They consider him the most valuable man they have. You see, when he petitioned for more money he did so on the ground that he had just discovered that the firm could get along without him."

Wooden Rheumatism.

"And you say the rheumatism's in your left leg, colonel?"

"It is, sir."

"Why; that's your wooden leg!"

"I know it, sir," replied the colonel. "That makes it all the harder."

THE LATEST NEWS FROM HAVELOCK.

Interesting Happenings at the Busy Railway Town.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Martin left on Wednesday morning last to Toronto to attend the wedding of her sister in the above city and then went on through for a short visit to friends in Guelph.

Miss Nellie Burk of Toronto is the guest of Miss Lizzie Henshall of town.

A very pleasant time was experienced at a small party given by Miss L. Howe at her house last Friday evening.

A very enjoyable time was spent at a party given at the residence of Mr. James McCracken on Thursday night last. Dancing, games, etc., made the evening pass pleasantly.

A very interesting trial came off in the town hall on Friday afternoon last when Mr. M. McNicholl had a number of persons up for taking some liquor out of his cellar, but on account of the evidence being very poor and not enough to convict a man for anything, the case was dismissed by Mr. Edmison, of Peterborough, who came down for the trial. The Magistrate gave Mr. McNicholl to understand that if he was ever up before him in anything that he would show no mercy as the facts of the case went to show that the hotel keeper gave persons liquor when they were intoxicated.

A very pleasant time was enjoyed at an evening party given at the residence of Mr. Richard Nolan last Friday evening where a number of young people enjoyed dancing and other amusements which made the evening pass away very pleasantly.

Now that the cold weather is approaching it is about time some enterprising person or persons were thinking of putting up a rink. The open air one of last winter paid very well and if some one was to put up a good substantial one it would certainly pay good interest on the money invested. Of course it would not pay such good dividends if only a poor structure was put up, but if a good building were erected it would be patronized well. As the Norwood rink had gone through, numerous parties from there would come down for a time. Also a good hockey team could be got together and a league formed that would draw people to see the games also. There are numerous ways that it could be made to pay well if it were properly managed.

Mr. James Watson has moved into his new cement building on the corner opposite the English church. It is a very good stand and since it has been finished looks very nice.

Mr. Robt. Walton is anticipating a trip to the Old Country in the near future.

A number of mischievous boys around the town have the fun of waking people up at night by ringing on the windows and doing numerous other silly little acts that should be brought to a stop. One young lad had the misfortune to get a severe ducking from an upstair window when in the act of pounding on one of the doors in town.

A very bad accident occurred last Saturday afternoon when a Havelock citizen had the misfortune to get his leg broken. The Havelock man got into a rather hot political argument and began to use abusive language, also wanted to whip anyone that would accommodate him. He was accommodated, however, and in the mix up had his leg broken.

Mr. Ward Patterson who was moved to Peterborough some time ago to fill the position as freight agent, has returned to town to take up the same work as freight and express clerk, which he held before he left town. It seems as though the town could not get along without Pat.

Mr. James Colquhoun and wife returned Monday evening from their extended visit to Western points.

The Canadian Pacific Railway are improving the appearance of their station at this point by having the electric lights distributed around the platform. C. Wilhelmy of Peterborough, has the job for the station work.

Mr. Jos. Holdcroft left Saturday morning for a trip to Chicago and other points west. While in Chicago he will take a post graduate course which will keep him away about a month or so.

Miss J. Crawford, of Ottawa, is the guest of her brother, Dr. E. Crawford.

The first show of the season was patronized very well the last couple of nights when "Are You a Mason" and "The Banker's Receipt" was played by the Harry Lindley Show Co. It was the best of its kind that has been seen in this town for some time, and although the hall was not crowded quite a number were there. It is expected they will return in about a month, when it is likely that the people will not be able to get standing room, as it is one of the best that will soon be here.

Last Saturday afternoon Mr. R. L. Borden, the leader of the Conservative side of the House addressed the people in the Town Hall. The Conservatives had the Campbellford brass band over to give him a reception. His speech was very good but owing to the inconvenient hour of the day at which it was given, was not as largely attended as might have been if it had been at night. Mr. J. Sexsmith the Conservative candidate for East Peterborough spoke a few words. Mr. Borden left on the afternoon train for Peterborough where he was to speak that night.

Miss Minnie Horigan, of Smith's Falls, who has been visiting her sister.

Mrs R. Nolan and Miss V. Donnelly who has been visiting Mrs. S. O'Harn, left for a short visit to Miss Smith's in Norwood.

A number of young people left on the afternoon train for Norwood to take in the last day of the fair.

Miss Helen McWilliams, of Marmora, is the guest of Miss Annie Donnelly.

Miss M. Boylan of Sharbot Lake is the guest of her sister-in-law, Mrs. J. Boylan.

Mr Thos. Cummins who has been a resident of the village for the past number of year as blacksmith has moved to Niagara.

Mr. Jas. Campbell who was taken down by a paralytic stroke some time ago made his first appearance out of the house yesterday.

Mr. D. Buttery, who has been laid up for some time has at last been able to get around without a crutch.

Mr. Jack Armstrong, who has been visiting her mother in Toronto has returned home.

Council Chamber, Oct. 5th, 1904.

Council met at 8.00 p. m. Those present were, Mr. Knox, reeve, and councillors J. Thompson, J. Campney, F. Haig, and W. Cooper.

The minutes of last meeting were read and on motion adopted. Mr. R. A. Williams addressed the council in reference to establishing a foundry here.

Moved by Councillor Campney and seconded by Councillor Cooper that the following accounts be paid. The total amounting to $253.90. The electric light Co. for certain lamps not burning for thirty-three nights got a reduction of twenty-five cents per light, made, amounting to $8.25, leaving payment for lights $61.75. The clerk reported to the council the necessary steps to be taken to put Plato Creek under the ditches and water course act, and on motion of councillor Campney the clerk was instructed to address the parties concerned as to the necessary steps to take.

Messrs. E. Fennell and Job. Coon made application to put in a crossing opposite their places of business on George street at their own expense. Moved by councillor Thompson, seconded by Councillor Haig that Messrs. E. Fennell and J. Coon be allowed the privilege of putting in and maintaining a crossing on George street, under the supervision of the street inspector. Such privileges only to be granted during the pleasure of the council.—Carried. Mr. Coon presented the bonds to the council.

On motion of councillor Cooper and Campney the collector's bonds were accepted.

SCALP HUMOURS

Itching, Scaly and Crusted With Loss of Hair

Speedily Cured by Cuticura Soap and Ointment

When Every Other Remedy and Physicians Fail

Warm shampoos with Cuticura Soap and light dressings of Cuticura, the great skin cure, at once stop falling hair, remove crusts, scales and dandruff, soothe irritated, itching surfaces, destroy hair parasites, stimulate the hair follicles, loosen the scalp skin, supply the roots with energy and nourishment, and make the hair grow upon a sweet, healthy scalp when all else fails.

Millions of the world's best people use Cuticura Soap, assisted by Cuticura Ointment, the great skin cure, for preserving, purifying and beautifying the skin, for cleansing the scalp of crusts, scales and dandruff, and the stopping of falling hair, for softening, whitening and soothing red, rough and sore hands, for baby rashes, itchings and chafings, for annoying irritations and inflammations, or too free or offensive perspiration, for ulcerative weaknesses, and many antiseptic purposes which readily suggest themselves to women, as well as for all the purposes of the toilet, bath and nursery.

Complete treatment for every humour, consisting of Cuticura Soap, to cleanse the skin, Cuticura Ointment, to heal the skin, and Cuticura Resolvent Pills, to cool and cleanse the blood, may now be had of all druggists. A single set is often sufficient to cure the most torturing, disfiguring, itching, burning and scaly humours, eczemas, rashes and irritations, from infancy to age, when all else fails.

Cuticura Resolvent, Ointment and Soap are sold throughout the world. Depots: London, 27 Charterhouse Sq.; Paris, 5 Rue de la Paix; Australia, R. Towns & Co., Sydney; Boston, 137 Columbus Ave. Potter Drug & Chemical Corp., Sole Proprietors.

SOME HAPPENINGS IN THE NORTHERN TOWN.

Personal Mention and Other Items of Interest at Lakefield.

An exciting runaway took place in the village on Friday morning last, when Mr. Wm. Hunter's horse broke loose from Messrs. Trude & Leggots' butcher shop and ran down through the village to the lumber yard where after some difficulty the horse was captured.

Mr. H. S. Strathy of the Traders' Bank staff was in Toronto on Sunday visiting friends.

Mr. Wm. Hamilton, of Toronto, gave a highly instructive lecture on astronomy in the Presbyterian church on Monday evening. Despite the bad weather a good audience was present. After the lecture the ladies of the church provided light refreshments in the Sunday School room, and the balance of the evening was spent in doing justice to the good things provided by them.

A Harvest Home Festival will be held in the Town Hall on Thursday evening under the auspices of St. John's Church. After the supper a programme will be rendered by local talent.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pullen who have been at Stony Lake for the past month have returned to the village.

Mr. O. A. Langley was in Peterborough on Monday.

Mrs. Short, who has been visiting friends in Apsley and other places has returned.

Mr. John Bygott, of Millbrook, formerly agent for the Grand Trunk here, has purchased from Mr. John Madill his livery business.

Miss Rixon, of Owen Sound, who has been the guest of Mrs. A. S. Butchart for the past month left the village on Tuesday for Toronto, where she intends visiting her sister for a couple of weeks prior to her returning to her home in Owen Sound.

The many friends of Dr. J. R. Fraser will be pleased to hear that he is again able to resume his practice.

The death of Miss Minnie Fitzgerald occurred at the family residence on Friday last. Miss Fitzgerald had been ill for some time and her sad demise was not unlooked for. The deceased was highly esteemed by her many friends. Mrs. Fitzgerald, who is left to mourn her loss has the sympathy of the entire community, which was evidenced by the large attendance at the funeral, which took place on Sunday afternoon.

A monthly meeting of the municipal council was held in the Town Hall on Monday evening, Oct. 10th, 1904. Present, E. J. Moore, Esq., Reeve, and Councillors Burgess, Kidd, Lennox and Tanner. Minutes of last regular meeting were read and approved.

Finance Committee presented a report recommending the payment of the following accounts:—

We are sorry to report the serious illness of Mr. R. Skinner and trust her recovery will be speedy.

The carpenters have completed the large addition of Dr Harrison's house and since the whole has been newly painted it makes a decided improvement.

WARSAW.

(From our own Correspondent.)

The rain continues to fall day after day, and is not the most favourable for the laying of our new cement sidewalks, at which work a large gang of men are engaged. When this work is completed (towards which our council granted a liberal sum) and we have our contemplated electric light to shine on our new concrete walks, and in our shops and departmental stores we will be in good shape as a well ordered village.

Ac onsiderable amount of diphtheria to the north of the township, but all are recovering in good form.

We understand that Mr. John Rose has sold his farm to Mr. John Darling. Mr. Rose we learn is purchasing a much larger property in Smith.

Mr. Albert Cooper has bought the farm owned by Mr. Ray.

The Rev. Mr. Hayde former pastor of the Presbyterian Church, visited his old friends here recently, where he had laboured for a period of some fourteen years. He preached a splendid sermon at the Methodist Church on Sunday evening.

Mr. Joseph Cooper who has been in a low condition for some time is slightly better.

Mrs. Joseph Edwards, we are sorry to learn, is not in a good state of health.

Mr. Fred. Payne and wife have taken up residence in our midst—welcome.

On Wednesday evening of last week the annual meeting of the Bible Society was held in our village, Rev. Y. H. Locke, of Omemee, was present and delivered an address on the history and work of the society to a delighted audience. The usual business was transacted.

Mrs. Dr. Meacham is away for an extended visit with friends at Sarnia and other western points.

Mrs. Rev. McQuade who has been so seriously ill is slowly recovering.

Mr. Frank Lukey is not in good health.

We Know Our Furs and Guarantee Them

WHERE so much has to be taken for granted, as is the case when you buy Furs, one naturally believes in purchasing where they can have implicit confidence in the knowledge and the truthfulness of the people who sell them.

In the making of Furs, (taking Fur Jackets as an instance) we use only whole skins, not only in the building of the body, but in the unseen parts as well, the undercollars and the underslceves—these are the parts where unscrupulous furriers resort to piecing. The Taping and Joining is all done by Expert Furriers, the Linings are made of Linen Back and Silk Back Satins specially imported by us in the extra heavy weights.

A Garment made in this manner will last a lifetime if given fair treatment. Then there is the extreme Stylishness our Furriers infuse into these Fur Garments. It is generally conceded our Designs are always ahead of most dealers in their newness, and the Trimmings and Finish are magnificent.

Two Weeks' Sale—from Wednesday, October 5th

A GREAT SALE FROM EVERY VIEW-POINT

A sale that involves desirable selling lines We realize the amount of work in preparing for the Xmas trade, Therefore reductions have been made on all Crockery (including Dinner and Tea Sets), Wall Papers, Trunks and Valises. We must clear our second flat—which is now a show room in the above lines—into one where Santa Claus has visited for years. Don't overlook this saving opportunity, as it means dollars saved to you. We were so busy last week we could not get the handbills distributed through the town. They will surprise every one who reads them. Some of our fellow-merchants claim that we must steal the goods, or that they are old stock, in order to make such sweeping underpriced clearances. Pay no attention to any of these stories. Come and see for yourselves.

Wall Paper Department

500 Rolls Gilt Wall Papers, assorted colourings and patterns, regular 10c. Two weeks' sale price, per roll 5c

Border 2c

1,400 Rolls Ingrain Paper, in blue, pink, green and terra cotta, 30 inches wide, regular 12½c. Sale price, per roll 7c

Room Moulding

30,000 feet American Room Moulding. We have forty patterns. They were imported for a large Montreal firm. We can match any colour of Wall Paper, and we can also match any price you may want to pay, as we got the lot at a price which was lower than first cost to manufacturer.

Crockery Department

20 Dinner and Tea Sets, 109 pieces, printed in three colours—brown, green and cellest, traced and illuminated in gold, copper d 12 Bread and Butter Plates, 12 Tea Plates, 12 Breakfast Plates, 12 Dinner and 12 Soup Plates, 12 Fruit Saucers, 12 Cup, 12 Saucers, 2 Platters, 1 Gravy Boat, 2 Vegetable Dishes, 1 Sugar Bowl, 1 Tea Pot, 1 Bowl, 1 Cream Jug. Complete $8.98

40 Toilet Sets, printed, 10 pieces, heavy gold edge, Ewer, Chamber and Basin, regular $4.25 per set. For $3.24

40 Chamber Sets, shaded and tinted, 10 pieces, rolled edge Basin, pretty shape Ewer with heavy gold stipping. You cannot match them at $5.00. Our price during this reduction sale only $3.49

Trunks and Valises

We have over 60 Trunks, but we cannot mention each line, so we will make a reduction of 25 per cent. off our usual price, making a $4.00 Trunk for $3.00

We have no more room in this paper, but hope you will read our handbills when delivered at your house, as you will find them of interest to your pocket.

RUSSIANS RETIRING ALONG ENTIRE FRONT

Japanese Appear to Have Effected Another Repulse of Enemy.

Kuropatkin's Alleged Offensive Movement of Short Duration—Field Marshal Oyama Still in Command.

(Special to the Examiner.)

Tokio, October 13th, (1 p.m.) — It is reported that the Russians are retiring along the entire front and that the Russian force at Ponsuhu is probably enveloped. Eight more guns have been captured by the Japanese.

Mukden, October 12. — The battle south of this place continued throughout Wednesday with ever-increasing fury. Towards evening the Japanese repeatedly assumed the offensive. The fight continues to-day with unabated fury and determination.

Tokio, October 13. — Field Marshall Oyama, reporting from the field on Wednesday afternoon, expressed satisfaction at the progress of the operations and fighting, between the Taitse and Hun Rivers. The centre and right armies made substantial gains, while the left army was desperately struggling to envelope the Russian right. Field Marshall Oyama despatched two telegrams, the first of which said: "The state of affairs is, the centre column of the right army at five o'clock occupied Lakonlin Mountains, and the northern heights of Paoheate; the left column of the right army occupied the northern heights of Shartakon, and continued to pursue the enemy's central column. The central army, beginning operations at midnight, Oct. 11th, have reached the heights extending from Sanchiatsu to Saikanshih mountains on the Northwest, and is probably pursuing the enemy.—

Tokio, October 13, (4 p.m.) General Oku has captured twenty-five Russian guns, making a total of about thirty which have fallen into the hands of the Japanese since the beginning of the battle. The latest reports from the front tell of continued Japanese successes.

St. Petersburg, October 13, (5.15 p.m.) — The war office up to this hour declares that no additional reports have arrived from the front. General Sakharoff's report given out, brings the story of the battle up to the evening of the 11th, when no decisive results had been obtained by either side, although it makes it plain that the Japanese had assumed the offensive and that the Russians had not been entirely successful in defending their positions.

The atmosphere at the war office is by no means cheerful. The failure to receive news of the Russian left wing might possibly be interpreted as tending to confirm the Tokio report that the Russians operating against the Japanese right, had been enveloped.

Berlin, Oct. 13.—The Tokio correspondent of the Lokal Anzeiger, reports that as the result of their days continuous bombardment, the greater part of Port Arthur is in flames. A large number of Russians, he says, surrendered under a white flag. The Japanese are reported to have taken two more forts.

Field Headquarters of the Second Japanese Army, 1.15 p.m., via Fusan, Oct. 13.—During the night the Japanese occupied the hills held by the Russians on the right and centre of the line, the Russians falling back a distance of three miles. The Japanese infantry advanced within fifteen hundred yards of the Russian lines at noon and defeated the Russians in a fierce counter attack almost annihilating the attacking force who made three charges. The Russian artillery are not silenced despite a fierce shelling all day.

Mukden, Oct. 13.—Stubborn fighting is still in progress, this being the fourth day of the engagement. It is impossible to say, at this time, what has been accomplished. Hospital trains are continually arriving from the south. The wounded are being sent further north. A dressing station has been established on the railway platform here, where nurses and surgeons give prompt attention to the most urgent cases before the trains proceed.

Fought For Twelve Hours.

Tokio, Oct. 13.—General activity has been resumed in the theatre of war. It is believed here that a general engagement is progressing between Liaoyang and Mukden. Field Marshal Oyama has met Gen. Kuropatkin's advance with a general advance of the main strength of his force along the broad front.

The opposing forces were in touch Tuesday, and it is believed that a great battle south of the Hun River is inevitable. Besides this direct movement, the Russians are attempting to strike the Japanese right at two points widely separated.

A considerable force of Russians which was sent across the Taitse River, thirty-five miles east of Liaoyang, has apparently been isolated by the Japanese cutting its rear, and the report of its defeat or capture is expected. The following report from the headquarters of Gen. Kuroki's right army was received yesterday:

Gen. Kuroki's Report.

"On the morning of Oct. 9 a body of the enemy crossed the Taitse River from the river at Weiningyeng toward Chaotato and entrenched between Chaotato and Bensihu. Its strength was one brigade of infantry and 3,000 cavalry with two guns. East of Bensihu, on the right bank of the Taitse River, the enemy's strength has increased to one brigade of infantry and 1,500 cavalry with eight guns. The enemy toward Ta Pass consists of a mixed brigade. The regiment of infantry at Menohuapo and another at Pachiatau are advancing south."

In the report on Oct. 10 General Kuroki says:

"Communication has been established with our detachment at Bensihu. Our detachment fought against superior strength for twelve hours. The most severe engagement was near Bensihu.

"All our positions were successfully defended.

"At Weiningyeng the Russians have one brigade.

"A large column of the enemy reached Ta Pass on the 9th.

"Last night the Russians attempted a close attack against our position, and we replied with a portion of our force.

"Reinforcements from our army reached Suolichia at 4 o'clock on the afternoon of the 9th. A portion reached Bensihu at 8 and another portion occupied Tumentsu.

"The Russians are assembling at Pinshankou and Tayupo."

No Russian Reports.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 13.—No official news of the result of yesterday's battle south of Mukden is available at this hour. The frontal attack on the Yentai Mines developed a desperate battle, in which probably 100,000 men engaged; but the despatches so far deal almost exclusively with this feature of the battle. It is pointed out that there is a much wider field involved.

The battle now in progress undoubtedly will outweigh in importance the hard fight at Liaoyang. For Kuropatkin, victory, partial or complete, is absolutely necessary. Defeat would certainly mean ruin for the military reputation and probably prove a disaster of the first magnitude for the Russian army.

ELECTRICITY FOR ST. CLAIR TUNNEL.

Mr. Blair Thinks Railway Is Impressed With the Idea.

Ottawa, Oct. 13.—At a meeting of the Railway Commission yesterday Mr. Blair says the Board was giving its attention to the necessity of adopting certain means of preventing railway accidents and had conferred with the railway authorities, but so far no authorized announcement was made on the subject. He would not say how far the statement which appeared in the press was correct, or otherwise. He had no doubt the railway companies would be disposed to accept any reasonable and practical suggestions the Commission had to offer. Mr. Blair then proceeded to refer to the recent terrible disaster in the Grand Trunk tunnel at St. Clair. He suggested that the substitution of the use of electric motors for the haulage of trains through this tunnel would prevent such accidents. The railway concerned would no doubt be impressed with the necessity of using electricity instead of steam.

The Bell Phone Fight.

The Bell Telephone and the C.P.R. Companies put up a big fight before the Railway Commission yesterday against the application of the Towns of Fort William and Port Arthur to determine the terms and conditions of compensation to be awarded in respect of telephonic communication by the municipal phones with the C.P.R. stations at the two towns. Judgment was reserved.

Company Says It Was Tried.

Montreal, Oct. 12.—Discussing the recent fatality at the St. Clair tunnel, Grand Trunk officials say that for three or four years past the company has looked into all the electrical devices possible, with a view to doing away with steam as a motive power in the tunnel. With a view to installing an electric motive system, they have consulted the best American electrical engineers, who have all reported that in its present stage of development no practical electrical system has been devised for such heavy operations. They have kept track of all inventions in electric science, with a view to electrifying the working of tracks through the tunnel at the earliest moment. Any move now, however, must be made by Charles M. Hays, the general manager, who is in England, so that no move will be made until his return.

Right Cheek Carried Away.

Brockville, Oct. 12.—William Myers of Portland, a small place about 20 miles from here, was dangerously injured yesterday by the accidental discharging of a shot-gun. Myers and a companion named Chas. Morris were duck hunting on Rideau Lake when the former's gun discharged, carrying away his right cheek and badly damaging one eye. The injured man was four miles from home, but was hurriedly removed to the village, when it was found that through loss of blood he had been reduced to a very low state of vitality, but it is thought he will recover. Myers is a traveler for W. & J. Gage, Toronto.

Dock Strike Officially Off.

Marseilles, Oct. 13.—The strike of dock workers, which practically ended some days ago, have now been officially closed by the decision of dockers union to resume work, though a few coal heavers are still standing out. It is estimated that the 40 days' idleness consequent upon this strike cost the city $16,000,000.

Found Dead At St. Catharines.

St. Catharines, Oct. 13.—Edwin W. Stapleford, a prominent contractor of this city, was found dead in his office Tuesday night. He was around during that afternoon, as well as usual. He was superintendent of St. Paul Street Methodist Sunday School.

Entertaining Lord and Lady Minto

SATAN REPROVING SIN.

Our evening contemporary grew seriously red in the face the other day in denouncing the exceeding sinfulness of the sin of a candidate claiming that a supporter of the Government would make a better representative than an opponent of the Government. But in reporting the speech of Mr. Borden it put the following sentence of his speech dealing with his recent discovery of the Trent Valley Canal in capitals, thus:

I SEE NO REASON WHY WE SHOULD NOT PROCEED WITH THIS WORK AND GIVE THE PEOPLE OF THIS COUNTRY, AND PARTICULARLY OF THIS DISTRICT, THE MEANS OF ACCESS TO THE GREAT WATERWAYS, BOTH EAST AND WEST OF THIS COUNTRY, WHICH IS ABSOLUTELY NECESSARY IF CERTAIN GREAT PROPOSED ENTERPRISES ARE TO BE CARRIED ON IN THIS TOWN AND OTHER PLACES. (Applause.) Note—The smallness of the promise which the Review put in capital letters suggested putting the "applause" in small letters.

Thus Mr. Borden can offer a bribe in capital letters and it is applauded, but Mr. Hall the Liberal candidate, cannot state the general principle that as a Government supporter he could be more useful to West Peterborough as a representative than an opponent of the Government, without being "jumped" upon, by the Chambers street champion of virtue, in double-leaded denunciation. Mr. Christopher Kleopfer, of Berlin, Conservative, speaking on the same platform as Mr. Borden, declared that if he was elected and Mr. Borden had the power and did not give him protection he would resign. That was all right, the Conservative newspapers had nothing to say. A Liberal candidate in Winnipeg said that if the improvement in St. Andrews Rapids were not finished in two years he would resign. That was atrocious, and the Toronto World thus moralizes upon its enormity and its remarks are equally applicable to Mr. Borden's bribery proposal printed by the Review in capital letters. The World says:—

This is a kind of appeal which Liberals in opposition regarded with loathing. The works in question are either justifiable in the public interest or not; if not, they should not be constructed at all; if so, they should be constructed without regard to the manner in which the people of Winnipeg cast their votes. No matter whether a man votes Grit or Tory, he contributes the same amount to the Dominion treasury, and is as entitled to share in the benefit of the expenditure. The money comes out of the pockets of the people, not of the ministers. The people have a right to vote as they please, or rather as they think the public interests require; the Government's duty is to expend the public money so as to further the public interest. Such at least were the arguments made use of by Liberals in the old days, and we never heard that they were successfully refuted.

Substitute for "the works in question" in the above paragraph, the words "Trent Valley Waterway," and you have a stinging rebuke for our contemporary, that is from its own point of pretended view.

One thing is certain, there is no danger of Mr. Kendry being hauled over the coals for promising to do anything for West Peterborough, if we are to judge by the masterly inactivity and steady indifference he has heretofore shown in his un-representative capacity. A Government that does things, supported by a live representative, is better than an absentee representative who is about as useful to his constituents as an absentee landlord is to his tenants in Ireland, and no stronger illustration of a political misfit can be imagined.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Toronto News says of Mr. Borden's Toronto speech, that it "sacrificed attractiveness to solidity." Just like a piece of pig iron.

Conservatives confidently expect to carry a large majority of the constituencies in the Northwest Territories. This implies, says the Ottawa Journal, a Conservative sheet, that Mr. Sifton has been asleep. We have our doubts.

Mr. Kendry, who is "against the preference idea in any form," has changed his mind, remarks the Montreal Herald, and is once more a Borden candidate. Whether he will reconsider his opposition to the "Hypocrite" policy remains to be seen. He is evidently very infirm of purpose.

Mr. Borden, speaking at Brockville, regarding the issue of stock in connection with the Transcontinental Railway, led the people to believe that the only thing wrong about the issuing of the stock was the danger that it would result in making a number of millionaires in Canada. There is not the least danger of anyone taking stock in Mr. Borden's piebald railway policy — his Joseph's coat of many colours — becoming a millionaire, or anything else, but a struggles with Chinese puzzles. If one remembers correctly, Mr. Borden, or his Conservative friends didn't frown down the danger of the Canadian Pacific contract making some few millionaires, which, as a matter of fact, it did do. Is that where he got the idea?

When Your Child Suffers.

For lack of knowledge of the value of Dr. Chase's Ointment as a cure for eczema, many a mother has been worn out in the effort to relieve her child of suffering. Eczema, scald head and other forms of itching skin disease are common to children, especially during the teething period. Though readily cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment, eczema, if neglected, becomes chronic and may last for years.

LAKEHURST.

The annual fair at Lakehurst held on October 5th, was a great success, and the crowd was as large as usual. Quite a number drove from Rockcroft, Smith and Peterborough through the mud and rain. Mr. R. R. Hall opened the Fair, and Mr. R. F. McWilliams gave an address. Everything went off as lively as could be expected, considering the unfavourable weather. The Presbyterians furnished a very sumptuous dinner and tea and made out very well financially.

Though dark the night and deep the mud the concert held in the Presbyterian church in the evening of Oct 5th, proved to quite a success. Mr. Mr. Pickup gave some fine selections on the phonograph, and Mr. Bowerman, who was chairman, gave an address on "Success." Miss Garden, of Bobcaygeon, and the Misses Simpson, of Rockcroft, sang several very pretty pieces. Among them was "The Holy City," "Blue Bells," "Tessie, the Only, Only, Only."

Miss Gertie Howson of Dummer, who has been visiting her sister, returned home on Saturday.

Mrs. W. Weir and daughter, and two nieces, Miss Maggie Weir, and Miss Ethel Coons, left on Saturday for a week's visit with friends in Havelock. All intend taking in the Norwood Fair.

A number of our young people intend going to Norwood for the Fair.

Rev. J. Wood, Methodist missionary of B.C., gave an excellent address on mission work in the Methodist church last Sunday evening. The church was well filled.

Quite a number of the people have been improving their dwelling houses. Mrs. O. Smith and Mr. A. Wilson are painting theirs, and Mr. J. McGuire has just completed a cement verandah. All are preparing for winter.

Everybody is busy taking in their potatoes apples and roots, all of which is a very good crop.

CROP REPORTS IN ONTARIO THIS YEAR.

Grain Crops Will be Slightly Above the Average Yield.

Hay and Clover are Ahead of Last Year —Apples Will be Good Crop— 43,000,000 Bushels Estimated.

The following are the estimates on August 1st, by the Ontario Department of Agriculture, of the Ontario crops for the current year. Fuller details will be given in the published bulletins. These estimates will be revised in the November bulletin, when the yields will be more accurately determined by threshing returns:—

Fall wheat.—This year shows a further reduction of sixty thousand acres. The estimated yield this year is 16.1 bushels per acre as against 25.9 in 1903, and is 4.3 bushels below the average of the past twenty-two years. The total yield is 9,847,760 bus. as against 17,242,763 in 1903. The area of fall wheat plowed up totalled 159,274 acres, or nearly 24 per cent. of the area sown.

Spring wheat.—There is a decrease this year of twenty-three thousand acres. The estimated yield is 18.5 bushels per acre as against 18.7 in 1903, and is 2.7 above the average. The total yield all 4,165,735 bushels as against 4,650,707 in 1903.

Barley.—This crop shows an increase of sixty-three thousand acres, the estimated yield being 34.5 bushels per acre as against 34.3 in 1903, and is 5.6 above the average. The total yield is 25,156,638 bushels, and 24,378,817 in 1903.

Oats.—An increase of sixteen thousand acres is shown for oats. The estimated yield this year is 38.3 bushels per acre as against 41.9 in 1903, and is 3.7 above the average. The total yield is 104,459,961 bushels as against 109,874,053 in 1903.

Rye.—Rye shows a reduction of forty-nine thousand acres. The estimated yield this year is 16.1 bus. per acre, as against 16.6 in 1903, and is slightly below the average. The total yield in 1904 is 2,099,946 bushels as against 2,970,760 in 1904.

Peas.—This crop shows a reduction of sixty-seven thousand acres. The estimated yield is 21.2 bus. per acre as against 21.9 in 1903, and is 1.8 bushels above the average. The total yield is 7,177,786 bushels as against 8,924,850 in 1903.

Rye.—Rye shows a reduction of forty-nine thousand acres. The estimated yield this year is 16.1 bus. per acre, as against 16.6 in 1903, and is slightly below the average. The total yield in 1904 is 2,099,946 bushels as against 2,970,760 in 1904.

Peas.—This crop shows a reduction of sixty-seven thousand acres. The estimated yield is 21.2 bus. per acre, as against 21.9 in 1903, and is 1.8 bushels above the average. The total yield is 7,177,786 bushels as against 8,924,850 in 1903.

Beans.—Reduced by two thousand acres. The estimated yield in 1904 is 19.1 as against 18.4 bus. per acre in 1903, and is 2.6 bus. above the average. The total yield is 936,636 bus. as against 978,246 in 1903.

Hay and clover.—This crop shows an increase of one hundred and forty-two thousand acres. The estimated yield is 1.86 tons per acre as against 1.86 in 1903, and is .87 tons above the average. The total yield is 5,260,189 tons compared with 4,226,862 in 1903.

Corn (for husking) 329,832 acres; corn for silo, 163,115; buckwheat 160,008; potatoes 133,113; mangels 71,344; carrots 6629; turnips, 124,267; rape, 49,219; hops, 2263; flax 6313; tobacco, 3023; orchards and gardens, 389,495; vineyards, 14,267 and pasture 3,152,973.

The estimated crop of apples from 7,182,586 trees of bearing age is 43,093,674 bushels, or 6.12 bushels per tree, being a slight decrease from 1903.

Live stock figures show 656,656 horses as compared with 639,581 in 1903. Cattle number 2,776,194 as against 2,674,361 in 1903. Sheep dropped to 1,446,483 from 1,642,736 enumerated in 1903. There are 1,067,964 swine, a small decrease from 1903. Poultry show a total of 9,413,761.

In the year ending June 30th farmers of Ontario have sold or slaughtered 62,210 horses, 730,213 cattle, 687,144 sheep, 2,340,033 swine and 3,597,353 poultry.

The wool clip is 4,977,843 pounds, and farmers possess 761,664 colonies of bees.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

No one who is acquainted with its good qualities can be surprised at the great popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only cures colds and grip effectually and permanently, but prevents these diseases from resulting in pneumonia. It is also a certain cure for croup. Whooping cough is not dangerous when this remedy is given. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. It is also pleasant to take. When all of these facts are taken into consideration it is not surprising that people in foreign lands, as well as at home, esteem this remedy very highly and very few are willing to take any other after having once used it. For sale by all druggists.

DEATH OF PROMINENT ROCHESTER INVENTOR.

The Late Leonard Henkle was Known in Peterborough.

The Rochester Union and Advertiser of Monday, September 12th, contains the following reference to the late Leonard Henkle, who died in that city on Sunday, September 11th. Deceased was well known in these parts, his wife being formerly Miss Moffatt, of Millbrook, niece of Mrs. Moffatt, 191 Reid street town. His first wife, Miss Mary Lockie had also relatives in Peterborough.

The death of Leonard Henkle, an inventor of note, occurred at his home, No. 59 Alexander street, at 2 o'clock Sunday morning.

Mr. Heckle had been ill since last fall, and death, when it finally overtook him, was due to a complication of diseases and a general breakdown. Mr. Henkle was born in a small town in Ohio on May 16, 1834. His youth was spent in Ohio and the west, and for nine years he lived and worked among the Sioux Indians. He endeavoured to better the condition of his tribe and so great was his skill in shooting that he was looked upon with wonder and admiration by the Indians. At the outbreak of the Civil War, Mr. Henkle enlisted with Company A, Thirty-second Ohio Volunteer Infantry, and for some time was in the hospital service, but his natural skill with a gun soon led to his being utilized as a sharpshooter, and in that capacity he served until the close of the war. Shortly after the close of the war Mr. Kenkle came to Rochester and lived here ever since. He was a member of C. J. Powers Post, G. A. R., and when he formed the Independent Veteran Battalion of Rochester, he was made commander, with the title of colonel.

Mr. Henkle was probably best known as an inventor, and along this line his Rochester lamp served to stamp him as one of the first order, besides gaining for him large royalties for several years. Another of his inventions was a burner for the safe use of acetylene gas. Forseeing the great advantages of electricity, he worked for many years on a scheme for utilizing the great water power of the Niagara River for the purpose of supplying light and power to heat Rochester. He stated his plan proposed running sheets out into the river lined with turbines. In this connection he had plans drawn up for a huge electrical palace in Prospect Park, Niagara Falls, but like most inventors, others reaped the benefits of his genius, and the present power system is based on his general plan. At the time of the great anthracite coal strike in 1901 he had a plan for settling the strike which caused widespread comment throughout the country, and although it was seriously contemplated by President Mitchell of the miners' organization it was never put into operation. Mr. Henkle did not depend alone upon his inventive genius for his prominence, for he was also a writer of no mean ability. His first showed his talent in this line twenty years ago, by a masterful appeal to the veterans of his post to join in the Memorial Day celebrations. In 1885 he published in the newspapers a tribute to Frederick Douglass, which had a wide circulation. At one time Mr. Henkle owned a large amount of city property, and was an exsupervisor. He was a man who had traveled extensively, and he was wont to tell his friends that he had been in every state and territory of the Union. Although not a church member, Leonard Henkle was a man of highest Christian character and faithfully lived up to his creed of "the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man." two daughters, Mrs. Arthur Underwood and Miss Elsie May Henkle, both of this city, and by three brothers and three sisters who are scattered through the west. The funeral will take place at 2 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon from Crippen's undertaking rooms on Main street east, and will be attended by the members of C. J. Powers Post, who will hold the customary ritual at the grave.

18 to 20 Bushels Per Acre.

Winnipeg, Oct. 13.—The Canadian Pacific Railway's crop report for the week ending Oct. 10 was issued yesterday. The average yield is estimated at from 18 to 20 bushels per acre. Threshing is now general all over the country. In most districts the weather has been favorable for threshing, but in the Souris, Napika and Portal sections every station save one reports rain.

Pandora Range

Strong Grates

"Pandora" grates are composed of three bars, with short bull-dog teeth, which grip, chop up and throw down the gritty clinkers, but squeeze the hard coal upwards.

The two outer bars work on the centre one, and all three are held together in one strong iron frame, which can be removed by merely unscrewing one bolt. This is a great point in a range. Most range grates require expensive experts to take out old ones and put in new grates. You can do the trick on a "Pandora" in ten minutes, with a ten cent piece for a screw driver. Isn't that simple, convenient, inexpensive?

The more you know about the "Pandora" the better you'll like it.

A "POPULIST" PARTY

Sir Wilfrid's Apt Description of Tory Party of These Days.

GUELPH HEARS THE LEADER

Brilliant Summing Up of the Opposition's Policy Which It Asks the Electorate to Accept in Lieu of the Government's Transcontinental Project For Canadian Development—A Party For "Place."

Guelph, Oct. 13.—"It is simply an off-shoot of the Populism which has arisen across the border. It is a Populist idea; it is not a sound economic policy, and for my part I express my surprise that the present leader of the Conservative party (Mr. Borden) should so far depart from the traditions of the party to which he is proud to belong." Such was the language employed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, amid the hearty cheers of thousands of electors last evening, in summing up the policy which the Opposition are asking the electorate to accept in substitution for the Government's Transcontinental project for Canadian development. The speech of the Premier was aggressive in tone and aroused the magnificent audience, numbering 2,500, who crowded the opera house, to a high pitch of enthusiasm, and at a later period the Premier, amid renewed cheers, declared "The Conservative party is no longer the party of other days. It is the Populist party."

An Enthusiastic Audience.

During the fifty-five minutes occupied by the Premier he held the closest attention of a responsive gathering, who were quick to catch the points of an argument and demonstrative in their manifestations of appreciation and approval of the policy of the Government. Sir Wilfrid, referring to the attitude of the Opposition toward the preferential tariff, aptly described it as "A policy fugitive, evanescent, varying with time, circumstance and place, chiefly place, according to the latitude and longitude," and asserted that on the floor of Parliament they only snarled, but never approved or disapproved. He emphasized his previous declaration, made upon more than one occasion, that his Government stood ready, when the British Government were prepared to give a mutual preference, to appeal to the people of the Dominion to grant greater concessions to the British people and to enter into a treaty of commerce with the parent State. He justified the use of the word "treaty" in that connection, and alluded to the acceptance of the word in England as another evidence of the liberality and generosity which the Mother Country had always accorded to Canada.

Other Able Speakers.

The Liberal candidate, Mr. Hugh Guthrie, justified his course in Parliament, and dealt with a number of misrepresentations which have been made by his opponent and others regarding his action in connection with matters of local interest. Hon. William Paterson also addressed the gathering in his usual vigorous style. After the meeting Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier were escorted by a torchlight procession, headed by a couple of bands, to their car. Fireworks also added to the enthusiasm of the occasion. The Premier's address was delivered with a vigor of voice and grace of gesture which charmed and delighted the audience, and elicted frequent and hearty cheers.

PROUD OF THE MINISTER.

Brandon, Oct. 13.—Hon. Clifford Sifton, Minister of the Interior, was unanimously tendered the Liberal nomination for Brandon at the Liberal Convention here yesterday afternoon. The affair proved the occasion of one of the most remarkable political demonstrations ever witnessed in the West. The delegates in attendance numbered about 280, and represented every polling sub-division in the constituency. The reception accorded Mr. Sifton was enthusiastic in the extreme. On entering the hall the Minister was greeted with three cheers and a tiger. Fully five minutes elapsed before the delegates allowed him to proceed with his speech of acceptance, in which he briefly referred to the issues of the campaign, and impressed upon the audience the necessity for making the campaign short, sharp and decisive. At an early stage of the proceedings the convention adopted strong resolutions endorsing the Liberal Government, and expressing its unbounded confidence in the Minister of the Interior.

Borden Sure of Victory.

Cornwall, Oct. 13.—The Conservatives of Stormont opened their campaign here last night with their heaviest artillery. Mr. R. L. Borden addressed a mass meeting in the Victoria Auditorium, which was well filled. The audience included a large number of Liberals, and fully one-third of those present were ladies. The speakers of the evening were Mr. Borden, Mr. Pringle, M.P., the Conservative candidate, Hon. P. E. Leblanc of Montreal, who spoke in both French and English. Hon. J. P. Whitney and Hon. L. Beaubien. An address of welcome was read to Mr. Borden on behalf of the Stormont Conservative Association. Mr. Borden, in reply, said that it was the twenty-fourth meeting he had addressed in the Province, and he was confident that Ontario would elect more Conservatives than at the last election. He had had reports from all over the Provinces and was sure of a big Conservative victory on November 3.

Snow Blockade Responsible.

Lindsay, Oct. 12.—On Saturday, Charles Armstrong of Kirkfield, who three months ago was arrested on a charge of embezzlement, and has since been in jail here, was sentenced to a month more imprisonment by Judge Dean. Armstrong was, for a year and a half, buying grain at Kirkfield for L. Coffee, Toronto. During the snow blockades last winter he used for himself about $650 of the funds sent by his employer to buy grain with. He did this expecting that heavy deliveries later would enable him to pay back this money out of his commissions. In this he was disappointed and his arrest followed. The circumstances, and the prisoner's former good character, inclined the judge to the light sentence. Mr. Coffee's loss is secured by a guarantee company.

May Not Discriminate.

Ottawa, Oct. 12.—The Railway Commission yesterday morning handed out two more judgments affecting freight rates. The Grand Trunk had applied for permission to haul coal to certain Cobourg manufacturers at 80c. a ton, while charging other consumers 90c. The allegation was that the manufacturers needed the cut rate to continue business. The court decided against the application. Mr. Blair remarked that there had been no evidence that the manufacturers would be injured by the 90c. rate, but they had threatened to bring their coal by water unless the railway gave them the 80c. rate.

The Commissioners also decided that split peas be carried at the same rate as flour.

Found Guilty.

Hamilton, Oct. 12.—At the Assizes yesterday afternoon Edmund Bolin, who shot and seriously wounded his half-brother, Frederick, was found guilty of shooting with intent to do grievous bodily harm. The jury, though finding him guilty, brought in a strong recommendation for leniency.

SHE DIDN'T MEAN IT

At the Time She Said She Would Kill Her Husband.

EVIDENCE IN MRS. DEE'S CASE

On the Witness Stand She Said She and Her Husband Had Not Lived Happily—Tells the Story of His Last Day On Earth—Did Say, However, That She Would Like to See Him Dead.

Ingersoll, Oct. 13.—The arrest of Mrs. William Dee of Salford, on suspicion of having murdered her husband, has produced a sensation in this vicinity. Mrs. Dee was taken before Magistrate Morrison and remanded for a week, when it is expected the coroner's jury will have given a verdict fixing responsibility for the crime.

Result of Strychnine.

Dr. Coleridge, who attended the deceased just before his death, was the first witness called. When summoned to Salford he had been told to bring along a stomach pump. He naturally concluded then that it was a case of poisoning. He arrived at the Dee home and found the patient, William Dee, suffering from convulsions. His pulse was practically motionless and he was in great agony. The doctor proceeded to administer an antidote hypodermically and also attempted to give a little medicine. About the same moment the patient died. The doctor had been at his side only four minutes. There were no marks of violence on the body and Dr. Coleridge believed death to have been the result of strychnine.

Mrs. Dee On the Stand.

The wife of the deceased, Mrs. Dee, said she had first seen her husband Monday morning between 8 and 9 o'clock. He had eaten his breakfast and then had gone out to work. In a few minutes he returned feeling ill. He threw himself on the lounge and his wife prepared a drink of sweet milk and water but he did not drink it. Mrs. Dee was about to go to her neighbor's, John Quinn, for help, but her husband told her Quinn was away. Then she went to James Kennedy's, the sick man telling her as she left the house to hurry back as he felt lonesome. Mr. Kennedy sent for the doctor.

Returning home Mrs. Dee found her husband in a nervous state and suffering from convulsions. He said he had a bitter taste in his mouth, and that his breakfast made him sick. The witness testified that he had had potatoes, bread, butter, cake, pie and tea for breakfast. She had not breakfasted with him but had partaken of the meal at an earlier hour, as she had felt hungry.

Man No Dispute.

"We have not lived happily together always," said Mrs. Dee on the witness stand. "I can't remember whether my husband ever threatened me or not. He was always good to buy things. I myself never threatened to do anything I should not do. I made all the breakfast yesterday morning except the cake. My husband remarked that the cake did not look right. He cut it and eat a piece. It had been purchased at Ingersoll on Friday of last week. I never threatened to give my husband anything. I never heard him say he would like to put himself out of the world. After Mrs. Kennedy came to our place yesterday morning my husband told me where his money was and said good-by. To my knowledge he had no poisonous drug in the house. He was with me when the cake was bought. I gave him everything he ate yesterday morning, and after Mrs. Kennedy came I gave him mustard and water to make him vomit. It never crossed my mind that I would like to put my husband out of the way. He asked me yesterday morning if I had given him anything bitter. I said no. We had no quarrel or dispute yesterday morning. I didn't eat any of the pie or cake at breakfast. After breakfast my husband went into the pantry."

Would Like Him Dead.

"I did not tell anyone," Mrs. Dee added, "that I would like to give my husband anything to make him sick, but not kill him. I did say I would like to see him dead. I don't remember us having any words Saturday or Sunday."

Mrs. James Kennedy, who proceeded to the Dee home after Mrs. Dee had asked Mr. Kennedy to go for the doctor, was the last witness called before adjournment. When Mrs. Dee called she told the witness that her husband was very ill and could not last long.

"I asked Mrs. Dee," said Mrs. Kennedy, "if she had given her husband anything, meaning poison. She said he had gotten his own breakfast. She had given him only a cup of tea. She had put milk in it. I asked Mrs. Dee the first question because of certain remarks she had made to me.

A Threat to Kill.

"Last spring and summer Mrs. Dee spoke to me of the treatment she received from her husband, and she said she would kill him if she could. She also spoke of going away, as she could not live with her husband. I told Mr. Dee of this unhappiness of Mrs. Dee, and he spoke kindly of her. Yesterday afternoon I asked Mrs. Dee if she remembered what she had said to me regarding her husband. She said yes, but that she didn't mean it at the time."

According to Mrs. Kennedy's testimony, Mrs. Dee was in no hurry to return to her sick husband after she had sent Mr. Kennedy for the doctor. When Mrs. Kennedy arrived at the Dee home, Dee was lying on the floor and was in convulsions. He said he was ill because of something he had eaten for breakfast.

THE COST OF THE RAILWAY TO THE COUNTRY.

An intense degree of misconception exists in regard to the new transcontinental railway—the Grand Trunk Pacific. As to its desirability, and its necessity, in opening up the great Northwest, and developing, en route, a new Ontario and Quebec, which it is capable of doing, there has come to be in the minds of even Conservatives, who have faith in the extent and value of the undeveloped territory and resources of Canada, a settled opinion in favour of its construction at the earliest possible date. The only debatable points of importance, are its mode of construction, and the nature of its ownership and operation.

To deal with one of these points at a time, the most important may be first selected, that of the cost to the country. Upon this point it can be clearly shown that misconception and disingenuous statements of the most extravagant character, exist, and are employed. In conversation with a prominent and level-headed Conservative to-day, the Examiner stated to him that the cost to the country was vastly over-rated. "Then," he asked, "how can Mr. Borden say that the Grand Trunk Pacific will cost between $150,000,000 and $175,000,000?"

Simply because Mr. Borden cannot say any such thing; and he doesn't say anything of the kind. He uses a phrase conveying that idea to the unthinking, to the effect that "in cash and credit," or cash and guarantee, the country is committed to the enormous expenditure mentioned. As a matter of fact, the cash outlay, actual and probable, is less than one-tenth of one hundred and fifty millions, not to speak of one hundred and seventy-one millions of dollars.

This can be simply and briefly shown. Take the Eastern Section, which is to be built by the Government — 1875 miles. This will cost $64,125,000, and with interest on $7,031,975, during construction, capitalised, added, makes the total cost of the Eastern Section $[illegible]56,975.

The Government under the agreement with the G.T.P.R., pays the interest on the cost for seven years, which Government experts place at $10,655,562, present value.

The Government pays this as interest for seven years, and it is all the Government has to pay in respect of the Eastern Section of the Transcontinental railway. Under the agreement, the G.T.P.R. leases this division from the Government, which owns it, and pays three per cent. on the cost of construction, which will meet the interest on the amount the Government will borrow to build the line. It may more than meet it, for the Government, while collecting 3 per cent., by way of rental, from the railway, may get money at a lower rate. In 1897, when the credit of Canada was not so good as it is now, the Liberal Government succeeded in placing a loan in Great Britain — the money centre of the world — at 2 1-2 per cent. interest, which realized 2 7-8 per cent. And it is possible that as good a figure can be realized again, on fifty year Government bonds.

Thus in respect of the Eastern Section, $10,655,562—to meet the 7 years interest on its cost — is all the Government has to pay, for the three per cent. rental will pay, and very probably, over-pay, the interest on the sum this section of the line will cost.

Now take the western section from Winnipeg to the Pacific Coast. This the company builds and owns as the Government builds and owns the eastern section. But the Government gives a guarantee.

The Prairie section of 1,000 miles, which the company builds, may be placed out of the reckoning. True the Government guarantees three-quarters of the cost not to exceed $13,000 dollars per mile, which fixes the amount for the prairie section at $13,000,000, but as the company will pay interest on this from the beginning, that places no burden whatever on the Government or country.

Then we have left to deal with, the Mountain section—through the Rockies to the Coast—480 miles. The Company builds this at $56,000 per mile—a Conservative and a conservative estimate—the cost will be $26,888,000. Of the interest on this amount the Government guarantees three-fourths or $20,166,000. The state of the money market may require the issue of additional bonds to raise this sum, bringing it up to $31,221,000—the total issue of bonds to be guaranteed by the Government. The annual interest on this at three per cent. would be $936,361. The Government pays interest on this for seven years, all other interest to be paid by the Company. To provide a fund for the payment of this interest for seven years we would have to lay aside $3,177,974. The interest on that at three per cent. would pay the $936,631 annually, the Government's three-quarter share of the interests on the bonds for $31,221,000.

Now all the Government has to pay out to secure another great ocean-to-ocean railway line is the following:—

Total present sum, needed to cover seven years interest (all other interest to be paid by the Company) for cost of Eastern Division	$10,655,562
Total present sum, needed to meet Government portion, three-fourths, of seven years' interest (all other interest to be paid by the Company) on cost of Mountain section ...	3,177,940
Total financial responsibility of the Government	$13,833,502

This is the total amount of cash outlay the people will have to meet to secure a second transcontinental railway of 3,355 miles from ocean to ocean and every inch on Canadian soil, while 200 miles of the eastern section of the C.P.R. runs through United States territory—the State of Maine.

Mr. Borden can only get his figures, of one hundred and fifty to one hundred and seventy-five millions, by saddling the whole cost of the line, and at extravagant estimates, upon the people of Canada, whereas all we have to pay is the interest upon cost for seven years which will amount as shown above to only about $14,000,000, or less than one-tenth of Mr. Borden's lowest figures.

In addition out of its own capital stock of $45,000,000 the Company is bound to equip the road with rolling stock and provide a line of steamers at its Pacific and Atlantic terminal.

The 13 millions odd is all the financial obligations the Government incurs unless the Company, which is bound to equip and operate the railway, makes a failure of it, in which event the first mortgage the Government has upon it will become due and then Mr. Borden will realise his dream of Government ownership.

As to the desirability of Government ownership there is little to be said in its favour. Prominent men in Mr. Borden's own party have said do condemn it. Sir John Macdonald condemned it, using the intercolonial which has never paid the interest on its cost, as a terrible example. Sir Charles Tupper condemns it. Sir Mackenzie Bowell condemns it. Senator Drummond, one of the greatest financiers of the country, condemns it. So do Mr. Clouston, general manager of the Bank of Montreal; Mr. Stikeman, general manager of the Bank of British North America; Hugh Allen, and scores of others, condemn Government ownership and operation of railways, especially operation.

MR. BORDEN MR. KENDRY AND THE TRENT WATERWAY.

Mr. Borden must be glad he came to Peterborough. He made a great discovery — in Toronto he discovered a candidate for West Peterborough; in Peterborough he discovered the Trent Waterway — that is, according to his own statement. The Review put a part of his reference to this work in capital letters, we probably submit another as evidence of Mr. Borden's discovery. During the course of his speech on Saturday night, in dealing with the Trent Canal question, Mr. Borden said:

"I HAVE BEEN IMPRESSED—ALTHOUGH I DO NOT UNDERSTAND THE QUESTION AS FULLY, PERHAPS, AS THOSE TO WHOM IT HAS ALWAYS BEEN FAMILIAR—I HAVE BEEN IMPRESSED WITH THE ARGUMENTS URGED UPON ME BY MR. KENDRY, AND OTHER GENTLEMEN OF THIS CITY SINCE I ARRIVED HERE TO-DAY."

"SINCE I ARRIVED HERE TO-DAY." That's richness. Where has Mr. Kendry been all those eight years he has "represented" West Peterborough? What was he doing that he did not pump Mr. Borden full of Trent Canal water, to the throat? Mr. Borden said he and Mr. Kendry entered Parliament together — they have been politically sleeping together, and waking, hand in glove, together for eight long years. In speaking of Mr. Kendry's brilliant "representative" services, Mr. Borden distinctly remembers that some time — about two years ago — Mr. Kendry, though his voice was not heard as often in Parliament as Mr. Borden's, made a speech on the tariff, which was "much applauded." Yet in all the years of close communion, and fellowship, Mr. Kendry, it seems, never took advantage of the thousands of chances to load up Mr. Borden the right way with the Trent Canal, an enterprise which is, from the progress point of view, the breath of life, the hope, the salvation, of Peterborough, West Peterborough, and the Midland District. No; it appears, according to Mr. Borden himself, that our alert, live, wide-awake "representative," postponed this trifling duty, till Mr. Borden "reached here to-day," and then had to depend upon Mr. Kendry, and other gentlemen, for his impressions of the importance of the Trent Valley Waterway, and was so much impressed, that, on the spot, with his interest only two or three hours old, he made a misty promise of completion, which the Review thought was so important that it could only fittingly be emblazoned in capital letters.

A brilliant idea—death-bed repentance is far-seeing, compared to it. If Mr. Kendry had had the interests of the town at heart, would he have left it till his leader's visit — on the eve of an election — to "impress" Mr. Borden with the merits and indispensability of the Trent Canal, and extract a misty promise which Mr. Borden has neither the present nor future power to fulfil? For as sure as the sunrise, the Laurier Government will be returned to power for another term.

At his meeting on Saturday night Mr. Borden arraigned the Liberal Government for "ignoring the demands of our magnificent system of waterways upon which eighty millions had been spent." Was this just? Was this fair in face of recorded and existing facts?

See what the present Government has done since it came into power. The Liberal Government has spent on the improvement of our canals — something the Conservative Government dawdled over and neglected — the magnificent sum of $18,394,220.

That is the Liberal Government in eight years has spent a quarter of the 80 millions which has been spent on our canals during the long years that Canada has been Canada. The Liberal Government has done more in its eight years of office to develop and improve our canal system than any Government that ever existed has done in the same space of time or double the same space of time. Can Mr. Borden justify his assertion that the Liberals have ignored, or are ignoring, the demands of our canals?

And note well that, of the nearly 20 millions spent by the Liberal Government on canals in the past eight years, over two and a half millions—$2,596,573—have been spent on the Trent Valley Canal.

The sum spent in the long reign of the Conservative Government was less than half as much—$1,229,408.

Yet Mr. Borden has the assurance to come to Peterborough and profess an interest in the Trent Waterway in face of the acknowledgment he didn't know much about it "till he was loaded up" at a five o'clock tea table a few hours before.

Where was Mr. Kendry these eight years that he didn't inform Mr. Borden better and urge upon him the importance of the Trent Canal. He may reply that that is his business—and a very apt answer, too; his business was not much neglected in favour of the business of the people he was elected to represent.

INTERESTING DISCOVERY NEAR MARKET SQUARE.

Machine Telephone Men Dig Into an Old Well.

Some very interesting discoveries have been made in the operation in connection with the Machine Telephone Company. The company has been making extensive excavations on the streets in the process of laying their wires. Yesterday an old Indian tomahawk was unearthed at the corner of Simcoe and George streets at a distance of about seven feet below the surface.

To-day the company's men were digging in the lane of the rear of China Hall and when opposite Mr. R. Neill's store an old well was discovered. It had been covered over with planks which were about two feet below the surface. The well was about six feet in diameter and fourteen feet deep. There was four feet of water in the bottom. It is certainly many years since any use was made of the well. It is thought by some that it was formerly used as a tank for fire purposes.

Will Never Grow Old.

The "Stoddard Lectures," unlike most books, will never grow old, or decrease in value, but will be just as interesting, and just as helpful, ten years from to-day as they are now. For instance, nature will never grow old in your life-time or mine. Mountains, like the Matterhorn, rivers, like the Rhine, lakes, waterfalls, cascades, in fact, all of these illustrations and pages of description on natural scenery will be just as valuable twenty-five years from now as they are to-day. Again, the same thing is true of the world's famous palaces, churches, museums, castles, and all the other pages of description and views of the world's gems in art and architecture, and just as true of these portraits and biographical sketches of the world's celebrities. None of these things will ever lose their value. It is a great thing when buying a set of books, to get one, the subject matter of which, like the Bible and Shakespeare, will never grow old.

BOYS WERE DISCHARGED WITH A WARNING

Cooney and Hubbel Before Judge Weller Yesterday Morning.

Yesterday morning the two boys, Cooney and Hubbel, arrested in connection with the robbery at the Peterborough Hardware Store, were brought before Judge Weller for trial and pleaded guilty. The judge in consideration of their youth and previous good character, and of the fact that they had already been confined in gaol for two weeks, allowed them to go free, with a warning against further bad conduct. The evidence showed that the boys had been led into trouble by another lad. Mr. R. E. Wood prosecuted for the Crown; and Mr. F. D. Kerr appeared for the accused.

CARR—HANCOCK

Pretty Nuptial Event in Township of Smith Last Evening.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated at 7.30 o'clock last evening at the home of Mrs. Thos. Hancock, township of Smith, when her daughter, Miss Lulu Olive, was married to Mr. Robert Henry Carr, of Cavanville. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Dr. Crothers, of the George street church. The bride was attended by Miss Alice J. Glover of Newtonville, and the groom was supported by Mr. Clement Hancock, brother of the bride. The parlour where the pleasing ceremony took place was very prettily decorated for the occasion. There was a large number of guests present, and the bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents.

EXTENSIVE IMPROVEMENTS AT THE CATHEDRAL.

Appearance of the Sacred Edifice Will be much Enhanced.

Improvements of an extensive nature are going on at St. Peter's Cathedral. The work of remodelling this already beautiful edifice has been going on for the past six weeks and it is expected that in a fortnight's time the work will be completed. The appearance of the church, both exterior and interior will be greatly enhanced by the work done.

About 2,000 feet of concrete walks have been laid at the various entrances to the buildings while improvements have also been made about the lawns. A portion of the interior and exterior has been repainted.

In the basement toilet rooms are being fitted up and an additional steam heating apparatus has been installed with every possible convenience. The entrances to the basement have also been remodelled. All the work has been splendidly done and will much improve the appearance of the church generally. The roof also has been reshingled.

The work has been under the supervision of Architect Argue with the following contractors: Fred Cook, painting; John Hayes, stonework; J. Bogue, concrete work; McPherson & McGregor, plumbing.

WEST PETERBORO' IN LIBERAL COLUMN

Prospects are That This Riding Will Return Liberal Candidate.

Splendid Work Being Done by His Supporters—Preparations for Thursday's Great Meeting.

Liberals turned out in full force at the committee rooms last night, and there was another grand rally of supporters of Mr. Hall, Laurier and the Liberal Government. The enthusiasm among the workers and among the rank and file of the party locally, in sympathy with the general conditions throughout the Dominion, is growing, and as the time goes by the prospects for the election of Mr. Hall grows brighter and the chances for the success of the Liberal party in West Peterborough in the coming election are rosseto.

Evidently the committee rooms are popular with the young men of the town, for they gather there nightly, and are taking a hand in the work. The interior of the rooms are attractive, the profusion of flags and bunting giving it a cheery appearance, while the painted dragrams in the windows, the work of Mr. Fred Cook, tell in a convincing way of the great progress Canada has made in material things during the eight years of Liberal administration. Not the least interesting of these is that showing the growth of Peterborough's industries, and the showing made in this town alone during this time is sufficient to induce every man having the welfare of the town at heart to vote for Hall and Laurier.

On Saturday night the usual grand Liberal rally will be held when Mr Hall will lay before the electors additional reasons for his election on the 3rd of November. It is understood that some good local talent will be heard on the platform, and the electors of the town irrespective of politics are invited to be present.

The dates for Mr. Hall's out-of-town meetings have been arranged. To-morrow night Mr. Hall and Hon. J. R. Stratton will address a meeting of the electors of North Monaghan in the town hall in that township, and on Monday night the same two speakers will go to Centreville. From persons who have been through the different parts of the riding, news of the most encouraging nature comes, and they indicate that the victory of Mr. Hall on Nov. 3rd will be a complete one.

In town, too, the outlook is most encouraging. Mr. Hall, on his canvas is meeting with great success, and the town vote polled by him will be very large.

The preparations for the great Liberal meeting one week from to-night in the Brock street rink, when the Premier will address the electors, are progressing favourably and the demonstration will be the largest in the history of the riding. A torch-light procession with bands will precede the meeting. In addition to Sir Wilfrid Laurier there will be a number of other prominent speakers. Special rates are being secured from towns in the vicinity, and a special train will go to Lakefield after the meeting.

INTERESTING MEETING IN ST. LUKE'S SUNDAY SCHOOL

Miss Tilly of Toronto Will Address the Woman's Auxiluiry.

Miss Tully, the Diocesan president of the Toronto Diocese Woman's Auxiliary, will be at St. Luke's to-morrow night, and address a meeting of the ladies of St. Luke's congregation, and all interested in mission work. The members of St. John's and All Saints' Auxiliaries have been invited to be present, and it is expected that there will be a good attendance of all ladies interested in this important branch of church work. The meeting will commence at eight o'clock.

A SPLENDID REHEARSAL.

Large Turnout of Mrs. W. J. Morrow's Choral Class Last Evening.

The first rehearsal of Mrs. W. J. Morrow's Choral class was held last evening in the Y.M.C.A. Hall. There was a large turnout of members and the practice was a most encouraging one. During the evening Mrs. C. B. McAllister sang "Abide with Me" by Hutchins; Miss Blomfield, "Madrigal" by Chaminade; Miss Ruth Dawson, "Oh, had I Judah's Lyre" Handel and Miss Bertha Parnell, "The Brighter Day." The practice closed with a rehearsal of the "Hallelujah Chorus."

Next Wednesday the practice will be held at Mrs. Morrow's residence, corner Brock and Downie street.

SUCCESSFUL NORWOOD FAIR-NIGHT CONCERT.

"The Spinsters' Convention" Delighted a Large Audience.

A pleasing ending to the Norwood fair yesterday was an entertainment given in the Town Hall, by a number of the young persons, principally ladies of the town, in aid of the Presbyterian Church. The principal part of the programme was the presentation of the play, "The Spinsters' Convention," in which eighteen young ladies and two young gentlemen took part.

The play, while it is not altogether new, is one that will stand repetition, and the local touches given it added considerably to its interest.

Preceeding the presentation of the play, a May Pole drill participated in by sixteen little girls was given and the performance of these little maidens was such as to warmly merit the applause with which their portion of the program was met. A Scotch song by Rev. G. A. MacLennon was heartily applauded as was also a male quartette. Mrs. J. A. Finlay rendered a solo, which was highly appreciated, while a recitation by Miss Stinson was also accorded a generous measure of approval by the audience. A Scotch duet, "When ye gang awa, Jamie," was sung by Miss A. Moffatt and Master R. Findlay and was exceedingly well received. A solo by Miss E. Campbell was the last number in this portion of the programme and it also was well rendered.

Josephine Jane Green (Pres)... ... ... Mrs. J. Roxburgh
Priscilla Abigail Hodge (Sec). Mrs. J. Weir
Calamity Jane Higgins, (Treas) Miss B. Findlay
Jerusha Matilda Spriggins... ... ... Miss A. Thompson

Estimate of Loss Sustained By Winnipeg in Tuesday's

Winnipeg, Oct. 13.—The following is the estimate of the principal losses sustained by the leading victims of Tuesday night's fire. The list is not official, as many of the owners could do but little more than give an approximate estimate, and in many cases the insurance could not be learned:

Bulman Block and contents, $140,000.

Ashdown store and contents, $400,000.

Kyle, Cheseborough & Co., $15,000.

H. W. Gerhardt, $2,000.

George E. Ellis & Co., $25,000.

W. A. Dixon, $10,000.

Slater Shoe Company, $2,500.

Grundy Music Company, $5,000.

Duffin building, $15,000.

Duffin contents, $8,000.

Connel & Co., $1,000.

W. A. Davis, $3,000.

Woodbine, $4,000.

Ryalto Block, $4,000.

Dr. Watts, $3,000.

Steele & Co., $5,000.

Hingston Smith Arms Company, $2,000.

The Bulman Block was insured in about twenty different companies. The stock in the building was covered to the extent of $62,500.

The Ashdown Company carried $75,000 on stock and $40,000 on the building; their loss was very heavy. The balance of the sufferers are mostly covered by insurance. The total loss is placed at $750,000.

Hamilton Visited By Fire.

Hamilton, Oct. 13.—Hamilton was visited by another $10,000 fire last night. The Stanley Mills Company is the loser. The fire broke out about 10 o'clock in its James street branch, which is devoted to hardware. It was confined to the building.

A TOTAL WRECK.

Aberdeen Brings in Passengers and Mails of Abandoned St. Lawrence.

Quebec, Oct. 13.—The steamer St. Lawrence, formerly the Douro, ashore at English Point, is a total wreck. The steamer Aberdeen, which has been at the scene of the disaster, arrived here about 5 p.m. yesterday with 115 passengers, the crew, mails and luggage, the St. Lawrence having been abandoned altogether. The loss is about $40,000 for the North Shore SS. Line. The accident happened Saturday night about 6.30. The steamer was going to take some passengers at English Point, when she struck on a rock and lost her screw and gear. Seeing that she was disabled and making water very fast, the captain had nothing else to do than to ground the steamer. Most of the passengers passed the whole night on board, and the next morning they disembarked in safety and were rescued by some of the inhabitants of English Point.

GOOD REASONS FOR ALL HE SAYS

Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured W. N. Baskin's Pains.

Well-Known Norwood Contractor Always Has a Good Word for Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Norwood, Ont., Oct. 12, (Special.)—Mr. W. N. Baskin, the well-known lumberman and railway contractor here, is one of those who never fail to say a good word for Dodd's Kidney Pills. Mr. Basikn gives the reason why as follows:

"For two years I was laid up with Lumbago and Kidney Disease. At times it would become very weak and would have to give up work. I did work on the C.P.R., and the Parry Sound Railway, and people all know how sick I was.

"Reading of the wonderful cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills led me to try them, and I can say that I have not had any pains since I used them. It just took three boxes to cure me completely."

Lumbago is one of the results of Kidney Disease. Cure your Kidneys with Dodd's Kidney Pills, and you will cure your Lumbago.

Girl's Sad Story.

Montreal, Oct. 13.—Bessie Ellis was found in a field in Verdun yesterday in an unconscious condition, the result of a terrible beating and, according to her own story, an attempt to drown her. At the hospital she says that two men drove her out to Verdun and then assaulted her. She says she came here a week ago, but beyond a mere mention of Western Ontario has given no indication of where she came from.

Corner Stone Laid.

Port Arthur Oct. 13.—The cornerstone of the new Methodist Church was laid yesterday afternoon by the Rev. Mr. Walker, pastor. Addresses were made by Revs. Messrs. Murray and Parsons. The cost is $40,000.

In Woman's Favour.

Few treatments stand so high in woman's favour as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. This is not only because of the extraordinary control which this preparation has over diseases and weakness peculiar to women, but also because of its power as a tissue builder. By weighing yourself while using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food you can prove that new flesh and is being added to the body.

Aground With Grain.

Port Arthur, Oct. 13.—The steamer Rosemount is hard aground in the harbor. She got out of the channel, and is 20 inches out of water. She has a cargo of grain for the east. Tugs and dredges are endeavoring to pull her off, but without success. She will likely have to be lightered.

Seized Cashier's Box.

Winnipeg, Oct. 13.—A bold hold-up occurred at Larivjere Tuesday, two men springing out from a lane on J. H. Farney & Son's cashier, seizing his box and making away with its contents.

CATARRH CURED

Safely and Speedily Through Munyon's Catarrh Specifics.

THE FALL

Is the Time When This Disease Gets a Foothold—Why Not

BE PREPARED?

I have been so successful in the cure of catarrh all over the United States and Ontario—all over the world for that matter—that I almost feel that I can safely claim infallibility.

The symptoms of catarrh are plain. You cannot mistake the discharges from the nose and throat, the bad breath, the stuffy feeling in the nose, the pressure and pains in the head, dizziness, sneezing, nose-bleed, inflamed, watery eyes; liability to take cold; stupid, dull feeling in the head; nausea, deafness, and the hawking and spitting of mucous that drops from the nose into the throat.

I want every person who suffers from catarrh to get a bottle of my Catarrh Cure and take it according to directions and see how quickly it will stop all catarrhal discharges from the nose; the dropping of mucus into the stomach; pains in the head, dizziness, inflamed eyes, nausea, deafness, hawking and spitting and other disagreeable features of catarrh.

People who suffer with catarrh of the nose, head and throat should by all means get a package of my Catarrh Tablets and use them as a wash. This wash will cleanse, soothe and heal all sore spots, harden the membranes and prevent taking fresh colds.

I do not believe there is a case of catarrh, whether it is in the head, throat, lungs or stomach, that my Catarrh Cure and Catarrh Tablets will not cure.—MUNYON.

Munyon's Rheumatism Cure seldom fails to relieve in one to three hours, and cures in a few days.

Munyon's Dyspepsia Cure positively cures all forms of indigestion and stomach trouble.

Munyon's Paw-Paw Laxative Pills will keep the liver in order and positively cure constipation, biliousness, jaundice and all diseases arising from a torpid liver.

Munyon's Witch Hazel Soap and other Witch Hazel Toilet Preparations will give any one a skin like velvet and a clear complexion. 24

WALKING GOWNS.

Natty Specimens of the Tailor's Art, Including a Taking Norfolk Suit.

Tailor modes, ever a useful standby, promise to be in more favor than for some time past—that is, modes such as those sketched, which are unmistakably of the tailor's handiwork. One of these is a fawn flecked brown tweed on which velvet points give a smart, decisive touch to the collar, while four pockets satisfy the admirers of these useful appendages.

The tale of the Norfolk is told in a variety of charming ways, as witness the second costume pictured. This is a fox brown tweed streaked with green, the seams neatly lapped, but the skirt unlined for the sake of lightness.

Large shepherd plaids are employed with desirable effect for Chesterfield coats and short gored skirts. Some of the plaids have a line of color introduced, one especially nice one having a soft suggestion of a green square check overlaying the black and white. Irish frieze and tweeds are included in this range of fabrics.

Boiling a Sweet Potato.

In as simple a matter as boiling a sweet potato, how many cooks, after boiling till a fork can easily penetrate the potato, pour off the water, throw a towel over the pot and draw it to the back of the range and allow the potatoes to steam for a quarter of an hour? They lose all that heavy character and become light and a brighter shade of yellow. Peel them before serving. The skin of a sweet potato is usually very thin, and in washing it for the pot be careful not to break it, as the water then finds entrance and is apt to make it soggy.

Wifely Sympathy.

He—You are crying, darling. How is this? She—Because my friend, Frau Moller, has been presented by her husband with a valuable set of diamonds that must have cost 1,500 marks at the very least. He—And that is what makes you weep? She—Well, yes. I am sorry you will now have to spend such a lot of money when you can so ill afford it

Be Ready For Croup

And Protect Your Children by Keeping in the House

DR. CHASE'S SYRUP OF LINSEED AND TURPENTINE

The Thoroughly Tested and Reliable Family Medicine.

To overcome croup you must act quickly.

There is usually no time allowed for sending for doctors or medicines.

The hollow, croupy cough at midnight may be your first warning, and this will strike terror to your heart if you are not prepared to fight this disease.

It may be of little use to know that Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is a positive cure for croup if it is not to be obtained at the critical time.

Most persons who have tested this treatment for croup keep a bottle at hand, so that by prompt action they can prevent the disease from reaching a serious stage.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is composed of simple ingredients of unquestioned curative power, is pleasant to the taste, well liked by children, and can be used with perfect safety by old and young, so long as directions are followed.

MRS. GEORGE BROWN, 71 Harbord street, Toronto, writes:

"Our children have been very subject to croup, and we have found that Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has always brought quick relief. By using it at the first sign of trouble the disease is checked at once. We always keep this remedy in the house, and, in fact, feel that we could not do without it. We also use it for coughs and colds with excellent results, and recommend it to our friends."

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, 25 cents a bottle; family size, three times as much, 60 cents, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. To protect you against imitations, the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box.

CANNING FRUIT.

Miss Parlea Prefers Cooking In the Oven—It Is Quick and Easy.

The method of preserving fruit for home use by canning is from all points the most desirable. It is the easiest and commonly considered the most economical and the best, because the fruit is kept in a soft and juicy condition, in which it is believed to be easily digested. The wise housekeeper will can her principal fruit supply, making only enough rich preserves to serve for variety and for special occasions.

The success of canning depends upon absolute sterilization. If the proper care is exercised there need be no failure except in rare cases when a spore has developed in the can. There are several methods of canning, and, while the principle is the same in all methods, the conditions under which the housekeeper must do her work may in her case make one method more convenient than another. Three methods which are considered the best and easiest are cooking the fruit in the jars in an oven, cooking the fruit in the jars in boiling water and stewing the fruit before it is put into the jars.

Canning by cooking in the oven is, in the opinion of the writer, the method to be preferred. The work is easily and quickly done, and the fruit retains its shape, color and flavor better than when cooked in the preserving kettle.

Cover the bottom of the oven with a sheet of asbestus, the kind plumbers employ in covering pipes. It is very cheap and may usually be found at plumbers' shops. If the asbestus is not obtainable put into the oven shallow pans in which there are about two inches of boiling water.

Sterilize the jars and utensils. Make the sirup. Prepare the fruit the same as for cooking in the preserving kettle. Fill the hot jars with it, and pour in enough sirup to fill the jar solidly. Run the blade of a silver plated knife around the inside of the jar. Place the jars in the oven either on the asbestus or in the pan of water. The oven should be moderately hot. Cook the fruit ten minutes. Remove from the oven and fill the jar with boiling sirup. Wipe and seal. Place the jars on a board and out of a draft of air. If the screw covers are used tighten them after the glass has cooled.

Large fruits, such as peaches, pears, quinces, crab apples, etc., will require about a pint of sirup to each quart jar of fruit. The small fruit will require a little over half a pint of sirup.

The amount of sugar in each quart of sirup should be regulated to suit the fruit with which it is to be used. Fruit intended for cooking purposes need not have any sugar added to it.

TWO QUEENS

By KEITH GORDON

Copyright, 1904, by Keith Gordon

It was apparent that their visit to the art museum had nothing to do with art. It was equally plain that their feeling for each other could not be described as platonic. Bettina, to be sure, affected unconsciousness as she sauntered through the lofty rooms where the marble figures flashed coldly into view, exciting one to a new love of mere flesh and blood, but all the time she knew that to the man at her side she was queen of the world; also it was evident enough from the look of discontent on the man's face that her loyal subject was not altogether happy.

"Your place is right here on a pedestal along with the other statues," was what he was saying to her. "The trouble with you is, Betty, that you won't listen to your heart. I might as well plead with this marble figure!"

The queen, with well feigned reluctance, brought her glance back from the headless "Victory" that seemed forever on the point of flight to the youth at her side, who was glowering at her with an odd mixture of rebellion and adoration in his face.

"Really, Steve," she replied at last, "I'm ashamed of you. It's not my heart that's at fault; it's your purse. You know that perfectly well." And, with her chin at an angle beautifully eloquent of injured innocence, she pretended to study the sculptured figures about her. In reality she watched him—felt him straining at his chains—with an exultant sense of the charm of being queen.

Her words and glance made him savage. It was hard enough to bear her delay in putting their love affair on that practical basis which points like an index finger to matrimony, but so long as it had seemed to him an honest hesitation he had borne it with what grace he could summon.

His lips set in an inflexible line, and without a word his hand closed firmly upon her arm, and with more determination than gentleness he guided her to a bench near by.

"Well?" she questioned when she had settled herself in a corner of the seat and he had planted himself beside her. In truth, though she strove valiantly to conceal it, the queen was a trifle startled.

Her late obedient subject studied her for some moments in silence and with an expression rather too suggestive of flint to be entirely to the queen's taste. Then he spoke, and his words fell as crisply as ice.

"It is about time that you understood me," he began at last. "You have played with me long enough. What I have to say now is just this: You may take me or leave me, precisely as you choose, but whichever you do must be done at once."

He paused a moment and then elaborated:

"I'm tired of playing the devoted subject, tired of being made to feel that my love is nothing and my lack of wealth everything. I have twelve hundred a year." He paused for a brief moment, conscious of a mad desire to make the matter as bad as possible, then added, "And there is no certainty that I'll ever have more."

Though he would have thrashed cheerfully any man who had dared to make such an assertion about him, to say it to her about himself at this particular moment afforded him a grim satisfaction.

"What I want—what I will have," he continued in a muffled voice without giving her a chance to speak, "is a definite, a final answer!" And then, before the queen had really caught her breath, he finished in a tone nothing short of command, "And I want it within five minutes!"

For one fleeting moment something like pale dismay showed in the girl's face. She had never counted on a moment like this. Then her eyes kindled royally, and a flush of anger overspread her face.

Almost unconsciously she rose, her companion following her example, and her eyes blazed their resentment into the cold determination of his for a full second before she addressed him.

"You may have your answer this moment!" she flung at him in a tone of dangerous clearness. "I only wonder that I could ever have hesitated! It is 'No'—a thousand times 'No!'"

She noticed with a cruel delight the sudden, still whiteness that overspread his face as, with an ironical bow, he turned and walked rapidly away. Then a new feeling suddenly clutched at her heart.

Had she not lately been a queen, with a loyal, faithful subject to whom she had turned an ear quite royally indifferent? Had not a revolution occurred in her small domain and a republic been proclaimed? Could she not understand now the sorrows of a Marie Antoinette or a Eugenie?

And so at last the latest of dethroned queens reached her own door trying to philosophize about the matter as, doubtless, her predecessors had before her. After all, it was for the best. She was poor, and Steve was poor—in possessions. But by some freakish operation of the law of compensation both were endowed with tastes of an unmistakable richness.

"Yes, it's all for the best," she said aloud as she closed the door of her room behind her. "It's all"—

The rest was lost in the pillow, for the ex-queen had thrown herself face downward on the bed and was indulging in the plebeian comfort of a good cry.

For days thereafter such interest as she felt in the dull, gray world was centered in the postman and such messenger boys as appeared from time to time in the street in which she lived.

Not that she repented that ringing "No" that she had given Steven on the day of their quarrel—by no means. Her heart, she told herself, was dead. She could not be poor. She would not! She would marry some good old soul to whom she could render the respect of a daughter—and the bills of a wife. That was all that a girl in her position could do. It was the fault of modern ideas.

It was after she heard about his attentions to the Folsom girl that she wept no more and became markedly indifferent to the coming of the postman. From this time, too, she conscientiously tried to tolerate old Mr. Fullerton and his flowers, the two ever arriving with an alternate regularity that was full of meaning.

She pictured herself as a queen again, and this time with all the outward semblance of one. But, perversely enough, she could not keep Steven Converse out of the scene. If she saw herself rolling down Fifth avenue in the Fullerton vehicle she as instantly evoked the image of Steve doffing his hat with cold politeness, while she nodded with the haughty nonchalance of a great lady.

And so the weeks lengthened into months, and the ex-queen assured herself that she was forgetting.

* * * * * * *

"Not going out, my dear?" protested her mother as she appeared in the hall one gloomy Sunday with mackintosh and umbrella.

"Yes, mother mine. It's a fine day for the art museum. No crowd, you know!"

She had never entered the place since that fateful afternoon, but now she was all a-tremble with eagerness to get there. Some inward barrier of pride had gone down, and she knew that she wanted to visit the scene once more just because there she could feel a little nearer to him.

The turnstile admitted her, with a click, not so much, it seemed to her, into the museum as into the atmosphere of that distant afternoon. Before the "Victory" she stopped for a mournful dedicatory moment. It was here that he had accused her of being no more than a statue herself, and then—then he had gripped her arm and made her sit down and listen.

With a little gulp, she turned away and wandered blindly onward. When the mist cleared from her vision she found herself in the Egyptian room. Great carved figures glared at her with stolid faces, and a ripple of interest stirred within her. With mournful eyes she read the inscriptions beside the mummy cases.

So this brown and moldering bundle had once been a queen! Through the raised lid of the case she could just catch a glimpse of the object now so dried and terrible, but once so splendidly human.

"Poor queen!" she murmured softly, as with her chin resting on her hand she gazed down at the gorgeously ornamented mummy case. "Poor queen!" And before she realized it a tear had splashed down on the glass.

Having been a queen, something of the sadness and futility of it all wrung her spirit. Somehow being rich or poor did not now seem to matter. Being happy seemed the greatest thing.

She was too absorbed in her thoughts to notice a young man who had been making his way nearer and nearer to her in a somewhat furtive manner. Suddenly, as if he could not longer resist the temptation, a few quick steps brought him to her side.

The ex-queen looked up in surprise and then put out both hands impulsively. But the proud, high look of mastery had not yet vanished from his face.

"Did you really mean it?" he demanded.

For an answer she lifted her eyes to his for one brief, full moment. Even queens must learn their lesson. She had had hers.

Outside the steady drip, drip, drip, of the rain was only interrupted by the wailing of the wind, and the Egyptian room was very quiet and deserted.

As the newly enthroned queen turned to leave she looked down with a flushed, wistful face at the royal mummy. Then she murmured something softly.

"What's that?" asked her lover. But at her reply he looked slightly mystified.

"There's no use in telling you," she laughed. "Being only a man, you'll never understand, but I was saying goodby to the other queen."

It looks as if a man's back is the center of strength when he is straining to lift or haul a heavy weight. But the center of strength is not the back, but the stomach. There's no strength in the back of a giant if he's starving. All strength is made from food, and food can only be converted into strength when it is perfectly digested and assimilated. When the stomach is diseased, the nutrition of food is lost and physical weakness follows.
Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It makes men strong and muscular, by enabling the perfect digestion and assimilation of the food eaten.
"I suffered from a very obstinate case of dyspepsia," writes R. E. Secord, Esq., of 13 Eastern Av., Toronto, Ontario. "I tried a number of remedies without success. I was so far gone that I could not bear any solid food on my stomach; felt melancholy and depressed. Could not sleep nor work. A friend recommended your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I have taken three bottles and it has accomplished a permanent cure."
The Medical Advisor, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay customs and mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

The Mask of a Phrase.

The directness of the appeal in literary expression involves a complexity of revolt against old forms. The writer is more variously tempted than the speaker into indirections. The latter would never call the sun "the orb of day" or by the classic name of "Phoebus." Yet there was a period in English literature which lasted for a long time and is not even now wholly beyond the reach of our recollection when it seemed a breach of dignity for a writer to call anything by its right name. The concrete thing must be relieved of its vulgarity by the mask of a phrase. The horse was "the fleet courser," and all fruits were indiscriminately "Pomona's treasures." Qualities abstract enough in their common names were redeemed from the vice of particularity by personification. The processes of abstraction and generalization in the so called classic age of English literature uprooted all things and set them floating in the air; the mind was not simply a mirror reflecting things, but made composite photographs of the images themselves. Nature was seen as a bundle of these composites.—H. M. Alden in Harper's Magazine.

GRATIFYING SUCCESS OF 36TH ANNUAL FAIR

Of East Peterborough Agricultural Society Held in Norwood

Despite Unfavourable Weather Conditions—A Large Crowd Attended.

The fact that some of the fall fairs held in Peterborough county this year have not been as successful as these same fairs have been in other years, does not indicate that they are growing less popular, but rather that the weather conditions have been against them, and this has been the case with every fair held in Peterborough county this year, except that held in this town.

Yesterday, the Norwood Fair, the last of Peterborough's fall exhibitions, was held, and the fact that it was so well attended, even under such depressing circumstances, as far as climatic conditions are concerned, speaks well for the universal interest taken in this Fair by the people resident in that part of the county.

Last year, in ideal weather surroundings, the attendance was about 7,000, and the entries numbered about 2,000, while this year the attendance was between four and five thousand, and the entries about 1900, which makes the Fair a relatively better one than last year, when the conditions are considered.

All day Tuesday it rained throughout the eastern part of the county, and yesterday morning broke cold and cloudy, and altogether it was just such a morning as one would prefer to remain at home ,to taking a drive any great distance, but, in spite of this fact, the Fair was a success, and the result last night was one which brought joy to the directors ,who had in the morning been depressed with the fear that for the first time in its history, the Norwood Fair was going to break its long record of successes, by a failure, or at least a partial failure.

But their fears were groundless, and the 36th annual exhibition of the East Peterborough Agricultural Society, will, in view of the circumstances, go down into history as one of the most successful in the three dozen years of that society's existence.

This success has, no doubt, been largely achieved by the record of the Fair in past years, and the result of always providing a worthy exhibition, was seen in the really excellent attendance at Norwood yesterday.

While the entries were not as numerous as last year, the quality of the exhibits, was, in many cases, much superior, and, taken altogether, the entries were of a very gratifying nature.

Those in the building were particularly good, the exhibits of fruit and vegetables being superior to those of former years, in quality, while in the section devoted to ladies' work and fine arts, the showing was excellent, the number of entries and the variety of the articles shown, being larger than those in the same classes in the Peterborough Industrial Fair. The exhibits in these classes were a credit to the ladies of East Peterborough, and, indeed, would have done credit to a fair of much larger proportions than that of Norwood.

An interesting feature of the inside exhibits, was a collection of noxious weeds made by the scholars of Asphodel School Section, No. 12. In this collection were samples of almost all the noxious weeds known to this part of the country, and the judge, Mr. J. A. Fife, science master of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute, in making the award, said it was to be highly commended. The collection of weeds was correctly named, and a short description accompanied each, while the best methods of eradication were in some cases explained. This is a subject which the farmers are vitally interested in, and this exhibit shows that in this school section, at least, the pupils are being taught practical subjects.

The exhibit of stock in all the different classes was good, and some splendid animals were shown. The cattle were particularly good, while the horse entries were also well filled, and in carriage and roadster classes particularly, the exhibit was a very creditable one.

A feature of the Norwood Fair is that each year the directors secure the services of expert judges appointed by the Government to act as judges in the live stock classes, and this practice has proved most satisfactory to all concerned. These Judges paid a high tribute to the quality of the stock shown by East Peterborough stockmen, and said that in this respect it was one of the very best fairs in the province.

The judges who officiated at Norwood yesterday were:

Horses—John Forsythe, Cedar Hill.

Beef, Cattle and Swine.—Wm. H. Elliott, Guelph.

Dairy Cattle and Sheep.—G. P. Everette, Mount Vernon.

Poultry—D. C. Trew, Lindsay.

Dairy Products—T. W. Robinson, Peterborough.

Grain—John Duff, Indian River; R. Birt, Norwood.

Field Roots—John Masterson.

Vegetables.—Alex. Watts, Warsaw.

Fruit.—A. B. German, Dartford.

Saddlery.—M. Callander, and D. Greenbanks, Norwood.

Domestic Manufacture—Jas. McNeill and Jas. Cummings, Norwood.

Ladies' Work.—Miss Fowlds, Hastings; Mrs. A. Robertson, Norwood; Mrs. T. E. Finlay, Norwood; Mrs. Brethen, Norwood.

Fine Arts—Dr. Shaw, Keene.

The proceedings at the grounds yesterday were enlivened by music provided by the Brass Band of Norwood, a recently organized musical aggregation, but one which gives promise of becoming a very creditable organization.

The usual attraction features of the fair were in evidence, and all were largely patronized, an evidence of the prosperity of the farmers of East Peterborough.

The speeding events of the Norwood fair are always an attractive feature, and the programme of races yesterday provided some excellent sport. The different heats in the free-for-all race were very closely contested and in the first two particularly the finishes were close, Velma giving Minnie Keswick a close run for first place. In the third heat Black Mack finished first, with Minnie a close second and Velma in the rear.

This race was not concluded last night, five heats being necessary to decide the winner, and darkness came on before the fifth could be pulled off.

The summary of the Free for All was as follows:—

Minnie Keswick, G Curtis, Lindsay	1	1	2	3
Velma, Cook, Oshawa	2	2	3	1
Black Mack, Kimbirst, Keene	3	3	1	2

Velma took first money in the 2.30 trot, in straight heats, the summary being:

Velma, Cook, Oshawa	1	1	1
Cora Mack, T J. Slade	2	3	2
Jim K., C. Fife, Keene	3	2	4
Electric Girl, Jas. Powell	4	4	3
James M., Blodgett, Rosebank	5	5	5

In the farmers' trot only two heats were required, the result being:—

Black Mack	1	1
Jim K.	2	2
James M.	3	3
Electric Girl	4	4

A one mile bicycle race was won by John Downs, with Jos. Powers second and Leo. McNicholl third. The judges of the racing events were: Geo. Whitty and T. H. McKee, Stirling, and C. A. Bleaker, Marmora, the former being starting judge.

In the final heat in the free-for-all which was run off this morning, Minnie Keswick finished first, taking first money; Velma, second with second money, and Black Mack third.

The list of entries in the different classes were:—

Class 1—Blood Horses—Entries were made as follows: J C Anderson, stallion 3 years old, and stallion with pedigree over 3 years.

A continuation of this report is held over until to-morrow's issue.

THREW A BIG STONE AND WENT TO JAIL.

Six Prisoners at Police Court This Morning.

Month in Jail for Philip Revoy—Two Men Fined for Over-driving—Two Drunks Were Fined.

The prisoners' box at the police court was again not sufficiently large to accommodate the prisoners at the Police Court this morning. When the court opened six individuals who had passed the night in the cell or in gaol were present to get their dues. It was evident that among them were some of the customary drunks, who had that sleepy appearance.

George Parker was the first on the programme. He was charged with being found drunk in a public place on Oct. 13. He pleaded guilty and was fined $2.00 to be paid forthwith. He handed the Chief the necessary bill and departed.

The same charge was made against Thomas Cleary. He also admitted an over-indulgence in whiskey and it cost him $2.00 or ten days in gaol.

Philip Revoy was charged with assaulting J. J. Elliot on Tuesday, Oct. 11. He pleaded not guilty. The evidence went to show that Revoy had entered Leary's livery stables, where his presence was, owing to past circumstances, not desired. He was told to leave and as a parting salute threw two large stones, one of which struck Mr. Elliot. One of the missils was about twelve inches in circumference and was very solid. The Magistrate's opinion was that to throw stones was unmanly and cowardly besides being most dangerous. He sentenced Revoy to one month in gaol at hard labour. This should be a lesson to others.

Robert Baker, Alexander Ross and James Hayes were charged with cruelly treating and over-driving a horse, the property of Wm. Cornell. They pleaded not guilty. The evidence went to show that Ross and Baker hired a horse about nine o'clock in the morning to go to Mount Pleasant, promising to return in the afternoon about 2.30 o'clock. After leaving the stables Hayes, who was named Baker was taken into the vihicle. The men drove to Mount Pleasant, a distance of twelve miles, then proceeded to Millbrook, a distance of eight miles. At Millbrook Ross left his companions who took Hays into the buggy and drove home via Cavanville, a distance of seventeen miles. They arrived home at two o'clock in the morning. The horse was, according to Mr. Cornell's testimony, in a very bad condition and besides the dash-board and whip were broken. Hays who brought the horse to the stables, was intoxicated. The Magistrate in dealing with the case said that Ross and Baker were guilty of a breach of the law inasmuch as the horse had been driven nearly forty miles, whereas the agreement was to drive to Mount Pleasant, and back, or a distance of twenty-four miles. This sort of treatment was unfair to the liverymen. He imposed a fine of $10.00 and costs, or 15.85 to be paid by Ross and Baker. Hays was discharged as there was no breach of contract in his case.

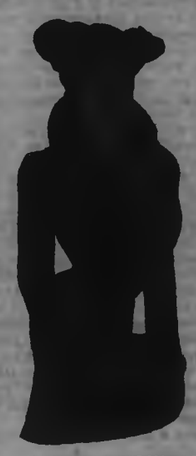
We Know Our Furs and Guarantee Them



WHERE so much has to be taken for granted, as is the case when you buy Furs, one naturally believes in purchasing where they can have implicit confidence in the knowledge and the truthfulness of the people who sell them.

In the making of Furs, (taking Fur Jackets as an instance) we use only whole skins, not only in the building of the body, but in the unseen parts as well, the undercollars and the undersleeves—these are the parts where unscrupulous furriers resort to piecing. The Taping and Joining is all done by Expert Furriers, the Linings are made of Linen Back and Silk Back Satins specially imported by us in the extra heavy weights.

A Garment made in this manner will last a lifetime if given fair treatment. Then there is the extreme Stylishness our Furriers infuse into these Fur Garments. It is generally conceded our Designs are always ahead of most dealers in their newness, and the Trimmings and Finish are magnificent.

Two Weeks' Sale—from Wednesday, October 5th

A GREAT SALE FROM EVERY VIEW-POINT

A sale that involves desirable selling lines We realize the amount of work in preparing for the Xmas trade. Therefore reductions have been made on all Crockery (including Dinner and Tea Sets), Wall Papers, Trunks and Valises. We must clear our second flat—which is now a show room in the above lines—into one where Santa Claus has visited for years. Don't overlook this saving opportunity, as it means dollars saved to you. We were so busy last week we could not get the handbills distributed through the town. They will surprise every one who reads them. Some of our fellow-merchants claim that we must steal the goods, or that they are old stock, in order to make such sweeping underpriced clearances. Pay no attention to any of these stories. Come and see for yourselves.

Wall Paper Department

JAP. GENERAL BAGS 25 GUNS

Japs' Determined Effort to Turn Russian Right.

THE RUSSIANS WERE BEATEN

Fighting Was Desperate, but the Russians Say the Loss of Guns is Immaterial---Japanese Capture a Complete Russian Battery---Russians Retired in Disorder, Japs Pursuing and Shelling Them.

Tokio, Oct. 14.—It is yet too early to measure the results of the tremendous struggle which has been engaged for the past three days south of Mukden, but all reports reaching Tokio indicate that Gen. Kuropatkin has been decisively whipped and severely punished. The Russian commander was evidently caught while making his dispositions with his forces scattered, and he was beaten before he could recover.

Much depends on the ability and resolution of the Japanese in applying and following up their advantages. Kuropatkin may turn up on favorable ground and succeed in beating back the Japanese onslaught, but the tide seems against him.

The Japanese yesterday began a desperate effort to turn the Russian right, and if this effort should be successful it will carry disaster to the Russian arms.

The struggle around Bensihu is being followed with intense interest here. The Russian force there is estimated at 5,000, and its isolation or loss would be a severe loss.

Estimates of the total forces engaged vary. One telegram from Liaoyang says that the Russians have two hundred thousand men, with 1,000 guns. The Japanese force exceeds the number engaged at the battle of Liaoyang.

Oku Captured 25 Guns.

Gen. Oku's left army alone bagged 25 guns.

The Manchurian headquarters, in a telegram sent yesterday, reports as follows:

"Since the last report our right army has been continuing a vigorous pursuit of the enemy towards the north.

"The column which was despatched in the direction of Shihchiootsu to intercept the retreat of the enemy from Bensihu continues its operations.

"The central army continues its attack on the Russians, and expects to occupy the line between Tungshankou and Huchiakuchiatsu yesterday. The enemy in this direction appeared to retreat continuously until dusk Wednesday evening.

"A report that a large column of the enemy is moving to the southwest and is commencing the erection of defensive works at Chienhuangchiatuen cannot be verified.

Capture Guns Everywhere.

"The number of guns captured by the centre column of the left army is 16, instead of eight, as previously reported.

"The right column of the left army, while pursuing the enemy west of the Schili River, captured five guns, making the total number of guns captured 25.

"The supports and the artillery reserve advanced to Kuchiatzu and vicinity, driving the Russians from Huanchiatien.

Captured Russian Artillery.

Field Headquarters of the Japanese Left Army, Oct. 12, 5 p.m., via Fusan, Oct. 14.—The left army made an advance last night and early this morning occupied a position close to a village and field occupied by the Russians. The Japanese attacked along the whole line, driving the Russians out of the positions which they retired to yesterday. At three o'clock this afternoon the Russians were retreating northward in disorder. The Japanese captured a complete Russian battery. The Japanese are pursuing and shelling the retreating Russians, whose loss is probably large.

Port Arthur Seen to Fall.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 14.—General Stoessel's report of the condition of affairs at Port Arthur, received yesterday, shows that the garrison on Oct. 7 was in unimpaired spirits, making a heroic defence against a series of most bitter assaults in all the history of sieges. The closeness of the fighting and the deadly character of attacks and counter-attacks are shown by the fact that both sides are using hand grenades, and that the Japanese, after a bloody capture of the important signal station hill, were unable to hold the position in the face of the fire from the fortress. The reckless ferocity of the assaults seem to make it certain that Port Arthur can only be held by an immense expenditure of ammunition.

A WARM EVICTION.

Irish Tenant Barricades His House—Serious Fighting Results.

London, Oct. 14.—At Fullsport, near Cork, an attempt Wednesday to evict a tenant named Edmund Murphy for unpaid rent of six years, led to serious fighting. Fifty police arriving early in the morning found the place barricaded. A crowd assembled and assisted Murphy, assailing the police with red-hot irons, boiling water and stones, compelling them to desist. The conflict continued all day.

With the arrival of reinforcements the police charged the mob with fixed bayonets and many on both sides were injured. Late in the evening, through the mediation of the Parish priest, Murphy was induced to surrender.

Altogether 30 arrests were made. One policeman had all of his front teeth knocked out.

Farewell to Dr. Wilkie.

Toronto, Oct. 14.—In Dunn Avenue Presbyterian Church last night the congregation gathered to bid farewell to Dr. Wilkie, who leaves to-day to resume his work in the Indian mission field. Among those who were present and who delivered short addresses were the pastor, Rev. W. L. Geggie, Rev. J. K. Macdonald, who acted as chairman; Dr. McLeod, Barrie; Rev. D. C. Hossack, and Rev. D. J. McKinnon. His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, arrived during the closing part of the evening. Dr. Wilkie leaves by the 2 o'clock Niagara boat this afternoon for New York, where he sails to-morrow.

Palma Contest At Ottawa.

New York, Oct. 14.—Developments lead to the belief, says The Herald, that the contest next year for the Palma trophy may be held in Canada. The National Rifle Association of America probably will challenge Great Britain again on condition that the match be decided in the Dominion. In case of acceptance it is likely the match will take place in the Rockcliffe ranges at Ottawa. This is said to be one of the best rifle ranges in the world.

CAUSE OF MRS. MILES' DEATH INVESTIGATED

Inquest Opened Yesterday at Warsaw on Mysterious Death of Mrs. Fred Miles.

Deceased and Her Husband Examined for Life Insurance 3 Days Before Death.

Evidence of Deceased's Husband Shows That She Suffered From Severe Pains.

The inquest into the death of Mrs. Fred Miles which occurred last Thursday forenoon near Warsaw was opened at Warsaw yesterday morning, before Coroner Grey. The following jury was empannelled:—Messrs. Ed. Hawthorne, foreman; W. H. Clemence, A. F. Choate, Geo. W. Reid, Donald McIntosh, Alex. Darling, Henry Frecburn, Thos. L. Payne, Jacob White, David Madill, Robt. Hunter, John and William Robb.

The evidence of four witnesses was taken, and the inquest was then adjourned to Monday at 10 o'clock in the same place.

The circumstances connected with the death of Mrs. Miles are that while in a condition of prospective motherhood, she and her husband were examined for a life insurance policy of $1,000 each, by Dr. Patterson, of Norwood. The examination took place a week ago Monday, Oct. 3rd, and Mrs. Miles, according to her husband's story was in good health except for a pain in the abdomen, which she told him she thought was caused by a fall which she had while carrying a pail of water.

On Tuesday night she was visited by Dr. Patterson, and on Wednesday she became quite ill and Dr. Patterson was again called, arriving about 6 o'clock and remaining with her until Thursday morning about 10 o'clock when she died. Dr. Fraser, of Lakefield, was also present at the time of Mrs. Miles' death. A post-mortem examination of the body will be made to-day by Dr. John Fraser and Dr. Meachan.

The summarized evidence of the witnesses examined at the inquest yesterday follows:—

Fred Miles, husband of the deceased, was sworn and testified that his wife died on Oct. 6th, after having been ill about one day and two nights. Previous to her death she had complained of pain for about two weeks off and on. She took seriously ill on Wednesday morning. He left home that same morning between 8 and 9 o'clock. Previous to this time he had arranged with Dr. Patterson, of Norwood, to come and see his wife. Witness explained that the reason he employed Dr. Patterson was that it was he who had examined both he and his wife for life insurance just a short time ago. He continued saying that on Sept. 16th Mr. Young had canvassed he and his wife for life insurance, and he agreed to meet him in Norwood, but did not keep the appointment. Witness said that later he called on Dr. Patterson to see if Young had left the insurance papers with him. He found that they were there, and he and his wife were examined by Dr. Patterson. His wife appeared perfectly satisfied to be insured. The policy, he thought, was a 20 year endowment, the premium being about $30 for both policies. He said that before leaving town they had decided to have their lives insured. The pain from which his wife had suffered was not mentioned to the examining physician.

He stated that he had been married eighteen years, and had six children living, and two dead. His wife thought that the pain which troubled her came from a hurt, which she had sustained about a week before her illness caused by falling on the verandah with a pail of water. She had been approaching motherhood for about two and a half months. She weighed about 210 pounds. Witness said that he had never threatened to use violence on either her or the child.

The doctor gave her some powders to build up her system, on Monday, and she took some of them, the rest being destroyed. She seemed better after taking them.

The pain, he said, bothered his wife most in the morning.

On the occasion of the doctor's visit nothing was left the patient to take, and he said that unless labour pains started, nothing could be done. The next day, when she took ill, she did not want the doctor to be sent for; she thought she would get better without one. He went across the lake the next day, and remained away for three hours, and upon his return sent Archie Rogers for the doctor, and afterwards Walter Crowe to hurry him up, as she seemed to be getting worse. His wife's mother was up at his place on Tuesday. He stated that on former occasions he had had Mrs. Robb and her mother, but this time his wife would not consent to have him send for any woman. He did not tell Crowe not to bring any other doctor but Dr. Patterson. On Thursday he called Dr. John Fraser, after Dr. Patterson had been there from 6 p.m. Wednesday to 11 a.m. the next day. Dr. Fraser gave Dr. Patterson credit for what he had done the night before. His wife died about 15 minutes to 10 on Thursday, the doctors saying that her heart collapsed from her being too fat. Just before she died she complained of her heart, saying it was not right. Mrs. Miles was about 38 years of age. His wife had told him while going to Norwood for examination, that she would not mention to the doctor anything about the pains for fear it might interfere with the application.

He denied to parties that the doctor had been there, because his wife had wanted him to do so, and she also had told the older children that the doctor was coming, and not to say anything about it. The children wanted her to allow them to send for their grandmother, but she would not allow them to do so. He said that his wife and he had had no words at Norwood, on the Monday of the medical examination. It was his wife's wishes that the doctor should come at night, instead of during the day, in order that things might be kept quiet.

Walter Crowe, sworn, said that he was a brother of the deceased. He was asked by Miles to go for a doctor about 4 p.m. of Wednesday, 5th inst. Miles told him to hustle the doctor up, and that if he could not get Dr. Patterson to get no other. Miles told him that his wife was suffering from a headache. The liveryman at Norwood told him that Dr. Patterson had been at Miles' the night before.

Alonzo L. Whitton sworn, said that he had been a boarder at Miles' house since May 28th, and had been working in the quarries. Mrs. Miles' health had been good all summer, and until about a week before her death. Miles and his wife seemed to get along well together.

Alex. Borland, another boarder, sworn, said that he had seen or heard nothing around the house that would throw any light on Mrs. Miles' death.

Archie Rogers, said he had worked for Miles since October 17th, 1903. Mrs. Miles complained of a headache on Monday evening, after coming from Norwood, but her health had been good all summer, excepting odd spells she would have. On Tuesday she was up and around the house and he had dinner with her. She was fairly well all day. After tea she laid down. He saw deceased on Wednesday at 9 a.m., and then about 1 p.m. the same day. Mr. Miles sent him for Dr. Patterson and sent a letter with him. He returned about 9 p.m., and saw the doctor there, and about 1 a.m., went to Lakefield for Dr. Fraser.

The inquest then adjourned.

KILLED NEAR STRATFORD.

Body of Thomas Wood of Downie Found in a Ditch.

Stratford, Oct. 13.—Between 8 and 9 o'clock Tuesday evening, Thomas Wood, treasurer of the Maple Grove cheese factory, Downie, left Stratford for his home. At an early hour yesterday morning he was found dead in about 18 inches of water in the ditch in Hugh Hannon's corner, about three miles and three-quarters from the city.

He was horribly gashed on the forehead, and his coat was terribly torn by his horse's feet. His grey mare, a somewhat nervous beast, was also found in the ditch with the buggy and two boxes of cheese, which Mr. Wood had been taking home, and which were thrown out of the buggy into the water.

The accident was evidently due to Mr. Wood's going past the corner, where he turns down to his home, in the darkness, and his attempting to back up and make the turn, his mare landing him in the ditch, where he was trampled under foot.

The late Mr. Wood was a bachelor and well-to-do.

Baby Burned to Death.

Midland, Oct. 13.—During the temporary absence of Mrs. McTague fire broke out in the family residence in Fourth street. The two elder children were nearly suffocated before their rescue by Robert Musgrove, but the baby, who was in the cradle, beside the stove, was burned beyond recognition.

Struck By a Train.

Barrie, Oct. 13.—Thomas Adams, a cattle butcher, had a narrow escape from instant death near Caldwell about 7 o'clock last night. While crossing the G.T.R. he was struck by a way freight. His horse was instantly killed and his rig demolished. He received some serious injuries. The injured man was brought to Barrie on a freight train and taken to the Royal Victoria Hospital, where he now lies in a precarious condition.

Asphyxiation Fatal.

Toronto, Oct. 13.—Howard Richardson of Markham, the young man who inhaled gas at the Albion Hotel on Monday, died at the Emergency Hospital yesterday at 7.45 p.m. He never regained consciousness. His mother and several of his relatives were present at the time of his death.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Suspicion in Gamble's Death.

Stratford, Oct. 13.—Some mysterious circumstances have cropped up in connection with the death of Albert Gamble, who disappeared about two months ago from Mr. Scott's, Poole, where he had been staying, and whose body was found in a swamp near Milverton Tuesday morning. Mr. Scott asserts positively that Gamble had with him a purse containing about $15, a bank book with a credit of $500 and a gold watch. None of these were found on the body. An inquest was opened yesterday morning, but was adjourned until Oct. 17, pending investigation.

In Woman's Favour.

Few treatments stand so high in woman's favour as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. This is not only because of the extraordinary control which this preparation has over diseases and weakness peculiar to women, but also because of its power as a tissue builder. By weighing yourself while using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food you can prove that new flesh and is being added to the body.

Award $3,500 Damages.

Toronto, Oct. 13.—Mr. Justice Britton yesterday gave judgment in the action of Thomas E. and Ellen Randall against Ahearn & Soper, Limited, of Ottawa. Randall was a lineman employed by the Ottawa Electric Company, and came in contact with a live wire belonging to the defendants in September, 1901. He was thrown to the ground and sustained such injuries that he is now confined in the hospital for the insane at Brockville. The case went to the Divisional and Supreme Courts, where a new trial was ordered. The judgment gives $500 damages to Randall and $2,000 to his wife, with the costs of all trials to be borne by the defendants.

Stabbed in the Neck.

Peterboro, Oct. 11.—At the noted Italian house on Bethune street, Sunday afternoon, a number of Italians had congregated. A fight occurred, and as a result one of the inmates was stabbed in the neck. His wounds were dressed, but the police have not captured their man.

David Irvine Dead.

Salem, Ont., Oct. 11.—There died here yesterday suddenly of paralysis David Irvine, aged 66, an army pensioner, formerly hospital dispenser of the 25th Regiment.

Rounds out the Form.

Persons who have become pale, weak and thin by overwork, worry or disease find that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is wonderfully effective in forming new blood, restoring a healthful glow to the complexion and rounding out the form. You will soon feel the benefit of this restorative treatment and can prove it by noting your increase in weight.

London, Oct. 13.—Cattle are steady at 8¼c to 12¾c per lb.; refrigerator beef, 9¾c to 9½c per lb. Sheep, 10¼c to 11¾c, dressed weight.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

Receipts of live stock at the City Cattle Market were 121 cars, composed of 1675 cattle, 3120 sheep and lambs, 1000 hogs and 141 calves.

There were no straight loads of export cattle. A few odd ones selected from loads with a few export bulls was all there was to represent the shipping class. Export bulls were worth from $3.75 to $4 per cwt.

Prices were lower to-day than at any time this season for the bulk of butchers' cattle. The good to choice heifers and steers, 1050 to 1200 lbs. each, which were very scarce, sold as high as $4.40, but there would not be more than three or four that brought this price. Loads of good were worth from $3.75 to $3.90; medium cattle at $3 to $3.50; common, at $2.50 to $2.75 per cwt.

Feeders were plentiful and cheaper than at any time this year. Good bundy steers 1000 lbs. each, sold at $3.70 per cwt. Feeders, 900 to 1000 lbs. each, of good quality, sold at $3.50 to $3.70; rough steers of the same weights, sold at $2.50 to $3.25 per cwt. Feeding bulls also were cheaper, selling from $2.25 to $2.75 per cwt for the bulk.

Stockers were plentiful and cheap, especially the ill-bred eastern variety, some of which could not be sold at any price, and were left over for another day. Stockers, 500 to 700 lbs. each, sold all the way from $2 to $2.75 per cwt.

About 12 milch cows and springers sold at $35 to $50 each. More good cows would have sold readily, as there were several dealers ready to buy. H. Hooper was on the market and could not get what he wanted. Mr. Hooper stated that he would be on the market next week.

About 100 calves sold at unchanged quotations, that is $3.50 to $5.25 per cwt. Something extra choice brought $5.50 per cwt. McDonald & Maybee had two choice quality calves that brought $5.50 per cwt.

The run of sheep and lambs was heavy, over 3000. Prices were easier all round. Sheep sold at $3.40 to $3.65 for ewes, bucks at $2.75 to $3 per cwt. Lambs sold at $4 to $4.50 per cwt., few lots bringing the latter price, the bulk selling at $4.25 to $4.40 per cwt.

There was a fair run of hogs, which sold at Tuesday's advance, selects at $5.35 and lights and fats at $5.10 per cwt. Sows at $3.50, and stags at $2 to $2.50 per cwt., fed and watered. Too many lean hogs are being marketed.

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

Montreal, Oct. 13.—About 800 head of cattle were in the vicinity of the East End Abattoir to-day, and a considerable number more had been sent out to pastures to wait for a more favorable market. Yesterday evening and this morning a considerable number of common cattle were bought by canners and jobbers at about half a cent per pound, less than similar cattle were sold for two weeks ago. A drover who had bought this morning about 30 common cattle in small lots from other drovers who were anxious to go home, said that they cost on an average one and a half cents per pound. Over 100 medium cattle are being held in the stables for Monday's market.

EAST BUFFALO CATTLE MARKET.

East Buffalo, Oct. 13.—Cattle—Receipts, 350 head, quiet; prime steers, $5.50 to $5.85; shipping, $4.75 to $5.25; butchers, $4 to $5; heifers, $3.25 to $4.50; cows, $2.50 to $4.15; bulls, $2.50 to $4; stockers and feeders, $2.50 to $3.85.

Hogs—Receipts, 6900 head; fairly active, 10c to 25c lower; heavy, $5.75 to $5.85; mixed, $5.70 to $5.80; yorkers, $5.65 to $5.70; pigs, $5.40 to $5.50; roughs, $4.75 to $5; stags, $4 to $4.50; dairies and grassers, $5.50 to $5.65.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 7000 head; dull, 15c to 25c lower; lambs, $4.50 to $6.10; yearlings and wethers, $4.25 to $4.50; ewes, $3.75 to $4; sheep, mixed, $2 to $4.

NEW YORK LIVE STOCK.

New York, Oct. 13.—Beeves—Receipts, 104; feeling steady for good beeves; dressed beef, slow; choice, steady; native sides, 6¾c to 10c per lb; Texas beef, 5¾c to 6¼c.

Calves—Receipts, 172. Veals, steady; grassers, nominal; veals, $5 to $6.75; dressed calves, steady; city dressed veals, 8c to 13¼c per lb.; country dressed, 7¾c to 12c; dressed grassers and fed calves, 4c to 6c.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 2433; sheep, steady; sheep, $3 to $4; culls, $2 to $2.50; lambs, $5.75 to $6.37½; culls, $4 to $4.50; Canada lambs, $5.87½.

Hogs—Receipts, 2388; market 15c lower; good to prime, state and Pennsylvania hogs, $6 to $6.10.

CHEESE MARKETS.

Vankleek Hill, Ont., Oct. 13.—There were 1661 boxes of cheese boarded here to-day, 1091 boxes white and 570 boxes colored; all sold on board at same figure, for both Registered and white. Bidding was open at 9½c, but after several calls resulting in no sales, it was finally raised to 9 3-16c, and at that figure both colored and white were sold. McRae got 548 boxes, McGregor got 428, Pitt got 225, Bennett 200, Welsh got 160 boxes, all at 9 3-16c. There were seven buyers present.

Brockville, Oct. 13.—Offerings to-day were 1615 cheese; 725 sold at 9c.

SEVENTY HOUSES WRECKED.

Hundreds of Mexicans Will Starve Unless Help Is Offered.

Albuquerque, N. M., Oct. 14.—Seventy dwellings in San Marcial, 80 miles south of Albuquerque, have been wrecked by the floods of the past week and there is great suffering and destitution.

The plight of the Mexican people in the surrounding valley is terrible, and hundreds must starve unless immediate help is furnished from outside.

The Santa Fe announces that it will require two weeks to restore train service between Albuquerque and El Paso.

Duke of Connaught Hurt.

Edinburgh, Oct. 14.—The Duke of Connaught, brother of King Edward, while driving in a motor car from Edinburgh to Gosford House, the seat of the Earl of Weymss last night, had a narrow escape and suffered injuries from which he was for a time unconscious. The automobile in which the Duke was riding with his aide-de-campe, Major Murray, in passing a street car, collided with a cart. The Duke was thrown out with great force. As soon as the automobile could be stopped, Major Murray went to the aid of the Duke, whom he found unconscious and bleeding from wounds about the head. After two stitches were taken in his ear and his hurts had been examined by physicians, it was announced that the Duke would suffer no serious consequences. Major Murray was not hurt.

Came Back For Trial.

Montreal, Oct. 14.—James Fielding, for many years cashier of the Imperial Oil Company of Montreal, was arrested at his home yesterday by High Constable Bissonette, and when arraigned before Judge Choquette he pleaded guilty to embezzlement. So far the examination of his books shows a shortage of about $3,000, but further investigation may add to this amount. He has just returned from England and admits that he went there for the purpose of trying to raise the money. His father is wealthy, but Fielding declares that an elder brother prevented him laying the facts before him, and he decided to come back and take his punishment. He will be sentenced on the 24th inst.

Uniform Railway Forms.

Ottawa, Oct. 14.—The new railway act declares that the forms stating conditions of carriage have to be approved by the Railway Commission, and it is the intention of the board to make the forms uniform for all roads to facilitate business. Pending this revision the companies asked for an interim order protecting their interests. Mr. Gerald Ruel appeared for the Canadian Pacific and Mr. Biggar for the Grand Trunk. The order will be granted.

Central Prison For Edmund Behm.

Hamilton, Oct. 14.—Edmund Behm, who shot his brother Fred, was yesterday sentenced by Justice Street to 25 years in Central Prison. The charge was shooting with intent to do grievous bodily harm.

Another Insurrection.

Cape Haytien, Hayti, Oct. 14.—The Haytian exiles have gathered near the frontier preparing to re-enter Hayti and attempt an insurrection against President Nord in favor of Gen. Findin.

Anxious About King George.

Dresden, Saxony, Oct. 14.—There is renewed anxiety regarding the condition of King George of Saxony, whose difficulty in breathing and general weakness are marked.

Save the corn and pea cans, melt off the rim on a hot stove, and they are good for plant pots and several other things.

POLITICS IN A NUTSHELL.

Mayor Halloran has accepted the nomination of the labor party of Brantford.

J. E. Caldwell of City View has been nominated by the Liberals of Carleton County.

The independent labor party of the riding of North Waterloo have nominated Samuel Landers for the Commons.

The Liberal convention at Sherbrooke Wednesday selected C. C. Knight of Sherbrooke as their candidate.

The South Lanark Liberal Association nominated Dr. A. W. Dwyer of Perth as the Liberal candidate on Wednesday.

H. A. Goyette was elected at the convention Wednesday afternoon as the candidate of the Liberal party in Wright County.

The Conservatives of Lisgar, Wednesday nominated William H. Sharp of Manitou, as their candidate, in succession to W. A. D. Donald, resigned.

The election in Port Arthur will take place on Nov. 4. The sheriff has been notified that an Order-in-Council has been passed, legalizing the new lists.

George Laird of Galt was nominated Liberal standard-bearer for South Waterloo in the election for the Commons at the party convention at Galt on Wednesday.

The Liberals of East Grey met at Flesherton on Wednesday and nominated C. W. Hartman of Clarksburg to contest the riding with Dr. Sproule in the pending election.

Steel Trust in Canada.

New York, Oct. 13.—The United States Steel Corporation yesterday officially confirmed the report that the company propose to erect a steel rail mill in Canada. The cost of the structure, however, has been greatly exaggerated. The cost will be far below the estimate of $13,000,000, made by the financial department of Halifax. The mill will represent an outlay of less than $2,000,000, and it is doubtful if it reaches this figure.

Express Leaves Track.

Bennington, Vt., Oct. 13.—A fortunate combination of circumstances probably prevented an appalling disaster on the Rutland Railroad. The Montreal express for New York, south-bound with 380 passengers, left the rails at Arlington, 14 miles north of here, about 3 o'clock, but a wrecked locomotive and a train-load of thoroughly-shaken-up passengers were the most serious results.

Be Ready For Croup

And Protect Your Children by Keeping in the House

DR. CHASE,S SYRUP of LINSEED AND TURPENTINE

The Thoroughly Tested and Reliable Family Medicine.

To overcome croup you must act quickly.

There is usually no time allowed for sending for doctors or medicines.

The hollow, croupy cough at midnight may be your first warning, and this will strike terror to your heart if you are not prepared to fight this disease.

It may be of little use to know that Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is a positive cure for croup if it is not to be obtained at the critical time.

Most persons who have tested this treatment for croup keep a bottle at hand, so that by prompt action they can prevent the disease from reaching a serious stage.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is composed of simple ingredients of unquestioned curative power, is pleasant to the taste, well liked by children, and can be used with perfect safety by old and young, so long as directions are followed.

MRS. GEORGE BROWN, 71 Harbord street, Toronto, writes:

"Our children have been very subject to croup, and we have found that Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has always brought quick relief. By using it at the first sign of trouble the disease is checked at once. We always keep this remedy in the house, and, in fact, feel that we could not do without it. We also use it for coughs and colds with excellent results, and recommend it to our friends."

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, 25 cents a bottle; family size, three times as much, 60 cents, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. To protect you against imitations, the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box.

A. B. AYLESWORTH

Expectations More Than Realized in New Minister.

SIR WILLIAM MULOCK SPEAKS

Both Gentlemen Address the Liberals of Durham At Port Hope On the Issues of the Day—Sir William Mulock Prognosticates a Great Ministerial Future For His Colleague, Mr. Aylesworth.

Port Hope, Oct. 14.—Hon. A. B. Aylesworth last night addressed his first public meeting since he became a member of the Dominion Cabinet, and was nominated for the constituency of Durham. Great as had been the expectation of his friends, the new Minister more than realized them all. It was demonstrated beyond per-adventure that the Government made a most sagacious move when they persuaded Mr. Aylesworth to enter the Cabinet, and Sir William Mulock, who followed, was led to remark: "He is an infant in the Cabinet now, but what will he become in a few years?" In eloquent periods and chosen diction Mr. Aylesworth calmly and dispassionately discussed all the chief issues of the campaign, concluding with a reference to the Trent Valley Canal, the selection of an outlet for which is the all-important question in this vicinity. Mr. Aylesworth's reception was most enthusiastic, his clear and logical arguments being greeted with frequent outbursts of applause. With such a candidate the Liberals of Durham are confident of victory, despite the closeness numerically of the two parties in the riding. Sir William Mulock dealt with the record of the Government in an entertaining and convincing manner. His remark that the present Government had money to carry on such public works as the Trent Canal and the courage to put them through was keenly appreciated.

A Cordial Welcome.

Sir William Mulock was met on his arrival on the evening train by a brass band, and was escorted to his hotel by a number of citizens. The Opera House was prettily decorated with bunting and political mottoes, while on the stage were palms and vases of flowers and a large photograph of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. The seven hundred seats were occupied some time before the meeting opened, and at least three hundred men stood at the back of the hall and in the gallery during the whole of the speaking. When Sir William Mulock and Mr. Aylesworth stepped on the platform they received an ovation.

Dr. Powers, in opening the meeting, read the following telegram, that he had just received from Mr. Robert Beith: "I understand an article has appeared in The Port Hope Times to the effect that I was forced out of the Liberal candidature for Durham. I wish to state that it is absolutely untrue; nor was I ever approached by anyone to retire from the contest."

Dr. Powers added that, as President of the Durham Reform Association, he could emphatically state it was at Mr. Beith's earnest request that Mr. Aylesworth become the candidate.

Sir Wilfrid in Toronto.

Toronto, Oct. 14.—Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier arrived in the city by the noon train yesterday and were met at the Union Station by a number of prominent Liberals, who greeted the distinguished visitors with a hearty cheer. The Premier, who was much gratified with the enthusiasm which marked the meeting at Guelph on Wednesday, and the warmth of the greeting extended to him upon arriving here, was in excellent spirits, and, while somewhat thin, looked well and hearty. exchanged pleasant greetings with the many old friends present, and had a word of appreciation and encouragement for all who were presented to him. After a few minutes spent in an informal reception by the Premier and Lady Laurier, carriages were taken and the party drove to the King Edward Hotel, which will be the Premier's headquarters during his stay in the city.

The Premier was given but little opportunity to rest. At 1.30 he was the guest of honor at a luncheon given by Hon. Geo. A. Cox at the Toronto Club. After the luncheon Sir Wilfrid returned to the hotel and received quite a number of friends in the gold room. Early in the afternoon he left to fulfill a business engagement, and afterwards was the guest of Hon. J. K. Kerr, K.C., at Rathnelly. Last evening Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier were the guests at dinner of Hon. Geo. A. Cox.

Hon. Mr. Paterson At Mitchell.

Mitchell, Oct. 14.—A very interesting meeting was held in the Opera House here last night in the interests of Mr. G. H. McIntyre, Liberal candidate for South Perth. Hon. William Paterson, Minister of Customs, delivered an address of a brilliancy, force and earnestness that was stirring in the extreme. He touched a fine patriotic chord in dealing with the progress and prosperity that the country has enjoyed under the Laurier Administration. In his peroration he hoped that the people of Canada, and of South Perth in particular, would endorse the grand policy of progressiveness of the Liberal party by casting their ballots for Mr. McIntyre, and in that way assisting in swelling the majority for for the Premier.

POLITICS IN A NUTSHELL.

Mr. Conmee's resignation as a member of the Legislature has not been received by Speaker Charlton.

The Conservatives of Sherbrooke in convention at Sherbrooke Thursday nominated Dr. N. Worthington, as their candidate for the Commons on Nov. 3.

E. P. Clement, K.C., of Berlin, was nominated by the North Waterloo Reform convention on Thursday at Waterloo.

B. B. Gunn of Seaforth was made the unanimous choice of the Conservative convention for South Huron at Hensall, Thursday.

The nine persons who were reported by Justice Boyd for corrupt practices in the Soo elections will receive their trial Oct. 17.

Major J. K. Leslie was nominated Thursday night by the Liberal convention of East Toronto to carry its banner against Mr. Kemp.

M. J. Morrison, advocate, and for many years law partner of the late J. F. Quinn, accepted the Conservative nomination Thursday evening in St. Ann's division, Montreal, against Ald. Gallery.

The Liberal convention was held at Coaticooke, Que., Thursday and Henry Lovell was chosen as the candidate for the Dominion House. P. A. Blesonnette was nominated for the Quebec Legislature.

R. L. Borden, the Conservative leader, arrived at Montreal Thursday from his Ontario campaign, where he delivered 24 speeches. After addressing two meetings there he will go to Quebec, and thence to New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier reached Toronto at noon Thursday from Guelph, and was met at the Union Station by Senator Cox and a reception committee. The Premier and Lady Laurier were driven to the King Edward, where they hold a reception during the afternoon.

Hon. Clifford Sifton has declined to meet his opponent, R. L. Richardson, in a debate at Brandon. Mr. Richardson is being assisted in his campaign by Hugh John Macdonald, and A. H. Carrol, M.P.P., for South Brandon. Government ownership will be the main question on which Mr. Richardson will appeal.

A special to The Globe from Ottawa says: It may be necessary for the returning officer in West Algoma to delay polling day until after Nov. 8 on account of difficulty in communicating with distant points of the district. It will require the greatest effort to get the poll taken in Thunder Bay. However, it is hoped to do it successfully.

BEWARE OF LIQUID CATARRH CURES.

Alcohol Holds Out False Hopes.

Catarrh sufferers who have become slaves to liquid catarrh remedies, as soon as they stop the treatment find themselves worse instead of better. These unfortunate victims often learn from their physician for the first time that a liquid catarrh remedy simply makes the mucous membranes drunk, destroys the natural sensations of the parts, deceiving them by false stimulation into the belief that the medicine is helping. Everyone knows that alcohol in any form will deceive. It deceives the head, it deceives the hands, it deceives the feet, but nowhere in the body is alcoholic deceit more apparent than upon the mucous membranes. Catarrh can never be cured by alcoholic deceits and the people are learning to avoid alcohol catarrh cures. Furthermore, they are fast learning that Smith's Triple Cure, handy, efficient and in tablet form, is far better and yields more lasting results. Catarrh sufferers know that while liquid remedies give temporary relief, because the alcohol makes the membranes drunk, such medicines soon intensify their trouble. They become slaves to the alcohol habit as surely by using liquid catarrh remedies as when whiskey is used as a beverage. Smith's Triple Cure not only is free from alcohol, but it actually cures catarrh in every part of the body—dry catarrh, stomach catarrh, bowel catarrh, systemic catarrh, in fact, there is no form of catarrh that Smith's Triple Cure does not cure fully and completely. Have nothing, therefore, to do with alcohol or liquid catarrh remedies, but use Smith's Triple Cure, which consists of four separate preparations, three in tablet form, to be used internally, curing catarrh of the stomach, liver, bowels, pelvis and systemic catarrh, and making rich, red blood, and a catarrh cream used locally, curing catarrh of the head and nasal passages, bronchial catarrh and catarrh of the lungs. A full two weeks' course of the four preparations in one large box, sold at only 50 cents by all dealers, the greatest value for the money ever offered. If your druggist won't supply you, send 25 two-cent stamps by mail today and we will send it postpaid and guarantee safe delivery. Address W. F. Smith Co., 185 St. James St., Montreal.

CARNEGIE'S DREAM

Canada's Destiny is Annexation With United States.

AS ENGLAND AND SCOTLAND

Explains Why Cecil Rhodes Left More Scholarships to the United States Than to All Other Lands—Re-Uniting of a Happy Family That Should Never Have Known Separation.

London, Oct. 14.—(C.A.P.)—"Drifting together; will the United States and Canada unite," so The Morning Express heads an article by Andrew Carnegie, who says those born north and south of the imaginary line between Canada and the States, being all Americans, must soon merge. It were as great folly for them to remain divided as for England and Scotland to have done so. Native born Canadians and Americans are of common type, indistinguishable one from the other. Nothing is surer in the near future than that they must unite. It were criminal in them to stand apart. It need not be feared that force will ever be used or required to accomplish this union. It will come; it must come in the natural order of things. Political as well as material bodies obey the law of gravitation. Canada's destiny is to annex the republic as Scotland did England. Then taking the hand of the rebellious big brother and that of the mother she will place them in each other's grasp, thus reuniting the then happy family that should never have known separation.

Carnegie says that Canada is growing faster only in the far Northwest, which is separated by a thousand miles of barren land from the English-speaking Province of Ontario. Cecil Rhodes abandoned the scheme of British federation and thereafter favored race federation and left to America more scholarships than to all other lands. He saw that it was to the republic and not to British settlements that his country had to look for the coming reunion of his race, with Britain in her right place as the parent of all.

BANQUET AT MONTREAL.

The Citizens of the City Honor Lord and Lady Minto.

Montreal, Oct. 14.—A farewell banquet was tendered at the Windsor Hotel last night by the citizens of Montreal to Lord and Lady Minto. It was a brilliant affair, a large number of Montreal's most prominent citizens being present.

The chair was occupied by Mayor Laporte, and at the head table sat the Earl of Minto, Sir Louis Jette, Archbishop Bruchesi, Bishop Carmichael, Senator MacKay, Justice Curran, Sir Alex. LaCoste, Sir George A. Drummond, Sir Montague Allan, Sir William Hingston, Hon. J. I. Tarte, E. S. Clouston and others.

The toast to the guest of honor was proposed by Archbishop Bruchesi. A civic address was also read to Lord Minto by Sir Louis Jette.

In reply the Earl of Minto said that he deeply appreciated the honor that had been shown to both himself and Lady Minto. He had served Canada at a time that was full of incident. His course had been run, the nasty places all passed, whether or not it was good was not for him to say, but after all it was only the first heat in the great Imperial stakes, and it rested with the people of Canada and Great Britain to bring it to a successful end.

Canada had made great progress in Imperial things. Now a great statesman across the seas was doing all within his power to direct into one common channel the destinies of the motherland and her self-governing colonies.

His Lordship said that he had traveled over all of Canada, and he could give personal testimony of the great future that lay before her. He would always bear happy recollections of his service in Canada, and if he had won the appreciation of the people he would consider himself amply rewarded.

Murdered By a Maniac.

Halifax, N.S., Oct. 14.—A horrible murder occurred last night at Charlottetown. Miss Lillian Warren, aged 40 years, was killed by a man named Michael Power, who was arrested shortly after he had committed the crime. An axe was found near the scene of the tragedy. Power is believed to be insane, and for some time had been confined in the State Prison at Charleston, Mass. He recently escaped from that institution. Miss Warren was on her way from work when the murderer attacked her.

Drowns At Sarnia.

Sarnia, Oct. 14.—While the steamer Huronic of the Northern Navigation Co. was being loaded with freight here last evening, William Mapletoft, one of the men engaged at work, accidentally fell into the river and was drowned. The body was recovered a short time afterwards by a submarine diver. Deceased was a well known long shoreman, and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mapletoft, respected residents of Sarnia.

Head About to Burst From Severe Bilious Attack.

"I had a severe bilious attack and felt like my head was about to burst when I got hold of a free sample of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. I took a dose of them after supper and the next day felt like a new man and have been feeling happy ever since," says Mr. J. W. Smith of Juliff, Texas. For biliousness, stomach troubles and constipation these Tablets have no equal. Price 25 cents. For sale by all druggists.

THE FIRST RAILWAYS.

When Sixteen Miles an Hour Made the Passengers Dizzy.

In 1830, when the railway was opened between Liverpool and Manchester, the Liverpool terminus was at Wapping. Lime street tunnel was not completed until about six years later.

At first the service consisted of three trains each way on week days and two on Sundays, but this was soon found to be insufficient. After Lime street station was opened there were six first class trains and six second class trains each way on week days and two of each description on Sundays. The journey of thirty-one miles occupied nearly two hours, which led to complaints that the speed was too great to be pleasant and caused dizziness. On the other hand, sanguine expectations were indulged in that in course of time the average rate of traveling would be at least double the ordinary speed of the swiftest conveyances drawn by horses. It was anticipated that the general adoption of railways would lead to "a vast decrease in the consumption of oats and hay by the substitution of steam engines in lieu of horses, and that portion of the soil which has hitherto been allotted to the growth of such produce may be appropriated to the raising of food suitable to the human species"—an important consideration in the time of the corn laws. It could not have been foreseen that the railway system, so far from superseding horses, would lead to an immense increase in the demand for them.—Liverpool Post.

Success.

With great care and much labor a caterpillar climbed up a tall spear of grass. When he reached the top he stood on his hind end and waved his front end in the air.

"Just as I feared," said he. "Success does not bring happiness."

But then he turned and climbed down, for the caterpillars are wiser than men.

FINE COLLECTION OF WORLD'S FAIR VIEWS

One of the most interesting collections of photographs ever seen in Peterborough is that which was put on view in the windows of H. LeBrun and Company in their George and Hunter street stores. The collection comprises fourteen actual photographs of the World's Fair, St. Louis, taken by the Grand Trunk Railway official photographer, and they have been lent to Peterborough for a short time.

The photos will bear more than a passing glance, for not only are they magnificent specimens of the photographic art, but they also give an excellent idea of the magnitude of some of the buildings of the World's Fair. The Canadian pavilion is shown in one photograph, while the handsome and costly Canadian exhibition in the Fishery, Forest and Game building forms the subject of another picture. The beautiful Cascade and Festival Hall, the beauty spot of the Fair are pictured in more than one photo.

A very good idea of the beautiful effect produced by the illumination is given in two photos, one showing the Festival Hall and Cascade at Night, and the other the Electricity Building, both brilliantly illuminated.

There are fourteen pictures, and among them the Pike—Midway Pleasance, Canada's Pavilion, the Cascades and Festival Hall, Canada's exhibit in the Palace of Fisheries, Palace of Electricity and Machinery, Palace of Education from the Lagoon, Louisana Purchase Monument and Festival Hall and surroundings.

WESTERN PEOPLE WANT NEW RAILWAY.

New Transcontinental Railway Popular With People in the West, Says Mr. B. F. Ackerman.

Just Returned From Extended Trip Through Western Canada and Gives an Interview.

Great Growth all Through the West. Crop Conditions are now Unsettled. Barr Colonists Satisfied.

"The people of the West want another railway. They are not so particular about how it is built so long as they get it."

In these words, Mr. B. F. Ackerman fixed up the position of the western people on the new transcontinental railway.

Mr. Ackerman returned home last night from a trip through the West, occupying about ten weeks, and during that time he went across the continent to Victoria, and on a short holiday trip, south to Portland, Oregon, and Seattle, Washington. Mr. Ackerman has made in the interests of his business, about twenty-five trips to the West, extending over a period of sixteen years, and has thus been able to see at first hand, the growth of the great western country. Every succeeding trip reveals to him fresh evidences of the country's wonderful growth and industrial development, and contrasting the conditions to-day with those prevailing sixteen years ago, he said that while at that time he could visit all the towns this side of Calgary, and be back home in four weeks, to do the same now would require six months.

THE WEST'S GREAT PROGRESS.

His last trip preceding the one just ended, was made about one year ago, and in that short time wonderful progress had been made, the greatest growth of course, being evidenced in Winnipeg, where the progress might well be called surprising, were it not for the fact that it has been going on so steadily for some years that the surprise has to a certain extent worn off, but it might well be that this permanence of growth is indeed the more surprising feature of it, as it certainly is the most gratifying.

Mr. Ackerman kindly accorded the Examiner an interview this morning, and he was found busy in his private office getting into touch with the business, which, in his absence, has been managed by his junior partner, Mr. W. C. Ackerman.

The question one first asks when speaking of Manitoba, is that with which the reporter opened the conversation this morning, viz., "How are the crops in Manitoba?" and to this question reply was made that at the present time things are in such a condition that the farmers hardly know where they are at. The greater part of the crop is still unthreshed, and on the ground, and the weather is dull and not conducive to a perfect saving of the grain. The conditions this year are almost identical with those prevailing at this time last year, and while in Manitoba along the main line of the C.P.R., and west and north of Winnipeg the yield was a good average, south of the main line the damp summer induced rust, and, as a consequence, the yield is poor. Mr. Ackerman was of the opinion that taking the West as a whole, Manitoba and the Territories, the yield would be an average one, and with the increased acreage, the aggregate yield would be larger, while the higher prices for grain would mean, providing the crop can be threshed before it is damaged, that there will be more money in circulation than last year.

BUSINESS NOT SO GOOD THIS YEAR.

By reason of the conditions named, business is not as good as might be hoped, and, added to the uncertainty as to the crops, is the fact that last year the business men bought heavily in anticipation of a big crop, and were disappointed to a certain extent, the bad weather of the fall damaging the wheat considerably.

As to the general condition of the West, Mr. Ackerman said that all the towns are growing rapidly, and the growth of Winnipeg is simply marvellous. The recent fire in that city would not have any serious effect. It occurred in a part of the city which would be built up again at once, and he expressed the opinion that the Ashdown firm, the heaviest single loser was quite able to stand the loss, as it was a very wealthy concern.

The new C.P.R. station and hotel is progressing well, the building now being up to the second storey. It will be a magnificent building, and a credit to the city.

PEOPLE WANT NEW RAILWAY.

It was while talking about railway matters that Mr. Ackerman made the remark quoted at the head of this article. The C.P.R. he said was doing remarkably well for the country, but it is impossible for one railway to keep up with the traffic, and while the majority of the people recognize that the C.P.R. is doing everything in its power to provide all the railway facilities possible, the need is urgently felt for a new line, and the G. T. Pacific is now the issue in the West.

The C.P.R. had, however, recently taken two daily trains off, the imperial limited being one of them, and this, in Mr. Ackerman's opinion was a mistake, as there was plenty of traffic for all the trains, and the day succeeding the taking off of the trains, people were standing in the cars, and it was necessary to run the trains in two sections.

RAILWAY EXTENSION.

Considerable railway extension work is being done in the West; principally by the Canadian Northern, the C.P.R. devoting attention to the improvements of the present road-bed and equipment.

Mr. Ackerman gave some interesting information about the Barr Colonists, who have settled about 200 miles west of Saskatoon, near Lloydminster. At Saskatoon he met two young Barr Colonists who had driven the 200 odd miles in by ox team, the purpose of their visit being to meet their wives whom they had left in England, and who were now coming to join them in the new land. The journey from Lloydminster had occupied eleven days, and the men were looking forward to giving their wives a taste of Canadian life on the return trip, which they would make on the arrival of the ladies from England.

COLONISTS ARE SATISFIED.

The colonists have pitched in to work well, and those who have started farming have under crop all the way from 6 to 70 acres each. The crop this year is not as good as might be expected, the colonists attributing this condition to the fact that the seed, which was supplied them from the Government farms was not as good as it should have been. They are, however, very successful and appear to be quite contented with their lot. He believes that they will make good citizens.

IRRIGATION IN THE TERRITORIES.

The C.P.R. irrigation scheme, near Calgary, where plans are under way to irrigate 500,000 acres of excellent land is progressing favourably and Mr. Ackerman saw work being done. He was through Southern Alberta, where the Canadian North-west Irrigation Company has an irrigation canal 60 miles long. This year was the first since the canal was completed that the season was dry enough to require water, and in consequence of never having required the water before the canal was not in proper shape to be utilized this year, and the result was that the crops were somewhat light, but on the whole they will be satisfactory. The culture of sugar beets in that vicinity is most satisfactory, and the factory at Raymond is running steadily, and will produce the greater part of the sugar used in the North-west. At Leithbridge the C.P.R. are erecting a new round house and station, which will be used as a Union Station, the Canada and Great Falls Railways also running their trains into it.

CONDITIONS IN BRITISH COLUMBIA.

In British Columbia the mining men are apparently pleased with the present prospects, although the lumber industry is rather dull, the cause being an over-stock. The West, on the whole is growing satisfactorily, and there is no question as to its great future.

Mr. Ackerman made the trip in the interests of the business of which he is the founder, the B. F. Ackerman, Son & Co., harness manufacturers.

Don't forget the big sale of Ladies' and Children's Jackets and Ulsters, commencing to-morrow morning at Richard Hall & Sons, 353 and 355 George street.

OLD RESIDENT OF BRIDGENORTH DEAD

Mr. Henry Bowie Died Suddenly on Friday.

Yesterday Mr. Henry Bowie, a resident of Bridgenorth for the last eighteen or twenty years, and well known in that vicinity died at his home there after a short illness, lasting only three days. The late Mr. Bowie had been in his usual health until three days ago. When he was taken suddenly ill with congestion of the lungs and heart trouble and the sickness resulted in his death. The deceased who was a native of Scotland, having been born there 79 years ago, came to Canada after his marriage and lived on the Mud Lake road for some years, afterwards moving to Bridgenorth, where he lived until his death. Deceased was an enthusiastic Scotchman and was a regular attendant at the St. Andrew's night concerts, held in Peterborough.

He leaves to mourn his loss a widow and three children; two daughters, Mrs. Thos. Black, of Bridgenorth and Mrs. J. Gregg, of Ennismore, and one son, James who is at present in Manitoba.

The funeral will take place on Saturday at two o'clock to the Bridgenorth cemetery.

TRIUMPH IN ARTISTIC GROUP PHOTOGRAPHY

Mr. L. A. Turner's Excellent Picture of Guild Baseball League Champion's.

One of the finest pieces of group photography which has ever been finished in Peterborough will be on exhibition to-morrow morning in Mr. Fred. Clarke's window, George street. It is a picture of the Charlotte Street Young Men's Guild Baseball team, champions of the Guild League for the season of 1904, and the officers of the society. The picture is the work of Mr. Leslie A. Turner, photographer, who has displayed a marked degree of artistic ability and skill in the work. The picture is 24 by 36 1-2 inches in size. It shows the team on the baseball field, in their positions as if engaged in an actual game and the scene is remarkable for its naturalness. The expression and general effect could hardly be better and the perspective, which is one of the most difficult phases of the work, has been regarded most accurately. The picture, which is a most unique one is in every way a work of art and Mr. Turner is deserving of every praise for his splendid accomplishment. The picture will be on exhibition at the presentation of the Examiner Trophy at the Charlotte Street Sunday School this evening.

The members of the champion team in the picture are, H. Roddy, pitcher and captain; Wilburn Thornton, catcher; Norman Jolliffe, first base; James Squires, second base; Edward Roddy, third base; Nelson McWilliams, short stop; Jack Sanderson, left field; Edward Carr, centre field; Edward Fuller, right field; Robert Ryan, (at bat) spare man; H. Webb, Mascot; A. A. Webb, umpire. The officers in the group are Rev. W. J. Jolliffe, Honorary President; W. Galbraith, President; H. Latimer, Secretary; A. Fife, Treasurer; A. Bookhout, Chairman of Sports Committee; F. White, Manager. An excellent picture of the Examiner Trophy also appears in the group.

HONOURS SHOWN TO LACROSSE CHAMPIONS

R. R. Hall Trophy Presented to Champions of Trent Valley League.

Delightful Banquet to T. A. S. Lacrosse and Baseball Teams Last Evening.

Attendance was Large and the Speeches Were Most Enjoyable.

The banquet to the T.A.S. Lacrosse and Baseball teams last evening proved to be a fitting climax to the series of triumphs which the athletic young men of this flourishing society have experienced during the past season. The event was held in the T.A.S. rooms and to everyone present was a most delightful affair from every standpoint. And it is only natural that such should be the case for the T.A.S. have acquired the reputation of making a success of everything upon which they have entered, be it in athletics or in any other department in connection with the society. The following were present: Rev. Father McColl, Rev. Dr. O'Brien, Rev. Father J. O'Brien, Rev. Father Galvin, Rev. Father McGuire, R. R. Hall, F. D. Kerr, J. T. Laing, W. Treanor, M. McCann, H. Latremouille, A. Latremouille, D. Simons, J. Callaghan, L. Derocher, M. Heron, F. Cook, J. E. Sullivan, J. J. O'Brien, J. O'Brien, W. F. Crowley, W. E. Meagher, R. A. Boyle, J. J. McCabe, F. J. McGrath, W. J. Donovan, M. J. O'Brien, L. Whaley, J. J. McNichol, E. Doherty, Mr. and Mrs. John Hayes, L. McCoy, W. J. O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. M. Hickey, Mr. and Mrs. E. Hickey, F. Pope, J. McFadden, Mr. and Mrs. J. Begley, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Argus, G. Morris, R. Sharpe, Mr. and Mrs. R. Begley, W. Judd, M. O'Connor, L. O'Connor, M. O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. B. Durrus, G. Coughlin, J. Dorris, F. Joyce, T. P. Connors, W. Redkins, G. H. Giroux, E. Fitzpatrick, W. Cahill, M. Ramsay, J. White, J. Maher, D. Sheehan, J. A. Sharpe, N. McCann, M. McNully, S. S. Moore and F. Craig, of the Review; E. Bartlett, of the Times, and Examiner representatives.

The repast prepared was a most delicious one and was heartily partaken of. Mr. W. McCallum was the caterer.

The toastmaster for the occasion was the Rev. Father McColl, who opened the proceedings with a neat speech. The first toast on the list was to the "Holy Father," and was followed by the toast to "The King," which was honoured in the usual manner.

The toast to "Our Country" was proposed by Rev. Father McColl. The country required men of the same stamp as were being honoured on the present occasion, who had showed themselves to be men in the true sense of the word. To attain success in athletics, strength, vigour and courage were essential. To acquire the highest physical development also meant to improve morally, and the speaker thought that the fact that the society was one of total abstinence had a great deal to do with the success of the athletes.

A WITTY SPEECH.

Rev. Father McGuire of Hastings, responded. He was very pleased to be present and do honour to the young men of whom the society had every reason to be proud. He had often heard of the great work accomplished and he spoke in glowing terms of Rev. Fr. O'Brien's interest and work in the society. He hoped the success which had been experienced in the past would continue. The prospects for our country were very encouraging; it was a great country, and a grand one to live in. It was not necessary for him to state that he was born in Ireland, from which country reports were coming that home rule was certain in the near future. If we were up and doing in an honest manner and were particular about the men to whom we entrusted the making of our laws our country would be the greatest on the face of the earth.

TOAST TO THE CHAMPIONS.

The toast to "Our Champions" was proposed by Mr. R. R. Hall, an honorary member of the society. Mr. Hall said he was much pleased to be present, and thanked those who had extended to him an invitation to take part in the banquet. He was pleased to see the ladies present, for they always lent a charm and delight which would not be experienced otherwise. In regard to sports, Mr. Hall said he had always taken an active and sympathetic interest in all kinds of sports, and though he did not take an active part, there was nothing he enjoyed more than seeing a first class game of lacrosse. The clear eye, the steady hand, the quick thought, the accurate decision, went to make up success in the athletic life, and men who succeed in one phase of life show the same traits of character in another. These qualities could not be better inculcated into young men, than in a society such as the T.A.S.. The society was organized five years ago under Rev. Father O'Sullivan, who was succeeded in the work by Rev. Dr. O'Brien, who had brought honour and glory to it.

SOCIETY'S EXTENSIVE INFLUENCE.

The Total Abstinence Society extended throughout the North American continent, and it had recently been demonstrated that the activity in the Peterborough branch was more pronounced than in any other town or city where there is a Total Abstinence Society. The society had met with great success in athletics and besides having twice captured the Trent Valley Hockey Championship bar, this season won the lacrosse championship. Mr. Hall believed that their marked success was due to the temperance foundation. The temperate man had the clear eye and steady hand, his thoughts were clear, and he moved both body and mind quickly. The recent successes of Lou Scholes, Pte. Perry, and Geo. Lyons went to show that we had a temperate class of Canadians, fully alive to their opportunities, and that Canada leads the way in every variety of circumstances. Canada was growing very fast, and increasing in every way which spoke well for the temperate character of the people, and showed that the influence of the T.A.S. was bound to be of paramount importance.

GRATITUDE TO FATHER MATTHEW.

If we look over the past few years of history, it can be seen that the present generation owes a debt of gratitude to Rev. Father Matthews, who was the founder of the T.A.S. He was a great temperance advocate. He had a life which was an inspiration for each to follow and one which teaches us to approach our work with the same unconquerable spirit which he exhibited. It was with that spirit that the lacrosse team had entered into the game, not so much to simply win the prize, but to act nobly and fairly on the field. Mr. Hall took pleasure in presenting the "R. R. Hall Trophy" to the champions of the Trent Valley League.

THE CUP ACCEPTED.

Mr. John O'Brien, president of the society, responded. On behalf of the champions he was greatly pleased to accept Mr. Hall's handsome trophy. The boys had worked hard all season and it was a source of satisfaction to all that the season had terminated in such a manner. The team had been a strictly total abstinence one, and all had conducted themselves as gentlemen.

THE SECRETARY'S REPORT.

Mr. Jas. Dorris, secretary, read the report of the season's work as follows:—

Mr. Chairman, Rev. Father, Ladies and Gentlemen,—

Once again we are gathered here together around the festive board, to do honour to our athletes, who have during the past season so nobly, energetically and faithfully upheld the honour of our society and brought glory, not only to the followers of the red and black, but to the City of Peterborough at large.

To-night our lacrosse club has been presented with the R. R. Hall Trophy, a handsome silver cup, emblematic of the championship of the Trent Valley Lacrosse League, which they have won after a most successful season, both financially and otherwise, which the club has yet experienced, and one which I think has never been duplicated in all the annals of lacrosse around this section of the country.

Beginning the season in May and playing through till the middle of September, participating in all some ten games, winning eight, tieing two and losing none, scoring fifty goals to their opponents' sixteen, and above all what is more important and more beneficial, both to themselves and to the society, viz., each and every player being a strictly total abstainer from the very beginning till the referee's whistle blew the call for time in the last game, is the record, which I, as the secretary, am proud to-night to be able to state, has been established by our T.A.S. lacrosse club this summer. And this is all the more to be wondered at when you consider the adverse circumstances under which the club began the season.

Four days before the first league game not one certificate had been signed, four nights before this same game not one practice had been held, financially the club was in the hole, and further the boys seemed discouraged and disheartened. And to whom therefore, is the credit due? To the Captain, Mr. Fred. Derocher, and to the boys themselves, must be given, of course, their just share of it, but the major portion of it belongs, and rightly too, to the energetic and untiring efforts of the Manager, Mr. Albert Doris. He was certainly the most conspicuous figure in the lacrosse arena last summer. Always in the game, ever ready to assist the officers or coach the boys, no scout of theirs when any work had to be done, and always wearing that smile that won't come off, are a few of his virtues, whatever may be his faults.

To the rest of the officers and to the Executive also must some their share, for they all did their best to further the interests of the red and black on the lacrosse field and the results of their labours are plainly visible.

Our work or rather our signal success from the very beginning, must have been an eyesore to a few of the other teams in the league for we were protested by no less than two of them for playing ineligible men, but the charges on both occasions were not sustained.

Our receipts were not as large as the club deserved, but this was not due to any fault of the management. It was due solely to the poor support given by the people of Peterborough, generally, and the members of this society in particular. Probably by next season they will see the error of their ways and learn that it takes money, and a good deal of it, too, to run an athletic club of any description, no matter how small.

The following is a summary of the games played and the scores made in each:—

June 18th, at Hastings,—T. A. S., 3; Hastings, 2.

August 1st, at Peterborough, —T. A. S., 12; I. C. B. U., 2.

September 8th, at Havelock, —T. A. S., 2; Havelock, 1.

As you will see the most number of goals scored against our boys in any game was three, which speaks well for the work of the defence, and the score was equally as effective, as is evidenced by the scored of 7, 5 and 12, which speaks volumes of praise for them. In fact from goal to goal to inside home every man was a star, playing that fast, clean and sure game which is so deserving of victory. They have behaved in every game as gentlemen and as total abstainers, both on and off the field, and possess now the proud distinction of bring to Peterborough the first lacrosse championship that has visited this town in a decade.

BASEBALL TEAM, TOO.

A violin solo by Mr. Ramsay was heartily received and an encore was responded to, Mrs. E. W. Argus acting as accompanist.

The toast to the "Baseball Team" was honoured and responded to by Mr. D. Simons, president of the club. Though the boys did not win the championship they had made a most creditable showing all season. Their behaviour was highly spoken of wherever they had played and they would enter into the game with renewed determination to capture the pennant next year.

Mr. G. Coughlin, secretary, presented a report of the games played by the team during the season, and he also explained the situation of affairs with reference to the protest which lost them the championship and which they were not given the privilege of defending.

"THE TOTAL ABSTINENCE SOCIETY."

The toast to the "Total Abstinence Society" was responded to in a neat speech by Mr. Fred Cook, president. The local society was the largest of its kind in existence and on the present occasion was most happy to do honour to its athletes who had done so well on the athletic field.

Rev. Dr. O'Brien also spoke. He referred to the record of the lacrosse team and also to the high manner in which the press, both local and otherwise, had commented on their work. He believed there was a lesson to be learned from the cup which was emblematic of the championship and that lesson was in the word "success." This was what all desired to achieve, and one of the most important means to attain success was to lay a sure foundation, and the foundation of temperance was one which meant success. A man must be temperate to succeed and it were better to take a step farther and be a total abstiner. He hoped the young men would not only succeed in athletics, but in intellectual, moral and spiritual affairs as well. The society had received sympathy and support regardless of creed and there had been one chorus of applause for the splendid record of the champions, from Protestants as well as Catholics and he wished to express his sincere thanks to the people of Peterborough for their sympathetic support.

THE LADIES' PART.

The toast to "The Ladies" was honoured and responded to in neat speeches by Messrs. W. Crowley and Jos. Begley. The support given the teams during the season by the ladies had been greatly appreciated and had been a strong factor in the success attained.

The toast to "Sister Societies" was responded to by Mr. F. D. Kerr. One of the speakers, said Mr. Kerr, had made the statement that the presence of the ladies at the banquet was a delightful feature. Mr. Kerr thought their presence added several delightful "features." He congratulated the lacrosse and baseball team on their splendid showing during the season, and hoped that the success of the past would be more than doubled in the future. The objects of the society were laudable ones and ones which all recognized as for the best interests of the society and community at large.

Mr. G. H. Giroux, Mr. W. Redkins and Mr. T. P. Connor spoke extending their congratulations.

The toast to the "Press" was honoured and responded to by the representatives present.

A most delightful evening was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

The committee in charge of the banquet, and to whom a great deal of credit is due for its successful issue, was as follows:—E. W. Argus, chairman; R. Begley, secretary; E. Hickey, J. Hickey, W. O'Brien, J. A. Sharpe.

HONOURS SHOWN TO LACROSSE CHAMPIONS

R. R. Hall Trophy Presented to Champions of Trent Valley League.

Delightful Banquet to T. A. S. Lacrosse and Baseball Teams Last Evening.

Attendance was Large and the Speeches Were Most Enjoyable.

The banquet to the T.A.S. Lacrosse and Baseball teams last evening proved to be a fitting climax to the series of triumphs which the athletic young men of this flourishing society have experienced during the past season. The event was held in the T.A.S. rooms and to everyone present was a most delightful affair from every standpoint. And it is only natural that such should be the case for the T.A.S. have acquired the reputation of making a success of everything upon which they have entered, be it in athletics or in any other department in connection with the society. The following were present: Rev. Father McColl, Rev. Dr. O'Brien, Rev. Father J. O'Brien, Rev. Father Galvin, Rev. Father McGuire, R. R. Hall, F. D. Kerr, J. T. C. Laing, W. Treaner, M. McCann, H. Latremouille, A. Latremouille, D. Simons, J. Callaghan, L. Derocher, M. Heron, F. Cook, J. E. Sullivan, J. J. O'Brien, J. O'Brien, W. F. Crowley, W. E. Meagher, R. A. Boyle, J. J. McCabe, F. J. McGrath, W. J. Donovan, M. J. O'Brien, L. Whaley, J. J. McNichol, E. Doherty, Mr. and Mrs. John Hayes, L. McCoy, W. J. O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. M. Hickey, Mr. and Mrs. E. Hickey, F. Pope, J. McFadden, Mr. and Mrs. J. Begley, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Argus, G. Morris, K. Sharpe, Mr. and Mrs. R. Begley, W. Judd, M. O'Connor, L. O'Connor, M. O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. B. Dorris, G. Coughlin, J. Dorris, F. Joyce, T. P. Connors, W. Rudkins, G. H. Giroux, E. Fitzpatrick, W. Cabill, M. Ramsay, J. White, J. Maher, D. Sheehan, J. A. Sharpe, N. McCann, M. McNulty, S. S. Moore and F. Craig, of the Review; K. Bartlett, of the Times, and Examiner representatives.

The repast prepared was a most delicious one and was heartily partaken of. Mr. W. McCallum was the caterer.

The toastmaster for the occasion was the Rev. Father McColl, who opened the proceedings with a neat speech. The first toast on the list was to the "Holy Father," and was followed by the toast to "The King," which was honoured in the usual manner.

The toast to "Our Country" was proposed by Rev. Father McColl. The country required men of the same stamp as were being honoured on the present occasion, who had showed themselves to be men in the true sense of the word. To attain success in athletics, strength, vigour and courage were essential. To acquire the highest physical development also meant to improve morally, and the speaker thought that the fact that the society was one of total abstinence had a great deal to do with the success of the athletes.

A WITTY SPEECH.

Rev. Father McGuire of Hastings, responded. He was very pleased to be present and do honour, to the young men of whom the society had every reason to be proud. He had often heard of the great work accomplished and he spoke in glowing terms of Rev. Fr. O'Brien's interest and work in the society. He hoped the success which had been experienced in the past would continue. The prospects for our country were very encouraging; it was a great country, and a grand one to live in. It was not necessary for him to state that he was born in Ireland, from which country reports were coming that home rule was certain in the near future. If we were up and doing in an honest manner and were particular about the men to whom we entrusted the making of our laws, our country would be the greatest on the face of the earth.

TOAST TO THE CHAMPIONS.

The toast to "Our Champions" was proposed by Mr. R. R. Hall, an honorary member of the society. Mr. Hall said he was much pleased to be present, and thanked those who had extended to him an invitation to take part in the banquet. He was pleased to see the ladies present, for they always lent a charm and delight which would not be experienced otherwise. In regard to sports, Mr. Hall said he had always taken an active and sympathetic interest in all kinds of sports, and though he did not take an active part, there was nothing he enjoyed more than seeing a first class game of lacrosse. The clear eye, the steady hand, the quick thought, the accurate decision, went to make up success in the athletic life, and men who succeed in one phase of life show the same traits of character in another. These qualities could not be better inculcated into young men, than in a society such as the T.A.S. The society was organised five years ago under Rev. Father O'Sullivan, who was succeeded in the work by Rev. Dr. O'Brien, who had brought honour and glory to it.

SOCIETY'S EXTENSIVE INFLUENCE.

The Total Abstinence Society extended throughout the North American continent, and it had recently been demonstrated that the activity in the Peterborough branch was more pronounced than in any other town or city where there is a Total Abstinence Society. The society had met with great success in athletics and besides having twice captured the Trent Valley Hockey Championship bar, this season won the lacrosse championship. Mr. Hall believed that their marked success was due to the temperance foundation. The temperate man had the clear eye and steady hand, his thoughts were clear, and he moved both body and mind quickly. The recent successes of Lou Scholes, Pte. Perry, and Geo. Lyons went to show that we had a temperate class of Canadians, fully alive to their opportunities, and that Canada leads the way in every variety of circumstances. Canada was growing very fast, and increasing in every way which spoke well for the temperate character of the people, and showed that the influence of the T.A.S. was found to be of paramount importance.

GRATITUDE TO FATHER MATTHEW.

If we look over the past few years of history, it can be seen that the present generation owes a debt of gratitude to Rev. Father Matthews, who was the founder of the T.A.S. He was a great temperance advocate. He had a life which was an inspiration for each to follow and one which teaches us to approach our work with the same unconquerable spirit which he exhibited. It was with that spirit that the lacrosse team had entered into the game, not so much to simply win the prize, but to act nobly and fairly on the field. Mr. Hall took pleasure in presenting the "R. R. Hall Trophy" to the champions of the Trent Valley League.

THE CUP ACCEPTED.

Mr. John O'Brien, president of the society, responded. On behalf of the champions he was greatly pleased to accept Mr. Hall's handsome trophy. The boys had worked hard all season and it was a source of satisfaction to all that the season had terminated in such a manner. The team had been a strictly total abstinence one, and all had conducted themselves as gentlemen.

THE SECRETARY'S REPORT.

Mr. Jas. Dorris, secretary, read the report of the season's work as follows:—

Mr. Chairman, Rev. Father, Ladies and Gentlemen,—

Once again we are gathered here together around the festive board, to do honour to our athletes, who have during the past season so nobly, energetically and faithfully upheld the honour of our society and brought glory, not only to the followers of the red and black, but to the City of Peterborough at large.

To-night our lacrosse club has been presented with the R. R. Hall Trophy, a handsome silver cup, emblematic of the championship of the Trent Valley Lacrosse League, which they have won after a most successful season, both financially and otherwise, which the club has yet experienced, and one which I think has never been duplicated in all the annals of lacrosse around this section of the country.

Beginning the season in May and playing through till the middle of September, participating in all some ten games, winning eight, tieing two and losing none, scoring fifty goals to their opponents' sixteen, and above all what is more important and more beneficial, both to themselves and to the society, viz., each and every player being a strictly total abstainer from the very beginning till the referee's whistle blew the call for time in the last game, is the record, which I, as the secretary, am proud to-night to be able to state, has been established by our T.A.S. lacrosse club this summer. And this is all the more to be wondered at when you consider the adverse circumstances under which the club began the season. Four days before the first league game not one certificate had been signed, four nights before this same game not one practice had been held, financially the club was in the hole, and further the boys seemed discouraged and dismals led. And to whom therefore, is the credit due? To the Captain, Mr. Fred. Derocher, and to the boys themselves, must be given, of course, their just share of it, but the major portion of it belongs, and rightly too, to the energetic and untiring efforts of the Manager, Mr. Albert Doris. He was certainly the most conspicuous figure in the lacrosse arena last summer. Always in the game, ever ready to assist the officers or coach the boys, no cr out of sight when any work had to be done, and always wearing that smile that won't come off, are a few of his virtues, whatever may be his faults.

To the rest of the officers and to the Executive also must some their share, for they all did their best to further the interests of the red and black on the lacrosse field and the results of their labours are plainly visible.

Our work or rather our signal success from the very beginning, must have been as eyesore to a few of the other teams in the league for we were protested by no less than two of them for playing ineligible men, but the charges on both occasions were not sustained.

Our receipts were not as large as the club deserved, but this was not due to any fault of the management. It was due solely to the poor support given by the people of Peterborough, generally, and the members of this society in particular. Probably by next season they will see the error of their ways and learn that it takes money, and a good deal of it, too, to run an athletic club of any description, no matter how small.

The following is a summary of the games played and the scores made in each:—

July 1st, at Port Hope,— T. A. S., 4; Port Hope, 3.
July 18th, at Hastings,— T. A. S., 5; Hastings, 3.
July 23nd, at Peterborough, — T. A. S., 8; Millbrook, 1.
August 1st, at Peterborough, —T. A. S, 12; I. C. B. U., 3.

As you will see the most number of goals scored against our boys in any game was three, which speaks well for the work of the defence, and the home was equally as effective, as is evidenced by the scored of 7, 3 and 12, which speaks volumes of praise for them. Mrs. Rosa Adams, niece of the late General Roger Hanson, C. S. A., wants every woman to know of the wonders accomplished by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I cannot tell you with pen and ink what good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me, suffering from the ills peculiar to the sex, extreme lassitude and that all gone feeling. I would rise from my bed in the morning feeling more tired than when I went to bed, but before I had used two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I began to feel the buoyancy of my younger days returning, became regular, could do more work and not feel tired than I had ever been able to do before, so I continued to use it until I was restored to perfect health. It is indeed a boon to sick women and I heartily recommend it. Yours very truly, MRS. ROSA ADAMS, 819 13th St., Louisville, Ky."

Any women who are troubled with irregular or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhœa, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, general debility, and nervous prostration, should know there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. No other medicine for women has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of female cures.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I am very pleased to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for womb and ovarian difficulties from which I have been a sufferer for years. It was the only medicine which was at all beneficial, and within a week after I started to use it, there was a great change in my feelings and looks. I used it for a little over three months, and at the end of that time I suffered no pain at the menstrual period, nor was I troubled with those distressing pains which compelled me to go to bed, and I have not had a headache since. This is nearly a year ago. I always keep a bottle on hand, and take a few doses every week, for I find that it tones up the system and keeps me feeling strong, and I never have that tired out feeling any more.

"I certainly think that every woman ought to try this grand medicine, for it would prove its worth. Yours very truly, MISS ELSIE DANFORTH, 203 De Soto St., Memphis, Tenn."

WHERE THE PROFIT COMES IN

Mr. Borden in closing the branch of his address at the Rink last Saturday night on the railway said that

The profits of the G. T. P. are assured, the liability of this country is assured, but it is hard to see where our profits come in.

Isn't that a nice question for a statesman to ask? Who expects direct profits from an enterprise having for its prime object the serving of national interests? Such enterprises are not expected to pay dividends like a soap company.

Where does the profit come in for the eighty millions which Mr. Borden says has been spent upon our canals? Where are the dividends they declare? There is no direct profit, it is all outlay, all investment, but the national profits are of inestimable value. How many millions have our canals saved in the way of regulating and cheapening freight rates to the advantage and enrichment of the farmer, the manufacturer, the merchant, the consumer and every mother's son of Canada? The benefit is simply incalculable.

Where is the cash profit from the Intercolonial Railway whose extension was one of the lightning change transformation acts which Mr. Borden performed during his great transcontinental railway vaudeville turn? It is a 1200 miles long monument or rather warning, of the impracticability and failure of Government operation of a railway. It has cost the country first and last $70,500,000. For the nearly thirty years of its existence and operation, not a cent of interest has been paid on its cost, and for nearly twenty-five years of the thirty the road has not paid its running expenses. Not much "profits" or dividends there. Yet has the Intercolonial yielded no profits to the country? Indeed it has. It is the price of Confederation—its building was one of the conditions. Seventy millions may be regarded as a big price, but who will deny that the fact that it created a solid Dominion that made possible the Canada of to-day and the Canada of the glorious future. Is not that worth much?

The Dominion, Provincial and municipal governments of Canada, have granted aid to the extent of about 230 millions in the construction of the 20,000 miles of railway, that now gridiron, especially, the older part of the Dominion. Where is the direct profit from that outlay, where is the dividend? The dividend consists in the Dominion, as we have it to-day. That is Canada for the Canadians.

The Government of Canada subsidized to the extent of millions the original Grand Trunk Railway, without any returns in the way of dividends or profits. Yet who will say that the Grand Trunk in the half century it has been running, has not paid all the Government advanced many times over.

The Canadian Pacific Railway has cost the country over 60 millions in cash, not to speak of twenty-five million acres of land, and the free gift of sections of railway built by the Government, costing many millions. The treasury has received no dividends, it is true, but who will say that the Canadian Pacific Railway has not yielded to Canada "profits" far in excess of the money the country has invested in it? What would Canada have been, in comparison with what it is, if it had not been for the Canadian Pacific?

The next change that Mr. Borden makes in his transcontinental railway policy would consistently be the advocacy of a narrow-guage line.

CANADIAN PACIFIC AND GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC

Terms of the Two Great Transcontinental National Railway Schemes Contrasted.

Showing How Much More Favourable, From a National Point of View, is the G. T. P. R. Bargain.

The chief points of contrast between the Grand Trunk Pacific project and the Canadian Pacific project which the Conservatives launched are these:

1. The Canadian Pacific is from end to end the property of the company which was chartered and subsidized to build it.	1. The Dominion will own one-half of the Grand Trunk Pacific, and will be part proprietor of the other half through a mortgage held as security for guarantee of interest. Dominion also has authority to grant running powers.
2. The Dominion Government constructed two costly sections of the Canadian Pacific—from Lake Superior to Winnipeg, and from Kamloops to the Pacific Ocean—and made a present of these completed portions to the company.	2. The Grand Trunk Pacific from Winnipeg to near the Atlantic Ocean will be built by the Government, and will remain the property of the people of Canada forever.
3. Parliament granted to the Canadian Pacific, a cash subsidy of $25,000,000.	3. The only financial aid given to the Grand Trunk Pacific is a guarantee of interest—which will not cost the country anything — to the capitalists who furnish the means of construction west of Winnipeg. On the section east of Winnipeg, which will be built and owned by Government, the country will receive a rental sufficient to pay interest on the sum invested.
4. Parliament gave the Canadian Pacific 25,000,000 acres of land, including the privilege of establishing town sites.	4. Not an acre of land, except for right of way and station facilities, is given to the Grand Trunk Pacific. To enhance this big difference, the Canadian Pacific lands were made free of taxation for twenty years unless "sold or occupied." This has so far been held to mean twenty years from the actual specific conveyance of the lands to the corporation, not from the date of the agreement—a difference which means many additional millions of dollars to the Canadian Pacific.
5. As far as it was possible to do so, the Dominion Government gave the Canadian Pacific Company a monopoly of the traffic of the Dominion west of Lake Superior, by prohibiting the building of other lines, except such as would of necessity become feeders of the Canadian Pacific.	5. The Grand Trunk Pacific company must take its chances in competition with existing trunk lines and with any others that may hereafter be chartered and constructed.
6. Parliament granted to the Canadian Pacific virtually absolute control of transportation charges west of Lake Superior.	6. The absolute control of such charges on the Grand Trunk Pacific is vested in the Dominion. The difference is made clearly apparent by the fact that, so far as its main line is concerned, the Canadian Pacific cannot be brought under the control of the Railway Commission recently created by Parliament, whereas the Grand Trunk Pacific is placed under that control by the terms of its charter.
7. No attempt was made by Parliament to grant running powers to other companies over the portions of the Canadian Pacific constructed by the Dominion Government.	7. Running powers over the portion of the Grand Trunk Pacific constructed by the Government may be obtained by any other company, subject to the operative control of the Grand Trunk Pacific Company, so far as that is necessary to the safety of passengers and property.
8. The Canadian Pacific was allowed to import construction material free of duty.	8. The Grand Trunk Pacific enjoys no such privilege. As far as possible, its materials must be made or purchased in Canada. Where it imports material that cannot be procured here it must pay duty.
9. When the Canadian Pacific was finished it possessed little more in the older provinces than its main line from Rat Portage to Montreal. A system of feeders had to be laboriously built up.	9. The Grand Trunk Pacific on the other hand, will commence operations with all the lines and equipment of the Grand Trunk proper behind it in the older provinces, which means that the Eastern manufacturer will at once be placed in direct communication with his customers in the West and ensured lower rates.
10. The Canadian Pacific, though built as a national undertaking, was semi-Americanized from the first. Its Soo line to-day carries wheat from Minneapolis to the sea-board for less than the main-line charges from Winnipeg; in other words, treats the farmers of Dakota and Minnesota better than the main line treats those of Manitoba. Further, although St. John, N.B., is the winter port of the Canadian Pacific, its line thither runs for 200 miles through the State of Maine.	10. The Grand Trunk Pacific will traverse Canadian soil from start to finish, will send all unrouted freight to Canadian ports, is under obligation not to discriminate in rates against those ports, and will run too far north to become tied up, as the Canadian Pacific is, with the rival interests of Minnesota and Dakota.
11. The Canadian Pacific did comparatively little for the older provinces in the way of opening up new territory. Its main line west hugs the Lake Superior shore, which is rocky and unfit for profitable settlement.	11. The Grand Trunk Pacific will open a vast back country, between Moncton and Winnipeg, containing over 150,000,000 acres of well timbered land, much of it fit for agriculture, with deposits of mica, nickel and iron, and with water powers of enormous capacity. It stands to reason that the development of this region must add to the wealth and importance of Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick. That part of Canada will no longer be a mere fringe. The older provinces have done much for the West; they are now helping the West again, and at the same time doing something for themselves.

Thus it is seen that by the terms of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway agreement, the interests of Canadians are protected, and the motto, "Canada for Canadians," clearly carried out. Every inch of the G.T.P. R. is on Canadian soil. The rails it uses — 6,710 miles of them — must, if they can be supplied, be "made in Canada," and Canada must furnish all the building material, that can be supplied by Canada. It is a Canadian project, for the Canadian people. It will create a new Canada, greater than that now settled and built up. Forward Canada! On with the Grand Trunk Pacific.

Keep both hands on our present prosperity.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Mail and Empire asks, "What Canadian industry is going to suffer by the triumph of the Conservative party?" That's easy. The housewife's daily industry of packing the full dinner pail.

We may assume that Mr. Borden would take office if the country urged it upon him. At Orillia he accepted the modest compliment of the chairman who introduced him as "the cleverest statesman in Canada."

Mr. Borden, in his Saturday night speech, mentioned that the Liberals had at one time considered the Trent Canal a "mere ditch." Come now, wasn't it a former Conservative member who worked off this little joke?

If industry prospers more now than it did before 1896, the Montreal Gazette, Conservative, argues that it is because the Conservatives, not the Liberals, are in Opposition. All right, let them stay there. We must keep the prosperity.

The Montreal Witness says: "The life work of Sir Wilfrid has been the reconciliation of race and creed. Protestant interests, were there any at stake, could not be in safer hands than of the one who realizes, as Sir Wilfrid does, the need in Canada of maintaining the rights of all."

What will Canada be, in comparison with what it now is, by the construction of a second transcontinental line from ocean to ocean, filling up the millions of acres of vacant land of the Northwest? Who will dare to say what the "profits" in the way of upbuilding and developing the country will be? Why talk of other profit? The more money the C.P.R. makes, the more it helps build up Canada, and the more money the Grand Trunk Pacific makes, the greater the justification of its construction.

CAN'T AGREE ON DIVORCE.

Debate of Canon Put Off By the Episcopal Conference.

Boston, Oct. 14.—During a two hours' debate on the divorce question yesterday by the House of Deputies of the Episcopal General Conference, both sides appeared to be as far apart as they were Wednesday, and predictions freely were made that no final action would be taken at this time. Rev. Dr. J. Lewis Parks of New York, in behalf of those who made the minority report on the proposed divorce canon, withdrew their recommendation, but the withdrawal does not mean that there will be any let up in the fight against clergymen remarrying the innocent person in a divorce suit for infidelity, while the former partner lives. The members of the minority considered that the situation would be less complicated by the withdrawal of the report.

The debate was put over until today. The House of Bishops and House of Deputies held a joint session late yesterday afternoon and heard reports from mission fields.

The Archbishop of Canterbury and party left the city yesterday on a special train for New York, from which port they will sail for home to-day. The Duke of Newcastle, one of the leaders of the high church party in England, arrived here yesterday, and it is expected he will attend some of the meetings of the general convention.

When Your Child Suffers.

For lack of knowledge of the value of Dr. Chase's Ointment as a cure for eczema, many a mother has been worn out in the effort to relieve her child of suffering. Eczema, scald head and other forms of itching skin disease are common to children, especially during the teething period. Though readily cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment, eczema, if neglected, becomes chronic and may last for years.

LEGENDS OF THE SEA

WEIRD SPECTRAL SHIPS DOOMED TO ENDLESS VOYAGES.

The Flying Dutchman of Evil Fame Appears in Many Kinds of Sea Lore. Block Island's Fiery Reminder of the Wreckers of Colonial Days.

Among the multitude of superstitions to which the sea has given birth not the least interesting are those concerning weird spectral ships doomed by some irrevocable decree of fate to sail the wide seas over till eternity, without hope of ever once entering a harbor of safety. Conspicuous among these is the Flying Dutchman, or, rather, Flying Dutchmen, for there are innumerable versions of this legend, which have been colored and designed to concur with the various fancies and ideas of different nationalities.

It is not improbable that the original Flying Dutchman was that described in the old Norse tradition of a viking who had sacrilegiously stolen a ring from the gods, and whose skeleton was ever afterward seen seated on the mainmast of a black spectral ship enveloped in fire, to behold which foreboded wreck and disaster. A later Danish variation of this story no doubt inspired Longfellow's lines describing—

A ship of the dead that sails the sea
And is called the Carmilhan. * * *
* * * In tempests she appears—
Without a helmsman steers.

Tradition says of this ship that a hideous faced goblin invariably sat on the bowsprit smoking a horrid pipe filled with a more pernicious weed than tobacco, and ill betide the luckless vessel that encountered her, for—

Over her decks the seas will leap.
She must go down into the deep
And perish mouse and man.

The most generally accepted version of the Flying Dutchman, however, is that of the pigheaded Dutch captain who swore he would round the Cape of Storms in the teeth of a terrific hurricane. His fatuous determination scared the crew out of their wits and culminated in threats of mutiny. Eventually they became obstreperous, but the bold skipper, not daunted, clinched matters by throwing a few of them overboard and, terrifying the remainder, reiterated his oath with treble violence. Then an apparition endeavored to turn him from his purpose, to receive a most impolite, not to say irreverent, reception. It doggedly persisted and so enraged the captain that he fired at it with his revolver. But instead of hurting the ghost the ball lodged in his own arm, at which misfortune he, not unnaturally for a sailor and a Dutchman, became even more sacrilegious in his expressions. He was forthwith condemned to navigate his vessel forever and ever, with gall to assuage his thirst, red-hot iron for his hunger, forever sleepless and without hope of arriving at port. By the aid of his friend Satan he was able to bring about disasters and tempests, and his ship was "the harbinger of wreck and woe" alluded to by Scott in "Rokeby."

The French equivalent of this ship was the Courier Hollendais, which was said to sail around the world in twelve hours, with terrible disasters following in her wake.

German tradition is rich in phantom ships and tells of one on board of which was a nobleman who had been forced to leave his fatherland because of a great crime and who was alleged to toss dice with the devil for his own soul, while another Teutonic creation was a death ship which was supposed to be chock full of murderers and criminals of the lowest order. A skeleton holding an hourglass stood in a conspicuous position, and—

* * * The ship was black, her masts were black,
And her sails coal black as death.
And the evil one steered at the helm and laughed
And mocked at their failing breath,

which undoubtedly must have been a most grewsome spectacle to run against and something akin to the appearance on All Saints' day of the souls of sailors drowned during the year, a belief which was prevalent in this country. It was said that in the darkness of the night the watchmen on the wharfs would observe a boat within hail, and, hastening to cast it a line, it would disappear, and simultaneously frightful shrieks would rend the air.

Block Island, on the Atlantic coast of the United States, was alleged to have its ghostly ship, which, rising in three pyramidal flames into the representation of a ship, was supposed to be a perpetual reminder of the wickedness of its former inhabitants, who in the colonial days cruelly lured an immigrant ship on to the rocks, with great loss of life, and then looted and burned it.

Another phantom ship, so the story goes, appears occasionally off Cape d'Espoir, in the bay of Gaspe, in the gulf of St. Lawrence. She is crowded with soldiers, conspicuous among whom is an officer pointing shoreward with one hand and supporting a woman with the other. Suddenly the lights go out, there is a shrill cry, and the ship sinks. This is supposed to be the ghost of a British transport which was lost at the time of the Anglo-French wars in Canada.—London Globe.

"Different."

The abuse to which the word "different" is subject from writers who imagine that "two different men" means nothing more than "two men" was illustrated by the following sentence from a report in a daily newspaper of a terrible powder mill explosion: "Two human heads were found in the ruins of the mill. They are assumed to have belonged to two different employees."

If you be poor, do not seem poor if you would avoid insult as well as suffering.

It Must Come.

As inevitable as the changing seasons of the year is the change which comes to every woman. And just as one anticipates the changes of other seasons it is wise to anticipate this change of season and prepare for it. In this way the discomforts and disasters suffered by many women at the period of change can be avoided or overcome.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, a medicine for every season of woman's life, will entirely meet the needs of women at this period of change. It cures the physical ills and relieves the mental anxiety and depression usually associated with this critical period. It tranquilizes the nerves, encourages the appetite and induces refreshing sleep.

$500 REWARD! FOR WOMEN

WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

J. B. Carlisle, Esq., of Manchester, Coffee Co., Tenn., writes: "I have been using your medicines for the last sixteen or eighteen years in my Poor-house. I am superintendent of the Coffee County Poor-house and Asylum combined. Your 'Favorite Prescription,' 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets' are the best medicines for the diseases for which they are recommended, that I ever used. They saved my wife's life at the time of 'change of life.' I have been recommending your medicine to many afflicted women and have also guaranteed that if it did not cure I would pay back the money spent for it. I have told our druggist that if the people came back and said Doctor Pierce's medicines did not give satisfaction, to give them back their money and charge it to me. I have not once been called upon to refund. I have never found anything to equal the 'Favorite Prescription' for diseases of women."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps for the paper covered book, or 50 stamps for the cloth bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

makes pale, thin children fat and chubby. Overcomes wasting tendencies and brings back rosy cheeks and bright eyes.

It's surprising how quickly children respond to Scott's Emulsion. It contains just the element of nourishment their little bodies need. They thrive on it.

Even a few drops in the baby's bottle have a noticeable effect for good. Nothing better than Scott's Emulsion for growing children.

ATTRACTIVE MODES.

A Picturesque Wedding Procession. Charming Evening Gowns.

A hint for brides elect who contemplate a processional church wedding, picturesquely effective—the bridesmaids are to be chosen from the beautiful children ten or twelve years old belonging to one's family or friends. They are to be dressed in Charles I. costumes. The color is left to the bride's selection. The skirts of the little gowns should barely show the ankles, the hose and low shoes to match the frocks. A short, loose, straight coat to the hips, matching the skirt, fastens at the waist line with two big satin rosettes, with a draped strap of the same between; a deep lace collar over the shoulders and deep lace turnover cuffs flaring over a long, loose sleeve; hair in loose curls over the shoulders and falling a little on the cheeks at the sides of the face, while a straight bang hangs low over the brow. A quaint skullcap, showing the hair in front, has wired wing corners over the ears, which are bent so as to turn up and out gracefully on each side.

chiffon over pastel blue taffeta veiled with chiffon to form the second gown. The skirt is of the accordion plaited moire to the top of the graduated circular lace flounce, in which the flower and bud designs are embroidered with shaded blue paillettes. The pointed edge is also finished with a row of paillettes, and at the hem is a wider band above a fold of pale blue satin. The Marie Antoinette waist laces at the back and has butterfly bows of satin in graduated sizes at the front. The full lace bertha has paillette embroidery on the net band at the heading. Chains of turquoise form shoulder straps and necklet.

Olive greens are to figure as revivals both for dress materials and hat trimmings the coming winter. It has been many years since this color has been in fashion. Its popularity was then of long standing. Both in cloth, silk and velvet are these olive greens rich in tone and becoming, while for street suits it is particularly well adapted.

Piece of good news for those who expended largely upon long handsome plumes last winter is that they are to be again the smart dressy trimming upon hats.—Vogue.

Cream of Corn Soup.

A pint of corn cut, but not grated, from the cob is cooked slowly in three pints of boiling water until tender; rub through a sieve and return to the kettle. Rub three tablespoonfuls of butter smooth with two tablespoonfuls of flour and stir into the soup. Continue to stir until it thickens, then add a pint of boiling milk (part cream greatly improves it), and season with salt and pepper to taste. Scrape with a knife all the juice and pulp left on the cobs after cutting off the corn and stir in next to the last thing. Let it boil two or three minutes and add the well beaten yolks of two eggs.

Fashion's Echoes.

Tulle is the latest elegance in dinner and ball toilets.

Wine colored and purple shades suit the dull finished cloths.

Gold and silver tinsel effects hold sway in elaborate evening gowns.

The Puritan and the Dutch collars made in swiss and valenciennes or the like are useful and pretty to wear with shirt waists.

Full skirts continue to gain favor.

The Russian blouse and the Norfolk jacket are standard styles for the small boy.

Rainbow silk fringe in graduated widths forms effective trimming for an evening gown. Laid in rows on a chiffon and silk foundation, it may form an entire skirt.

Gloves are to be worn bigger than ever this fall, so loose as to wrinkle and look very much too large for the hand. If not a pretty fashion, it is at least economical, as the gloves last longer than tight fitting ones.

Soft white felt yachting hats are trimmed with white ostrich pompons. Newer and very smart are the black patent leather hats with a white and gold braided silk band.

Wanted It to Come Gradually.

One evening recently a well known writer received a check from a magazine which was a good deal larger than he had anticipated. The occurrence seemed worthy of a celebration; so, in company with a young artist, who had sometimes shared his dinner on a less prosperous occasion, he sought a restaurant noted for its expensive menu. With a luxurious shrug and with indifference to the cares of the world, he ordered an elaborate repast. His companion, being of the sex especially thrifty when dealing with household matters, begged him to be cautious. No, indeed, for that night he was Prince Bountiful.

At length it came time, as it always does with things both good and evil, for the reckoning.

"Waiter," drawled the host, "bring me my check. And, waiter, bring it v-e-r-y gradually."—New York Tribune.

The Death of Courtesy.

Courtesy lay dead.

On either side of her mangled form lay her sisters, Gallantry and Chivalry.

The fatal wounds in the breasts of each were so similar that there could be no doubt that they had all been made by the same weapon, wielded by the same ruthless hand.

Above them stood and wept their tottering parents, themselves ill unto death with the infirmities of old age, Respect and Veneration.

When Coroner Observation arose from a careful inspection of the three dead forms he brushed the soil from his knees and said to Policeman Shame, who stood close by:

"Make no delay in arresting the Modern Street Car on suspicion. It is my firm belief that he is guilty of all three of these cold blooded murders."—Baltimore American.

THE MARKETMAN TALKS.

What Some People Do Not Know About Buying and Cooking Meat.

"There's many a poor man today," said a marketman quoted in Good Housekeeping, "who is struggling along from bad to worse because his wife spends his money on expensive meats. She either doesn't know how or is too shiftless to use cheap cuts and make them into good, wholesome stews and soups. She will buy canned meats often rather than take the trouble to cook meat. Then I see her husband waiting for a chance to sit down in a crowded restaurant where a 'dinner' is served for 15 cents. And the same night the whole family goes to a thirty-five cent vaudeville, stopping into a night lunch cart on the way home to buy a paper box of baked beans for breakfast. That's the way a man's money and health and everything else runs down.

"How on the face of it can any man give a meat dinner for 15 cents unless he buys meat of the cheapest, worst grade and in a condition where nobody else wants it?

"There's another thing: In large markets, where every scrap has a value, you often see hamburg steak of a good red color piled up in a neat dish and marked 'Ten Cents a Pound.' If people only stopped to think of it they must know that no market can buy good meat a cent less than 10 cents a pound, skin, bones and all, so that meat which sells for that money has something wrong with it. And, as a matter of fact, that meat is the very worst leavings chopped up with old fat, and with it an acid is mixed which will keep it from spoiling or becoming discolored for two or three days. Of course no honest market does that, but the women go where things are cheapest, and they feed their husbands and children on such stuff. The acid, of course, is just as effective to keep the meat from digesting as it is to do the rest, and so the family gets no good from it even if it doesn't actually poison them.

"Roasts are bought—good ones—and after one meal the bone and the rest of the meat are thrown away. I don't know whether women are too lazy or whether they actually don't know how to make the soups which they could make out of so little. See the German women. They can make you a meal that is good out of a scrap of meat and 2 or 3 cents' worth of vegetables. But American women don't know how and don't seem to learn.

"For instance, take a piece of chuck beef or a piece of the lower round, and if a young housekeeper only thought so she could make some good dishes out of it that her husband would enjoy eating—a good stew, cooked slowly in the oven; a pot roast, beef a la mode or a meat pie, and especially good, nourishing soups."

SPECIAL EXHIBITS.

There was a noticeable absence of the special displays of Agricultural implement manufacturers and agents, so general at the Norwood Fair. This was, doubtless, largely due to the probabilities which did not forecast very encouraging weather for the showing of goods on the outside.

BIRDSALL & SON'S SHORTHORNS AND SHEEP.

The stock farm of Messrs. F. Birdsall & Son, the well known breeders of Shorthorn and Jersey cattle and Oxford Downs Sheep, was, as usual, well represented. They exhibited twelve head of Durhams and three pens of Oxford Down sheep, every animal bearing well defined marks of careful breeding, and judicious feeding. In the Shorthorn class they were successful in carrying off the championship and 1st prize with a two year old Durham bull of very superior breeding; 1st prize for two year old heifer; two 2nd prizes for yearling heifers; 2nd and 3rd prizes for three year old heifers, and 3rd prize for best milch cow. In the Oxford Down class, their well bred sheep were awarded 2nd prize for ewe lambs; 2nd for shearling ewes; 2nd for aged ewes, and 3rd for aged ram.

It was a pleasure to notice the genial face of Capt. Birdsall on the grounds. He is recovering from a tedious and prolonged illness during the greater part of the past summer.

GRAFTON & CO'S HIGH-GRADE CLOTHING.

At sunrise, Norwood's billy territory was invaded by a strong contingent of representatives from Messrs. Grafton & Co's well known Peterborough store. It had travelled from town during the early hours of the morning in the firm's attractive advertising waggon, ignoring the frosty air and chilling breeze that prevailed. Along the road till the good spots were selected for their attractive advertising, and on arriving at Norwood the village was "billed" to perfection. The firm's handsome illuminated fashion plates of the fall styles were hung up on all the village bill boards, and occupied special positions in the fair grounds. Their large coloured signs were well displayed on every building and formed the sides of the judges' stand, where they made effective advertising.

The firm also made an excellent display of their "High-Grade" Clothing under a large open-front tent in a commanding position of the grounds. Mr. Herb Conway was in charge of the exhibit, and he was assisted by Mr. Alf. Kingscote, the popular town decorator, and Mr. Howland, the firm's mascot. Everyone saw this practical exhibit of stylish garments which for originality and true merit, is deserving of special mention. The effective dressing and arrangement of the clothing, was praiseworthy in many respects. And such clothing! Although "ready-to-wear," it was tailor made, and compared well with custom-made clothing, and being sold direct to customers at wholesale prices, the garments were scanned by crowds of admiring and surprised lookers. It was a revelation in style, ease and elegance of this firm's new fall and winter overcoats, suits, ulsters, reefers, etc., for men, youths and boys.

The firm offered three good prizes for the best team of general purpose horses, the horses, wagon and harness to be considered in awarding the prizes. These prizes were,—1st, a $10 tweed suit; 2nd, a $5 pair of trowsers; 3rd, a $3 pair of trowsers. These sensible prizes drew out a lot of lively competition.

Grafton & Co's new model store in Peterborough takes rank among the best retail clothing establishments in Canada. Important improvement have been made to their comodious premises during the summer, and the firm now own a business house that for accommodation will be in keeping with the excellence of their goods, which have acquired a country-wide reputation. The floor space of the new Grafton store is exceptionally large, as the firm will occupy four stories. A visit at the present season of the year, is well worth the trouble, whether one intends to purchase or not. The immense piles of ready-made clothing, and the gentlemen's furnishings combine in making a most thoroughly selected stock of the latest styles of the day. The staff, too, has been increased, and is noted for the obliging manner in which they are at all times found, and thoroughly acquainted with all branches of the clothing trade.

LANG & MAHER, PETERBORO'S YOUNGEST CLOTHIERS.

The new, young, enterprising and ambitious gentlemen's clothiers and outfitters of Peterborough, made their first appearance at the Norwood Fair this year, advertising their business. It was not found possible to make a special exhibit of their clothing, as they have been very busy since opening up, but they took the most effective way of leaving a good impression on the crowd of farmers and visitors by their systematic campaign of advertising. The persistence shown by this wide-awake firm in advertising the claims of their clothing, and their lowest watermark prices throughout the district, during the Fairs, must be productive of good results. The members of their advertising staff arrived in Norwood on the evening of the first day of the Fair, and had their work well executed before the crowds began to come on the big day. Their various coloured bulletins decorated the show grounds profusely; wherever the eye rested, the name of Lang & Maher was focussed. Their courriers distributed fancy cards and aluminum combs, bearing their name and address, at the entrance gates, and handbills and circulars were handed to the crowds throughout the grounds.

Everyone cannot be a judge of clothing, or an expert on tailoring these days. Even if it were possible, the best posted buyers have been taken in by clothes that are all right to look at, and all wrong to wear. When you put on Lang & Maher's clothing, you are wearing clothes that have been made by smart tailors and made under the most favourable conditions. Their entire stock is brand new, and is composed largely of the perfect "Northway" garments and the "Sovereign" brand — so much like the merchant tailor-made clothes. The bulk of these high-class brands of clothing are sold only in the larger centres, and wherever there is a wide-awake enterprising clothier seeking the best to put before his customers. Lang & Maher's stock of gentlemen's haberdashery is also of the most select character, and distinguished for correct novelties for the season.

TOM. HOWARD'S HARNESS.

Norwood's Fair, without Tom. Howard's harness, would be like Canada without Laurier — unhitched and unharnessed to progress and enterprise. Mr. Howard seems to have "cornered" the corner in the main building leading out to the prize ring, where everybody passes through to the Midway. Year after year he hangs up his challenge harness to all comers, in the same old spot; and year after year his exhibit is awarded the red ticket. He showed this year a set of double farm harness, heavy long tug, a set of double carriage harness, solid nickel mounted, and a set of single carriage harness, brass mounted, as well as a display of horse clothing, bells, etc. Howard's hand-made harness has a good record in this district. Mr. Howard is a persistent hustler and sends in this exhibit to this Fair annually from his factory on Front street, Hastings. No extra effort was made this year to prepare anything special for competition, the exhibit being taken from his regular stock, and was a fair sample of what may be found at his shop any day of the week.

We Know Our Furs and Guarantee Them

WHERE so much has to be taken for granted, as is the case when you buy Furs, one naturally believes in purchasing where they can have implicit confidence in the knowledge and the truthfulness of the people who sell them.

In the making of Furs, (taking Fur Jackets as an instance) we use only whole skins, not only in the building of the body, but in the unseen parts as well, the undercollars and the undersleeves—these are the parts where unscrupulous furriers resort to piecing. The Taping and Joining is all done by Expert Furriers, the Linings are made of Linen Back and Silk Back Satins specially imported by us in the extra heavy weights.

A Garment made in this manner will last a lifetime if given fair treatment. Then there is the extreme Stylishness our Furriers infuse into these Fur Garments. It is generally conceded our Designs are always ahead of most dealers in their newness, and the Trimmings and Finish are magnificent.

Two Weeks' Sale—from Wednesday, October 5th

A GREAT SALE FROM EVERY VIEW-POINT

A sale that involves desirable selling lines We realize the amount of work in preparing for the Xmas trade. Therefore reductions have been made on all Crockery (including Dinner and Tea Sets), Wall Papers, Trunks and Valises. We must clear our second flat—which is now a show room in the above lines—into one where Santa Claus has visited for years. Don't overlook this saving opportunity, as it means dollars saved to you. We were so busy last week we could not get the handbills distributed through the town. They will surprise every one who reads them. Some of our fellow-merchants claim that we must steal the goods, or that they are old stock, in order to make such sweeping underpriced clearances. Pay no attention to any of these stories. Come and see for yourselves.

LIBERAL CANDIDATE IN NORTH MONAGHAN

Opening Gun of the Country Campaign Fired Last Night in Town Hall, Monaghan.

Rousing Meeting in the Interests of R. R. Hall--Able Addresses by Hon. J. R. Stratton and the Candidate.

Issues of the Dominion Contest Forcibly Presented --Claims of the Liberal Party to Renewed Support.

Mr. R. R. Hall addressed the electors of North Monaghan at the Town Hall on Friday evening, and the meeting was a very encouraging success. North Monaghan seldom fills a hall at a political meeting but last night the hall was well filled, and the audience listened with splendid and intelligent attention to the excellent addresses delivered. Mr. Thomas M. Hunter, district councillor, occupied the chair and made some complimentary remarks respecting the candidate. He had known Mr. Hall many years, knew him as a bright, energetic and live young man of excellent business capacity who would do good work for the riding if sent to Ottawa.

CANDIDATE SPEAKS.

Mr. R. R. Hall, the Liberal Candidate, upon being introduced by the chairman, was greeted with much applause. He prefaced his remarks by alluding to the pleasure it gave him in addressing the electors of North Monaghan, and by referring to the fact that the prospects of redeeming West Peterborough were never so bright on account of the fact that Harvey, Galway and Cavendish had been added to the riding of West Peterborough, and that the Liberals had added a substantially larger number of names to the list than the supporters of Mr. Kendry at the registration in Peterborough during the past few days. He commented upon the growth and development of Canada during this last eight years under Liberal rule, and pointed out that the general feeling throughout Canada was in favour of retaining the services of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues, under whose administration Canadian trade and commerce had grown and developed by leaps and bounds. He dealt with some of the evidences of such growth. He referred to the growth and development which had taken place under their own eyes in

THE TOWN OF PETERBOROUGH.

The American Cereal Company who employ a large number of hands had invested an immense sum of money in buildings and plant in Peterborough. The Peterborough Hydraulic Power Company had spent nearly one-quarter of a million dollars in developing power to operate there works and to supply power at reasonable rates to the consumers of electric light of Peterborough. The Canadian Cordage Company with a paid up capital of over one-half a million dollars had been organized by him and his associates. He had also organized the Otonabee Power Company with a paid up capital of $150,000, and as a consequence the total cost of lighting in the Town of Peterborough had been reduced over $25,000 a year, and cheap power was available to supply power to and to induce other manufacturers to locate in Peterborough. The Canadian General Electric Company had substantially increased their works and the number of hands in their employment. The Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Company had also increased their works, and he instanced other new industries that had been located in Peterborough and other works which had been extended. Another instance of progress during this last eight years was the fact that Chattel mortgages and mortgages on farms were paid off and were being paid off; farm lands were enhanced in value and were meeting with a ready sale. The case of Peterborough town and county was not the only case of progress and prosperity, other cities and towns in Canada having shown a similar advancement.

WHY THE CAUSE?

Mr. Hall then proceeded to analyze the causes which brought about this wonderful increase. He referred to the fact that when the Liberal Administration succeeded to office they proceeded at once to revise the tariff upon business-like and moderate lines, having regard to the revenue which had to be raised to carry on the affairs of the country, the incidental protection which such revised tariff would give to manufacturers and their employees and to the great body of Canadian consumers who had been led to believe that by taxing a country on its imports and by restricting its foreign trade, you could make it rich.

One of the chief changes that had been made in the tariff was the granting of the British preference. This preference was created by allowing British goods to enter Canadian ports at a third less duty than those of other countries. The result has been that trade between Great Britain and Canada has been greatly stimulated, and the Canadian importers large and small alike have taken advantage of such preference by placing their orders with English houses. The ocean vessels which brought these goods to the Canadian shores did not return empty, but carried back to the English ports the butter and the cheese, the grain, the bacon, hams and pork, and other products of the farm.

The adoption of this business-like policy had shown its results on every hand. The total trade of Canada with Great Britain increased from year to year to an astonishing degree. In 1896 Canada's total volume of trade with Great Britain amounted to $95,512,446, and in 1903 it had grown to one hundred and eight million nine hundred and ninety-three thousand and eighteen dollars. This remarkable increase was not brought about by happy chance. It was brought about by wise laws and prudent administration, which realized that no detail was too small, and no amount of labour too great, to remove the causes which had hampered and impeded Canadian trade.

EXPORT OF BUTTER.

Mr. Hall took the export of butter as an instance. He pointed out that in 1896 that the quality of butter landed in Great Britain, though it might be never so good when it left the farm, yet on account of the fact that it was opposed to the tainting influence of transhipment, was landed on the English market in a most unsaleable and unsavoury condition. Accordingly the Liberal Administration immediately realized that more favourable conditions of shipment must be established. Cold storage refrigerator chambers were established at creameries at different parts of the country. The railway companies were induced to install the most up-to-date refrigerator cars to carry such perishable goods to the sea board, cold storage warehouses were built at the seaboard to receive such produce, the ocean steamship companies were induced to install cold storage chambers, and with what result? The butter which is now manufactured in Canada, is landed in the British markets, and when it meets in competition with the best butter which Denmark, and Ireland, and other countries can produce, the Canadian butter still takes the lead, and is pronounced by the best judges to be "A little better than the best." Such business-like administration has shown its effect. Canada exported in 1896, one million and fifty-two thousand and eighty-nine dollars of butter to Great Britain, which was placed upon the tables of those who not a very acute sense of smell and taste, but after the Minister of Agriculture had inaugurated his reforms, it is now found that in 1903 Canada exported to Great Britain, $6,951,618 worth of butter, nearly seven times as much as in 1896, and this butter is of such excellent quality, and in such perfect condition, as to claim the preference of the wealthy classes, and of the best judges of butter.

THE NEST OF TRAITORS.

Why did not the Conservative party establish this cold storage system? It was not new in 1896. Australia had established a cold storage system before 1856, for transhipping mutton to England in good condition, over 17,000 miles, under the burning sun through tropical seas. The answer is plain: They were too busy. They were plotting and intriguing one against another. We know this, because the then premier declared from his place in Parliament that he had "been living in a nest of traitors."

The speaker then pointed out that the cold storage system which had been inaugurated by the Liberal Administration has enabled Canada to ship to Great Britain, cheese, eggs, poultry, fruit, bacon, hams, etc., in the best condition, and entitling the Canadian farmer to the highest prices that can be obtained from any country in the world for such products.

Continuing, he quoted figures showing the astonishing increase of the exports of all lines of perishable farm products since the Liberal Administration took office. After dealing at some length with this matter, he proceeded to compare the growth of Canada with other countries, and quoted figures, and produced an illustrated chart to show the remarkable increase of Canadian exports and imports, the total amount of shipping and railway traffic, and the deposits by the people in the chartered banks of Canada.

The Liberal candidate closed a strong address by an appeal to those present to not look upon the election as voting either Conservative or Liberal but to pronounce by their votes at the polls on the third of November that West Peterborough recognises that the affairs of the country have been administered wisely and well, and a supporter of such a government should be returned by no uncertain majority. (Applause.)

MR. STRATTON'S ADDRESS.

Hon. Mr. Stratton, the next speaker, was very cordially received. He complimented Mr. Hall upon his excellent address, and pointed out the importance to the electors of the duty they had to perform. He said the election of a representative at Ottawa was a more important matter than was generally thought. They were electing a man to assist in the matter that affected a vast empire within an Empire. Canada contained one-third of the whole British Empire, was bounded by three oceans, it was 3,500 miles from east to west and 1,400 miles from north to south. The man elected would assist in legislating for a country thirty times the size of Great Britain, double the size of India, eighteen times as large as France, twenty times larger than Spain, and thirty-three times as large as Italy and nearly as large as all Europe. Ontario itself was four times the size of England, Quebec was three times as large as the United Kingdom, Manitoba was as large as England and Scotland, and British Columbia was as large as four Switzerlands. This would perhaps give them some idea of the importance of selecting a suitable man, to assist in guarding such tremendous interests. The audience was largely, the speaker said, of an agricultural character and consequently the matters to be dealt with would be in conformity with this condition, as any legislation that benefitted the farming classes was the key to the prosperity of the country at large. If they looked back they would see the varied influences that affected the farming classes of the country. After the disbanding of the British regiments, 1812-16, the British Government began to provide for the retired soldiers, and from that time till 1870, they were located in Canada, and our total population at that time was about a million. Then immigration followed, and farmers received splendid prices during the Crimean war, and, under reciprocity, good trade with the United States. But after the Civil war reciprocity was withdrawn and the farmers were practically without a market till the British market was opened up to them, and it was pointed out how important that market was and the necessity of keeping it. During the Conservative regime Canada couldn't keep its population, one Canadian boy in three went to the United States.

CHANGED CONDITIONS UNDER LIBERALS.

Now, as they all knew, all this was changed and the change dated from the advent of the Liberal Government to power, and the condition of the farming classes was better than ever in the history of the country. The farms in North Monaghan were worth 25 per cent. more than in 1896. The registry office would show what large numbers of mortgages had been paid off — land and chattel mortgages—and the latter were becoming less a condition, and more of a curiosity. Lands throughout the country that were unsaleable, had become in demand. During the Laurier regime, not a dollar had been added to the debt of the country. During the last seven years of Conservative rule twenty-one millions had been added to the debt; the Conservatives had added to the debt six and a half millions a year for eighteen years. In seven years the Liberals had spent 65 millions on capital account, on upbuilding the country — in public works. In the same period the Conservatives had spent 35 millions. It was thus seen that the Liberals spent nearly twice as much, yet added nothing to the public debt. The deficits of the last three years of Conservative rule, amounted to $5,000,000. The surpluses of the Laurier Government in seven years amounted to fifty-seven millions. It was said by the Conservatives that Providence smiled on Sir Wilfrid's administration, and Sir Wilfrid had said in reply, that if Providence worked with him, the people were justified in co-operating with Providence. Mr. Stratton went on to show details of what had been done with these 57 millions. The Conservatives complained of the increased expenditure. There was no apology to make for the increased expenditure; the only point was the wisdom of making it in the interests of the development of the country. The people had had this benefit, and at no greater burden to themselves, as the customs duties were on the average 13 per cent. lower than under Conservative tariff. Expenditure had to keep pace with the growth of the country. No extravagance could be shown. The West and the Yukon had to be opened up. The finances of the country were in a very satisfactory condition. Mr. Stratton referred to the progress made in the Post Office Department, with railway construction, the story of the big expance of bank business, and of Canada's great growth generally.

THE BRITISH PREFERENCE.

Mr. Stratton took up the preference and the woollen trade, and pointed out that these would perhaps do better under good management. Under the high Conservative tariff, over production had been stimulated, and industries making goods unsaleable for the market encouraged. He went on to argue that if these industries were established on a sound business basis, and received the proper business attention, they could succeed but that no man could be away from his business for six months in the year, and expect it to go on successfully. The woollen, or no other business could succeed, unless it received proper attention. The speaker had found that in his own business. Mr. Kendry found that he couldn't represent the county and attend to his own business. We know how he attended to his representative duties, and he must also neglect his own business if he can't make it pay with thirty per cent. protection. Therefore the electors would be justified in doing Mr. Kendry the kindness of allowing him the leisure to look after his affairs. Mr. Stratton next dealt with the Grand Trunk Pacific, pointing out the absolute necessity of the line to the development of our newer regions. It would be of especial benefit to Ontario; it would pass through a thousand miles of Ontario territory, between Quebec and Manitoba. Ontario would thus have millions of acres of good farming land added to its territory, and the development that would follow would develop every industry of the country from the least to the greatest. He urged the audience to take a broad outlook, and vote for a policy that would help to make of Canada a great country, and increasingly worthy of the love and devotion of Canadians.

A highly successful meeting closed with cheers for the King, the candidate, Hon. Mr. Stratton and the chairman.

EVANGELIST OPENS MEETINGS IN TORONTO

Mr. H. D. Kennedy Leaves for That City To-day.

Evangelist H. D. Kennedy has been spending the last week in town, having returned from his trip across the continent. During August and September Mr. Kennedy visited the St. Louis Fair, the Grand Canyon of Arizona, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland, Seattle, Victoria, Vancouver, Rome and says after all there is no place like Ontario. He leaves to-day for Toronto where he will open a four weeks' evangelistic campaign in the Clinton Street Methodist Church. He then goes to Cornwall for a six weeks' campaign. Mr. Kennedy says that the last year has been the best of his life.

PRACTICAL POINTERS OF PETERBORO'S PROGRESS

NUMBER TWO

CANADIAN CORDAGE COMPANY'S WORKS

The Canadian Cordage Company's Works are among the largest industrial concerns in Peterborough. These Works employ about two hundred hands and represent the investment of about half a million dollars capital. In 1896, after eighteen years of Conservative rule, there was no sign of those Works being started, but after the Liberal Government had created conditions which made the operation of such a plant profitable, the Canadian Cordage Company was formed. Mr. R. R. Hall, the Liberal Candidate for West Peterborough, taking an active part in its organization.

This industry now gives employment to a large number of persons, and is one of the monuments to the progressive business capabilities of Mr. R. R. Hall. The product of the Canadian Cordage Works is finding a good market, and the business as a consequence is rapidly growing.

This is but one of the many practical evidences of the value of a progressive policy adapted to the requirements of the country, and the condition in Peterborough is but an index of the general condition throughout the Dominion.

ADEQUATE PROTECTION.

Mr. Borden's cloudy phrase, "adequate protection," is a perpetual puzzle—nobody seems to know what it means. But light is coming—by instalments. The Review is furnishing it. The organ says that as regards the woollen industry, a duty of 35 per cent. "would be acceptable."

There we have the first instalment of what "adequate protection" means. It must be admitted that after the calamity howl about the woollen industry being "ruined," that is a modest demand. The woollen industry is getting a net protection of 30 per cent. now and the total exemption from taxation should be equivalent to the missing link—5 per cent.

If a difference of five per cent.—five dollars on a hundred—is all the difference between prosperity and "ruin," certainly the woollen industry can't be in a very bad way. If the woollen mills can add five cents on a dollar to its profits by "adequate protection," who is going to profit?

Will it be for the benefit of the consumer if he has to pay $1.05 for woollen goods that he now gets for $1.00? Will the employees of woollen mills benefit? Will a workman that gets a dollar a day now get $1.05 if "adequate protection" of 35 per cent. is provided? Will the boy or girl that may work now all night for 75 cents, get 81 1-2 cents added to his or her wages?

If the loud infant industry wail that has been raised about the "ruin" of the woollen business can be hushed with the soothing syrup of "adequate protection" represented by five per cent. addition to the existing tariff, then its a case of "great cry and little wool."

AN ENEMY APPLAUDS.

The following, from the Montreal Gazette, the greatest Conservative journal in Canada, reads like a Liberal campaign sheet — because it's true:

"It has been the good fortune of Lord Minto to have held his high office in a period of Canada's greatest commercial expansion. Prosperous and contented as Canadians were when he assumed the Governorship, the intervening years have witnessed a truly remarkable increase of trade, of wealth, of national prosperity, and, withal, a yet stronger attachment to the Crown and British institutions."

The resemblance would have been perfect if the Gazette had added the wise advice:

Keep both hands on the full dinner pail.

MONOTONOUS.

The Montreal Herald, normally a live, and also wide-awake, journal, is becoming positively tiresome. For days and days it has been publishing facts about the tremendous prosperity of Montreal manufactures, which, under Conservative rule, were either not born, or were dragging out a painful and debilitated existence. The Herald has been doing this so oft and so long, that one wonders when the material will become exhausted. While this is all very well from a Liberal point of view, as showing the prosperity of our industries, under Liberal rule, it's rather "cheeky" on the part of the Herald.

It needn't think that Montreal is the only pebble on the beach — the only place that has a boom of new industries. It's the same in Peterborough, the same all over the country. Peterborough has had more new industries, more enlarged industries, in the eight years under Liberal rule, than in the eighteen of Conservative rule. The only kickers have been the good housewives. Hundred of them have, for years, had to pack two full dinner pails — one for day and one for night. If anybody is tired of this sort of thing, all that need be done to bring back the old state of things, to vote for the candidate of the party, under which the old state of things existed. If you want to keep our present prosperity, and improve upon it, you will resolve to Keep both hands on the full dinner pail.

WELL PUT.

Speaking at Sherbrooke a few days ago Hon. Sidney Fisher in the course of his address said, "The Conservatives say that we have stolen their cloths. We ask what part of your clothes have we stolen? Your clothes showed deficit after deficit. You added twenty-one million dollars to the public debt to pay your way. We scorn to use such clothes. On the contrary, under the Fielding tariff the Dominion of Canada has been able to spend sixty-five million dollars on progress, development and capitalized account in improving the public conveniences and in increasing the industries of Canada. We have not added one cent to the debt, but we have paid a million and a quarter of the debt that you and your colleagues placed on the country. Your clothes are ragged as well as dirty.

"The Conservatives say that we have continued their policy of protection. We have introduced a policy to protect the industries of Canada so as to double their product. Their policy had brought her industries to a state of stagnation. Our is broad in expanse in the interests of every class, protecting and aiding the industries of Canada. The Liberal platform is equal justice to all. We have succeeded in arranging a tariff under which the whole community may prosper equally."

THE CONSERVATIVE CANDIDATE.

The Examiner distinctly states that in any reference it makes to Mr. Kendry, it is as a candidate, and former "representative," not as a citizen. As a candidate we propose to handle him without gloves. As a candidate he has made himself public property. As a citizen we have nothing to say of him. He is a good citizen, attending to his own business. The objection is that he has not attended to our business — the business of West Peterborough. He will not say himself, his own political friends will not say, that he has attended as well to his representative and parliamentary duties, as the interests of West Peterborough demands. He has a good excuse — his private business demands too much of his attention. But that is not our business. If he can't attend to his own business, and the business of West Peterborough, the interests of West Peterborough do not demand him as a nominal representative. Mr. Kendry said last Saturday night that at Ottawa the "Ministers do the work, and Sir Wilfrid is the 'ornament.'" Did he then reflect, or has he since reflected, how that sharp sneer can be locally applied? West Peterborough needs a member who will look after its business and interests. Has the late member done this satisfactorily? The universal answer from Cavendish to Rice Lake will be, "No!" Then, he shouldn't be elected. As a citizen, the Examiner won't say nothing but good of Mr. Kendry. As a representative can any praise be truthfully bestowed?

Peterborough and West Peterborough need a live representative. Their business interests demand it.

The Montreal Herald remarks that Mr. Borden arrived in Montreal one night, but adds that his large and varied assortment of transcontinental railway schemes arrived the next night by freight.

THE LIBERAL GOVERNMENT AND LABOUR INTERESTS.

What the Laurier Government Has Done to Strengthen the Hands of Labour and Keep the Dinner Pail Full.

Condensed Summary of the Many Important Results Attending Liberal Rule.

The Liberal Government has been good to the working classes. Not only has its general policy been productive of a splendid prosperity that has kept labour on the jump at high wages, but the Laurier Government has enacted special legislation in the interests of labour, a summary of which is printed below—in part, for condensed as it is it is too much to be printed in one issue of the Examiner. On the contrary one single line and less will contain all the legislation in favour of the toilers of Canada in the twenty-three years Conservative Governments have been in power since Confederation, thus—passed an act, establishing Labour Day. Read the following and reflect upon it and you will have little trouble deciding that the Liberal Government has done its best so far as legislation and administration can do to advance the interest of the class which creates all national wealth, and is therefore, worthy of the national guardians.

WHAT HAS BEEN DONE.

In 1888 the Conservative Government of the day appointed a Commission to deal with the subject of the relation of labour and capital. This Commission took about three years to prepare a report, which cost the country over $31,000. The chief recommendation contained in the report was that a Bureau of Labour for the Dominion was urgently needed. An Act was passed establishing a Bureau of Labour statistics just previous to the election of 1891, but after the return of the Conservative party to power in that year, nothing more was heard of the Act, and no Bureau of Labour was established.

ABOLITION OF SWEATING SYSTEM.

Prior to the election of 1896 the Conservative party appointed a Commissioner, A. W. Wright, to investigate the alleged existence of the sweating system in Canada. This Commission reported that there did not appear to be any sweating system in the Dominion.

When the Liberal Government assumed office in 1896 they had every evidence to believe that the sweating system had gained a very strong foothold in the Dominion. The present Minister of Labour (Sir William Mulock) appointed a special Commissioner, (W. L. Mackenzie King, the present Deputy-Minister of Labour) to investigate this matter, and he reported to the Government that in practically all of the clothing contracts which had been executed for the Conservative Government during the preceding ten years a system of sub-contracting had prevailed, which had resulted in sweating in its extreme forms. It was this report which led the Government to adopt its anti-sweating regulation and fair wage policy, which it has since carried out.

THE DEPARTMENT OF LABOUR.

was established in 1900 without any special recommendation from a Commission, and has increased in importance ever since. The total cost of the Department for three years, including the salaries of all its officials, the printing binding, and distributing of the Labour Gazette, the travelling expenses of fair wage officers, expenses of the conciliator engaged in the settlement of strikes, and all other departmental expenses, have come to about what the Conservative Government paid for its commission on capital and labour, which extended its work over a similar period of time, and from the work of which there have been absolutely no results.

LABOUR DEPARTMENT EXPENDITURE

Labour Department Expenditure, 1900-01	$33,460 11
Labour Department Revenue, 1900-01	801 67
Labour Department Expenditure, 1901-02	32,213 53

THE GROWTH OF THE DEPARTMENT.

Since its creation the Department has grown continuously, and has become of increasing usefulness, not only to the workman of Canada, in whose interests it was primarily established, but to the country in general. The Department, in addition to a staff of experts resident at Ottawa, has a correspondent in practically every city of the Dominion, and by means of correspondence, and in other ways the Government is kept informed of the condition of labour in all parts. Peterborough is the only "town" in Canada that has a Labour correspondent.

THE LABOUR GAZETTE.

The Labour Gazette is published monthly by the Department. It relates to matters of interest to workingmen and their employers, and to persons who are interested in the industrial development of the country. At the end of each year the separate numbers of the Gazette are bound in volume form. Already four volumes, embracing nearly 4,000 paged in all, have been issued.

In the pages of these numbers will be found an account of the important industrial events of the year to which they relate; the substance of all legislation passed by the several provinces of the Dominion in the interests of labour; a record of the nature, causes and results, as well as the principal features of all the important strikes and lockouts in the Dominion; statistical tables giving the current rates of wages in the several trades for the principal localities from the Atlantic to the Pacific; similar tables giving a comparison of the cost of living in different parts of Canada; special articles on the several industries of Canada; a codification of the existing laws for the protection of persons in factories, stores, mines, on railways, etc.; statistical tables showing the number of accidents sustained by workingmen during their employment, causes, results, etc; the extent of the trade union development in Canada, the number of labour unions, localities where situate, date of formation, etc., etc.

The chief legal decisions in the principal courts of the Dominion, which in any way affect labour, are also published, and labour reports from all parts of the world reviewed.

Most of the information has been collected for the first time, the tables, for example, as to strikes and lock-outs in the Dominion, the rates of wages, industrial accidents, trade union organizations, etc., never having been prepared at any previous time.

The circulation of the Labour Gazette has grown steadily ever since the first number was issued, and at the present time between 10,000 and 12,000 copies are mailed regularly each month to regular subscribers, secretaries of labour organizations, public libraries, etc.

THE FAIR WAGE POLICY.

A most important part of the Department's work has been the securing to workmen engaged on all public contract work for the Dominion Government of a fair day's pay for a fair day's work. The system of sub-contracting, on public work, which was in vogue before the present Liberal administration took office, had gone to such an extent as to give the sweating system a strong hold in Canada.

This evil has been virtually swept out of existence so far as Government work is concerned in consequence of the rigorous measures for the protection of the working classes, which have been introduced into all Government contracts by the present Government. In contracts, for example, for the uniforms of soldiers and post office letter carriers, conditions are now inserted requiring that the work shall be performed in places that comply with sanitary regulations, that not less than a certain wage, which is the current wage, shall be paid to any of the men or women engaged upon the work, and that the hours of labour shall not be excessive. Before contractors receive a contract they are obliged to furnish a statement of the rates of wages and hours of labour, and other conditions governing the employment of those to be engaged on the work which is being done for the Government, and these conditions are first submitted to the Department of Labour for its approval.

If necessary a fair wage officer of the of the Department is sent to inspect the premises and report as to what would be a fair rate of wages, and a fair number of hours work. Not only are the workers in the clothing trades protected, but the fair wages policy of the Government is extended to all branches of its work.

ITS INFLUENCES SPREAD FAR AND DEEP.

For example, in contracts given out by the Public Works Department for the building of public buildings, such as post offices, court houses, custom houses, armouries, and the like, fair wages schedules are inserted along with other conditions for the protection of labour to be employed on such work. These schedules are prepared by fair wages officers of the Department of Labour, and they specify in plain language what minimum rate of wages shall be paid to the several classes of labour engaged upon the work, and the hours to be worked. The schedule is published in the Labour Gazette, so that the workingmen, as well as the public generally known what are the wages to which they are entitled. In the event of these rates not being paid, and the matter being brought to the attention of the Government, the fair wages officers of the Department of Labour make investigations and report upon the conditions, and contractors are required to comply with the terms of their contract.

SEVENTY CLAIMS INVESTIGATED.

The Department of Labour, since its creation, has investigated some 70 or more claims of workingmen for wages alleged to be due in accordance with the schedules inserted in the contracts given to their employers, and in a large number of cases has compelled the payment by contractors of amounts to which the men were entitled, but which they might otherwise not have received. Where contractors have refused to make payment, the Department which has awarded the contract, has made payment itself to the workmen through the Department of Labour, and has deducted the amount from what is owing to the contractor under the contract.

Similar schedules are inserted in the contracts of the Marine and Fisheries Department, for the building of ships, lighthouses, etc., and in the contracts of the Department of Railways and Canals for railways, railway stations, etc., constructed by that Department. During the past three years the Department of Labour has drawn up several hundred schedules, all of which have become part of contracts awarded by different departments of the Government.

An indirect effect of this work of the Department has been that the example has been largely followed by some of the Provincial Governments, municipalities, and councils throughout the several provinces of the Dominion, with the result that a general movement has been stimulated, which has in view the securing to the workers engaged on public contract work a just reward for their labour, as well as its performance under proper conditions as to hours, sanitation, and the like.

RESIGNATIONS ACCEPTED.

Pacific Cable Conference Postponed Owing to Elections.

Ottawa, Oct. 15.—An Order-in-Council has been passed accepting the resignation of Capt. Salmon, Wreck Commissioner of the Marine Department. Another order has been passed accepting the resignation of Judge Warburton of Prince Edward Island, who is the Liberal candidate in Queen's County, P.E.I.

Information has been received at the State Department that the proposed conference in London, England, on the Pacific cable has been postponed on account of the Canadian elections. Sir William Mulock is to be the Canadian representative and Sir Sandford Fleming will represent New Zealand. They intended leaving here about the end of October, but the political campaign has upset their plans. The conference was to have been in November, but it will be later now.

The Marine Department received a cable that the Montcalm, an ice-breaker for the St. Lawrence River, was launched yesterday. It is expected to arrive early in December.

WHAT SULPHER DOES

For the Human Body in Health and Disease.

The mention of sulphur will recall to many of us the early days when our mothers and grandmothers gave us our daily dose of sulphur and molasses every spring and fall.

It was the universal spring and fall "blood purifier," tonic and cure-all, and, mind you, this old-fashione remedy was not without merit.

The idea was good but the remedy was crude and unpalatable, and a large quantity had to be taken to get any result.

Nowadays we get all the beneficial effects of sulphur in a palatable, concentrated form, so that a single grain is far more effective than a tablespoonful of the crude sulphur.

In recent years research and experiment have proven that the best sulphur for medicinal use is that obtained from Calcium (Calcium Sulphide), and sold in drug stores under the name of Stuart's Calcium Wafers. They are small chocolate-coated pellets and contain the active medicinal principle of sulphur in a highly concentrated, effective form.

Few people are aware of the value of this form of sulphur in restoring and maintaining bodily vigour and health; sulphur acts directly on the liver, and excretory organs and purifies and enriches the blood by the prompt elimination of waste material.

Our grandmothers knew this when they dosed us with sulphur and molasses every spring and fall,, but the crudity and impurity of ordinary flowers of sulphur, were often worse than the disease and cannot compare with the modern concentrated preparations of sulphur, of which Stuart's Calcium Wafers is undoubtedly the best and most widely used.

They are the natural antidote for liver and kidney troubles and cure constipation and purify the blood in a way that often surprises patient and physician alike.

Dr. R. M. Wilkins, while experimenting with sulphur remedies soon found that the sulphur from Calcium was superior to any other form. He says: "For liver, kidney and blood troubles, especially when resulting from constipation or malaria, I have been surprised at the results obtained from Stuart's Calcium Wafers. In patients suffering from boils and pimples, and even deep-seated carbuncles, I have repeatedly seen them dry up and disappear in four or five days, leaving the skin clear and smooth. Although Stuart's Calcium Wafers is a proprietary article and sold by druggists, and for that reason tabooed by many physicians, yet I know of nothing so safe and reliable for constipation, liver and kidney troubles, and especially in all forms of skin disease as this remedy."

At any rate, people who are tired of pills and cathartics and so-called "blood pirifiers," will find in Stuart's Calcium Wafers, a far safer, more palatable and effective preapration.

Took Nothing.

LIKE ROSE'S LIFE BORDEN'S POLICY

It is Here To-day and Faded and Gone To-morrow.

SIR WILFRID'S BIG MEETING

The Most Enthusiastic Audience Ever Seen in Massey Hall, Toronto---Vast Audience Occupied Every Inch of Space, while Thousands Tried in Vain to Secure Admission---Premier Stirred Audience.

Toronto, Oct. 15.—How can such an event as Sir Wilfrid Laurier's meeting of last night be referred to in langdage that shall seem restrained and moderate? Only once before has it been paralleled, and that was on the 16th of October, 1900, when Sir Wilfrid Laurier spoke in the same grand auditorium to a similarly transported audience, which, like the audience of last night, had left double its numbers outside unable to obtain admission. The coming of eight or nine hundred students in procession sent the excitement up to fever heat, and the injection of this flood of vigorous youth into the ocean before the doors stirred it as if a fresh breeze had blown across its surface and ruffled it into billows. It was like the torrent of Niagara, that could not be stayed, as they marched up the stairs and took the seats reserved for them.

In the meantime other torrents were pouring into the body of the hall, and it might almost be said that every seat was occupied in the twinkling of an eye, and even those who considered themselves fortunate in coming early found, to their consternation, that they would have to stand during the whole evening. They consoled themselves, however, as they heard long after the meeting was under way the hub-bub and cheering outside of those who had not been able to gain admission at all. The police calculate that fully 10,000 people who were anxious to gain admission had to be turned away. Sir Wm Mulock's opening words were that they had at last gathered some idea of the meaning of Mr. Borden's word, "adequate," for Massey Hall, large as it is, was not nearly adequate to holding all that wished to see and hear their leader.

Sir Wilfrid Stirred the Audience.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier was in good form, and in the opinion of most of those who heard him in the same place four years ago he was in stronger voice than then. Not quite so playful or facetious as then, but grave and serious with the mighty matters that he has undertaken for the upbuilding and enlargment of Canada. Still there were some of the old-time flashes of humor, such as that where he compared Mr. Borden's railway policies to the rose, which bloomed to-day and died to-morrow. If there was less tendency to raise the laugh, the eloquence was even higher and nobler than before. The concluding sentences, in which he prophesied that Canada would be the prodigy of the twentieth century as the United States had been of the nineteenth, stirred the audience to a perfect frenzy of patriotic fervor. The speech was stopped more than once, not by cheering merely, but by regular deafening salvoes of three cheers and a tiger.

Mr. Aylesworth received a welcome only inferior to his leader, and his address was enjoyed exceedingly, and was applauded with the greatest heartiness. Although some of the audience had been in the hall four hours when Mr. Paterson rose to speak, he held them remarkably well by his finely argumentative style of address. Mayor Urquhart, Mr. Robinette and Major Leslie acquitted themselves exceedingly well. It was indeed the greatest political event of recent years. An interested auditor was Hon. Edward Blake, Sir Wilfrid Laurier's predecessor as Liberal leader, who, with Mrs. Blake, was in one of the boxes.

Mr. Borden At Montreal.

Montreal. Oct. 15.—The leader of the Opposition addressed a mass meeting in the Windsor Hall here last night. The hall accommodates comfortably about two thousand. The seats were all taken, and the aisles and approaches were jammed. The gathering was enthusiastic, and one of the notable incidents was the attention given to Hon. Mr. Tarte. His entrance had been well arranged. Just before Mr. Borden arrived, Mr. F. D. Monk, late leaher of the Conservative party in the Province of Quebec, walked upon the platform at the same time with the gentleman who, it is expected, will be officially acknowledged as his successor, Hon. Mr. Tarte. It had been whispered about that the ex-Minister of Public Works was in "the thick of it," so there was a showing of applause when he appeared. Again, when Mr. Borden referred to him and his campaign as a reason why the Laurier Government could not give to Canada the free trade of England, the champion of United States protection was again applauded. Mr. Borden's speech was along the lines followed during his Ontario tour, but he devoted the first five minutes to an assurance of a non-sectional spirit in him and his supporters.

POLITICS IN A NUTSHELL.

Peter Stewart was the choice of the Liberal convention at Dutton on Friday for the riding of West Elgin.

The Liberals of South Grenville held their convention at Prescott Friday and nominated John Edwards unanimously.

Samuel Landers of Hamilton, who on Wednesday evening was nominated by the Independent Labor party to contest North Waterloo for the Dominion House, has decided to withdraw from the contest.

John MacKay of Renfrew was unanimously nominated by the Liberal-Conservative convention of South Renfrew Friday.

A. A. Wright, who represented South Renfrew in the last Parliament, was Friday chosen to be the Liberal standard-bearer.

Hon. Joseph Martin of Vancouver, British Columbia, is in Ottawa, attending the supreme court. He has no intention of entering Federal politics at the present.

South Toronto Conservatives in convention Friday night nominated A. C. Macdonell. Out of 14 nominations twelve retired, and a ballot was taken between Macdonell and Edmund Bristol, the latter being a few votes behind the former in the counting up.

At Ottawa Magistrate O'Keefe gave a humorous decision in the manhood franchise registration court Friday. An appeal was made to put on the name of a man who is away on his honeymoon. The magistrate decided that a honeymoon is pleasure, not business, and rejected the appeal.

Head About to Burst From Severe Bilious Attack.

"I had a severe bilious attack and felt like my head was about to burst when I got hold of a free sample of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. I took a dose of them after supper and the next day felt like a new man and have been feeling happy ever since," says Mr. J. W. Smith of Juliff, Texas. Inspector Carson Dead.

London, Oct. 15.—W. J. Carson, inspector of the London public schools, died suddenly at his residence at 1.30 yesterday afternoon. The deceased gentleman had been at the Normal School in the morning and left his office at the City Hall at noon apparently in the best of health, on reaching his home he complained of an attack of acute indigestion, and his physician was sent for. Mr. Carson was lying on the sofa explaining his symptoms to the doctor when he fell back and died immediately. The late Mr. Carson had been connected with the London public schools for a long period. He was principal of the old Central School, and later of the Colborne street and Model Schools. He was 58 years of age.

When Your Child Suffers.

For lack of knowledge of the value of Dr. Chase's Ointment as a cure for eczema, many a mother has been worn out in the effort to relieve her child of suffering. Eczema, scald head and other forms of itching skin disease are common to children, especially during the teething period. Though readily cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment, eczema, if neglected, becomes chronic and may last for years.

WOMEN WHO SUFFER

Listen to What Dr. Hartman Proposes to Do for You Without Charge.

Doubtless hundreds of thousands of woman all over the United States have seen Dr. Hartman's offer in the papers—how he has undertaken to treat every woman suffering with any form of female disease who will write to him, free of charge.

To those who have not heard of this it may be said that Dr. Hartman is a physician and surgeon of great renown in medical circles, especially in the treatment of those diseases which women alone have to bear.

He has arranged to answer all letters that are sent to him from women troubled with any form of female weakness, free of charge, giving the benefit of knowledge which has cost him forty years to accumulate.

The medicines he prescribes are within the reach of any woman, and she can get them at any drug store.

All she is required to do is to send her name and address, together with her symptoms, duration of sickness and age.

Miss Helen Rolof, Kaukauna, Wis., writes:

"Several times during the past two years or more my system has been greatly in need of a tonic, and at those times Peruna has been of great help in building up the system, restoring my appetite and securing restful sleep."—Helen Rolof.

Miss Muriel Armitage, 86 Greenwood Ave., Detroit, Mich., District Organizer of the Royal Templars of Temperance, writes as follows:

"I suffered for five years with uterine irregularities, which brought on hysteria and made me a physical wreck. I tried doctors from the different schools of medicine, but without any perceptible change in my condition. In my despair I called on an old nurse, who advised me to try Peruna, and promised good results if I would persist and take it regularly. I kept this up for six months, and steadily gained strength and health, and when I had used fifteen bottles I considered myself entirely cured. I am a grateful, happy woman to-day."—Miss Muriel Armitage.

Miss Lucy M. Riley, 88 Davenport St., Cleveland, Ohio, writes:

"I wish to add my indorsement to thousands of other women who have been cured through the use of Peruna. I suffered for five years with severe backache, and when weary or worried in the least I had prolonged headache. I am now in perfect health, enjoy life and have neither an ache or pain, thanks to Peruna."—Lucy M. Riley.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

KING DEAD AT DRESDEN.

Earthly End of the Monarch of Saxony Was Peaceful.

Dresden, Oct. 15.—King George of Saxony died at Pillnitz at 2.25 o'clock this morning. His end was peaceful. His son was present at the death-bed.

King George of Saxony, who was born at Pillnitz, on Aug. 8, 1832, succeeded to the throne on the death of his childless brother, Albert, on June 19, 1902. In May, 1859, he married at Lisbon, Marie Anna, a sister of the King of Portugal, who died in February, 1884. There were five children—the Princess Mathilde, Prince Frederick Augustus, the Princess Marie, Prince Jean-Georges and Prince Maxmilian. In the war of 1870, King George held the rank of field marshal of the German army. He was taken ill in the early part of last June.

By weighing yourself while using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food you can prove that new flesh and is being added to the body.

There Was No Contempt.

Toronto, Oct. 15.—The Court of Appeal delivered judgment yesterday morning at Osgoode Hall, Chief Justice Moss presiding, in the application to commit Rev. J. A. Macdonald, editor of The Globe, for contempt of court for publishing an article referring to the North Renfrew election petition, then pending before the courts, was dismissed, without costs. The Chief Justice said the opinion that the application should be dismissed was coincided in by all the judges of the court.

Three Years in Penitentiary.

Woodstock, Oct. 15.—Three years in Kingston Penitentiary was the sentence imposed on William Smith at the police court yesterday morning by Magistrate Ball. Smith engaged to marry a girl who was employed at his boarding house, and it was arranged that they were to be married about Sept. 15. The girl lent him some money and Smith left the city. He is already a married man, with a family, which he has deserted. He was arrested in Windsor.

EXAMINER TROPHY TO GUILD LEAGUE CHAMPIONS

Charlotte Street Church Men's Guild Baseball Team Shown Honours.

DELIGHTFUL BANQUET HELD

Guild League Trophy also Presented to All Saints' Team Last Evening--Splendid Toast List--Speeches of a Spicy and Very Enjoyable Nature--Affair in Every Way a Great Success.

The first presentation of The Examiner Trophy to the Charlotte Street Young Men's Guild Baseball Team, champions of the Guild Baseball League, took place last evening under most favorable circumstances in the Charlotte Street Sunday School room. The event proved to be characteristic of the experience of the Guild League throughout the season, most successful in every particular. The gathering was a large one, about 125 being present, including the baseball teams, officers and ministers in connection with the various Guilds of the town. The Guilds represented were: All All Saint's, St. Andrew's, St. Luke's, George Street, St. Paul's.

A dainty repast was served about nine o'clock, the tables being arranged in the form of a baseball diamond. After partaking of the delicacies prepared, the toast list was proceeded with, Mr. A. F. Bookhout, president of the Charlotte Street Guild, being toastmaster.

A LETTER OF REGRET.

The toastmaster, in a few opening remarks, welcomed the visitors on behalf of the Charlotte Street Guild. The Guild was proud of the fact that their baseball team had won the handsome Examiner trophy for the first time, and he hoped to see all present again on a similar occasion next year. He regretted exceedingly that the donor of the trophy, Hon. J. R. Stratton, was unable to be in attendance to make the presentation, and read a letter from Mr. Stratton expressing his regret at having an engagement which he could not avoid filling, and stated that he would have been pleased to have been present to have added his congratulations to the Guild League champions. He hoped that future motion of the objects for which the society was organized. He had asked Mr. M. J. Hutchinson, secretary of the Guild League and who was connected with The Examiner, to represent him on the occasion.

The first toast on the list was to "The King," and was honoured in the usual fashion.

PRESENTATION OF TROPHY.

The presentation of the Examiner trophy to the champions was then made by Mr. Hutchinson. He deeply regretted the absence of Mr. Stratton to make the presentation. The honour which had fallen to him was one which he had little expected, but he was, nevertheless, delighted to have the privilege of presenting the trophy to such a worthy organization as that of the Charlotte Street Guild team. The present occasion was a somewhat unique one in its nature. A few years ago a church management would have been shocked at the idea of having a success would attend their efforts not only in athletics, but in the probaseball team in connection with the church, and the progress which has been made along this line during the past few years was a healthy sign, for he believed that sports properly conducted could be made use of in holding the young men of the church together, and consequently promoting its interests to a considerable degree. The object which Mr. Stratton had in view in presenting the trophy to the Guild League was one with which all were in sympathy, the promotion of healthy sports. Baseball, as conducted in the league, would have the effect of raising the sport to a higher level, and this effect would be seen in relation to other sports also. Peterborough had in proportion to its population, more Young Men's Guilds than any other town or city, and it was an Assured fact that the baseball league would prove beneficial to all the guilds connected with it in awakening the interest in the guild work and realizing the object of the guild, of having its members take an active part in church work and become church members. He hoped that the interest in the guild work would continue to increase and that more activity would be shown in future than in the past. He took great pleasure in presenting the Examiner trophy to the Charlotte Street team, which he congratulated upon its success.

MR. P. A. KERR,
President Guild Baseball League.

THE MANAGER'S REPLY.

After the health of the team had been drunk, Mr. Frank S. White, manager of the team, responded. He expressed the appreciation of the team of the kindly recognition and interest which Hon. Mr. Stratton and The Examiner had taken in the Guild League. It was gratifying to know that the older and more experienced members of the church were taking a lively interest in sports and in the young men. Every young man would feel grateful for the interest shown. Mr. White gave a short review of the history of the Guild League from its organization.

MR. HARRY RODDY,
Captain of Charlotte Street team, winners of the League Championship.

The question which was felt to be a serious one by all the guilds a year ago last spring was, "how shall we keep our young men together in the summer?" It was proposed to form a baseball league and as a result a four-club league was formed with St. Paul's, St. Andrew's, George Street and Charlotte Street comprising it. St. Andrew's carried off the championship for 1903. This year two additional clubs entered, St. Luke's and All Saints', making six clubs in the league. The Guild Executive offered a trophy for competition, and a short time afterwards the Examiner trophy was presented to the league by Mr. Stratton. It was decided that the Guild trophy should be presented to the second team, and the Examiner trophy to the champions. He felt pleasure at having the privilege of managing the team which won the championship. They had always conducted themselves as gentlemen on and off the field and they could be relied upon to be in the struggle next year as ardently as was the case during the past season.

THE HONORARY PRESIDENT.

Rev. W. J. Jolliffe, honourary president of the Charlotte Street Guild, also spoke briefly. He thought gatherings such as the present were very helpful in binding the young men together and furthering the best interests of the various societies represented. He referred to the kindness of Hon. Mr. Stratton in presenting such a beautiful trophy and could not but feel grateful at the success of the Charlotte Street team. He was in perfect sympathy with the manly sports in connection with guild work.

The Charlotte Street Male Quartette, Messrs. Freund, Breeninger, tette, Messrs. Freund, Breininger, fect "Love's Old Sweet Song" and in response to an encore rendered "Obituaries."

GUILD LEAGUE TROPHY.

The presentation of the Guild League trophy to All Saint's team, runners-up for the championship, was made by Mr; Peter Kerr, president of the Guild League. He first congratulated the champions on their splendid showing during the season. He thought that the support they had received from the fair sex was responsible to no small degree for the success of the team. On behalf of the executive it gave him great pleasure to present the Guild League trophy to All Saints' team. This guild was the youngest in the league and they were deserving of congratulation for the splendid game they played. He proposed the health of the All Saints' team.

MR. BRUCE RICKEY.

The toast was heartily drunk, and was responded to by Mr. Bruce Rickey. He thanked the Charlotte Street Guild for their kindness in inviting All Saints' team to be present on this delightful occasion and have the Guild cup presented to them. He hoped that in another year they would have the pleasure of returning the compliment, for they were going in to win the Stratton trophy next year. He congratulated the champions on their success.

A violin solo by Mr. Jones was heartily received, and an encore was demanded.

"OUR GUESTS."

The toast to "Our Guests" was proposed by Mr. Wm. Galbraith, ex-president of the Charlotte Street Guild. It was a pleasure for him to welcome the visiting guildsmen. The work of the guilds was indeed a noble one and he esteemed it a great privilege to be engaged in it. Though there might be some difference regarding the political bearings of those present, he felt assured that there was no one in the gathering but who had the kindest of feelings for Hon. Mr. Stratton, who had done so much for the Guild League in presenting the Examiner trophy. He congratulated the Guild League executive on the efficient manner in which they had directed the affairs of the league and they were deserving of much credit in bringing the season to such a successful issue. Mr. Galbraith had witnessed many of the games played and he had never seen an act or heard a word which would bring discredit on any of the teams. This was a source of great satisfaction. He congratulated the All Saints' team on winning the Guild trophy and stated that while the success of the Charlotte Street team in future would be foremost in his mind, he believed it would be for the best interests of the league to have the cup pass around from team to team.

MR. G. ROBERTSON'S REPLY.

Mr. Geo. Robertson, of George Street Guild, responded. He expressed his appreciation at the privilege of being present. When the invitation was received to be in attendance all were expectant of a delightful evening and these expectations had been more than realized. He extended his congratulations to the Charlotte Street team, stating the title of "Champions" attached to that it was no mean honor to have their name. All would admit that the best team won and won on their merits, not in the committee room but on the field where all victories should be won. The best of good feeling had prevailed amongst the teams, and he had seen no ungentlemanly conduct in any way. He hoped that as much interest and enthusiasm as was noticeable this year would be shown next year in the league.

"GUILD UMPIRES."

The toast to the "Guild Umpires" was proposed in a neat speech by Mr. John Turner, of St. Luke's. He appreciated the honour of being present to say a few words to such a large and representative body of men. He congratulated the champions on behalf of the Guild of St. Luke's for their efficient play, which had brought them such honour in winning the Examiner trophy. He also congratulated the winners of the Guild League trophy. A great deal of credit was due to the umpires for their very efficient services. They had given perfect satisfaction in every game and were deserving of the thanks of the Guild League.

A CAPITAL REPLY.

Mr. H. R. H. Kenner, the popular umpire, was the responder to this toast. He extended his congratulations to the executive of the league and thought their choice in their Honorary President had been a wise one. The Provincial Secretary had always been a good and true friend to the many sporting clubs in town and was always ready to lend his assistance. He referred to the champion team, which is considered had played the most consistent ball throughout the season and deserved the title of champions. He found them one of the easiest teams to manage, though none of the teams had conducted themselves improperly at any time. He was pleased that the churches were waking up to the fact that it is their duty to look after pure amateur sport in connection with their young. This was a strenuous age, when the weak must go to the wall, and while we must look after the intellectual and moral well-being of the young men, the physical side should not be neglected. There should be harmonious development of the intellectual, the moral and the physical. Mr. Kenner thought that the clergy might even participate in healthy sports and he thought that were he appointed manager he could pick a first-class baseball nine from the Ministerial Association. Regarding the umpires, he said the management of the clubs could greatly assist them by having the grounds properly laid out, and the players should study the rules more diligently. A lamentable ignorance of the fine points of the games was shown at times by some of the players in the past season. His advice to the pitchers was to get control, which was the most essential feature of good pitching. In his opinion, Mr Harry Roddy, the pitcher for the champion team had the best control of any pitcher in the league. He felt certain the Guild League would have many successful years of existence.

After a solo, "Heroes and Gentlemen," by Mr. R. N. Jolliffe, Dr. Morrison proposed the toast to "Our Pastors." He was glad to be present and have the opportunity to do honour to such a gathering of men as were the pastors of Peterborough. Clergymen needed to be men of high and large mental attainment, men of energy, activity, large heartedness, of sterling character, and who were not afraid to tell the members of the congregations where they were doing wrong, and advise them along right paths. He believed the pastors of Peterborough were men of this calibre. He was pleased that the pastors of the town were coming closer together in their efforts to uplift humanity. We were advancing along higher and nobler ideas, and as the people developed along spiritual and social lines they would come to a closer unity in thought and purpose. The churches were becoming more and more to stand above the petty jealousies of church and creed, and be one great community in advancing the interests of the one Creator. Our pastors not only ministered well from the pulpit but also went into the highways and byways to help the poor and needy, regardless of what church they might be connected with. The pastors should be leaders in moral, political and social conditions, and thus they would stamp the proper image upon the minds of their hearers. Dr. Morrison took great pleasure in proposing this important toast.

(Concluded on Monday.)

To the officers and Members of Peterborough Lodge, No. 135, A. O. U.W., Peterborough,—

Gentlemen, -- I beg to thank you for the cheque, $2,000, I have just received for insurance on the life of my late husband.

Wishing you and your society every prosperity, believe men to remain,

Yours most sincerely,
(Signed) S. E. Winch.

POLICE COURT NEWS.

At the police court this morning, a woman charged a merchant with stealing a sum of money. The plaintiff had purchased some goods, worth $6.50, and paid for them. Among the goods purchased was a skirt, and according to the evidence of the plaintiff, it was agreed that if the skirt was not suitable it could be taken back, and the money refunded. It seems that the garment was not satisfactory, and the purchaser returned to the store and had it exchanged for another, receiving 75c. as the difference in the value of the two skirts. But the second one was also not suitable, and as the plaintiff could not get what she desired, she claimed a refund of the money paid for the skirt. The defendant claimed that it was agreed to exchange the goods, if not satisfactory, but not to refund the money. The case was adjourned till Tuesday.

MIND OF MAID

By Martha McCulloch-Williams

Copyright, 1904, by Martha McCulloch-Williams

"My, but she is ugly!" Mrs. Evans said, her accent distinctly one of relief. Bronson smiled covertly as he answered: "Don't be too sure of that. She has eyes."

"Eyes! Bah!" The ejaculation was almost a snort. Estelle heard it, although there was the breadth of the room between her and the irate matron. She looked plaintively across at Bronson, who answered her look with the faintest humorous nod. Then he strolled over to her and said in her ear: "It's too easy—quite too easy, Miss Mischief. I simply had to give that good soul a hint of warning."

"Traitor!" Estelle retorted, pretending to hiss the word high tragedy fashion, yet ending with a dimpling laugh. The laugh went far to redeem her face—so far that it set more than one beholder speculating that old Major Gilbert's stranger granddaughter would not really be so bad looking if she knew how to wear her clothes and do her heavy hair, this despite her wretched complexion, for she had a beautiful straight nose and good teeth, to say nothing of her handsome eyes. Her neck must be bad, else why was she swathed up to the ears? Her sleeves also quite swallowed her gloved hands, but her feet were as much in evidence as they well could be, incased in boots at least three sizes large.

With everybody else in party bibs and tuckers, such garmenting made her conspicuous, all the more that the gown she wore was grass green, with a bright pink stock and much dead white braiding. Spangles and beads also lurked amid the braid, so many that there was a color of reason for Estelle's whisper as she looked down at herself.

This made Bronson frown. "You'll give yourself away," he said severely. "For heaven's sake don't spoil sport just when it's getting so much better than a play."

"I won't," said Estelle contritely; then in a nervous aside: "When does Adonis come in? Do hurry him along! I shan't be easy until he comes. Suppose, after all, he should be color blind—able to see only gold and greenbacks and old yellow title deeds?"

"Suppose nothing so tragic. I told you in the beginning he was artistic or nothing," Bronson retorted. "Art is, indeed, his weak suit. Otherwise would he be in bonds to Miss Adela Evans?"

"She is so pretty," Estelle said fervently.

Bronson growled: "Yes; regular china baby beauty—blue eyes, pink and white complexion and hair always in the latest mode. Out in the lobby now, lying in wait for—Adonis. They'll be coming in together, the prettiest pair of puppets you ever saw."

"I hope he isn't too good looking," Estelle murmured reflectively.

Bronson scowled.

"You'll find him disgustingly so. Indeed, I've been half afraid all along that when you saw him you'd be sorry"—

"Indeed I shan't," Estelle interrupted eagerly. "How can I be sorry for anything that sets me free from that odious bond?"

Bronson did not answer. A stir about the door drew all eyes. Adonis, otherwise George Gilbert, Estelle's cousin, cobeir and fiance, entered with Adela Evans clinging ostentatiously to his arm. She had such a habit of clinging there that the sports of Grasshope had been ready to give odds this last half year that she would ere this have written herself Mrs. George Gilbert but for Grandfather Gilbert's absurd will. This instrument decreed flatly whichever of his two descendants refused to marry the other thereby forfeited all claim to the big Gilbert fortune.

The boy and girl had been brought up half a continent apart. Estelle had come to Grasshope for the first time less than a week before. But tales of her had been rife there the last three years, how willful she was, also how sharp of speech and of temper. As to her looks there had been several opinions. Reed Bronson might have spoken authoritatively, but he chose to be silent. He had met Estelle two summers running at the seashore, and with each meeting he became more indifferent to Grasshope belles and their charms. He had known, first of all, that Estelle was coming to visit her mother's cousins, the Warrens. Mrs. Evans thought her bold for it. She did not need to marry George before she was twenty-two and might therefore well have left it to him to do the seeking.

What George thought about it nobody knew. He smiled down at Adela as they crossed to Estelle. When he got a good look at her his smile became for a breath's space quizzical, but it was kind and wholly cordial as he took both her hands, saying, "I know you all right, young lady—if you would never let me have your picture."

"Somebody's been telling," Estelle said solemnly, although her eyes danced. They had never rested upon a finer fellow than George. He had all the Gilbert look she so worshiped in her father's portrait. Covertly she glanced from him to Bronson. Bronson was big and honest looking and had withal an air of breeding, but still was not to be named beside her unwelcome betrothed. No doubt he had more brains, although as time passed she was forced to admit George carried things off very well indeed. And after supper, when the dancing began, Bronson, the luckless, went into complete eclipse. He hated dancing, as well he might, seeing that he danced so badly. George Gilbert, contrariwise, might have been wing footed, so lightly did he move in such perfect time and tune. Music, indeed, was in the Gilbert blood. Estelle danced, if anything, better. When they waltzed together other couples stopped to see. Indeed they kept on and on and on until they had the whole crowd staring as one they whirled and wheeled over the waxed floor of the hall.

"Stop, Estelle!" Bronson implored in a loud whisper as the couple whirled past him. George smiled broadly. Estelle, dismayed, put a hand up to her face. As she took it away two pimples and half a dozen freckles came with it. George saw them and quickly guided her out of the light.

"Go wash your face!" he commanded imperatively. "And the next time you want to go masquerading let me help you make up. I know heaps of better disfigurement. Besides, grease paint is fearfully unreliable when one loves dancing as we do."

"I forgot—I ought not to have danced," Estelle said contritely; then with a swift change of mood, "But you wouldn't have known if I had been a little wiser."

"Indeed I would. I went 500 miles last summer just to see you," George half whispered. "So I understood the minute I looked at you tonight. You wanted to disgust me, to make me lose a wife and a fortune. I don't blame you. Women have to fight injustice with their own weapons. Still I wish you hadn't done it. You can say 'No' to me this minute if you like and get back more than all the money you lose by saying it tomorrow"—

"I see. You want to invest in Dresden china," Estelle interrupted audaciously. "So of course I don't want to say it—not now, at least."

"That must be quite as you please," George said, smiling over her head. "You will have to go straight home," he added masterfully. "Changing lovers would be nothing beside the scandal of changing countenances this way in the face of everybody."

"I know it," Estelle said sorrowfully. "Fate is playing me tricks—putting all the trumps in Adela's hands"—

"Not quite. You forget I shall make your excuses and take you and Mrs. Warren home," George said. "Don't keep me waiting either. I'm all impatience to see your real self."

* * * * * * * *

Grasshope had no end of sensations through the next six weeks. The first came when George Gilbert broke the prearranged engagement, the next when it was seen that he was disputing with Reed Bronson for first place in his cousin's regard, and the third and greatest was to find the strange Gilbert girl truly a beauty, with no end of fine feathers and a most enchanting way of wearing them. Adela Evans looked faded and insignificant beside her, although away from her she was easily the prettiest girl in town. But Adela was spiritless these days. She no longer had hopes of catching George. He was eagerly, desperately, in earnest about Estelle, although she had given him back, as in duty bound, rather more than half the money. Reed Bronson was no less earnest, so between them they kept public interest at fever heat.

Estelle was nobly impartial. At first she had thought herself really in love with Bronson. That was what had impelled her to the masquerading. But somehow George's grave, hurt face had made her very much ashamed, although she would have died rather than admit love at first sight. Then his freeing her and settling down to court her anew appealed to something in her of like fiber. Altogether she was hard put to it to decide.

The strain of it all bore hardest on Bronson. His temper, never sweet, became abrupt and uncertain. He was barely civil to other women. George, contrariwise, continued to be a butterfly among the social flowers.

Upon one of those spring days that seem made for love the three rode together through blossomy lanes. Bronson rode but clumsily, so when presently his mount bolted it was all he could do to keep his seat. George, a horseman born, was after the runaway in a minute, caught him and checked him so sharply that the mad creature reared, kicked savagely and at last fell backward, taking the other horse with it in a struggling, plunging heap. That anybody came out of it alive was little short of a miracle. But there was nothing worse for either than a broken arm. As Bronson stood ruefully nursing it he said, looking straight in Estelle's eyes: "You needn't take the trouble to tell me anything. I saw your face as we were going down. You found out whom you loved just then—George."

"Yes, George," Estelle said, flushing like a rose.

TIED DOWN

Are you tied down by kidney trouble? Obliged to watch time fly past and oportunities escape you without being able to grasp them? This has been the sad plight of countless numbers of men and women suffering from disordered kidneys, or from some one of the many troubles caused by poison left in the system by the kidneys failing to perform their functions properly. Rheumatism, dropsy, lame back, sleeplessness, brain fag, lack of ambition, despondency, and many more similar troubles are the direct result of disordered kidneys. Why continue to suffer day after day when there is a cure—an absolute cure guaranteed, within your reach and at a price that all can afford?

Bu-Ju, The Kidney Pill

will cure your kidney trouble, and thus drive out the many maladies from which you have suffered as the result of kidney disorder. They will make you a new man or woman. Try them; begin to-day.

Punishment.

"Tommy," said his mother, who had him across her knee, "this hurts me worse than it does you."

"I was afraid," said Tommy under his breath, "that hard board I put in the seat of my trousers might hurt her hand."

Unforgetting.

"I suppose you have made it a rule in politics never to forget a friend."

"There's no danger of that," answered Senator Sorghum. "If a man has done anything friendly for you in politics he never lets you forget it."

No matter how a man gets a black eye, he is bound to have a guilty look along with it.

AIRING ONE'S CLOTHES.

It Helps to Keep Them Fresh and in Good Condition.

Do you ever think of airing your clothes? No? You think that when you wear them they get aired. So they do, but not thoroughly and properly as they ought to. To keep your clothes in really good condition you should brush and shake and air them every little while. The dress or suit you wear every day should have a daily shaking and brushing and thorough going over once a week, says the Pittsburg Press. You will be rewarded for your pains, as your clothes will last much longer and look much better. If it is wool or dark material the dust gets ground in, and very soon the whole dress has a rusty appearance that with a little pains and care you might have avoided.

Pressing is a great renovator, and skirts particularly need it once in awhile as they get hard wear and are apt to be pulled out of shape and get knee holes, which certainly are not pretty. There is another advantage about airing your clothes that is most important. It keeps them fresh and clean. Nothing is more disagreeable than an odor of cooking or stale perfume on any one's clothes. To be fresh and clean and neat is the way to be always attractive, and every girl can be and should be all three.

LAUNDRY LINES.

Rub the irons with a cloth soaked in kerosene to prevent scorching.

Machine oil spots on linen or calico should be removed before washing by rubbing with a cloth dipped in ammonia.

If you wash black stockings in a warm lather of soap and water—no soda—and add a little vinegar to the rinsing water they will keep a good color till worn out.

Linen crash, blue denim and ticking are the best possible fabrics for covering iron holders. Make them removable by basting one end together, and occasionally put them in the family wash.

Beeswax and salt rubbed on flatirons will make them as smooth as glass. Tie a lump of wax in a bit of cloth and keep it for the purpose. When the irons are hot rub them with the wax rag and then on a paper well sprinkled with salt.

Bureau Drawers.

To clean bureau drawers begin with the top one. Turn everything out, laying aside soiled ribbons or collars or bits of lace that have passed their days of usefulness. These can be cleaned or destroyed after house cleaning days are over. Preserve them unless they are hopelessly worn. If worn get rid of them in the quickest and easiest way.

Turn the drawer bottom up and brush it out with a broad, soft paint brush, wipe out with a dampened cloth and then go over it with a cloth wet with a few drops of alcohol. The drawer is then ready to receive the ribbons, laces and accessories which one usually finds in that "top drawer." The alcohol dries the drawer and makes it possible to replace the articles at once. The remaining drawers can be cleaned in the same way. And when all dressers and bureau drawers have been gone over a long step has been taken toward the dreaded house cleaning.

Flies and Screens.

It is a curious fact that flies will not pass through netting, even though the meshes be quite large, unless there is a source of light, as from a window behind it. Thus in rooms with windows only on one side a net over the window will absolutely keep the flies out, although the meshes of the net may be an inch apart.

Ink Stains on Wood.

Ink stains are troublesome to get out of wood. The following is effectual: Touch the spot with a camel's hair brush or feather dipped in spirits of niter, and when the ink begins to disappear rub the spot over as quickly as possible with a rag dipped in cold water.

King Edward and His Camera.

Few people are aware that the King is a devotee of the camera, and that he seldom goes abroad without taking it and making a number of exposures. His Majesty's camera is such a tiny affair that few people have ever noticed it. It is almost too small for practical purposes, but the pictures taken by it are always carefully enlarged to a uniform size, and are then nearly as good as if taken direct by a big camera.

Brewery Purity

The outward, general appearance of a brewery is a true indication of the methods followed within.

Carling's brewery is clean, tidy and always well kept—no cobwebs, murky corners, dusty shelves, tainted malt, sour kegs, etc., to be seen, as in ordinary breweries.

The plant includes a perfect system of cold storage, modern machinery for cleansing bottles and kegs, and a large staff of skilled men devote their entire time to keeping everything spic and span.

POETRY OF THE HEART.

A happy heart is better than a full purse.

He who hath most heart knows most of sorrow.

A cheerful countenance betokens a good heart.

No estate can make him rich that has a poor heart.

When you open your heart be always ready to shut it to again.

The heart's testimony is stronger than a thousand witnesses.

A glad heart seldom sighs, but a sorrowful mouth often laughs.

The heart is the hidden treasure of man; the tongue is the gate to the treasure.

There never was a heart truly great and generous that was not also tender and compassionate.

Pointing the Way.

Some years ago an English traveler visiting the Transvaal asked a man whom he met to direct him to the president's house. "You," came the answer, "shust ko on dill you comes to a road vot kees around der skoolhouse; but you don'd dake dot road. No, you ko on till you see der big barn, shingled mit shtraw, den you durn der road down der field und ko on dill you comes to a pig red hoose; dot ees my Broder Hans' hoose. Don't ko in dere; ko straight on dill you comes to der haystick mit a farm. Vell, he don't live dere. But vhen you get furder you see a heose on der top of a leadle hill, so you ko in dere und aske der ould vowan inside. She vill tell you petter as I can."

The Dead Dogs of New York.

There are dogs in New York that never set foot on the street. They belong to the janitors in the downtown buildings, and their runways consist of the roof of the building in which their owners live and adjoining roofs on the same level. That is a rare day when the office worker on looking out the eleventh story window does not see a half dozen dogs romping about upon the roofs beneath him. There is one advantage at least in being a roof dog—the dog catcher has no terrors for him.

MacVeagh Adjourned the Court.

On one occasion Wayne MacVeagh succeeded in adjourning the supreme court before the usual hour. Mr. MacVeagh never remained in Washington overnight if he could help it, and on this occasion he greatly desired to take the 4 o'clock train for Philadelphia. Although talking to the court he kept his eye on the clock and at 3:45, giving himself just enough time to reach the station, he ceased his argument and said: "May it please your honors, I move that the court do now adjourn. I want to catch the 4 o'clock train for home." The cool audacity of the request seemed to paralyse the justices, but the chief justice made the customary order without a protest, and Mr. MacVeagh got his train.

WAYS OF WOOERS.

More Than There Are Nations in the World and Some of Them Are Interesting and Curious.

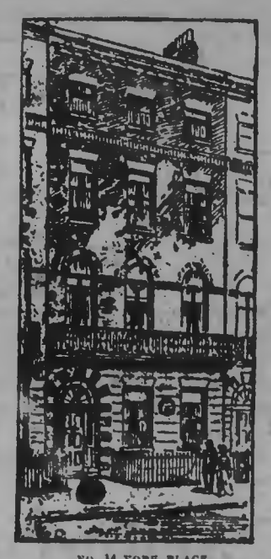
There are more ways of wooing than there are nations, and to most people many of them may well seem very strange indeed. The etiquette of love among the Hungarian gypsies, for instance, is as follows: Cakes are used as love-letters. A coin is baked into the cake, which at the first opportunity is flung to the favored object. The retention of this is looked upon as a virtual "acceptance;" its forcible return, an intimation that the "attentions" are undesired. This, of course, requires no eloquence on the lover's part. In some parts of the world, indeed, all that is demanded of a lover is physical force. Among the semi-savage tribes in the Arabian desert, round about Sinai, the lover tries to seize the girl while she is pasturing her father's flocks. She pelts him with mud, sticks and stones, and will be held in lifelong repute if she succeeds in wounding him. Once driven into her father's tent, the lover's object is attained, and the betrothal is proclaimed.

There is considerably more poetry in the method of the Yao Midos, one of the many Burmese-Tartar people, who woo their wives absolutely without words, but to the sound of music. On the first day of winter they have a great feast, at which all the marriageable girls gather and listen to the music made by the bachelors, who sit under the "desire tree," each playing his favorite instrument. As the maiden he loves passes him the youth plays the louder and more feelingly. If the girl ignores him and passes on he knows that she will have none of him; if she steps up to him and lays a flower upon the instrument he jumps up, takes her by the hand, taking care not to drop the flower, and they wander off.

A remarkable custom prevails among the Dyaks of Borneo. When one of them would woo the maiden of his heart he chivalrously helps her in the hardest portion of her daily toil. If she smiles upon him, no matter how sweetly, he does not immediately respond, but waits until the next dark night. Then he steals to her house and lightly wakens her as she lies asleep beside her sleeping parents. The parents, if they approve, make no sign, but sleep on—or pretend to. If the girl accepts she rises and takes from her lover the betel and sweetmeats he has brought her. That seals their betrothal, and he departs as he came, neither speaking nor being spoken to.

Pitt's House.

In continuation of the indication by the County Council of houses in London which have formed the residences of distinguished individuals, a memorial tablet has been placed on 14, York Place, Portman square, where William Pitt resided for a time during the years 1803 and 1804. During the large part of that period Pitt shared the residence with his niece, Lady Hester Stanhope, the brilliant but eccentric lady who afterwards took up her abode on Mount



NO. 14 YORK PLACE.

Lebanon, and by the sheer force of her remarkable personality acquired an almost absolute authority over the tribes of the surrounding districts. Lady Hester acted as her uncle's secretary, received his guests, sat at the head of his table, and by her wit, her brilliant conversational powers, and her beauty did much to brighten and enliven his life. Pitt was out of office during the whole of the time mentioned, but it was during his residence here that he delivered one of his greatest speeches, the one on the renewal of the war with France, in May, 1803. It was of this oration that Fox, his chief political rival, said, "It is a speech which, if Demosthenes has been present, he must have admired, and might have envied."

Too Hard.

Farmer's Wife—Why have you left that piece of steak I sent out for you? Tramp (indignantly)—I didn't ask for work, ma'am. I asked for something to eat.

In the General Elections of 1887 there were 698,839 votes polled throughout the Dominion; in 1891 there were 720,084, an increase of eight per cent. over the figures for 1887. In 1896 there were 935,608, an increase of sixteen per cent. over 1891; in 1904 there were 1,067,668 votes polled, an increase of fourteen per cent. Census for 1891 was 4,833,239; for 1901 was 5,371,051.

? How many Votes will be Polled in 1904 ?

SEND ONE DOLLAR

You have four opportunities to earn $2,500.00 for every dollar you send with your estimates—and if your estimates are received by The Trusts and Guarantee Company before noon of October 31st, you have an opportunity to earn an extra $250.00, making $3,750.00 in one prize.

FIRST PRIZE. $2,500.00 for the best estimate of the total number of votes to be polled. This estimate to be mailed to The Trusts and Guarantee Company before midnight of November 3rd.

SECOND PRIZE. $250.00 for the best estimate received up to noon of October 17th.

THIRD PRIZE. $250.00 for the best estimate received between Oct. 17th and noon of Oct. 24th.

FOURTH PRIZE. $250.00 for the best estimate received between Oct. 24th and noon of Oct. 31st.

For one dollar you may estimate that the total vote polled will be 1,000,000, 1,050,000, 1,075,000, 1,071,000, or any set of four figures you think likely, and if one of your figures is nearest to the official return you will receive the money.

DRESS AND FASHION.

AUTUMN FANCIES IN GOWNS AND BRIDAL ACCESSORIES.

A Fine French Cloth Dress of Unique Style—A Smartly Worn Boa and Hat—Fabrics For the Wedding Gown—The Bride's Veil and Shoes.

An early autumn gown that seems loath to part with all traces of the summer is the first one sketched. It is of the finest French cloth of a beautiful golden brown color. Bands of linen trim it, an entirely unusual but eminently pleasing arrangement. The belt, too, is of brown linen. Frills of ecru lace decorate the sleeves, and a soft spotted satin foulard makes the blouse bodice. The hat which crowns this is made of light brown crinoline, with a wreath of brown and green leaves and an ostrich feather shading from green to brown.

The second sketch shows a long white boa in real ostrich feathers closely and carelessly twisted as a protection against a chill. The hat, smartly raised, displays a peculiar crumple at the back.

Bridal fabrics are no longer restricted to softest satin or most clinging silk. Ordinary muslins, silk muslin, chiffons, eolliennes and even voiles, with lace let in at intervals, are considered quite appropriate. White silk and kindred stuffs are embroidered in open hole work with orange blossom, daisies and sprays of dainty forgetmenots, and sometimes these embroideries are simply charming.

Old family lace is quite the thing for the wedding veil. But if one has this not there is much consolation to be found in the fact that tulle or chiffon is really much more becoming. Let the veil be soft and voluminous, cut square. It is prettier not to have any hem or applique work around it. The veil should not rest too flatly on the head. An orange blossom wreath, white violets or lilies of the valley may hold the plaits in place, or jewels. Wreaths of orange blossom have come back, and they look admirable with the lace veils. The shoes are either worked in silver or with orange blossom.

In autumn colors browns of many lovely tones, especially the dead leaf browns, appear in face cloths, alpacas, soliennes and other fabrics, and a red mauve shade is all the fashion.

Greens—onion green and Paris green—and a sort of burnt cream color are in favor, and silver braid harmonizes beautifully with them.

AMY VARNUM.

Oysters on Toast.

The months having recovered the letter R and restored the oyster to its accustomed place on the menu, here is a tasty little trifle: Drain and wash some oysters. Put them, with their liquor, into a saucepan and cook until the oysters are plump, shaking the pan frequently to prevent burning. Drain off the liquor, season the oysters with salt, pepper and butter and pile on nicely browned slices of toast.

A DREAMLAND DETECTIVE.

Singular Way in Which an English Murderer Was Discovered.

In the London Mirror of Literature for June, 1844, there is an account of a dream that was remarkable in many respects. It is given upon the authority of a clergyman of the Church of England, the Rev. Mr. Alexander, who speaks from personal knowledge of some of the facts. It appears that a young man of good reputation, named Horrocks, was found robbed and murdered. His head had been beaten in apparently with bludgeons. A vigilant search was made for the assassin and after several months abandoned, no clew to the crime having been discovered. One night a gentleman who had been well acquainted with Horrocks awoke and told his wife that he had had a dream in which he had been assured that one Samuel Longsmith of Bolton was the murderer.

Longsmith lived some twenty miles away and was a person whom the dreamer had met but once or twice. His wife told him to think no more about it, but to go to sleep. A second time he awoke from the effects of the same dream and announced his resolution to take steps the following morning to see what could come of it. Accordingly he went to Bolton the next day and sought a warrant for the arrest of Longsmith. The magistrate, however, refused to grant it upon such evidence. Passing through the market place, he met Longsmith and invited him to go to a public house to hear something he had to communicate to him. There, locking the door, he charged him with the crime. Longsmith was staggered and faintly denied the accusation. In his confusion he said he was innocent, for he did not strike the blow.

"Then you know the man who did," replied the accuser, and Longsmith was arrested and examined. He prevaricated at the examination and was remanded for three days. At the end of that time and after many hours' prayer he confessed that he had been induced to join three men in a robbing expedition, when, meeting Horrocks, who made some resistance, his three companions murdered him. This confession came out before the grand jury, and Longsmith was brought to trial. The fact of the dream was not offered in evidence, but other testimony sufficient to convict him was produced. A few days before the execution he made a full acknowledgment of his guilt.

Canada in Arbitrations.

Among the more renowned of the victories of peace are those which concern disagreements between Great Britain, Canada and the United States. This country appears to have been the favorite resting place of the little white bird. The Atlantic fisheries arbitration, in which Canada and the United States settled a long-standing difference, was a victory for moral force. The Behring Sea seal fisheries were for a while a most serious cause of dispute, and threatened, more than once, to lead to a rupture. The reference of this vexed question was a great blessing, and though at the present time there threatens to be a dispute growing out of this matter, there is not the slightest doubt that it will be satisfactorily adjusted. A few months ago the Alaskan boundary controversy was settled permanently, although it must be admitted that this was not purely a victory for arbitration, as the United States insisted that there was nothing to arbitrate so far as Americans were concerned. The incident, however, is closed, and Canada has cheerfully accepted the verdict, although it was against her, and has thus set an example which must forever redound to the credit of Canadians.

LAKE SIMCOE JOINS TRENT WATERWAY.

The Work Well Advanced a Canal Complete From Balsam Lake to Lake Simcoe Expected Next Summer.

Mr. J. A. Aylmer of the firm of Brown & Aylmer contractors for the construction of the Lake Simcoe division of the Trent Valley canal was in town yesterday. He reports construction work as well advanced on his section of about seven miles, which includes five locks, three dams and two piers or breakwaters to form an entrance to and an exit from the canal. These piers are of concrete and contain 5,000 odd cubic yards. At the shore line at the canal outlet, they are fifty feet apart and splay outward to a distance each of 300 feet till their outer terminus are 500 feet apart. This forms a capacious receiving basin. There is some work to do on the gates of the locks and details incident to a work of this kind to be looked after. Mr. Aylmer expects to have his contract completed early next summer. The next adjoining section under Larkin & Sangster, contractors, is a similarly forward state. The lift lock at Kirkfield is completed so far as the concrete work is concerned, and now ready for the iron work. If this is finished in time the canal from Balsam Lake to Lake Simcoe will be opened next summer and then we shall have continuous navigation from Healey's Falls to Orillia, Barrie, etc. The Trenton section will be built next and it won't be long till Peterborough has water connection with Montreal and Quebec—and Liverpool

New Headwear at Miss Delaney's

If you haven't been in Miss Delaney's for a week or two, you have a great deal new to see. If you would know fashions as they are you must keep in touch with Miss Delaney's store. Quite recently large additions of fine American and Paris-born trimmed hats have been received, and to-day's millinery at Miss Delaney's presents the very latest season's styles. A fresh lot of new and becoming headwear furnished by the store's clever staff of milliners, will also greet Saturday's visitors. The low-marked prices will surprise you. 2d

OPENING MEETING A GREAT SUCCESS

Ladies' Literary Association of St. Peter's T. A. S.

Interesting Address by Rev. Dr. O'Brien —Pleasing Programme of Music.

The opening meeting of the Ladies' Literary Association of St. Peter's T. A. S., was held last evening, and was marked by an unusually large attendance for the beginning of the season. The interest manifested in the first meeting is but a slight indication of the increasing interest to be displayed on these Literary evenings, as the season advances. Already a very large number of names, appear on the membership roll, and no doubt, this roll will be speedily on the increase. The Association, under the leadership of the Ladies, has achieved great success in literary work, and the intentions are, that it will attain this year, a reputation of still greater merit. An essay will be read every two weeks regularly, for a term of six months, at least, and a short musical programme also presented.

Miss Casey presided at the meeting last evening, and after a few introductory remarks had been made, called on Rev. Dr. O'Brien to address the Association. Rev. Dr. O'Brien chose as his subject, "Books and Reading", and delighted the audience with a most interesting and impressive address on the subject, which was highly appreciated by all those fortunate enough to be present.

The programme for the evening was as follows:—
Instrumental duet, Misses Elsie Taylor and Stella Kelly.
Vocal solo, Olley Tangney.
Recitation, Miss Mamie Kennedy.
Vocal solo, Miss Loretto Clancy.

The first essay will be read on Friday, October 28th, on "Marion Crawford", by Miss M. Carveth. Ladies are requested to present their membership tickets at the next and succeeding meetings.

Ladies of the committee are requested to meet next Friday evening, October 21, at 8.30.

OBITUARY.

Father of Mr. E. W. Morphett Died in Lockport N. Y.

Mr. E. W. Morphett's many friends will sympathize with him in the sad intelligence which he recently received from Lockport, N.Y., telling of the death of his father, at the age of 89 years. The deceased gentleman, although advanced in years, was, until a short time ago in good health, and it was only recently that he was taken seriously ill.

His death occurred at the home of his son, Mr. J. C. Morphett, where he has made his home for the last six years, previous to which time he lived in Delaware. Another son, Stephen, lives in Pokomoke, Ind., the three sons being the only members of the family surviving.

The deceased was born in England, and after coming to Canada, lived in Port Hope for some years, afterwards going to Deleware. On his visits to Peterborough the late Mr. Morphett met a number of persons who will be grieved to learn of his death.

Places of Interest.

No notable place or scene is absent from the "Stoddard Lectures." The writer and traveller has not confined himself to the route of travel as usually followed but has gone off to places inaccessable to the average globe trotter. Wherever a natural beauty spot exists, wherever nature has reached a climax of her powers, wherever the genius of man has made a permanent memorial of his abilities, John L. Stoddard has followed with the mental and mechanical mirrors and reproduced the scene so that everyone can know of it and join in appreciation.

For Guns and Ammunition try Best's.

THE TRENT CANAL TERMINUS.

The Toronto News was quite within its rights and duty in referring to the inducements suggested by Hon. Mr. Aylesworth at Port Hope in reference to the surveys for the Trent Valley Canal terminus, though it takes, perhaps, a highly refined moral sense to see anything improper in such an assurance, as the letter of Sir Wilfrid Laurier contained, which only stated that both routes would be surveyed. There is nothing very wrong in that. It is well known that for years there has been the most energetic contentions made in favour of both routes and reasonable arguments have been urged in favour of both. Previous surveys may not have been as complete as necessary to determine absolutely the question of the relative merits of the two termini. The Examiner believes that the Trenton terminus has the decided weight of evidence as to utility of the resultant canal in its favour. A thorough survey will settle the question forever. If the Port Hope route is found to be the better in all respects it should be selected. If the Trenton route is superior, let that be selected. We shall have the canal anyway and freights to Peterborough will be cheapened as much one route as the other.

But the News did not discovered while it is criticizing Hon. Aylesworth and Sir. Wilfrid Laurier for promising to survey both routes that Mr. Borden at Peterborough was equally culpable. He was, as he admits, locally loaded up in regard to the merits of the Trent Canal, and made, on convictions, a few hours old, as explicit a promise — as direct a bid to secure votes—as a man could do under the circumstances. At least the Review thought so, for it printed his bid for votes in capital letters. If it did not think so, why did it differentate by the size of the type used, the canal promise from other portions of Mr. Borden's remarks? But the matter's not worth discussing from that point of view. Neither Mr. Aylesworth nor Mr. Borden are very much to blame. Both know that the canal must be built. The point is that Mr. Aylesworth can build it, and Mr. Borden cannot. The Laurier Government, which has spent twice as much on canal construction in eight years as the Conservatives did in eighteen years, and, therefore, four times as much, in proportion to the time opportunity each had, is bound to complete the work. The Government is committed to canal completion, and must continue the work. It has the power, is in a position to do so, and the work will be done. We don't blame Port Hope in the slightest degree for trying to secure the tremendous benefit which the termination of the canal at that town would be to it. When both terminal routes are surveyed, the best will be selected, and if it should prove to be Port Hope, that town can be congratulated. Peterborough, and Canada, will have the canal in any event.

MR. KENDRY AND IMMIGRATION.

Mr. Kendry complained at his meeting on Tuesday night that the Examiner had done him an injustice in misquoting his Saturday evening's speech. Mr. Kendry himself is mistaken. The Examiner only commented on the actual language used by Mr. Kendry. His actual words were taken down the moment they fell from his lips and the original notes are before us as we write and there is no mistake.

If Mr. Kendry repents of what he said—if he will say he didn't mean what he said, that he is sorry for it, then he can only be convicted of rash and unconsidered utterances. But so long as he persists in saying that he didn't say what he did say, then he must be held accountable for the words he used.

Treating of the immigration policy of the Government and its expenditure of $250,000 or $700,000, Mr. Kendry said, "I want to tell you we are bringing too many people into this country." Further on he said in reference to the Government, "they bring people into this country," and still further on he said, "I want to say to the labourers of this town that the Government is spending six or seven hundred thousand dollars a year to bring in immigrants. I will never vote for such a policy. I believe in having Canadian people only."

Whom would Mr. Kendry exclude Does he want to shut out Englishmen, Irishmen and Scotchmen? That's the class he must refer to if he blames the Government because "they bring people into this country." If Mr. Kendry turns to the immigration returns he will see that of the nearly 130,000 — 128,334 — brought into the country by the energetic Dominion Government last year, 41,792 were BRITISH, and 40,473 were American—British stock — many of them Canadians driven out of Canada by the policy of the Government which Mr. Kendry wants to restore—the balance from the north of Europe were hardy Swedes, &c. Why should Mr. Kendry want to keep out Englishmen, Irishmen and Scotchmen, which he must do if he carries out what he said on Saturday night—"I want Canadians only." Has Mr. Kendry reflected that last year the Englishmen brought in by the Dominion Government exceeded in numbers all the immigrants from European countries combined? There were 32,510 of them.

Mr. Kendry on Tuesday night said he referred to the Doukhobors. Isn't that a little stale? There hasn't been a Doukhobor brought into the country for five years. It's British immigrants that have the call now and Mr. Kendry "will vote against that policy."

At his Saturday night meeting, Mr. Kendry paid his respects to the Italians. Will Mr. Kendry be surprised to learn that since the Liberal Government came into power, there is not a record of a single Italian brought into Canada by the Immigration Department. Yet the Government is responsible — its administration has been attended with such great prosperity, that the Italians came of themselves — they found they were needed to do certain kinds of work. What would Peterborough have done this year if it had not been for Italian labour? How would the street railway have been built? How would our sewers have been built? Would Mr. Kendry have taken "Canadians only" from their good jobs, and put them digging in the sewer trenches? Has any Italian crowded any Canadian out of a job? Hasn't every Canadian that wanted a job this summer, and for years, and who has been willing to work, been able to get work at good wages? We need all classes in Canada; we need the skilled mechanic, and we have at present enough Canadians to fill that bill, and don't need to import them. We need also hewers of wood and drawers of water, which must come from abroad. What class of labour built the C. P. R.? What class of labour will be needed to build the G.T.P.R.? Let us talk as sensible men, not as demagogues appealing to prejudices and passions. And, above all,

Keep both hands on the full dinner pail.

The Review poked a good deal of fun at the picture of Sir Wilfrid Laurier at the Liberal Committee rooms, but it will find a better subject for sport in the alleged picture it printed last night of Mr. Kendry. It looked like a cross between a battered prize fighter and an archangel—pug on one side and angel on the other. Now Mr. Kendry is a good looking man—if he were as good a candidate as he looks as a man, he would be all right. He has a good cause for an action for damages.

CHALLENGE CUP FOR HAVELOCK RIFLEMEN

Hon. J. R. Stratton Will Donate Cup to Havelock Association.

Hon. J. R. Stratton has signified his intention of presenting to the Havelock Civilian Rifle Association, a cup, to be known as the "Stratton Challenge Cup," to be competed for yearly by the members of the Association named. The first competition for the cup will take place on the occasion of the annual rifle matches on October 24th to 28th, and the cup must be won three times in succession before it becomes the property of the winner.

Mr. P. Lancaster is the moving spirit in the Havelock Civilian Rifle Association, and the organization is a very popular one among the men of that village, who are taking a deep interest in it. The effort to encourage rifle shooting among the young men, is a commendable one, and in its encouragement Mr. Stratton has devoted the cup.

A NARROW ESCAPE FROM SUFFOCATION

Fred Thompson Passed Through a Trying Experience

Was Overcome by Coal Gas in Locomotive Fire Box—Was Unconscious When Taken Out.

Last night about 10 o'clock, Fred Thompson, a young man who has been employed for about a year at the engine house at the G. T.R. station as a cleaner, met with a very narrow escape from death.

He works at night in the engine house attending to the locomotives which are housed here, and last night he was engaged at his work as usual. He had occasion to go into the fire-box of a locomotive which was standing in the shed, to fix some bolts in the grate. The fire was out, and the engine was cold, but evidently all the gases had not escaped, for Thompson was overcome by the coal gas which had not entirely disappeared from the fire-box, and was found unconscious by one of the other men working around the engine house, after he had been in the box for about twenty minutes.

It was an extremely fortunate thing for the young man that he was discovered for had he been left there much longer he would have been dead. As it was he was almost lifeless, and after being taken to the Nicholls Hospital the doctors worked over him for hours before he finally recovered.

Inquiry at the hospital to-day gave the information that he was getting along as well as could be expected, but was very weak.

It will be some little time before he will be fully recovered, but no serious results are anticipated from the accident.

STRATHCONA'S VIEW

Mother Country Should Formulate a Policy Re Preference.

COMBATS CARNEGIE'S FACTS

London Express Points Out Unsettled Problems in United States That Will Give Canada Pause—Lord Wolseley Believes Britain Will Lose Colonies Unless Strong Action Is Taken.

London, Oct. 15.—(C.A.P.)—Lord Strathcona interviewed, said nothing can be further from the thoughts the people of Canada favor a system than cession to the United States. I am convinced on the contrary that Canada will draw still nearer to the Mother Country. The great bulk of the people of Canada favor a system of preference with the United Kingdom. It is for the Mother Country to formulate her policy with regard to a preference. Canada will give preference proposals her most favorable consideration.

"I am not a party politician, but I can speak of this for the matter has gone beyond party. It is now a matter of high politics."

Lord Strathcona pointed to the great influx into the Dominion during the past two years in contradiction to Andrew Carnegie's saying that Canada is not growing rapidly. "As to the loyalty of the Canadian people there is no question," said Lord Strathcona, speaking with emphasis.

Seas Colonies Lost.

London, Oct. 15.—Field Marshal Lord Wolseley, writing to the Secretary of the Lewes branch of the Reform League, said he firmly believed unless some strong action is taken by the people of this country in the direction aimed at by the league, we shall at no very distant time lose all our colonies, one after the other. Should the colonies leave us, we must, sooner or later, inevitably cease to be a first-class power, and will have but little influence in the direction of the world's great affairs.

Must Give Us Pause.

London, Oct. 15.—(C. A. P.)—The Morning Express, commenting on Andrew Carnegie's article, says his views theoretically are admirable. The United States have two grave problems to settle, which are unknown in the British Empire—the status of the black race and the unlimited power possessed by a few multi-millionaires. Apart from all question of loyalty, Canada can well afford to wait before joining the States until these problems are settled.

As to Preference.

London, Oct. 15.—(C. A. P.)—The Glasgow Herald says it is obvious Sir Wilfrid Laurier's speeches as Premier, while exhibiting under pressure a certain change on the part of the Cabinet from pure passivity to willingness to repeat the proposition of 1902 that the preference be mutual, carefully refrains from promising to begin till the omens for Great Britain are more favorable.

SUICIDE IN TORONTO.

Chas. McMain, a Well Known School Teacher, Victim of Despondency.

Toronto, Oct. 15.—Ill-health, inducing loss of position, and consequent despondency, caused Charles McMain, a school teacher in the Toronto public schools for 20 years, to shoot himself yesterday. He was 62 years of age, and was appointed to the teaching staff here in 1883, became principal of the Hamilton Street School, and in 1894 was reduced to assistant master in Bolton, and later in Morse Street School. In 1901 he resigned, and a few months ago commenced teaching at Thornbury, but resigned two months ago, and was living, with his wife, with his sister-in-law at 103 East Gerrard street.

Yesterday morning a shot was heard, and Mrs. McMain asked William Coleman, a nephew, to see what was wrong. McMain was in bed, and blood was running down his face. The revolver was not visible. Coleman left the room to get a towel, and returned to find McMain erect and preparing to send a second bullet into his brain, which Coleman was unable to prevent. McMain died in the ambulance while going to the hospital.

Deceased had been a sufferer for many years from diabetes. He leaves a wife, a daughter, Mrs. Flossie McLean of Collingwood, and son, Mr. Fred McMain, manager of the Royal Bank of Canada, Vancouver, B.C.

NOW HE CAN EAT WHAT HE LIKES

Mr. R. A. Barton Lost His Indigeston When he Found Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

"Now I can eat whatever is set before me asking no questions." Those are the words of Mr. R. A. Barton, well known in Toronto business circles, and living at 24 Tyndall avenue, Toronto. But Mr. Barton was not always in this happy state. He says:

"I had indigestion in its worst form. I consulted several doctors. Their treatment did me no good. As a last resort I tried Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. I took several boxes before they did me much good, but finally they had the desired effect. I heartily recommend Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets to anyone troubled with indigestion."

Costly Fishes.

The most beautiful and costly fishes in the world come from China, and the rarest of all is the brush tail goldfish. Specimens of these have sold for as high as £140 each, and in Europe the prices range from £50 to £100. The brush tail goldfish is so small that a half crown piece will cover it, and probably there is no living thing of its size and weight that is worth so much money.—London Mail.

A THOUGHTFUL PRIEST.

Points out to Mothers the way to Keep Their Children Well and Happy.

Rev. J. L. Francoeur, Casselman, Ont., is a kind hearted priest, who has done much to alleviate suffering among the little ones in the homes of his parishioners. Writing under a recent date, he says: "I must say that Dr. Williams' Baby's Own Tablets are deserving of the high praise they have had as a cure for the ailments of children. For the past eight months I have been introducing them in many families, and always, the mothers tell me, with perfect results. Their action is always effective, without any sickly reaction, and they are especially valuable in allaying pains in the head, fever in teething, nervousness, sleeplessness, spasms, cramps in the stomach and bowels, colic and other troubles. Their regulating action gives almost instant relief, and gives speedy cure. This is the most comforting experience that has come to my knowledge out of their judicious use. I am glad to give you my sincere testimony, and I will recommend the Tablets to all mothers and nurses of sick children as I have done heretofore."

These Tablets are sold by all medicine dealers or mothers can obtain them by mail at 25 cents a box by writing to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Redmond Welcomed Home.

Queenstown, Oct. 14.—John Redmond and his party, including J. J. O'Callahan of Boston, secretary of the United Irish League of America, were given a great reception upon landing from the steamer Baltic yesterday morning. In replying to addresses from the national bodies Mr. Redmond emphasized the immense success of his mission to America.

Shot By Himself.

Stony Mountain, Man., Oct. 14.—Wednesday afternoon, while out shooting, Redford Kilgour, aged 19, a prominent young man of this place, was accidentally shot. His shotgun discharged while he was driving along the road, about ten miles from here. The charge entered his right shoulder. He died shortly after, while on his way home.

Reeve Salmon Must Pay $800.

Hamilton, Oct. 14.—After deliberating for three hours a jury brought in a verdict of $800 for Miss Gawley, who sued Reeve Salmon, Binbrook, for $10,000. After promising to marry Miss Gawley, the aged reeve jilted her because his sisters were opposed to the match.

Giving a Mandate.

London, Oct. 14.—(C. A. P.)—Hon. Mr. Asquith, addressing his constituents at Leven, Fife, said that to vote for Premier Balfour was giving away the key of the citadel and giving a mandate to assemble a colonial conference on a preferential basis.

John Fletcher Drowns.

Port Arthur, Oct. 14.—A man named John Fletcher, who has been engaged on the dredge Kingsford, was drowned Wednesday night. He fell off of the bridge leading to the Canadian Northern elevator dock. Fletcher has friends in Toronto.

Canterbury Sails.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 14.—The Archbishop of Canterbury left Boston yesterday for New York, accompanied by J. Pierpont Morgan. The Archbishop will leave New York for England on the Cedric to-day.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

No one who is acquainted with its good qualities can be surprised at the great popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only cures colds and grip effectually and permanently, but prevents these diseases from resulting in pneumonia. It is also a certain cure for croup. Whooping cough is not dangerous when this remedy is given. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. It is also pleasant to take. When all of these facts are taken into consideration it is not surprising that people in foreign lands, as well as at home, esteem this remedy very highly and very few are willing to take any other after having once used it. For sale by all druggists.

SALFORD POISONING CASE.

Mrs. Dee Bought Strychnine in Ingersoll On August 5 Last.

Woodstock, Oct. 15.—It has been discovered that Mrs. Wm. Dee, who is in jail charged with poisoning her husband, purchased fifteen grains of stryohnine at Guyfer's drug store, in Ingersoll, on Aug. 5th, last, signing for it and stating that she wanted it to poison mice.

Bishop of Caledonia.

Montreal, Oct. 15.—The House of Bishops of the Anglican Synod has appointed Rev. F. H. Du Vernet, M. A., B.D., of Toronto Junction to the Bishopric of Caledonia in the secular Province of British Columbia. The appointment of the Bishop of Caledonia has heretofore been made by the Archbishop of Canterbury, and is now made for the first time by the House of Bishops in Canada. Mr. Du Vernet is out of town, but it is understood that he will accept.

Grain Survey Board.

Ottawa, Oct. 15.—The following have been appointed members of the Grain Survey Board, Winnipeg: Messrs. George V. Hastings, Samuel Spink, George R. Crowe, Robert Mair, W. W. McMillan, W. A. Black, Nicolas Bawlf, W. L. Parrish, Alex. Reid, W. H. McWilliams, James Hodd, James E. George.

Dead At 111.

Burlington, Vt., Oct. 15.—The funeral of Joseph King of Milton, Vt., 111 years old, was held here Thursday from St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church. Mr. King was born in Canada, and served during the Papineau rebellion in 1837. He is survived by six children—two sons and four daughters.

You will soon feel the benefit of this restorative treatment and can prove it by noting your increase in weight.

SHOPPING IN FEZ.

Pay Half the Price Demanded, Grab Your Goods and Go.

A white visitor to Fez, in Morocco, once went shopping in the bazaars of the city accompanied by a servant of the sultan, who told him to see to it that the shopper was not cheated by the greedy merchants. At the first shop visited the would be customer asked to be shown something that rested on a high shelf. The lazy merchant only yawned and said he would rather sell something from the floor, which he would not have to rise to get. This angered the sultan's servant, who not only made the merchant hand down the article required, but when the price was named laid down half the amount, grabbed the goods and made off.

The shopper protested, but the servant laughed and said it was the custom of the country. This was repeated at several shops without eliciting a protest. At one place, though, the merchant refused to give up his goods in that way and was rewarded by a boxed ear and an admonition not to ill treat the sultan's white friend.

Later the two visited the markets, where everything was sold at auction. The auctioneer seemed always to wear fewer clothes than any one else. His method of selling was curious. He would take a piece of goods from a nearby shopkeeper and start out to sell it on commission. Holding it as high as possible, he would call for a bid. Then he would start on the run around the market. If any one wished to examine the merchandise the auctioneer would drop it into his hands, take the bid if one was made and then resume his run around the place.

When he had made three circuits of the market he would turn the article over to the highest bidder.

THE DOCTOR SAID THAT HE MUST DIE

But Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured J. J. Perkins.

He was Unable to Work, and Becoming Destitute, Before He Used the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy.

Tyndall, Man., Oct. 14.—Special.—Unable to work because of Kidney Disease, pronounced incurable by the doctors, and fast becoming destitute, Mr. J. J. Perkins, of this place, found new life and health in Dodd's Kidney Pills. In his gratitude he wants all the world to know of the cure, and that he owes it to Dodd's Kidney Pills. Mr. Perkins says:—

"Aftertwo years of Kidney Trouble I got so bad the doctor said I was incurable. I got still worse and at times had such terrible pains in my back and kidneys that I thought I would die.

"I was unable to work and was becoming destitute when a friend persuaded me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. Five boxes cured me completely."

Russians Fight On.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 14.—Desperate fighting and heavy losses on both sides, with varying success for the Russians—such is the summing up of the situation by General Kuropatkin in a telegram filed Oct. 13. There is no sign of the battle slackening. On the contrary, Gen. Kuropatkin telegraphs that he had ordered the army to resume the fight with unabated vigor to-day. General Kuropatkin himself is in the thickest of the fighting, and General Sakharoff, his chief of staff, is personally directing reconnaisances. The conflict has been most desperate at the centre and on the west flank. The advance guards at these points had to be repeatedly reinforced, owing to the great pressure of the Japanese attacks. At nightfall, on Oct. 12, the Russian right was withdrawn from its main position, but one of the abandoned positions was retaken at the point of the bayonet during the night. Contrary to Field Marshal Oyama's report, no indication is given in General Kuropatkin's telegram of an enveloping movement by General Oku. The only positions captured by force were at the centre, where the Russians were compelled to retire during the afternoon. There is no mention of the loss of guns. The War Office maintains that even if it is true, it is of no material consequence.

WHAT IS ANTI-PILL?

A Somewhat Peculiar Name Explained —How Dr. Leonhardt Came to Call His Famous Prescription "Anti-Pill."

Dr. Leonhardt found in his practice that chronic constipation and its kindred complaints were the result of a dried-up condition of the mucous membrane lining of the stomach and bowels. He investigated further and found that this condition was invariably brought about by the use of cathartics, which all contain a certain amount of resinous matter.

After the first action of such medicines a resinous residue remains behind and this has a drying effect on the lining of the stomach and bowels.

He made up his mind to produce a medicine for all stomach and bowel derangements which would be entirely free from all resinous matter.

After much experiment he succeeded, and to emphasize the difference between his treatment and the old-fashioned treatments, he gave it the name "Anti-Pill."

Anti-Pill will cure dyspepsia, biliousness, or constipation perfectly and for ever—cure to stay cured—with no pill habit left to be overcome later.

Listowel, Oct. 14.—At the cheese fair held here to-day, nine factories boarded 2920 boxes—2346 white and 505 colored. The number of factories boarding was light to-day, many of them having sold out previous to the fair. On the board to-day one lot, Ethel, was sold at 9c, and most of the balance offered was sold on the street at 9c. In most cases the whole balance of the season was sold. The ruling price for cheese sold in the country before the fair was also 9c. Elma factory had not sold, and was holding for over 9c.

"Not a Christian."

Kingston, Oct. 15.—The Senate of Queen's University will have to deal with a serious charge made in a public place by one professor against the character of another. At the Bible Institute meeting in Sydenham Street Methodist Church Thursday night, Prof. Pike declared that Prof. John Marshall was not a Christian and that he held dangerous views and that he should not address the institute gathering. Prof. Marshall, it is understood, will ask the Senate to deal with the matter.

DRUGS AND THE EYES.

Certain Poisons That Have a Most Injurious Effect.

Certain poisons possess the property of acting in a decided manner on the eye. Atropine enlarges the pupil and for this purpose has become indispensable in ophthalmology. Santonin causes one to see yellow. Disturbances of vision have furthermore been observed as secondary effects of certain medicines; for instance, after the use of quinine, iodoform and naphthalin, which, in a case of intestinal catarrh, caused a cataract. The worm disease in the district of the Ruhr in Germany has furnished an opportunity for the observation that the popular fern root, much employed as a remedy, may give rise to serious ocular injury. The use of this remedy in the case of two miners led to incurable blindness.

In the trades there are also poisons which act especially upon the eye. Very dangerous, above all, is lead, which produces inflammation and atrophy of the optic nerve. "Workmen in mustard factories," says a German medical journal, "often suffer from inflammation of the cornea in consequence of the action of the mustard vapors upon the eye." Latterly serious visual disturbances have been produced by chloric oxide and chloric dioxide, poisonous vapors generated by the use of magnesium flashlight powders for photographic purposes.—Jewelers' Circular Weekly.

Women who Are Weak

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

CURES SUCH ILLS PERMANENTLY BY STRENGTHENING THE NERVES AND MUSCLES.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food stands high in women's favour because it is especially successful in overcoming ills peculiar to their sex.

When, on account of a run down condition of the system, the muscles and nerves fail to control the action of the feminine organism, there is bound to come much suffering.

Headaches, pains in the back and limbs, indigestion, feelings of discouragement and despondency, weakness and irregularity rob life of the joys which would otherwise be possible.

Stimulating medicines cannot possibly be of more than slight temporary relief. To be of lasting benefit the nerves and muscles must be fully restored by such treatment as is afforded by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Not only is the action and vigour of the bodily organs fully restored, but new, firm flesh is added, the form is rounded out, the weight is increased, and pallor gives gave to healthful glow of complexion which tells of the full enjoyment of health.

MRS. SYMONS, 42 St. Clair street, Belleville, Ont., states: "Some weeks ago I began a course of treatment with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and have found it a very satisfactory medicine. I was formerly troubled with nervous exhaustion and a weak fluttering heart. Whenever my heart troubled me I would have spells of weakness and dizziness which were very distressing. By means of this treatment my nerves have become strong and healthy, and the action of my heart appears to be regular. I can recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as an excellent medicine."

"1847" is the identifying mark of the genuine and original "Rogers Bros." Spoons, etc. Largest assortment of artistic designs, most heavily plated and carefully finished. Full trade mark. "1847 Rogers Bros."

FACES OF STATESMEN

HOW THEY PRESENT THEMSELVES TO F. C. GOULD, CARICATURIST.

Difficulties Encountered by British Cartoonist in Presenting Them to the Public—Some Whose Names Are Household Words With the Public Are the Despair of the Artist—Value of a Single Line.

The necessity for introducing into political caricatures and cartoons only those faces with which the public are absolutely familiar imposes what is often an irksome limitation upon the artist, says The Westminster Gazette. For instance, there are apparently 200 members of Parliament who have recently taken of the fiscal sop with Mr. Chamberlain, and yet if the cartoonist desires to predict the Prophet of Protection with his faithful ones, he will find that after he has gayly and unhesitatingly dashed in the familiar features of Mr. Henry Chaplin, Mr. Jesse Collings and Sir Howard Vincent, he is confronted with the supreme difficulty of finding any one else whose face and form can be made recognizable without a long and tedious course of instruction.

But some even of the most prominent of our statesmen whose names are household words present problems in portraiture which are the despair of the cartoonist. It is not that their faces are devoid of individuality and strong character; it is rather that the characterization is too subtle to allow of easy accentuation.

Take Mr. John Morley. His face is unlike that of any one else in the House of Commons, and yet over and over again as the lines travel over the paper the likeness vanishes with a single stroke in the wrong place. Then comes the India rubber or the knife, and the fleeing likeness has to be tracked again. To suggest a moustache would be a crime; whiskers are inadmissible, but the idea of a beard would be monstrous. But why not an eyeglass? The monocle is made for the smooth, keen face only, for on a fat, bearded face it may look funny if not fatuous.

I have often wondered why in the old days John Bright always appeared in Punch with an eyeglass, and I can only imagine that Tenniel, finding it a little difficult to accentuate features which had no very striking characteristics, adopted the monocle, in the same way that the straw was inserted in Lord Palmerston's mouth. And so accustomed were the readers of Punch to see these features that it is useless to declare that John Bright never wore an eyeglass and that Lord Palmerston was not always chewing straw.

It speaks much, therefore, for the conscientious self-sacrifice of the political caricaturists of to-day that they have not combined in any agreement to make Mr. John Morley's face more practicable for their pens and pencils by so simple an expedient. Biographers afflicted with the desire for accuracy may in the next generation insist that the eyeglass is incorrect, but what will that matter to us who by that time will be, to borrow a form of expression from one of the witnesses before the Chantrey Bequest Committee, more or less dead?

It would not be a bad idea if political caricaturists were to form a sort of union, so that when a new figure comes to the front to be added to the stock there shall be agreement as to the general lines of treatment so as to avoid confusion. The caricaturist who is first in the field with a new face has it all his own way and makes his own laws. An instance of this is the case of Lord Randolph Churchill. Mr. Harry Furniss annexed him at an early stage and interpreted him as a perky little personality with black buffalo-horn moustaches. The public accepted him in this form, and refused to know him as any other than "Little Randy," although as a mere matter of portraiture Lord Randolph was not short, and his moustache was not black.

Lord Rosebery, again, is a stumbling block, and costs cartoonists many a despairing hour in trying to render a presentable likeness. How much easier it would be if His Lordship would only adopt not only the eyeglass, but a moustache as well! The latter would not need to be large—indeed, a large moustache would not go well with the face, but a little neat one, slightly turned up on each side, like Count von Buelow's.

Mr. Winston Churchill is another politician whom the political caricaturist watches with interest, for the reason that he may one day have to be prominent on the pictorial stage. He may be said to have achieved cartoon rank as it is, and if he only had features which lent themselves to easily recognizable conventional treatment as readily as his father's he would probably be used more often.

Between the late Lord Randolph Churchill and his son Winston there is absolutely no resemblance in likeness, although there are to be seen every now and then subtle and fleeting suggestions which show that resemblance is sometimes a matter quite outside lines of form and feature. Winston Churchill's face is, from the caricaturist's point of view, which I call an elusive one, by which I mean that the more you try to get it the more you lose it.

The conclusion of the matter, from the political caricaturist's point of view, is that if a politician has ambition it is important that he should accentuate his personality so that he may be chosen as being easy to represent rather than avoided as being difficult. The methods of this accentuation may vary, and the suggestions I have ventured to put forward are modest and simple, although I admit that they may be based on the selfish desire to be spared trouble in getting likenesses. Their importance I do not attempt to deny, for if a political caricaturist cannot be impertinent, who can be?

Going for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Don't put yourself in this man's place, but keep a bottle of this remedy in your home. There is nothing so good for Colic, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery and Diarrhoea. It is equally valuable for Summer Complaint and Cholera Infantum and has saved the lives of more children than any other medicine in use.

When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take.

You, or some one of your family, are sure to need this remedy sooner or later and when that time comes you will need it badly; you will need it quickly. Why not buy it now and be prepared for such an emergency? Price, 35 cents.

De Miracle

It is better than electricity, because it does not scar or produce a new growth. Better than X-ray, because it does not burn, scar or paralyze the tissues under the skin. Better than depilatories, because it is not poisonous; therefore, it will not cause blood poisoning, or produce eczema, which is so common with depilatories, and does not break off the hair, thereby increasing its growth.

Electrolysis, X-ray or depilatories are offered you on the bare word of the operators and manufacturers. DE MIRACLE is not. It is the only method which is indorsed by physicians, surgeons, dermatologists, medical journals and prominent magazines.

DE MIRACLE will be mailed to any address, sealed in plain wrapper for $1. Your money back without question if it fails to do all that is claimed for it.

Our booklet — the most complete treatise on Superfluous Hair ever published—containing the testimonials of numerous physicians and surgeons and those of hundreds of others—will be sent free, in plain, sealed envelope, upon request. PRESIDENT C.M.A.

Sketch of Mr. William Kerr George, the New Incumbent.

Mr. William Kerr George, who was elected President of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association in Montreal recently, was born in Kingston, Ont., in 1851. His father was the Rev. Dr. George, the Vice-Principal of Queen's College. Mr. George received his early education in the Kingston Collegiate, and in the Galt Collegiate, under Dr. Tassie, and later was a member of the class of 1883 in Toronto University. In PRESIDENT W. K. GEORGE, C.M.A.

1883 Mr. George went to Manitoba and carried on a general business in what was known as "Plum Creek," but is now called Souris. From there he went to Chicago, and returning to Toronto a little over ten years ago he organized The Standard Silver Company, Limited, of which company he is now President and Managing Director. Among some of the other important positions Mr. George fills is that of managing director of the Simpson, Hall, Miller Company, Limited, director and Chairman of the manufacturers' section of the Canadian National Exhibition, and Vice-President of the National Club. Mr. George was the first Chairman of the Toronto branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and has held the offices of Ontario Vice-President and First Vice-President.

He Scored Off Whistler.

One of the keepers at Windsor on one occasion scored neatly off the late James McNeil Whiseler, who was making a study of a picturesque clump of oaks.

Mr. Whistler could not endure to have anyone watch him while he was painting. He turned sharply to the intruder, with the fixed and angry stare peculiar to him.

"You oaf!" he exclaimed. "You loutish clodhopper! Don't you know better than to stand there annoying me? What possible interest can you take in what I am doing?"

"Bless me," cried the man, "don't get excited, sir! I meant no harm; but I never in all my life, sir, saw an artist painting two pictures at once!"

"Two pictures!" exclaimed Whistler, bewildered.

"So I said, sir," replied the keeper quietly; "and I'm blessed, sir, if I don't like the one you've got your thumb through the best of the two!" And he pointed to the great palette, smeared with every conceivable tint, that Mr. Whistler held in his left hand.

THE CAMEL'S HEAD.

"Where the camel's head goes his body follows," says an Oriental proverb. It's the same way with disease. A small opening will give it an entrance and when disease once has a place in the body a large number of ills may follow it.

The opening for disease is often found in a "weak" stomach. When the stomach is "weak" the body also becomes weakened by lack of nutrition, and disease attacks the heart, liver, lungs, kidneys and other organs.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the weak stomach strong. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, and so enables the body to resist or throw off other diseases.

Men and women who are sick are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free, and so obtain without charge the opinion of a specialist on their ailments. All correspondence strictly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"For the past two years I have been a very sick woman," writes Mrs. Chesley, of 108 Woodland Ave., Cleveland, Ohio. "I tried medicines from doctors and to no avail. At last I decided to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When I started I was all run-down and had a very unpleasant taste in my mouth. Was choked up, and at times it was very hard for me to breathe. I had severe headaches and cutting pains in my knee joint. Was so weak I could not attend to my work nor walk up or down stairs without the assistance of my brother or some friend. I am now taking the fourth bottle, and am happy to say I feel like myself again. I can go up and down stairs and perform my duties as well as any one. Everything seems to be brighter, and I can assure you that life is worth living."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing just as good for dyspepsia or debility.

What the Nice Gentleman Said.

A certain gushing lady took her four-year-old daughter to a photographer. The little one could not be made still. The camera man was as nice and suave as he could be, called the child all the sweet, endearing names he could think of, while using every device of gentle persuasion to make the little wiggler keep still. Finally he turned to the despairing mother and said.

"Madam, if you will leave your darling with me for a few minutes I think I can succeed in taking her lovely face to perfection."

The mother withdrew for a short time. Soon the photographer summoned her back and exhibited a highly satisfactory negative. When they reached home the mother asked:

"Nellie, what did that nice gentleman say to you when I left you alone with him?"

"Well, he thaid," lisped Nellie, "'If you don't thit sthill, you ugly thquint eyed monkey, I'll thake the life out of you.' Then I that very thtill mamma!'"

Foiled In.

"Madge, Harry asked me to marry him last night."

"Oh, I am delighted," replied her friend. "How did it happen?"

"Well, you see, he just asked me, and I said 'Yes,' and then he stood up and folded his arms."

"Well, I never! Was he not more interested than that? Whatever did you do at such treatment?"

"What could I do? You see, I was in his arms when he folded them."

MILITARY DISCIPLINE.

A Little Passage Between a German Colonel and a Lieutenant.

The noted soldier and historian Theodore Ayrault Dodge was educated in Berlin, and at a dinner party, apropos of Germany military discipline, he once said:

"The German soldier must never appear in public except in uniform. Even when he is on furlough he must not under any circumstances wear civilian dress.

"Well, Swartz, a young lieutenant of cavalry, during my residence in Berlin was one day engaged in some adventure or other and put on, to disguise himself, a suit of black cloth. Dressed in this suit, he was passing down an unfrequented street when he came face to face with his colonel.

"Detected in so grave a misdemeanor, Swartz proved himself the possessor of a resourceful mind. He said to the colonel in a bass voice different from his own:

"'Can you tell me, sir, where Lieutenant Swartz lives? I am his brother from the country, and I have come on to pay him a visit.'

"The colonel readily and politely gave the required information and passed on.

"The lieutenant congratulated himself on his escape. He hurried home and put on his uniform. Duty late that afternoon called him before the colonel again. He saluted with confidence. The colonel regarded him oddly.

"'Lieutenant Swartz,' he said, 'I wish you'd tell your brother from the country that if he pays you another visit I'll put him in close confinement for ten days.'"

A Team.

"Between the two, Jones and his wife cover a good deal of lingual ground."

"How so?"

"Well, he makes a good after dinner speech and she makes a good before breakfast one."

THE TWO HEADED SNAKE.

A Boa Constrictor That Has a Very Deceptive Tail.

Every now and then some traveler tells of a two headed snake which exists in Egypt, and whenever the narrator hasn't seen the snake himself, he is more or less disposed to assert that there really is a snake with two heads in Egypt, because he has been told about it by many reliable persons.

Indeed, sometimes a traveler who has actually caught a glimpse of the snake is likely to declare that it truly is two headed, for the serpent certainly appears to be so when seen only by chance.

It is only when the snake is actually taken up and examined closely that the truth is revealed.

The two headed snake is not a poisonous serpent. It is only a boa constrictor, and it is fairly common. But it is so secretive that it hides away in its sandy burrows almost constantly. It is strangely formed in so far that its tail, instead of tapering off to a point as the tails of other snakes do, widens out into a bludgeon shape, thus making it look so utterly unlike a tail that it is almost impossible to think it is anything but a head when the snake is seen for only a moment.

To add to the deception, jugglers catch these boas and paint jaws and eyes on the tail. The work is so carefully done that only a trained observer can distinguish the real head from the false. Thus the story of the two headed snake has obtained wide circulation, and has even crept into the books of otherwise accurate writers.

But the second "head" is only a tail after all.—Exchange.

Room For Improvement.

At a dinner given by Sir Joshua Reynolds, at which were present Garrick, Johnson, Fox and others, Dr. Bernard, the dean of Derry, had asserted that after the age of forty-five a man does not improve. "I differ with you, sir," said Johnson. "A man may improve, and you yourself have great room for improvement." The dean was confounded and for the instant silent. Recovering himself, he remarked, "On reflection I see no cause to alter my opinion, unless I were to call it improvement for a man to grow—which, I allow, he may—positive, rude and insolent and save arguments by brutality."

Impossible.

Tommy was telling his mother about the wonderful things he saw at the country fair. When he claimed to have seen a monster pig that was bigger than his father his mother accused him of exaggerating.

"It is impossible," she said.

Should Be Grateful.

"Yes, sir, Charley says Miss De Witt made a perfect monkey out of him."

"Has he thanked her yet for the improvement she brought about?"

E. A. G., Ont.—A mare three years old is lame in the off fore foot and leg. A veterinary surgeon said the lameness is in the coffin-joint, and blistered for it, but she is no better. When standing she points the lame foot about twelve inches in front of the other foot. After standing in the stable over one day she appears stiffened up in both fore legs.

Ans.—Your colt has navicular disease, for which there is no cure. She was probably bred from a stallion or mare suffering from the disease. All you can do to relieve it is to put on a good blister and turn out to grass in a week's time.

This is a reprint of clipping from a recent issue of the Montreal "Family Herald and Weekly Star." The veterinary who answered the inquiry could not here advise the use of "Ideal" Pads without giving Dunlop a free advertisement. The pads would give this mare a longer working life.

DIAMOND HALL

DEATH OF MRS. THOMAS HICKEY

Old Resident of Peterborough Died After 15 Years' Illness.

The death occurred last night about 9.30 o'clock, after an illness of fifteen years, of Mrs. Thomas Hickey, at the age of 60 years. The deceased lady had been living with her son, James, on Elm street, for some years, and for the last fifteen years had been a great sufferer from rheumatism, from which disease she died.

The deceased, whose maiden name was Bridget Griffin, was a daughter of the late Anthony Griffin, of town, and a sister of the late Joseph Griffin, also of Peterborough.

They came to Canada in 1847 from Ireland, when the deceased was very young, and has since then lived in this town. At the time that the late Mrs. Hickey came to this country, a number of other families also settled here, among them being the McFadden family.

Mr. Hickey predeceased his wife 25 years ago, and there are left six sons and two daughters. The sons are: William, of Webbwood; Thomas, of Minneapolis, and Joseph, Michael, Edward and James, of Peterborough. The daughters are Miss Minnie and Mrs. F. Whaley, of town. One daughter, Mrs. George Evans, died some years ago. It was just two weeks ago that the deceased's sister, Mrs. Abraham Bald, of Rochester, died. One sister survives her, Mrs. J. McNamara, of Buffalo. A brother, Joseph, died 12 years ago.

The funeral will take place on Monday morning at 9 o'clock from the family residence, Elm street, to St. Peter's Cathedral and the Roman Catholic Cemetery.

FORMER RESIDENT OF OTONABEE DEAD

Mrs. John McGuire Died Thursday in Seymour Township.

A former resident of Otonabee, Mr. John McGuire, died in Seymour township, county of Northumberland, on Thursday night, after being ill for about a year, the cause of his death being old age. The late Mr. McGuire was 75 years of age, and was born in Otonabee, and until about 20 years ago lived in that township, about three miles from Peterborough afterwards removing to Seymour. He was a son of Lawrence McGuire, and was married to Ellen Lahane, who survives him. One son, Sarsfield, lives at home, and Rev. Father McGuire, Brighton, is a son. The other members of the family are living in the United States.

The funeral will take place on Monday afternoon from the C.P.R. station on the arrival of the 5.10 train from Norwood, and proceed to St. Peter's cathedral, and to the Roman Catholic cemetery, where interment will take place.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER BROCK STREET RINK NEXT THURSDAY

"First Statesman of Greater Britain" in Peterborough.

Great Liberal Rally in Interests of Mr. R. R. Hall, Liberal Candidate—Regular Saturday Night Rally To-night in Committee Rooms.

Preparations are well advanced for the grand Liberal Rally on Oct. 20th, and the prospects are that it will be the most important and inspiring political demonstration ever known to Peterborough.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier will arrive on the 11.45 Grand Trunk train from Orillia, where he speaks on the preceeding night, and though the details of the reception are not yet definitely settled, it is probable that, after luncheon, the Premier will be driven about town and be given an idea of the great industrial expansion that has come to Peterborough during his premiership and under the application of the Liberal policy.

In the evening, preceding the meeting a torch-light procession will be held, in which several bands will participate, and following it, the meeting will be held in the Brock street rink, the west side of which has been reserved for ladies and their escorts.

Addresses will be given by the Premier, the candidate and other prominent speakers. Special arrangements have been made with the C.P.R. for special rates from Havelock on the east, and Pontypool on the west. From these and intermediate stations single return fare tickets will be sold, good coming on the 20th and returning on the 21st.

On the G.T.R. a special train will leave for Lakefield after the meeting, and special rates on this line will also be given.

To-night the usual Saturday night rally will take place in the auditorium of the committee rooms. Some short, pointed addresses will be given, and all are invited to be present.

Mr. Hall will hold a meeting in Centreville on Monday night, when the candidate and Hon. J. R. Stratton will speak, and on Friday night a meeting will be held in Young's Point.

SCHOOL TEACHERS WILL CONVENE

Peterborough County Teachers will Hold Convention

Thursday and Friday of Next Week in the Y. M. C. A. Building, Peterborough—The Programme.

The annual convention of the Peterborough County Teachers' Association, will be held in the Y.M.C.A. Building, Peterborough, on Thursday and Friday, October 20th and 21st, four sessions being held. Teachers from all over the county will be in attendance, and it is expected that the convention will be one of the most interesting in the history of the Association. The convention will open at 10.30 on Thursday morning, the address of the president, Mr. R. H. Leighton, of Norwood, being the first item on the programme. The report of the Ontario Educational Association presented by Mr. D. L. Somerville, will also be given at this session, which will close with the roll call.

On Thursday afternoon, the session will open with a forty-five minute talk on Geography, by Mr. J. C. Brown, County School Inspector, followed by an address on "Writing," by Mr. S. W. E. Hill. The afternoon session will close with an address, "The Empire Idea in History," by Rev. W. Tandy, M.A., Havelock.

No evening session will be held on Thursday night, giving the teachers an opportunity of hearing Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in the Brock street rink.

On Friday morning business will commence at 9.30, when the report of the Ontario Educational Association, will be continued by Miss Simpson. Mr. S. G. Cowan, B.A., will address the convention on "The Simple Rules," and this will be followed by a discussion of thirty minutes on the Half Day System, led by Mr. J. Coyle Brown. The latter part of this session will be devoted to a study of the subject of Geography. An address will be given by Miss Kirkpatrick.

The last session, that to be held Friday afternoon, will be opened by Mr. S. Smithson, who will give a talk on History, which will be followed by an address on "The Aim of Literature," Mr. J. Coyle Brown will again give an address, his subject being "Public School Programme." Fifteen minutes will be devoted to the conduction of a question drawer, the reception of resolutions, etc. An interesting feature of the session will be the discussion on Nature Study, led by Mr. J. A. Fife, B.A., who will give "A Talk on a Family of Birds." This should be most interesting, since the study of nature has recently been given so much attention in the schools.

PETERBOROUGH BOYS WON MANY PRIZES.

Alan and Gordon Campbell Captured 6 Firsts and Two Seconds at T. C. S. Sports.

The annual field day of sports in connection with Trinity College School, was held at Port Hope Thursday. The various events were closely contested, the entry list being an unusually large one, as many as 47 being entered in one of the races. As usual the Peterborough young men were prominent in the prize winning. The only entries of local boys were Alan and Gordon Campbell, sons of Mr. P. Campbell, and their showing was certainly a splendid one. Between them they captured six first and three second prizes, winning four handsome silver cups, pair of gold cuff links, gold stick pin, two silver jewel cases.

Alan's record was as follows:
First in quarter mile.
First in broad jump.
First in 100 yards dash.
First in 220 yards dash.
First in Montreal challenge quarter mile race.

Gordon took second in the quarter mile, second in the potato race, first in Littleside handicap, second in 100 yards dash.

Alan also won the Littleside championship by scoring the highest number of points in athletics throughout the year.

The Examiner extends congratulations to these young men on their splendid success.

We Know Our Furs and Guarantee Them

WHERE so much has to be taken for granted, as is the case when you buy Furs, one naturally believes in purchasing where they can have implicit confidence in the knowledge and the truthfulness of the people who sell them.

In the making of Furs, (taking Fur Jackets as an instance) we use only whole skins, not only in the building of the body, but in the unseen parts as well, the undercollars and the undersleeves—these are the parts where unscrupulous furriers resort to piecing. The Taping and Joining is all done by Expert Furriers, the Linings are made of Linen Back and Silk Back Satins specially imported by us in the extra heavy weights.

A Garment made in this manner will last a lifetime if given fair treatment. Then there is the extreme Stylishness our Furriers infuse into these Fur Garments. It is generally conceded our Designs are always ahead of most dealers in their newness, and the Trimmings and Finish are magnificent.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS' CONVENTION

Provincial Association Will Meet in Hamilton This Month.

The coming Provincial Convention of the Ontario Sabbath School Association at Hamilton, October 25, 26, 27, promises to be one of the best Conventions in the history of the Province. The place of meeting is admirably adapted for a large gathering of workers, and the hospitality for which Hamilton is noted will no doubt be submitted to a very considerable test.

The programme is rich and varied, some of the chief features being "Child Study in Relation to Religious Life," by Principal William Scott, of the Toronto Normal School; "The Influence of the Sunday School on the Character of the Community," by Alfred Day, General Secretary of the Michigan Sabbath School Association; "The Kingdom of God Symbolized, Idealized and Developed in Childhood," by Rev. L. E. Hughson, B.D., Windsor; "The Source of our Inspiration," by Rev. F. B. Hewitt, Hamilton; "A Profitable Investment of Time, Means, and Influence," by Rev. J. J. Redditt, Barrie; "The Child's Growth, with its New Problems for the Teacher," by Dr. Tracy, Toronto University; "How to Teach a Child Patriotism," by Rev. Dr. Spence, Toronto; "Some Elements in Sunday School Work that enter into the Moral Character," by Rev. Alex. MacGillivray, Toronto; "Why every Christian should Engage in Sunday School Work," by Rev. Dr. Francis Perry, Toronto; "The Fight for Institutions and a National Environment that will Aid in the Development of Moral Character," by Rev. T. Albert Moore, Secretary of the Ontario Lord's Day Alliance; "Teacher Training," by E. A. Hardy, the recently appointed Teacher-Training Secretary of the Ontario Sabbath School Association.

In addition to the foregoing, Mrs. H. Elizabeth Foster, State Primary Superintendent of New York, and one of the best primary experts in America, will deliver several addresses, and Rev. W. E. Hassard will conduct conferences on the "Home Department and House-to-House Visitation."

Sunday School Workers generally are urged to make this the greatest convention in the history of the Ontario Sabbath School Association, and there is every indication of a record being made. All Sunday Schools may appoint representatives in the ratio of one for each hundred or fraction of a hundred on its roll. For billets and information, delegates should apply to the Secretary of the Association, rooms 99-103, Confederation Life Building, Toronto, before October 20th.

Miss Anna Gordon supported by a capable company of artists will appear at the Opera House, Tuesday, Oct. 18th. Prices 25c, 35c and 50c. 5d

Will You Need A Gown or Suit

BY NOVEMBER OR DECEMBER?

October has been exceptionally cool and frosty, and accounts in large measure for the unusual rush in our Dress-making Department this Fall.

We have, however, made preparations for a very large season's trade in this department. Many of the New Fabrics for Suitings and Gowns have been sold out or cut into, but are re-inforced with later up-to-the-minute Patterns. These have been specially selected for every-day wear, such as Handsome House Gowns, Street Costumes, etc.—beautiful and Stylish Products of the Masters of Fashion, at prices well within reach of frugal minds and modest purses.

Would You Like a Gown or Suit Made by November or December?

If so and your order is not already on our list, drop us a Post Card, naming the time, and we will be glad to reserve you a place. The Material and Trimmings can be chosen at your convenience

TERRIBLE DEFEAT FOR THE RUSSIANS

Overwhelmed in Bloodiest of Battle, Losing Forty Thousand Men.

JAPS LOSE TWENTY THOUSAND

Kuropatkin's Attempt to Relieve Port Arthur Has Utterly Failed--The Japs Take Hundreds of Prisoners, Guns and Ammunition.

Tokio, Oct. 17.—Lengthy reports from the field received yesterday, and published last evening, are as follows:

"Right Army.—The force of the enemy which opposed the right flank of the right army, holding the vicinities of Tumentsu (Tumin) and Pa Passes, engaged our detachment, which was sent to Benshu, but was unable to keep his ground on Oct. 14, and showed signs of retreat. The commander of the army then ordered the Benshu detachment to hotly pursue the enemy toward the east and north. The detachment immediately formed itself into two detachments and pursued the enemy toward Pintaitzu and the Hsiata (Sakhe?) River, driving the enemy before them.

"The enemy, who had retreated, stopped at Pieniuhungpo and is fortifying that place.

Advance to Sha River.

"The right column of the army, which has been engaging the enemy near Chiaoksientin (Chaohsin Pass), observing that the enemy showed signs of retreat, immediately gave chase toward Taichaiku, while the centre and left columns, co-operating attacked the forces of the enemy which were occupying positions near Siku Mountain and defeated them. These columns immediately advanced in a line on the Sha (Sakhe?) River.

"The enemy opposing the left column was about one division strong, and fled in confusion towards Fenpips. His artillery is still holding a position near Ta Pass and is bombarding us.

A body of our supports, which had been driving a small force of the enemy before it since the morning of the 14th, took possession of the Waita Mountain. Observing that the enemy, from the movements of his wagon column, was commencing a retreat, this body of our supports immediately pursued him, sending a portion of its detachment to Sungshutsizu (Chingtuitzu?)

"Centre Army.—After attacking and dislodging the forces of the enemy which were holding Changlintzu, Putsaowa, Tungchafen and the vicinity of these places, the centre army has been driving them north of the Sha River since the morning of Oct. 14, and has reached and now holds a line on the river.

"Left Army.—The main strength of the right column of this army was directed against Huangchiatien. It drove the enemy northward, and at 1 o'clock on the afternoon of Oct. 14 it mastered the heights in that vicinity.

"The centre column, after defeating the enemy on the eminences south of Shebang, seized the positions which he had been holding.

"A portion of the centre column, which was directed against Linchenpao, co-operating with a portion of the left column, fought a fierce battle, and at 4 o'clock in the afternoon stormed and captured Linchenpao. Our forces are now chasing the enemy.

"The Russian force holding Linchenpao consisted of more than a regiment of infantry, with two batteries of artillery, and this force is now retreating toward Sugantai, where the Russians are halting. A portion of the centre column is pursuing the enemy toward Yuboyun.

"The forces of the enemy opposing the left wing of the left army at Changliangpo and neighborhood, where the left column was engaged by them, gradually obtained reinforcements, and at 8 o'clock in the afternoon made a counter attack, but they were successfully repulsed by our left column. The strength of the enemy opposing the left column was fully four regiments of infantry, with 10 batteries of artillery."

"From Oct. 10 to Oct. 14 the result of the continuous fighting has been favorable in every direction, while the enemy's strength was always superior. Not only was the enemy defeated, but he was vigorously pursued by us, our forces pressing him against the left bank of the Hun River and inflicting upon him heavy loss.

Russians Lose Thirty Guns.

"The guns captured number more than 30, and the prisoners taken number several hundred. Thus the object of the enemy has been completely frustrated and his offensive movement has ended in final failure.

"The corpses left by the enemy at different points are too numerous to be easily counted. The enemy's loss cannot be easily ascertained, owing to the continuance of the fighting, but they must exceed 30,000.

"The trophies, besides the guns, include an enormous quantity of ammunition, wagons and rifles. They are still uncounted. The Russian corpses left on the field between Oct. 10 and Oct. 13, and buried by us exceeded 2,000 in number. The bodies left after the fighting on Oct. 14 are very numerous. Our casualties Oct. 11 and 12 were 15 officers killed, 46 wounded and 1,250 men killed and wounded.

"The enemy defeated by the Sienchuang garrison Oct. 10 appears to have halted at Pintienshan. According to prisoners captured, the Russian force formerly stationed at Lutahotzu lost 60 killed and wounded. The Japanese loss was three officers and a few men wounded."

Russians Fight For Pride.

Mukden, Oct. 17.—There was a lull in the battle Saturday, but fighting was continued on the right.

The army is southwest of here 10 miles.

It is now certain that the army will be able to extricate itself.

The losses amount to 30,000. It has been a bigger battle than that of Liaoyang.

The Russians were attacking on the right yesterday.

The firing to the southwest is less violent. The men are tired out and food has been insufficient. Every available man and gun is being used.

The troops have behaved most gallantly, hurling themselves repeatedly against impregnable positions.

The heavy storm of Oct. 14 added to the misery of the troops. There is great depression but stolid tenacity among the men. There has been great sacrifice of officers.

The plain occupied by the retiring Russians is covered with bursting shrapnel. The gunners shoveled shells into the breaches of the guns as stokers shovel coal into furnaces.

Howitzers are used by the eastern army. The Russian guns have superior range and burst shrapnel at 6,000 yards.

There is scarcity of reliable maps.

Two divisional commanders have lost their chief staff officers, one of them being killed, and many commanding officers have met death heroically leading their regiments.

Shrapnel fell near Gen. Kuropatkin. He showed desperate energy and even in the darkest remained hopeful.

There was a cessation of hostilities Saturday.

Neither side can stand many such tests, the ferocity being frightful.

The Russians are now fighting as a matter of pride; Manchuria is forgotten. They feel that they cannot stop—that they must win one battle.

Last evening the Japanese seem no nearer. Fires are burning to the south. About 12 miles from here the eastern army is retiring without fighting.

Kuropatkin Praises Japanese.

Mukden, Oct. 17.—In an informal talk which the Associated Press correspondent had with Gen. Kuropatkin, in the field just before the battle commenced on the 15th, he spoke in glowing terms of the bravery of the Japanese, saying that they were a gallant foe, and also that they were most correct in the observance of the rules of war. In this respect he said it was the most pleasant war he had ever been engaged in.

Baltic Fleet Sails.

Libau, Oct. 17.—The Baltic squadron put to sea at 1 o'clock yesterday morning.

Copenhagen, Oct. 17.—During yesterday the Baltic squadron passed Bornholm Island in two sections. It comprised a total of six battleships, eleven cruisers and numerous smaller craft, and was going northeast.

Japs Make Canal.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 17.—It is announced that the Japanese have constructed a canal joining the Taitse and Hun Rivers, facilitating transportation to Sianchan from Yinkow.

The Fighting Continues.

Mukden, Oct. 17.—The battle was renewed and continued throughout the night, being especially heavy at midnight. The Russians retain their position along the Shakhe River, and have made frequent attacks upon the Japanese, capturing six of the latter's guns. The eastern army is helping the western forces. There has been very heavy artillery fire yesterday. The fighting is now centred on the plain.

"Who Is Guilty."

Vienna, Oct. 17.—A few hours after the first news of the disaster at Yental a revolutionary broadsheet was circulated in St. Petersburg. Under the heading "Who is Guilty?" it said: "The murderers of Russian liberty hope vainly to escape God's punishment. A people degraded into slavery cannot do heroic deeds for their oppressors. Double and treble the army, and yet you will succumb. General Kuropatkin is not guilty, but the system of corruption that is dwelling in the Czar's palaces."

POINTS OF LAURIER'S GREAT TORONTO SPEECH.

"If we stumbled on the preference, as Mr. Foster says we did, it was not that kind of thing the Government he was connected with used to stumble on. It stumbled on ignoble things, on faction, conspiracy, bolting and revolt."

"The name of Aylesworth has travelled through the length and breadth of our land, and he is appreciated, not only in his native province, but wherever the British flag flies on the continent of North America."

"I am prepared to admit that in some purely departmental matters we have been led into error."

"The charges brought against us are, after all, very small, very minute and very trifling. If compared with the offences proven against those who are now in Opposition, when they were in office, they are simply of the weight of a feather against a mountain of iniquity."

"There is not here, or in this country, a single man who does not feel prouder in his heart to-day to call himself a Canadian than he was eight years ago."

"We spent our time trying to improve for the Canadian people the benefits that Providence had showered upon us."

"Our preference to Great Britain thrilled the British people, inspired the greatest living English-speaking poet to one of his noblest poems, and raised the name of Canada before all the world."

"If the Government had done no more than bring Canada to the front as it has done, there would be in that a cause for a renewal of the support you have given us for the last eight years."

"Shall we be content to grope in the gutter, and not direct our steps towards our higher destiny?"

"If there is one thing I have learned during the years I have been in office, it is this — that if we had to keep on the best possible relations with these neighbours of ours, it is necessary for us to be independent of them at every point."

"The Conservatives took many soundings before they at last found their moorings on the G.T.P. They wobbled, and they wobbled, and they wobbled."

"The scheme (Mr. Borden's) has just the life of the rose—it was blooming one morning and gone the next."

"There are men mad enough and blind enough to propose that we should extend the Intercolonial to the Pacific Coast in face of the fact that for its present length it has never paid running expenses, under there carried over the line, to see the manufactured goods of Ontario and Quebec carried into the North-west Territories for the use of the settlers, to see the goods of Asia, of Japan, the new nation, of China, the old nation, passing over that railway to the harbours of Great Britain."

"Let me tell you, my countrymen—all the signs point that way—the twentieth century shall be the century of Canada."

"For the next seventy-five years, nay, for the next hundred years, Canada shall be the star towards which all men who love progress and freedom shall come."

"I am simply a Canadian like yourselves, coming from a neighbouring Province, trying the best I can to unite our common people. Men of Toronto, I ask you to sink the petty miserable squabbling which divided us in the past, unite with us and take your share in the grand future which is before us."

"To you young boys in the gallery, the hope of the country, you who have life before you, let my prayer be simply this: From this day forth never look simply at the horizon, as it may be limited by the limits of a Province, but look beyond, all over the continent, all over the world, wherever the British flag floats, and let your motto be, 'Canada first, Canada last, and Canada forever.'"

SPRINGVILLE ITEMS.

Mr. Levi S. Bowles is confined to his room the result of a fall from an apple tree. He was engaged in picking apples on Saturday last, when a limb broke, causing him to fall several feet to the ground, alighting on his shoulder and receiving bruises on his head and shoulder. He is recovering slowly.

Mr. G. H. Clarke, who resides on the 8th Concession of Cavan, had the misfortune to have his house burned last night about 11 o-clock. His mother was awakened by the plaster falling from the ceiling. She aroused the family from their slumbers in the nick of time. Mr. Clarke had a narrow escape from suffocation. His nephew, George Clarke, went to a neighbor's for assistance, unknown to Mr. Fred. Clarke, who missed him. He supposed him to be in the house and secured a ladder and entered through an upstair window. After searching in vain for several minutes he was overcome by the smoke and only by a miracle succeeded in reaching the window and exit.

There was scarcely anything saved. There is a small insurance. Mr. Clarke has the sympathy of the neighborhood in his loss.

Those in this section who have been endeavouring to secure better shipping facilities are pleased to see evidence of the success of their efforts by the C. P. R. building a spur line for the handling of freight and the accommodation of the shipping interests of this neighborhood. Those interested in the shipping of live stock, potatoes, etc., are especially thankful. Extensive improvements for the accommodation of the passenger traffic, which is so satisfactory to the railway company, has been promised and expected to be accomplished in a short time.

The Bell Telephone Co., through their agent at Peterborough, Mr. Dean, has promised improvements in our telephone system, which has proved such a convenience since its completion. Mr. Dean and Mr. F. S. Wilson has been canvassing for new subscribers. They have secured several and expect to add a number more of the list, Mr. Joseph Staples, one of Cavan's most enterprising farmsmen, being one of the list. Several miles of new line will be built, the rural communities realizing the benefits to be derived from the telephone.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Yule have returned from Port Hope, where they have been holidaying. Announcement is made for a visit of delegates from Presbytery to discuss the re-arrangement of the congregations comprising the different fields between Peterborough and Port Hope, for Tuesday next in the church here at 10.30 a. m. The ever increasing interest at this appointment makes it necessary for the management to provide additional sittings. Miss Mabel McIntosh, organist, has resigned. Miss Jennie Cathcart has been appointed to this responsible position for two months. Miss Fowler has been appointed a delegate to the Provincial Sunday School Convention which meets in Hamilton.

Mr. Thos. Brown is doing considerable business in droving, going to Toronto and other points every week.

Mr. F. E. Wilson announces his intention of shipping potatoes and poultry during this season. Farmers are busy raising their potatoes. There is some complaints as to rot. The quality otherwise is good. There has been quite a drop in apples caused by the recent gales. This fall is sure to raise the price and good winter varieties will be a better price when winter comes.

The political situation, especially for Peterborough County, seems to be settled by many. The prophets predict the election of Mr. R. R. Hall, the Liberal candidate, giving as reasons the facts that Mr. Hendry could not in the past attend to the duties and responsibilities of a representative of Peterborough as he stated at the Conservative Convention and that he could not do so in the future and also on account of the benefits to be derived from having a member of the Government as representative, as it is a foregone conclusion that the present administration shall be returned. Therefore those having the interests of the riding at heart should support the representative of the Liberal party, Mr. R. R. Hall. Mr. James Daple and F. E. Wilson attended the convention of Durham Liberals held at Newcastle on Monday 10th inst. to select a candidate to contest the election in the interests of the Liberal party, Mr. Beathe, who was the candidate resigning, owing to ill health. The convention was very largely attended by representatives from all parts of the riding. Mr. Aylesworth the eminent K. C., who is so well and so favourably known throughout all Canada through his ability as a lawyer, and especially on account of his defence of our rights when Commissioner on the Alaskan boundary award. Mr. Aylesworth is a son of the farm. His progenators for generations being farmers and as stated by himself it was the merest accident that caused his parents to select for him the profession which he has so successfully and honourably followed. He is a Methodist in religion; a temperance advocate by word and practice. The representatives expressed their determination to show their appreciation of the honour conferred by the worthy candidate on Durham by accepting the unanimous choice of convention through their determination to secure his return to parliament. The Conservatives are equally desirous to elect their standard bearer Mr. H. Ward, of Port Hope. Both political parties are anxious to decide who shall rule the Greater Durham.

Mr. D. V. Trew has again secured the contract for the conveyance of the mail for another term.

HONOR SIR WILFRID

Kent's Grand Reception to the Liberal Leader.

THOUSANDS HEAR HIM SPEAK

Premier States His Views On Prohibition With a Directness That Made His Answer to a Question a Feature of the Chatham Meeting—Addresses Also By Hon. Wm. Paterson and the Candidates.

Chatham, Oct. 17.—This city was the scene Saturday of another magnificent demonstration in honor of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. When the train from Toronto pulled into the station shortly after 1 o'clock the car, which contained the Premier, Lady Laurier and Hon. William Paterson, was immediately surrounded by a cheering multitude. Mr. George Stephens, the member for Kent in the last House and now candidate for West Kent, and Mrs. Stephens entered the car to welcome the distinguished guests, and when a few minutes later Sir Wilfrid stepped out there was a rush to shake him by the hand. Among those on the platform were a number of French-Canadians, and these coming forward grasped their honored leader by the hand and addressed him in French, to which he responded in the same language. It was at their request that Sir Wilfrid at the close of the mass meeting made a short speech in French. The Premier and Lady Laurier were escorted by Mr. and Mrs. Stephens to a carriage, on the front of which was a streamer bearing the words "Blenheim and Harwich for Laurier." A procession was formed without delay, and to the strains of the 24th bugle band, the 24th brass band and the Chatham Citizens' Band the throng marched up town. Along the whole route the sidewalks were lined with men, women and children, and Sir Wilfrid was everywhere enthusiastically cheered.

Three Thousand Present.

The meeting was held in the curling rink, where about 1,500 seats had been provided. These filled like magic on the arrival of the procession from the station, and the wide space around the walls as well as the aisles were occupied by probably another 1,500 men and women, who stood patiently until the conclusion of the speaking. The rink was handsomely decorated with flags and mottoes.

The enthusiastic assemblage of electors represented every portion of the county of Kent, and included delegations from Essex, Elgin and Lambton, all eager to pay their tribute of respect to the Premier.

One of the features of the meeting was the directness of Sir Wilfrid's answer to the question put by Rev. Mr. G. A. Brown of Blenheim, a gentleman who attained considerable fame in the early part of the year by the vigorous manner in which he championed the local option cause in that town, as to what the prohibitionists might expect if the Liberals were again returned to power. There was no hesitation in the Premier's reply. He admitted that, while he was a temperance man, he was not a prohibitionist, showed how the Liberals had carried out their promise to take a plebiscite on the question, and intimated that so long as the division of opinion indicated by that plebiscite remained he would not recommend the introduction of any prohibition legislation in the Dominion House. Sir Wilfrid's answer was loudly cheered in all parts of the hall. There were speeches by Hon. Wm. Paterson and the candidates for East and West Kent and North Essex.

POLITICS IN A NUTSHELL.

Mayor M. K. Halloran Saturday night accepted the nomination of the labor party in Brantford.

Hon. John Haggart was again nominated by the Conservatives of South Lanark at Perth Saturday.

J. E. Seagram was re-nominated by North Waterloo Conservatives on Saturday at Berlin. No other name was mentioned.

Conservative convention at Yarmouth, N.S., on Saturday nominated Thomas E. Corning as their candidate in Yarmouth for the Dominion House.

The Liberal-Conservatives of North York met in convention at Newmarket Saturday to nominate a candidate to contest North York in the approaching Federal election. There were several nominees but they all retired in favor of Frank Roche who was unanimously tendered the nomination.

Several candidates were nominated in South Toronto Liberal Convention Saturday night, but only three went to the ballot. These were Messrs. H. H. Dewart, J. J. Ward and W. J. T. Lee. Mr. Dewart's nomination was made unanimous, on motion of the last two named. Mr. Dewart got 139 votes against 158 for the other candidates on the first ballot.

Toronto Men Losers.

London, Oct. 17.—The Battle Creek Health Food Co.'s factory, situated in the east end of the city, was almost completely destroyed by fire at an early hour Saturday morning. The loss is estimated at about $7,000, fully insured. T. H. Robinson sold the factory about six months ago to Messrs. Van Ostrand, Powell and Currie of Toronto.

ON THE SAFETY OF OVER EATING

The Rule of Choosing the Lesser of Two Evils Applies to the Way You Eat.

I want to know how a man is to know when he has had enough?

The Pilgrim Fathers, I believe, had a quaint saying to the effect that you should always rise from the table feeling as if you could eat some more.

But the question is, how much more?

Just when to stop?

That's the point.

The rule is wrong, because it's no rule at all.

It is inexact and unscientific.

It is lokely to lead to the dangerous habit of eating too little.

And eating too little—or digesting too little, which amounts to the same thing—is the cause of nine-tenths of —the diseases from which humanity suffers to-day.

What is disease?

It is simply uneven balance between waste and repair.

Some organ lacks strength to carry on the special work for which it was created.

Where shall it find the strength it lacks?

In drugs?

Ten thousand times, NO!

Better die than become a hopeless drug fiend.

No; in food.

"But," you say, "I eat a plenty of good food every day!"

True, dear friend; but you don't digest it.

And food, undigested, is mere poison.

So, to make food do you good, you must take Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

The great thing about Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is, that their action does not depend upon stimulative druggery.

They cannot create a habit.

They contain no ingredients to "pick you up," "tone up your nervous system" or furnish whip energy, by calling out your vital reserve force.

They create new strength, force and energy out of your food.

If taken starving they will do you no good at all.

So, eat to live, and live to eat, with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

The curse of our present civilization is exhaustion.

And exhaustion, whether of brain, nerves, physical strength, or vital force, is caused by starvation.

Of two evils, it is better to overeat —and prevent indigestion with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets—than to rise from the table, not having eaten enough to repair the exhaustion of your vital forces.

For exhaustion or starvation leads to the most varied forms of sickness or disease, brought on by inability of the weakened vitality to counteract the disease—poisons and microbes.

Whereas the well-fed and well-nourished person, without ever feeling the worse for it, can expose himself to dangers, the mere thought of which would drive the weak, starving dyspeptic into a panic fit.

Good food, well digested, is the great secret of a healthful existence here on earth.

So eat heartily, every day, of the best food you can get, and regulate the working of your digestive machinery with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

As a result you will be astonished to find, how much stronger and livelier you feel, how much more and better work you can do, how much more pleasure you can get out of life, and how your old enemy, that chronic trouble, which has fastened upon your weak spot, wherever it is, will up and away, and ever after leave you in peace, health and comfort.

There's more truth than poetry in all this.

Try it once.

BEHAVED FOOLISHLY.

William O'Brien Discusses Conduct of Irishmen in Last Parliament.

Cork, Oct. 17.—Addressing a monster meeting here yesterday, William O'Brien declared that home rule was in the offing since what was believed the Dunraven scheme of an Irish financial commission had sympathy in official quarters, but the foolish conduct of the Irish party in fighting Chief Secretary Wyndham, the Lord Lieutenant, and Anthony MacDonnell, Under Secretary to the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, who were pledged to conciliation, threatened to spoil all. It was not surprising that Wyndham repudiated the Dunraven scheme, for no man trusts his political reputation in the hands of men who behaved so foolishly as did the Irish members in the last session of Parliament.

To Prove What Dr. Leonhardt's Anti-Pill will do—Your name and address on a Post Card Will Bring It—Has Cured Thousands Already.

Dr. Leonhardt's Anti-Pill has ushered in a new era in the treatment and cure of disease. Thousands who had given up hope, have been restored to perfect health, and every cure seems to be perfect and permanent. Here is a case of Dyspepsia:

"I have been a great sufferer from Dyspepsia for many years. I have been treated by local doctors, and have taken nearly all the advertised remedies with only temporary relief, but since using Dr. Leonhardt's Anti-Pill I can eat anything the same as when a boy. My old-time vigour has returned, so that my spirits are buoyant and temper normal. I give all credit to Dr. Leonhardt's Anti-Pill."—M. N. Dafoe, 29 Colborne street, Toronto.

A TERRIBLE RECORD

Russians Overwhelmed Lose Forty Thousand Men.

THE BLOODIEST OF BATTLES

Kuropatkin's Attempt to Relieve Port Arthur Has Utterly Failed—The Japanese Comparatively Light, Probably 20,000—The Japs Take Hundreds of Prisoners, Guns and Ammunition.

London, Oct. 17.—At the close of the seventh consecutive day of fighting between Mukden and Liaoyang, the battle was still raging, the Russians offering stubborn resistance to the fierce onslaught of the Japanese. The sacrifice of life has been appalling. Estimates of the Russian losses alone in killed and wounded, at the end of the sixth day's fighting being conceded at 30,000, while it seems not improbable that it aggregated at that time 40,000. Japanese official reports estimate that 10,000 Russian dead were left on the field of battle up to the night of Oct. 14, and claim that the Japanese losses are small by comparison with those of the Russians. General Kuropatkin's report to Emperor Nicholas depicts the desperate character of the fighting and praises the valor of the troops, indicating, however, that he is hard pressed, with the result in the balance. All hope of succoring Port Arthur this season has been abandoned. St. Petersburg has an unconfirmed report that the Japanese general, Nodzu, has been seriously wounded. A question of interest in St. Petersburg is the fate of General Kuropatkin as a factor in the Russian military situation.

Rear-guard Fight On Sunday.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 17.—The latest reports from the battle are of Sunday afternoon and evening, when the Russians are carrying on a heavy rear-guard fight, evidently retiring in Mukden. Generals Oku and Nodzu were concentrating for another blow on the Russian right, where the fighting is described as having been furious. Gen. Nodzu is reported to have been wounded seriously, but this cannot be confirmed. From the military point of view, the most bitter disappointment is in the knowledge that the reverse seals the defeat of the heroic defenders of Port Arthur, who are now without hope of succor from the outside world.

Shocked By the Slaughter.

Tokio, Oct. 17.—There is a strong appeal for peace in the appalling tragedy which is now under enactment in Manchuria at the battle of Shakhe River. Both armies have fought ferociously for a week and desperate fighting still continues. It is probable that the death-roll will be largely increased before the final shot is fired. The preliminary reports indicate that about 60,000 men of both sides, the larger portion of Russians, have been either killed or wounded.

A telegram received from the Manchurian headquarters late yesterday reports that the fighting has ceased on the front of the right and the centre armies, but that it continues before the left army.

Even the Japanese, to whom the great victory is of paramount importance, seem to be shocked by the slaughter of their enemies. The Japanese people are receiving the news from the field of battle calmly, and there can be heard no shouts proclaiming their victory. Few flags are displayed. Later a jollification may be held, but many feel that no demonstration should be made.

A prominent Japanese said to the Associated Press correspondent yesterday: "We have won a sweeping and a decisive victory, which may prove to be the salvation of our country's existence, but we regret both our own losses and the terrible slaughter which our forces have inflicted in the enemy. We regret still more the necessity which forced us to engage in this war."

Latest Estimate of Slaughter.

Tokio, Oct. 17.—In the reports of the great battle, which continue to arrive from the front, the most striking feature is the terrible record of the Russian dead. Before the severe fighting on Oct. 14 General Oku's army alone recovered and buried 2,000; Kuroki buried 4,500, making the total number of Russians buried by the Japanese, with Nodzu's army still to hear from, 6,500. Applying the usual calculation and making reasonable allowances for the fighting of the 14th and 15th, the Russian losses will exceed 40,000. Oyama estimates that the total Russian dead left on the field, including the fighting of the 18th, is over 10,000. It has been a bigger battle than that of Liaoyang.

Russians Now Fleeing.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 17.—The official veil was yesterday lifted from the ghastly tragedy around Shakhe River, but even the official account, supplemented by numerous press despatches, leaves much uncertainty as to the situation. Out of the fragmentary mass of information at hand it is possible only to conclude that the costly withdrawal and retreat from Liaoyang is being duplicated upon an even grander scale, after more desperate fighting and heavier losses.

General Kuropatkin's story leaves the Russians still tenaciously holding the north bank on the Shakhe River, but the general belief that this is only the desperate finale of one of the greatest military dramas of history, and that the Russian army as a whole is retiring towards Mukden, having suffered at the most conservative estimate a loss of over 30,000.

All hopes of the world-heralded advance to Port Arthur have been abandoned. The weather conditions are worse than during the retreat.

THE LONG LIFE OF THE SHAPE

We tailor each Semi-ready coat on a resistible base of shrunken canvas and haircloth.

We cut and shape this canvas and haircloth as much as possible by the scissors, thoroughly press them into form with the hot iron, then leave to dry.

When quite dry we sew the shape into permanence with the needle.

The foundation of the coat's form is thus made permanent.

A Semi-ready coat will not break at the shoulders —will not "droop" at the pockets—will not "wrinkle" down the front.

After the coat has been worn for some time a pressing will rejuvenate its appearance.

Tried on before the mirror before you buy—yourself satisfied as to fit, color effect and style before you commit yourself as to purchasing.

Murder and Suicide.

New York, Oct. 17.—Charles Pfefferman, a fruit dealer of this city, and Miss Cora Kipling, were found dead early yesterday in Pfefferman's apartments in East 78th street. Both had been shot in the right temple, and the coroner announced that he had arrived at the conclusion that it was a case of murder first and suicide after.

Sent to a Commission.

Winnipeg, Oct. 17.—It is understood that the Government contemplates appointing a commission of judges to deal with the charges made by Melvin Bartlett against Mr. McKellar, Deputy Minister of Agriculture. Bartlett comes up for sentence on Monday, but it is not improbable that another remand will be asked for.

PRESENTATION TO MR. CHAS. SERGEANT

His Friends Honour Him Previous to His Departure from Belleville.

On Saturday evening, the employees of Mr. Thos. Barrie, met together in the store to bid farewell to Mr. Chas. Sergeant, who left this morning to accept a position with the firm of Quick & Robertson, clothiers, of Belleville. Mr. Sergeant has been in the employ of Mr. Barrie for over a year and his services were at all times highly valued. He was presented with a complimentary address and a suit case, as a token of the esteem which he enjoyed amongst his fellow-employees.

Mr. Sergeant responded in a neat speech, expressing his great regret at leaving so many friends and referring to the very pleasant associations he had enjoyed during the time in which he was employed at the store.

A number of Mr. Sargeant's friends also tendered him a banquet at McCallum's restaurant on the same evening, when an address was read by Mr. Ed. Mahon, and a presentation of a beautiful stick pin was made by Dr. Cing.

Several speeches were made, and a very pleasant hour was spent. Mr. Sargeant has made many warm friends during his stay in Peterborough, and his departure will be very keenly regretted. His friends will wish him every success in Belleville.

A ROUSING RALLY SATURDAY NIGHT

Liberal Committee Rooms Crowded, Enthusiastic and Hopeful.

Roseate Outlook for R. R. Hall, the Liberal Candidate.

Pertinent and Pointed Speeches by Local Liberals.

Energetic Work Under the Stimulus of Prospective Victory.

The Liberal rally held on Saturday night in the Simcoe street Committee Rooms, was the most successful and enthusiastic yet held. The auditorium was filled with men, many of them of Conservative inclinations, and the reception accorded Mr. Hall, the Liberal candidate must have been indeed a very gratifying one to him. Fully four hundred men were present, the seating accommodation being fully taken up, and a number were standing in the rear of the room. It did not require an orchestra of music to draw the crowd to the Liberal committee rooms, and the meeting which was indicative of one thing above everything else, and that was that there is a remarkable change in the feelings of the young men of this town on the coming election, to that which has been evidenced in former contests for the Dominion Parliament, and this change is one which means that West Peterborough, after having been represented by an Opposition member for years, almost continuously since Confederation, going to make a change and in the coming election choose a supporter of the Liberal Administration instead of sending to Ottawa one opposed to the Government that has done more for the advancement of Canada during the eight years it has been in power than the Conservatives did during the eighteen years in which they were entrusted with the governing of the country.

THE ADDRESSES.

Saturday night's meeting was a most satisfying one from Peterborough standpoint, and the addresses which were delivered were listened to with marked interest by the hundreds of electors who gathered at the rooms. Mr. Hall's name, whenever it was mentioned by any of the speakers, was enthusiastically cheered, an evidence of the popularity which he has attained, and an evidence, also, of the fact that he has impressed those with whom he has come into contact during the last few weeks particularly, since the opening of the campaign, that he is the man who should represent West Peterborough in the coming Parliament.

The meeting was presided over by Mr. J. J. Hartley, the chairman of the town committee, and on the platform, in addition to the chairman were:—Hon. J. R. Stratton, Mr. R. R. Hall, the candidate, Mayor Roger, G. K. Martin, John McCann, D. O'Connell and W. F. Meldrum and others.

Mr. Hartley, in opening the meeting said that he was very pleased to see so many present, and it was also encouraging to notice the old war horses again into the fight. The past week had seen some splendid work done for Mr. Hall; he had never seen men work more energetically, and they had now the satisfaction of knowing that in the registration their work had been signally successful. He was confident, from the present signs that victory on November third would rest with Liberal forces. Mr. Hall, also, had proved himself a splendid canvasser, and had given further evidence of his ability. He hoped that the work done during the past week would be continued, and if it was, he was not afraid of the result. (Cheers,) and (Hall is all right.)

MR. McCANN SPEAKS.

The first speaker Mr. McCann, who made an excellent address, and one which showed that the speaker had thought out the question for himself. Mr. McCann was pleased to be present and say a few words in favour of Mr. Hall. Referring to the fault which the Conservatives are trying to find with the tariff, the speaker said that he could not help comparing the present condition in the United States, where they have the highest tariff of any country in the world, and where, at present there is a state of depression, while Canada, under a moderate tariff is prosperous, and increasingly so. The consumer pays the tariff in the end in any case. The Post Office Department of the present Government had been criticized, but he could see no room for it, when it is remembered that when the Liberals came into power there was an annual defect in this department of about $750,000, and that at the present time, with the introduction of two cent postage, saving a million dollars to the people of Canada, there is a surplus of about $350,000. Mr. McCann paid some attention to the Grand Trunk Pacific question and said that while the Conservatives had paid in cash to the C.P.R. $25,000,000 and 25,000,000 acres of land, the G.T.P. is not costing the country a cent of money; and no land grants are made, which in the case of the C.P.R. were large enough to pay the dividends alone, and the best part of the bargain is that every foot of the road will run through Canadian soil. Mr Kendry's indefensible opposition to to the Government's immigration policy was the subject of some telling criticism by Mr. McCann. Did Mr. Kendry, he asked, expect Canada to remain stationary and not increase in population beyond her present five and a half millions? During the Conservative regime nearly 1,000,000 of Canada's best young citizens went to the United States, but now under Liberal rule they are coming back so fast that some States are even considering the adoption of laws to stop their return. "And yet," said Mr. McCann, "Mr. Kendry has the "gall" to critize such a policy."

Mr. McCann asked all wage earners to remember 1896. Men were running around trying to get work, and were glad to accept one dollar a day if they could get it. Mr. Hall had done a great deal to help bring about the present good condition of the labouring classes in Peterborough by being instrumental in the establishment of a number of industries which were large employers of labour. This is a great fight, and the present condition is that Kendry's right and left flanks have been turned, and his retreat to Ottawa has been cut off. Mr. McCann's speech was heartily applauded.

MAYOR ROGER'S REMARKS.

Mayor Roger was the next speaker, and said that he did not intend to make a long speech, but came to show which side he was on. There seemed to be a doubt in the minds of some as to where he stood, and he wished to take this opportunity of setting the doubting ones right. He thought that while it had been no difficulty to get a Liberal candidate, the fact that it had been almost impossible to induce anyone to take up the standard of the Conservative party in West Peterborough was an indication that not only was the Liberal candidate conceded election by the Conservatives, but they also were satisfied that the Laurier Government was going to be sustained in the coming election. The Liberal Administration had been such that no fault could be found with it.

Speaking of local conditions His Worship said that he really believed that the Conservatives of West Peterborough, as a whole, would not like to see an opponent of the Government elected, not because they were disloyal to their party, but because they were loyal to Peterborough. It was admitted that we were more likely to secure the completion of the Trent Valley Canal if we elect a supporter, and naturally so. If we send to Ottawa a man pledged to oppose the Liberal Government it is natural that he will not get the ear of the leaders as readily as will a supporter. Even if both men who are now running were supporters of the Government there would be no comparison between them, Mr. Hall would commend himself before his present opponent. One has already sat for eight years, supposed to represent Peterborough, but he has done nothing to advance its interests, and even the Conservatives themselves admit that Mr. Kendry has not done right by them nor by the riding which he was elected to represent. "Mr. Kendry is a personal friend of mine," said Mr. Roger, "and personally I think he is a good fellow, but business is business, and we cannot afford, gentlemen, to have West Peterborough represented by a man whose only qualification is that he is a nice man."

Peterborough's future success, Mr. Roger thought depends upon one thing more than on any other, and that one thing is the Trent Valley Canal, and to secure it we should have a supporter of the Government. He believed that loyalty to Peterborough and its interests demanded that we support Mr. Hall because he thought that if he were elected in three years the Canal would be completed. Mr. Roger's address made a decided impression upon his hearers, and he was enthusiastically received.

MR. MARTIN'S REMARKS.

The next speaker was Mr. G. K. Martin, and he made a short, but telling speech, which was given with an energy of expression which impressed those who heard it with the sincerity of the speaker.

Mr. Martin also expressed his pleasure at seeing so many present, and was also pleased that the workers had done such noble work during the last week. This was a contest for young men, and it must, he said be a source of great satisfaction to the leaders to see the enthusiastic way in which the young men are entering into the campaign. The conditions to-day call for the interest of the young men. Those who for years have been the backbone of the country are getting up in years and their places must be taken by younger men, consequently it was a right and proper thing that the young men should appreciate their responsibility in this regard. This, he exclaimed is a country for the young. One cannot look around but be impressed with this fact.

During the past eight years men have been in power at Ottawa who have administered the affairs of the country in a business-like way for business purposes and for the benefit of the whole country. If we wish a continuance of this progress it will be attained by continuing to send to Ottawa men of this stamp, and this is the kind of a man that Mr. Hall is. Mr. Hall, he thought would be in a position to do more for the constituency than Mr. Kendry, because of the fact that he will be a Government supporter. "Isn't it absurd," said Mr. Martin, "after electing an opponent of the Government, and by doing so declaring our lack of faith in it, to when we want anything, get up a deputation to go to Ottawa, and say, 'Oh, please Mr. Laurier, won't you please build us the Trent Valley Canal, and won't you please give us this and give us that?' It is not common sense for us to send an opponent to Ottawa when we want so much from the Government."

Mr. Martin concluded by saying that Mr Hall was not much of a promise maker, but he was a good promise keeper.

MR. MELDRUM'S ENDORSATION.

Mr. W. H. Meldrum, the next to address the gathering commenced by saying that he was not a Liberal, indeed he had usually been a supporter of the Conservative candidate in Dominion elections, although he had always worked for Mr. Stratton, because he had done more for the town and county than any other man could do. He was supporting Mr. Hall in this election because he had been vitally connected with him in his efforts to bring industries to Peterborough, and had seen evidences of his determination and ability along other lines. Mr. Hall had not only been instrumental in having these industries established but he had also been able to conduct them successfully, after they were started. Although he had been a Conservative, he believed that Laurier had done better for this country than the Conservatives had done, and, indeed, he had done even better than his friends had expected him to do.

THE CANAL MUST COME.

Mr. Meldrum compared very effectively the present industrial condition in the United States to that in Canada. He had been on a trip through the States a short time ago and he had found that not only were there thousands out of employment in some cities, but in some places scores of thousands. Such a condition happily was not known in Canada at the present time, not had it been known during the eight years that the country has been under Liberal Government. Turning his attention to local questions, Mr. Meldrum said that the thing which Peterborough needed most was the completion of the Trent Valley Canal, for with it completed, manufacturers, who were already impressed with Peterborough's advantages as a manufacturing centre, by reason of its power, but who would be at a disadvantage in the matter of freight rates, would come here to locate. Mr. Hall, himself, could not afford to allow the canal to remain uncompleted, if it was in his power to hasten its completion, because of the industrial interests with which he is connected, and, therefore, he may be entrusted to do all that he possibly can to bring about its early completion.

The speaker said that he was a shareholder in the Auburn Mills, and his personal opinion was that Mr. Kendry could do more good by staying at home and attending to his business in the mill, than by being at Ottawa, where he could do nothing, or, at any rate, had done nothing.

MR. HALL'S USEFULNESS.

If, as a private citizen, Mr. Hall had been able to do for the town what he had in securing grants for the post office and the new armouries, etc., how much more would he be able to get as a member. Mr. Meldrum, continuing, said that he would never have started the erection of his 400 barrel mill had he not believed that the Liberal Government would complete the canal; and he also knew that if the canal were opened the American Cereal Company, which had already established such a large mill here would extend their works, and would also build larger ones.

During the last three years, Mr. Hall had been largely responsible for the establishment of a number of industries in town, among them being the Canadian Cordage Works, the Colonial Weaving Company, the Otonabee Power Company, which had now over 500 customers, and which had been responsible for the great reduction in the price of light and power, the Grant-Hamilton Oil Company, and the Big Bend Lumber Company. The Otonabee Power Company had proved a great boon to the workingmen of Peterborough, because it had enabled them to get cheap light, and, as a result of its establishment, nearly every house now has the luxury of electric light. And not only that, but had it not been for that company he would have been unable to have erected his new mill, because he could not have secured the power from the other companies. He wanted to build a mill some years ago, but could not obtain the power. He closed by expressing the hope that all listening to him would pull shoulder to shoulder together, and send Mr. Hall to Ottawa, where he would be in a position to use his abilities to the advantage of Peterborough.

MR. O'CONNELL'S ADDRESS.

Mr. D. O'Connell, who was the next speaker, said that this was the first opportunity he had had of attending one of Mr. Hall's meetings. He had been out of town a great deal, but he was delighted to find that the meetings were so well attended, and that so much enthusiasm was being shown by the workers. He said that a great deal had been said lately about the Italians, and since he was, in a sense, their political god-father, he was interested in the things which had been said. He remarked that it was true that he had taken a part in the naturalization of some of these Italians, and he had felt a certain pride in the fact. As far as he had been able to learn, the Italians were an industrious class of men, and had never yet been a charge on the country. They had always been willing to work, and never yet had one been committed to the county jail as a vagrant, as far as he could learn. They were willing to do work which was necessary, but which Canadians would not do, because they could get employment which was more congenial, and which was better paid, and as long as they behaved themselves he saw no reason why they should not become citizens of the country. Work had to be done and some one had to do it.

There was a spirit of hope, nay, he might say, confidence, among the people at the present time, a confidence in the election of a Liberal candidate in West Peterborough, and he believed that the signs of success, which were multiplying, were unmistakable, and he was of the opinion that these same signs had reached the notice of the Conservative party here, because none of the old war horses had been found who were willing to carry the standard of the Conservative party in West Peterborough, and the candidature had to be forced upon a man who had repeatedly declared that he had neither the desire nor the willingness to again become the party's nominee, and for whom his friends had also declared the same thing. And Mr. O'Connell believed that on November 3rd it would be found that the people of West Peterborough were no more anxious

BISHOP SPEAKS OF CANADA'S PROSPERITY.

Right Rev. Dr. Matheson in St. Lukes Church Last Night.

Country is Prosperous as Never Before —Spiritual Blessings Should Also be Sought.

Last night in St. Luke's church Right Rev. Dr. Matheson, Bishop of Rupert's Land, occupied the pulpit, and preached a sermon which was practical and helpful.

The Bishop, in opening his sermon expressed his pleasure at again preaching in St. Luke's church. He had in the early 80's been in Peterborough on a visit to a friend, and had on one occasion preached in St. Luke's, and that was the first sermon that he had preached in Eastern Canada. He had been here later and supplied the pulpit for a few Sundays for the late Mr. Bradshaw. Time, he said, in its relentless flight changes the personnel of the parish, and he supposed there would be but few now who would remember him. His text was from Joshua, 15; 18, 19: "And it came to pass, as she came unto him, that she moved him to ask of her father a field; and she lighted off her ass; and Caleb said unto her, What wouldest thou? Who answered, give me a blessing; for thou hast given me a south land; give me also springs of water. And he gave her the upper springs, and the nether springs."

This is a romantic little episode in the history of the Israelites, and there is a great truth to be learned from it for the people to-day. The nether springs, he thought, represented earthly prosperity, and the upper springs Spiritual prosperity. We too, said the reverend gentleman, have a father who is willing to bestow upon us the blessings which Caleb gave to his daughter, and it is our duty as well as our privilege to ask Him for His blessings and we should not limit our asking to Spiritual blessings, because, although many do not realize it, God cares for our material welfare, as well as our spiritual, and is willing to give us earthly blessings. Many have a wrong idea of prayer, and ask God for only Spiritual things, which, he thought was not right.

But on the other hand a man cannot long prosper who asks only for earthly things.

The reason he spoke on this subject, he said, was because of the great prosperity now in evidence all over Canada. It was almost impossible to describe the prosperity that is prevailing all over this country. In the West, from which he came, the crops were good, and it is very clear that God has given us the nether springs of earthen prosperity.

The question is have we also the upper springs of Spiritual prosperity. Prosperity in material things and religion do not always go together, indeed sometimes it is just the opposite. There are some evidences that in Canada the people are paying more attention to their material blessings than they are of their Spiritual needs.

The possession of the upper springs constitutes a proper sense of our obligation to God. In prosperity men should give of this substance to God in proportion to the degree to which they have prospered. We should give of ourselves as of our substance.

The speaker did not wish to convey the idea that he was pessimistic. He was just the opposite and firmly believed in the future of this people. In his diocese there are eighteen churches in course of erection. Cost $100,000, which showedt that the people there are paying attention to the Spiritual things.

The nether springs of earthly things perish with the using, and are only transitory, but the Rose of Sharon is the only one which does not perish, and this is the gift of God.

The upper springs supply the higher works of man, and every one may possess and enjoy the blessings of God which enrich our Spiritual life.

At the conclusion of the sermon, the choir sang "Now the Day is Over," Mr. Jos. Legg taking the teron solo.

Jobe's Candy Made While You Wait— Come and Look at the Process— No Secrets—All Invited— Admission Free.

Next week, Mr. W. Jobe, manufacturer of Jobe's Home-made Candy, will be prepared to make all his popular lines of candy right before the eyes of the public. His retail store, No. 422 George street, next to Dutton's, will have his manufacturing plant installed therein, where the interesting process of making his candy can be seen. The secrets of the business will be revealed — from the time the raw sugar is taken from the barrel to the boiling, flavouring, pulling, pouring, moulding and slab work.

Mr. Jobe manufactures nothing but candy, his specialty being the favourite home-made candy, which has had a large sale in Peterborough and vicinity.

Everybody is invited to Jobe's candy exhibition any day of the week. Come yourself and bring the children with you—you won't find any "No admission" card on the door. All are welcome free, and if you have the price of a few pounds, so much the better. Ten cents buys a pound of any of the dozen different kinds.

PETERBOROS LOST TO TORONTOS

Locals Were Badly Beaten in Queen City on Saturday.

Score Was 27-6—Locals Were Decidedly Off—Crowley Star of Losers.

The Peterboroughs were "up again it," for a fall on Saturday afternoon when they ran against the Torontos on the Varsity field. The score 27—6 looks bad on paper but the play was far more even than the score indicates. But there is no getting around it; the winners were the better team on Saturday, but no one can tell what will happen when they play the return game here in two weeks. The locals simply had a genuine case of an "off day." "The boys had their pictures taken twice before the game and that must have proved the "hoodoo," remarked Chris Graham, who accompanied the team, this morning. The boys were certainly not playing their game. The wings, while they tackled fairly well, and were fast in following up, did not hold their men as they should, and can do, and the Toronto wings were frequently breaking through. The backs, with the exception of Shaw, did some costly fumbling. Crowley did excellent work as usual, but he could not stave off defeat. The Torontos got 18 of their points on the touch downs, which were the result of costly fumbles at critical moments. The play was much more even than the score would indicate. Noble was injured shortly after the play started, and was replaced by McDonald, whose tackling was splendid.

The locals, though feeling somewhat disappointed that the score was not more even, are by no means discouraged and they will exert every effort to capture the two remaining games and thus break even with the Torontos. Though rather badly beaten on Saturday, they were by no means disgraced, and the boys think that they can come out on top here in the return game, as they certainly were off colour on Saturday.

ROORBACK SEASON OPENS.

The World, in its "news" from political fields has the following:

"In West Peterborough there is a township of Smith. The residents there are for the most part Presbyterians and temperance folk. The Conservative Association has been notified that the residents of the township of Smith will vote for Jas. Kendry to a man."

This is pure invention. Who notified the Conservative Association? Nobody. Who had authority to spring such a yarn? Nobody. Who knows how the residents of Smith township will vote "to a man?" Nobody. Who in the Conservative party received such notification? Nobody. It's all a straight lie from beginning to end. Who will believe it? Nobody. Whom will it please? Nobody—not even the father of liars, for he would not recognize such a fool attempt at infringement of his copyright. What advantage is to be gained by a newspaper lying like a Russian war despatch? None. Who will believe such a newspaper, even if it should accidentally stumble into telling the truth? Nobody.

A companion roorback in the same column is the following:

"Peter Hamilton is president of the Liberal Association of Peterough, but his name is not signed to the poster that announces Sir Wilfrid's visit on October 20th to that city. The story goes that Peter Hamilton, proprietor of the Hamilton Agricultural Implement Works, cannot see eye to eye with Hon. J. R. Stratton, and has refused to have anything to do with the reception to Sir Wilfrid. Mr. Hamilton has been superseded as president of the Association for the time being."

This is another whole cloth fabrication. Mr. Stratton, whose name is lugged into this concoction, has no better, nor warmer, nor more valued friend than Mr. Hamilton,

It is shameful cruelty, and heartlessly shameful, that a citizen, who has lived an honoured and respected life in Peterborough for all his life, who has conducted an honourable and successful business for nearly half a century, should have the quietude of his life due to ill health, invaded by political ghouls, to whom nothing is sacred, in their eagerness to score a miserable little party point. The World is not so much to blame, as the local source from which such unholy and iniquitous buncombe was drawn.

Mr. Hamilton in comment on the above has sent the following to the editors of the Toronto morning papers:—

Peterborough, Oct. 17th, 1904.

Dear Sir,—Will you kindly deny in your columns, as emphatically as you can, the statement in to-day's World as to my unfriendly relations to Hon. J. R. Stratton, and my indifference to the Liberal policy.

The state of my health demands that I abstain from active work, but my friendship for Hon. Mr. Stratton is as warm as ever, and my faith and confidence in Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his policy are stronger to-day than ever before.

Yours faithfully,
PETER HAMILTON.

THE ANNIVERSARY MISSIONARY SERVICES

Rev. J. A. Wood Gave Two Excellent Addresses Yesterday at Charlotte Street.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Charlotte street church, held anniversary services yesterday, when Rev. Jas. A. Wood, for twenty-five years a missionary in British Columbia, preached both morning and evening. Both his discourses were very interesting.

In the morning Rev. Mr. Wood took for his text Isaiah 35, 1 and 2, and in the evening Exodus 14, 15. He referred to the character of the people with whom he has laboured for the past quarter of a century on the British Columbia coast. He has been stationed at several points, and is at present at Salmon Arm. He spoke of his work among the Chinese and Japanese, and especially of that among the Indians, showing the marked effect of the influence of the missionaries on them. He gave a vivid description of the character of the country, with its many mountains, and told many interesting incidents in connection with his long experience in that country. The work was progressing very favourably, and Mr. Wood will return shortly and resume his labours.

BATTLE YET RAGING

That Around Mukden is Among History's Bloodiest Fights.

RUSSIAN LOSS ALREADY 15,000

Pitiful Scenes At Mukden—Roads and Fields Covered With Wounded and Dying—Even Chinese Two-Wheeled Carts Bring Them In—Grave Forebodings of Disaster in St. Petersburg.

Mukden, Oct. 15.—The fighting raged yesterday with the same bitterness as on the previous days of the engagement, and the result is still in the balance. The losses on both sides are enormous, those of the Russians being 15,000. Wounded soldiers are being brought in from all directions. The roads are crowded with long trains of wagons, baggage and transport wagons, as well as ambulances, being pressed into service, and even Chinese two-wheeled carts filling the mandate of the military. Men afoot are limping in, using their guns as crutches, the less severely wounded supporting their comrades, after a first-aid dressing on the firing line. Even across the fields are they met, taking the shortest and straightest road for help and shelter. It is the most pitiful feature of the bloody drama being enacted at the front when, stiffening with wounds, pain-racked bodies sink to the roadside after the support of the danger and glory of the active fight have been withdrawn.

Forty Miles of Fighting.

London, Oct. 15.—The despatches of Thursday gave little information regarding the developments of the great battle which has been raging for five days north of Yentai. The contending armies were reported to be engaged in close and desperate conflict along the entire front of forty miles, and Marshal Oyama's despatch reported that everywhere the Japanese were making satisfactory progress.

Other despatches from both the Russian and Japanese front gave further details of the struggle of Tuesday and Wednesday, which both agree in stating was of the most desperate character, the fighting exceeding in fierceness even the terrible combat at Liaoyang. The losses on each side are reported to be enormous, one despatch from Tokio via Rome placing the Russian losses to Thursday at the colossal total of 37,265. A late bulletin from Mukden stated that the Russians had 15,000 wounded, hundreds of whom were streaming back from all directions.

Russians Lose Artillery.

Kuropatkin officially admitted the loss of the artillery attached to the brigade on his right flank as a result of General Oku's attack, and as the number of guns to a brigade is 24 this would correspond with the Tokio report. Japanese advices seem to place the total of Russian guns captured at 38, with 24 ammunition wagons. A despatch to a news agency from Mukden timed 2 p. m. Thursday and received by way of Paris said the Japanese had gained a great victory, and that the Russian lines were withdrawing slowly without having suffered heavy losses. St. Petersburg feeling was distinctly depressed Thursday, and the wildest rumor was current.

A St. Petersburg despatch reported five Japanese cruisers off Vladivostock, and the commander-in-chief of the fortress had summoned the inhabitants to surrender all firearms.

Jap Cavalry Wins.

Tokio, Oct. 15.—An extended report from the Manchurian headquarters reached Tokio during the night and was published yesterday afternoon. It records severe fighting during Thursday and additional Japanese gains. The contest around Bensihu continues to be undetermined. The report says: "A cavalry force, commanded by Prince Kanin, made a detour of the enemy's left flank in the rear of Pensihu and put the enemy's supports in great confusion, thereby helping our movement in this action.

"Kanin's cavalry will again advance toward the rear of the enemy.

"The right column of the army is now attacking the enemy at Chaohsienlein. The entire column of the same army occupied the surrounding heights of Lienhau and Maerh Mountains. The left column is now attacking a remnant of the enemy's force on a height north of Shaotokou.

"The attack movement of the right army, owing to topographical difficulties, is not proceeding as desired. The right wing of the left column is now attacking the enemy at Hunglinpo."

Forebodings in St. Petersburg.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 15.—The great feeling of concern which existed in high circles in the Russian capital last night by no means equals the forebodings of coming disaster pervading the general public, which is indulging in the deepest pessimism. In the absence of official news, the public is being fed on the wildest rumors of defeat suffered by Gen. Kuropatkin yesterday. The fact that no word regarding the battle has been officially given out only confirms the popular fear.

Gen. Kuropatkin's report of the result of the day's operations has reached the Emperor at Tsarkoe Selo, but it had not been returned here before the War Commission, which sat only until 9.30 o'clock last night, adjourned. The Emperor himself is represented as being bitterly disappointed, and spending hours with his Cabinet, studying out with the help of his military aides, the reports of the battle. The general staff, however, by no means despairs. Though admitting that the tide the last two days has been against General Kuropatkin, the general staff says the battle is not yet over, and that in any event there is no question of disaster. The depressing feature is that everyone is willing to believe the worst. The reports from Tokio and elsewhere stating that the Japanese are advancing and the Russians falling back are accepted with faith, based upon the previous Russian retreat.

The probabilities are that the losses on both sides will be about equal. Despatches from the front give a vivid picture of the desperate character of the fighting along the whole line. The Russian plainsmen have been again forced to engage in hill fighting, which is little to their liking. There have been desperate and repeated attacks on almost inaccessible positions, which leave the question of the resolution and gallantry of the Russian forces undoubted. Guns have been captured and recaptured in fierce hand to hand fights.

SMASHED TO PIECES.

Not One of the Crew of the Nova Scotian Steamer Wentworth Saved—Two Bodies Recovered.

Chatham, Mass., Oct. 15.—Driven down the coast by a northeast storm, the Nova Scotia schooner Wentworth was thrown upon Chatham Bar Thursday night, and yesterday morning had been smashed to pieces in the terrific surf. It is believed that not a soul on board survived. At 7 o'clock the body of a woman was dragged out of the breakers by the Government life-savers who had been waiting on the beach powerless to aid since the vessel went on the bar. At 8 o'clock another body, that of a man, was recovered.

It is believed that the ill-fated vessel carried a crew of at least eight men, besides her skipper, Capt. Preddie.

The Wentworth was a three-masted schooner, owned in Windsor, N. S., and was bound from Hillsboro, N. B., to New York, with a load of plaster.

The Wentworth was of 328 tons burden. She was built in Port Greenville, N.S., in 1880.

Collided With Another Train.

Albany, N.Y., Oct. 15.—The Empire State Express, leaving Albany for New York at 7 p.m., yesterday collided with a work train in the yards at Rensselaer last night. A. W. Parsons of Rensselaer, fireman of the work train, was killed, and the engineer slightly injured. No one on the express train was hurt, but the Empire's engine was damaged.

Fell From a Wall.

Toronto, Oct. 15.—While wheeling a barrow full of bricks along a narrow coping at the new Featherbone Novelty building at the corner of King and Duncan streets yesterday, John Ballantyne of 186 West King street lost his balance and toppled barrow and all 50 feet to a pile of bricks and rubbish. He was picked up and carried to the Emergency Hospital, where he was found to have sustained internal injuries. At the time of going to press he was still alive, but no hope was expressed of his recovery. Ballantyne is an Englishman and is unmarried.

Buried in a Sewer.

Hamilton, Oct. 15.—Just a few minutes before the whistle blew at noon yesterday and while the men were preparing to leave a trench that was being dug for a sewer at the corner of Florence and Sophia streets, the earth caved in, burying Michael Wynn, 278 East Macaulay street, and Albert Wrenn, 168 North Hess street. Wynn was killed outright and Wrenn was seriously injured. The work was being done by the city. The recent rains had left the ground very wet and soft and no braces were used.

Found Dead On the Track.

Hamilton, Oct. 15.—There was a fatality on the T. H. & B. track last evening. About 9.30 p.m., Ben Berg, 194 South James street, discovered a mangled corpse near the corner of MacNab and Hunter streets. He notified the police, who found pieces of the body scattered all along the track from MacNab street to the mouth of the tunnel. The body was so badly cut up that the only way he could be identified was by an envelope found in the clothing. The envelope is addressed to Lawrence Sullivan, Frances street, near Wentworth. R. A. Martin was the engineer and Robert McFayden the conductor of the tram.

Baby Drowns in Pail.

Oil Springs, Ont., Oct. 15.—While creeping around the floor, about one o'clock yesterday, the little twelve-months-old Leon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Penfound, harnessmaker here, overbalanced and fell into a pail of water, and when found by Mrs. Penfound was dead. A doctor was called, but could do nothing.

Bennett Broke His Neck.

Belleville, Oct. 15.—A fatal accident occurred at Springbrook, a little village not far from this city. Louis Bennett stopped at Mrs. Green's for a night's lodging. At breakfast time, in the morning, he was called, but returned no answer. On looking into the room, the searchers were surprised to find the man gone, though his clothes were there. A short search found him at the bottom of the cellar steps dead, with his neck broken. Apparently, he had got up in the night and walked down the cellarway, which was situated in the wood-shed and unprotected. An inquest was held, but the verdict will not be rendered till Monday next.

Lost His Left Arm.

Strathroy, Oct. 15.—An accident occurred here yesterday morning whereby Alfred Brodeau, an employe of Pincombe & Donaldson's saw mill, lost his left arm. His left hand was caught between a chain and a pulley as it was revolving, and his wrist was frightfully mangled and twisted until it was completely severed. Dr. McCabe afterwards found it necessary to amputate the arm above the elbow. Brodeau is a single man.

Rancher Killed in Runaway.

Winnipeg, Oct. 15.—Louis Monkman, a rancher at Lander, B.C., was instantly killed Thursday evening in a runaway accident. He was thrown out of the wagon, and his head struck one of the wheels, causing a fracture of the jaw and skull.

Comparing Notes.

Mrs. Apollo—Your cook seems to have a very refined appearance. Mrs. Brooks—She says she is a Vassar girl. Mrs. Cunningham—She worked for me once and then said she was a Wellesley girl. Mrs. Devine—She told me she had been a cook at both colleges.

The Exact Amount.

"Yes," said the man who had been generous with his friends, "I've lost faith in humankind to some extent."

"To what extent?"

"Well, to the extent of about $1,000 in blocks of $5 and $10 at a time."

The Difficulty.

The Wife—I fully realise that I ought to economize, Jack, but— The Husband—But what? Don't you know where to begin? The Wife—Oh, yes; but I can't decide on the time.

Majesty of the Law.

A great deal is said of the majesty of the law, and a sonorous phrase has been coined to express it, but its majesty resides in the sternness, promptness, impartiality and fearlessness with which laws are enforced and the authority of the courts vindicated. If the law has ever been brought into contempt it has been done by no act of criminals or of intending offenders, but by the weakness and failures of the officers of the law and the ministers of justice to maintain the majesty with which the law should clothe them.

An Added Horror.

"That's a horrible idea De Ritz has conceived."

"What's that?"

"He's talking of setting some of Browning's poems to Wagner's music."—Exchange.

HEALTHY OLD AGE

There Is No Reason Why People of Three Score Years and Ten Cannot Be Active, Bright and Healthy. Nature's Way of Making Old People Well.

In old people, no matter how healthy the individual may otherwise be, there is often a tendency to coldness of the extremities, sluggishness of the circulation, torpidity of the liver and constipation. This tendency is really a condition, and one of the many accompaniments of old age and not a disease. If there is one remedy more peculiarly adapted for this condition than another, that remedy is Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills. They impart energy to the whole system, invigorate the circulation, increase the flow of digestive juices, thus improving the stomach action and nutrition. They quickly relieve all unpleasant symptoms usually experienced by old people, resulting in torpidity of the liver, constipation, feeble circulation, headaches, etc. Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills are of inestimable value not only in advanced age, but also in people of all ages. They prevent premature wrinkles, give a health glow to the skin, and under their antiseptic and blood cleansing influence the complexion retains its freshness, while sallowness permanently disappears. Hundreds of grateful old ladies in their letters write: "Your pills make me look and feel ten years younger." Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills always make old age comfortable, and promote digestion and nutrition by their specific action on the stomach, liver and bowels. They always cure sick headache, constipation and biliousness in one night. 25 cents at all dealers.

THE WORD "CHIC."

Probably Derived From a German Word Meaning Clever.

The word "chic," which comes to us through the French, but is probably derived from the German geschickt, clever, smart, has no exact equivalent in our language. Murray, in his standard work, suggests as another possible derivation that it may be an abbreviation of chicane, in the sense of a deft twist or turn.

"Chic," used either as a substantive or as an adjective, implies such style and clever finish as gives an air of distinction to a person or thing and marks some excellence of fashion or taste. Applied to the fine arts it denotes the faculty of producing effective work with ease and skill, and from this its society application to correct grace and elegance and smartness follows very naturally.

Lever, in "The Martins of Cromarty," says: "The French have invented a slang word, and by 'chic' have designated a certain property by which objects assert their undoubted superiority over all their counterfeits."

Some have connected the word with the Spanish chico, or chica, a diminutive expressive of approval.—London Standard.

RENOUNCED THE VIOLIN.

Wellington Never Touched It After He Became a Field Officer.

The Duke of Wellington played the violin as a subaltern, but gave it up when he became a field officer. The reason for this renunciation is supplied by the following extract from a letter written by Mrs. Stuart Mackenzie to the Duke of Sutherland in 1852: "Every one knows that to the last the duke was fond and a fine judge of music. In youth he was a performer on the violin, that, giving up a great deal of time to it, he began to fear lest the hereditary taste should get the better of him, and in one day he broke the spell, laid aside his violin and never afterward touched it. This circumstance occurred during the time of his early attachment to my dear friend the duchess, who has often repeated it to me with pride as an omen of what was to be expected from his great self command and firmness of decision."

It may be added that the Duke of Wellington inherited his love of music from his father, Lord Mornington, who was a doctor of music and a composer of no small merit.—Pearson's.

FOR THE

Nerves

NEW POWER AND STRENGTH FOR EVERY ORGAN OF THE BODY IN THE USE OF

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

Good digestion, ruddy complexion, splendid circulation, clear brain, steady, nerves, sound, restful sleep, better health and greater strength of mind and body, is what you may expect from the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Not in any mysterious way but from the hard fact that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is composed of the elements of nature which go to form new red corpuscles in the blood, or in other words, make the blood rich in the nutritive principle which creates nerve force — the power which runs the machinery of the body.

WITH THE VITALITY OF THE BODY THUS BROUGHT TO HIGH WATER MARK, WEAKNESS AND DISEASE GIVE PLACE TO HEALTH AND HAPPINESS.

Impaired digestion, irregular action of the feminine organs, weakness of heart, lungs, or other bodily organs, pains and aches, and all the annoying consequences of weak nerves and blood disappear because the cause of their existence is removed.

By noting your increase in weight you can prove that new, firm flesh and tissue are being added by this great restorative.

MRS. H. A. LOYNES, Nurse, Phillipsburg, Que., writes, "I was all run down and could not do my work. Everything I ate made me sick. In nursing others I had seen the good results of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and resolved to try it. As a result of this treatment I have gained ten pounds, do my own work alone, and feel like an entirely different person. I have received so much benefit from this medicine that I am glad to recommend it to others. I have a copy of Dr. Chase's receipt book, and would not part with it for $50 if I could not get another."

Test the extraordinary upbuilding power of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food; 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box. 4

TO RETAIN YOUTH.

Simply refuse to grow old by not counting your years or anticipating old age.

Refrain from all kinds of stimulants and sedatives. They will shorten your life.

Keep in the sunlight. Nothing beautiful or sweet grows or ripens in the darkness.

Avoid fear in all its varied forms of expression. It is the greatest enemy of the human race.

Avoid excesses of all kinds. They are injurious. The long life must be a temperate, regular life.

Cultivate the spirit of contentment. All discontent and dissatisfaction bring age furrows prematurely to the face.

Don't be too ambitious. The canker of an overvaulting ambition has eaten up the happiness of many a life and shortened its years.—Success.

Mecca and Lassa.

Mecca is the only remaining parallel to Lassa. The former city still shrouds itself in a veil of mystery. Burckhardt, and later Sir Richard Burton, carrying their lives in their hands, lived in this city, the latter mingling unobserved with its inhabitants and taking part in religious rites with its pilgrims. Both Mecca and Lassa have many points of interest in common. Each respectively is a point of pilgrimage for converts to the two great religions of the east—Mohammedanism and Buddhism, the one as the birthplace of Mohammed receiving 100,000 pilgrims annually, and both, behind their closed gates, have also been centers of indescribable filth, squalor and vice.

WALL DECORATION.

STENCILING IS A SIMPLE PROCESS THAT GIVES ARTISTIC RESULTS.

Sketching the Design and Cutting Stencils—Brush and Colors—A Handsome Chrysanthemum Frieze—Attractive Flower Borders.

A stencil is a sheet of thin metal or heavy waterproof paper which has a design cut out of it, and stenciling is the rubbing of color through the design on to the article to be decorated.

Perhaps the most useful application of the art is the decoration of walls in the form of a frieze, dado or diaper pattern, and, as this is not by any means difficult, consideration will be given to that use only, says a writer in the Ladies' World in preface to the following:

The stencils are usually cut from waterproof paper, such as is used in letter copying books, and is procurable at any stationer's. The thickest sheets will be most suitable for the work. Any small pocketknife can be used for cutting provided it has a good sharp point and is comfortable to hold. Some of the small erasing knives with long, slender handles are excellent for the purpose. The cutting can best be done on a sheet of heavy cardboard laid flat on a firm table.

A full sized sketch of the design having been made, it must then be drawn complete on the waterproof paper. In making the design it is necessary to leave what are called "ties," which are small spaces in the design which hold the stencil together. In the examples given here it will be noticed that lines which should be continuous are broken here and there, and these breaks are for the purpose of holding the stencil together. It is not advisable to make the stencils more than twelve or fifteen inches square, as if they exceed this they will be somewhat unmanageable on the wall. If the space to be decorated calls for a larger area it will be best to make the design in two parts or more.

The design being complete on the waterproof paper, the outlines are cut through with the point of the knife, taking care not to cut into the "ties" and so weaken them. As a separate stencil is necessary for each color used only the leaf and stem part of the pattern will be cut on the first sheet. This will then be laid on a second sheet of the waterproof paper exactly the same size as the first, and with a pencil the cut out parts are marked on the under sheet, thus giving the exact position for the blossoms. These must then be drawn in on the second sheet and cut through in the same manner as before. The two stencils are then complete and ready for use on the wall.

A stencil brush can be procured at any large hardware store and is a short handled, round brush with short bristles. The color used is ordinary calcimine tinted to the desired shade with powder colour, and mixed somewhat thicker than for ordinary use. In working with the brush and color great care must be taken not to get too much color in the brush. Use a little of the color at a time, poured into a shallow tin, such as a canister lid, and even then the brush should be wiped almost dry or it will cause the color to run under the stencil and form a blot.

Hold the stencil with one hand in position on the wall, and with the other rub the color through the opening just sufficient to transfer the pattern to the wall. After doing five or six of the "repeats" of the leaf part of the design the first will be dry enough to have the blossoms stenciled in. The second stencil can be easily superimposed on the design, and with another brush and a suitable color for the blossoms the same process must be gone through as before.

TULIP BORDER—ROSEBUSH AND SWALLOW BORDER.

Putting Up the School Luncheon.

In preparing lunches for school children the cardinal principle is to have them attractive. The girl takes to a basket decorated with ribbons and offset by cunning little napkins, while the boy appreciates a trim box with each article wrapped in waxed paper. This paper is very inexpensive when bought in quantity.

Rags and Paper.

The very best writing paper is made of rags, but even with the higher grades there is a certain percentage of wood pulp, and the product which comes of this combination is if anything superior in looks to the paper made wholly from rags. For bank note paper only clean new linen rags are acceptable. Nothing but linen will suffice, and the clippings from men's shirts form a considerable per cent of the raw material. A good deal, too, comes from Ireland, which can always be relied on to furnish the best linen in the world. When you reflect on the length of time a piece of paper money lasts and the immense amount of handling it gets it will be readily seen that no inferior elements can enter into its production.

Malay Peninsula Diet.

"Probably the most varied diet in the world," said a traveler who had just returned from the Malay peninsula, "is that of the Jakuns of the Sea, or Orang Lauts, who are the real Malay pirates. These people have about all that there is to eat, and they eat everything as it comes along. Although they have all kinds of fine fruits, at certain times of the year they eat a yam which is so poisonous that they have to grate it and mix it with slaked lime before they dare swallow it. In the way of flesh they eat monkeys, deer, wild pig, birds, fish, porcupines, lizards, squirrels, rats, mice and snakes. And they seem to turn from venison to rat or from wild pig to snake with equal appetite.

An English Joke.

"What people are always sure of finding the biggest fish near their coast?"

"Give it up."

"The English, because they can always find Wales."

"Oh, pshaw! Wales isn't whales."

"No, you stupid. But don't the English drop their h's?"

The Way With Servants.

Mrs. New—Yes, most of the servant girls are as independent and as impudent as they can be. Now, I believe it's best to take a young greenborn and train her up in the way she should go and then— Mrs. Olden—First thing you know she goes.

A Woman's Prayer

It is notable that in the despondency caused by womanly diseases, there seems to many a suffering woman no way of escape from pain except at the price of life itself. It would be sad to record such a story of struggle and suffering except for the fact that in such dire distress many a woman has found a way back to health and happiness by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. The one and only remedy for leucorrhea, female weakness, prolapsus, or falling of the womb, so absolutely specific and sure in curing these common ailments of women, as to warrant its makers in offering to pay, as they hereby do, the sum of $500 reward for a case of the above maladies which they cannot cure.

"Your medicine almost raised me from the dead," writes Mrs. Edwin H. Gardner, of Egypt, Plymouth Co., Mass., Box 14. "My urine was like brick dust and I had pain all over me, and such a dragging feeling it seemed I could not do my house work. One day I found a little book. I read it and wrote to Dr. Pierce, and in a few days received an answer. I decided to try his medicine, and to-day I am a well woman. I have no backache, no headache, no pain at all. I used always to have headaches previously to the monthly period and such pain that I would roll on the floor in agony. I took three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and three of Golden Medical Discovery and three vials of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, and was completely cured."

STYLE IN WRITING.

An Incident That Showed How Well Choate Knew De Quincey.

It is the fashion to laugh gently at any claim of a special sense for style in writing. Most people really believe that Mr. Brown and Mr. Johnson will order a car load of potatoes in substantially the same words and that Lord Bacon and Master Shakespeare wrote enough alike to deceive their dearest friends. But occasionally one comes upon an illustration that goes to prove style in writing is as distinctive to the trained eye as color is.

Many years ago James T. Fields was making a collection of the writings of De Quincey. The essays were widely scattered in various periodicals and were often hard to identify. Mr. Fields knew Rufus Choate as a devoted student of De Quincey and wrote him one day asking his opinion as to a certain article. Was it by De Quincey or not?

Mr. Choate replied that it certainly was. There could be no mistaking the style of the piece. A few weeks later Mr. Choate received, through Mr. Fields, a letter from De Quincey denying absolutely and somewhat indignantly the authorship of the article. But Choate was not of the stuff to yield his opinion for a trifle like that. He wrote to Mr. Fields:

"I still believe that De Quincey wrote the essay, De Quincey to the contrary notwithstanding."

Doubtless Mr. Fields read the note with a smiling comment, "That's just like Choate's confidence in his own judgment!"

Months elapsed. One day there came a letter from De Quincey containing a humble apology for his previous blunder. By chance he had found in his desk the manuscript of the very article in question. Written as it had been years before, it had passed entirely from his mind, "and you may tell your young Boston lawyer," he concluded, "that he knows my style better than I know it myself!"

That "English Accent."

There was unconscious satire, writes Sir Archibald Geikie in his "Reminiscences" in the answer given by a housemaid to her mistress, who was puzzled to conjecture how far the girl could be intelligible in London, whence she had returned to Scotland. "You speak such broad Scots, Kate, that I wonder how they could understand you in London."

"Oh, but, mam, I aye spek English there."

"Did you? And how did you manage that?"

"Oh, mam, there's naethin' easier. Ye maun spit oot a' the r's and gie th' words a bit chow in the middle."

AIR BRAKES.

How They Are Made and How They Are Applied on Trains.

Every one has heard of the air brake, and references to it are sure to be made when the subject of protection against railroad accidents is under discussion, but like many inventions in common use it is more or less of a mystery, for which an explanation is demanded from time to time.

The modern air brake consists of twelve parts, among which are the air pump, which compresses the air; a main reservoir, in which the air is stored; the engineer's brake valve, regulating the flow of air; the train pipe, which connects the brake valve with the triple valves under each car; the quick action triple valve, controlling the flow of air to and from the auxiliary reservoir, which is supplied from the main reservoir, and the brake cylinder piston rod, which is forced outward, thereby applying the brakes.

The theory of the air brake is the equalization of pressures. When the brakes are not in action the pressure on the train pipe is made such as to prevent an escape of air from the auxiliary reservoir. When the engineer desires to make an application of brakes he turns his brake valve so that there is a moderate reduction of the pressure in the train pipe. This causes the greater pressure in the auxiliary reservoir to force air into the brake cylinder, forcing the piston out and applying the brakes.

When it is desired to release the brakes the engineer turns his valve in the opposite direction, permitting the air to flow from the main reservoir, located on the engine, into the train pipe. When the pressure thus restored in the train pipe is increased above the pressure in the auxiliary reservoir certain valves are moved, communication is thereby restored between train pipe and auxiliary reservoir, the piston is forced to its normal position, the air escapes from the brake cylinder, and the auxiliary reservoir is recharged through the train pipe.

When the train breaks in two or a hose pipe connection is broken it has the effect of a sudden and material reduction of the pressure in the train pipe, the same as though the engineer had made an emergency application. The sudden reduction of pressure also opens supplementary valves, which increase the pressure upon the brake cylinder about 20 per cent. The brake shoes are attached to rods, which are in turn attached to the piston in such manner that when the air from the auxiliary reservoir forces the latter out a pulling force is exerted upon the brakes.

World Statistics.

At a rough calculation the population of the world is more than one billion souls. These speak some 3,064 languages, and are worshippers of more than 1,100 religions. The average length of life is 33 1-3 years. One-fourth of mankind die before the seventh and one-half before the seventeenth year, only one-sixth live beyond the age of sixty. Thirty-three million die annually, 91,000 daily, 3,730 every hour, 60 every minute. While one-fourth are capable of bearing arms, only one in a thousand is naturally inclined to the profession.

DIAMOND HALL

or willing that he should be their representative than he had been willing to accept the nomination. Then Mr. Kendry is not in accord with the policy of his party and his leader. He declares himself against his party in the matter of Preference, which Mr. Borden said he was in favour of, but which Mr. Kendry denounces. The Preference, he believed, was popular with the great majority of the people, and it was responsible, to a great extent, for the great expansion of the Canadian export business in farming produce and manufactured articles. It has also brought Canada before the eyes of the British public as she never was before, and has also made Canada assume in the eyes of the world, the status of a nation, and has created a bond of union between Canada and the other parts of the British Empire. Mr. Kendry is alone in his denunciation of the Preference. Mr. O'Connell, amid loud applause, expressed his utmost confidence in Mr. Hall's election on the third of November, and gave as a reason why he should be elected his almost unlimited capacity for work, his good business judgment coupled with his energy and skill. He has succeeded in his own business and this was the kind of man to whom should be entrusted the interests of others. Many important matters are now pending, and the electors of West Peterborough should be careful who they selected as their representative at Ottawa. It would be a most unfortunate thing if the riding should elect a man opposed to the Government which had pledged itself to the completion of the Trent Valley Canal. There is, he thought, no comparison between the two men who are asking the votes of the electors of West Peterborough.

In 1896, business of all kinds was in a bad condition, and thousands of men were seeking for employment, and unable to find it, and as a result of this failure they were compelled to seek homes under a foreign flag. Now the people are happy and contented and have plenty of work at good wages. Mr. O'Connell closed a splendid address by again expressing his confidence of victory.

HON. MR. STRATTON SPEAKS.

Hon. Mr. Stratton was the next speaker, and his address proved to be a source of inspiration to the gathering, for he was lustily cheered as he proceeded. He began by stating his pleasure at seeing so many electors out on a Saturday night; the presence of the young men, too, was a gratifying feature. The work which the young men had done in getting out the registration vote had been learned by him with genuine satisfaction, and he was sure it must also have been very gratifying to Mr. Hall, to know that the young men were with him in this fight, which was a young man's fight, but one in which the older men were going to participate, too. In the registration vote alone, Mr. Hall's election was practically assured.

In voting for Mr. Hall, they would be voting for the best interests of the town, and the best interests of the country. No man in Peterborough had done more for the industrial upbuilding of the town than had Mr. Hall, and his appeal to the people to support him was not a selfish one, but he felt sure that Mr. Hall would be able to present the claims of Peterborough to the Government in such a way that these claims would receive recognition at the hands of the Government.

NEW SUPPORT FOR MR. HALL.

He knew of men who were working, and would on November 3rd vote for Mr. Hall, who had in other contests voted the other way. They were not doing this simply because he happened to be the Liberal candidate, but because they believed that he could represent the town better than the Conservative candidate, and because they have nothing to find fault with in the manner in which the affairs of the country had been administered during the eight years that the Liberal Government had been in control. There is no comparison between the two men, in view of the present circumstances, viz., that the Laurier Government is sure to be returned, and it will decidedly be in the interests of the riding to have a Government supporter, particularly at this time, when so many important interests need close attention. No leading Conservative in Canada believes that the Conservative party will be successful in the coming election contest.

Mr. Stratton advised every citizen to hear Sir Wilfrid Laurier on the occasion of his visit here next Thursday, and outlined the programme for his visit, which would include a visit to the various prosperous industries in Peterborough, almost every one of which has either been erected or enlarged since the Administration, of which Sir Wilfrid is the leader, came into power in 1896.

Mr. Stratton concluded his address amid the hearty applause of his hearers.

HALL'S ROUSING RECEPTION.

The candidate was given an ovation when he arose to speak, and it was some time before he could get a chance to begin his address. He expressed his high appreciation of the great work done by the committees during the past week, and stated that he was perfectly satisfied with the result. He was also satisfied that on the evening of polling day he would be returned as the member for West Peterborough. Mr. Kendry was now in the fight of his life, and he firmly believed that he would be swept from the field. The Liberals were going to carry the country by a larger majority than they had in 1900, and West Peterborough was going to help swell that majority. If he did not represent this riding better than the late member had represented it, he would come back to the electors and resign his seat. If he was not prepared to spare the time from his business necessary to fill his parliamentary duties he would never accept the nomination.

MR. KENDRY AND THE CANAL.

Mr. Hall quoted, with telling effect an extract from Mr. Borden's Peterborough speech, where he said that day he had been impressed with what had been told him by Mr. Kendry about the Trent Valley Canal." What had Mr. Kendry been doing during the years that he had represented West Peterborough, that he had never called his leader's attention to the necessity for the canal? asked Mr. Hall. If there was one thing more than another which stamped Mr. Kendry as being derelict in his duty, it was the words of Mr. Borden. He might have advocated the completion of the canal in the House and to his leader, but he had not done so.

Mr. Hall then dealt with the power rental at No. 4 Dam, and said that notwithstanding the opposition to the lease being granted, raised by Mr. Kendry, the Government was getting nearly 10 per cent. interest on its investment by the rent paid by the Otonabee Power Company, which had been the means of greatly reducing the price of electric light and power, and saving the people $25,000 per year in light alone.

Mr. Kendry went to Ottawa to try to prevent the Otonabee Power Company from getting the lease, and to protect his own power.

Mr. Hall closed a rattling good speech by stating that if, as he fully expected, he was elected on November 3rd, he would do all in his power to secure for Peterborough the things which the town needs, and which have not been realized through Mr. Kendry's representation in the past.

The meeting closed with cheers for the King, Laurier and the candidate. Mr. Hall to-night goes to Centreville, and will spend the whole week in the country speaking.

FRIDAY NIGHT'S BANQUET

Conclusion of Report of Presentation of Examiner Trophy.

The following is the conclusion of the report, published in Saturday's issue, of the banquet to the Charlotte street Baseball team on Friday evening. This matter was unavoidably held over until to-day.

REV. E. A. LANGFELDT.

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt considered it an honour to have the privilege of responding to this toast. He could speak for his fellow ministers when he said that they were all working for the welfare of everyone in town. It was pleasing to see before him such a splendid gathering of men, men in whom the pastor's could depend and trust and they could melt take courage in their work, for there was nothing more encouraging to a minister than to have men stand by him. He was glad that the first toast on the list was to "The King". We are all loyal subjects and our gracious Majesty should be the first to be honoured at all banquets. The Protestant churches should all rally around the Captain of their Salvation and forget the non-essentials. There was no time to argue which church was the better or which the most apostolic The greatest hindrance to the advancement of the gospel was in disruptions and petty jealousies which he was glad to say were becoming less amongst the churches. He did not believe in organic union, but in spiritual union. People were not of the same opinion and if some desired to worship under slightly different conditions from others, this should make no difference as all were serving one Master and striving to upbuild His Kingdom and to better the condition of mankind generally. He was glad that the Protestants were externally divided. They had principles through which they must stand up for. He referred to the difference in principle of the Protestant and Roman Catholics and urged upon those present to remain true to their Protestant principles and never to waver in their faith. He was glad that in this country there was freedom for all to worship as they pleased God no one had the right to interfere with the ones privilege in this regard. The Protestants must stand by their colours and not be afraid to uphold their principles. He wished it understood that he bore no ill-feeling towards the believers in the Catholic faith. Speaking for the pastors, Mr. Langfeldt said that the young men must stand by them and uphold their rights as Protestants. He hoped the banquet would be the means of bringing all into closer and more friendly relations. In closing he congratulated the two ball teams on their success. He had had the privilege of pitching the first ball in the opening game of the league and wished the league every success in future.

"THE LADIES."

The toast to "The Ladies" was proposed in a capital speech by Rev. J. A. Wilson. He thought all young men should get a copy of the edition of the book "Women" and he was very hopeful of his ability to do the same. He paid a pleasing tribute to the ladies in proposing their health which was heartily drunk.

Mr. Chris. Graham of St. John's Guild responded in a neat speech. He congratulated the champion teams on behalf of the ladies and referred to the interest shown in the Charlotte Street team by the ladies and which he thought figured largely in their success.

"THE PRESS."

The toast to "The Press was proposed by Mr. H. Edmison of St. Andrew's Guild who spoke of the influence of the press generally and of its assistance in promoting Guild work.

Mr. S. S. Moore of the Review responded.

The singing of the National Anthem brought a very enjoyable banquet to a close.

In the centre of the diamond-shaped tables were seated the members of the winning team as follows:—Harry Roddy, pitcher and captain; Wilbur Thornton, catcher; Norman Jolliffe, first base; James Squires, second base; Edward Roddy, third base; Nelson McWilliams, short stop; Jack Sanderson, left field; Edward Carr, centre field; Edward Fuller, right field; Robert Ryan, spare man. A. Webb, mascott,

The excellent picture of the champions, the work of Mr. L. A. Turner was in exhibition in the school room.

The members of the clergy present were Rev. Messrs. J. G. Potter, E. A. Langfeldt, J. A. Wilson and W. J. Jolliffe. Letters of regret were received from Rev. Messrs. J. C. Davidson and Wm. Major, who were confined to their homes through illness, and from Rev. Dr. Crothers and Rev. Dr. Torrance, who had other engagements.

The young ladies of the Epworth League, attired in white dresses, waited on the tables in admirable fashion.

It was the general opinion that the evening could hardly have been a more enjoyable or successful one.

Y. M. C. A. HANDICAP MEET A SUCCES

Good Programme of Sports on Saturday Afternoon.

The Y. M. C. A. handicap games held on Nicholls Oval on Saturday afternoon were in every way a success. Though the attendance was not as large as it should have been, the sport witnessed by those who were present was very interesting, the different events being all very closely contested. The day was ideal for such an event. In order to encourage entries, there was a handicap in every event where it was possible and the finishes were very interesting. The scratch men in the junior events were rather too heavily handicapped and had but little chance. McGrath, who won the senior 100 and 220 yard races, sprinted in fine form, easily winning the two races, from scratch. The following were the winners:—

100 yards handicap, juniors—1 E. Wilson, 5 yards; 2 Ed. Mann, 8 yards; 3 Ray Scott, 15 yards. There were eight entries.

100 yards, seniors—1 F. McGrath, scratch; 2 P. Adamson, 7 yards; 3 E. Roe, 8 yards.

220 yards, junior—1 E. Mann, 15 yards; 2 E. White, 10 yards; 3 E. Wilson, 5 yards.

220 yards, senior—1 F. McGrath, scratch; 2 P. Adamson, 18 yards and H. McNelles, 25 yards, tie for second.

Running high jump—1 F. Richardson, 4 ft. 8 in.; 2 H. Latimer; 3 H. McNelles.

Quarter mile, juniors—1 E. Wilson, scratch; 2 L. Dobson, scratch. Two also started but failed to finish.

Quarter mile, senior—1 Richardson; 2 McNelles.

Putting the shot—1 G. R. Harrison, 26 ft. 7 in.; 2 Latimer; 3 Rae, 26 ft.

One mile run seniors—1 Harrison, scratch; 2 Williams, 25 yards; 3 Rae, 25 yards.

Running hop step and jump—1 Latimer, 32 ft. 6 in.; 2 F. Richardson; 3 G. Harrison.

Running broad jump—1 Harrison, 15 ft. 3 in.; 2 Richardson.

The sports were under the management of Physical Director Holmes, assisted by Mr. T. H. Hutchinson and members of the gymnasium class.

ONTARIO SAULT PROFESSIONAL TOO

Will Enter a Team in the American Hockey League.

A despatch dated from Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., says:—

Oct. 13.—The Soo has decided to enter a team in the American Hockey League, with Houghton, Laurium, Michigan Soo, and Pittsburg. This move was decided upon at a meeting of hockeyists held this week.

There has been a decided opinion of loyalty in town to the Ontario Hockey Association, but it has been found that the Soo is too far away from other hockey centres of Canada for satisfactory schedules to be arranged, whereas, on the other hand, some fast hockey can be produced by playing with the American teams.

A committee was appointed to take the preliminary steps toward the organization of a team on a professional basis. Little difficulty is expected in the matter of finances. The chief question is the procuring of a team fast enugh to hold its own in the league company. There are a few good players in the Soo but the management will figure on bringing in a whole seven, though the local men will be given a chance to make good on the team. J. P. Mooney, who will likely be manager of the new team, has had the matter in hand for some time, and has been locating players.

The committee which will bring about the organization of the club is composed of the following prominent business men of the town: J. C. Boyd, T. S. Durham, J. P. Mooney, J. G. Sutherland, J. W. Curran, C. V. Plummer, and George A. Boyd. They have the money, and will make the project a success if such is possible.

MANGO WON RUNNING RACE

Some Interesting Sport at Driving Park on Saturday.

There was a fairly large crowd at the driving park on Saturday to witness the programme of horse-racing. A number of exhibition races were on the card and proved quite interesting.

"Mango," owned by Jas. Allen, won a race from "Victoria," owned by John Coventry, Woodstock. The three half mile heats were very closely contested, the finishes being very pretty. "Mango," won the first in 50 1-4 seconds, "Victoria" got the second in 49 3-4, and "Mango" the last in 49 1-4. N. Bennett was jockey of the winner, while W. Austin rode "Victoria."

"Representative," also owned by Coventry, gave an exhibition half mile over six hurdles, which were easily cleared. The horse made a jump of thirty feet in clearing one of the hurdles.

"Blucher," owned by O'Connor of town, paced an exhibition mile against a running horse, also owned by O'Connor.

NICHOLLS HOSPITAL ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION

Held Annual Meeting on Saturday Evening—The Business.

The regular annual meeting of the Nicholls Hospital Alumnae Association was held in the Y.W.C.A. parlour Saturday evening, October 15th.

The reports of delegates to the Toronto Convention were heard with interest.

Seven members, including Miss Fanny Dixon, of Chicago, and Miss Grace Reid, of New York, were present, and four new applicants were received into membership, making a total attendance of eleven.

Some important matters were attended to, of which due notice will be sent to absent members.

The thanks of the Association are due the secretary of the Y.W.C.A., who so patiently waited the closing of what proved to be rather a long meeting.

We Know Our Furs and Guarantee Them

WHERE so much has to be taken for granted, as is the case when you buy Furs, one naturally believes in purchasing where they can have implicit confidence in the knowledge and the truthfulness of the people who sell them.

In the making of Furs, (taking Fur Jackets as an instance) we use only whole skins, not only in the building of the body, but in the unseen parts as well, the undercollars and the underslceves—these are the parts where unscrupulous furriers resort to piecing. The Taping and Joining is all done by Expert Furriers, the Linings are made of Linen Back and Silk Back Satins specially imported by us in the extra heavy weights.

A Garment made in this manner will last a lifetime if given fair treatment. Then there is the extreme Stylishness our Furriers infuse into these Fur Garments. It is generally conceded our Designs are always ahead of most dealers in their newness, and the Trimmings and Finish are magnificent.

Two Weeks' Sale—from Wednesday, October 5th

A GREAT SALE FROM EVERY VIEW-POINT

A sale that involves desirable selling lines We realize the amount of work in preparing for the Xmas trade. Therefore reductions have been made on all Crockery (including Dinner and Tea Sets), Wall Papers, Trunks and Valises. We must clear our second flat—which is now a show room in the above lines—into one where Santa Claus has visited for years. Don't overlook this saving opportunity, as it means dollars saved to you. We were so busy last week we could not get the handbills distributed through the town. They will surprise every one who reads them. Some of our fellow-merchants claim that we must steal the goods, or that they are old stock, in order to make such sweeping underpriced clearances. Pay no attention to any of these stories. Come and see for yourselves.

Wall Paper Department

500 Rolls Gilt Wall Papers, assorted colourings and patterns, regular 10c. Two weeks' sale price, per roll 5c

Border 2c

RUSSIANS MAKE HEAVY GAINS.

Kuropatkin Penetrated Jap Centre and Captured Guns.

WILL BE NO RUSSIAN SEDAN

News From Far East on Monday was More Re-assuring for the Russians—Gen. Kuropatkin has Re-occupied Shakhe—Japs Put Up a Stiff Fight—Battle Enters Upon its Tenth Day.

Mukden, Oct. 18.—The Russian forces at 11 o'clock yesterday forenoon penetrated the Japanese centre, and, it is reported, captured 11 or 13 guns and 150 prisoners east of the railway. At another point during the day the Siberian regiments took 24 guns. The Russian operations yesterday have been quite successful.

The Japanese, after a terrific and stubborn resistance, were compelled to retire along their whole line, losing heavily. All the trenches carried by the Russians were filled with the Japanese dead. In one not very large trench there were counted 660 corpses of Japanese. In spite of their losses the Japanese were undaunted. They have brought up siege guns and have left no stone unturned and retain the mastery of the situation.

Every step the Russians pushed forward yesterday was in the face of a superb resistance that has cost the Russians dear. The Japanese seem to be willing to fight until they are annihilated.

To-day is the tenth day of the battle.

More Re-assuring.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 18.—The news from the front last night is more reassuring from the Russian standpoint. The situation is still regarded as being critical, but General Kuropatkin is apparently holding the Japanese firmly on his centre and right wing, even having recrossed the Shakhe River, and while there are rumors of an extensive Japanese flanking movement, both on the east and on the west, there is no evidence that they are actually occurring.

The situation at this date may be described as follows: Gen. Kuropatkin has slightly advanced his centre, reoccupying Shakhe, south of Shakhe River. Directly behind him, at a distance of nine miles, lies the Hun River, and across the bridges spanning this stream the Russians must retire in case they retreat on Mukden. Gen. Kuropatkin must continue to firmly hold his centre and right flank, in order to prevent the Japanese getting possession of the Hun River bridges. Thus he will cover the withdrawal of his apparently beaten west wing.

There is still uncertainty as to the disposition of this left column. Certainly it has not returned to Mukden; whether it again is advancing after its first achievement is not known. It is no longer a question of a Russian Sedan, though all thought of relieving Port Arthur must apparently be abandoned. Little hope is expressed that Kuropatkin will be able to continue to advance.

Its not what is said in our advertisements, but the knowledge that what is said may be depended upon, that keeps us busy.

Headquarters Had 200,000.

Headquarters of Gen. Oku's Left Army in the Field, Oct. 15, 4 p. m., via Tientsin, Oct. 18.—The Russians Sunday night retired along the eastern line, except on the extreme right, where they made a strong stand at Lisuhinpo station in the Chinese villages nearby.

"According to a report received from Kuantien, the enemy is stationed at Huaijen, and has not returned. Hence, he was defeated at Sienchuang.

"Our detachments advanced from Sarmati to Chiaotao and reached Diutsintai without cavalry.

"A force of Russians, which was pursued by our cavalry, halted Oct. 14 at Chiaotao, five miles to the northeast of Minsintai.

"Our detachment advanced from Sintien to Chiaotao and pursued the enemy on Oct. 15, ten miles southeast of Kaoliying."

An official estimate prepared at Imperial headquarters places the Russian force engaged in the battle of Shakhe River at 200,000 infantry and 26,000 cavalry, with 950 guns.

Russian Officers Killed and Wounded.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 18.—The first list of casualties among officers in the fighting below Mukden shows: Killed, 26; wounded, 113; missing, 6.

Russian Fleet Suffers.

Tokio, Oct. 18.—It is authoritatively reported that the Russian fleet at Port Arthur is suffering severely from the fire of the Japanese land batteries. Reports of a recent attempt by the fleet to sortie are unfounded, as is the reported capture of another blockade runner.

Next At Tie Pass.

London, Oct. 18.—The Japanese Minister here, Baron Hayashi, in an interview yesterday on the result of last week's fighting, said to the Associated Press: The war will be continued through the winter, which in some respects is more suitable for operations than the summer. The next point of real importance to be taken is Tie Pass. When that is accomplished there is nothing to prevent the Japanese advance to Harbin.

PORT ARTHUR'S INVESTMENT.

Japs Lose 5,000 But Consider It Light in View of Obstacles.

Headquarters of the Third Japanese Army, Before Port Arthur, Oct. 11, via Yingkow Oct. 15, via Tientsin, Oct. 18.—After the battle of Nanshan Hill, on May 27, the Russians evacuated Dalny and were pursued to a position on the heights six miles to the southeast. On the right flank along the railway the Japanese drove the Russians as far as Anshu Mountain, eighteen miles northeast of Port Arthur, where they made a stand. The Russian line extended across the peninsula to Sacho Mountain, on the east coast, ten miles northeast of Port Arthur. The centre rested on Waite Hill and Fing Hill, re-named Ken Hill, by the Japanese. The Russians left many dead on the ground.

The Japanese occupied the lower range of hills and held a line in front of the Russians across the peninsula. The relative positions were occupied from May 28 to June 26. In the reorganization, after the arrival of Gen. Nogi, the first division, which pursued the Russians after the battle of Nanshan Hill, was made part of the third army.

On June 26 Gen. Nogi advanced against the Russian position and Waito Mountain was taken easily. Later Ken Mountain was attacked.

Russians Used Electric Guns.

Up the steep and pathless mountain the Japanese infantry went, scaling the heights with unexampled bravery, under a withering fire from the mountain top. The Russians exploded electric guns on the mountainside as the line advanced, but they did little damage. The Russians fought bravely, but the Japanese captured the position and two of the rapid-fire guns. The casualties were 150 on each side. The victory enabled the Japanese to occupy Socho Mountain, and later the whole line of the Russian position.

That afternoon three cruisers and four gunboats of the Russian Port Arthur fleet shelled the Japanese left flank from the shore near Shaopingtao. The Japanese fleet arrived, and after a short sea fight the Russian ships were forced to retire.

A Japanese story to the effect that Lieut.-Gen. Stoessels was enraged when he heard of the capture of Ken Mountain, because from its top both Dalny and Port Arthur are visible. He ordered the position to be taken at all costs.

On the morning of July 3 a whole division of Russians advanced on the Japanese left, with bands playing and banners flying. The division carried many machine guns. The Russians attacked with great spirit and fought until they were within 300 yards of the Japanese, when they were forced to retire with heavy casualties.

Almost Succeeded.

In the night a company of Russians climbed the mountain and came close to the permanent works which had been erected at the top. But for meeting with an unexpected obstruction the Russians would have captured the works. A desperate fight followed at close quarters and there were several fierce bayonet charges before the Russians were repulsed and driven down the slope.

The Russians again attacked on the next day, but were repulsed. Both sides suffered heavy casualties.

On July 26 Anshu and Ojikei Mountains were bombarded and then attacked by the Japanese, who were repulsed with heavy losses. The attack of Ojikei Mountain was renewed successfully the next day, the Russians defending their position bravely.

On July 30 the Russians were forced to retire from a new line they had occupied, retaining, however, Taku and Shonku Mountains.

Since then the Russians have fought only rear-guard actions

Dearly Bought.

The Japanese successes were purchased dearly, but they were wonderful, considering the tremendous difficulties the Japanese encountered in a country which is a series of natural fortresses almost impregnable.

The Russian losses were about 1,500, while those of the Japanese were 5,000.

In advancing the Japanese right has moved twenty miles, while the left has only moved twelve miles to its present position in front of Port Arthur.

Challenges Robertson.

London, Oct. 18.—(C.A.P.)—Conductor Griffiths of the Kilties Band, replying to Major Robertson's letter, published in the London newspapers, challenges the major to produce any printed or written announcements issued by the band claiming connection with the 48th or any other Canadian regiment.

Murder in a Church.

Charlotte, N. C., Oct. 18.—Clay Grubble, a prominent distiller, shot and instantly killed O. L. Davis, his brother-in-law and former business partner, at Piney Church, Davidson County, Sunday. There had been bad blood between the two for some time. Davis leaves a family and was a man of wealth.

Bishop of Huron Still Lives.

London, Oct. 18, 2 a.m.—Dr. Moorehouse, who is attending the Bishop of Huron, states that the patient shows no change either for good or bad. His condition is the same as last night and may remain so for some time. There is no hope of his recovery.

Difference.

London, Oct. 18.—(C. A.P.)—Lord Hugh Cecil, in a letter to The Times, says a study of the whole of Premier Balfour and Mr. Chamberlain's speeches would, he thinks, intensify the impression that they fundamentally differ about the fiscal policy.

Forbids the Marriage.

Boston, Oct. 18.—The House of Bishops, one of the legislative bodies of the Episcopal Church Convention, yesterday adopted an amendment to the canon on marriage and divorce, forbidding the re-marriage of any divorced person.

Bremer Released.

Regina, Oct 18.—F. S. Bremer was released at his trial in Regina yesterday, when charged with complicity in the Wilcox mail robbery, the crown dropping the case, believing Bremer did not know the money was stolen.

No One Opposed.

Hespeler, Oct. 18.—A bylaw to loan Clark & Demill of Galt, manufacturers of woodworking machinery, $20,000 to establish their plant here was carried at the polls yesterday by 264 votes for and none against.

Gale at St. John's.

St. John's, Nfld., Oct. 17.—For eight hours the worst gale of the season has been raging here, and it is feared it must have worked havoc among the fishing fleet. Large numbers of vessels are homeward bound the season having closed, and inevitably many of them have foundered or driven ashore.

PROGRAMME OF PREMIER'S VISIT

Sir Wilfrid Will Arrive Here at 11.45 Thursday.

Will Visit the Industrial Works and Lift Lock—Special Train Arrangements for Liberal Demonstration.

The Laurier meeting to be held here next Thursday evening, promises to be the greatest political gathering ever seen in Peterborough.

The official programme of the visit of the premier has been announced as follows:

Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier will arrive in town per special car attached to the regular G.T.R. express from Orillia at noon. He will be met at the Grand Trunk station by a small representative body, and proceed to Strathormond, the residence of Hon. J. R. Stratton, where he will be entertained to luncheon. In the early afternoon he will be driven to the lift-lock, and will also visit the leading manufacturing institutions of the town. At 5 o'clock Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier will receive at the Liberal Committee Rooms on Simcoe St, and a hearty invitation is extended to the man and women of the town, irrespective of politics to meet Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier between four and five o'clock on Thursday afternoon. At six o'clock Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier will proceed to the residence of Mr. L. LaPlante, where they will be entertained at dinner.

At 7.20 o'clock a torch light procession will be held. The procession will start from the C.P.R. station, and proceed to the Brock street rink. Three brass bands, viz., the 57th Regimental Band of Peterborough, the Millbrook Citizens Band, and the North Smith Brass Band will participate in the affair. All Liberals young and old, and citizens generally are invited to form in the parade.

The meeting will take place as before stated in the Brock street rink, the chair being taken promptly at 8.15. In addition to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Mr. Archie Campbell, Hon. J. R. Stratton, and the Liberal candidate Mr. R. R. Hall will address the meeting.

It is the intention of the committee, who have the affairs pertaining to the demonstration in hand, to have the rink handsomely decorated for the occasion. Not only this but the town will be gaily decorated.

The committee have made the following railway arrangements. Single first-class return fare may be obtained on the C.P.R. from Pontypool on the west, and Havelock on the east, and intervening points. Single first-class return fare may be obtained from Lakefield, good going on any regular train on Thursday and return, after the meeting, on special train at 11.30. Single first-class return fare from Millbrook, good going on any train Thursday, returning on special train at 11.30.

Arrangement have also been made for a special train from Belleville, on which line single fare return tickets will be sold.

Back From the Frozen North.

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—A. P. Lowe, the geologist and explorer, who accompanied the Neptune to Hudson Bay, and spent last winter and part of the summer there, is in Ottawa. Mr. Lowe refuses to talk for the present, but it is understood that in his explorations he went further north than Peary, the United States explorer. He is also said to have come across some of the remains of the Franklin expedition. Last summer Hudson Bay was open for fully four months, and Mr. Lowe believes that navigation can be maintained for four and a half months.

The Negro Opened Fire.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 18.—In a fight between three police officers and a negro fugitive two men were killed and two were injured. The dead are: Robert Jamieson, police officer, and John Pop, a negro. Police Capt. O. N. Perry and Patrolman John Monoredth were wounded, the latter seriously. The officers attempted to arrest John Pop, when he opened fire.

Would Bind None.

London, Oct. 18.—(C.A.P.)—The Daily Chronicle says the creation of an Imperial Council such as is proposed by Sir Frederick Pollock, would bind none and derogate nothing from that complete independence of action the self-governing colonies so dearly prize, and which is the condition of their devotion to the Empire.

Lt.-Col. Reade Resigns.

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—Lieut.-Col. Reade is giving up his position of commandant of Kingston College next July. The term for which he was appointed does not expire until Jan. 19, but, at Lieut.-Col. Reade's own request, he will be allowed to go six months ahead of time. His successor has not been chosen.

Toronto Yonge St. Bridge.

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—(Globe Special.)—The Railway Department has issued an order for the two railway companies to bear the cost of construct-ing the Yonge street bridge. The order, which bears date of Oct. 7, requires the work to be commenced on Oct. 15, 1904, and completed by April 15, 1905.

Mrs. Hughson, of Chicago, whose letter follows, is another woman in high position who owes her health to the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered for several years with general weakness and bearing-down pains, caused by womb trouble. My appetite was poor, and I would lie awake for hours, and could not sleep, until I seemed more weary in the morning than when I retired. After reading one of your advertisements I decided to try the merits of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so glad I did. No one can describe the good it did me. I took three bottles faithfully, and besides building up my general health, it drove all disease and poison out of my body, and made me feel as spry and active as a young girl. Mrs. Pinkham's medicines are certainly all they are claimed to be."—MRS. M. E. HUGHSON, 347 East Ohio St., Chicago, Ill.—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

THE NEST OF TRAITORS.

The announced visit of Mr. Foster to Peterborough, on October 24th, suggests a chapter for the history of the closing days of Conservative rule in Canada.

During the last seven years of Conservative rule, matters went from bad to worse, and it was no wonder that the country did not progress. While the members of the Government were quarrelling and fmtigattion rascalities, the people stood aghast in amazement; the people by their votes, however, turned the "nest of traitors" down.

The year 1896 will go down in history as the year in whinh the Conservative misrule received its quietus in Canada. It was in the early days of that year that the dissensions and bickerings which had been going on for months in the Conservative Government, culminated in the strike of the "Seven Bolters," which was aptly described by the then premier, Sir Macekn:ie Bowell, as "the blackest piece of political treachery on record."

The Ministers of the Crown, the sworn advisers of Her Majesty in Canada, had been quarrelling among themselves for months. It is a well-known principle of constitutional government that the Ministers of the Crown must be in perfect harmony one with another, and when they fail to agree a change in advisers is imperative. Yet here was a crowd of men, some of whom were not on speaking terms, and one of whom accused another of them of writing anoymous letters villifying his character, holding on to office week after week and month after month for the sake of gain. And all the time the Canadian public were being told by these same men "that never was the Cabinet more united than it is at the present time."

In the latter days of 1895 the Conservative Government realized that its days were numbered, and that at the first opportunity the people of Canada would drive them from office. The gang of professional politicians who had been living on the Canadian public, men who could not earn a livelihood in any other way, and some of whom were actually members of the Cabinet, became alarmed and realized that something desperate must be done. They had to face the electors in a number of bye-elections, and a conspiracy was hatched to make a scapegoat of the Premier, Sir Mackenzie Bowell, who was considered by them as a "stubborn old nuisance." Sir Charles Tupper, who was then High Commissioner in London, was secretly sent for. The general elections must take place immediately after the then coming session, and an immense campaign fund had to be provided if the gang were to have a ghost of a chance to hang on to office. In answer to the secret invitation of the conspirators, among whom was Tupper, son, Sir Charles left for Canada, ostensibly "to consult the Government respecting the East Atlantic Steamship Service." Parliament was called together for January 2nd, 1896, and meanwhile "the Cabinet was never more united."

Then came a blow which the conspirators had not anticipated. On December 24th the good old Conservative riding of Cardwell elected an opponent of the Government by over 300 majority. On December 27th, in Montreal Centre a Liberal was elected by over 300 majority, where a Conservative had been previously elected by over 500 majority. On December 30th the old Conservative riding of Jacques Cartier elected a Liberal by over 500 majority. Three such blows within a week was appalling, and the crowd became panic-striken. A portion of the Conservative press began to agitate for a change in the leadership.

Parliament met on January 2nd, 1896, and a speech from the Throne was read and the House adjourned. Still no signs of the impending "bolt." The House was to meet again on the 7th. On January 4th the "Seven Bolters" got in their work. Hon. Geo. E. Foster, Hon. Sir C. Hibbert Tupper, Hon. Dr. Montague, Hon. John Haggart and others sent in their resignations as members of the Government. On January 7th the announcement was made in the House by Sir A. P. Caron, the temporary leader of the Government in the House. A carefully prepared statement was read by Hon. Mr. Foster who seemed to be the leader of the "Seven Bolters." This statement has been characterized by old parliamentarians of both sides of politics as the most cold-blooded utterance ever made in a British Parliament, and a Conservative newspaper referred to Foster as "Judas Iscariot." Sir Adolphe Caron moved that the House adjourn for two weeks, but the Opposition objected and the House adjourned for the day. It was then that Sir Mackenzie Bowell said, "I HAVE BEEN LIVING IN A NEST OF TRAITORS." No truer words were ever uttered by a public man.

The House met again on the 8th January only to adjourn. On the 9th the House adjourned until the 14th. In the meantime a determined effort was made to freeze out old man Bowell, but the "stubborn old nuisance" hung on. Then the conspirators began to realize that there was a danger of the whole thing going to smash and that their salaries as "Her Majesty's advisers" were in danger of being lost, and they began to eat humble pie. Eventually a compromise was effected by which Tupper, father, took the place of Tupper, son, in the Cabinet, and the "cats came back." Sir Charles Tupper eventually succeeded to the leadership of the party, only to drag it down to defeat a few months later. He got his seat in the House by the appointment to the Senate of Mr. McKeen, M.P., for Cape Breton, a safe Conservative riding, for which Sir Charles was afterwards elected.

Thus ended, for the time being, one of the most diabolical conspiracies ever hatched. No wonder a leading Conservative paper referred to them as a "gang of cut-throats and rebels." Yet some of these same men are among the leaders of the Conservative party to-day, and, in the event of a change of Government, would again be among His Majesty's advisers. What a sorry plight for a political party to be in. Mr. Foster was the chiefest of them.

You may excuse and embellish the "bolt" as you will,
The scent of the treachery hangs round it still.

CANADA LEADS IN GROWTH.

The increase of trade in Canada, since the Liberal party came into power, has been immense, and is a record this country can be proud of. Canada's increase in trade, since 1895, has been greater than any other country in the world. Let us present a few figures to prove this. The following table gives the relative percentage in growth of trade of the several countries mentioned, for the past seven years:

	Percentage of growth.
Canada	107.43
Japan	97.20
United States	47.18
Great Britain	26.29
Germany	38.59
France	21.98

Canada leads the world in growth of trade, only Japan, the plucky, coming near this country, and the war will give it a set back. The United States is far behind. As Sir Wilfrid Laurier says, last century belonged in the way of growth, to the United States, and the twentieth century will belong in that way, to Canada. Canada is growing; keep her growing, and continue a policy under which she has grown, and is growing so rapidly.

Further proof that our growth has been greater under Liberal rule than under Conservative rule.

Under the Conservative policy, from 1878 to 1884, the increase of Canadian foreign trade was twenty per cent.

Under the Conservative policy, from 1884 to 1890, the increase was 5 per cent.

Under the Conservative policy, from 1890 to 1896, the increase was 9 per cent.

Under the Liberal policy, from 1896 to 1902, the increase was 77 per cent. Keep it growing.

Keep both hands on the full dinner pail.

The young men of Peterborough, who have just earned the right to cast the ballot for the first time, will have a deep sense of satisfaction if they give the first fruits of their manhood suffrage for the Government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, which has brought progress to the town, and prosperity to the country.

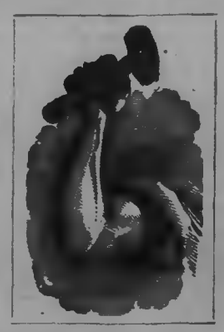
THE LIBERAL GOVERNMENT AND LABOUR INTERESTS.



What the Laurier Government Has Done to Strengthen the Hands of Labour and Keep the Dinner Pail Full.

Condensed Summary of the Many Important Results Attending Liberal Rule.

The Liberal Government has been good to the working classes. Not only has its general policy been productive of a splendid prosperity that has kept labor on the jump at high wages, but the Laurier Government has enacted special legislation in the interests of labour, a summary of which is printed below—in part, for condensed as it is it is too much to be printed in one issue of the Examiner. On the contrary one single line and less will contain all the legislation in favour of the oilers of Canada in the twenty-three years Conservative Governments have been in power since Confederation, thus—passed an act establishing Labour Day. Read the following and reflect upon it and you will have little trouble deciding that the Liberal Government has done its best so far as legislation and administration can do to advance the interest of the class which creates all national wealth, and is therefore, worthy of the national guardians.

SETTLEMENT OF STRIKES AND LOCK-OUTS.

Under the provisions of the Conciliation Act the Department may appoint a conciliator to endeavor to effect a settlement of industrial disputes wherever appeal is made to the Department by either of the parties interested. As a consequence of this legislation, and the effective administration of the Act by the Department, some of the largest and most threatening strikes of the Dominion have been settled through its intervention. The numbers affected in most of the industries and establishments have been large, between 15,000 and 20,000 employees in all having been immediately affected. Among some of the most important settlements may be mentioned the following:

A strike of cotton mill operatives at Valleyfield in October, 1900. Three thousand (3,000) employees were involved. At the time the intervention of the Department had been requested the militia of Canada had been brought up by the corporation from Montreal to maintain order in the place.

Core-makers and other employees of the Ontario Malleable Iron Works at Oshawa, Ont., December, 1900, in which 300 employees were involved.

A strike of the employees at the Canada Tool Works, Dundas, Ont., January, 1901, involving 55 employees.

A threatened strike of the miners employed by the Nova Scotia Steel Company at Sydney Mines, N.S., in June, 1901, involving 700 employees.

A strike of 150 employees in the cotton mills at Valleyfield, Que., in October, 1901.

A strike of the miners in the employ of the Wellington Colliery Co., at the Alexandria Mines, South Wellington, B. C., in November, 1901, involving 450 employees.

A strike of furniture factory employees at Berlin, Ont., March, 1902, involving 40 employees.

A strike of longshoremen and sympathetic strikes at Halifax, N. S., in April, 1902, involving in the neighborhood of 1,200 employees, which had the effect of virtually paralyzing business in the harbour of Halifax in the week previous to its settlement. All the steamship companies and a large number of merchants were immediately affected by the strike.

A strike of wharf builders at Port Burwell, Ont., in June, 1901, involving 30 employees.

A lock-out of carpenters at Winnipeg, Man., settled during October, 1903. This strike was seriously affecting building operations in Winnipeg.

A strike of the employees of the Dominion Iron and Steel Co., at Sydney, U.S., in July, 1904. Between 1,200 and 1,50 0workers were affected by this strike.

In addition to the benefit which these settlements have conferred upon the workers involved in the dispute, it is also fair to estimate that the saving to capital in consequence of the settlements has amounted to thousands of dollars

OTHER WORK OF THE DEPARTMENT.

The Department of Labour was instrumental in gathering a large number of opinions from labour organizations all over the Dominion, and also from other parties with reference to compulsory arbitration. The general consensus of those opinions was adverse to the adoption of a compulsory arbitration measure, but there was a strong sentiment in favour of a measure which would lead to the compulsory investigation of strikes on railways. During the session of 1903 the Minister of Labour accordingly introduced a new measure for settlement by conciliation, if possible, and in the event of conciliation failing, making a provision for a compulsory investigation by an investigating board, this board to have power to examine witnesses under oath, and to compel the production of books and other documents as required. This measure is now law.

ALIEN LABOUR LAW.

The first Alien Labour Law enacted in Canada was passed by the Liberal administration. As first enacted, it required the consent of the Attorney-General of the Dominion before any action could be brought for a violation of its provisions. In response to a general feeling on the part of workingmen that the law should be amended in such a way as to place its enforcement in their hands, the law was amended, enabling any person to bring an action of his own accord, where he believed that the provisions of the Act had been violated, and in order that no loss might be sustained by the person bringing the action where it was rightly brought, a provision of the Act specified that as much as fifty per cent. of the fines imposed on conviction might be paid to the original informant. Several cases have already arisen under this act, and in all cases where a conviction has been obtained one-half of the penalty has gone to the informer. For example, in the case of Rex. v. Geeser, where a miner in the employ of the Le Roi Mining Co., at Rossland, B.C., laid information that the law had been violated in two cases, fines were imposed to the amount of $500 in the one case, and fifty dollars in the other. The miner who laid this information has received from the Department a cheque for $.75, being half of the penalties, to which he was entitled under the Act.

COMMISSIONERS TO INVESTIGATE LABOUR MATTERS.

An important Labour Commission to investigate the nature and causes of industrial disputes in the Province of British Columbia was created by the Department in the spring of 1903. The Department of Labour has since distributed free of charge the report of this Commission, and undertook the printing and publishing of the evidence as well.

A Commission was appointed under the Department of Labour in the spring of this year to inquire into the employment of aliens by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Co. Also a Commission to inquire into the fraudulent practices of employment agencies in Montreal in bringing large numbers of Italian labourers to Canada to compete with Canadian labour.

The reports of these Commissions are being printed, and will be published with the evidence of the Department. Their effect has been to draw public attention to many important abuses, and in large measures to put a stop to them for the future.

A Commission was appointed during the early years of the present Liberal administration to inquire into cases of distress and suffering by workingmen in connection with the building of the Crow's Nest Pass Railway. As a result of the investigation made by this Commission and its report, a law was passed in 1899 known as the Public Works Health Act, making provisions for the protection of the health of workingmen engaged on public work, or work aided by public funds in outlying districts. A special officer has been appointed to see to the effective carrying out of the provisions of this act.

TAX ON CHINESE.

One of the most serious problems with which labour in Canada, and more particularly the labour of the West, has been confronted, is the severe competition with which it was threatened as a result of the Mongolian immigration. In order that the interests of the working classes might be protected against harm in this connection, the Government appointed a Royal Commission to investigate fully the past results and possible future effects of this immigration, and on the basis of a report submitted by the Commission enacted legislation which is calculated to have the effect of removing any serious harm to Canadian labour from this source. A poll tax of $500 has been placed upon all Chinese entering the Dominion, and other measures to render effective the restriction of their numbers have also been passed.

PREVENTION OF RAILWAY ACCIDENTS.

One of the important duties placed upon the Railway Commission, established in 1903, is to examine into the causes of accidents on railways, and to enforce regulations which will prevent accidents occuring. A special officer has been appointed in connection with this work.

The Liberal Government has also passed important amendments to the Railway Acts, framed particularly with a view to procuring greater safety to employees.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

No one who is acquainted with its good qualities can be surprised at the great popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only cures colds and grip effectually and permanently, but prevents these diseases from resulting in pneumonia. It is also a certain cure for croup. Whooping cough is not dangerous when this remedy is given. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. It is also pleasant to take. When all of these facts are taken into consideration it is not surprising that people in foreign lands, as well as at home, esteem this remedy very highly and very few are willing to take any other after having once used it. Pandora Range

Easy to Shake Down.

Shaking down common ranges is heavy enough work for a man—it is altogether too heavy for most women.

The "Pandora" range grates are composed of three bars, and each bar bears an equal portion of the coal and ashes, and are "low geared."

The weight thus distributed makes the grates work easily, and the shaking is so light that a child can do it.

Easy management is only one of the strong features of the "Pandora" range. You can know all about it by sending for a free booklet.

A HANG FIRE SHOT

Killed Harold Wallis, Druggist, at Port Arthur.

FORMERLY OF PARIS, ONTARIO

Walter R. Lyndiatt Shot—Former Toronto Man Probably Fatally Wounded At Saskatoon—Garfield Maley, Formerly of Toronto, Killed By a Burst Pulley in An Owen Sound Manufacturing Establishment.

Port Arthur, Oct. 18.—Harold Wallis, a popular young druggist, of this place, was accidentally shot at Pigeon River Sunday afternoon With Charles Freeland, he was spending his vacation hunting. Sunday afternoon they were out visiting the falls with Dr. Kidd. On their return they saw partridges on the road, and the doctor and deceased took shots at them, both missing. Then Freeland took a shot with a revolver. It missed fire and he commenced to examine the weapon and was twirling the chamber round with his finger over the muzzle when the shot which had hung fire went off. The finger was cut off and the bullet struck Wallis, who was looking at the gun, over the right eye. He died 15 minutes later. His remains will be sent to his old home at Paris, Ont.

Toronto Man Shot.

Saskatoon, Oct. 18.—A shooting accident occurred eight miles from here Sunday. A party of commercial travelers went out driving and took guns with them. One of the party, Walter R. Lyndiatt, a Winnipeg insurance man, was shot in the neck. The bullet entered the windpipe and lodged in the neck. There is very little chance of his recovery. Walter R. Lyndiatt is provincial manager of the Dominion of Canada Guarantee and Accident Insurance Co., with offices in the National Trust Building, 325 Main street, Winnipeg. He left Winnipeg on a business trip through the west about two weeks ago. Lyndiatt is 28 years old and came west from Toronto about three years ago. He had lately resided with his wife at 321 Spadina avenue. Mrs. Lyndiatt left on the afternoon train for the west.

Partridge Hunter Shot.

Harriston, Oct. 18.—Early yesterday afternoon, while hunting partridge in a bush a few miles from town, Joseph Grisch, barber of this place, was shot and seriously injured by another man of the shooting party named Grieve, a timber buyer. The charge entered his face and head and the doctors are having great difficulty in locating the shot. He will recover unless complications set in, but there is danger of his sight being affected.

Toronto Man Killed.

Owen Sound, Oct. 18.—A fatal accident occurred shortly before noon Sunday at J. S. Findlay's saw-mill [illegible] Vincent's Crossing, in the limits of the town. The victim was Garfield Maley, aged 20, who came from Collingwood recently. He was working near a moulding machine, when the pulleys in the machine flew to pieces and a secton struck him in the forehead. The skull was split open, exposing the brain. He died without regaining consciousness. The parents, who reside at 17 Dean street, Toronto, and a brother in Cookstown, were notified.

Found Drowned.

Belleville, Oct. 18.—John Sparrow, a resident of this city, disappeared a week ago yesterday and his relatives were unable to locate him. Yesterday afternoon his body was found in the harbor. Deceased was a retired farmer, 62 years of age, and leaves a widow and family.

Girl Handles Rifle.

Barrie, Oct. 18.—A distressing accident occurred here yesterday morning and two houses are shrouded in gloom. A young girl named Miss May Slidden was handling a 32-calibre rifle at the back door of her father's house, when it discharged. The bullet struck Mrs. Mary Villiers, a lady about 55 years of age, and passed completely through her body. The accident happened about eleven o'clock, and though Mrs. Villiers is suffering great pain, it is hoped the result will not be serious.

Killed By Trolley.

Preston, Oct. 18.—Yesterday morning a pretty well filled passenger car from Hespeler, on the Galt, Preston and Hespeler Street Railway, crashed into a car laden with coal, which was being shunted into a siding at Patterson's Woollen Mills. Miss Annie Renwick, the 18-year-old daughter of William Renwick of Hespeler, was instantaneously killed, a flying piece of glass severing her spinal cord and jugular vein. The motorman, George Rook of Preston, who stuck to his post, had his left foot crushed off and sustained other injuries. Father English of Galt, had a hole punched in his leg and nearly all the remaining passengers sustained injuries more or less severe. The coroner has ordered an inquest.

Drink Drove Him to Suicide.

Sarnia, Oct. 18.—George Reynolds, aged 70, committed suicide Sunday evening by cutting his throat, while recovering from a spree in the town lockup, where he had been committed at his own request. He came from Toronto seven years ago, and worked on the docks. He leaves no known relatives.

Killed Self While Insane.

Cornwall, Oct. 18.—While suffering from temporary insanity, Thomas Summers, a descendant of an old Glengarry family, hanged himself Sunday at the old homestead in Summerstown. The deed was committed with a strap, which was made fast to a transom over the door of his room. The body was quite cold when discovered by his sister. The deceased was about 60 years of age and had paid a number of lengthy visits to Arizona and California, from one of which he returned a few days ago. The hamlet was named after his grandfather, who s the old stage road a centi No inquest was held.

POLITICS IN A NUTSHELL.

Capt. A. T. Hunter was tendered the unanimous nomination of West Toronto Liberals on Monday night.

Dr. Gaboury has withdrawn from the contest in Pontiac County in Quebec, leaving the field to F. G. Hodgins and G. A. Brabazon.

Thomas Ahearn of The Montreal Star staff, and a native of Gaspe, left Monday for Perce, where he will be nominated to oppose Hon. R. Lemieux.

The trial of the North Grey election petition has been postponed from Oct. 30 to Nov. 7. The change of date was rendered advisable owing to the coming elections.

The Liberal-Conservatives of West Elgin Monday met in convention at Dutton to elect a candidate for the pending election. William Jackson of Southwold, was the unanimous choice.

Mr. R. L. Borden is shortening his tour and hurrying back to Halifax, where the tide is turning strongly with the Liberals. Conservatives will give a public demonstration on his arrival, but reliable advices say that city is for the National Transcontinental and will send two Liberals to Ottawa.

HALE AND HEARTY AT EIGHTY-TWO

Mr. Angus McMillan of Laggan, Ont. Owes His Health to Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Hale and hearty at the age of eighty-two, Mr. Angus MacMillan, of Laggan, Ont., is a splendid specimen of those grand old Scotchmen Glengarry County produces. But if you ask Mr. MacMillan to what he owes his splendid health he will reply, "Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets." His explanation is this:—

"I suffered with Dyspepsia for more than twenty years but never met anything to cure me till I commenced taking Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. After I had taken the tablets for two days all the pain and restlessness left me entirely. I feel it my duty to tell the public of the good Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have done me."

If you would live to a hearty old age keep your stomach in order with Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Reciprocity Silenced.

London, Oct. 17.—(C. A. P.)—Sir Howard Vincent, M.P., writing to The Morning Express, says the feeling in Canada for American reciprocity is almost wholly silenced by Mr. Chamberlain's exertions to obtain the authority from the people to legislate for the encouragement of British industries, but it is certain if the people of the mother country turn away from the overtures and definite acts of the colonies in their commercial favor, influences will soon be to work to show there is a people equally related to them in blood who have already provided by law for such a contingency and whose executive will be ready to do what Britain blindly refuses.

TREATMENT OF PILES

Permanence of Cure the True Test.

Many so-called pile remedies will afford the users slight temporary relief, and the majority of those afflicted do not expect more than this.

The average sufferer, after having tried every preparation recommended for the cure of piles, comes to the conclusion that there is no cure except by an operation, and rather than undergo this "last resort" he suffers on, resigned to the situation, so far as maybe. The attention of those interested is invited to the following experience.

"After ten years of suffering from blind, bleeding and protruding piles, and after using every remedy I could hear of without any benefit I finally bought a fifty cent box of Pyramid Pile Cure, and used it with such good results I bought next a dollar box, which finished up the job. That was nearly six years ago, and as far as piles is concerned I am cured, and have never felt a symptom of them since.

"Many others have used this remedy by my advice, with the same results, and I always recommend it to sufferers with piles." C. H. Potts, Burlington, Kans.

Testimony like this should convince the most skeptical the Pyramid Pile Cure not only cures, but cures to stay cured. It is in the form of a suppository, can be applied in the privacy of the home, directly to the parts affected, and does its work quickly and painlessly.

Druggists generally sell this famous remedy for fifty cents a package and sufferers are urged to buy a package now and give it a trial to-night. Accept no substitute.

A little book describing the causes and cure of piles is published by the Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich. and same will be sent free to any address for the asking.

WELCOME PREMIER

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Addresses Meetings at Four Points.

EXETER AND CLINTON, WINGHAM AND LUCKNOW

A Revelation of the Premier's Physical Fitness Gratifying to His Friends and Disconcerting to His Opponents—An Eloquent Plea For Unity—A Dignified Statement of His Devotion to Canada.

Lucknow, Oct. 18.—To those who have been inclined to give credence to the stories in the Opposition press concerning his health, the record made by Sir Wilfrid Laurier yesterday will be a revelation as gratifying to his friends as it will be disconcerting to his opponents. Starting from London at an early hour, he spoke to the electors of the counties of Huron and Bruce at four different points, Exter, Clinton, Wingham and Lucknow, received the greetings of his enthusiastic supporters at many other stations along the line, and started on the return journey to London last night, full of vigor and in buoyant spirits. His reception at Lucknow, the centre of a large Scotch settlement noted for its loyalty to Scottish ideals and to the great principles of Liberalism and freedom which are characteristic of the race, was especially gratifying to the Premier.

Eloquent Appeal For Unity.

At that town he spoke for nearly an hour and a half, and made an eloquent appeal for unity and harmony between the different races which have contributed to the composition of the Canadian people. With emphasis he declared that when the grave had closed over his mortal remains friend and foe alike will be compelled to admit that, of French-Canadian blood, his life had been devoted to the best interests of the Dominion, and that he had never stirred the passion or prejudice of race or creed, but had always appealed to the people of his native Province upon the broad principles of the great Reform party, God having made him a Liberal of the English school of Fox, Gladstone and Bright.

At Wingham and Clinton there were also great demonstrations in honor of Sir Wilfrid and his estimable wife, who is his inseparable companion in the campaign and who shares with him the affections of the people of Ontario. At Exeter and other stations along the line Sir Wilfrid was given gratifying evidence of the popularity of his Administration and assurances of the continued confidence of the people.

Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier will leave London for Uxbridge this morning. En route they will stop over at Woodstock and pay a visit to Hon. James Sutherland, the state of whose health is unfortunately such as to preclude him from taking any active part in the campaign.

The Exeter Demonstration.

At Exeter there was a striking demonstration, and nearly a thousand people from the town and surrounding townships of Usborne, Hay and Stephen had gathered at the station. As soon as the train came to a standstill there was a rush for the car, and Sir Wilfrid's appearance upon the rear platform was greeted with a great outburst of cheering. A local committee, composed of J. G. Stanbury, Secretary of the Liberal Association; D. McInnes, Usborne; W. Hewson, Exeter, and C. Lewis, Crediton, boarded the car and conveyed to the Premier assurances of the loyalty of the Liberals of South Huron. "Glad to see you," shouted an enthusiastic admirer, and the crowd echoed the sentiment with a hearty cheer. "I am equally glad to see you all," replied the Premier, who, in reply to the insistent demand, made one of those happy and appropriate five-minute speeches characteristic of him.

POISONED ARROWS.

Foul Campaigning Against Hon. A. B. Aylesworth in Bowmanville.

Bowmanville, Oct. 18.—That even a man's religion is not sacredly exempt from the slanderous attacks of his political opponents is proved by the latest device to defeat Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, as exposed at a rousing meeting of his supporters here last night. A circular postcard has been sent out from Bowmanville, avowing that Mr. Aylesworth is an Atheist. The charge was the subject of an extremely touching reply by the candidate last night, when he repelled the insinuation and referred, with an emotion that broke his voice for the time, to the sainted mother now passed away, and who he said he was glad was not here to hear of such a charge. Mr. Aylesworth's explanation was heard by many with an emotion scarcely less manifest than his own. Although the circular was not read at the meeting, the following is given by one who saw a copy as the wording of it:

"Are you aware that Mr. Aylesworth, like Sir William Mulock, is an avowed Atheist, that he boasts that he is too busy a man to attend any church, and he gives his support to none? You need not take my word for it: inquire for yourself.

"(Signed) S. Smith."

Tarte Not to Run.

Montreal, Oct. 18.—Hon. Mr. Tarte will not be a candidate at the coming election. This decision is announced yesterday as follows in La Patrie: "Mr. Tarte has just made known to a group of his friends that he has come to the definite decision not to contest a seat at the present election."

QUAKER FOOTBALL CLUB'S CONCERT

Very Enjoyable Programme in Y. M. C. A. Hall Last Evening.

The Quaker Football Club scored another victory last evening in their concert in the Y. M. C. A. Assembly Hall. There was a large attendance to enjoy the programme, which was one of much interest, and each number was very heartily received, encores being numerous.

The programme opened with a violin solo, "3rd Air Varie," by Mr. Gilbert Markle, who displayed his marked ability as a violinist in the splendid interpretation of the number. He responded to an encore A recitation by Miss Ethel Primeau was well received and was followed by a banjo selection by Mr. Wm. Dundas. Miss K. M. Garvey was quite successful in her solo "Waltz," and responded to an encore with "A Japanese Love Song." Mr. J. Lawrence sang in splendid voice "Mary of Argyle," and in response to an enthusiastic encore, gave "The Anchor's Weighed." violin solo, "Tambourin," by Mr. Markle, was a very highly appreciated number. Miss Clara Bellegrem scored a success in her double number, two lyrics, "Parting Hour" and "Spring Again." She responded to a hearty encore. Mr. George Lynch gave a humorous recitation, "The Englishman's Opinion of This Life." He responded to a triple encore, his selections being exceedingly popular with the audience. Mr James Dawson sang, with splendid effect, "The Strolling Player." Mr. Markle's third number was "Concerto I," and was splendidly executed. The concluding number was a musical selection on glasses by Mr. Dundas.

The programme throughout was heartily enjoyed, and the Quakers may well feel gratified at the success of the affair.

Miss M. McCabe performed the duties of accompanists in a most efficient manner.

Miss Wall has removed his Dressmaking Rooms over 391 George street, where she will be pleased to see her customers. Entrance through T. H. Adams' Store, 393 George Street.

CORONER'S JURY RENDERS VERDICT

Inquest on Mrs. Fred Miles' Death was Conducted at Warsaw Yesterday Afternoon.

Jury Found That She Came to Her Death Through Collapse of the Heart.

Her Husband and Dr. Patterson not Connected With Illness or Death of Mrs. Miles Says the Jury.

The inquest on the death of Mrs. Fred Miles, which occurred on Thursday, October 6th, was concluded on Monday, at Warsaw, when, after a six hours' session, the coroner's jury rendered the following verdict:

"We, the jurors on the inquest of Mrs. Fred Miles, deceased, after duly considering the evidence brought down, are of the opinion that the death of the said Annie Miles, was caused by the collapse of the heart, such collapse was induced by the labour of a miscarriage, while suffering from the constriction of the bowel. The attending physicians were apparently not aware of such constriction, but, happily, the post mortem revealed the fact.

"We are also of the opinion that there is nothing in the evidence to connect the husband, Frederick Miles, or Dr. Patterson, with the illness, or death, of the deceased."

The inquest resumed after the adjournment Monday morning at 10 o'clock, in the town hall, Warsaw, and a large number of persons, outside of those immediately connected with the case, were in attendance, the affair having evidently created a considerable amount of interest in that community.

The post mortem revealed the fact that the late Mrs. Miles had come to her death, not from the effects of the miscarriage directly, as was popularly supposed, but from that cause only indirectly, the fatal effects having come from the combination of the miscarriage and constriction of the bowel, which was only revealed by the post mortem examination, which was conducted by Dr. Meachem, of Warsaw, and Dr. Young, of Peterborough.

Dr. Patterson of Norwood, was the principal witness, and since he was the physician who attended the deceased during the greater part of her illness, and was present when she died, his evidence was valuable.

THE EVIDENCE.

The first witness yesterday was Fred Miles, the husband of the deceased, and his evidence was, in brief: He and his wife were in Norwood together when they procured some powders from Dr. Patterson; one of the packages was for himself and the other for his wife. The latter was partly used, about three or four, and the same number remained unused. Mrs. Ray, witness' sister, got the powders from deceased, and gave them to witness' daughter Addie, telling her to destroy them so that the children could not get them. He thought that it was his wife who had asked Dr. Patterson for the powders. Those which were procured for himself were for a throat trouble, and have not yet been taken

THE PHYSICIANS' STORY.

Dr. Patterson was the next witness whose evidence was taken, and he said that he had known Mr. and Mrs. Miles before they came to him on October 3rd to be examined for life insurance policies, but he had never attended either of them professionally before that time. He had examined Mr. Miles a few weeks before that time, but had not sent in the papers, because he had asked him to hold them until he had consulted with his wife, as they intended to take out a joint policy for one thousand dollars each, instead of one of two thousand dollars on his own life only. Mrs. Miles gave a satisfactory examination and he sent the papers to Mr. Young at Peterborough the same night. The deceased told him that she was pregnant, but simply mentioned the fact. After the examination Mrs. Miles mentioned to witness that she had a pain, and at the same time Mr. Miles told about his throat trouble, and asked for some medicine for it. Mrs. Miles, speaking about the pain, said that she had suffered from it for three or four weeks, and that it was across the hips. She said that she had at first intended not to say anything about the pain, and did not know what caused it. It was not severe, and she did not suffer from it all the time. Witness questioned her and she gave some symptoms of her trouble, one of which was that her skin was irritated, the irritation being general. He eventually gave her a preparation of sulphur for her general symptoms, intending that this should relieve her of the irritation. She did not mention anything about a pain in the abdomen, and the powders he gave her were for her general symptoms. She complained of hot flashes, which he thought were caused by nervousness. Witness told her that he thought the pain was of no particular importance, but said that it might develop into something serious later on. Mrs. Miles asked if it might not be better to make an examination, and witness said he would make one if desired, and said also if they wished it he could come to their place at night to make the examination. She said she wanted me to come at night, because she did not want anybody to know about him going there. He made arrangements to come out the next night.

REASON FOR THE EXAMINATION.

He could not think of any reason why she should want an examination unless she thought there was some trouble coming. He had not given either of them any medicine before this, but on the Wednesday before he had received a letter from Mr. Miles about the examination for the insurance. The letter asked him when it would be convenient for him to examine his wife. On the Tuesday night when he went to Mr. Miles' he met him outside the gate. This was about twelve o'clock. When he went inside the house he asked Mrs. Miles about her condition and she said that the pain was slightly worse, but nothing serious. He proceeded to make the examination and found the parts all normal, and did not know why she wanted the examination except for her own satisfaction. He told Mr. Miles that he found nothing wrong, and told his wife that the pains might result in miscarriage. She had not said anything about this but he concluded from her speech that she suspected that she might have one. She informed him that on previous occasions, after the birth of two or three of her children she had had blood-poisoning. He told her that if labour pains developed she might miscarry, or she might pass through successfully. He thought that she might pass through this period and have the child in the regular way.

When he left her she was as well as when he came. He told them that if he was needed he would come again.

THE PATIENT WAS WORSE.

The next afternoon about four o'clock he received a letter from Mr. Miles by Archie Rogers, asking him to go to see Mrs. Miles at once, and he reached the house about seven o'clock. The patient was then in bed and was suffering from severe pains across the back. He made another examination and found the os hard and undilated. She told him of her suffering through the day, and stated that the water had discharged, whereupon he told her that there would be a miscarriage.

Dr. Patterson then described the operations leading up to the miscarriage, which had been effected with the aid of a pair of dressing forceps. Before this however, Mr. Miles suggested that it might be advisable to get another doctor, and he sent for Dr. John Fraser, of Lakefield, but he was ill and could not come, and sent Dr. R. A. Fraser.

ANOTHER DOCTOR SENT FOR.

Upon the arrival of Dr. Fraser the two prepared to remove the afterbirth, but found that it had passed off. This was about nine o'clock, and they concluded that there had been a successful finish. From this time on Dr. Fraser managed the case, and administered the usual dose of one dram of ergot.

The two doctors then went out doors, and discussed the case, but had no immediate fear of the result. While they were there chatting Mr. Crowe, the father of Mrs. Miles came along and asked them how his daughter was. Coming into the house again a dose of aromatic spirits of ammonia was given, and about fifteen minutes after the stimulant had been given the patient showed signs of a difficulty of breathing, and a peculiar motion of the lips which indicated that death was near. The family was then called and she died almost at once.

HEART FAILED AND PATIENT DIED.

He thought that the cause of death was that the heart gave out. At the time of the examination for insurance he noticed that her heart was beating at 120, which was about fourty more than the natural beating would be. There was a considerable shock from the pain which she suffered.

To Mr. Miles witness said that the letter he received from the former, was one asking him when it would be convenient to conduct the examination for the insurance policy.

To Coroner Grey witness said that the deceased might have been suffering from septic trouble at the time of the examination, but he did not detect it.

To Mr. Wood he said that the foetus was quite cold when he first touched it, and must have been dead for some time. He said that previous to this time he had received a letter from Mr. Miles enclosing three dollars in payment of a hot water bottle which he had sold him.

To the foreman witness said that Mr. Crowe had asked him about nine thirty or ten. Thursday morning, about the condition of his daughter, and he had told him that although she was in a critical condition he thought she would get through it successfully. This closed Dr. Patterson's evidence.

SECOND DOCTOR'S EVIDENCE.

The next witness was Dr. R. A. Fraser, of Lakefield, who said that he was called to see Mrs. Miles on Thursday, Oct. 6th, and arrived there about 8.45, and found the patient in a very serious condition. He concurred with Dr. Patterson in the latter's statement as to the removal of the afterbirth, in which he thought there must have been septicaemia. Mr. Miles seemed to be anxious about this as it appears that his wife had been troubled with it before. After feeling her pulse at the wrist he gave the patient a dose of aromatic spirits of ammonia and 20 grains of quinine. Following the introduction of the medicine the patient revived somewhat and he, with Dr. Patterson, went outside to discuss the case. It was then that Dr. Patterson was asked by Mr. Crowe as to his daughter's condition. Witness told Dr. Patterson that he thought the latter was making a mistake in saying that she was better, as she was not yet out of danger.

THE HEART WAS AFFECTED.

The deceased's husband later told him that his wife had complained of a pain in the heart, and he examined that member finding the beats rapid, indicating some heart trouble. Shortly after this he went and laid down and Mr. Miles came to him saying that he thought his wife was worse, and was going down hill. Witness said to him that he was afraid so too, but that he had given her the strongest medicine he could and did not care to repeat the dose too soon, but that he was afraid of a fatal termination. Shortly after this he made another examination and saw that she was dying, and asked Dr. Patterson to call the relatives. She died almost immediately. He considered that the cause of her death was heart failure brought on by the long exhaustion, and some septicaemic condition, which might have existed before causing the pain in the back. Witness did not think that it would have been possible for death to have been caused by the miscarriage alone, and her heart failure was caused by something unknown to him.

DECEASED'S DAUGHTER'S TESTIMONY.

Addie Miles, daughter of the late Mrs. Miles, was then called, and testified that her mother had told her Tuesday morning that Dr. Patterson was coming that night, and that she did not want anyone to know about his visit. She knew on Monday morning that her father and mother were going to Norwood, but did not know what they were going for. She had often heard her mother say that she wished she had her life insured, but nothing was said Monday morning about it. Her mother did not tell her what the doctor was coming on Tuesday night for. Speaking about the powders, she said that she did not know about them until Friday after her mother's death, when her aunt gave them to her telling her to destroy them, so that the children would not get them.

SISTER OF DECEASED PROCURED PILLS.

Cora Crowe, a sister of the deceased, was then placed in the witness stand, and mentioned the conversation with the deceased, in which she mentioned her condition, and asked her to get some medicine to induce abortion. Witness said that she would not, and unless it were written down she would not buy it. Her sister then wrote a note, enclosing it in an envelope, and she took it with the money, and procured the pills from Cameron's drug store in Norwood. Mr. Miles on September 10th gave her a letter to Dr. Patterson, with money in it, and one to Mrs. Ray, at the same time. He told her to get a reply from Dr. Patterson, and give it to her father, and to tell him not to give it to John Miles. She got a reply from Dr. Patterson, and although she was not sure, she thought she had a good idea of what was in it. On September 12th, the witness remembered Mrs. Miles saying to her that Dr. Patterson said he could bring her around all right; she told her to let Dr. Patterson alone. She did not remember having heard Mrs. Miles say anything about any more children.

To Dr. Gray, witness said that she did not know of any medicine being sent to Dr. Patterson. It was a week after the pills were procured, that she told her about the pains they produced, and she thought the pills were no good.

ANOTHER SISTER TELLS HER STORY.

Another sister of Mrs. Miles, Mrs. Kate Rogers, was the next witness, and she told rather a sensational story of the events of the Monday morning at Norwood, when Mr and Mrs. Miles were in that village. She heard the two talking about insurance, and heard Mr. Miles swear at his wife and say to her that she had to get her life insured, and told her to get the men and have them sign the papers. He said witness could not sign them, as she was a relative. She heard his wife protest against the insurance on the ground that it would be too much expense, but her husband said he could pay it all right. She heard in the summer that Mrs. Miles was pregnant, and at the time that the last twins were born she heard Miles say that if there were any more children he would put an end to both of them. Miles had refused to carry a parcel in Norwood which his wife offered him, and the last she heard him say was that she did not want to get insured.

HUSBAND'S IGNORANCE OF THE PILLS.

Fred Miles was again put in the stand, and said he knew nothing about the bottle of pills until after Mrs. Miles' death. The letter he sent to Dr. Patterson was one accompanied by $3 to pay for a water bottle, and the reply was giving instructions for using it. He said his wife was quite satisfied to get insured, and thought it would be a good thing. Mr. Waters and Miss Squires signed the papers for her, and he never mentioned the persons spoken of by Mrs. Rogers.

The only other evidence taken was that of Dr. Young, who read the post mortem statement, and Dr. Meachem, who assisted in the examination. The statement made by the doctors was important in one particular.

POST MORTEM STATEMENT.

The statement of the physicians, who made the post mortem examination, shows that there was a constriction of the bowels, which would would have been sufficient in itself to have caused death. In his evidence submitted, Dr. Young spoke of a twisting of the bowels, which he said, might have existed for 12 hours. The kidneys were congested, and this might have been caused by a shock or a cold, or it might have been caused by pregnancy. If the deceased had abused herself in any way, such as turning somersaults, or falling on the floor, to induce miscarriage, this might have caused the twisting. He thought the direct cause of death was a shock caused by continuous pains. The pain caused by the twisting could only have been relieved by an operation. The miscarriage could not have caused death so suddenly, unless there had been a clot of blood on the heart, which there was not.

To Mr. Wood—The witness said that the blanched condition of the brain indicated that there had been a shock. Witness also said that he did not think that the shock alone from the miscarriage would have caused death. He thought that there was some septic absorption in the system to cause high temperature. There was also a gangrenous state in the bowels, which might have caused death at some time, and which could not have been effected by the miscarriage. The state of the bowels was probably caused by some violent exercise.

Dr. Meachem was the last witness and his evidence corroborated that of Dr. Young.

This closed the evidence, and the jury then considered the case, rendering the verdict as above.

INTERESTING PAPERS AT EPWORTH LEAGUE

Charlotte Street Church Young People's Successful Meeting.

The Charlotte Street Epworth League held a very interesting meeting on Monday evening. A very large attendance met to hear papers read by Miss N. Dawe on "Daniel" by Miss B. Sanderson, on "Julias," and by Mr. R. Freund on "Stephen." Mr. G. J. Tovey an old time leaguer occupied the chair in the absence of the President, who is holidaying at Wiarton and congratulated the league on the excellent papers prepared and read. It was very encouraging to see the large number of young men present.

WEDDING BELLS.

Nuptials of Miss E. Quinlan and Mr. Albert E. Doris.

A quiet wedding was solemnized at nine o'clock this morning at St. Peters Cathedral when Miss Mary Ellen Quinlan, daughter of Mr. David Quinlan, of East Ward was married to Mr. Albert Edward Doris of town. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Galvin in the presence of a number of friends and relatives of the contracting parties. The bride was attended by her sister Miss Ruth A. Quinlan, while the groomsman was Mr. Nicholas Doris of Keene, brother of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Doris will reside in town.

"IF."

If Mr. Kendry, the candidate, should take to drink, and doesn't go up against it any oftener than he has gone to Ottawa, during the past eight years he hasn't represented West Peterborough, it will take him a mighty long time to form the habit.

If Mr. Kendry—the candidate—doesn't attend to his woollen mills business any better than he has attended to his "representative" duties, and to the interests of West Peterborough, it is no wonder he is crying for a protective tariff that will permit him to lie down and dream dividends.

"PROTECTION AND PROSPERITY".

One of the mottoes at Mr. Borden's Montreal meeting, was, "Protection and Prosperity." Did "protection" bring "prosperity" under Conservative rule? Didn't we have prosperity, haven't we got prosperity now, under a rational Liberal tariff? Under the Liberal tariff manufacturers were given a chance and the consumer benefitted. Under the revised Liberal tariff the duties were taken off a large number of raw materials, cheapening them to the manufacturer, and making his operations more profitable, and enabling him to extend his business, and employ more labour, at better wages.

The import of raw materials under seven years of the Liberal tariff, more than doubled in value, on the average. The consequence was that all round, manufacturing industries never grew and thrived, never increased, as they have done in the past seven or eight years.

Besides, our exports of manufactures have more than doubled in these seven or eight years. In 1896, the exports of Canadian manufacturers, amounted to only $9,365,384. In 1903 they had piled up to $20,824,967, more than double. In the eighteen years of Conservative rule, under "Protection and prosperity," there was an increase of only five and a quarter millions in the exports of Canadian manufactured goods. In seven years of Liberal rule, the increase was eleven and a quarter millions.

Mr. Borden wants to bring back the "protection" of the Conservative regime, and the hard times. We have protection now under a rational tariff. Isn't such prosperity worth keeping. "What we have, we'll hold."

Keep both hands on the full dinner pail.

A DOUBLE HEADER.

IF—with capital letters—Mr. Kendry is returned to Parliament — but that won't do—if he is elected, he will be doubly in opposition. He will be opposed to the Laurier Government and he will be opposed to Mr. Borden—he in opposition to the leader of the Opposition.

Mr. Borden in Peterborough declared himself in favour of the principle of preference. Mr. Kendry sat on the platform when Mr. Borden held up Joseph Chamberlain and his preferential policy to the admiration of his audience. While the other occupants of the platform hailed the name of Chamberlain with applause—they may not have known why—Mr. Kendry sat scowling and glum.

He remembered his interview with the Toronto News in which he denounced the idea of the Preference in any form.

Mr. Kendry is none of your lofty Imperialists—he prefers to stick to his knitting—no matter how much he disjoints a prominent plank of his leader's platform. His "preference" is for dividends rather than trade preference between the great section of a world-wide Empire.

PETERBORO' LARGEST TOWN IN CANADA

Assesors' Returns Show That Population is now Over 14,000, a Net Increase of 846 for the Year.

Details of Peterborough's Progress During the Past Year --The Death is Less Than Half That of Last Year.

The town assessors have returned the rolls to the town clerk, and the contents are made public to-day. The report of the assessors is very satisfactory and shows unmistakably that Peterborough has made splendid progress during the last year.

The population of larger Peterborough on October 1st, the day on which the assessors' books were closed was 14,175, while on the same date in 1903, it was 11,548. In this large increase 2,627 is included the population of Ashburnham last year, which was 1,781, making the net increase in population for the year 846.

In the assessment of property a good increase is shown, the total assessment now amounting to nearly $6,000,000, the figures being $5,884,739, as compared with $5,048,015 last year. In this also the increase is due to a considerable extent to the addition of Ashburnham, the assessment in which village last year was $463,574. The gross increase in assessment is $836,724 and deducting the Ashburnham assessment last year, which was $463,574, the net increase was $373,150, which constitutes an excellent record. The births in Peterborough this year are greater than last year by only four the total births being one hundred and seventy as against one hundred and thirty-one in the town and 38 in the village as reported by the last report. In the deaths, the showing this year is a remarkable one only 47 having been recorded, as against a total of 101 in the two municipalities last year. In Ashburnham alone last year there were 38 deaths, as against only five in the fifth ward this year. The assessment returns from Peterborough this year show that Peterborough is the largest town in Canada. The detailed reports by wards, and as a whole, follow:—

John L. Stoddard's Travels—An Exceptionally Interesting Book.

A few days ago the Examiner extended reference to John L. Stoddard's travel lectures, believing that the question of good books is of sufficient interest to every community to warrant the fullest consideration. If we have seemed to take a special interest in this subject, it is because we firmly believe that the reading of such a valuable set of books will amply repay one for the time and money expended, not only in the entertainment furnished, but in the improved literary taste acquired and the valuable information gained.

Every one recognizes the necessity of education as a preparation for the competitive system of life which confronts the people of to-day. But not everyone can afford a college education, much less the expense incident to foreign travel. Anyone, however, endowed with energy and ambition, enough to save seven cents a day for a short time, can obtain the education of travel through the agency of John L. Stoddard's lectures.

Whatever is most beautiful, most interesting, most instructive, most inspiring and best worth knowing, in every quarter of the globe, is best described as well as pictured for us in this wonderful set of books and described in language which not only interests and charms us while we are being instructed, but fixes the fact forever in our minds. The work with its nearly 5,000 illustrations, is the most wonderful combination of beauty, entertainment and information ever out in print. Its value in the homes cannot be estimated in dollars and cents, for, as we intimated above, nothing develops, nothing broadens, nothing educates like travel. If one has been abroad, this work is an ideal reminder of the places seen; if one is about to go, it is an ideal preparation which will save many times its cost.

HUNTING FATALITY

Alton Young Man Shot Dead by His Companion.

GUN CAUGHT IN THE BUSHES

Hammond Dodds, Aged Twenty-Two Years, Received the Whole Charge of Shot in His Brain While Out Hunting—Comrade's Gun Was At Half-Cock and Victim Was a Few Feet Behind.

Alton, Oct. 17.—Hammond Dodds, of Alton, a young man about 22 years of age, was accidentally shot while out hunting Saturday afternoon. One of his comrades was passing through some bushes with his gun at half-cock and the barrel pointing backward, when some branches caught the trigger, and the whole charge was lodged in the brain of the unfortunate young man, who was only a few feet in the rear. Medical aid was summoned, but he died while he was being brought home. The deceased was a young man of exceptional character, much respected in the community, and sympathy for the bereaved friends is expressed on all sides. Alton is in Cardwell, township of Caledon.

Drowns At Lindsay.

Lindsay, Oct. 17.—Napoleon Duoalt, aged 55, a laborer, was drowned Saturday at noon. He was fishing and evidently met with an accident and fell out of his canoe to death. This is the third drowning this year here.

Killed By a Train.

Fort William, Oct. 17.—While trying to mount the tender of a moving engine, John Drummond Saturday morning slipped and fell and was literally cut to pieces, in the west end of the Canadian Northern yards. Deceased was unmarried.

Ten Year Old Cremated.

Marmora, Oct. 17.—A little boy, 10 years old, the son of William Jones, at Deloro Mines, was burned to death Saturday forenoon in his father's barn. His mother, hearing his cries, made frantic efforts to get the little fellow out, but could not. It is supposed he was playing with matches and set fire to the hay. The barn was burned.

Dies At Napanee.

Napanee, Oct. 17.—Thomas Anderson, aged 60, died at the Campbell House here yesterday morning. Deceased was burned and bruised by an explosion which occurred in the Campbell House a week ago by a gas plant. Mr. Anderson had been employed in the Campbell House for over twenty years and was popular with the traveling public.

MISTOOK THE TRAIN.

Disastrous Collision On the C.P.R. Near Murillo.

Fort William, Oct. 17.—About two o'clock on Saturday morning a serious wreck occurred on the C. P. R., near Murillo Station, thirteen miles west of here, when two trains, a stock and a freight, headed into each other. Both were badly wrecked, as they were going at full speed.

Fireman McInnes of the stock train while jumping from the engine, was thrown about 50 feet. His left leg was broken above the ankle, and he was badly shaken up.

Brakeman Forman of the freight, who was sitting up in the cab of the engine, had not time to jump, and was caught on the engine and badly scalded about the face, arms and body. He also inhaled steam, which, it is thought, will make his recovery doubtful.

Engineers and other trainmen, besides the train crews, all escaped injuries outside of slight bruises. There was a great mix-up of freight cars and cattle, and a large number of cattle were killed.

From what can be learned as to the cause of the accident, Conductor Gilmore and Engineer Craig, in charge of the stock train, had orders to meet a freight with engine No. 1,-038 at Murillo. As the stock train came in the trainmen noticed a freight, from the headlight of their locomotive, standing, and naturally thought it was No. 1,033, but it was No. 1,036, of which they had no intimation.

The Liver to Blame.

So long as the liver is active in filtering the bile from the blood there is no biliousness and no constipation, because the bile is passed from the liver into the intestines where it act as a cathartic in keeping the bowels active. Because of their direct action on the liver as well as the bowels, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills thoroughly cure constipation, the real cause of nine-tenths of the common ills of life.

The Slocum Disaster.

New York, Oct. 12.—The report of the Gen. Slocum Commission was made public yesterday. In connection with the important findings of the Commission, presented in the report, President Roosevelt, to whom the report was submitted, has written a letter to Secretary Metcalf of the Department of Commerce and Labor, briefly summarizing the report and directing him to carry into effect the recommendations of the Commission. He also directs that Robert S. Rodie, supervising inspector of the second district steamboat inspection service, and James A. Dumont and Thomas H. Barrett, local inspectors, in charge of the port of New York, be discharged from the service, the Commission holding them directly responsible for the laxity of the steamboat inspection to which the Slocum disaster was directly attributable.

May Not Survive Night.

London, Oct. 17.—There has been no change in the condition of Rev. M. C. Baldwin, Bishop of Huron. It is thought by attending physicians he is holding his own, but is very low, and grave doubts at midnight were entertained for his surviving the night. He has been unconscious since Friday morning.

To Investigate Charges of Misuse.

Victoria, B.C., Oct. 17.—The Dominion Government has appointed Attorney R. T. Elliott of Victoria special commissioner to investigate charges against Secretary Crow Baker of Victoria Pilotage Board. Complaints were made by one of the pilots that funds had been misnanaged.

SPICY THINGS.

Plums and Grapes—Sweet Pickle and Catchup.

A general rule holds good for all spiced fruit, plums, grapes, etc. To five pounds of fruit use three pounds of sugar and one pint of vinegar. Cook the sugar and vinegar together, add one teaspoonful of cloves and of allspice and three teaspoonfuls of cinnamon. Cook together ten minutes, add the fruit and cook until it is quite thick.

With plums, remove the stems, wash the fruit and prick the skins. As the plums cook and break into pieces take out most of the stones. For spiced grapes take five pounds of Concord grapes, washed, picked from the stems and squeesed so that the pulp is in one dish and the skins in another. Boil the skins with a half cup of water until they are tender. Meantime cook the pulp until soft enough to push it through a strainer sufficiently fine to keep back the seeds, which can then be thrown away. Return the pulp to the fire, add the skins and add all to the prepared vinegar. Boil all together ten minutes, stirring often, and put away in glass jars.

A sweet pickle that can be used for peaches, plums or pears is made with the same proportion of vinegar and sugar, using only two ounces of stick cinnamon in the sirup and pricking each peach or pear with two cloves. Cook the sirup, then add the fruit and cook until tender. Remove the fruit to glass jars and continue to cook the sirup until it thickens, or for about half an hour. Pour this hot over the fruit. The smaller peaches may be reserved for pickling, and the best pear for pickling is the sweet Seckel pear.

Peaches should be rubbed with a cloth until the fuzz is removed. Pears should retain their stems. Plums should be pricked with a thick needle.

When plums and grapes are plentiful be sure to make a quantity of plum or grape catchup, which makes a very pleasant change with tomato catchup. Boil one-half peck of blue plums in one pint of vinegar and half as much sugar as fruit. Add one-half tablespoonful each of cinnamon, cloves and allspice. Boil all until tender, strain through the colander and boil again until of the desired consistency, in all about two hours. Seal in bottles. If the self sealing bottles are not obtainable cork tightly and when cold pour sealing wax over the cork and top of the bottle.—Table Talk.

HOUSE OF SAVOY'S RISE

BIRTH OF AN HEIR TO THE THRONE RECALLS ITS STRUGGLES.

Some of the Wars Which Contributed to the Evolution of a United Italy—Progress of the United Kingdom Under the Savoy Rulers Has Been Continuously One of Sterling Progress—A Disaster That Worked for Them.

With the birth of an heir to the throne of Italy the struggles of the House of Savoy for a united Italy are recalled. When Italy emerged from the years of mediaevalism the country was broken up into a series of minor States, each with a despotic ruler. Among these small principalities was the territory governed by the Dukes of Savoy.

In 1720 the House of Savoy won the Island of Sicily for service rendered during the Austrian war and with it the title of King. The title was shortly afterward changed to King of Sardinia, for Victor Amadeus was compelled to exchange Sicily for Sardinia. The Dukes of Savoy held this title down to 1861, when the minor title became the greater one of King of Italy.

In 1748 the Province of Piedmont fell to the Dukes of Savoy, and in 1815 Genoa was transferred to the House of Savoy by the Congress of Vienna. This was after the Napoleonic period, during which the whole of Italy was divided up into short lived republics. The struggle toward a united Italy began in 1838, when Mazzini, an Italian patriot, attacked King Charles Albert of Savoy for his refusal to fight Austria. The raid was unsuccessful. Charles Albert finally waged war against the Austrains in 1848, but was defeated at Custozza. Charles Albert gave up the throne a year later to his son, Victor Emmanuel II., and died at Oporto broken-hearted.

War was again declared against Austria in 1859, this time with French assistance. For this aid Savoy and Nice were handed over to Louis Napoleon. The loss of Savoy was not felt by the House of Savoy, for at the same time the States of Central and Southern Italy gathered around the Savoy standard.

By 1861 the cause of Italy had prospered so well that Victor Emmanuel was elected King of Italy. At this date, however, Rome was still held by the Papal power, under protection of French troops. Garibaldi, a popular hero of free Italy, sought to oust the Papal troops, but it was not until disaster befell the French Empire in 1870 that the King of Italy could finally enter Rome. The work was then complete, and the subsequent history of Italy under the Savoy rulers has been one of steady progress.

New Vigor

FOR THE

Nerves

NEW POWER AND STRENGTH FOR EVERY ORGAN OF THE BODY IN THE USE OF

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

Good digestion, ruddy complexion, splendid circulation, clear brain, steady, nerves, sound, restful sleep, better health and greater strength of mind and body, is what you may expect from the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Not in any mysterious way but from the hard fact that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is composed of the elements of nature which go to form new red corpuscles in the blood, or in other words, make the blood rich in the nutritive principle which creates nerve force — the power which runs the machinery of the body.

WITH THE VITALITY OF THE BODY THUS BROUGHT TO HIGH WATER MARK, WEAKNESS AND DISEASE GIVE PLACE TO HEALTH AND HAPPINESS.

Impaired digestion, irregular action of the feminine organs, weakness of heart, lungs, or other bodily organs, pains and aches, and all the annoying consequences of weak nerves and blood disappear because the cause of their existence is removed.

By noting your increase in weight you can prove that new, firm flesh and tissue are being added by this great restorative.

MRS. H. A. LOYNES, Nurse, Phillipsburg, Que., writes, "I was all run down and could not do my work. Everything I ate made me sick. In nursing others I had seen the good results of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and resolved to try it. As a result of this treatment I have gained ten pounds, do my own work alone, and feel like an entirely different person. I have received so much benefit from this medicine that I am glad to recommend it to others. I have a copy of Dr. Chase's receipt book, and would not part with it for $50 if I could not get another."

Test the extraordinary upbuilding power of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food; 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box. 4

Mr. Goldwin Smith Points Out Strength of Deceased Statesman.

Mr. Goldwin Smith, of "The Grange," Toronto, knew the late statesman, Sir William Vernon-Harcourt, intimately. Mr. Smith's impressions of the successor of Gladstone to the leadership of the Liberal party, are given in the following interview:

"I have seen very little of Sir Wm. Vernon-Harcourt of late years. We were intimate in youth, and read together with the same private tutor, though I was two or three years his senior. He was the second son of the owner of a great estate, Mr. Harcourt, of Nuneham, and used to say in jest that it was lucky for the Liberal party that he was a younger son. He was one of the original staff of The Saturday Review when its owners were Beresford Hope and Douglas Cook, Cook being the editor. The other members of the staff were Sir Henry Maine, Lord Robert Cecil, afterwards Lord Salisbury, Mr. Collet Sandars, Mr. Geo. Venables, Mr. Hemming, Mr. Scott, of Hoxton, and myself. Mr. Hemming and I are now the only survivors. Harcourt was distinguished at the Bar, still more, perhaps, as a jurist. He was Professor of International Law at Cambridge, and was employed in important revisions of the law. His first public office was that of Solicitor-General, and I have reason to believe that he aspired to the Chancellorship, though he was not deemed sufficiently strong as a technical lawyer for that post. But he found his proper field in politics. He was the best stump-speaker that I ever heard. He was tall and imposing in figure; had an excellent voice and delivery, as well as a great command of language, and abundance of matter, especially of the more pungent kind. He was apt to be overbearing in manner, and made enemies and gave rise to satirical stories in that way. I think he was rather less effective in the House than on the stump. There was a certain pompousness in his Parliamentary manner which conveyed the idea that he was acting a part. He was at the same time a trenchant pamphleteer and writer on international questions. His letters to The Times, under the signature of 'Historicus,' made their mark.

At one time he seemed to waver in his Liberal convictions, and to be drawing over to Disraeli, his intimacy with whom was so marked as to call for an explicit disclaimer of political alliance. Though he had been a strong opponent of Home Rule, he went over with Mr. Gladstone, to whom he remained attached to the end. He was a very good Home Secretary, as I was told by Lord Selborne, an impartial judge. He was also successful as Chancellor of the Exchequer, and as leader, though at last the party split into sections, one of which was hostile to Harcourt. He rather shook confidence by his sudden change of attitude as one of the committee on the Jameson Raid question, and his conduct in that affair has never been explained. But his loss will be greatly felt by the Liberal party, which has no one of his force to replace him.

London's Church-Going.

The London Spectator returns to the question of London's church-going, and upon a careful study of the late church census comes to the same conclusion that nearly one-half the persons able to attend service on the Sundays when the count was taken were actually present. The population of London and its suburbs is given as 6,240,336. There were in the pews upon the Sunday selected for the census, 1,524,025 persons. Counting out the proportion believed to attend twice on Sunday, it is estimated that the actual attendance was 1,253,433 individuals. This is a little less than one in four. But, as The Spectator says, there never is a time when more than one-half of any given population is able to attend a public service, because of childhood, old age, sickness or defective senses. Making such allowances, the editor works out the problem and reduces it to its lowest terms thus: "Four hundred and seventy-four persons attended out of each possible thousand."

The Interior remarks that if any minister should count his "habitual attendants" by running over his list of pastoral visitations, and then count the actual attendance upon any particular day, he will find that there are never more than two-thirds of any "regular" church-goers in the pews at any selected service. In other words, the people in church any one Sunday are by no means all the people in the city who commonly go to church, not by at least 5 per cent.

Why He Prefers Single Men.

It is well known that Lord Kitchener prefers single men in the army. He was twitted once on being a woman hater. He answered smilingly that he was just the reverse. Then he became serious, and said that experience had taught him that single men, as a rule, make better soldiers than married men. The latter, he declared, are bound to keep in mind the welfare of their wives and children, and on this account are apt to draw back from dangers that would not cause them an instant's hesitation if they had only themselves to think of. Therefore, a wife, though she may be very ambitious for her husband's success, impairs his efficiency as a soldier in action.

Didn't See the Joke.

At a dinner given recently in London, one of the guests proposed a conundrum: "What goes round a button?" After the problem had been given up by the party he gave the answer: "A goat." There was a moment's silence.

Finally one of the women spoke up.

"Why," she said, in a puzzled tone, "I didn't know they ate buttons."

THE PRINCESS CECILIA

TALENTED YOUNG WOMAN WHO WILL WED CROWN PRINCE WILLIAM.

The Future Empress of the German Fatherland Speaks Four Languages and Is Fond of Horses—The Love Affairs of Her Future Husband and the Anxiety He Has Caused His Imperial Father.

Crown Prince Frederick William of Germany, who is to wed Princess Cecilia Augusta Marie, sister of the reigning Grand Duke of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, has long led the match-making mammas of European royalty a merry dance and has also caused the Kaiser and Kaiserin many wakeful nights. A great many people envy a Crown Prince, and it is true that in a number of respects his lot seems to be a happy one, but his relations with little Dan Cupid are far from satisfactory. The humblest peasant may marry the woman he loves provided he can gain her consent, but a Crown Prince either has a wife selected for him by his royal papa or is limited in his choice to a few princesses who would be merely "also rans" in the first heat of a beauty show. In the case of Frederick William every available princess on the continent and in England had been considered. One positively refused to marry him, several others were not at all to his fancy, and still others were not considered desirable for reasons of State.

CROWN PRINCE FREDERICK WILLIAM OF GERMANY.

A story is told to the effect that one day the Kaiser ordered the Crown Prince to marry Princess Thyra of Denmark. The young man refused.

"It is my will that you shall enter into this contract," said the Emperor.

"Not for the whole German Empire," was the younger man's retort.

"But I command you," persisted the Emperor.

"No bargain can be made to sell me to a woman I do not love," shouted the Prince.

At one time or another Frederick William has been reported in love with fair women who were not of royal blood. One of the divinities was Miss Geraldine Farrar, an American singer; another was Miss Gladys Deacon, formerly of Boston.

The Crown Prince is twenty-two years of age and is four years older than Princess Cecilia. He is a clever, young man, daring and impetuous, a splendid horseman and a crack shot. Not long ago he made such reckless and dangerous jumps with his favorite horse that he was severely reprimanded by the Kaiser for needlessly risking his life. He is amiable and modest and is the idol of the army.

The Emperor has thoroughly trained him in statecraft, and he is said to be well posted concerning Governmental affairs.

Princess Cecilia, the future Empress of Germany, is a brown-eyed blonde, tall and slender, with the rosy tint of health in her cheeks. She speaks German, French and English fluently, and is quite proficient in Russian. Like the Crown Prince she is exceedingly fond of horses and rides with ease and grace. Strong dynastic reasons for the marriage exist. Only once during the last century, in the case of Frederick III., has a Prussian King taken a wife except from a German princely house.

The Emperor desires to bring the Cumberland, Danish and Netherlands courts into closer relations with the German court. The Princess Cecilia's brother, the Grand Duke of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, married last June the Princess Alexandra, second daughter of the Duke of Cumberland, a sister of the future Queen of Denmark. The Princess Cecilia is also a niece by marriage of the Prince Consort of Holland.

Against Precedent.

"De Riter is building a cottage for himself in the mountains, I hear."

"Yes, and for a poet he's displaying an atrocious disregard of the fitness of things. He's building right on the top of a hill."

"Well?"

"Well, by all the canons of poetry a cottage in the hills ought to 'nestle.'"

"Old Home" Thoughts.

Don't let your heart be troubled by the man who comes back and tells what wonderful success he has had as a result of leaving his home town. It is well enough for the sake of politeness to listen to his stories of immense business deals or fabulous salaries or wonderful offers which he was compelled to refuse because he was offered still more by some one else, but don't swallow the tales. The men who go away and succeed do not need to tell of their success. You hear of their success. It speaks for itself. You are doing better than the cheap monkeys that have to megaphone their success. Attempt to follow their example, and you will meet with disaster.—Atchison Globe.

Superstitions About Cats.

There are many strange superstitions extant about cats. When cats sneeze, it is said, it is a sign of rain. The cardinal point to which a cat turns and washes its face after rain shows the direction from which the wind will blow. When cats are snoring foul weather is sure to follow. Cats with their tails up and hair apparently electrified indicate approaching wind. If sparks are seen when stroking a cat's back expect a change of weather soon. When a cat washes its face with its back to the fire expect a thaw in winter.

Perversion by Abbreviation.

Mrs. Gadabout—People are saying you called on Mrs. Verdigris the other day and got a setback. Mrs. Upjohn—What a willful perversion of truth! I called on her and got a set of Dickens back that I'd lent her two years before.

The Status.

Miss Beach—I don't think he really cares for Miss Dollars. Mr. Trotter—I think he has a platonic affection for her, but he's violently in love with her father's money.

A civil guest will no more talk all than eat all the feast.

THE WRANGLERS.

Why Cambridge University Honor Men Are So Designated.

In the middle ages when learning was elevated to respectability in European colleges exercises consisted largely of disputations, and those who engaged in them were called disputants or wranglers. One candidate was pitted against another or against a college don to thrash a question out. Wrangle is a very suitable word, for the process often consisted of a battle royal, carried on by twisting an opponent's words so as utterly to baffle or confuse him.

In the University of Cambridge in the fifteenth century 'an ould bachelour," as representative of the university, had to sit on a three legged stool (hence the word tripos) "beffore Mr. Procteurs" to test the abilities of the candidates for degrees by arguing with "the eldest son" of them.

If these trials turned out satisfactorily the moderator would compliment the candidates by saying to each, "Summo ingenii acumine disputasti" (you have wrangled excellently) to the foremost, or "optime quidem" or "optime" only to what are still called senior and junior optimes. Not till 1753 was the word wrangler used of the highest honors class.

SALLY LUNNS.

Named For a Famous Eighteenth Century Pastry Cook.

The sweet, light tea cakes, nowadays familiar to us under the name of Sally Lunns, are called after a young pastry cook of that name who was famous for the quality of her wares at the close of the eighteenth century and was constantly to be seen carrying them in a basket, morning and evening, and crying them through the streets of Bath, temptingly displayed in snow white linen. She is said to have kept a cake shop which became a favorite resort for old and young in the old west country town.

Dalmer, a musical baker, bought her recipe, made a song in praise of these tea cakes and set it to music. This soon caught on and was sung and whistled as a popular air. Sally Lunns were distributed on special barrows, and Dalmer's fortune was assured.

Sally Lunn herself is said to have baked her tea cakes for the prince regent, through whom they became known to the celebrated chef Careme. He calmly adopted them as his own invention and sold them to his customers in Paris as Soilemes, an evident plagiarism for Sally Lunns.—London Mail.

CROWN OF A TOOTH.

It Is Composed of the Hardest Known Organic Substance.

The crown of a human tooth is covered by a brilliant white cap of extreme density, the enamel, which is not only the hardest tissue of the human body, consisting, as it does, of 96.5 per cent of mineral and of 3.5 per cent of animal matter, but also the hardest known organic substance.

The whole of the friction entailed by the mastication of food falls upon the cutting edges of our teeth, and these are protected by an extra thickness of enamel. So hard is this that only in extreme cases, in persons who live on very hard food requiring much mastication, has it been known to wear off.

This enamel cap is composed of a vast number of microscopic rods, one end of each of which rests upon the dentine, and the other reaches the free cutting surface. These rods vary in shape and position, some being five and others six sided, some straight and others sinuous, but they are all arranged so that the maximum degree of compactness and strength is secured.

RUGBY.

All members of the Rugby Club are asked to turn out to practice this evening. Though beaten on Saturday, the team is by no means out of the running and with a couple of 'weeks' stiff practice should give the Torontos a beating here on the 29th of this month.

• • • •

McDonald's tackling was one of the features of Saturday's game. He should be given a regular place on the team.

• • • •

The locals apparently were terribly afflicted with "stage fright" on Saturday. Don't let it occur again.

• • • •

The Argos expects to turn the tables on the Torontos next Saturday. The scullers will be greatly strengthened.

• • • •

The Torontos didn't do a thing but wallop Peterborough on Saturday. The score of 27 to six will make Peterborough talk about the umpire in great style.—Lindsay Post.

Not so Lindsay—"knocking the umpire" is an accomplishment of which Peterborough cannot boast. That's Lindsay's means of explaining a defeat. There is no kick coming from the rugby boys for Saturday's defeat.

SPRINTING

Both Burns and Harrison are training hard for next Saturday's five mile handicap road race, which promises to be a most interesting event. Harrison has shown himself to possess durability and speed and should make Burns run his best to win.

SOUTH MONAGHAN CHEERS CANDIDATE.

Mr. R. R. Hall Held a Most Successful Meeting at Centreville Last Night.

Addresses by the Condidate, Hon. J. R. Stratton and Mayor Roger on the Political Situation.

Great Progress and Prosperity Under Liberal Government--The Transcontinental Railway.

Mr. R. R. Hall, Liberal Candidate for the West Riding of Peterborough, opened his campaign in South Monaghan last night with a rousing meeting in the new hall at Centreville. The attendance was most encouraging as the spacious hall was packed with electors from all parts of the township and the speakers were given a very attentive hearing.

Mr. Hall was accompanied by His Honour Mayor Roger, of Peterborough, and Hon. J. R. Stratton. The chair was occupied by Mr. Lewis Byers, who referred to the prosperous times that Canada had enjoyed since Sir Wilfrid had become Premier of Canada. Every reason why the Government should be returned, existed, and he felt certain that they would have a renewal of the confidence of the electors of Canada. It was therefore only reasonable why West Peterborough should elect Mr. Hall to represent them.

MR. G. M. ROGER.

Mr. G. M. Roger upon being introduced by the Chairman, congratulated the people of South Monaghan upon the large and commodious hall which had been erected. It was a tribute to their enterprise and public spirit.

Mr. Roger in his opening remarks referred to the wonderful growth and prosperity which Canada had enjoyed under the wise and progressive administration of the Liberal Government. He contrasted it with the Conservative administration which it had succeeded. The best blood of Canada under the previous administration had been leaving Canada year after year; labouring men had been out of employment. The houses in the towns were very hard to rent and many of them were empty, the Ministers of the Crown were entreating the one against the other until finally the then Premier, Sir Mackenzie Bowell, had to stand up in Parliament and make the humiliating statement that he had been living in a "nest of traitors."

Since the Laurier Administration had succeeded to power the trade of Canada had developed as it had never done before and prosperity was in evidence on every hand. He referred to the fact that the town of Peterborough had made wonderful progress during the past seven years. New factories had been located there and factories already in operation had increased their capacity and were giving steadier employment and at increased wages. Mayor Roger referred to the fact that the early completion of the Trent Valley Canal was in the best interests of the town of Peterborough. During the two years that he had been Mayor of the town he had interviewed many manufacturers who are hunting for a suitable location in which to erect their factories. They were satisfied that Peterborough had many natural advantages such as cheap electric power, and was centrally located in the most populas part of Canada and had railways radiating in all directions. What Peterborough lacked however, was water communication with Georgia Bay and Lake Ontario, and hence the manufacturers were not in a position to obtain cheap freight rates upon the raw material which were to be brought in, and on the manufactured goods which were to be placed upon the market. It was therefore in the interests of West Peterborough that an active, energetic man like Mr. Hall should be elected as their representative. He had the necessary ability and energy to impress upon the Government and parliament the importance of the completion of that great work. The people had tried Mr. Kendry and they found him wanting. He announced to the first convention that he had not the time to devote to parliamentary duties. He had shown in the past eight years that he had neglected those duties and therefore the best intercsts of West Peterborough demanded that Mr Hall be elected on the third of November.

MR. R. R. HALL.

The Liberal candidate, upon rising to address the meeting, was warmly received. He referred to the work that he had already accomplished since he had received his nomination as the Liberal candidate in January last. He had impressed upon the Government the fact that Peterborough required suitable armouries to be erected. He had been so far successful as to induce the Government to agree to purchase a site at a cost of $10,000, and to place in the estimates an additional sum of $20,000 for the purpose of proceeding with the work. A further appropriation of $4,000 was placed in the estimates to enlarge and improve the present post office in the town of Peterborough, which was much in need of improvement on account of the increased population of the town, and country surrounding it. An appropriation had also been obtained of $1200 to secure a wharf at Burleigh. A great many boats each day throughout the season of navigation landed and took on passengers and freight at this point. Heretofore the passengers at this point, many of whom were women and children, were forced to walk a plank at all hours of the day and night, and were liable to meet with an accident. In not one of these incidents had Mr. Kendry, in his representative capacity drawn the attention of Parliament to these necessary wants, and requirements. It was his duty as a representative in Parliament to draw attention to these necessary improvements. He did not fail however to draw the attention of Parliament to the woollen industry, with a view of getting an increased duty placed on woollens, which would have the effect of increasing the cost of clothing to every man, woman and child in this Dominion. As it is, the woollen industry has a high protection, and under the present tariff, with the improved methods, and the close attention which he could give to his business if he devoted his whole time and attention to it, money would be made for the benefit of his shareholders, and perhaps better wages paid to his employees.

Mr. Hall then took the question of the improvement that had taken place under the Liberal administration, in agricultural industry. Farm lands had increased in value because the farmers were now in a position to make more money off their land. It is all very well for certain leaders of the Conservative party to claim that good times were caused by Providence. There is no doubt but that the hand of Providence brings rain, and produces grass, upon which cattle may be fed, but the hand of man must receive the milk, manufacture it into cheese, provide refrigerator cars, cold storage warehouses, and fit up cold storage air chambers in the ocean liners, that such cheese may be landed in the English markets in prime condition, so as to realize the highest price. These last mentioned facilities have been provided since the Liberal Administration came into power. Surely, therefore, the Liberal Government is entitled to the greatest credit for assisting the farmers to take every advantage of what Providence has done for them.

An evidence of this fact can be found when it is considered that Canada has shipped no less than 856,329,618 more cheese during the last seven years than was done during the previous eighteen years, and Canada has shipped during the last seven years no less than $61,805,322 more bacon, hams and pork than she did during the last seven years of Conservative rule. Canada has shipped during the last seven years no less than $2,577,252 worth of eggs, more than she did under the previous seven years of Conservative Administration. The speaker then pointed out that the cold storage system which had been inaugurated by the Liberal Administration has enabled Canada to ship to Great Britain, cheese, eggs, poultry, fruit, bacon, hams, etc., in the best condition, and entitling the Canadian farmer to the highest prices that can be obtained from any country in the world for such products.

Continuing, he quoted figures showing the astonishing increase of the exports of all lines of perishable farm products since the Liberal Administration took office. After dealing at some length with this matter, he proceeded to compare the growth of Canada with other countries and quoted figures to show the remarkable increase of Canadian exports and imports, the total amount of shipping and railway traffic, and the deposits by the people in the chartered banks of Canada.

Mr. Hall referred to the grand position which Canada held to-day when compared with the other countries of the world. The total trade of Canada in 1895 amounted to $211,739,913. By 1902 it had increased no less than $227,472,289, an increase of 107 per cent. No other country in the world had shown such remarkable increase. No other country in the world, excepting Japan, approached Canada in its rapid increase in the foreign trade, and Japan's trade had only increased 97 per cent in the same period. With all the rapid increase and development of Japan, and with eight times the number of people, she still did $117,000,000 less foreign trade than Canada. We know that Japan to-day is powerful enough to engage in deadly conflict with one of the greatest military powers in Europe, and is driving her antagonist from the sea and is successfully contending with her on land. It is a source of pride for Canadians to consider that the volume of her foreign trade so far exceeded that of Japan. When we consider Canada's growth with the United States, we find that the United States increase of foreign trade is only 47 per cent., as compared with Canada's 107 per cent. Germany's increase in foreign trade is only 38 per cent, and that of France only 21 per cent. Beyond any question therefore this must be due to the prudent and business like administration of the Liberal Government, which has propounded a policy and so successfully developed every detail of it, so as to produce such magnificent results.

These are some of the reasons which have made it a foregone conclusion that the Laurier Administration is going to be sustained by the Canadian people, and why it is in the best interests of the West Riding of Peterborough, that it should be represented on the Government side of the House.

HON. MR. STRATTON.

A hearty reception was tendered Hon. J. R. Stratton when he arose to address the meeting. After a few preliminary remarks Mr. Stratton launched into a complete exposition of the contract of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. He showed that the chief points of contract between the Grand Trunk Pacific project and the Canadian Pacific project, which the Conservatives launched. He showed that the C.P.R. is from end to end the property of the company which was chartered and subsidized to build it, whilst the Dominion will own one-half of the G. T. R. and will be part proprietor of the other half through a lien held as security for guarantee of interest. The Dominion Government has also power to grant running rights. The Dominion Government constructed two costly sections of the C.P.R.—from Lake Superior to Winnipeg, and from Kamloops to the Pacific Ocean—and made a present of these completed sections to the Company, whilst the Grand Trunk Pacific from Winnipeg to near the Atlantic Ocean will be built by the Government and will remain the property of the government in perpetuity. Parliament granted to the C.P.R. a subsidy of $25,000,000, whilst the only financial aid given to the G.T.P. is a guarantee of interest—which will not cost the country anything—to the capitalists who furnish the means of construction west of Winnipeg. On the section east of Winnipeg, which will be built and owned by the Government, the country will receive a rental sufficient to pay interest on the sum invested.

Parliament gave the Canadian Pacific 25,000,000 acres of land, including the privilege of establishing town sites, but not an acre of land, except for right of way and station facilities, is given to the Grand Trunk Pacific. To enhance this discrimination, the Canadian Pacific lands were made free of taxation for twenty years unless "sold or occupied." This has so far been held to mean twenty years from the actual specific conveyance of the lands to the corporation, not from the date of the agreement—a difference which means many additional millions of dollars to the Canadian Pacific.

Further, as far as it was possible to do so the Dominion Parliament gave the Canadian Pacific Company a monopoly of the traffic of the Dominion west of Lake Superior, by prohibiting the building of other lines, except such as would of necessity become feeders of the Canadian Pacific.

The Grand Trunk Pacific Company must take its chances in competition with existing trunk lines and with any others that may hereafter be chartered or constructed. After touching upon other points in connection with the contract, Hon. Mr. Stratton read from a speech delivered by Sir John Macdonald in 1881, in connection with the C. P. R. and in which he said:

"The Government has every right to use all their exertions in order to relieve themselves and the country of the obligation of building this road (the Canadian Pacific Railway) and of the still greater obligation of running it. We see this in the Intercolonial and in every public work. Why, sir, it is actually impossible for the Government to run that railway satisfactorily. The men we put on the road, from the porter upwards, become civil servants. If one is put on from any cause whatever he is said to be a political hack, if he is removed, it is said his removal was on account of his political opinions. If a cow is killed on the road a motion is made in respect of it by the member of the House who has the owner's vote and support The responsibility, the expense, the worry, and annoyance of a government having charge of such a work, are such, that, for these causes alone, it was considered advisable to get rid of the responsibility."

Mr. Stratton closed with a strong appeal to the electors of South Monaghan to support Mr. Hall, the Liberal candidate, in the forthcoming election.

The meeting closed with the usual cheers for the King and Mr. Hall.

Many Mothers of a Like Opinion.

Mrs. Pilmer, of Cordova, Iowa, says: "One of my children was subject to croup of a severe type, and the giving of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy promptly, always brought relief. Many mothers in this neighbourhood think the same as I do about this remedy and want no other kind for their children." For sale by all druggists.

Grease on Carpet.

If grease is spilled on a carpet, heat enough bran to cover it, spread it over the place to the depth of an inch or more and set a hot iron or two on the bran. The heat draws the grease out and the bran absorbs it. One application is usually sufficient; if any grease remains, sweep the bran off and apply a fresh coating.

We Know Our Furs

and Guarantee Them

WHERE so much has to be taken for granted, as is the case when you buy Furs, one naturally believes in purchasing where they can have implicit confidence in the knowledge and the truthfulness of the people who sell them.

In the making of Furs, (taking Fur Jackets as an instance) we use only whole skins, not only in the building of the body, but in the unseen parts as well, the undercollars and the underaleeves—these are the parts where unscrupulous furriers resort to piecing. The Taping and Joining is all done by Expert Furriers, the Linings are made of Linen Back and Silk Back Satins specially imported by us in the extra heavy weights.

A Garment made in this manner will last a lifetime if given fair treatment. Then there is the extreme Stylishness our Furriers infuse into these Fur Garments. It is generally conceded our Designs are always ahead of most dealers in their newness, and the Trimmings and Finish are magnificent.

FOUND DROWNED IN STURGEON LAKE

Napolen Dussault Met Death Last Sunday.

Presumed That he Fell From a Canoe While Fishing—Entangled in a Trolling Line.

Lindsay, Oct. 17th.—Sturgeon Lake has claimed another victim. Yesterday about noon Mr. Reuben Morgan, town, arrived at the home of his father-in-law, Mr John Hayes, at Pleasant Point, and went for a stroll among the cottages, accompanied by Mr. Will Hayes. Soon their attention was attracted by an overturned canoe some distance out in the lake, and a floating hat and several paddles near by were suggestive of a fatality. Securing a skiff they rowed out to the canoe and discovered two trawling lines attached to one of the thwarts. Pulling in the slack a body came into view, and they quickly let go of the lines and headed for Sturgeon Point to telephone the news to Lindsay. Coroner Burrows was notified and drove down to Pleasant Point about 4 o'clock accompanied by Constable John Short. They raised the body, which proved to be that of Napoleon Dussault, a good-natured Frenchman, about 40 years old, who was well known about town as a handy labourer and one who was given steady employment because a willing worker.

It was learned by Coroner Burrows that Dussault had paddled down the river Saturday evening with a companion, as he was in the habit of doing. They were out in their canoes at an early hour looking for ducks, and the night being small Dussault left his companion between 9 and 10 o'clock, saying he would fish for a while and at the same time might raise some ducks. That was the last seen of him by his companion. It is assumed that either he got a large fish on one of his lines and upset the canoe as a result of an unguarded action, or that he shot sideways out of the boat at a duck and the recoil sent him overboard. The facts will never be known.

Its not what is said in our advertisements, but the knowledge that what is said may be depended upon, that keeps us busy.

FORMER PETERBOROUGH BOY A BENEDICT

Mr. James Hughes Massie, M. E., Married Miss Effie Dunreith Gluck.

On Saturday, October 1st, at Ithaca, took place the marriage of Effie Dunreith Gluck, of Ithaca, to James Hughes Massie, M. E., '01, of Buffalo, N. Y. The ceremony was performed by Professor Charles Mellen Tyler, D.D., father of the bride, at his residence, "The Oaks". Mr. Massie, who was editor-in-chief of the 1901 Cornellian, is at present mechanical engineer and superintendent for the Climax Gas Engine, Buffalo, N. Y., and also director of the mechanical engineering schools, conducted by the Y. M.C.A. of the same city. The coming spring he will become general manager of the International Publishing Bureau, with headquarters at London, England. This concern controls the entire literary output of numerous well known writers, including Zangwill, Max Nordeau, Kard Hesketh Pritchard, Egerton Castle, Miss Cholmondeley, E. W. Hornung and others. Pending her departure for England with her husband, Mrs. Massie, who is well known socially on the Campus, will spend the majority of her time at "The Oaks."—Cornell University, Alumni News.

The bridegroom is an old Peterborough boy, and is a son of the late Dr. John Massie, of Keene.

PETERBOROUGH BOY MARRIED IN TORONTO

Mr. Edward B. Stockdale Married to Miss Cora Ethel Thomas at Oshawa.

On Wednesday evening a quiet but very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Adams, of Oshawa, when their neice, Miss Cora Ethel Thomas was united in marriage to Mr. Edward B. Stockdale, of The Trusts & Guarantee Company, Toronto. The ceremony took place in the presence of a number of the relatives and intimate friends of the contracting parties and was conducted by Rev. Mr. Hodges, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, Oshawa. At the hour appointed the bride entered the drawing room on the arm of her uncle Mr. Adams, to the strains of Mendelsohn's wedding march, excellently rendered by Miss Lillian Floyd, of Cobourg. The bride's dress was of ivory silk with a fagotted yoke and a berthe of knife pleating and fagotting. Her tulle veil was caught up by a wreath of rosebuds, and she carried a sheaf of bridal roses and lily of the valley. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Hattie Gertrude Adams, who looked most charming in a gown of cream Japanese silk. Mr. J. B. Hall, of Toronto, supported the groom.

Guests were present from London, Peterborough, Newcastle, Hope Township, Toronto and Halifax, and one and all they voted the bride one of the prettiest and most charming brides of the season. The groom was, and is to be, heartily congratulated.

After the ceremony and the tasty supper which followed, the happy couple left for eastern points. Mr. and Mrs. Stockdale on their return will take up their residence at 97 Howard street, Toronto.

The above item which appeared in the Toronto News of October 14th should prove of interest to many in this town the groom being a former Peterborough boy. The Examiner has pleasure in extending to himself and to his bride the congratulations and best wishes of his many Peterborough friends.

THE CAMPAIGN IN THE EAST.

Fine Meeting at Hall's Glen—Mr. Finlay Enthusiastically Received.

There was a large and most intelligent audience of ladies and gentlemen at Mr. Finlay's meeting at Hall's Glen last night. Mayor Roger, Mr. F. D. Kerr, and Mr. George K. Martin drove out from town to assist. Mr. Findlay in the speaking and got a splendid reception. After Mr. Jacob White had been appointed chairman Mr. F. D. Kerr opened the meeting with a bright and humourous speech which dealt more particularly with the large of the large increase in the exports of farm produce and the Transcontinental Railway.

The candidate, Mr. Finlay, then briefly addressed the meeting and received an enthusiastic welcome. He dealt mainly with the local issues of the campaign and asked for the support of the electors on the 3rd November. Mr. Payne a local representative of Mr. Semsmith then addressed the meeting and referred to the temperance question and the Intercolonial Railway. Mayor Roger followed with a splendid defense of the Government and showed how in every direction the results of a "business administration by a business government" had been beneficial to all classes of the community. He also made a strong appeal to the electors to support Mr. Finday in order to have additional weight with the government in connection with the completion of the Trent Valley Canal. His speech was loudly applauded at the close. Mr. C. K. Martin closed the meeting with an eloquent comparison of the position of the country in 1895-96 and the present time. A couple of good stories well told seemed to catch hold of the audience and brought the meeting to an effective close. Cheers for the King and candidate were given and a most enthusiastic vote of thanks passed to Mr. Jacob White for his exceptionally able services as Chairman of the meeting.

Miss Wall has removed her Dressmaking Rooms over 391 George street, where she will be pleased to see her customers. Entrance through T. H. Adams' Store, 393 George Street.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MR. WM. DIXON

Former Peterborough Man's Accidental Death in Syracuse.

No Particulars as to the Cause of Death Was Formerly a Resident of This Town.

Mr. W. F. Nelson and Mr. Fred. H. Dixon left this afternoon for Syracuse to attend the funeral of the late William C. Dixon, whose death occurred in that city recently from causes which have not yet been learned. Yesterday afternoon a telegram was received announcing his death, which occurred very suddenly from an accident, the details of which are not yet known.

The late Mr. Dixon was in earlier life a resident of Peterborough, and while here was employed in Mr. Wm. Madill's drug store, where he learned the drug business. Leaving here about eight years ago he went to New York, where he lived for some years, afterwards going to Syracuse, where he entered the electrical business, conducting an extensive mercantile concern. Deceased was born here and was well known among a large circle of friends. He leaves to mourn his loss a wife and six months' old child, who are in Syracuse, and his mother, Mrs. J. H. Dixon, at present in Montreal on a visit, his sister, Mrs. W. F. Nelson and a brother, Mr. Fred. H. Dixon, of the Sun Life Assurance Co. These are all the relatives in town. Another sister, Miss Fannie Dixon, lives in Chicago, and Mrs. Geo. Dawson, of Montreal, is another sister and another brother resides in Slediji, U. S.

The funeral will take place in Syracuse to-morrow.

A FORMER RESIDENT DIED IN OSHAWA

Mrs. Rowse, Mother of Mr. O. C. Rowse a Former Peterborough Merchant.

The Oshawa Reformer contains the following reference to the late Mrs. Rowse :—

"Mrs. Avis Rowse was born in Cornwall, England, where she spent her youthful days. In 1841 she was married to the late John Rowse and came to Canada in the same year. She resided in Columbus, London, Oshawa, then with her son Oliver and daughter went to Peterborough, where they resided seven years. The last eleven years of her life were spent in Oshawa, where she died on the 5th inst., at the age of 86 years. Deceased became a member of the Methodist church at an early age and always tried to set a worthy example of her high calling. Two daughters survive her, Mrs. H. B. Tole, of Blenheim, Ont., and Mrs. A. J. Stalter, of Oshawa. Also a brother, Mr. Josiah Thomas, of Port Perry, and two sisters and two brothers in Cornwall, England.

(Special to the Examiner.)

Montreal, Oct. 19.—The following cablegram from Mr. Chas. M. Hays, general manager of the Grand Trunk Railway System, who is now in London, was received to-day by Mr. Frank Morse, 3rd Vice-President of the System: "Cable report received here this morning from Montreal and New York City, to effect that I have resigned are absolutely false and without foundation."

MORNING BLAZE ON BROCK STREET

Shed Attached to Blacksmith Shop Destroyed by Fire.

About twenty minutes to six o'clock this morning an alarm of fire was rung in, the fire being in the shed at the rear of the blacksmith shop recently occupied by Mr. Thos. Lang. The shed which was attached to the building, was completely destroyed and the door leading into the front shop burned through, but the shop itself was saved.

The building is owned by Mr. Laplan's but was unoccupied. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

IN DEFENCE OF THE ITALIAN RESIDENTS

An Italian Writes Pointing out the Fact That They are Good Citizens.

Peterborough, October 17.

Dear Editor,—Being an Italian resident of town and one that twelve years and a taxpayer, allow me to make a few remarks in defence of the Italians of Peterborough and the community at large. Who ever gave us a hard rub in one of the meetings? Now, allow me here to state in plain facts that when we Italians leave our own native country, we have not only to pay our passage, but we have to have at least $25 and we have to sign a paper stating that we have relatives or friends at our journey's end, for the law of our own country compels us to do so. So you see we don't have to depend on our Canadian friends for charity. Go to the Charity Board and find out if they have one Italian family on its list to be kept in winter by the council. Go to the Italian residents of town, what will you find? You will find that they all have homes and free holders of their own property. Go to the grocers, butchers, dry goods merchants, and wherever you may, you will find we pay for what we get. Go to any contractor and if he tells the truth, he will say we remain faithful to our employer. We don't get $2.00 a day and only do 50 cents worth of work. It is true we have our own faults, but it really seems strange that if there is one bad Italian all the rest should be classed as bad as he. What Christianity do you call that? God help the country that is ruled by such men. Another thing—if there does happen to be an Italian family in need, we always have a few greenbacks to help them out, and we don't stand around George street holding up the corners when there is work to be done. We don't go around with stiff collars on and leave our wives and families at home starving. We do not take other people's jobs either. What we earn we get it with the sweat of our brow. So now, if the gentleman says we Italians are dumped on Canadian shores, we don't intend to dump our votes on him, but I guess he is like the old saying "Everybody for themselves and the devil for us all."

Thanking you, dear Editor, for your valuable space, I remain

AN ITALIAN RESIDENT.

GIRL'S GUILD HELD A SOCIAL EVENING.

Young Ladies of George Street Church Entertained Their Friends.

A very successful meeting of the Girls' Guild, of George Street Methodist Church was held last evening. There was an exceptionally good attendance and the work for the coming year was discussed in an enthusiastic manner. Several new members were added to the Guild, and its future looks quite promising. A short programme followed, after which refreshments were served, and the meeting closed in the usual way.

Boys Who Work.

Fully two thirds of the boys drop out of school before they are 14 years of age. The Y.M.C.A. night school has a course for those boys who work during the day. It begins on next Wednesday evening at 7.30 in charge of Mr. T. J. Wallace of the Central School. All who are coming in are asked to enroll at once.

THE BRITITH PREFERENCE.

The British Preference, a voluntary tribute of loyalty to the Mother Country, offered by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, has done more than any one movement to bring Canada and the Mother Country together, to raise Canada in the eyes of the people of the Mother Country and to advance her position and standing among the countries of Europe.

A few years ago Canada was regarded in Great Britain with patronizing tolerance. Now Canada holds a high position in the esteem and affections of the Mother Country and a leading British journal has characterized the Canadian statesman who has brought about this condition of feeling and sentiment, in these words:—"Sir Wilfrid Laurier is easily the first statesman of greater Britain."

In 1897 the British Preference legislation was passed, giving a preferential tariff rate to goods imported from the Mother Country and the percentage of tariff reduction on British goods was advanced till it is now 33 1-3 per cent.

The immediate result of this generous gift from the Colonial Daughter to the Imperial Mother was that the name of Canada, seldom heard before, was in the mouth of everybody in Great Britain and when at Sir Wilfrid Laurier's request the treaties with Germany and Belgium which prevented Britain from accepting a preference which did not extend to these countries, Canada's fame extended to the continent.

Then Germany, France and Belgium and other European countries began to ask, "What is this Canada which we have hardly ever heard of before that she can induce Britain to denounce trade treaties with us to our injury?" Canada's name came into prominence in Britain as well as Europe, in fact the whole Empire rang with the name of Canada.

We had another chance to show our independence and make a name for ourselves. Germany, vexed with Canada's action enacted a hostile tariff against this country, discriminated against Canada. We wanted only fair play, but Germany gave us foul play. Sir Wilfrid Laurier protested. He told Germany that, in justification of his preference, he did not love Germany less but Britain more, and in a spirit of self-defence he clapped a sur-tax—an additional tax—on German goods coming into Canada. He showed that Canada would not be trifled with.

What has been the result? The year—1902-3—before the German sur-tax was imposed, the importations from Germany amounted to $6,648,000. For the ten months of the current fiscal year there has been a falling off of $3,281,345 in German importations. During the last fiscal year, preceding the surtax, 174 million pounds of raw sugar were imported from Germany; since the surtax was imposed not a pound has been imported. Our raw sugar trade has been diverted to British possessions. For ten months of this fiscal year we imported 188 million pounds of raw sugar from these British possessions — British West Indies and British Guiana. The surtax has also largely shut out other German goods so that in Canada goods "made in Germany" are now rarely seen.

What have been the results in Great Britain? In addition to intensified good feeling between the Mother Country and Canada trade interests have greatly benefitted. The British preference means, in brief, that while we charge $3 duty upon American goods we only charge $2 on British goods. Trade with Britain has been stimulated. Under the Conservative tariff imports from Britain fell off in the years from 1893 to 1897 from 43 million dollars to 29 1-2 millions of dollars. Under the Preference British imports increased steadily and last year they had advanced (from 29 1-2 million dollars in 1897) to 59 millions, exactly doubled.

Our preferential tariff created a most cordial and friendly feeling in the Mother Land towards Canada. This coupled with the vigorous policy adopted by the Liberal Minister of Agriculture towards the development of cold storage facilities, has tremendously increased our farm exports to Great Britain. Note the figures. During the six years since the Preference was given the total of Canadian products exported to Great Britain amounted to 60% millions of dollars—for the six years previous—under Conservative rule — they were only 364 millions of dollars. The British market is our best market and if the Preference has increased it nearly 100 per cent. to the benefit of the Canadian farmer it is certainly a good thing.

Mr. Borden is also, he says, in favour of a British preference — a mutual preference — which means that Canada should reduce the tariff on British goods on the sole condition that Britain admits Canadian wheat and farm products free, and taxes those of other countries. Mr. Mendry is "opposed to the idea of a preference in any form."

Mr. Borden's preference is a dream. Great Britain is not yet ready to tax the poor man's loaf, and Mr. Borden is prepared only to offer a preference which he knows and everybody knows will not be accepted. In effect Great Britain asks for bread and Mr. Borden offers a stone.

If Great Britain ever brings herself to tax the wheat of other countries for the benefit of Canada, she will be largely influenced by the generous, loyal and affectionate gift of a Preference by the Liberal Government of Canada, which was freely offered without hackstering and bargaining, without exacting conditions which in themselves mean the rejection of such offer.

If Great Britain ever brings herself to tax bread-stuffs for the benefit of Canada, it will be when Canada can supply the whole demand. Great Britain imports annually about 150 million bushels of wheat; Canada sends about 13 million bushels. She imports about 10 million barrels of flour; Canada sends 750,000 barrels.

When Canada can send what bread-stuffs Britain demands — when the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway is built and fills up the North-west and we can produce 600 million instead of 60 millions of bushels of wheat per year then Great Britain may look with favour upon admitting Canadian breadstuffs free and taxing those of other countries.

Meantime we have the Canadian preference to Great Britain with all the sentimental advantages — and friendly sentiment encourages business—and all the solid advantages it has already given. It has brought Canada in close touch with the Mother Country, made the name of Canada respected at "Home" and abroad and has crystilized British sentiment into the statement that

"SIR WILFRID LAURIER IS EASILY THE FIRST STATESMAN OF GREATER BRITAIN."

WHAT IS BILE

The Important Work It Accomplishes.

How to Insure a Healthy Supply.

The principal work of the liver is the secretion of bile—a golden brown, mucilage-like substance, composed of certain liver elements or salts, mucus and coloring matter. It is the natural antiseptic and cathartic of the bowels. A torpid liver means deficient bile secretion, which later means constipation with its attending evils.

The bile plays a most important part in promoting healthy digestion. Its absence results in congestion of the bowels, with indigestion, and to correct this and secure healthy bile secretion Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills have a very selective action—in fact, they cure biliousness with the bilious headache, driving the fecal contents out of the body, which, if permitted to remain, would poison the whole system and rapidly undermine the general health.

Never permit yourself to become bilious. A sick headache, a sudden attack of indigestion, or a fitful diarrhœa with dizziness and a yellow-coated tongue call for the prompt use of Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills. They are by far the best remedy to empty the bowels and relieve congestive conditions. They act as a true tonic to the liver, preventing as well as curing constipation. One or two of these pills taken every night mildly stimulates the liver and corrects biliousness without the driving purgative effects of harsh drugs. Their gentle laxative action especially commends them to ladies, who bloat after eating and are subject to periodical headaches. To secure a healthy secretion of bile, thus establishing perfect bowel regularity, these little pills possess merits peculiarly their own, not found in other remedies.

Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills always cure constipation, biliousness and sick headaches in one night. All dealers, 25 cents. All genuine signed W. F. Smith.

THE TORONTO LIBERAL MEETING.

The Toronto News, Independent, with strong Conservative leanings, has this to say of Laurier's Toronto meeting, which it describes as "an unprecedented ovation:"

"It is doubtful if Canada has ever known a more remarkable public demonstration than that at Massey Hall in honour of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. There was something peculiarly intimate and personal in the welcome to the Prime Minister. A picturesque figure, with the marks of age upon him, 'wearied in the greatness of his way,' he grows ever closer in the affections of his countrymen. He has that strange and mysterious gift which Sir John Macdonald possessed in almost equal degree, of touching the heart and the imagination of the people. While he is no less a party idol than was Sir John Macdonald, it is no injustice to the great man who has gone to say that he inspires a chivalrous respect among the mass of his opponents that the Conservative leader never possessed. The affection of Liberals for their leader was intensified by their sense of the long illness through which he had passed, and the still visible effects upon his face and frame. There was a passionate loyalty in the emphasis which they laid upon the casual utterance that he hoped to live—he was not permitted to say how long—and a singular intensity in all the tumultuous demonstrations of feeling which his speech aroused.

To himself, as to the meeting, the occasion must be memorable. He was in the great English and Protestant centre of Canada, a French-Canadian and a Roman Catholic, before an audience conscious that he held almost the undivided support of the Parliamentary representation from the French Province, and yet under such circumstances he received perhaps the crowning popular tribute of all his public career. That is something which he can well afford to cherish, and something in which we may all take pride as a revelation of the liberal temper and catholic disposition of the Canadian people. The speech was noteworthy for its rare fervor and eloquent simplicity. In cold type it may not have all the beauty and gravity of the spoken word, but as an exhibition of the power of one man to move, and impress, and inspire, a great audience for the passing hour, it must stand unrivalled in our politics. In its main scope and direct purpose, it was an appeal to the British heart, and the national spirit of Ontario by a political leader, who greatly desired from this English-speaking province a favourable judgment upon the work and policy of his administration. There was more of appeal than of argument, more perhaps of fervour than of force, but the whole performance was singularly persuasive and powerful, and must be greatly influential with his fellow countrymen. We must wait for the response, but it seems impossible that from such a sowing no fruit should be gathered."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Keep both hands on the full dinner pail.

Another evidence of prosperity without "adequate protection." The Montreal Herald says that McGill students were offered $1.50 each to "root" for Mr. Borden. After Nov. 3rd something more than rooting will be needed to find him—a snow shovel for instance.

There are different ways of getting candidates in the field. Sometimes there is a guarantee that last election bills will be paid, and sometimes other considerations. Wonder if Hon. George Eulas Foster is under bonds not to knife Mr. Borden as he knifed his former leader Sir Mackenzie Bowell.

Keep both hands on good Government.

ON THE SAFETY OF OVER EATING

The Rule of Choosing the Lesser of Two Evils Applies to the Way You Eat.

I want to know how a man is to know when he has had enough?

The Pilgrim Fathers, I believe, had a quaint saying to the effect that you should always rise from the table feeling as if you could eat some more.

But the question is, how much more?

Just when to stop?

That's the point.

The rule is wrong, because it's no rule at all.

It is inexact and unscientific.

It is lokely to lead to the dangerous habit of eating too little.

And eating too little—or digesting too little, which amounts to the same thing—is the cause of nine-tenths of —the diseases from which humanity suffers to-day.

What is disease?

It is simply uneven balance between waste and repair.

Some organ lacks strength to carry on the special work for which it was created.

Where shall it find the strength it lacks?

In drugs?

Ten thousand times, NO!

Better die than become a hopeless drug fiend.

No; in food.

"But," you say, "I eat a plenty of good food every day!"

True, dear friend; but you don't digest it.

And food, undigested, is mere poison.

So, to make food do you good, you must take Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

The great thing about Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is, that their action does not depend upon stimulative druggery.

They cannot create a habit.

They contain no ingredients to "pick you up," "tone up your nervous system" or furnish whip energy, by calling out your vital reserve force.

They create new strength, force and energy out of your food.

If taken starving they will do you no good at all.

So, eat to live, and live to eat, with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

The curse of our present civilization is exhaustion.

And exhaustion, whether of brain, nerves, physical strength, or vital force, is caused by starvation.

Of two evils, it is better to overeat —and prevent indigestion with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets—than to rise from the table, not having eaten enough to repair the exhaustion of your vital forces.

For exhaustion or starvation leads to the most varied forms of sickness or disease, brought on by inability of the weakened vitality to counteract the disease—poisons and microbes.

Whereas the well-fed and well-nourished person, without ever feeling the worse for it, can expose himself to dangers, the mere thought of which would drive the weak, starving dyspeptic into a panic fit.

Good food, well digested, is the great secret of a healthful existence here on earth.

So eat heartily, every day, of the best food you can get, and regulate the working of your digestive machinery with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

As a result you will be astonished to find, how much stronger and livelier you feel, how much more and better work you can do, how much more pleasure you can get out of life, and how your old enemy, that chronic trouble, which has fastened upon your weak spot, wherever it is, will up and away, and ever after leave you in peace, health and comfort.

There's more truth than poetry in all this.

Try it once.

SENTENCED TO DIE.

Man Who Murdered Constable Irving Committed For Execution.

Sault Ste. Marie, Oct. 19.—For the murder of Constable William Irving of Webbwood on June 17 last Arthur Chartrand was yesterday committed to be hanged on Dec. 17, exactly six months after committing the crime. The assizes commenced here Tuesday. Justice Osler presiding. The grand jury brought in a true bill and the prisoner was arraigned before the court yesterday morning.

L. V. McBrady of Toronto acted as prosecuting attorney for the Crown and the prisoner was defended by Dr. Fred Rogers of the Soo. The Crown called eye-witnesses of the scene, who described how the shooting happened. The prisoner also gave evidence on his own behalf, corroborating the statements made by the Crown witnesses, with the exception of how he shot the officer, but claimed it was an accident.

The jury retired at 5 p.m., returning at 6.30 with a verdict finding Chartrand guilty of wilful murder. The judge then pronounced sentence. The prisoner, during the progress of the trial, although pale and moving his hands nervously, was composed in demeanor and heard the sentence without emotion.

Whiskey in Japan.

Ottawa, Oct. 19.—Canada's Commissioner in Japan, Alexander MacLean, in a report to the Trade and Commerce Department, says that there is a good market for Canadian whiskey. Of $62,830 worth of whiskey imported last year Canada only contributed $415. But this trade is on the increase. The Japanese navy is now trying Comax coal, and the likelihood is that there will be a good market for British Columbia coal.

Took Her Own Life.

Tillsonburg, Oct. 19.—On Sunday, while engaged in preparing dinner for her family, Mrs. Nancy Wittch of Middleton took her life by severing the arteries in her neck with a knife. She was in the 55th year of her age, and leaves a grown-up family.

FOR THE CLOSEST ESTIMATES OF THE TOTAL VOTE TO BE POLLED AT THE DOMINION ELECTIONS, ON NOVEMBER 3rd, 1904

Will be paid by THE CALCULE COMPANY, 9 Toronto St., Toronto.

CERTIFICATE

$3,250.00 has been deposited with The Trusts and Guarantee Company, Limited, 14 Kind Street West, Toronto. The money will remain in the Trusts Company's hands and payment will be made by them for the best estimates when the official figures of the total vote polled in the General Elections are issued by the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery for Canada.

THE TRUSTS AND GUARANTEE CO., LIMITED.

In the General Elections of 1887 there were 665,539 votes polled throughout the Dominion; in 1891 there were 730,094, an increase of eight per cent. over the figures for 1887. In 1896 there were 833,800, an increase of sixteen per cent. over 1891; in 1900 there were 932,468 votes polled, an increase of fourteen per cent. Census for 1891 was 4,833,239; for 1901 was 5,371,031.

? How many Votes will be Polled in 1904 ? SEND ONE DOLLAR ?

You have four opportunities to earn $3,500.00 for every dollar you send with your estimates—and if your estimates are received before noon of October 31st, you have an opportunity to earn an extra $250.00, making $4,750.00 in one prize.

$3,250

$250.00 for the best estimate received up to noon of October 17th.
$250.00 for the best estimate received between Oct. 17th and noon of Oct. 24th.
$250.00 for the best estimate received between Oct. 24th and noon of Oct. 31st.
$2,500.00 for the best estimate of the total number of votes to be polled. This estimate to be mailed to the Trusts Co. before midnight of Nov. 3rd.

For one dollar you may estimate that the total vote polled will be 1,000,000, 1,500,000, 1,625,000, 1,071,000, or any set of four figures you think likely, and if one of your figures is nearest to the official return you will receive the money.

A KEY OF POSITION

Lone Tree Hill Captured by Russians After Severe Fight.

JAPS' LEFT FLANK CUT OFF

Offensive Advance Again Made By Kuropatkin—St. Petersburg Brighter in Consequence, But Fear Is Expressed Over the Rising of the Shakhe River May Corner Russian Advance Force.

Mukden, Oct. 19.—Lone Tree Hill won by the Russians after a desperate struggle, was the effect of a gallant but unsuccessful attempt to recapture it by the Japanese. In spite of the awful slaughter with which they had been driven from the hill, the Japanese returned to the charge during the night of Oct. 17, recognizing that the hill was the key to the position on the southwest front. Nine regiments participated, creeping up through the night and delivering a furious assault at dawn. But the hill had been bought too dearly by the Russians to relinquish it and the Japanese were driven back with terrible slaughter.

Kuropatkin Again Advancing.

Mukden, Oct. 19.—It is reported that the Russian army is advancing. News has just been received that the Japanese left flank has been driven back with heavy loss, and its retreat is cut off. A Russian regiment is now being hurried to the scene in the hope of completing the rout. Gen. Kuropatkin is indefatigable, personally directing the forward operations. Nothing seems to affect him, but he wears his usual quiet smile under all circumstances. The last Japanese defenders of Lone Tree Hill, two artillery officers, refused quarter and died fighting with their swords beside their guns.

St. Petersburg Joyous.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 19.—There is jubilation throughout the city over the news that Gen. Kuropatkin has resumed the offensive and the holiday, which began with little heart, closed brighter.

There is no official confirmation here of the report from Tokio that a Russian attack on the Japanese right on Oct. 17 had been repulsed. If this report should prove true, it may involve serious consequences for the Russians, who crossed the Shakhe while the river was fordable.

According to the Associated Press Mukden despatch the water has since risen man high in consequence of heavy rains, and, therefore, it will be nigh impossible for the Russian army to re-cross the river, owing to the absence of bridges. It would be equally difficult, for the same reason, to bring up supplies and ammunition to enable Gen. Kuropatkin to follow up the advance.

Defeat of Yamada.

London, Oct. 19.—A despatch to the Japanese legation from Tokio, dated to-day, giving details of the envelopment of Gen. Yamada's column, says:

"On Oct. 16 his column was proceeding to reinforce a detachment of our left army, which was attacking the enemy north of Shakhe. It defeated the enemy near Weichialoutz, captured two guns and two ammunition wagons, and was returning to its original position when suddenly at 7 p.m. it was enveloped by about a division of the enemy. It succeeded in breaking through and regaining its original position. We were compelled to abandon nine field guns and five mountain guns. The enemy in front of our central position has been reinforced. Our casualties Oct. 16, were about 1,000."

Sunk Russian Cruiser.

London, Oct. 19.—A despatch from Shanghai to The Morning Post says it is reported there that the Japanese shells have sunk the cruiser Bayan, in the harbor of Port Arthur.

But Were Beaten Back.

Tokio, Oct. 19.—The Russians fiercely assaulted Gen. Oku and attacked Gen. Nodzu and Gen. Kuroki on Monday night, but where everywhere repulsed with heavy losses.

Italian Laborer Killed.

Parry Sound, Oct. 19.—An Italian laborer named C. Melchoirre was killed yesterday morning by a dynamite explosion whilst working on the construction of the James' Bay Railway at the outskirts of the town. The man had taken a stick of dynamite to blow up a stump, and after placing it in position and lighting the fuse he shouted to his companions to look out. The men ran to a safe distance. After the explosion they were horrified to find Melchoirre lying a short distance away, with his face literally blown off. He died shortly afterwards.

The Liver to Blame.

So long as the liver is active in filtering the bile from the blood there is no biliousness and no constipation, because the bile is passed from the liver into the intestines where it act as a cathartic in keeping the bowels active. Because of their direct action on the liver as well as the bowels, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills thoroughly cure constipation, the real cause of nine-tenths of the common ills of life.

No One to Blame.

Belleville, Oct. 19.—The jury empanneled to enquire into the case of the late Louis Bennett, who fell down a cellar and broke his neck, returned a verdict of accidental death, imputing blame to no one.

Milverton, Oct. 19.—The inquest into the late Albert Gamble's death, held yesterday, resulted in a verdict of suicide.

Killed By a Fall.

Winnipeg, Oct. 19.—J. D. Nesbitt, contractor on the new Sherbrooke street fire hall, was instantly killed by a fall from the structure yesterday morning.

HUBER ARRESTED.

For That He Did "Unlawfully Slay and Kill Annie Renwick."

Preston, Oct. 19.—During the progress of the inquest held here to inquire into the death of Annie Renwick of Hespeler in Tuesday's trolley accident on the Galt, Preston and Hespeler Street Railway, High County Constable Huber of Berlin, placed J. Meyers, the conductor in charge of the freight motor under arrest. He was taken to the county jail at Berlin, the charge on the warrant of his committal being that he did "unlawfully slay and kill Annie Renwick."

The inquiry disclosed the fact that the collision was caused by the conductor's failure to order his brakeman to flag the Hespeler car while the freight motor was shoving a couple of cars off the main line into Pattison's Woollen Mills switch. The conductor admitted his failure to give the order, saying he thought Deemert, the brakeman, should have done so without being told.

The jury in its verdict said that the accident took place on account of the conductor and crew of the freight motor failing through carelessness to signal the passenger car to stop, and they would recommend that the company employ only properly qualified conductors in future, as well as to place semaphores at such dangerous crossings as where Tuesday's accident occurred. It is thought locally that the directors of the company and not the conductor should have been served with warrants.

TUNNEL INQUEST AT SARNIA.

Confusion Through Fact That Tunnel Men Were Not G.T.R. Employes.

Sarnia, Oct. 19.—The inquest on the tunnel suffocation accident last week was resumed after a week's adjournment yesterday afternoon. The subject was the death of Dan Gillies, one of the brakemen. Coroner Logie presided, and J. P. Bucke, County Crown Attorney, represented the Crown. W. J. Hanna and R. I. Towers were present for the victims of the accident. John Pope represented the company.

The story of the early hours of the day of the accident was told by Brakemen Weston and Cable and Yardmaster McKee. Nothing particularly new developed, but the evidence showed that Conductor Simpson followed his rule book in remaining with the train. The action of Yardmaster McKee in entering the tunnel with a crew to investigate was taken at the instance of the train despatcher, who reported the train had been stalled.

Some confusion will be created by the fact that the tunnel trainmen are not employes of the Grand Trunk, but of the St. Clair Tunnel Co. The inquest will resume this morning.

Shafting Injured Him.

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 19.—George Robson, farmer and buyer for the Winnipeg Elevator, who just arrived to take charge here, yesterday met with a serious accident. He got caught in the shafting, which tore his clothing from his body and seriously injured him. One arm is broken and his right ear is severed. His personal strength alone saved him from instant death.

In Woman's Favour.

Few treatments stand so high in woman's favour as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. This is not only because of the extraordinary control which this preparation has over diseases and weakness peculiar to women, but also because of its power as a tissue builder. By weighing yourself while using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food you can prove that new flesh and is being added to the body.

WILLIAM DEE INQUEST.

Evidence Given That Mrs. Dee Purchased Strychnine On Aug. 5.

Ingersoll, Oct. 19.—The inquest into the death of William Dee, the Dereham farmer, who died suddenly, evidently from strychnine poisoning, a week ago, was resumed Tuesday night in the hall at Salford. Mrs. Dee, who is held on the charge of murdering her husband, was brought up from Woodstock jail by Chief Wright of Ingersoll, and was an unaffected auditor of the proceedings. Her interests were looked after by J. L. Patterson, barrister, of Ingersoll.

The report of the doctors who conducted a post-mortem examination expressed the opinion that death resulted from strychnine poisoning, and a drug clerk in Gayfer's drug store in Ingersoll reported that Mrs. Dee had purchased 15 grains of strychnine from him on Aug. 5 last.

A neighbor, James Kennedy, who was present when Dee died, declared that when he went to help the man off the floor Mrs. Dee interfered and said that if he had fallen in a pig pen she wouldn't lift him up. This seems to have been one of Mrs. Dee's somewhat eccentric remarks, and the witness was not prepared to say whether it was uttered vindictively or otherwise.

The inquest was adjourned for a week until the report on the analysis of the stomach arrives.

In the meantime Mrs. Dee remains in jail charged with the murder of her husband.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Are Firmer—Hogs Weaker at All American Points.

London, Oct. 18.—Cattle are firmer at 8½c to 12¾c per lb.; refrigerator beef, 9¾c to 10c per lb. Sheep, 10¾c to 11¾c, dressed weight.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

Receipts of live stock at the City Market were 73 carloads, composed of 787 cattle, 1332 hogs, 1517 sheep and 60 calves.

Trade in shipping cattle is dead, no straight loads of exporters being offered. A few odd steers may have been picked out of loads of butchers', as well as a few export bulls. Export bulls are worth from $3.50 to $4 per cwt.

Trade in butchers' cattle was slow. Even the best loads and lots of cattle did not sell as readily as on previous market days, and there were several loads of fair to good butchers' left over unsold. Picked lots of choice quality butchers' sold at $4.20 to $4.45, McDonald & Maybee having sold six at $4.20 and seven at $4.45 per cwt. Loads of good butchers' sold at $3.80 to $4; fair to good at $3.50 to $3.75; cows, at $2.50 to $3.60.

The demand for feeders is not as great as it was, and the market is easier. Short keeps, 1150 to 1200 lbs. each, sold at $3 and some rough cattle of the same weights as low as $2.60 per cwt.; 900 lbs. steers sold at $3.25 to $3.50; stockers, 500 to 700 lbs. each, are worth from $2.60 to $2.75 per cwt.

About 15 milch cows and springers sold all the way from $27 to $60 each.

The number of veal calves was not large, which had the effect of keeping prices firm, but unchanged, at $2 to $10 each, or $3 to $3.25 per cwt., with an extra choice calf at $3.50 per cwt.

The run of sheep and lambs was not large—about 1600. Export ewes sold at $3.25 to $3.40; bucks at $2.50 to $2.75; lambs at $3.85 to $4.35, and picked lots of ewes and wethers at $4.50 per cwt.

Receipts of hogs were not large—about 1400—but prices declined. Selects are quoted at $5.15, and lights and fats at $4.90; stags, $2 to $3.50; sows, $3.25 to $3.50 per cwt. These quotations are for fed and watered.

AT THE TRYING-ON STAGE

Often a man will order a suit from a custom tailor to have it just when he wants it.

He's been patient all through—from his first measurement to the final fitting.

But when the suit's delivered it doesn't fit—the sleeves are too long—the collar too loose—the back wrinkles—the buttons are misplaced and the general style unbecoming. He is disappointed just when he wants the suit most.

That wouldn't be the case with Semi-ready!

Each Semi-ready suit is tailored to the three quarter finished stage—the different parts of the suit are basted in position and the seams left with outlets to facilitate rapid fit adjustment.

The effects of style and color can be forejudged before a mirror and the fit can be made absolutely perfect and the suit delivered two hours after.

Money refunded for any dissatisfaction.

LAKEFIELD, ONT

SPLENDID RALLY AT YOUNG'S POINT

Mr. R. R. Hall Addressed Large Number of Smith Electors Tuesday Night.

Mr. D. O'Connell Spoke of Government's Fiscal Policy and country's Prosperity.

Candidates Given a Warm Reception. Why Laurier Should be Sustained.

A rousing meeting in the town hall at Young's Point, which was held last evening, signified the opening of Mr. R. R. Hall's campaign in Smith. The Liberal candidate for West Peterborough was accorded a splendid reception by the large number present, and both the speakers were given a very attentive hearing. Mr. Hall was accompanied by Mr. D. O'Connell.

The chairman of the meeting was Mr. P. A. Carney, who thought that it would be an honour not only to Peterborough county, but to the Dominion to elect a man of the calibre of Mr. Hall to represent this riding.

MR. D. O'CONNELL.

Mr. O'Connell, in his opening remarks, pointed out that once again the Government of Canada was placing their past record before the people, their masters, and asking for their opinion on the way in which the affairs of the country have been conducted during the past eight years. There were certain well known objects of every government, and tests from which the electorate may decide whether or not the Government have been faithful in the discharge of their duties. The first was to promote prosperity and to see that in the administration of affairs, the people were taxed fairly and economically, and that any money spent was expended to the best advantage. It was also their duty to take a survey of the vast resources of the country, and provide proper transportation facilities. A still more important duty in a country like ours, were all races and creeds were included, was, by wise and prudent statesmanship to establish a system of harmonious relations between all classes. It is for you to decide, said the speaker, whether or not the Liberal party has discharged these duties faithfully or not.

At the close of the Conservative administration in 1896 came the close of a period of 18 years of uninterrupted power, during which time the Conservatives had in turn periods of depression and prosperity, and they had plenty of opportunity to display their administrative abilities, but in 1896 the existing conditions were seen in the stagnation of business, factories going into a state of dry rot, men thrown out of employment, and even the domestic peace of our land was threatened by the mismanagement of affairs. In Manitoba the outlook was very serious, but no sooner had the Government taken the reins of power in their hands than, by a spirit of conciliation and wise judgment, the conditions were changed, and prosperity began to be everywhere manifest. By the Conservative period of corruption, the Dominion was brought into a state of disrepute among the other colonies and in the eyes of the mother country, and men turned to foreign countries to seek a livelihood. The people had not all confidence in a Government whose members had lost all confidence in one another. The Liberals, in remedying these conditions, looked upon Canada as more than simply a colony of the Empire, and was entitled to the status of a nation; they saw a great future for the country, realising its almost unlimited resources, and they began to govern the land as energetic, wise, and capable statesmen.

The first duty of the Liberal Government was to consider the various aspects of the tariff, recognising the fact that a remodelled and readjusted tariff was a necessity. The varying conditions demanded constant revisions. They had to look at conditions from the manufacturers' and from the consumers' standpoint. The first essential for the prosperity of the manufacturing industries depends on the fact that there is a certain degree of stability in the tariff, and if it is established for a reasonable period, and the people understand it, confidence is established in the minds of the manufacturers and the people, and the foundation for future industries and the prosperity of the country is laid. The idea permeating the Government was that they must meet the manufacturers and consumers views regarding foreign trade and that the manufacturers here must find a reasonable market outside of Canada. It was seen that a certain amount of protection must be given our manufacturers and consequently the Government decided that with countries dealing fairly and equitably with our own and have their fiscal policy so adjusted as to promote fair trade with us, we should have a system of "minimum" tariff, recognising that it would be profitable to trade with these. With those countries not dealing honourably or fairly with Canada and with whom it was not considered profitable and desirable to trade, a "maximum" tariff was enforced, compelling these countries to deal fairly and honestly or keep their goods away.

Living as we do on the confines of the territory of the United States, it requires the best judgment, skill and energy of our statesmen to meet the conditions brought about by the efforts of American and other competitors to crush the infant industries established here. The maximum and minimum tariffs were not adequate and consequently the "dumping clause" against the Americans was enforced. The American trusts and combines had, before the "dumping clause" came into force, been slaughtering their prices to spoil our industries here. They would sell their goods in Canada at 20 to 30 per cent. less than they sold for in the States and as it was impossible for our manufacturers to compete with these conditions, they were bound to fail, and having secured control, the Americans would raise the prices. The Liberals saw the effect of these conditions and their remedy was as follows: — All goods shipped to Canada must bear a certified invoice of the market value of the goods under ordinary conditions in the States and if, for instance, the article was worth $1.00 over the line and sold for 80c. here, a special duty of 20c. would be put on besides the ordinary duty, and thus absolutely prohibit the slaughter of American goods and supply ample protection to Canadian industries. The Canadian Government has also a different system for countries discriminating against taking in our goods as was the case with Germany against whom there was no spirit of hostility, but only an effort exerted to make Germany deal on fair terms with us. The "surtax" enforced against Germany will undoubtedly remain in force as long as Germany by her fiscal policy works against Canada's interests.

Canada owed a great debt of gratitude in England for her protecting hand, with her army, fleet and great statesmen. How was the debt to be paid? Any money raised by forces, men, ships or arms, which might be supplied, could give no adequate degree of our appreciation, and it was decided by the Government the best means of doing this would be by establishing a preferential tariff. The Conservative leader was at present advocating "adequate protection," which no one could understand, but in the Liberal policy was a clear view given of the system of protection and statement of tariffs. The speaker pointed out how the exports of animals and other farm produce to Great Britain had greatly increased during the period of Liberal rule, giving ample proof of the prosperity brought about by the wise and prudent administration.

Regarding the two local candidates the speaker said that in his opinion there was no comparison between them. In Mr. Hall, said the speaker, you have a man who perhaps has no peer as a man of energy, business ability and unlimited capacity for work, one who has been eminently successful in his large practice in Peterborough and has displayed more ability and willingness for work than any other man in the town, and has established many industries, the Cordage Works, and Otonabee Power Company. He is a man on whom you may depend, it made your representative, to present the full and absolute conditions and wants of the riding before the Government, and will do so in such an able and energetic manner that these wants and conditions will be amply dealt with. On the other hand, there is a man opposed to the party in power, whose voice is practically silent in the House, and who has said time and again that he has no desire, or time, to represent the riding, and who took the nomination simply because the Conservatives could not find another man able or willing to enter the contest. You have the records of the parties and the candidates, and I am confident that you will return Mr. Hall by a large majority.

Mr. R. R. Hall was warmly applauded upon rising to speak. He appreciated this, his first, pleasure of addressing the electors of Young's Point as the Liberal candidate. He felt that to represent West Peterborough would be an honour, and also a great trust, and should he be elected he would do all in his power to faithfully represent the people, and look after their best interests. Mr. Kendry had not been faithful and attentive in the discharge of his duties. He accepted the nomination reluctantly, after Mr. Waddell's retirement, and when he entered the field unwillingly he could not be expected to discharge his duties any more faithfully than he had done in the past. The burden of Mr. Kendry's speeches in the House had been that more duties be placed on woollens coming into the country, desiring that all should pay more for their for their clothes in order that he might prosper and live in luxury and ease. Had he ever shown any special attention to the farmers, to the improvement of the Trent waters, or the completion of the canal? He may have referred to the matter once or twice, but to accomplish anything one must be persistently referring to them. Had he ever talked in favour of Peterborough manufacturers, or in relation to the welfare of the country, outside of the wool len trade.

There were many things needed in Peterborough. Since his nomination, Mr. Hall said he had impressed upon the Government the need for proper armouries, to compare favourably with those of other large towns and cities. He had been successful in inducing the Government to give $10,000 to purchase a site, and to place in the supplementary estimates $20,000 to proceed with the work. The post office, too, was found to be too small and inadequate for the progressive town of Peterborough, and he had secured a further appropriation of $4,000 and improve the post office. The need of proper wharfage on the Trent waters was recognised, and an appropriation of $1200 to build a wharf at Burleigh was secured. There was great danger of accident to the many passengers who landed who landed at Burleigh during the summer season. Did Mr. Kendry ever draw the attention of the Government to these things? asked Mr. Hall.

Both parties recognised the need for the early completion of the Trent Canal, but the Liberals had spent fully twice as much on its construction as their predecessors, and had considered of the highest quality. At present there was seven times as much, and it was labelled "a little better than the best." Regarding cheese, in 1896 there was 13 million dollars worth exported to Great Britain, compared with 24 millions in 1903. A great increase in eggs was also shown the figures of the two years being $807,000, as compared to $1,400,000. In hams and bacon also, there was a remarkable growth in export, in 1896 there being $4,400,000, and in 1903 over $16,000,000. In poultry the same increase is shown, there being nearly nine times as much poultry exported in 1903 as there was in 1896. The total exports of Canada had increased from 121 millions to 225 millions under Liberal administration.

The Conservatives might say that the Liberal Government had increased the expenditure, but they could not say that the money had been improperly expended. A certain amount had to be expended in improving transportation, in experimental farms, and in many other ways; we would never get results unless money were expended. The Conservative policy was one of standstill, but the Liberal policy was one of energy and a desire to look after the minor details. Mr. Hall said that the farmers were reaping the benefit of the general prosperity; their farms sold and rented at a higher price, and their mortgages were not so high as in former years. One would naturally think that with the millions spent for improvements the debt would be greater but such was not the case and the public debt had been lessened and a splendid debt was lessened and a splendid surplus each year was reported.

Mr. Hall referred to the advantages of penny postage and to the fact that about 1,000 post offices had been established during the Liberal regime. There was at present a surplus in the Post Office Department instead of a defiot as in the time of the Conservatives, and Mr. Hall proposed that a part of this surplus should come to Peterborough and the county where better conditions should exist.

Mr. Hall dealt with the great issue of the campaign, the Grand Trunk Pacific railway, and gave a full explanation of the policy of the Government in connection with it. He quoted Sir John Macdonald's views on the policy of the Government owning a railway absolutely. Canada had one experience in this connection, that of the Intercolonial, which had cost 80 million and never paid its expenses. Mr. Hall made it clear that the policy of the Government was a commendable one and one which would be for the best interests of the country at large. They were getting far better terms than did the Government when the C.P.R. was constructed and those who objected to Sir Wilfrid's policy did so from a purely partisan standpoint.

In concluding, Mr. Hall said he had nothing to say against Mr. Kendry, personally and he wished him every success in his private business, but he did not believe him the man to look after the best interests of the riding and that he, Mr. Hall, had entered the contest with the intention of redeeming West Peterborough. The wave of Canadian prosperity was everywhere felt and he was assured that Laurier would be returned to power by a larger majority than ever before.

Messrs. Geo. Elliott and Geo. Sloan also spoke briefly.

The meeting closed with hearty cheers for the King and Mr. Hall.

RUGBY.

Varsity, champions of the Intercollegiate union, will be here on Saturday to meet the locals and the game should be one of the best of the season. A. W. McPherson is captaining the students at present and his many admirers in town will be glad to see him play again. The locals are undergoing considerable expense for this game and a big turnout of spectators should witness the game.

• • • •

The locals will practice to-night and on Friday night.

• • • •

Toronto Varsity will play here on Saturday with the locals.

London	1	1	17	63
Victorias	0	2	15	51

Game next Saturday: Victorias at Hamilton.

LADIES GOLF.

The annual autum competitions of the Ladies' Golf Club were held on the links yesterday afternoon. As the weather was very propitious there was a large turn out of the players and their friends. After lunch there were competitions in driving, brassieing, cleeking, approaching and putting and especial interest was taken in a putting match for ladies who were not golf players. This match was keenly contested and was won by Mrs. Eardley-Wilmot.

The winners in the other matches were:—

Driving, Miss J. Dennistoun; Brassie, Mrs. R. M. Dennistoun; cleek, Miss G. Hall; driving, cleek B., Miss L. Pearce, approaching and putting, Mrs. R. R. Hall; putting, Miss G. Hall.

After these matches a handicap medal round was played, which was won by Miss Clementi. The ladies championship matches are being played this week. The first round this afternoon the competitors are:—

Mrs. Campbell vs. Miss Kingan.
Mrs. Dennistoun vs. Miss G. Hall.
Miss Hamilton vs. Miss J. Dennistoun.
Miss Clementi vs. Miss Edwards.

BASKET-BALL.

The Y.M.C.A. Basket Ball League was re-organized on Saturday night, representatives being present from three of last year's teams, the Brownies, Harriers, and Athletics. Mr. Holmes was elected president of the league, and Mr. W. A. Richardson, secretary-treasurer. An executive will be chosen as soon as the names of all the teams wishing to compete have been received. Teams are requested to hand their application to the president or secretary not later than October 25th, after which date a schedule of games will be arranged. Each team will be limited to seven players, whose names must be in the hands of the secretary before the date of the first league game. An entrance fee of $1.50 for each team will be charged. All league games will be played on Saturday night.

FOOTBALL.

Locust Hill, Midland League champions played in Galt on Saturday and were defeated by 1-0. The winners were the aggressors throughout.

An interesting game of football was played at the Driving Park on Saturday afternoon, the contesting teams being Murray street school and the South Ends, the former winning by a score of 2-0.

CRICKET.

The cricket bat donated by Mr. A. Hollingshead to the member of the Colts Cricket Club scoring the highest batting average during the past season, was won by Mr. Main, formerly, of the Bank of Montreal of town.

HOCKEY.

Everything points to a good hockey season for Lindsay. New players are being dug out and Lindsay will put a strong service on the ice—and it won't be in the Trent Valley League, either. Mr. Winchester, last year's crack goal keeper of the Belleville team, is in town, and it is whispered around by the wise ones that "Billy" Lapierre, who played with the Ottawas last year, will also be in the game. Mr. Lapierre has been working in town for some time and played lacrosse in the latter part of the season for Lindsay. There are some more fast ones around. Mr. Hugh Galway, another former Belleville player, is also a resident of town. We'll be on the ice all right, and with the goods.—Lindsay Post.

"Billy" Lapierre, it will be remembered, figured on the Examiner team here last winter, which is as good as saying that he is fast enough to catch any Lindsay team.

WHAT HAS HE DONE?

It is for the business men, the manufacturers, the working men, for everybody, to enquire, what has Mr. Kendry, in his representative capacity, done for the benefit of the town, or its industrial or business interests?

He has had two chances, each four years long, to show what he could do, and what has he done? Nothing.

Hasn't he had chance enough to do nothing, and hasn't he done it nobly?

His exertions, as a representative on behalf of Peterborough, must have made him tired, and his constituents, too. Give him a rest.

THE RAILWAY AND LABOUR.

Among all the benefits of the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, the direct and incidental benefits to older Canada will be very prominent.

The existing Grand Trunk Railway now has lines penetrating to almost every town or important village in Ontario and older Canada.

The moment the Grand Trunk Pacific is in operation, that moment all those towns and villages are in direct connection by rail with the great Northwest.

What does this mean? It means that from that moment the Grand Trunk, and the Grand Trunk Pacific, will be the agents of every factory, in every town or village of older Canada, especially Ontario — and Peterborough. To make this line pay, it must have traffic. There are no manufactories in the Northwest, and all of their manufactured, and most of their commercial supplies, horses, horned stock, etc., must come from eastern Canada. This will create demands upon every factory — for new settlers will need everything in manufactures. As a result, the operation of the Grand Trunk Pacific, will bring increased orders to every factory. This will create greater employment for working men, and better wages. No class in the community will be without direct benefit. The railway will help the Northwest farmers to get their wheat to the British markets, and thus will help them to have more money to spend for purchasing goods manufactured and furnished by Eastern Canada.

And these advantages will grow in proportion to the rapid filling up and settlement of the Northwest, which the railway will produce. Every working man, every stock-grower, every fruit-grower, will benefit.

Then Canada will be on the highway to greatness. Population is our great need — to build up our now vacant lands, by the millions of acres, and provide a home market for our home products.

The wide-awake working man will see that the benefits are direct. He will be helped in his calling, and he will not only be helped thus, but also to become the citizen of a greater and larger Canada.

Where would we have been to-day, but for the C.P.R.? But we are growing and need another transcontinental railway. When the Northwest population is increased tenfold; when the wheat production is increased from 60 millions to 600 millions of bushels a year, shan't we need another, and possibly another railway, to carry the wheat to the seaboard? We shall need all our railways, and all our canals. The new railway must be built. The Trent Valley canal must be completed. Both are, and will be, urgently needed. We have the money now to go on with great public improvements.

We can't always live in the present; we must look ahead — we must provide for the future. We can't always remain five and a half millions of people, and we must provide the railways and canals to bring about the new Canada.

WEDDING BELLS.

Nuptials of Miss Catharine Heffran and Mr. Herbert Tremain.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated at the residence of Mr. P. Heffran, 231 McDonel street last evening, when his daughter Catharine was married to Mr. Herbert Tremain. In the absence of Rev. J. G. Potter, the ceremony was performed by Rev. J. J. Wright. The bride was attended by Miss Bertha Dunlop, while the groomsman was Mr. William Tremain, brother of the groom. A large number of relatives and friends were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Tremain left on the 5 o'clock G. T. R. train for Cobourg.

MISS GORDON HAD A SMALL AUDIENCE

Her Entertainment was not Well Patronized Last Night.

The Anna Gordon Concert Company was greeted last night with a very small audience in the Opera House, and those who attended were of the opinion that the size of the audience was all that the performance deserved.

The entertainment opened with a one-act comedy "The Black Diamond", in which Miss Gordon took the part of Jemima and the other characters were impersonated by Edward B. Malloy, Chester Lyman McDonald, William E. Duffy, W. A. Moran and Miss Lillian Blatsoe. This part of the programme was deserving of some recognition, but the second part in which musical numbers predominated, was of a low grade of merit, and was not satisfying to those who were expecting a high class concert.

MR. BLAIR RESIGNS

Withdraws From Chairmanship of Railway Commission.

SAYS: NO POLITICS IN IT

More Lucrative Position At His Command—It Is Conjectured That This Is a Solicitorship For One of the Great Railway Corporations, But Mr. Blair Is Silent As to Particulars.

Ottawa, Oct. 19.—Hon. A. G. Blair, Chairman of the Railway Commission, has resigned. Yesterday he notified Sir Wilfrid Laurier by wire of the step he had taken, and forwarded his resignation by letter to the Governor-in-Council. At the close of the afternoon's session of the Commission Mr. Blair took his colleagues and the public into his confidence. He made the announcement that he had resigned, and it came as a complete surprise to everybody. From Mr. Blair's own statement it is apparent that he is about to accept a more remunerative position. What the position is, however, he declines to say. It is conjectured that he is accepting the position of solicitor to one of the large railway corporations, probably the C. P. R.

"What about the cases that are standing for judgment?" he was asked.

"The two remaining Commissioners will deal with them."

To a friend Mr. Blair remarked, in effect, that he had something better in sight which would enable him to provide for the future. His present position was only for ten years, and he could not look for reappointment at the expiration of that time, as he would be over the age limit, which is 71.

Two Commissioners Sit.

Dr. Mills was asked last night what effect Mr. Blair's action would have upon the Toronto Esplanade case, and the C. P. R.'s claim for compensation for allowing municipal telephones into the stations at Port Arthur and Fort William, as both these matters stand for judgment. Dr. Mills said that in discussion with Mr. Blair the latter agreed to assist in the preparation of a draft order in the Esplanade case. As to the telephone matter, he was unable to say. "The two Commissioners will sit to-morrow," continued Dr. Mills, "and hear an application for a crossing in British Columbia. I do not think we will hear any difficult cases until another Commissioner has been appointed."

Not in Politics.

In answer to a question there was one response made last night by Mr. Blair, which was very emphatic. The question was "Are you going into politics?" Mr. Blair said very positively, "No."

Mr. Blair's statement to the board of his reason for resigning was as follows:

Mr. Blair's Statement.

"Before the board adjourns I wish to make an announcement which is of a personal character, and which I think may very properly be made by me from my place as chairman of the board. The intimation I wish to have conveyed to the public is that this is the last session of the Commission at which I shall occupy a place either as chairman, or as a member of the board. I have felt myself compelled in my own interests to come to this decision with the utmost regret. I find the work of the board very congenial to me, but, notwithstanding, I have not found it sufficiently attractive to induce me to forego personal advantages which otherwise are open to me in other employment.

"It will be, I think, considered proper that I should state frankly the reason which has led me to pursue this course. I accepted a place on the commission with many misgivings. Since I have been a member of the board I may rather say that they have been intensified. I may say that at the present moment I have had presented to me for prompt determination the question as to whether I will turn my mind and my energies in another direction, which will be very much more profitable to me, personally, than the position which I now fill. I hope it will not be thought that in doing so I have pursued any other course than that which is proper and legitimate in a man who, if he does not consider his own interests, certainly cannot expect to have them considered by others.

"I have no complaints; I cast no reflections; I do not wish to intimate that I have any cause whatever to find fault. I am reaching the conclusion at which I have arrived purely for reasons that are personal to myself. If it were possible for me to have had a little longer period of service at the board I would have been glad to have continued, because I feel that in a large measure the Railway Commission has been a creation of my own. I think I may claim the parentage of it to some considerable extent, at all events, and I feel that during the few months I have had an opportunity of demonstrating the usefulness of this board it has, I think, tended to satisfy the public that the tribunal is one capable of rendering substantial service.

"I think at the same time it is not too much to claim that while demonstrating its usefulness to the public, it has also demonstrated its usefulness to those interested that are supposed to be antagonistic to the interests of the general public, but which, in my opinion, are falsely supposed to be so. I think that the railways will not refuse to acknowledge that the board has endeavored to deal with them in a spirit of fairness and has endeavored to adjudge the matters that have come up for decision in an equitable and fair manner. The present moment is, I think, as opportune a time as I could have chosen for withdrawing from the chief commissionership of this board. With the exception of what work has been accumulating during our western trip, we have dealt with almost all the other business which has come before us.

"I cannot resist the conclusion, in my own mind, that if it had been possible to have held further in suspense the question of my retirement the difficulty of separating myself from the board would have been rather accentuated than diminished, and that I would have found more difficulty in severing my connection with comfort than I find to-day. I trust that my going will not be attended with any inconvenience to anybody. I feel that this infant child, at whose birth I closely attended, has been nursed by this time into some degree of strength and vigor. What little abilities and energies I possess have been applied in that direction. I think it has now got fairly well on its feet, that it will be able to move along, and that it will grow in favor. I believe that this Commission will grow in strength and usefulness and come to be regarded as one of the most important and useful institutions in the country.

"I part with my colleagues with very much regret. Our relations have been cordial. In separating from them I can only wish them well and I express the hope that under their management the work may go on with even greater success than it has while I was a member of the board."

NEVER A FAILURE SHEER.

To the man who has thrown and has lost, this word—
And, oh, that the word might cheer:
Press straightly forward, nor be deterred
By the failure recorded here;
For the past is past, and the future bears
No less its promise for you.
Oh, child of failure and ward of cares,
Though an ace and a deuce you threw.

To the man who has thrown and has lost, this word:
Who judges the things you do,
Or counts the tears that your eyes had blurred
Ere the dice of your fate you threw?
Who judges? I say. It is you and I,
And we are a sorry pair;
You, whom the Fates in their mirth defy,
And I, of all wisdom bare.

Who judges? I say. It is you and I,
And a billion of just our kind:
Knowing, not one, why we live or die;
Swaggering, pompous and—blind.
To-day our herd its judgment proclaims;
To-morrow gives it the lie.
To-day we prate of immortal names;
To-morrow their memories die.

To the man who has thrown and has lost, this word:
Mayhap in the final test
Supremest honor may be conferred
By the Judge who knoweth best
On the one whom the world in its folly proclaimed
A failure abject and sheer;
Mayhap he may stand with the chosen named
As the ones He holds most dear.

To the man who has thrown and has lost, this word:
There is never a failure sheer
Till the final word of them all is heard,
And the record is ended here;
And I hold this faith, and hold it true.
In the midst of life's clamors and dins:
'Tis the thrower's intent the while he threw,
Not the spots on the dice, that wins.

Alfred J. Waterhouse.

MODERN MANNERS.

Dr. Hodgins Reflects on Lack of Culture in Canadian Life.

In Dr. J. G. Hodgins' opinion Canadian manners in both public men and children are deteriorating. The Doctor ought to know. He has been in the Civil Service sixty years, and a man should be a judge of civility in that time.

This venerable educationist is 83 years old. He was born in Dublin, came to Canada in '53, and has been here ever since. He was for 32 years the close friend and deputy of Dr. Ryerson, whose portrait done in oil hangs in the library at 92 Pembroke street. Perhaps in all Toronto there is not so picturesque a patriarch of snowy hair and whiskers as Dr. Hodgins. He is still alert and active, and every morning, as he has done for 60 years, goes down to the Education Department.

Dr. Hodgins may be called the Father of the Education Department, for it was built on the Irish model, which he went to Dublin to study in 1845. He is best known to the public as the main author of Dr. Ryerson's "Story of My Life," of which Dr. Ryerson himself wrote but 60 pages. He is now engaged on documentary history of education in Canada.

"Was Dr. Ryerson an autocrat?" asked the reporter.

"Far from it," was the reply. "He was exceedingly humble-minded in his search for truth. But he was not a man of detail. He stood in the watch-tower and looked ahead. The rest of us worked out the particulars."

"You must have known most of the public men for two generations in Canada?" observed the reporter.

"All of them," he replied. "I well knew Lord Elgin, in 1848. He helped us immensely in our struggle for free schools. He was after the Scotch parochial model. He made a beautiful speech at the laying of the corner-stone of the Education Department. The motto on his coat-of-arms was simply "Fuimus"—meaning that his ancestors were Kings, for he was descended from the Bruces. He was an ideal man of affairs and a man of wonderful courtesy."

"How do the public men of to-day compare with the former ones?" asked the reporter.

"Unfavorably. There is less chivalry and courtesy. I am afraid that begins in the schools, as well as in the home. In 1871 I drew up a series of twenty moral lessons, including such subjects as "reverence to superiors," which the teachers read and discussed on each Friday afternoon, which was made a sort of diesnon. The results were extremely beneficial, but in 1876, when Mr. Crooks became Minister, these lessons were discarded and decadence set in. The complaint is well-founded, and it is only by some such means that it can be remedied."

"Do you think children's manners are degenerating?"

"I do. In the old days one never met a boy whom he know who did not touch his cap or a girl who would not make a slight curtsey."

Dr. Hodgins went on to refer to his efforts to have the school walls decorated with pictures and statues which would lead the scholars to think and to ask questions, for example, about the great men of the past. In this connection he met with an unexpected difficulty in procuring a photo of the statute of Sir John Colborne, founder of Upper Canada College. The only one in existence is in the Devenport Navy Yard at Plymouth, but the commandant absolutely refused to allow a photo to be taken. The statue was near the magazine, and the commandant seemed to think that some navy secret might be betrayed. It was only after his return from England and after correspondence as representative of the Government that the commandant relented.

"Business men complain that the children are already taught too many subjects, and are not taught the rudiments thoroughly."

"I agree with that," replied Dr. Hodgins, "But you know I am merely librarian now, and cannot be expected to criticize the Department."

A Great Whale Hunt.

The London Field describes a whale hunt in Shetland when several hundred of the animals appeared in the bay while all of the men and most of the women were away herring fishing.

Several boats, however, went out, one of them being that of the schoolmistress, who was accompanied by some of her pupils. The boats succeeded in driving a large number of whales ashore. "I had nothing but an old bayonet," says the writer, "and getting it, the work of spearing was entered upon till no fewer than eighty-six whales were secured. A lady with a pitchfork also helped for a time, but had to desist from sheer exhaustion, else a few more might easily have been added to the grand total.

"The whales realized 2s. a head, and 3s. 6d. a hundredweight for the blubber. This is the largest hunt for many years, and the unique feature is that the majority of the captors were women."

THE KIDNEYS ARE DELICATE.

EASILY AFFECTED BY CHANGES OF TEMPERATURE.

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS.

Not even are the lungs more susceptible to the effect of cold drafts, of overheating, of dampness or cold than the kidneys.

This accounts for workingmen so frequently becoming victims of painful and deadly kidney diseases.

Pains in the back are usually the first note of warning. Then there is frequent and painful or smarting urination, headache and derangements of the digestive system and bowels.

IF YOU WOULD PREVENT BRIGHT'S DISEASE AND OTHER DEADLY FORMS OF KIDNEY DISEASE YOU MUST ACT QUICKLY.

To be certain of immediately arresting disease and bringing about thorough cure, you must use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, which have so many times proven their superiority as a treatment for the most serious diseases of the kidneys.

By acting on the liver and bowels as well as on the kidneys, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills effect a thorough cleansing of the whole filtering and excretory systems and entirely rid the body of all poisonous waste matter.

MR. ELLIS GALLANT, Paquetville, N. B., writes:—"About four months ago I found my condition so serious that I had to leave work. I could not sleep nights, my appetite was very poor and my kidneys were so affected that I could hardly walk on account of backache.

"I resolved to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and Backache Plaster. After three week's time, I am glad to say, I was able to resume work and now feel as well as I ever did. I therefore say that Dr. Chase's remedies are excellent family medicines!"

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are so thorough and far-reaching in their influence on the kidneys as to thoroughly eradicate the most serious disease. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box.

A MODEST REQUEST.

Remarkable Letter for Information Addressed to the Governor-General.

Many are the curious epistles which find their way into the Government mail from importunate but ill-informed individuals abroad. Ignorance of Canada and Canadian institutions are frequently illustrated in these communications, but perhaps the letter which was received at one of the departments recently reached the limit in this regard. It came from an individual in the city of New York, addressed to "The Governor-General of Canada," and requesting that the writer be informed of all the places in Canada where hardwood could be obtained, also of the names of all Canadian railways and their freight rates.

The letter, of course, never reached His Excellency, but was referred to the appropriate department for reply. The writer, who was a New Yorker, and evidently not an illiterate person, either, will doubtless be informed that hardwood is to be found in every part of Canada, and that the standard railway guides will furnish him with the remainder of his desired information.

Mails to the Far North.

The Postoffice Department has arranged for two special trips with a limited quantity of mail matter to be made, the first in November and the second in February next, to Fort McMurray (or Fort McKay), Fort Chipewyan, Smith Landing, Fort Smith, Fort Resolution, Hay River, Fort Providence, Fort Simpson, Fort Wrigley, Fort Norman, Fort Good Hope and Fort McPherson. Preference will be given first to registered letters, and, second, to ordinary letter matter, according to the date of posting. Registered letters will not be insured for these despatches. The weight of any letter will be limited to one ounce. Mail for the first despatch should reach Edmonton not later than October 31st next.

CULTURE AND EDUCATION.

Prof. James Bryce's Address to Students of Political Science at the University of Toronto.

Prof. James Bryce, the noted British Parliamentarian, historian and biographer, addressed the Political Science Club of the University of Toronto recently on the study and benefit of history and economics. In preface to a concise but convincing talk he expressed his pleasure in noting the great development of our Canadian universities. We were reproducing in our seats of learning the greatest institutions of England. Our universities were, in fact, being felt in our national life as great organs of enlightenment. Congratulations were due to the University of Toronto for its extensive course in political science and economics, the more so since in England and Scotland these studies were sadly neglected. There was no time, said the speaker, when the internal questions, the fiscal questions and the absorbing international problems of trade and commerce constituted such a danger to peace as at present. These problems must be examined scientifically and determined economically.

We would give millions, continued Professor Bryce, to know more of the constitution of ancient Greece. The last man to apply political science in his public life was Aristotle, and his treatise is the finest we have. With free constitutions here and throughout Europe how much more possible is it to have a basis for political science at the present time than in the days of Aristotle. The people of England have political habits and traditions fixed and formed by time and long experience. This is not yet possible in Canada. "Your Legislature needs guidance," said Prof. Bryce. "Does it contain men of culture, education and pure public spirit? At any rate, it is impossible to discount the value of knowledge and culture."

In reverting to the study of history the speaker declared the history of art, literature and economics to be as much a part of history as wars and revolutions. Freeman's epigram, "History is past politics and politics is present history," was too narrow a view. They should study economics and political science in the light of history. To see a man in bold light, with his primary qualities in bold relief, Prof. Bryce held to be the advantage of studying ancient and mediaeval history. Then it was that human nature had more free and ample play. Moreover, the imaginative appeal is stronger, and without it no history is worthy of the name. The great historian possesses strong imaginative powers. Literature of the times, studied in conjunction with history, is a potent aid in training these faculties. It gives us powerful pictures of a remarkable life and civilization. The Norse Sagas, a rare sample of poetic prose, gives us a vivid picture of mediaeval times. The Divine Comedy of Dante is a veritable epitome of the Middle Ages. He is the competent historian's guide book. Prof. Bryce expressed his pleasure in noting that the study of Dante was being revived on this side of the water. His importance to history must be considered greater than a mere accumulation of bald facts and dates. Having suggested the task of mastering Icelandic as well as Italian to his hearers, the speaker humorously declared he was sorry he couldn't tell them how to do it.

In conclusion Prof. Bryce expressed the hope that an increasing number of university men would go in for politics. It was the emphatic duty of men with minds filled with the wisdom of antiquity to use their gifts in their country's service.

Prof. Bryce's remarks were followed with the closest attention of a large body of students and professors.

The Two-year-old.

A normal child at two years of age should weigh twenty-six and a half pounds. A greater weight is not evidence of health, but the reverse, and the amount of fats and sugars given it should be lessened. Its height should be thirty-two and a half inches, and the circumference of both its head and its chest should be nineteen inches.

LOVE

Often leads to poverty. No real woman ever sold her heart for the luxuries of life. But many a woman who has gladly faced poverty for the man she loved, may well doubt her wisdom when pain becomes the mate of poverty. If she were rich, she thinks, she could find a way of cure.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is within the reach of every one. It lifts the burden of pain which weighs down those who suffer from womanly diseases. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"You have my heartfelt thanks for your kind advice to me," writes Mrs. Geo. Fletcher, of 108 Victoria Avenue, Galt, Ontario. "Was troubled with catarrh of uterus for over a year. The doctors said I would have to go through an operation, but I commenced to use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' also his 'Lotion Tablets' and 'Antiseptic and Healing Suppositories.' Now I am completely cured, after using six bottles of Dr. Pierce's medicines. I am glad to say his medicine has made me a new woman."

Weak and sick women, especially those suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and secredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE WHEEL CUPBOARD.

It Is a Great Help to the Housewife Without a Servant.

This wheel cupboard is constructed as a help to the woman without a servant. The dinner, prepared in the kitchen, may be placed in it, with the empty dishes on top. The cupboard is then wheeled into the dining room, where the dishes are served from it, thus saving the many steps back and forth to the kitchen. In the lowest shelf is an opening lined with metal (copper or tin). Under this, in a small compartment is an alcohol lamp, which serves to keep the dinner warm and may be used to boil water for tea, coffee, etc. The cupboard may be made with little expense by any man who has a plane and a few other common household tools. The wheels and axles may be taken from a discarded go cart or bought at the baby carriage factory. A list of items for its construction is as follows: Sixty feet of half inch white wood, $3; four wheels and two axles, $1.25; two pairs brass hinges, 30 cents; two brass knobs, 15 cents; alcohol lamp, 50 cents; screws, glue, etc., 20 cents; stain, 20 cents; total, $5.60.—Good Housekeeping.

Quickly Made Beef Tea.

Take any desired quantity of steak from the top part of the round, as this has less fat and more juice than any other part of the beef. Remove every morsel of fat and divide the meat into small pieces, cutting across the grain. Put the meat in a dry saucepan and allow it to sweat for five minutes over a slow fire. Stir occasionally to prevent sticking. This is how all beef essences are prepared. After sweating for five minutes you will find the meat white in color and surrounded by a very rich gravy. Pour over the meat its weight in cold water, allowing a pint of water for a pound of beef. Stir until the water boils. It must not boil again, but simmer gently for five or ten minutes. Strain carefully into a bowl, and if there is any fat remove with a piece of unsized brown paper.

For the Skin.

To remove blackheads and also to soften the skin before applying cold creams and lotions wring a soft linen towel out of moderately hot water. Do not have the towel hot enough to burn the skin. Apply to the face, pressing down into the curves of the eyes, nose and mouth. Repeat several times until the skin is pink and soft. In this condition it will absorb much more of the oils and lotions, greatly increasing their effective properties.

A Whistler Story.

Clyde Fitch, after a long stay in Switzerland, has returned to his country house at North Cos-Cob, Conn. He said there the other day:

"Anecdotes of Whistler are still turning up. Europe, from one end to the other, still hums with the dead painter's name. But it was in Paris that I heard the best Whistler story.

"They told me that Whistler was in Paris at the time of the coronation of the King of England, and one evening, at a reception at the Hotel Ritz, a duchess said to him:

"'Do you know King Edward, Mr. Whistler?'

"'No, madame,' said the painter.

"She looked surprised.

"'Why, that is odd,' she murmured. 'I met the King at a dinner party last year, and he said that he knew you.'

"'Oh,' said Whistler, 'that was only his brag.'"

HOLD UP YOUR CHIN.

Carrying the Head High Is a Positive Aid to Beauty.

"Carry your head well," was the admonition given by a physical culture teacher to a pupil, "and if you cannot carry it well, carry it as well as you can! Carry it high!"

Carrying the head well is one of the things the successful society woman must learn, and it is a thing well worth the knowing. By its aid a woman can transform her appearance completely. Often she makes herself from a very plain woman into a very attractive one.

Few women realise the importance of the uplifted chin. For double chinned women there is little argument. With the head lowered there are from one to three chins visible. But with the head lifted the chins melt away.

Carrying the head up is best from a hygienic standpoint. The forehead should not be tipped forward, for it is a well known fact that the blood circulates better and the brain can do best work when the head is held back.

The woman who has formed the habit of dipping her chin should make a study of herself in the glass. She should take a hand glass or a set of mirrors and examine her profile. If she will look sharply she will see that she has a double chin. She will see that her eyes do not look bright and clear. She will discover that her expression is stealthy and catlike and she will know for the first time what it is to see herself as others see her.

Try the experiment of lifting the chin. Don't strain it and don't try to be awkward. Simply lift up the chin until the head sets at the proper angle upon the neck and shoulders.

There is a great charm about a head carried in this manner. If the throat be nice it is lovely, and if the neck and chin be of soft contour the result is positively entrancing to one who has an eye for feminine charm. A woman cannot add to her attractiveness more quickly or more decidedly than by lifting the chin.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Statistics of the Telegraph.

About 1,000,000 messages are sent over the world's telegraph lines every twenty-four hours. According to some returns recently issued the number of telegrams despatched in all countries in 1903, reached the enormous total of 364,848,474. Great Britain heads the list with 92,471,000 despatches. The United States is second with 91,891,000, and France comes third. Germany, Russia, Belgium and Italy follow in the order named. It is sixty years since the first telegraphic message was sent by the Morse system from Baltimore to Washington.

DRESS HINTS.

A sense of appropriateness in attire is more desirable than riches.

Avoid all extremes of fashion. Exaggeration in dress is always vulgar.

It is better to wear no ribbons at all than to wear crushed and soiled ones.

Never tie a necktie hastily or overlook a spot on a collar or a rip in a glove.

Only a woman with red cheeks looks well in violet, and, although many blonds affect this shade, only a brunette can wear it right against the face.

Gasoline put on stains on a white silk waist, followed by as much lump magnesia as the gasoline will take up, well rubbed in, will generally remove the stains.

It is almost impossible to clean white velvet in a perfectly satisfactory manner. However, it may be greatly freshened by an application of chloroform. First brush and beat the velvet free of all dust.

Ball Cushion.

A pretty ball cushion for a girl's dresser may be made of skirt braid. Two shades of blue braid are used. Cut nine pieces of each seven inches in length, run them together alternately in a flat seam. Brier stitch the seams with yellow silk or silkateen. Gather the bottom about an inch from the end and fringe the braid to make a nice finish. Turn in the top and run a strong gathering string. Stuff with clear wool, as wool makes the nicest cushion for stick pins. Draw the gathering string until the cushion is round. Twist a cord of the silk, or a ribbon may be used, to finish off the top to hang by.

To Protect the Range.

The maid of all works knows how discouraging it is to polish a stove and in the cooking of one meal to find it greasy and dull. To overcome this difficulty procure a sheet of thin asbestus the size of the top of the stove. Cut holes in it to correspond with those in the stove. When cooking place it on the stove, and, no matter how much is spilled or splashed, the stove is as bright as ever when the cover is removed.

White Hands.

The quickest way to whiten the hands is to sleep in loose gloves lined with almond paste. To make the paste stir into a half cup of almond meal enough powdered oatmeal to make a moderately stiff paste. Soak the hands in warm suds until all dirt is removed and rub a little of the almond oil into the hands before putting on the gloves. A week of such treatment will show a wonderful improvement.

WONDERFUL CURE OF SORE HANDS

By Cuticura After the Most Awful Suffering Ever Experienced.

EIGHT DOCTORS

And Many Remedies Failed to do a Cent's Worth of Good.

"About five years ago I was troubled with sore hands, so sore that when I would put them in water the pain would very nearly set me crazy, the skin would peel off and the flesh would get hard and break. There would be blood flowing from at least fifty places on each hand. Words could never tell the suffering I endured for three years. I tried everything that I was told to use for fully three years, but could get no relief. I tried at least eight different doctors, but none of them seemed to do me any good, as my hands were as bad when I got through doctoring as when I first began. I also tried many remedies, but none of them ever did me one cent's worth of good. I was discouraged and heart-sore. I would feel so bad mornings when I got up, to think I had to go to work and stand the pain for ten hours, and I often felt like giving up my position. Before I started to work mornings I would have to wrap every finger up separately, so as to try and keep them soft and then wear gloves over the rags to keep the grease from getting on my work. At night I would have to wear gloves in bed. In fact, I had to wear gloves all the time. But thanks to Cuticura, the greatest of all great skin cures. After doctoring for three years, and spending much money, a small box of Cuticura Ointment ended all my sufferings. It's been two years since I used any and I don't know what sore hands are now, and never lost a day's work while using Cuticura Ointment."

POLITICAL QUESTIONS UNDER DISCUSSION.

Joint Meeting Held at Zion When Two Peterboro' Men Met on Sexsmith's Platform

Col. Edwards and Mr. J. H. Burnham Discuss the Political Issues of the Day.

Mr. Burnham Defends Public Ownership Scheme of Mr. Borden. Mr. Sexsmith Gave a Short Address.

Last night in the Zion Hall, Otonabee, a meeting of the electors was held for the discussion of the political questions of the day. Space was added to the meeting by the fact that both sides of the question were presented, and ably handled by Mr. J. H. Burham, on behalf of the Conservative candidate, and Col. E. B. E. B. Edwards who supported the Government.

There was a very good attendance at the meeting, and the best of good feeling prevailed. The audience was plainly impressed with the telling arguments presented by Col. Edwards, although the champion of the Conservative interests tried hard to nullify the effects of his opponent's arguments, by stating that the prosperity prevailing, and which he admitted, was due to the operation of the principle represented by the National Policy.

There was a wide divergence of opinion on the new Transcontinental Railway. Mr. Burnham condemned it in every particular, and repeated Mr. Borden's statement that the country was paying 9-10 of the cost of the road, and contrasted the present bargain with that proposed by Mr. Borden, who, he said, had a number of different alternative plans, which statement Mr. Edwards used with good effect, saying that this was just the trouble. He had too many schemes, and was continually changing allegiance from one to the other.

Mr. Burnham was a champion of the principle of Government ownership of railways, which Col. Edwards characterised as being impracticable and dangerous.

The meeting was arranged in the interests of Mr. Sexsmith, the Conservative candidate, and Mr. Burnham invited Col. Edwards to meet him and discuss the public questions, which invitation was readily accepted.

The candidate was present and addressed the meeting briefly after the two Peterborough speakers had concluded.

Mr. Joshua Smithson acted as chairman of the meeting and introduced the speakers. Mr. Burnham spoke first, for ten minutes, when Col. Edwards replied, speaking thirty minutes, followed by Mr. Burnham, who spoke the same length of time. Each then had ten minutes to reply.

THE ADDRESSES.

Mr. Burnham, who was the first speaker, said that the best way to decide the merits of a question was to have a fair and open discussion of it. He stated at the opening that he had a few questions which practically involved all the questions in dispute. First, he would like Mr. Edwards to point out, how he would benefit the country by lowering the tariff. He said that Mr. Edwards was in theory a free trader, but he, with the other Liberals, had long since discarded the practice of free trade. He believed that all were of the opinion that it was necessary to have a protective tariff. He also thought that this country owed its prosperity, under God, to the N.P. He also would like to know if Mr. Edwards believed in Government ownership of railways and canals. The third question was concerning treaty-making powers.

This country had prospered in some ways, but not in every way, but while this prosperity was rife, Ontario had lost six members. Were we to understand that British Columbia, Quebec and other provinces had prospered at the expense of Ontario. The last question he would ask Mr. Edwards if he would have liberated Mr. Brunet, charged with corrupt practices, in St. James Division, Montreal.

Mr. Edwards, followed, and said in opening that he accepted with pleasure the invitation to speak at this meeting. In his early days he had passed through examinations, and he was rather surprised to hear Mr. Burnham set down questions for him to answer. He thought the first question the people were interested in was who their representative in Ottawa would be. Mr. Finlay, if elected, would support the Government, but if Mr. Sexsmith were elected he would be there only to see what the Government would do. He thought that it would be wise of the people to elect Mr. Finlay, who was a supporter of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who, with his Government, was pledged to the great Transcontinental Railway. (Cheers.) Speaking of Mr. Borden, he said there was the remarkable spectacle of electing a man almost inexperienced in Parliamentary affairs, in the person of Mr. Borden, because Sir Mackenzie Bowell's cabinet had gone back on him, and was scheming to put him out of his office. Sir Wilfrid Laurier was called to office in 1896, and since then had managed the country's affairs in a good and satisfactory manner. He submitted that the country was prosperous, and to a most remarkable degree, and showed by diagrams the remarkable increase of trade, exports and imports, etc. One of the most remarkable features was the great increase, almost double, of the exports to Great Britain. Everything seems to have grown during the last seven years. There was one thing which was decreasing, however, and that was business failures, which had been going down. He said that the N.P. had been inaugurated in 1878, but the great results which had been claimed for it had not been realized, and the N.P. had not resulted in anything beneficial to the country. But Sir Wilfrid Laurier had instituted a policy which had resulted beneficially to the country.

One of the first things which Sir Wilfrid did was to adopt the preference to Great Britain, and on the occasion of the Jubilee Sir Wilfrid was received with greater honour than anyone, except by the Queen herself, and his policy was received with great favour by the English people, and the result was that Canadian goods in England were largely increased year by year, and the increase is going on still. The proposal that England should put a tax on Canadian wheat and flour was absurd because she only supplies from 11 to 12 per cent. of the amount consumed in England, in return the preference has given us English goods 33 1-3 per cent. cheaper than the goods from other countries, and the people have benefitted by this. This is a direct advantage, while at the same time, the manufacturers have been going forward at a rate never equalled before. Canada has sent more goods to England during the last eight years than we ever did before, and, at the same time taken more money from goods brought in from the United States.

Another very great question is that of the Grand Trunk Pacific. At first the Conservatives were opposed to it, but now they were apparently in favour of it. He was opposed to the Government ownership of railways, as it was not in accordance with the spirit of the times. While we have government by party, it will be impossible to operate railways by the Government to advantage. To give any party control of such a railway as the G.T.P.R., with the men employed by it, would be disadvantageous to the country.

"Take canals, while you are at it?" said Mr. Burnham.

"Canals are in the same class," said Mr. Edwards. If the canals were built by the government, and the barges run by the government, they would be doing the ridiculous thing which Mr. Borden asks us to do. The Government should build the canals, because there was no one else to do it. But after they are built, they are free, and do not pay any profits.

The policy of owning the road, is one thing, and operating it, is another thing. Mr. Borden should have known better when he said that the Government was paying 9-10 of the cost of the railway. The new railway would open up in northern Ontario practically a new Ontario.

We have a government under Sir Wilfrid Laurier that does things, and under him Canada has advanced to the status of a nation from that of a colony. Sir William Mulock has also raised the Post Office Department from a losing venture to a good sound basis, and practically gave a world wide service for a penny.

Mr. Burnham, following, said that he had enjoyed the presentation of the question by Mr. Edwards, but thought that Mr. Edwards had not proven a statement by the blue book, and said that he would try and do differently. The Liberals had frowned down the Trent Valley Canal when the Conservatives had commenced its construction.

He referred to the "nest of traitors," and said that when they were discovered they were thrown out, but when Mr. Lang was thrown out by Mr. Finlay, there was no one to come to his rescue. He denounced the alleged refusal to grant the Territories autonomy.

He did not say that the country was not prosperous, but claimed it was due to the N.P. principle. The preference would never have been possible had it not been for the existence of a tariff for protection. Sir Wilfrid was a great man but not one whit more so than Mr. Borden. The country was fortunate in having such men as leaders, and he regretted that Ontario had not such men.

He was amazed, but not altogether surprised that Mr. Edwards had not been in favour of government ownership of railways. In Germany 22,000 out of 33,000 miles of railway, is government owned and operated.

In France all railways will, in 1950, be government owned. The I.C.R. had been built because it had to be built, and although it had not been built in as straight a line as possible, would pay if it was extended to the west. Mr. Borden's policy, or one of them, for he has several, is to extend the I.C.R. to Winnipeg, over the north shore of Lake Superior, and from Winnipeg west, through that excellent country, to built a new line. Mr. Burnham criticised the G.T.P. bargain made by the Government. This country, said he, no longer requires a demonstration to prove that the country is able to build a railway.

The principle of Government ownership is right, and Mr. Borden's plan provides for the management in the same way that the G.T.R. and C.P.R. are managed. By his plan the people would be the shareholders. The whole scheme of Sir Wilfrid Laurier is impracticable and he is going down to defeat on that issue alone. No business man would go into such a scheme. Whenever the bill has been handed over to the capitalists of the G.T.P. we have absolutely no hope. The thing is monstrous, and requires all the charm of Sir Wilfrid's eloquence to make people endure it for half an hour.

When the scheme was first concocted Mr. Blair condemned it. The scheme could only have been carried through because "Cox can't wait."

The Conservatives had helped the farmers by establishing Government experimental farms, and the cheese exports had doubled under the Conservative regime, and laid the foundation of the present magnificent proportions of this trade. Because the tariff of Canada is lower than that of the United States, the latter sells more farm produce to — 6,000,000 people in Canada, than Canada sells to 80,000,000 in the United States. If the Government wants to know how to do the thing properly they should take a Conservative into the Cabinet.

Mr. Edwards replying asked if all the "nest of traitors" had been "kicked out," and said that Mr. Haggart and Mr. Foster were still in the councils of Mr. Borden. Of course they have not Mr. Tarte.

Speaking of the question of Territorial autonomy he thought that the time was not ripe yet. Mr. Burnham stated that the preference would not have been possible except for the N. P. If the best thing the Conservatives did was to build the wall so high that the Liberals had the privilege of knocking off a few bricks they had not much to boast of.

Government ownership of railways in Germany and that in a country like Canada was a very different thing. He was amused at Mr. Burnham's statement that Mr. Borden had different railway schemes, and that was just the trouble. He had so many different schemes that he did not know where he was at. He compared the G.T.P. plan with the O.P.R. bargain, made by the Conservatives, to the decided advantage to the country of the former.

It did not matter where our goods were sold as long as we had a good demand for them.

Mr. Burnham in reply said that Mr. Tarte had not been taken up by Mr. Borden and at the great Montreal meeting he had asked the people whom they wanted, Tarte or Monk, and the result was that the former was not running in any constituency. It is not Mr. Mulock who is responsible for the good showing in the Post Office, but the poor people employed in the service, who, he claimed, are underpaid. Mr. Mulock had reduced postage on letters but increased it on papers.

He condemned the management of the G.T.R. and said that the same management would characterize the G.T.P., but he thought that the people would not stand for such management. He thought that it was a desirable thing to have one alternative policy on the G.T.P. as Mr. Borden had, and defined his leader's expression of that scheme.

Mr. Sexsmith, the candidate was the next speaker, and said that because a member did not support the Government was no reason why his riding could not get anything from the Government. He was glad that the Government had been turned out in 1896. He had never asked a man to vote for him in a nomination, and had not sought it. Mr. Finlay who asked the electors to send him to Ottawa, was a manufacturer of elm hubs and was asking the support of the farmers to send them to Ottawa, so that he could travel for his business cheaper. He pledged himself to support any measure to advance the interests of the country, and would not be a bound partisan. Since his nomination he had canvassed the riding and had done it honestly and honourably. He criticized the fiscal policy of the Government and said that in the west it was free trade and in the east it was protection. His opponent had asked for votes, saying that the two policies were the same and they might just as well vote for him as for Sexsmith.

He dealt with the immigration policy and said that he was going to say it was rotten. They brought in classes of people whom the country has to keep. The Government had spent $500,000 to bring people in and the United States had spent the same amount to keep them out, and Canada had got some of those people.

He condemned the surplus, and said that the people paid it. The Government could now make a surplus of $14,000,000 and crow about it. He believed that the farm produce was not bringing in as much money as it did last year, and the Government should prepare for hard times. The Government had been obliged to adopt the policy of the Conservatives, but it did not fit them. They had taken the duty off binder twine, and yet the price was higher for this commodity than it was under protection.

Mr. Sexsmith closed his address by appealing to the farmers to support him. The farmers, he said, were the backbone of the country, and should support a man who was determined to stand for his rights, and for the rights of the people.

Mr. Sexsmith moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Burnham and Mr. Edwards for their presence, and the motion was carried. After the usual cheers the meeting closed.

THE GRAND TRUNK AND ITS NEW PLATFORM

Decided Improvement of Station Surroundings.

The new cement platform being placed around the Grand Trunk station here is a great improvement. Some idea of the large nature of the improvement may be formed from the fact that some 75 car loads of gravel, 500 barrels of cement and many days of Thomas Sabine's time will be required to complete the work. Won't this platform be a picnic for the honest baggage smasher?

In last night's issue of the Review, an attempt was made to injure Mr. R. R. Hall's personal reputation by an indulgence in personalities.

Mr. Hall was interviewed this morning on the matter contained in the Review, and said that it was regrettable that the Review concealed from its readers the most important facts relating to the case.

It concealed the fact that there were two actions brought, one against Colville, a carter in Toronto, and one against Miller, representing the Poison Iron Works.

It concealed the fact that the action was lost against Colville, and that Mrs. King was ordered by the court to pay not only the costs of the opposite party which amounted to $106.19, but also her costs of prosecuting her unsuccessful suit against Colville, and that having to pay these costs, very substantially reduced the verdict which she recovered against Miller.

It further concealed the fact that the Employers' Liability Insurance Company, appealed the case to the Court of Appeal, and that the firm of Stratton & Hall had to engage and pay counsel to defend Mrs. King's rights in the Court of Appeal, a part of which costs they could not recover against the opposite party.

It still further concealed the fact that the insurance company, who was fighting the case for Miller, appealed to the Supreme Court of Canada, and that the firm of Stratton & Hall engaged and paid counsel to defend Mrs. King's rights in the Supreme Court, and under the practice of the Supreme Court over $300 was paid out of pocket by Stratton & Hall, which they could not recover from the opposite party, and this still further reduced the amount coming to Mrs. King.

Mr. A. B. Aylesworth, K.C., who argued the case in the Supreme Court gave his opinion that he did not think that Mrs. King could succeed in the case at all.

The Review further concealed the fact that had the case gone against Mrs. King, Messrs. Stratton & Hall would have been out of pocket over $1000, which they had paid out on behalf of Mrs. King and for her benefit, because Mrs. King, unfortunately, had not paid them one cent with which to carry on the suit, and she was unable to pay them the money they had paid out for her benefit, or to pay them one cent for their labour.

Mrs. King was never offered $115 in settlement, nor was her son ever offered anything in Chicago as a final settlement. The only offer that was ever made by Mr. Hall was $475, and even that amount only allowed the firm $231.75 for eleven days work, attending four days in Toronto, searching up evidence for the case, two days before the Court of Appeal in Toronto, two days before the Supreme Court in Ottawa, and three days in Toronto, consulting and retaining counsel from time to time, and for taking out letters of administration to Mr. Peter King's estate, and for entering the two suits in the High Court of Justice. And, moreover, not one cent of interest was charged by Messrs. Stratton & Hall for advancing hundreds of dollars, extending over a period of three years, expended by them in witness fees, Toronto agents' fees, counsel fees and other expenses.

As a matter of fact, Mr. Hall, rather than have to be absent from the riding during the campaign to look after the case in Toronto, paid Mrs. King $125 more than he thought she was legally entitled to, making in all $600, which was paid to her.

The result of the whole matter is that the firm of Messrs. Stratton & Hall did not even make $106 out of the suit, in which they incurred so much risk, and paid out so much money on behalf of their client.

Messrs. Kerr, Davidson, Patterson & Grant, of Toronto, who acted for Mrs. King in making the settlement, were perfectly satisfied that the payment of $600 to Mrs. King as a final settlement, was fair and reasonable, and accordingly wrote Mr. Hall as follows:

"We say that we regard the sum of $600, paid by you, as reasonable and right, and having heard all the particulars regarding this case, both from yourself, and through Mrs. King, and from the papers, we think that Mrs. King has been treated fairly and reasonably, considering the fact that you had undertaken the whole responsibility of the litigation, and had incurred a good deal of risk and expense on that account. The outcome of the whole matter gives a cause for every satisfaction with regard to your management of the case, as the same was a peculiar and difficult one, and involved difficult questions of law."

It is evident that when the Review indulges in such a mean attack as this for the benefit of Mr. Kendry, and uses an anonymous communication to bring it before the public, it is driven to desperate straits in order to assist the Conservative candidate. It is, indeed, quite evident that it considers that there are no merits to be urged on Mr. Kendry's behalf, and that it must resort to slander in a vain attempt to secure his election.

TEACHERS' ANNUAL CONVENTION OPENED

Peterborough County Public School Teachers in Session.

The annual convention of the Peterborough County Teachers' Association was opened in the Y.M.C.A. assembly hall this morning. There was a large attendance of teachers from different parts of the county. The session was opened by an address by Mr. B. H. Leighton, of Norwood, president.

On the part of the occasion Mr. Leighton welcomed the teachers. He was sorry that it would not be possible to hold a session this evening, but thought that all would regardless of their political views, experience a rich treat in hearing the Premier speak.

Mr. Leighton made a few practical remarks on "Methods based on psychology". One of the great draw backs in successful teaching was the fact of clearly defined rational methods; too many teachers cannot see the end at the beginning, because they have no rational methods at the start. How many teachers mentally plan each lesson before teaching it, asked Mr. Leighton. The object method of teaching must bring everything within the reach of the child's success. Mr. Leighton dwelt upon several methods, illustrating each by experiences which he had had.

The following delegates are in attendance:—

Mr. D. L. Somerville gave a report of the Ontario Educational Association pointing out the chief features and points of interest in connection with it.

This afternoon's session opened with an address on "Geography" by Mr. J. Clyde Brown. It was followed by a paper on "Writing" by Mr. S. W. Hill and a paper "The Empire Idea in History" by Rev. W. Tandy, M.A., of Havelock.

GOVERNMENT RAILWAY OWNERSHIP.

The Conservative journals will naturally make all the use they can of Mr. Blair's position in relation to the Grand Trunk Pacific project, but his recent action adds no weight to the position he assumed in opposition to it some time ago.

Mr. Blair has expressed himself strongly as to the necessity of a second Transcontinental railway. His difference with his colleagues was in respect to Government ownership and operation of the line.

Now, by the Government plan the Government builds and owns the eastern half and the G.T.P. Company the other half, the Government assisting to the extent of guaranteeing of three-quarters of the bonds, a proposal approved by Mr. Blair, himself.

It therefore comes to this that the only important point of difference between between Mr. Blair and the Government is upon the question of Government operation and that is a fairly debatable question, with the weight of experience overwhelmingly against it. Not only the weight of experience but the expressed opinions of leading Conservatives such as Sir Mackenzie Bowell, Sir Charles Tupper, Sir George A. Drummond, Senator, and President of the Bank of Montreal, who are against Government operation of Railways.

The experience of the several Governments of Canada with the operation of the Intercolonial Railway, the Government owned and operated railway, should be decisive. This line has never paid the interest on the cost of its construction. During the last 25 years the working expenses of the Intercolonial have amounted to $92,600,000 The receipts in the same time have been $84,000,000. If interest is added, calculating it at about $2,000,000 per year, then the loss to the country by the Government operation of the Intercolonial during these 25 years amounts to almost $90,000,000. And yet Mr. Borden practically wanted to extend the Intercolonial across the continent, and if to the past the experience of the Government in Government operation be extended from 1200 miles to nearly 4000 miles the loss to the country would be appalling.

Nor has the experience of other countries in the way of Government operation of railways been more encouraging or less disastrous. In Australia Government operation has been a great burden on the taxpayer. In 1898 the total sum by which the railways of Victoria had come short of earning even interest on cost of construction, (which the Government had to pay by borrowing) amounted to $49,000,000 or 25 per cent. of the cost of building the railways. This was due not to the railways themselves being bad investments, but to bad management almost if not quite, inseparable from Government operation. The earning power of a business venture in the hands of the Government is much smaller than it would be if conducted by private or corporate enterprise.

Nor is the loss to the Government all. In Australia the burden upon the people as tax payers, is small compared with the burden imposed upon them as producers. In 1899, as an authority who has studied the subject, states, it cost as much to move wheat over 400 miles of Australian railway as it cost to ship wheat from Chicago to Liverpool; and in 1897 the railway charges in New South Wales were so high that it was practically impossible for settlers to go into the interior and raise wheat profitably, the railway charge to centres of population being so excessive.

In addition to the disadvantages mentioned is that of political intervention in almost every department of railway management—on behalf of contractors dismissed employees and almost everything else where a political pull could be exercised. In Victoria to avoid these evils the management was, at one time, turned over to a non-political commission, but it was found that political pressure compelled the Minister to override the commission and the commission system broke down completely and it was completely abandoned in New Zealand or where it was employed on Government lines.

In some European countries as Germany and Russia, state railways are operated by the Governments as a matter of military policy and in these war-ridden countries the demands of general traffic are subordinated to military considerations with disastrous results to the mass of the people.

The experience of Australia and New Zealand go to show that the tendency of politicians to interfere with the management and successful working of a state-owned railway cannot be suppressed by the means of a non-political commission. A Government railway operated by a Government is a political enterprise and can never be made, and has never been made anything else.

The Government operation proposition of Mr. Borden is in effect a red herring drawn across the trail, and if entertained will postpone a new transcontinental railway for years. Another railway across the continent is imperative in the interests of Canadian growth and development, and to be the greatest good to the country must be run as a business enterprise, as the Canadian Pacific is run. In a company operated railway no earthly nor political consideration is allowed, for one second, to interfere with the aim of the railway to give the service that will bring the largest traffic. The sole object is to provide a service of such efficiency and convenience to the public that dividends will result.

MR. KENDRY AND THE WOOLLEN INDUSTRY.

The local organ of Mr. Kendry will persist in having him slandered by the Examiner. The Examiner has only pointed out that Mr. Kendry's claim that the woollen industry has been "ruined" by the preferential tariff — the British preference — is weakened by the fact that properly managed and equipped mills are doing a paying business.

We have Mr. Kendry's own admission as authority. He explains that the reason his mills are running, is because they make a quality and kind of goods for which there is a better market than for cheap lines. And the Examiner is informed that the Auburn Woollen Mills at this present moment — 9.25 p.m. — are running by electric light to fill orders.

The Examiner has not disparaged the equipment or management of Mr. Kendry's mills. It has simply used an argument, based on facts, supplied by Mr. Jonathan Hodgson, senior partner in the wholesale house of Hodgson, Sumner & Company, of the city of Montreal. He said not long ago that the present tariff "affords ample protection for all woollen industries that are properly managed, and that possess ample capital." He added that the trouble with too many Canadian mills was that they were devoted to the making of low grade goods, on which the profit is small and the competition keen. He says that the tariff "gives all the protection that could be expected, if mills were confined to specialties, if they were properly equipped with modern machinery, and if they have ample capital." It is Mr. Hodgson who says this, and not the Examiner, and if it does not apply to Mr. Kendry's mills, it does not. If it does, it does.

Now, for a concrete instance in proof of Mr. Hodgson's position. Take the Dick-Ridout Company's mills, at Cobourg. During the last years of the National Policy, the Cobourg Woollen Mills were unable to continue operations, became insolvent, and the Bank of Toronto took over the whole plant.

The Dick-Ridout Company, seven years ago purchased the plant to operate a bag works and woollen mill, and provided proper equipment. Since then the company found it necessary to remove their bag works to Toronto, to make more room for the manufacture of woollens. This required the putting in of a lot of extra looms, which are now in brisk operation.

For the last seven years, since the change of Government, and since the adoption of the British Preference, these mills have been running full blast, employing from 140 to 200 people steadily, and even now the mills cannot keep pace with their orders.

The class of goods manufactured are principally high class dress goods, worsteds, tweeds and some other lines. Thus, with a well-equipped mill, with (presumably) ample capital, and making the right class of goods, here, at our very doors, i s a woollen industry that has not been "ruined," but rather built up, under Liberal tariff conditions.

No comment is called for—anybody can apply the facts.

PETERBORO'S PROSPERITY.

Everybody knows that Peterborough is prosperous. We feel it, so to speak, in our bones — we feel it in our pockets — we feel it in our homes; and, to insist on further evidence, is very like painting the rose.

We have not only increased in prosperity, but also in population. The returns of the assessors, printed in our colums a few days ago, show that in the past civic year the population of Peterborough has increased by ONE THOUSAND AND FIFTEEN — that is, Peterborough proper, 846, and Peterborough East, 169, and our total population is now 14,175.

Remember this increase is under the policy of the Liberal Government, which has brought such tremendous increase in every other department of civic activity.

Now, contrast the growth of the town's population in the civic year 1903-04, the last year under the Conservative policy and management, which Mr. Borden and Mr. Kendry are wanting to restore. The increase in population that year was only NINETY-SEVEN — from 10,835 to 10,932.

That, in the last elapsed year under Liberal rule — under the era of the full dinner pail — the population of Peterborough increased over ten times more than it did in the last year of Conservative rule — the era of the hungry dinner pail. And we have ten times better times, ten times more prosperity, ten times more contentment and hopefulness.

Mr. Borden and Mr. Kendry want to go back to the old order of things. Is it wise to take the back track? Is it wise to reverse the engine of prosperity? No! what we have we'll hold, and we shall!

Keep both hands on the full dinner pail.

KEENE CHRONICLE'S WEEKLY INSTALMENT

Gossipy Record of the Week's Events in the Valley Village.

Mr. Charles Bell was in Port Hope for a few days, visiting his father, who is ill.

Mr. Jas. Quinn of Clinton, Iowa, is visiting friends here. It is over 30 years since Mr. Quinn left Keene, and this is the first visit he has made to his native village since.

Miss Annie Masterson of Burnley, was the guests of friends here on Sunday.

Messrs. Fred and Will Quinn, who have been visiting theri mother, returned to Rochester on Saturday.

Mr. Jos. Quinn has opened a barber shop in the store occupied by C. Goyne last winter. Joe is on to his job and all wishing a shave or hair cut are guaranteed satisfaction.

Dr. William Thompson, son of Mr. Thos. Thompson, has been appointed to a captaincy in the Royal Army Medical Corps, the appointment to date from August 3rd. We congratulate the Dr. on his promotion.

Mr. Arthur Shaw, who has been chief despatcher at the C.P.R. station at Swift Current, for a couple of years, has been appointed station agent there. Arthur is quite capable of filling the position with entire satisfaction.

Miss Edith Henderson was a delegate to the Y.P.S.C.E. convention in Toronto last week.

The Methodist Missionary Society held their anniversary services in the Indian church at Hiawatha on Sunday evening. Rev. D. D. McDonald of Keene, preached the sermon which was listened to with attention by the congregation. A silver collection in aid of the church was taken. Rev. Geo. Dunkley is the missionary stationed there.

The township council met in regular session on Monday, when the month's business was transacted.

Mr. J. R. McIntyre returned from Inglewood on Tuesday, accompanied by his sister Annie, who has been ill for some time, but is nearly recovered now.

The cattle and colts which have been on Sugar island during the summer were taken off and brought to the dock by the steamer Rainbow on Friday.

Mr. Will Dixon left for Washington, D.C., on Monday morning, after spending a pleasant week renewing old acquaintances.

Duck shooting is reported to be very good on the lake this fall.

The curling club held its annual meeting for the election of officers on Saturday evening. There will be quite a number of new members and prospects are bright for a successful season. The officers for the season of 1904-5 are:

President—W. G. Read.
Vice-President—W. Kennealey.
Sec.-Treasurer—Dr. McWilliams.
Representative Members — Dr. Shaw and J. S. Russell.

The Keene club is the third oldest in Ontario and ever since it was organized it has been in a flourishing condition.

Mr. Chas. Bell, jr., is visiting his father at present.

The members of the Improvement Association turned out on Monday afternoon and finished levelling North street and filling in the earth level with the new concrete sidewalk.

The committee which was instrumental in getting the Reading and Recreation Rooms started, held an enthusiastic meeting at Mr. McFarlane's on Friday evening, October 14th. The meeting was for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year. They are:

President—Dr. Shaw.
Vice-Presidents — Mrs. Dr. Shaw, Mrs. Dr. Harrison, Dr. McWilliams, Mr. Vincent McCarthy, Rev. D. D. McDonald and Rev. W. B. Secombe.
Committee to Keep Order in Rooms —Jno. McFarlane, T. J. Soper and Geo. Gall.

It was noted that the young men are taking a real interest in the rooms. An effort will be made to found a library.

Strangers spending a day in the village are invited to the rooms to spend their leisure time.

Mrs. Jas. McCann is visiting Peterborough friends this week.

Mr. T. J Wallace, of Peterborough, spent Saturday shooting on the lake, bagged seven ducks.

The Baptist Convention.

Toronto, Oct. 19.—The Baptist convention of Ontario and Quebec began its sessions at the Jarvis street Baptist Church Monday evening, and is now in full swing. Over 400 delegates from both provinces are present. The convention continues until Friday. Hon. John Dryden was elected president at Monday night's meeting, at which was heard an address of the retiring president, Rev. W. J. McKay.

Fiercest Snow Storm of Season.

Cheyenne, Wy., Oct. 19.—The worst snowstorm of the season is raging through this section. The storm is accompanied by a high wind.

PURPOSE PEEPS OUT

Big Alliance of Capitalists to Control the Press.

WHERE MR. BLAIR STANDS

His Closest Friend Was in the La Presse Deal—Blair Still Silent—Hon. H. R. Emmerson Does Not Think the Contention of Mr. Blair's Well-Known Railway Views Will Change Situation.

Montreal, Oct. 20.—The report that Mr. Blair is to become chief solicitor of the C.P.R. is not credited. Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, President of the C.P.R., said last night that not one word on the question had passed between Mr. Blair and him or between Mr. Blair and any official of the C.P.R. He spoke of the Chairman of the Railway Commission as an excellent man for the position he had resigned, and expressed regret that his course should have been found necessary. The officials of the G.T.R. who are in the city, and particularly Mr. Wainwright and Mr. Morse, say that no one could have been more astonished than they at the turn of events.

The Energetic Mr. Russell.

There is a strong impression here that a group of capitalists have formed an alliance for the purpose of securing a number of influential daily newspapers at different Canadian centres and using them as a means to mould public opinion. The active head of this group is said to be Mr. David Russell of Montreal and St. John. The St. John Telegraph and the St. John Gazette (now known as The Times) have already been bought, nominally by Mr. Russell. Mr. Russell negotiated the deal that ended with the transfer of La Presse of Montreal, from the control of an individual to the control of a group. It is difficult, therefore, to disconnect in the mind the purchasers of La Presse from the purchasers of the two leading newspapers of St. John. It is equally difficult to disconnect the name of Hon. A. G. Blair from the same group. Mr. Russell has long been credited with being that gentleman's financial agent. But who are the others of the group? That they are influential Conservatives goes without a doubt. No one, however, is willing to accept the responsibility of actually naming them at this juncture.

Blair Still Silent.

Ottawa, Oct. 20.—Mr. Blair still declines to give any information concerning the new position, with increased emolument, which he is about to accept. He states that he is not yet prepared to give the press any light on that subject. Asked if he intended to reside in Ottawa or Montreal, Mr. Blair said the question was evidently intended to trap him into making a statement, and refused to answer: The Commission held a short sitting yesterday morning, but he did not take any part in it.

Emmerson's View of Blair.

Moncton, N.B., Oct. 20.—Hon. H. R. Emmerson, Minister of Railways, was electioneering in his county Tuesday night, and did not learn the news of Mr. Blair's resignation till early yesterday morning on his way to Moncton.

He said: "Mr. Blair is simply where he was before he accepted the position on the Railway Commission. I have nothing to say with respect to his resignation or the time chosen for it.

"I do not see how anything he may do can have any more effect. The arguments presented by those supporting the Conservative side are but a repetition of Mr. Blair's speech."

LAURIER AT ORILLIA.

Another Triumph For the Liberal Leader —East Simcoe All Right.

Orillia, Oct. 20.—"East Simcoe won for Laurier and progressive and economic administration" was the sentiment which governed the four thousand people who crowded Agricultural Hall here last evening. The great demonstration in Agricultural Hall here yesterday was a reflection of the growing sentiment which exists, especially in the rural portion of Ontario, in favor of a continuation of his progressive policy. The town of Orillia was on fete, the principal street being decorated with banners and streamers bearing, among others, the mottoes, "We want the G.T.P. built." Special trains were run from Barrie and other points to carry the crowds desirous of hearing the Premier explain his policy. The meeting was a magnificent tribute to the personal popularity of the Premier, it being estimated that between 4,000 and 5,000 persons were present. The Premier's address was cheered to the echo, his exposition of the Government's policy in contrast to that offered by the Opposition evidently satisfying his audience. His references to the abounding prosperity, the credit for which he claimed for his Government, were opportune, and appealed to his hearers. There are strong evidences of industrial prosperity in Orillia, as in other towns in the country, and quite a few new factories have been opened in recent years in this busy town, giving employment to a large number of people.

POLITICS IN A NUTSHELL.

At a meeting of the Conservatives of Carleton held Wednesday afternoon, Edward Kidd was unanimously selected as candidate.

Lawrence Stafford, advocate, was selected Wednesday night as the Conservative candidate in Quebec West and he has accepted the nomination.

The Liberals of the riding of Leeds, George Taylor's riding, met in convention Wednesday at Delta, to nominate a candidate for the Commons. All the nominees retired, with the exception of Messrs. Gibson and Fredenburg, and on a ballot being taken Gibson received the majority. The nomination was then made unanimous.

A DARING ROBBERY.

Two Men Held Up Superintendent Kitchen of Dentonia Park Farm and Robbed His House.

Toronto, Oct. 20.

Superintendent Ketchen of Dentonia Park Farm had an exciting experience at 3 o'clock this morning which two masked men broke into his house and with loaded revolvers entered his bedroom and held him up. His wife and two children in their house were also intimidated with threats of instant death.

The whole family were brought into the one room and while one man stood guard over them the other went through the house and gathered up all the valuables in sight. The bureau drawers were broken into and much valuable jewellery taken. Every bit of silverware in the house was gathered up and put into a grip that the masked desperadoes carried.

When everything of portable value had been collected one robber took a chair and smashed the telephone in the house. Then both men after threatening to blow out the brains of the whole family if they were followed, left the house hurriedly and made off in a northerly direction.

Mr. Ketchen so soon as the burglars departed rushed out of the house to the barn where another telephone was installed and rang up the city police, who sent out a party of men to investigate. He also rang up Chester Massey's house and aroused everyone on the farm. A vigorous search was instituted to find traces of the masked men, but they had vanished.

The police in East Toronto and the city police have been notified and word will be sent to outlying towns to be on the watch for the two men. Mr. Ketchen did not get a good description of them for the only light he could see by was that from a dark lantern carried by one of them. But he says they were both tall, and dressed in black clothes, wich peaked caps. He does not think he would be able to identify them again were he to meet them face to face. The best remembrance he has of them is of their voices which were rough with an apparent foreign accent, seeming to indicate that they were not men of his own personal acquaintance.

Mr. Ketchen has been in the employ of Mr. Massey for 10 years. He came from Brooklin, Ont.

Head About to Burst From Severe Bilious Attack.

"I had a severe bilious attack and felt like my head was about to burst when I got hold of a free sample of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. I took a dose of them after supper and the next day felt like a new man and have been feeling happy ever since," says Mr. J. W. Smith of Juliff, Texas. For biliousness, stomach troubles and constipation these Tablets have no equal. Price 25 cents. For sale by all druggists.

Behind in Their Accounts.

Toronto, Oct. 19.—A new treasurer has been appointed in the township of Shuniah, Thunder Bay district, the late treasurer having been found short in his accounts, the amount being under $600.

A shortage in Caledon township reaches nearly $4,000, the deficit having been discovered on the death of the treasurer.

Quite Shocking.

Hamilton, Oct. 19—The kind of banquet the members of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church held Tuesday evening has given the straight-laced quite a shock. The banquet was held at the Jockey Club Hotel. The retiring pastor, Rev. Neil McPherson, himself, was there, and progressive euchre and dancing were indulged in.

WOULD YOU HAVE A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION

How to Secure One and Enjoy the Best of Health in Nature's Way.

Healthy beauty is the only kind that charms. Of what avail is the sallow prettiness of an invalid? Artificial beauty obtained by the use of lotions, washes and powders containing lead, zinc and bismuth is but a travesty—easily seen through. It is the plumpness of flesh and pure blood that makes people attractive. You cannot have health, good looks, rosy cheeks and bright, snappy eyes unless your blood is pure, rich and red. You cannot have that symmetry of development, that radiance of beauty and that healthy glow to your skin which is a guarantee of a pure, vigorous blood supply unless your stomach, liver and bowels are working together right. If you are constipated, if you have dyspepsia indigestion or an occasional attack of biliousness, there is reason enough why you have a bad complexion, but that is no excuse for your using cosmetics to cover up defects. Better use Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills to cleanse the blood of impurities, regulate the bowels and establish a normal condition of digestion and nutrition. Begin right and you will have no use for artificial beautifiers. Under the active influence of these wonderful little vegetable pills the blood is invigorated and enriched, the nerves are strengthened, the muscles take on new energy, the skin becomes rosy and red, showing the circulation is normal and active as Nature intended it should be. Try this plan, use Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills each night for two weeks and you will be astonished at the improvement. Depend upon it that these little pills will not only correct a bad complexion, but they always cure sick headache, constipation and biliousness in one night. Price 25 cents at all dealers.

TREATMENT OF PILES

Permanence of Cure the True Test.

Many so-called pile remedies will afford the users slight temporary relief, and the majority of those afflicted do not expect more than this.

The average sufferer, after having tried every preparation recommended for the cure of piles, comes to the conclusion that there is no cure except by an operation, and rather than undergo this "last resort" he suffers on, resigned to the situation, so far as maybe. The attention of those interested is invited to the following experience.

"After ten years of suffering from blind, bleeding and protruding piles, and after using every remedy I could hear of without any benefit, I finally bought a fifty cent box of Pyramid Pile Cure, and used it with such good results I bought next a dollar box, which finished up the job. That was nearly six years ago, and as far as piles is concerned I am cured, and have never felt a symptom of them since.

"Many others have used this remedy by my advice, with the same results, and I always recommend it to suffers with piles." C. H. Potts, Burlington, Kans.

Testimony like this should convince the most skeptical the Pyramid Pile Cure not only cures, but cures to stay cured. It is in the form of a suppository, can be applied in the privacy of the home, directly to the parts affected, and does its work quickly and painlessly.

Druggists generally sell this famous remedy for fifty cents a package and sufferers are urged to buy a package now and give it a trial to-night. Accept no substitute.

A little book describing the causes and cure of piles is published by the Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich. and same will be sent free to any address for the asking.

Killed in the West.

Stratford, Oct. 20.—Word has been received from Rev. A. N. Miller of Ladner, D.C., that Lewis Monkman was instantly killed through a spirited team of horses which he was driving running away. Mr. Monkman is a brother of Abe Monkman of this city, and also of Mrs. Fred. J. Corrie of the Queen's Hotel. He leaves a wife and one child to mourn his loss. Two years ago Mr. Monkman visited in Stratford for a couple of weeks, and will be remembered by many whom he met on that occasion.

Toronto Man Drowns.

Deseronto, Oct. 20.—William Bonsday, an Englishman, shortly out from the old country, and who came here from Toronto to work on Forester's Island, and who has been working there for the past two months, was reported missing about a week ago. All efforts to locate him failed until yesterday when his body was found near the Rathbun Company's log dock in a decomposed condition. As far as known he has no relatives in this country.

British Snow Bound.

Pari Jong, Thibet, Oct. 17 (delayed in transmission.)—The headquarters of the British Thibet force, consisting of two companies of mounted infantry, the Eighth Gurkhas and 40th Pathans, is snowbound at Pari (a fortress near Boutan, Thibet). The column marched through Pari Jong Pass in the midst of a blinding snowstorm, during which it went into camp. Two men died during the night.

Hands and Face Burned.

Brockville, Oct. 20.—While smoking at the home of his parents yesterday, Joseph McCulloch carelessly dropped a lighted match in the lace curtains, which were instantly in a blaze. McCulloch pulled the curtains from the poles and carried them out of the house. In doing so, his hands and face were terribly burned. Besides the curtains, several articles in the room were destroyed.

Cured When all Else Failed

"Could I live my early life over, this testimonial would not be necessary, though I was no more sinful than thousands of other young men. Early indiscretions, later excesses, exposure to contagious diseases all helped to break down my system. When I consulted me realize my condition I was almost frantic. Doctor after doctor treated me but only gave me relief—not a cure. Hot Springs helped me, but did not cure me. The symptoms always returned. Mercury and Potash drove the poison into my system instead of driving it out. I knew the day your New Method Treatment was recommended to me. I investigated who you were, found you had over 25 years' experience and were responsible financially. I gave you my case under a guarantee. PRETTY WEDDING YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

Nuptials of Miss Harietta E. Kingdon of Town and Mr. Arthur Heald of Toronto.

The home of Mr. George Kingdon, 32 Bernardo Ave, was the scene of a very pretty wedding at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon when his youngest daughter, Miss Harietta Emma was made the bride of Mr. Arthur Heald, of Toronto. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Crothers, in the presence of about forty relatives and friends of the contracting parties. The bride was handsomely attired in a gown of white silk with trimmings of applique and chiffon. She carried a beautiful bouquet of white roses. She was attended by Miss Edna T. Hill, who was becomingly attired in pongee muslin with chiffon and applique trimmings. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Orville Kingdon. The parlour where the nuptial knot was tied was very tastefully decorated with ferns and plants.

The bride was the recepient of numerous beautiful presents from a large circle of friends. At the conclusion of the ceremony a delightful wedding dejeuner was served.

The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful diamond ring. Among the guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Alf. Heald, Mrs. R. Jackman, Mr., Mrs. and Miss Ba..y, all of Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Heald left on the 5.6 G. T. R. train for a wedding tour at the conclusion of which they will reside at 776 Lansdowne Avenue, Toronto. The bride's going away gown was of navy blue broadcloth with hat to match.

SPLENDID MEETING IN BRIDGENORTH

Liberal Candidate was Well Received in Smith Last Night and Gave Good Address.

Mr. D. O'Connell's Splendid Speech on the Present Prosperity of Our Country Under Liberal Rule.

Mr. Hall Answers and Refutes the Personal Charge in the Review—One of the Most Successful Meetings.

The meeting in the interests of Mr. R. R. Hall, the Liberal candidate, in West Peterborough, last night at Bridgenorth, was one of the most successful and enthusiastic of any yet held, and, judging by the results of the meeting, his vote in that part of the riding will be large.

The meeting was held in the town hall, which was well filled, and great enthusiasm was manifested.

The speakers were Mr. D. O'Connell and the candidate, both of whom made excellent speeches. Mr. Hall referred to the personal charges contained in the Review, and explained the circumstances in the case referred to, and stated, amid applause, that he would rather be defeated a thousand times, than resort to such personalities as his opponents had done in his case.

The sympathies of the audience were plainly with him, and the prospects are that Smith will give a increased Liberal majority on November 3rd.

Mr. W. T. Young acted as chairman of the meeting, and in opening addressed a few remarks to those presents, introducing the speakers in complimentary terms, and referring to the candidate as a man eminently fitted to represent the riding in Parliament.

Mr. D. O'Connell was first called upon, and in opening said that the Government was again appealing to the country for its support. During the last year the record of the Government had been such that they believed that they were deserving of being returned to power. They also felt that the affairs of the country had been well looked after, and that the country was prosperous to a degree never experienced during the Conservative regime. A great part of this prosperity is due to the conditions under which we have been living, and also a great deal was due to the wise administration of the Liberals. Before the Liberals came into power, the Conservatives had been in power for eighteen years, and during that time there were good times and bad times, but in those eighteen years the country had not been as prosperous as it has since that time. The Government was now asking the people to compare these periods, and if a fair and intelligent comparison was made, they felt confident that the Liberals will be returned.

All remembered the conditions in 1896, and many also remembered the conditions in 1878, and they remember the promises made then and he asked those present to compare the conditions with those of to-day. Instead of industries beginning and enlarging under Conservative rule they were, many of them, idle, and many thousands were out of employment, and owing to this fact found the conditions so irksome, that they went in thousands to the United States. During the eighteen years of administration preceding 1896, many thousands of dollars had been spent in immigration, yet in 1891 the population by no means showed the result of this expenditure, and the population of Canada had not increased even to the extent of the natural increase.

In 1896, so dissatisfied were the people with the Conservatives, that they were defeated, and the Liberals placed in charge. Upon their election the Government gave an intelligent attention to the tariff, which had under the late Government been a failure, and in 1897 a thorough and effective revision was made, and the consequence was that a substantial reduction in the tariff was made, though they recognized that a reasonable tariff was necessary in this new country; and it was found that the industries adapted to the country were placed under conditions which were advantageous, and the Liberal party has saved to the people of the country $32,000,000. It has been said that the Liberals have adopted the policy of the Conservatives, but this is not true, as is proven by the results, for the people have been saved no less a sum than that mentioned above.

It has also been said that the public debt has been increasing ever since Confederation, and it is also true, but while the Conservatives were taking the money from the people they were still piling up the debt.

The Liberals sought to meet the trade conditions of other countries, and in this connection they recognized that it would be of mutual advantage to establish mutual trade relations with the United States, and if they have not succeeded in this, it was because they found the people of the United States unwilling to meet them fairly, and they then turned their eyes across the sea to Great Britain, and recognizing the trade conditions there, they found that a different system was advisable, so the very first decision they arrived at was that there should be no tinkering with the tariff after the revision. They then decided that to those countries that showed an inclination to trade fairly with Canadians, conditions would be made to assist trade with those countries, and a minimum tariff would be made to apply to them; while, on the other hand, to those countries which do not show an inclination to trade fairly with Canada, a maximum tariff would be enforced.

To guard against the operations of the American trusts in Canada, the anti-dumping clause has been added to the tariff.

The most important feature of the tariff is that of the preference, and recognizing the value of trading with Great Britain, the preference has been established. It may be truly said that Great Britain is the great market of the world, therefore it is advisable to establish closer relations between Canada and Great Britain, which has been done by the preference, and by it cementing the colony with the other colonies, and with the Mother Land.

The preference, which at first seems to have cost this country something, has resulted in a great increase in the trade between Canada and Great Britain, which is also growing year by year. In 1896 the exports of animals and agricultural products was $50,981,000, but in 1903 it was $114,141,000, an increase of over 100 per cent, a result traceable to the preference. During the whole eighteen years of Conservative rule, the average exports of agricultural products to Great Britain was $1,500,000, but it has increased under Liberal rule to about $9,000,000 yearly. This is an administration which is building up the trade of the country.

He asked if the voters would be doing their duty to their country by driving out of power a government which had done so much for the trade of the country.

There was another matter which was attracting great attention in the country. The Government had already entered into a contract that across the country there should be constructed another transcontinental railway, every foot of it on Canadian soil. This means work, and plenty of it, for the next five years. He asked if the electors knew that by ejecting the Conservatives to power they would obliterate that contract. The new road is an absolute necessity, and the desire of the Government is that it shall be constructed through Canadian soil. The conditions under which the road will be constructed are that from Winnipeg east the Government will build the road. During the first 7 years the G.T.P. shall pay three per cent to the Government, so that the Government will borrow the money at three per cent., and it will not cost the Government anything. On the section west of Winnipeg the G.T.P. shall pay for the construction of the road, the Government guaranteeing three-fourths of the bonds. On the Mountain section the Government will give the G.T.P. three per cent., the total cost to the country being $13,000,000, less than the surplus of one year.

He asked if that amount of money was too much for a new railway, in view of the fact that the C.P.R. received $25,000,000, and 25,000,000 acres of land, which is selling now at $3 to $5 per acre.

It was an absolute certainty that the Liberal party would be returned; everyone admitted this fact, and in view of the fact that a man representing this riding had been an opponent of the Government, it could not be expected that the Government would take as great an interest in the riding as it would if a supporter were elected. The Conservative Association in Peterborough recognized the fact that the Liberals would be returned, and had a great difficulty in securing a candidate, whereas in the past they could find plenty of men. Mr. Kendry was the only one who could be found to take up the standard. A man who had never shown any aptitude to represent the riding, and had said that he could not attend to his business and his parliamentary duties satisfactorily. With all this personal disadvantage it is not likely that he will be inclined to represent this riding in a way that the people would like to have it represented.

On the other hand there was a supporter of the Government asking for their votes, a man who was one of the most enterprising business men, one of the most successful men in the whole province, and one who has been responsible for the establishment of many industrial concerns in Peterborough, and one who will be able to faithfully discharge the duties of his office, if elected, as he expected he would be.

THE CANDIDATE'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Hall was well received on rising to speak, and referred to the presence of ladies in a pleasing manner, and said that it was the first meeting which he had addressed in which ladies had graced the gathering. He always felt at home in Smith Township, which had turned out good, successful men. He said that Bridgenorth had turned out some splendid sporting organizations, one of which was the football team which none of the other teams in the county had met at the Peterborough Fair.

West Peterborough needed many things and during the last two terms the riding had been misrepresented. One of the most important matters in which the County of Peterborough was interested was the Trent Valley Canal. The Government had taken hold of it in a business-like way, and at the present time there was a stretch of 160 miles of waterway, but it should be opened to Lake Ontario and the Georgian Bay, enabling the manufacturers along its route to get cheap rates. Canada, with its boundless territory and growing trade should be able to spend $5,000,000 to complete this canal. The saving to the county of Peterborough alone, if the canal were completed, would be $100,000 a year, yet on this important matter Mr. Kendry, during the last two sessions, had not opened his mouth to advocate the completion of the canal.

Mr. Hall also referred to the improvements which he had been instrumental in securing, but the needs of which Mr. Kendry had not mentioned to the Government. The people feel that Mr. Kendry has been weighed in the balance and found wanting. The appropriation for a wharf at Burleigh was also referred to.

The statements in the Review that he was trying to bribe the people by calling attention to the needs of the

"Sir Wilfrid Laurier is easily the First Statesman of Greater Britain."—London, England Daily News, September 14th, 1904.

To-night at 8:15 in the Brock Street Rink, the Citizens of Peterborough will have an opportunity of hearing Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the First Statesman of Greater Britain.

The other Speakers at to-night's meeting in the interests of Mr. R. R. Hall, the Liberal Candidate for West Peterborough, will be Hon. J. R. Stratton, Mr. Archie Campbell, and Mr. R. R. Hall, the Candidate. Mayor Roger will occupy the chair.

A Procession will be formed at 7:20 at the C. P. R. Station and proceed to the rink. Three bands will participate in the procession, and citizens generally are invited to join in it.

The west side of the rink has been reserved for ladies and their escorts, who will be admitted through the west side entrance.

The doors will be opened at 7:15 and the chair will be taken at 8:15.

This will be an opportunity of a life time. Come and hear the Greatest Premier Canada ever had.

WEDDING BELLS.

The Bride was Miss Gertrude McLennan and Groom Mr. W. J. Nicholls.

A very pretty wedding took place last evening at the home of Mrs. Charles Sturmer, Water street, when her eldest daughter Gertrude McLennan was married to Mr. W. J. Nicholls, eldest son of Mrs. Geo. Nicholls, East Ward, formerly of Lakefield. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Crotheau in the presence of the immediate relatives of the two contracting parties and many friends amounting to about forty. The bride looked charming in white organdie trimmed with white ribbon and carnation. The bridesmaid was Miss Alice McLennan, sister of the bride and the groom was attended by Mr. Bruce McDonald, of Pittsburg, where they will reside for the future. The Examiner wishes them both health and happiness.

HONOURS TO THE PREMIER

Town in Gala Attire to Welcome the Great Statesman.

Procession to the Rink at 7:20—The Street and Rink Gaily Decorated—Arrives at 5:33 P.M.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who was to have arrived in town on the 11.45 train from Orillia, where he spoke last night, could not carry out the original intentions, on account of having to go to Toronto this morning, and reached here on the 5.33 G. T. R. train from that city.

His failure to come on the morning train caused disappointment to a number of persons, who were at the station to witness his arrival, but the crowd was more than duplicated upon the arrival of the 5.33 train, when the "first statesman of Greater Britain," was received by a deputation of local Liberals, and the cheers of the hundreds who had gathered to greet him.

The town has never before been so gaily decorated, on the occasion of a political gathering. The whole length of George street from the C. P.R. station to Brock street, is a mass of flags and bunting, while on Charlotte street a similar scene presents itself.

The magnificent decorations, than which there have been no finer or more elaborate in the town's history, were placed in position by Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons, who also decorated the Examiner office, and many warm words of commendation have been heard on the excellent taste displayed by this firm.

In the rink, too, a transformation has been wrought. The interior of the building never before looked so brilliant, and this afternoon dozens of workmen were busily engaged putting the finishing touches on the decorations, which were placed by Mr. Alf. Kingscote, who also displayed excellent artistic taste in the manner in which he has carried out the work entrusted to him. Suitable and catchy mottoes line the sides of the rink, while over the large platform at the south end a canopy of white, red and blue has been placed.

At 7.20 the procession, which all citizens are invited to participate in, will leave the C.P.R. station, and proceed to the rink.

AN OLD RESIDENT DIED THIS AFTERNOON

Death of Robert Walton at the Age of Eighty Years.

At 1.30 o'clock this afternoon, the death occurred of Robert Walton, at his home, 675 Water street. The deceased gentleman was for years a resident of Peterborough where he was very well and always favourably known. He was 80 years of age. Fuller particulars regarding his death will be published in to-morrow's issue.

The funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock to Little Lake Cemetery.

THE REVIEW'S TACTICS.

It is a fact to be regretted that the Conservative idea of journalism has fallen so low as that represented by the unwarranted and unworthy personal attack made on Mr. Hall in last night's issue of the Review. During the campaign Mr. Hall and the speakers have refrained from making any criticism of Mr. Kendry as a private citizen, and anything that has been said with reference to him has been directed to his acts as a public man, and it is a sign of weakness in the Conservative cause that they should have found it necessary to resort to such questionable tactics.

Certain it is that this "stroke of enterprise" on the part of the Review will not meet with favour among the better class of Conservatives, and when the facts are known it will result, as all such unfair and untrue personal attacks always result, in a feeling of disgust for politicians whose idea of statesmanship is so low that personal charges are trumped up and published as truth, without an effort being made to ascertain the facts in the case. It is also a matter which every self-respecting man, whether Liberal or Conservative must regret, that the Conservative organ, in its new-born zeal for truth and righteousness should consent to become a party to the publication of an untounded charge against a man, not only entirely innocent, but who, when the facts are known, has proved the best friend that the lady about whom all this hue and cry has been raised, has had.

The facts in the King case, and Mr. Hall's connection with it, will bear the fullest investigation, and when they are learned it will be found that he acted in a way which very few men placed in a similar position would have done. How many lawyers would have conducted a case in which the element of uncertainty was so pronounced, without the advance of one cent of money, as Mr. Hall did?

Why all this solicitude on the part of the Review, anyway? Has it in the past shown such a burning desire to right the real wrongs, let alone the imaginary wrongs, of citizens? The letter published in another column from Mrs. King's solicitors, shows that they are satisfied. Mrs. King is satisfied, her friends are satisfied, and what more can be asked?

To publish an anonymous, if not spurious, letter, making insinuations against a public citizen, is not a reflection of credit upon a journal, which looks for the respect of the public, and more particularly when such charge and insinuation are utterly unfounded and unfair.

ANOTHER REVIEW LIE NAILED.

The Review last night said, "A cheque, —— it is understood, has been placed in Rev. J.G. Potter's hands for Mrs. King. This she says she has not yet seen."

This, the Examiner is informed is as false, as the other statements contained in the article of which this sentence was a part. Mr. D. Potter, brother of Rev. J. G. Potter, informed the Examiner to-day that the check had been sent to Mrs. King, and had not been retained as the Review maintained.

This is another evidence of fact that the Conservative organ made statements before finding out whether they were true or otherwise.

SIR WILFRID'S TOUR

North Ontario Welcomes Canada's Gifted Premier.

HIS SPEECH AT UXBRIDGE

Grand Reception to Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier—An Appeal to the National Pride of Canadians to Endorse the Present Government's Progressive Policy and Honest Administration.

Uxbridge, Oct. 19.—North Ontario, restored to its original boundaries as they were before the gerrymander of 1882 made it a supposedly safe Conservative seat, last evening welcomed Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Lady Laurier with a reception such as it has not previously accorded a political leader. The electors marked their appreciation of the fulfillment of the pledge which the leader of the Government gave when in Opposition to undo the legislation which divorced them from municipal associations with no uncertain sound. The Premier in his speech dealt with the Transcontinental Railway and the preferential tariff, reiterating the arguments he has presented so ably and well why the electors should endorse the progressive policy and honest and efficient administration of public affairs which have characterized his term of office, and give him a further renewal of that confidence which, given in 1896, was renewed with greater emphasis in 1900.

Welcomed At Stouffville.

At Stouffville the train was held for five minutes for the purpose of allowing Sir Wilfrid to address a crowd, numbering fully 500, that had assembled at the station. A small platform had been constructed, and as Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier stepped from the car they were greeted with loud cheers. Little Erma Burkholder, daughter of Mr. A. Burkholder of the Sovereign Bank, handed Lady Laurier a magnificent cluster of bride roses, and Mr. C. R. Fitch explained that they were given by the ladies of North York as a token of esteem and respect. Mr. Fitch added it was the wish of the people of that district that Sir Wilfrid Laurier might long be spared to direct the destinies of the Dominion.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier expressed gratitude for the warmth of the reception, which was all the more appreciated because it was absolutely unsuspected of bias.

Hon. E. J. Davis to Retire.

Newmarket, Oct. 19.—The regular meeting of the Executive of the North York Reform Association was held here yesterday morning, and at it Hon. E. J. Davis, Commissioner of Crown Lands, announced that at the close of the present Parliamentary term he intended to retire from politics.

POLITICS IN A NUTSHELL.

Hon. Clifford Sifton has invited R. L. Richardson to a joint debate in Brandon on Monday, Oct. 31.

Three Conservatives are in the field in the County of Carleton. They are E. Kidd, ex-M.P., Fred. Henry and Hugh Conn.

At a convention of the Conservatives of Wright County at Ottawa Wednesday afternoon F. A. Labelle, notary, Hull, was unanimously selected candidate.

The railway companies have decided to make a rate of single fare for the round trip among all points in Ontario and Quebec, good from Nov. 2 to Nov. 4, in order to accommodate the usual volume of election travel.

North York Liberals, in mass meeting assembled at Newmarket on Wednesday afternoon, formally nominated Sir William Mulock as candidate for the Federal House. Sir William accepted in an exhaustive speech.

Dr. Montague was on Wednesday tendered the unanimous nomination of the Liberal-Conservatives of London in convention assembled. A meeting to receive his answer will be held on Saturday night.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

No one who is acquainted with its good qualities can be surprised at the great popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only cures colds and grip effectually and permanently, but prevents these diseases from resulting in pneumonia. It is also a certain cure for croup. Whooping cough is not dangerous when this remedy is given. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. It is also pleasant to take. When all of these facts are taken into consideration it is not surprising that people in foreign lands, as well as at home, esteem this remedy very highly and very few are willing to take any other after having once used it. For sale by all druggists.

One Man's Opinion.

London, Oct. 19.—J. M. MacLean, ex-M.P., in The South Wales News says: "The colonies seem to imagine that any high-flown talk is good enough for dull-witted English electors. It seems to be supposed that we in this country do not understand the policy of Canada, which consists in playing Great Britain against the United States and selling the right of entry into Canada to the highest bidder."

A Book for the Home.

Dr. Chase's Last and Complete Receipt Book, containing over three thousand medical, cooking, veterinary and miscellaneous receipts, is sold at $2.75 post-paid. There is no book published which is so useful in the home. After using it a month you would not exchange it for $5. If you don't consider it worth more than the price return the book in good condition and get your money back. Illustrated circular free. Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

INVENTOR HANGS HIMSELF.

Milton S. Talbot of Montreal Found Dead in New York State.

Montreal, Que., Oct. 19.—Some weeks ago a young man named Milton S. Talbot, called upon Norman L. Lusher, 178 St. James street, and engaged a portion of his office in which to do some work relating to the sale of an invention of his called "Ripponite," which he claimed was more powerful than dynamite.

About three weeks ago Talbot got a cable from England saying that £50 was being sent him with which to go to London to consult the War Office in connection with his discovery.

He arranged to call and see some friends before leaving the city, but he suddenly left and nothing was heard of him since until yesterday, when word was received that he had committed suicide by hanging in the woods at Pelham Bay, New York.

The Liver to Blame.

So long as the liver is active in filtering the bile from the blood there is no biliousness and no constipation, because the bile is passed from the liver into the intestines where it act as a cathartic in keeping the bowels active. Because of their direct action on the liver as well as the bowels, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills thoroughly cure constipation, the real cause of nine-tenths of the common ills of life.

WILL MR. HAYS RESIGN?

A Rumor Discredited At the Grand Trunk Head Offices.

Montreal, Oct. 19.—(Globe Special.)—No one here professes to know anything of the report, emanating from Ottawa, that Mr. C. M. Hays has resigned his position on the Grand Trunk. Mr. William Wainwright, controller of the company, says, as far as he or any of the officials of the company at the head office here know, there is no foundation for the report. Mr. Hays is in England at present. The report finds no credence in Montreal.

Bishop Worrell Consecrated.

Montreal, Oct. 19.—The consecration of Archdeacon Worrell of Kingston, as Bishop of Nova Scotia, took place yesterday morning in Christ Church Cathedral, the ceremony being performed by Archbishop Bond, primate of all Canada. The bishop-elect was presented for consecration by the Bishops of Toronto and Ottawa, and the sermon was preached by the Bishop of the Philippine Islands, who was a delegate to the synod of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States at Boston.

What Railways Killed.

Washington, Oct. 19.—A report issued by the Interstate Commerce Commission yesterday shows that the total number of casualties to persons on railroads in the United States during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1904, was 55,130, comprising 8,787 killed and 51,443 injured. This shows a large increase. The total number of collisions and derailments was 11,291, involving $9,383,077 of damage to cars, engines and roadway. This is an increase of 648 collisions and derailments.

Killed in Bay City.

Stratford, Oct. 19.—Samuel Henry of Milverton received word by telegram on Sunday evening, that his brother, William, had been killed in Bay City, Mich., on Saturday afternoon. How the fatality occurred the telegram did not state, so no particulars are obtainable.

St. Clair Tunnel Verdict.

Sarnia, Oct. 20.—The evidence before the coroner's inquest on the tunnel tragedy was concluded at five o'clock yesterday afternoon. After an hour's consultation the jury returned with the following verdict:

"We find that Daniel Gillies came to his death by suffocation in the St. Clair tunnel while in discharge of his duty as brakeman for the St. Clair Tunnel Co. We are of the opinion that if the St. Clair Tunnel Co. had better equipment for ventilation it would in a measure have prevented the accidents which have occurred since the opening of the tunnel for traffic, and we strongly urge that the Railway Commission appointed by the Government investigate what means the Tunnel Company should adopt to prevent the loss of life in the future.

"David Stokes, foreman of jury."

SERVANTS AS CRITICS.

Do Not Discuss Private Matters In Presence of Your Help.

"People seldom realize that they are freely criticised by their servants and the latter's friends," remarked a woman of the world recently. "They get into the habit of regarding the latter as automatons and machines, and talk and act before them in a way that they would not dream of doing if they thought of them as inquisitive gossips, eager to pick up any item of interest and retail it for the benefit of those who will in turn hand it on to others of like ilk. Many a sensitive woman would writhe inwardly if she could hear her respectful maids and footmen laugh over her failings and freely criticise her conduct. Yet she exposes herself to all this and more by her thoughtless imprudence. I have heard women at luncheon, with the footmen serving behind their chairs, discuss the most intimate concerns of their own as well as their friends, quite oblivious of the fact that the human machines that move about the table were listening to the conversation with the natural curiosity of humanity. Pauline Bonaparte, when she said of the footman, 'Mais, ma chere, appelletu ca un homme?' voiced the feeling of her class perhaps, but the impression is hardly a safe one."—New York Tribune.

THE KIDNEYS ARE DELICATE.

EASILY AFFECTED BY CHANGES OF TEMPERATURE.

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS.

Not even are the lungs more susceptible to the effect of cold drafts, of overheating, of dampness or cold than the kidneys.

This accounts for workingmen so frequently becoming victims of painful and deadly kidney diseases.

Pains in the back are usually the first note of warning. Then there is frequent and painful or smarting urination, headache and derangements of the digestive system and bowels.

IF YOU WOULD PREVENT BRIGHT'S DISEASE AND OTHER DEADLY FORMS OF KIDNEY DISEASE YOU MUST ACT QUICKLY.

To be certain of immediately arresting diseases and bringing about thorough cure, you must use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, which have so many times proven their superiority as a treatment for the most serious diseases of the kidneys.

By acting on the liver and bowels as well as on the kidneys, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills effect a thorough cleansing of the whole filtering and excretory systems and entirely rid the body of all poisonous waste matter.

MR. ELLIS GALLANT, Paquetville, N. B., writes:—"About four months ago I found my condition so serious that I had to leave work. I could not sleep nights, my appetite was very poor and my kidneys were so affected that I could hardly walk on account of backache.

"I resolved to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and Backache Plaster. After three week's time, I am glad to say, I was able to resume work and now feel as well as I ever did. I therefore say that Dr. Chase's remedies are excellent family medicines."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are so thorough and far-reaching in their influence on the kidneys as to thoroughly eradicate the most serious disease. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box.
